

After a bit of a slow start at the plate in his first year, Clark found his footing about half way through the season and was able to turn things around significantly, being one of our better hitters during the 2nd half of the season. He is versatile in the field, able to play multiple positions which gave us flexibility defensively.

As expected, Clark only played better in his 2nd season with the team. While his hitting was slightly down, he did hit for more power with 4 doubles and cut down his strikeouts while scoring 6 more runs than he did in his first season. He was also able to cut down on his errors as well as he only had 2 all season long while playing the bulk of his game as Short.
