Cesar Castillo

His first couple of games were a feeling out process for us as we learned where to best play Cesar. We had him on the mound, at 2nd and in Right Field. Ultimately Right was the best spot for him defensively. Cesar's bat took a while to finally come around as he nearly hit a dinger off of Country of the Cards and had a big hit in our Wild Card Game loss.

Jesus Recinos Jr.

Primarily a 2nd basemen, Jesus was able to big a big contributor at the plate when he was able to come out. He had a few key hits and a strong batting average and on base average despite hitting on the lower half of the batting order for most of the season.

Patrick Buscar

For quite a few years, Patrick played on the Mets in the MMBL, one of the teams I used to have trouble beating in my previous time running the MMBL Blue Jays). A fluke contact with Johnny Mac led to some conversations back and forth and the realization that Patrick lives almost directly across from Nelson.

After figuring out that he was able to play a few games, he was able to contribute both on the mound and at the plate in the limited games he played in his first few games playing again.

Rafael Santiago

Rafael was only able to get into a single game for us. He struggled on the mound with holding runners on base and was hit by a pitch in one of his 2 at bats. Due to family reasons, he was forced to move to the States due to personal reasons. We wish him well
