*** NEWS FROM HEADQUARTERS ***

Judging from the many responses generated (we think, hopefully) by the first issue of the BULL SHEET the newsletter project, as kicked off at the 1965 annual business meeting, has been enthusiastically endorsed in no uncertain terms - by letter and verbal expression - from a simple "good idea" to cash contributions to further the cause. The increased volume of mail, responses and dues in '66 are added endorsements to the project and expressions of support towards the Association as a whole. Simple equation: Best Damn Combat Engineer Outfit = Best Damn Combat Engineer Association! Your editors convey their personal thanks, too, for the kind words, news and overall encouragement. We have a wealth of historical and past events material for future issues but your assistance is a must for current day "names and news" items - if that's what you want to receive!

Of particular interest to the 254 gang is a brochure prepared by the 1121st Gp Hq after cessation of hostilities in May 1945. It has a map which graphically traces our route of travel from BELFAST, IRELAND to PILSEN, CZECHOSLOVAKIA a listing of CP's on the Continent by date and an extensive thumbnail sketch of events - a real fine condensed historical summary. We are happy to report that HEADQUARTERS has 500 copies of this brochure just waiting to be mailed out - first-come, first-serve so if you want a copy send in the requests. (Gentle reminder - here is your opportunity to jot down and send in those names (and addresses, of course, if known) of your buddies, those in your squad or section, etc. - the ones you've intended to send in right along but never got around to it.) In behalf of all who get a copy, we thank Willis D. Dickens (107, 112 & S-4 of Gp Hq as Major) who brought his 1945 original with him to the Soo reunion and Anton "Pops" Crnkovich (1940 to the 254) who took the original home with him and had it reproduced at no cost to the Association.

*** REPORT FROM HEADQUARTERS ***

Locating Ames T. Minor (Capt. and CO of Co. B 254) just prior to the 1966 reunion resulted in a real bonanza - 1945 name and address rosters of the 254th Bn. officers and his entire Company B. The assist in this case goes to (1st Sgt) William H. Davey, Negaunee, Mich. for reporting Bethlehem, Conn. as his old CO's present address. These two rosters resulted in another 125 new leads to work on! Fingers are crossed in the hope that somewhere along the line we will receive similar rosters (even with just bare names) on A, C and H&S of the 254 and the preceding 107th Regt and Bn. If not, we continue to remain entirely dependent upon you guys to send in information - even a bare name sent in is a beginning - and don't just take it for granted that someone else has already sent in the name of so and so. Surprisingly, too, new addresses for the WWI 107th are still coming in from time to time - these 'ol timers have done a real job on locating their comrades.

Since the last BS and prior to the Soo reunion our informational and "get acquainted" mailing has been sent to some 275 men of the old 522nd Engineer Combat Co. who, as many will recall, were Co F of the 112th Regt (and old 107th before that) when they were transferred out in N. IRELAND to be Combat Engineers for a Provisional outfit formed for the invasion of N. AFRICA - with SICILY and ITALY to follow for the 522nd who remained as such throughout hostilities. Thanks to rosters complete with 1945 addresses we successfully reached about 45% of the Company. The rosters were sent in by Lynn "Mac" McDonald and Duane H. White - an assist to these two for the many responses received from the 125 or so thus located. There was a sizeable group of 522nd registrants at the Soo who, from all indications, had a happy reunion (within a reunion) all of their own. Help! on the other 150.

