

Supply List Jack Turpin Nov 22,23, 2025

The workshop is not medium-specific, but it might lend itself more to tidy, cleaner media for journal work, such as pencils, coloured pencils , ball point pens, fineliners and the like. For painting, if you choose, water-based paints - acrylics, gouache or watercolour might be easier for clean-up.

Bring what you want to work in (and what you can comfortably carry). If you want to both draw and paint, then bring the supports, surfaces, papers and sketchbook/journals that interest you...similarly with the various media you will use. If this will help, here is a list of supplies I always carry in my small art box:

- small travel watercolour set, with brushes
- .assorted graphite pencils & sharpener
- .coloured pencils
- .ink-tense pencils
- .watercolour pencils
- .ball point pens
- .micron pigma (or similar) fineliners
- .calligraphy pens
- .glue stick
- .scissors
- .exacto knife
- .ruler
- .eraser
- .odds and sods
