

Spring Newsletter

KCCD Updates

Happy Spring! As the ground warms and color returns to our natural areas, we are eager to share our conservation goals with you. We've been ramping up our outreach efforts to give the Kenton County Community new opportunities to improve their own conservation knowledge. You can connect with us through our education offerings, nature-based events, and land-planning consultations.

Our AmeriCorps member, Carly, has created an easily accessible program-request link ideal for anyone looking to receive environmental programming. Request an in-classroom lesson or a field trip to our properties at kccdky.org/education.

There's an upcoming election! Learn more about supervisor responsibilities and ideal candidates here.

City Nature Challenge

KCCD is participating in the international event known as "City Nature Challenge," where community members are encouraged to take photos using iNaturalist, a nature identification app. The goal is to challenge people to get outside and make observations of plants, animals, and more!

Research grade iNaturalist observations made from April 24th to 27th in Kenton County will automatically be added to our project: CITY NATURE CHALLENGE 2026: KENTON COUNTY, KY. Help us reach our goal of 100 observations by attending our April Nature Hike and Bio-BINGO event at MVHA! It gets better... We're partnering with our neighbors, Boone County and Campbell County Conservation Districts, to bring the Northern Kentucky community MORE nature-based events!

Pollinator garden at Morning View Heritage Area, post-seeding. November 2025.

Upcoming Events

Register for our FREE events!

Nature Hike Series

Wed, March 18th | 1-3p

Fri, April 25th | 1-3p

Thurs, May 21st | 9:30-12:30p

Bio-BINGO!

Saturday, April 25th

10a-2p

Morning View Heritage Area

Nature Journaling

Saturday, May 9th

10a-12p

Morning View Heritage Area