Welcome to Barber Wilsons

Handcrafted from solid brass in our original London workshop since 1905, each Barber Wilsons tap bears the mark of true craftsmanship, a promise of skill, and lasting quality that has endured for over 120 years.

Our company began in 1905, in a small workshop in Wood Green, North London. 120 years on, we're still here, still on the very same site, and still making every tap by hand, just as we always have.

Step inside our factory today and you'll find a team of skilled craftsmen using many of the same tools and techniques passed down through the decades. Every piece is made from solid brass, shaped, assembled, and finished by hand. Not for ease, but because we believe it's the best way. This is how we've always worked, and why Barber Wilsons' products have earned their reputation for lasting quality.

Alongside new designs, we continue to produce original models from our archives, not reproductions, but the very same patterns first cast over a century ago. These designs remain as relevant today as ever: practical, enduring, and thoughtfully made.

This catalogue marks our 120th anniversary, not just a celebration of the years behind us, but a reminder of the principles we started with in 1905, which remain at the heart of everything we do today. We hope you enjoy exploring it.

A Century in the Making

120 years of specialising in specialities

Barber Wilsons & Co traces its origins to 1905, when Edward Barber, with Walter and William Wilson, began producing high-quality brass castings in a small North London factory. From those first wooden patterns, our tradition of craftsmanship has continued for over a century.

The company was officially incorporated in 1908, with many of the founding craftsmen remaining with the firm for over 50 years. Initially focused on producing bib taps and operating as a small, specialist plumber's brass foundry, the business steadily expanded in response to growing demand

→ Our Crawley Road factory in 1905, where we remain to this day.

During the First World War, Barber Wilsons played a vital role in the war effort, manufacturing shell noses, fuses, and an innovative device that transformed aerial combat. The Second World War saw us once again answering the nation's call, producing over a million components for aircraft and naval vessels to support both British and American forces.

Our reputation for quality earned us a place in some of the world's most iconic buildings. In the 1920s, we were commissioned to furnish the newly built Dorchester Hotel, followed by bespoke door handles for the RMS Queen Mary, the flagship ocean liner of the Cunard White Star Line. In 1936, we developed the Mastercraft Collection exclusively for Claridge's Hotel, designed by Dame Bridget D'Oyly Carte. These landmark commissions helped establish a tradition of excellence that continues to define our work today.

→ The factory team with shell components, produced to support the British and American war effort during the Second World War.

That same dedication to craftsmanship has been recognised with Royal Warrants from both Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and His Majesty King Charles III, a mark of distinction reflecting our enduring commitment to British manufacturing.

Today, Barber Wilsons remains an independent, family-owned business in its fourth generation. We are a dedicated manufacturer of traditional taps and water fittings, offering the most extensive catalogue in the industry.

Our archive includes over 400 products, many still produced using the original patterns. Every piece is crafted from solid brass using traditional techniques and tools, ensuring the same standard of excellence that has defined us for over 100 years.

← The original 1908 team outside our Crawley Road factory.

→ Sponsoring the Barwil Period One Sidecar Championships, with a young Simon Wilson in the sidecar.

- Traditional hand tools used to assemble solid brass components.
- ← Cooling a freshly welded brass tube by hand.

The Making Process

Our craftsmen share knowledge and skills passed down through generations, second to none.

At Barber Wilsons, craftsmanship is at the heart of everything we do. Each tap begins as a solid ingot of high-grade brass, sourced from trusted British foundries we've worked with for generations. Molten brass is poured into bespoke moulds (some over a century old) that form our distinctive designs.

Once cooled, the castings are precision-machined using specialist tools, many made in-house, to meet our exacting standards. It's during the hand-polishing process that each tap begins to take on its character, as skilled artisans enhance the natural warmth and beauty of the brass in preparation for its final finish, whether polished chrome, brushed brass or weathered bronze.

Assembly is equally meticulous. Handles, whether crosshead or lever, are aligned and fitted by hand, and even the smallest details, such as ceramic hot and cold indices, are selected for lasting quality.

Finally, the chosen finish is hand-applied and polished. Every piece is carefully inspected by skilled craftsmen before leaving our London workshop, ensuring it meets the high standards that have defined Barber Wilsons for over a century.