* * HISTORY OF THE 107th THRU WWI * *

The 107th Engrs. was formed at Camp MacArthur, Texas, on or about Sept. 18, 1917 with Colonel Paul Stanley Bond in command. The 1st Bn. was recruited and organized in N. Mich., the 2nd Bn in Wis. Only Co. A (later Co. E) existed prior to 1917. Its history dates back to the "Calumet Light Guard," organized in 1881, and redesignated Co H, Third Inf., Aug. 8, 1881. In Dec. 1891 it became Co D, Fifth Inf. When the volunteers for the Spanish-American War were organized at Island Lake in April and May, 1898, it became Co D, 34th Mich. Volunteer Infantry, and participated in battles in and around SANTIAGO, CUBA. In Dec. 1899, it became Co. E, Third Mich. Inf. On June 1, 1906, this company was transferred to the Corps of Engrs. and became Co. A, Corps of Engrs., Michigan National Guard. During the winter and spring of 1916-17, Co. A served on the Mexican Border at Camp Bliss, El Paso, Tex. Late in the spring of 1917, it guarded the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. In Oct. 1917, after detached service (camp construction work) at Camp Custer, Mich., the company entrained for Camp MacArthur, Texas, where it joined the 107th Engrs. The men composing the 107th Engrs. were for the most part from the copper, coal & lumber regions. They were rough and hardy, well skilled in the use of engineer tools. Their early training stressed construction of roads, bridges and trenches. The regiment trained at Camp MacArthur until Jan. 2, 1918, when it was ordered to leave for embarkation at Hoboken, N. J. Arriving in BREST, FRANCE, Feb. 14, 1918, the regiment (less one company assigned to the Engr. School for demonstrating purposes) was employed in construction of cantonment areas until it entered the combat zone. On June 26, 1918, it rejoined the 32nd Division in the ALSACE defensive sector in the vicinity of BELFORT and remained with this division for the duration of the war. It took part in the following offensives: MARNE-VESLE, OISE-AISNE, MEUSE-ARGONNE, and served with the Army of Occupation (east of the RHINE RIVER) from Dec. 1918 to May 1919. Embarkation for the U.S. was effected May 4, 1919. The regiment arrived in Philadelphia on May 18, 1919. After a few days at Camp Dix, it was moved to Camp Custer, Mich. where it was mustered out of the service on May 25, 1919. During WWI, the activities of the regiment were governed by the theory, which remained in effect in the U.S. Army and most foreign armies, that the engineers can be used to much better advantage behind the front line units in the maintenance of routes of communications. While in division and corps reserve, the regiment continued its engineer operations. Its front line action was by small parties on raids, as wire cutting details, in the reconnnaissance of the ground and attempted river crossings. Total casualties due to fire were less than 10% of its strength. The regiment was often left in the forward areas to continue with its engineering work after the remainder of the division was withdrawn to rest. But no matter what its duties, the 107th Engrs. performed them faithfully, bravely and efficiently, establishing a most admirable wartime record. More next issue!

Victor A. Coppo (Co A WWI, Detroit, via a special letter asked specifically to be remembered to his WWI comrades. In it he informs your editors that: "As a member of Co A, I happened to be one of the first Americans to cross the International Bridge at ECHTERNACH, LUXEMBOURG on the 1st of Dec. 1918 being with Major Ganser's outfit at the time as Demolition Sgt. A few kilometers from the bridge, Major Ganser told us - see that light to the left a few miles away - well, that's where I was born." Anymore WWI anecdotes? You send 'em, We'll print 'em! Providing they pass our Board of Censors!

* * * * *

Victor's bit of history immediately brings to mind the fact that once again here in LUXEMBOURG we find parallel routes for the parent WWI outfit and the offspring 254th for it was just a short distance north of ECHTERNACH and west of ETTTELBRUCK, LUXEMBOURG that the 254th made their very first crossing of the German border. To do so they first constructed a Cl. 40 timber bridge and approaches across the OUR RIVER at WALLENDORF, GERMANY and a Treadway Bridge with approaches at NIEDERGEGEN, GERMANY - this while attached to the 5th Armored Div. and under the direct control of the CO, 22nd Armored Engineer Bn. During the period 15-23 Sept. 1944, the 254 crossed into Germany over their own bridges in direct support of the armor, cleared mines from the German side and completed destruction of 43 massive pill boxes in the SIEGFRIED LINE. After retiring back across the OUR again the 254 was deployed as infantry and repelled two enemy attempts to take or destroy the bridges. During this period the Bn. suffered 4 KIA's, 3 MIA's and 24 wounded. The enemy paid heavily including 102 prisoners taken by Co. B. Ironically, however, and a sad ending to this busy week, the enemy was finally successful in blowing both bridges - after the defense of same was taken over by an Infantry unit and the 254 was pulled out. That was one time a certain Combat Engineer outfit had its nose out of joint! There were many odd and interesting (now) facets about this particular week - any personal observations or experiences we can pass along in future issues?

