

Posterized: Marvin Scott has big plans. PAGE 7

PRESORTED
STANDARD
US POSTAGE PAID
DAYTONA BCH FL
PERMIT #447

Local
Postal Customer

Daytona Beach.
"Port Orange has experienced growth at a rapid pace," said Ed Noseworthy, AdventHealth Daytona Beach president and CEO. "We looked at several properties in the Port Orange area, but none had the ease of access and visibility of this specific location. This is a convenient access point for the community and is in close proximity to the popular Port Orange Pavilion."

property in the future and add a two-story medical office building for a variety of physicians and specialized care.
"A number of our physicians and specialists are already serving patients in the Port Orange area," said Dr. Dennis Hernandez, AdventHealth New Smyrna Beach president and CEO. "The new medical plaza will allow us to bring even more specialists and primary care providers to the

about this major project in area, further growing our comprehensive network of services."
In the next few months, AdventHealth will host a groundbreaking ceremony to celebrate the start of construction on the new emergency department.
The architect is Orlando-based HuntonBrady.
Story courtesy of AdventHealth.

"The new plaza will allow us to bring even more specialists and primary care providers to the area."

DENNIS HERNANDEZ

YOUR TOWN

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ASSISTED 50 HOMES PREPARE FOR DORIAN

The Knights of Columbus Council 8086 made waiting for Hurricane Dorian a lot easier, as they assisted 50 households in the Port Orange area with their storm preparations.
This came after recently adapting their Faith in Action initiative where hurricane preparedness is one of the components. The Our Lady of Hope Catholic Church-based Council embraced the opportunity by holding a free hurricane seminar, where parishioners and local residents could sign up to request assistance. Council 8086 formed four "Hurricane Knights" teams, led by Sir Knight Dr. Ernest Jackson, to survey all of the respondents.

When Dorian was officially named a hurricane, the teams swung into action.

Photo courtesy of SK John O'Malley, Council 8086 Publicity