Sustainable by Nature

Repairable, recyclable and responsibly made in the UK to last a lifetime

Made to last

Our focus has always been on longevity, creating fittings that not only work beautifully but also age gracefully. Central to this is our belief in mending rather than replacing. Because of this, we offer a refurbishment service to customers, no matter the age of the product. Our business was founded on this philosophy, and we are committed to providing this service for as long as we exist. By doing so, we not only extend the life of our products but also support a more thoughtful and sustainable approach to manufacturing.

Responsible production

Every piece is made to order, avoiding surplus stock, and produced entirely in the UK using solid, lead-free brass, an endlessly recyclable material of which 100 per cent is already recycled. We recycle all brass swarf from our workshop, and even our sample discs are reclaimed from waste materials within our own manufacturing process. Sustainability is a continuous journey for us, one that drives us to explore new ways to reduce our environmental impact while maintaining the exceptional quality and care that define Barber Wilsons.

The Regent Collections

Introduced as our first collection, the Regent range is shaped by the design language of the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Above Regent 6455, 1900's style in weathered bronze with white indices / R4300-19-WB-W

Forged at the very beginning of the Barber Wilsons story, this elegant range is still crafted much as it was in the 1890s and early 1900s. Each stage of production presents its own challenges and demands the skill, care, and determination of our team to bring it to life.

We believe this traditional process gives the product its soul, resulting in something that feels alive in the hand: solid, reassuring, and a true reflection of a time when the only goal was to make things that last.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for Regent basin taps, covering handle styles, shield designs, and lever style. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for Regent bath taps, covering handle styles, shield designs, shower rose and spout size. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for Regent bath taps, covering handle styles, shield designs, indice text and rose size. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for Regent kitchen taps, covering handle styles, shield designs, indice text and unions. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

The original headworks for this collection were sketched out by Dame Bridget D'Oyle - Carte at the Barber Wilsons factory, in the late 1920's. A pioneering figure, she personally oversaw the interiors of both the Savoy and Claridge's, then part of her father's renowned hospitality empire.

It is with great pride that we continue to produce not a reproduction, but an original design, one that helped define the sleek lines and bold geometry of the Art Deco era. Our fittings remain in Claridge's to this day, having played a part in every refurbishment of the iconic hotel since the 1920's.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for the Mastercraft collection, covering handle styles, indice colour and indice text. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

Mastercraft Basin Taps & Mixers

Offered in both deck-mounted and wall-mounted designs, the Mastercraft collection is defined by its distinctive 1920s shield backplate and hexagonal detailing. This iconic motif drawn from original Barber Wilsons archives, brings period authenticity and geometric elegance to basin fittings in classic and contemporary settings alike.

The Milne Collections are our newest ranges in a long tradition of exceptional British craftsmanship, featuring beautifully engineered spouts and showers that reflect our commitment to timeless design and quality.

Alongside this sits Milne Editions, a refined tubular interpretation created to complement the core collection. First used in the recent refurbishment of the iconic Claridge's Hotel, Milne Editions continues our longstanding tradition of collaborating with the world's most prestigious establishments.

Glossary

This page outlines the finish pricing groups across all of our ranges, each finish falls into Group 1, 2, or 3, which determines the price of the product. For a detailed overview of our finishes please see “Our Finishes” on page 192.

Also included are customisation options for the Milne and Milne Editions collection, covering handle styles and spout style. Each option has a code required for factory orders. If a code is marked Standard, it is supplied by default and does not need to be added. Please see “Product Codes Explained” on page 198 to learn how to formulate these codes.

Milne & Milne Editions Basin Taps and Mixers

Defined by clean lines and confident proportions, the Milne basin collection is crafted from solid brass for a reassuring sense of weight and quality. Available in both wall-mounted and deck-mounted formats, each fitting can be paired with either elegant lever or classic cross-top handles.

Choose between the original Milne design with its bold, solid spout or Milne Editions, offering a more refined tubular form.

Milne & Milne Editions Bath Taps and Mixers

The Milne bath collection is crafted from solid brass and offered in both the original Milne design with its strong, architectural spout, and the more delicate Milne Editions featuring a slender, curved tubular form.

Available with lever or cross-top handles, the range includes options for handsprays and diverters, allowing for both functional flexibility and cohesive design across traditional and modern bathroom schemes.

Our Finishes

polished brass / MLPS53C-PB

We offer 18 distinctive finishes across our entire product range, each designed to suit a variety of interiors and tastes. All non-brass finishes are expertly plated over the highest quality solid brass, ensuring durability and a premium feel.

