

Senior Professor Emiko Suzuki lives in Hendersonville, NC. She is our local sensei and president of the Blue Ridge Chapter.

Emiko began her study of Ikenobo Ikebana in 1986 and recently she completed Sogo-Tokubetsu-ka, the Advanced Course of the Ikenobo Central Training Institute, Ikenobo Headquarters, Kyoto. This year she is going to learn more about Rikka with classmate Dan Dell' Agnese, Blue Ridge chapter advisor and Ikenobo Colorado Chapter President.

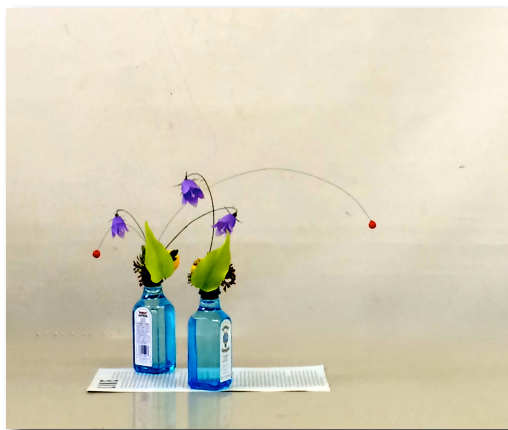

Laura Felt is an Ikenobo Ikebana professor who has studied Ikenobo for 16 years. She has a deep knowledge of Japanese culture having lived in Japan for four years and returns yearly to shop, eat and explore. As chapter vice president, Laura coordinates on the monthly programs.

In addition to ikebana, Laura enjoys working with washi, Japanese paper. She has been invited to do washi workshops in Hendersonville, Asheville, Wilmington, NC and Atlanta, GA.

IKENOBO IKEBANA

The ancient art of Japanese flower arranging has been practiced in Henderson County for many years. It has been practiced in Japanese and Chinese cultures for many centuries! Ikenobo Ikebana celebrates over 557 years of written history.

If you would like to learn more about this ancient art form, come join us. Meetings are held on the 3rd Thursday of the month from 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon.
