2025 Professional Services Directory

Dear Friends,

I am excited to share with you my 2025 Professional Services Directory.

Throughout the past 15 years, as a realtor, landlord, and real estate investor, I have compiled a list of professionals in different service categories. I have personally worked with or hired many of those listed on the following pages of this directory. Although I cannot personally guarantee results outside vendors may provide, I do have confidence in offering a solid recommendation for each business or trade listed herein.

Please keep in mind that I offer this directory as a free resource, printed and distributed solely at my expense. No one pays any fees or dues to be highlighted here, and it is a true meritocracy. Good work is rewarded with continued exposure, and poor work will result in prompt removal.

Maintaining the value and integrity of this directory is extremely important to me, so if you have any comment about vendors highlighted in these pages – positive or something less than positive – I want to hear about your experiences.

As always, my goal remains to create value for every one of my past, present and future clients. Thank you again for your loyalty as well as your business, friendship and referrals. It is truly a blessing to walk with you through the process of buying, selling, or just chatting about your real estate journey.
