AMERICAN PATRIOTIC MOVEMENT

The image features the Mount Rushmore National Memorial in the background, with the faces of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and George Washington. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. In the foreground on the right, an American flag is flying on a tall pole. The overall scene is patriotic and evokes a sense of national pride.

AMERICAN PATRIOTIC MOVEMENT

David Dhillon is an independent contractor specializing in governmental affairs, political campaigns, lobbying, and public relations. David's experience in government began at the early age of 23 when he was elected councilman for the City of El Centro. He served on the council for 16 years and represented the city as Mayor during his tenure.

Throughout his career, David has taught Government and Economics to high school students, served as Director of Catholic Charities of Imperial Valley, and was appointed Marketing Manager for the California State Fair and Exposition by Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger.

David has dedicated his life to serving his community. As an educator, he was a strong advocate of anti-drug programs in the public schools and is recognized as the national founder of Red Ribbon Week. As Director of Catholic Charities, he actively sought funds from state and federal agencies to help homeless veterans and the underprivileged.

David's passion for helping people has led to working on charitable causes with many famous celebrities. As a reward for his hard work and dedication, he has enjoyed attending numerous Hollywood functions and being in the company of well-known personalities that share his interests. [Cont'd.]

AMERICAN PATRIOTIC MOVEMENT

David has recently worked as a government affairs strategist for health care facilities and employment agencies in search of health care professionals in the United States and abroad. In addition, he developed a campaign to bring national awareness to veterans suffering from post-traumatic stress.

David has traveled throughout Asia, Central America, Europe, and the United States. He is an independent contractor representing various business investment opportunities, projects, and programs in the USA for both foreign and domestic entrepreneurs, including opportunities for those seeking legal permanent or temporary residence in the USA.

David currently serves as the President & CEO of “The American Patriotic Movement” a growing nonprofit dedicated to promoting American patriotism through education, and service with global impact. The first initiative is the Veteran Legacy Center, capturing the stories of America’s veterans for future generations, and producing educational documentary films.

Crystal Jade, born and educated in Singapore. Her thirst for adventures and travel gave her the determination to own a travel agency. Crystal has been to more than 32 countries and over 300 cities. Crystal was also a Holy Land specialist, bringing groups to Israel, Egypt, Jordan to experience the lands mentioned in the Bible. Crystal calls them 'Walking the Bible' tours.

Now Crystal is a community activist and political consultant, but her passion has always been reaching out to people. This passion was instilled when she was young, and reinforced after graduating from Bible School, and countless lectures and special classes. Crystal ministered to the homeless in her city for more than five years. She saw many success stories, as well as preparing memorial services to those who lost their lives to drugs, alcohol and sickness.

More than two years ago, Crystal chanced upon organizing a Vietnam War Veterans Night. This sparked a desire to do more than just a night event for the Veterans. Crystal is very much influenced by her grandfather who survived the Japanese Occupation in Asia during WW2. Her grandfather was forever grateful to the Americans having dropped the bombs in Japan, which ended hell on earth for him and his young family, her mother.

Crystal is giving back to America with her countless hours of volunteering in her community, in the political arena, and helping Veterans.

Award-winning documentary filmmaker, Errol Webber has earned a reputation as a refined film producer and cinematographer, adept at capturing polished, hyper real visuals and telling compelling stories.

Webber studied Film at the Maryland Institute College of Art, where, as a freshman, he opened his own photography and video production business. Upon graduating in 2008, Webber shot a documentary film in Africa – Music By Prudence - about a band of gifted Zimbabwean musicians with disabilities. Music By Prudence won the Academy Award for Best Documentary Short Subject in 2010.

The decade-long, coming-of-age documentary film, American Promise, explores the nuances of public vs. private education in New York. American Promise won the Special Jury Award for Achievement in Filmmaking at the 2013 Sundance Film Festival.

Webber's talent for film lies not in his ability to bring his world to the viewer, but the urgency with which he immerses the viewer into his world. Webber is best known for his arresting imagery and rebellious compositions. After more than a decade, award-winning Los Angeles Film Producer, Errol Webber continues in his most prized obsession; filmmaking.

DOCUMENTARY FILM PRODUCTION:

To date, we have captured the stories of 10 Vietnam military veterans. The footage from these interviews will be used to produce a short documentary in 2023.

DOCUMENTARY FILM PRODUCTION ANNUAL BUDGET:

Over the next 20 years, we'll be capturing thousands more of these military stories, at a rate of roughly 10 per month. The projected budget for annual documentary capture on a minimal-size film crew is $250,000/year. The cost to produce a short documentary is $100,000 per film.
