CRYSTAL ASH MEMORIALS

Our Process

After receiving your order, we securely store the ashes in a dedicated space. Partners Curtis Dionne and Charlotte MacLeod collaborate in the studio, carefully reviewing each order. Charlotte then assists Curtis in crafting memorials with the utmost respect and care.

Our objective is to deliver exquisite works of art destined to be cherished for years to come. Every crystal ash memorial includes a certificate featuring the name of your loved one, a photograph, and the artist's signature. These heirloom-quality memorials, with proper care, are designed to endure for generations.

CRYSTAL ASH MEMORIALS

A Note

March 2025

Together, Curtis Dionne and Charlotte MacLeod have crafted hundreds of exquisite crystal ash memorials, offering solace to those seeking a meaningful way to honour their loved ones. It is a privilege to create these pieces, reflecting on the diverse and deeply personal orders made for cherished individuals and beloved pets. Whether grief is recent or has been carried for a lifetime, we are committed to providing compassionate guidance throughout the memorial order process.

The memorials photographed in this catalogue have been carefully lit and enhanced to capture the essence of our work. Some pieces are shown illuminated with LED light bases.

Each of our crystal ash memorials is handcrafted using traditional glassblowing techniques. Because no moulds are used in the process, every piece is entirely unique. Given the deeply personal nature of these memorials, we take the utmost care to avoid the need for remaking them with precious ash. As a result, slight variations in size and colour are to be expected, with listed dimensions being approximate. While exceedingly rare, there is a small possibility of ash loss during production, and we believe in full transparency with our customers about this. We always return any remaining ashes with the finished memorial, unless directed otherwise.

Due to rising operating costs, we had to increase our prices in 2024. Our handblown crystal memorials now start at $210 + tax. We recognize this is a significant investment, and we are deeply grateful to those who trust us to preserve their precious memories.

*W*ant to send a huge heartfelt shout out to everyone at Glass Roots Inc Canada in St. John, NB. You have all done an outstanding job on making our sweet Ellie's pet memorial, by incorporating her ashes into blown glass you have captured Ellie perfectly. Special shout out to Caitlin, you were so kind, understanding, truly amazing in helping me through the ordering process (through all the tears and emotions), making beautiful suggestions that suited our Ellie, keeping me updated through the process, making me laugh through the tears with ur kind words and for recognizing Ellie's humour (in spirit) in your card. If it weren't for you I'm not sure I would have gotten through the process so easily. This piece brings us such happiness and we see Ellie all through it. Thank you, from both Mindy Weir and myself we will cherish this forever. Highly recommend, above and beyond. 🐾🌈❤️"

Thank You for our cherished memorials."

*C*urtis and Charlotte did 4 memorials for us with our 'sons' ashes. They are the most beautiful creations to remember a loved one by. A few minutes ago the sun setting rays caught the glass and created a rainbow over the picture of his son that sits beside it. Need I say more?"

FAQ

What colour options are available?

You may choose from our 9 signature colour blends, or select specific colours that hold special significance to you. We recommend 3 colours for small & medium pieces, and up to 5 colours for large memorials. See our colour guide on P. 33.

How much ash is needed for each memorial?

We only require a small amount of ashes for each memorial, with a tablespoon being more than sufficient. The remaining ashes will be thoughtfully returned along with the finished memorial.

Can we utilize all of the ash in a memorial?

We are limited to using no more than one teaspoon of ash in each memorial to ensure the integrity of the crystal. If you require a beautiful vessel for cremation ashes, feel free to inquire about custom glass urns.

Do we create blown glass memorials?

All our memorials are hand-blown solid crystal pieces. In consideration of your loved one, we avoid using cremation ash in delicate blown vessels due to the fragile nature of blown glass, and to ensure the final product meets your expectations.

Are there taxes on memorials?

Yes, all our memorials are subject to applicable HST, which is not included in the catalogue price.

Do we create custom memorials?

Certainly! We are always open to discussing custom memorials, and additional charges may apply.

How long does it take to make a memorial?

We ensure a 4-6 week turnaround time for memorial completion, although we often process orders within 3 weeks. If timing is crucial, please inform us, and we'll do our best to accommodate your needs.

What happens when ash is added to crystal?

The ashes transform into a completely white appearance, beautifully enhanced by the crystal encasing it.

What is dichroic crystal?

Dichroic crystals refract light, creating a sparkling effect when illuminated. You can incorporate them into your memorial for an additional 30%.

Can memorials come on an engraved base?

Certainly, you can have your memorial mounted on a customized base for an additional 30%.

Do we offer different sizes?

If you've spotted a memorial but desire a different size, let us know your preferences, and we'll strive to accommodate your request. Additional charges may apply.

Do we ship memorials?

Certainly! We receive small amounts of cremation ash via Canada Post or registered courier in a well-sealed envelope or container along with your details. Once complete, we ship your finished memorial to you. While we take every precaution in packing the crystal for shipping, it's important to note that, due to the sentimental value of memorials, insuring these items is not possible.

ABOUT GLASS ROOTS INC.

Saint John Studio & Showroom

Owner and Master Glassblower Curtis Dionne founded Glass Roots Inc. in 2008. Before that, he spent years in southern British Columbia apprenticing with Maestros from Guadalajara. Upon returning to New Brunswick, he built and operated a wood-fired glass furnace for 12 years while supplementing his art by working on fishing boats.

In 2021, Curtis Dionne and Charlotte MacLeod relocated their family and Glass Roots Inc. to Saint John, New Brunswick, transitioning from a wood-fired furnace to a modern gas-powered system. Glass Roots' studio and showroom are located at the back of 87 Canterbury Street. Walk down the "back alley," and you'll spot the vibrant mural on our studio, right next to our showroom doors. The showroom itself is housed in a historic basement with exposed rock and timbers. When the studio is in operation, visitors are welcome to step inside and observe the artistry in action, with seating available on three church pews that accommodate 12–15 people.

Since opening in Saint John, the gallery has been managed by Caitlin Moore. If you've visited, chances are she has warmly welcomed you. Caitlin is available at the gallery throughout the week and is dedicated to assisting customers through the memorial order process.

Prince Edward Island Gallery

Rachel Fletcher, a founding member and the current bookkeeper of Glass Roots since its inception in 2008, co-founded the studio with Curtis on a rural homestead. While family obligations have brought her back to PEI, her dedication to Glass Roots remains strong. You can now visit Rachel on the island to explore our exquisite blown glass pieces, and she'll be happy to assist you with your memorial orders. All of our blown glass and memorials are handcrafted at our studio in Saint John, NB, while Rachel ensures a seamless shipping and handling experience for you.
