

AFFIDAVIT

I, Mathryn Melby being first duly sworn under oath depose and state that the foregoing is true and correct and made upon my personal knowledge and I am competent to testify thereto.

On Thursday, May 16, 2002, James Degorski was supposed to come to my house for dinner and help me install some lights. When he never showed I began calling him. I did not reach him that night or the next morning. This was unusual, so I drove past his work which is 3 miles away. His truck was in the lot, but he still wasn't answering his work phone. Finally, I called his boss, expecting to hear he was injured. Instead, he told me, "A bunch of police showed up after work and had arrested him."

I went back to his truck and saw all his tools, his work phone and other personal items. Because of the location, I was worried someone would break into it. I went home, got his spare key, and had a friend drive me back to pick up his truck.
