Monthly Scoop

National Train Your Dog Month

Every January, pet owners around the country celebrate National Train Your Dog Month. This annual event serves as a reminder of the importance of dog training and encourages pet owners to participate. The American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) launched this program to promote responsible pet ownership and encourage owners to engage more with their pets. The event's goal is to raise awareness about the importance of dog training. It is an opportunity for pet owners to make a difference in their pet's life by participating and forming a bond while giving their furry friends the best quality of life possible.

Fear Free Tip of the Month

When training use positive reinforcement like treats, their favorite toy, or some love and affection. By rewarding your pet for good behavior, it will help to reinforce the positive behaviors. This lets your pet know if I do this specific thing, I get treats or pets. This will improve the training process, making it a more enjoyable experience for both you and your pet.
