SECTION 4: SERVICE FLAG AND SERVICE LAPEL BUTTON

4.1. INTRODUCTION.

a. The Service Flag, authorized by Section 901 of Title 36, U.S.C., is an official banner that may be displayed by the immediate family members of Service members during any period of war or hostilities in which the Military Services may be engaged. Such a Service Flag, referred to as the “Immediate Family Service Flag,” may be displayed prominently (e.g., in the window) at the place of residence of the immediate family members for the duration of such period of war or hostilities.

b. The Service Flag also may be displayed by an organization (e.g., church, school, college, fraternity, sorority, society) or place of business with which a Service member(s) was or is associated during any period of war or hostilities in which the Military Services may be engaged. Such a Service Flag, referred to as the “Organization Service Flag,” may be displayed by the organization for the duration of such war or hostilities.

c. The SLB, authorized by Section 901 of Title 36, U.S.C, may be worn by members of the immediate family of Service members serving in the Military Services during any period of war or hostilities in which the Military Services may be engaged, for the duration of such period of war or hostilities.

4.2. SERVICE FLAG DESIGNS.

a. Immediate Family Service Flag. On a white rectangular field, a blue star (or stars) is within a red border.

(1) The number of blue stars will correspond to the number of Service members from the immediate family who are symbolized on the flag.

(2) As shown in Figure 2, when the flag is displayed horizontally it will have the stars arranged in a horizontal line or lines with one point of each star up.

(3) As shown in Figure 3, when the flag is displayed vertically it will have the stars arranged in a vertical line or lines with one point of each star up.

(4) If the Service member symbolized is killed or dies from causes other than dishonorable, the star representing that individual will have a gold star of smaller size superimposed on it, so that the blue forms a border. When the flag also includes blue stars representing other immediate family members, the newly-added gold star will be nearest to the staff, or above the blue star(s), depending on whether the flag is displayed horizontally or vertically, as shown in Figures 2 and 3.

b. Organization Service Flag. In addition to the designs in Paragraph 4.2.a., the Organization Service Flag is subject to the following provisions:

- (1) Instead of using a separate star for each Service member, one star is used with the number of Service members indicated by Arabic numerals below the star, as shown in Figure 4.

(2) If any Service members are deceased, as determined under the circumstances cited in Paragraph 4.2.a.(4), a gold star will be placed nearest the staff, as shown in Figure 4, or above the blue star, as shown in Figure 5. The gold star will be superimposed upon the blue star so that the blue forms a border. The number of deceased Service members honored by the flag is indicated by blue Arabic numerals below the star.

Only one star is authorized to signify that one or more Service members are serving in the Military Services under the conditions specified in Paragraph 4.1.c. The shades of colors and the detailed dimensions will be in accordance with manufacturing instructions provided to licensed manufacturers by The Institute of Heraldry, Department of the Army.