REUNION SCOPES

MANISTIQUE, MICHIGAN, present home of Co. D NG's, successfully bid for the 1967 reunion on August 18-19th. Sgt. Ross Klagstadt (Hq NG's) is Chairman of the Reunion Committee by virtue of his office as Vice-President. All activities will be held at the Elks Club - and the committee might have something special for the gals, too. (Some bachelor at the Soo, remaining unidentifiable for security reasons, suggested the spouses could prepare the banquet while the better halves did their BS'ing and reminising but happily better heads prevailed realizing that future reunions with only bachelors present would be insignificant affairs, indeed). Ten months advance notice should enable many to juggle vacations and plans accordingly. And, at the Soo, we were forwarned that the Detroit area gang comprised of some 80 strong may make a pitch for a Detroit convention in the near future.

The sweat, toil, worry and dedication expended and displayed by members of reunion committees - a big job every year well deserving a pat on the back from everyone.....the fascination of talking to the wives formerly of Ulster and England who remain easily identifiable by their speech.....the long distances traveled such as by Joe Yezzi and (Lt) Theodore Benning (both Co B 254) from Irvington, N.J. and Atlanta, Ga. respectively (3rd reunion already for Joe), Clarence Forsythe (Co A 254), Boonton, N.J., Roger Phillips (Co C 254), Cridersville, Ohio, Joseph Buck (522) New Carlisle, Ohio just to name a couple.....the happy faces of recognition and hearty handshakes - with a simultaneous, furtive glance at each others name badge for positive identifications.....the bravery award to Mike "Stew" Mertes (Co B 254) for facing his old buddies again after "stewing" them to death as Mess Sgt.....the enthusiasm and vigor of the WWI footsloggers who rarely miss attending.....the 'ol maestro, Americo "Tiny" Metro (H&S 254) entertaining with his squeeze box reawakening memories of the internationally known combo touted as the "Hungry Five".. ..the outstanding jobs turned in by Anton "Pops" Crnkovich, Detroit (WWII up to Newquay) and Capt Donald Small, Marquette (NG's) as the featured speaker and MC respectively.....the meatloaf and mashed potatoes for noon day mess prepared by National Guard cooks - like old times except for the canned peaches on the spuds.....the marvelous armories, cooperation and assistance of the Guardsmen every year.... the dress right in ranks at the retreat and memorial services.....the special banquet awards to Capt Frank LaBelle and Lt Jack Nelson (both NG's) for their certain doubtful exploits in golf and softball; Eugene Taylor (Co C WWI) for his reputation as a "language" instructor in OBERBEIBER, GERMANY; and to Charlie Morrison (Co C WWI), present for his third reunion from Louisville, Ky., for being the champion chocolate bar thief in Europe having something to do with the officers but not related to his job as Horseshoer.....the hand carved, white cedar favors and souvenirs by John Mackin (Co B 1940) in evidence at every reunion.....the verbal contests to be heard, to tell the next story and to buy the next round.....the drinking man's award to Ralph Pellow (Co B 254) for being the champ calvados scrounger in NORMANDY .. ..the new friendships irregardless of age or outfit.....the heart sinking feeling when the band signs off signifying the approaching end of another convention.

That Dr. Homer H. Stryker (Co C WWI), a Kalamazoo, Mich. widely known surgeon, inventor and manufacturer of orthopedic devices was the featured speaker at the June convention of the Upper Mich. Medical Society. Those present at our Marquette 5th Annual will remember the Doc as an outstanding speaker in addition to his many accomplishments in the medical world.

That Lt. Col. Austin E. Lindberg, Bn CO of the 107th Guard Bn., was a company commander in the 28th Division infantry during WWII - claims he learned who was responsible for getting the "rifle toters" to the front and promptly joined up. Had it not been for Col Lindberg instigating the first get-together of past and present members of the 107th and counterparts it is extremely doubtful that the 107th Engineer Association would be in business as we have it today. If you wish to express your appreciation to him at some future reunion the Colonel is known to accept a free one occasionally!

