

JAMEK

Ried Pichl Riesling

The Federspiel style designation is a trademark of the Vinea Wachau winegrowers' association and is used for wines that are rich in nuances and have a strong character. This classic dry wine is an ideal accompaniment to food. The term "Federspiel" comes from falconry, a form of hunting that was popular in the Wachau in earlier times. The Pichl designates a small section within the Riede Pichl Point.

TASTING NOTES

Delicately fruity Riesling with a distinctive scent of peach.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Crab, sole, sushi, bass, and fish tacos.

VARIETAL

Riesling

ALCOHOL

12.5%

93 Points | Falstaff
90 Points | Wine Spectator
89 Points | Wine Enthusiast