

LOST EDEN

| TECHNICAL NOTES |

Lost Eden Wine is made by 11th generation winemaker Lado Uzunashvili – an internationally recognized and prominent Georgian winemaker who also trained in both France and Australia. The wine celebrates modern wine-making practices with a nod to Georgia's traditional Qvevri vessels and is a blend of the Georgian native grape, Saperavi, farmed from several prestigious vineyards.

Appellation:	Kakhetian Region, Georgia
Vintage:	2018
Varietal:	100% Saperavi
Alcohol:	13.0 %
Total Acidity:	4.5 g/l
Residual sugar:	15.42/ g/l
pH:	3.68
Brix:	23.5
Style:	Semi-dry
Harvest Dates:	September 15 to 30, 2018
Barrel aging:	Unoaked
Bottling Date:	January 4, 2020
Release Date:	September 16, 2020
Size:	750ml
Case Production:	4,500 cases
SRP:	$18.99

Winemaker's Tasting Notes:

My goal with the Lost Eden Red Blend is to find the perfect balance between modern and traditional Georgian wine-making practices. Bringing the two sides together illustrates the quality as well as the evolution of winemaking in my country.

Initially in the glass, you'll notice the same fragrant, aromatic array found in mulberry, cherry and blackberry with overtones of wild violet flowers. Distinct for its deep, midnight purple color and crimson highlight, the taste on the palate is smooth and silky, with layers of black fruit that will evolve with age. The finish is bright and memorable, as pure as the famous garden where it was first discovered.

Lado Uzunashvili, 11th generation winemaker