That the 112th holds annual reunions in Cleveland the weekend nearest each June 6th in remembrance of their landing on OMAHA BEACH that never-to-be-forgotten D-Day. Rans Blondo (107 & 112) tells us they socialize and dance Saturdays and wind up the weekend with a big family picnic on the Sunday.

That Dick Wiken, Shorewood, Wis. is your man if you are in the market for some high class designing or sculptoring - Dick has literally carved himself a big name in the arts - after he practically decimated the orchards in NORMANDY with the excuse that applewood is first class carving material. Joining the 254 in NEWQUAY, ENG. Dick transferred out in France and finished up as a Platoon CO in the 112th - guess he had a "pull" because most Norwegians were automatically routed into the infantry.

That many of the old gang either remained in service or re-enlisted after the war - maybe we can compile a list of these "army happy" joes and expose them in some future issue.

That out of the "inducted for one year" group in 1940 we presently have 3 career men stationed in Washington D.C. including: Col Leonard C. Ward (107, S-2 of 1121st Gp and post-war CO of the NG Bn); Lt Col Elmer B. Scovill (107 & 112) and Lt Col James C. Steele (B, C & H&S 254). We are further informed that Paul C. Rapp (Band WW II) is also a Lt Col on active duty - sorry to say, however, we have been unable to locate Paul up to now but we have a couple "OO7's" hot on his trail.

That on the same theme, a number of the WWII group were instrumental in the reorganization of the 107th after the war and put their wartime experience to good use by actively serving the the Guards, as witnessed: William F. Milford (Maj 107 & 112) was the first post-war Bn CO followed by Leonard C. Ward; Johnnie "Kay" Kovachich (Co B 254) retired as a Capt a couple years back; Y. H. "Bing" Boberg (254) is still in the Guards ast 1st Sgt in Co A as is Capt George C. Anderson (Co A 254) who presently commands Co E of the Guards. Erwin C. Pond, who left Co B 107 Bn. in Ulster for OCS, presently commands a Tank Bn. of the Mich. NG. And, of course, and which is common knowledge to a great many WWI and WWII vets, Major General Ralph A. Loveland was CG of the 46th Infantry Division (Mich. NG's) for which his old outfit in both wars, the 107th, who else, were Division Engineers. Lynn "Mac" McDonald (Co B 107, 522) retired last June from the 1437th Engineer Co. (Float Bridge) whose home station is the Soo. His post-war tour included service in the Korean War with the 1437th. Mac is our Past Vice-president and 1966 Chairman of the Reunion Committee.

That Richard T. Bussiere easily holds the long distance record for paying Association dues - all the way from Vietnam where he is now serving as a Captain in Advisory Team #99 following a tour of duty in Germany. Dick's military career began with Co B 107th NG's at Marquette, Michigan.

That Richard A. Schiesl (Co B 254) of Milwaukee reports he has 10 reasons why he can't attend a reunion in the foreseeable future - ages 2 to 17 years! And while on Co B 254 Wayne A. Ray sends in his annual dues from Mt. Edgcombe, Alaska - along with glowing reports of the scenery, hunting and fishing he particularly asked that we extend greetings to all his old buddies.

That Jesse D. Kelsay (Maj and Ex O of the 254) has retired as a Colonel from the RA in 1960 and is now raising beef cattle in Jacksonville Texas. We just recently tracked him down via his 1945 Dallas address and he promptly responded informing us that he, his wife and son are already planning a trip north to Michigan to coincide with one of the annual conventions. Got any that look like the Snortin' Bull, Col?

That Frank J. Battisti (Co C 254) is a Federal Judge of the U.S. Sixth District Court of Appeals in Ohio?

Another "weapon" to throw into the campaign of locating our temporarily lost buddies is this one page alphabetical listing with each issue of the BULL SHEET. The lists will include people lost to us through address changes and failure to notify HEADQUARTERS accordingly, old 1945 addresses no longer any good plus names sent in, picked from old BULL SHEETS, DOZER BLADES or any other sources we have been able to scrounge up thus far. We will show any and all accumulated bits of information now contained on each individuals address card. Please send in any information, leads, corrections, etc. known to you on any of the boys listed.
