HARTFORD'S CIVIC FUTURE?

Join a growing team of students from across Hartford who are coming together to better understand how the city works in hopes of making it easier for other young people to get involved.

The Hartford Youth Civic Collective is a youth-led group where students collaborate with peers, graphic designers, and civic leaders to create a digital civic resource hub made for youth, by youth.

Together, we're working to make civic engagement more approachable, relevant, and exciting for Hartford youth.