Our finishes are grouped into three categories; Living, Established, and Enduring, each offering a unique aesthetic and ageing process. Whether you prefer a patinated, time-worn look or a crisp, long-lasting appearance, our finishes are crafted to age gracefully and beautifully within their environment.

On the following pages, you'll find detailed descriptions and images of each finish, helping you choose the perfect finish for your space.

‘LIVING’ FINISHES

Over time living finishes can tarnish, patinate and expose base colours. The change in appearance will depend upon the environment and conditions in which products are kept and used. All non-brass finishes are plated over the highest quality solid brass, and while we believe the quality of our finishes is superior, no product can be guaranteed to keep the original factory finish. What we can guarantee is that both our unlacquered and waxed living finishes create a beautiful patina, loved by customers who want an aged or ‘vintage’ look.

‘ESTABLISHED’ FINISHES

Over time, established finishes may change in appearance but if cleaning instructions are followed, they will retain a sharp and pristine appearance for longer than our living finishes.

‘ENDURING’ FINISHES

When traditionally produced, these specific finishes were susceptible to staining and marking so in line with our commitment to continually advance the quality of our finishes, we have developed ‘enduring finishes’. These finishes are now created to have a stable, long-lasting quality while retaining their unmistakable beauty and tone. If cleaning instructions are followed, products will maintain a close-to-factory finish for many years to come.

PB

POLISHED BRASS

Unlacquered, Polished Brass starts out with a highly polished factory finish but naturally ages and patinates over time. Alternatively, if care instructions are followed the bright, polished appearance can be maintained.

BB

ENDURING BRUSHED BRASS

One of our favourite finishes, Brushed Brass is hand brushed to create a warm, matte appearance with a silky smooth texture and subtle glow. To preserve its original look, we protect this finish, preventing the natural patina that forms over time, ideal for customers who prefer the factory finish to last.

WB

WEATHERED BRONZE

Weathered Bronze is deeper in colour than our matt bronze finish but lightens over time to a rich, antique bronze. High contact areas, such as handles and edges, will reveal copper undertones. Please note, this finish is quick to degrade.

MB

MATT BRONZE

Matt Bronze is an antique finish created through the galvanic oxidation of brass. The ageing process reveals the natural brass base through the darker coated surface, exposing attractive lighter tones. Please note, this finish is quick to degrade.

EMB

ENDURING MATT BRONZE

Rich in tone, Enduring Matt Bronze gives warmth and depth to any product. Smooth to the touch, this finish emulates the rich feel of genuine bronze. This finish is stable and will maintain its factory look and feel for many years to come.

BLK

ENDURING BLACK

Enduring Black is achieved by applying deep layers of pigment-rich minerals to a brass base, resulting in a smooth, matte finish. This is a stable finish and will maintain its factory look and feel for many years to come.

NI
POLISHED NICKEL

Polished Nickel is an unlacquered finish with a warm, golden undertone and a deeper tone when compared to chrome. Over time, this finish may slightly patinate and deepen in colour.

SNI
SATIN NICKEL

Satin Nickel offers a smoother finish compared when to polished nickel. It is created by layering a matt nickel finish over a nickel base, resulting in a warm, rich tone.

BNI
BRUSHED NICKEL

A rich, textured finish, Brushed Nickel is dipped with a double nickel deposit, then hand brushed to create fine lines on the metal, leaving a matte appearance with a subtle grain.

CP
POLISHED CHROME

Hand-polished and unlacquered, Polished Chrome features a bright, cool hue with a subtle blue undertone. This finish is the most stable of all and is the least likely to deepen in colour over time.

SCH
SATIN CHROME

Satin Chrome is achieved by applying a soft, matt chrome layer over a chrome base. Cool in tone, this finish has a rich texture but a subtle surface grain when compared to brushed chrome.

BCH
BRUSHED CHROME

Brushed Chrome features a chrome-plated topcoat that undergoes a hand brushing process, followed by a polishing to smooth the surface. The result is a matt, cool-toned finish.

PG
POLISHED GOLD

An unlacquered finish, Polished Gold closely resembles plated gold and naturally develops a patina over time. Since this is one of the softest finishes, care needs to be taken when cleaning.

SG
SATIN GOLD

Satin Gold has a smooth, low-lustre appearance. This finish starts out with a hand dipped satin nickel base before a gold finish is applied. Depending on environment this finish will deepen in colour over time.

