

HELLO OCTOBER

October 2026 🍁 🎃
Newsletter

September came in quick and left even quicker! It was a busy month in our house with my daughter's first last day of school, senior night for cheer, homecoming (which was rescheduled because of that crazy nor'easter!), and traveling to games some home, some away. I've also been doing my fair share of driving her around while we wait for her to get her license. Needless to say, I've been spreading myself around! 😂

And then there was the big one... Hidden in Plain Sight released on September 14! 🎉 I'm so excited to say that sales have been going really well, and I'm incredibly grateful for everyone who has purchased, read, reviewed, and shared my book.

If you haven't grabbed your copy yet, now is the perfect time! It's available on Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and other major booksellers. I'll include a QR code for you to grab your copy.

October is already looking just as busy. My daughter's birthday is October 12, she has her road test coming up, and we'll be doing all the fun fall things in between. 🎃 🍁

And if you're new to my books because of Hidden in Plain Sight, don't forget to check out my other novels to catch up on the rest of my stories.

Thank you for continuing to support me and my writing. I'm so grateful to have you along for this journey. Have a beautiful October!

With love,
Lu Gonzalez
