

You must agree to the following statement before you may submit a resume, candidate profile or other information using this sourcing web site. If you submit any data or information, you will be giving your permission for EconomiWorks (hereinafter referred to as "the Company" and/or "EconomiWorks, Economi LLC ") to process, store, and transfer (to any country) your information, including all personal information, as set out below.

Background

You must be at least 18 years of age to submit any information to the Company.

Information collected by the Company is administered by EconomiWorks.

The Company collects and saves in a database located in the United States all of the information, including personal information, you provide to it. It uses this information to identify candidates for projects identified by EconomiWorks. It may provide the information to its affiliates, including affiliates outside of the United States, in connection with possible opportunities at those affiliates. It may also provide the information to federal, state, local or other government agencies that have jurisdiction over matters related to employment. The Company does not provide the information it collects to other third parties unless it is required to do so by a valid court order, governmental agency order or information request, or unless it has a legitimate business purpose for doing so and the third party agrees to similar restrictions on disclosure and use of the information. If the Company employs you within any of its affiliates, it will retain this information and may use it and disclose it to others for personnel, administrative or other purposes related to your employment with the Company.

The Company may collect and retain information on race, gender, ethnicity or other protected or special status. For example, in the United States applicable laws and regulations require the Company to request and save race, gender, and ethnicity information for future government reporting; however, such information is not reviewed in connection with consideration for employment. The Company also may collect such information for personnel and/or administrative uses. Where there are laws or regulations covering this type of information, the Company will collect, retain and use the information and data in full compliance with applicable laws.

If you are in or are submitting personal information from a jurisdiction outside of the United States, note in particular the waiver of rights provision (bolded) below in the final section of this statement.

Revising Your Information

If you think the information the Company has about you as a result of its submission through this sourcing web site is either incorrect or out-of-date, please resubmit the updated information through the Company's web site.

Security

The Company is concerned about the security of personal information in its possession; therefore, it takes reasonable precautions to safeguard and secure the information it collects from loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction.

Acknowledgement

I have read, understand, and agree with the above and further acknowledge as follows:

I hereby consent, freely, unambiguously and irrevocably, to the processing, storage and transfer (to any country) at any time of all information and data I provide to the Company to any of the parties identified above, including any EconomiWorks affiliate(s), wherever located.

I agree that I will not sue or otherwise attempt to recover against any EconomiWorks affiliate(s) based on any alleged violation of the terms above, and I agree to hold harmless, defend and indemnify such as affiliates against any such claim or suit, except to the extent that this provision is prohibited by applicable law.

If any part of this acknowledgement is found unlawful, void, or otherwise unenforceable, then that part will be deemed severed and the remaining parts will be valid.

By selecting "YES" below, I am indicating that I have read the Data Privacy Statement and consent to providing this information on the terms set out therein.

By selecting "NO" below, your submission process will terminate effective with this notice. No personal information has been captured in the system. We wish you success in your career search.
