Perfect for ziplines

September 30, 2016
Size Name: 3/16 Style: 250 Feet Verified Purchase

We bought this to make a zipline at home. From our research we needed a 3/16 sized wire that was 7 by 19 construction, for the best size and strength. We decided that this 250 foot length was the best value for this length and would allow us to make a really long zipline or made more than one. The wire worked perfectly, it held up users over 200lbs and glided well in our pulley machine. We were able to cut it without too much pressure using wire cutters and bolt cutters (the bolt cutters didn't work well but did help us get it done). We looped it back over itself to tighten the ends with wire rope clip and thimble which held well. The wire is thin enough that it fit easily into the clip and thimble system. It seemed to us that it was a good quality of wire and worked well for our purposes. I would recommend to anyone debating on what size to use for a zipline.

Good cable even better price!

Good price, quality cable. We don't use this for much of a load bearing application but it does stay outside year around and has not shown any signs of corrosion and/or deterioration over the past couple years. Will buy again.

This is a very good quality cable. I purchased this cable back in 2011 and it has been in an outdoor all weather environment for the past 4 1/2 years. No rust or corrosion to speak of at all. Of course the finish has dulled a little but that is completely normal. It is very durable cable and I will definitely purchase this brand again when I need it.

Nice wire rope at a good price. Finer 7X19 stranding is worth the extra $ as you get a more supple wire rope that is much nicer to work with.

Great quality for a great price

Great value. I previously bought 1/16 inch cable and that worked great so I bought this from the same supplier at Amazon for a different project. Again, great cable for a great price and arrived in 2 days with prime. Works great with the ferrules from Cooper Tools sold in lots of 50. Like the 1/16 inch ferrules, y swaging tool and I simply crimp the end down with large locking pliers.