BG
BRUSHED GOLD

Brushed Gold is first dipped in a nickel deposit, then hand-brushed before layers of gold are applied. The result is a warm, glowing finish that gradually deepens in colour over time.

PI
POLISHED INCA

An unlacquered finish, Polished Inca is cooler in tone when compared to our brass and gold finishes. Since this is one of the softest finishes, care needs to be taken when cleaning.

SI
SATIN INCA

Satin Inca is deeper in colour than polished inca but offers a soft, pearlescent sheen that is smooth to the touch. This finish will deepen in colour over time.

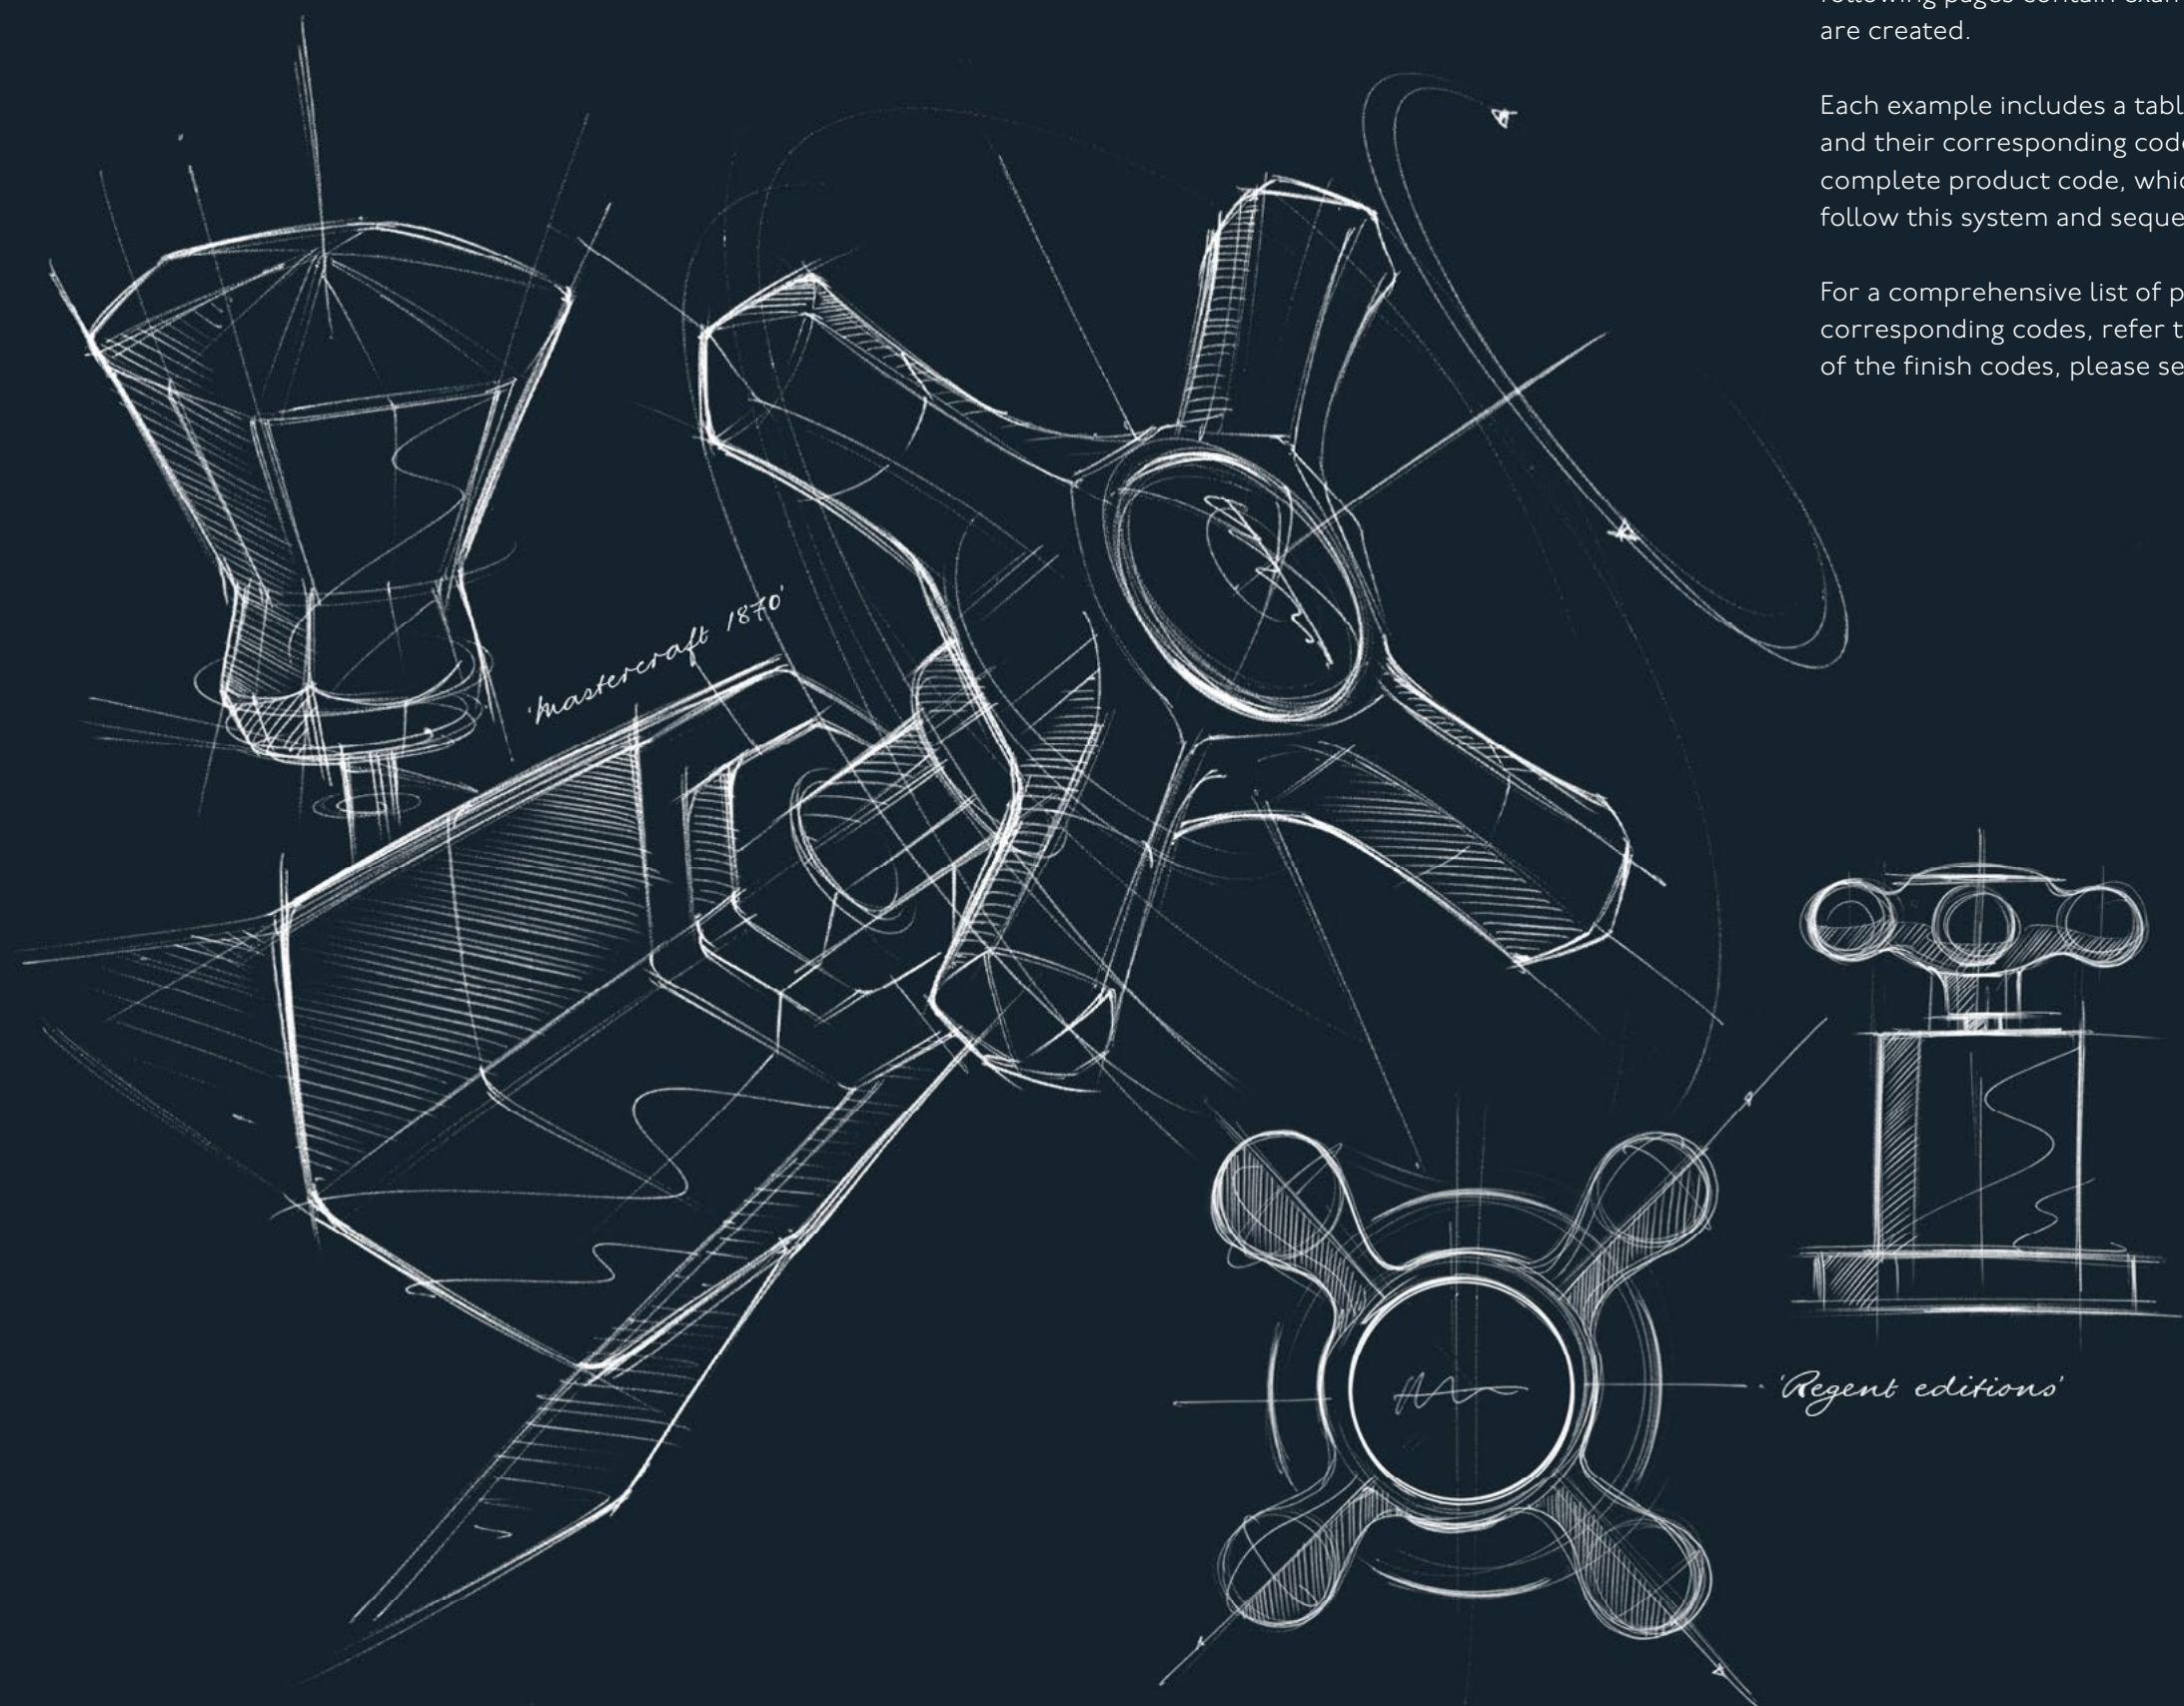

BI
BRUSHED INCA

Brushed Inca is created by hand brushing to achieve a warm tone that deepens in colour over time. For those who wish to retain a factory-fresh appearance, brushed inca is a great alternative to brushed brass as it is more stable but offers a similar look.

Product Codes Explained

Since all of our products are made to order, there are a number of ways to configure them. To customise your order, you will need a specific product code that communicates this to the factory. The following pages contain examples explaining how our product codes are created.

Each example includes a table that details the product's attributes and their corresponding codes. These codes are then combined into a complete product code, which you can use to place your order. Please follow this system and sequence when creating your own codes.

For a comprehensive list of possible customizations and their corresponding codes, refer to each categories glossary section. For all of the finish codes, please see the finishes section on page 24.
