She was born 26 Jan 1854 in Guilford, Nodaway Co, Missouri, and died 26 Jul 1934 in Huron, Lancaster Twp, Atchison Co, Kansas.

Notes for Capt. George Washington Stabler:

William G. Cutler's History of the State of Kansas; Chicago, by A. T. Andreas in 1883, page 410:

G. W. Stabler, farmer and stock-raiser, Lancaster Township, Atchison County, Kansas, was one of the oldest settlers of this township; was born in Stablersville, Baltimore County, Maryland, in 1839, where his ancestors had lived for 200 years. In 1852, he moved to Ohio, where he remained until 1854, when he moved to Adams County, Illinois, where he learned the carpenter's trade. In the fall of 1858, he moved to Kansas, settling in Lancaster Township. In 1859-60, he worked in a quartz mill in Colorado. In the spring of 1861, returned to Kansas and enlisted as a private in Company D, Second Kansas Infantry, for 100 days; at the expiration of that time, he re-enlisted in the Second Kansas Cavalry, and was made Sergeant; was in the battles of Prairie Grove, Cane Hill, Van Buren and all the battles of his regiment. In June, 1863, he was commissioned First Lieutenant, and in 1865 was promoted to Captain of Company C, and was mustered out at Leavenworth in August, 1865, when he returned to his farm and has followed that pursuit ever since. The farm comprises 230 acres; 140 under cultivation.

He was married at Huron, September 21, 1865, to Mrs. Nancy Wilson, who died in October, 1878, leaving four children, Gale C., John P., James H. and Mark O. He was again married January 14, 1880, at Huron, Kansas, to Mrs. Anna Berger, of Nodaway County, Missouri. Capt. Stabler has always taken an active part in the politics, both in county and State issues. In 1870, he was census taker for the western part of Atchison County. In 1871-72, served as Deputy United States Marshall. In 1866, was elected to the Legislature, and served his constituents faithfully. He has been Justice of the Peace for the past twelve years. He is an active member of the Huron Lodge, No. 72, A., F. & A. M.

May 11, 1911 - Captain G. W. Stabler was stricken with paralysis Sunday afternoon May 7, 1911 and is in a serious condition. He was in his usual good health and spirits Sunday and had gone out to feed his chickens when the stroke came and Mrs. Stabler found him in the poultry yard unconscious. She called in some of the neighbors who carried him into the house and summoned medical assistance. His right side is paralyzed and he is unable to speak but appears to be conscious of everything. His children were called and some of them have already arrived. Captain Stabler is probably the best-known citizen of Huron and his affliction will be widely deplored.

Atchison, Kansas - Captain G. W. Stabler died at his home in Huron last night May 11, 1911, death following a stroke of paralysis. Had he lived until July 4, he would have been 70 years of age. He leaves a widow and five children as follows: Mrs. Roert Grimes, Good Intent; James Stabler, Coebin, Montana; M. C. Stabler, Fort Collins, Colorado; E. G. Stabler, Atchison; Mrs. G. E. Brooks, Branman, Oklahoma.

The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, the interment being in the old Huron cemetery. Captain Stabler was born in Stablerville, Maryland, July 4, 1841. He came to Kansas in 1857. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in Company D, Second Kansas Cavalry, and served until August 10, 1865, after having risen to the rank of captain and being assigned to Co. C, Veteran Battalion of Second regiment.

On his return he settled on a farm at Huron. He was a member of the state legislature for twenty years and also served as a justice of the peace of Lancaster Township. He was the first mayor of Huron, being elected three successive terms. He was a member of the Atchison bar association, having been admitted several years ago. He was postmaster under the Harrison administration. Captain Stabler was for a number of years the Huron correspondent for The Champion. He was a man whose home record, war record and political record was stainless, a man universally esteemed and a man who will be missed in his home town and in the state.

friends, Mrs. Stabler was a kind and generous person. She possessed a deep spirituality and enjoyed working in her church.

March 14, 1947 - In Memory of Maud Evelyn Stabler:

Soft as the tread of the kitten, Came death to one of our members. Silently, patiently as glowing embers, Life slowly ebbed away at last.

Tis" in death she lives as we knew her, true, patient, and kind. Though she is gone in body forever; Her spirit she left behind.

Her philosophy is one to be copied, For sunshine she spread every place, Though at times her pains were concealed, By the smile that brightened her face.

Not an unkind word was ever expressed By this one so precious and dear; Not an untruth ever passed The lips that were stilled in death.

Yes, she is gone, we remember, But as she would want us to do, We'll gather strength for the future And manage somehow to pull through.

Marriage Notes for Franklin Stavely and Rose Fuhrman:

Littlestown, Sept 11, 1903 – Miss Rose G. Foreman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Foreman, a social favorite among her numerous friends everywhere, and Mr. Francis R. Stavely, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Stavely, of Germany Township, a popular gentleman of excellent reputation, were quietly married at the parochial residence of St. Alloysius' Church, last Tuesday at 12:15 p.m., by the Rector, Rev. Father Kohl. Because of the sudden death of the groom's father on Friday evening – too late to cancel the invitations – the marriage festivities were of the quietest. Only the immediate family and close relationship was present at the marriage ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Julia B. Foreman. The groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Samuel Stavely. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white China silk trimmed with lace and chiffon and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a handsome white embroidered Swiss gown and carried pink carnations. The groom and groomsman wore the conventional black.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Foreman, from 1 until 3 o'clock, where hundreds of friends called to extended their congratulations. A most tempting luncheon was served in the dining room. At 4:17 the bride and groom left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City for a ten days' trip. The depot platform was crowded with their friends who had previously relieved the grocers of all their surplus stock of rice. On their return home they will occupy their newly furnished home on South Queen Street.

Notes for Howard Douglas Stabler:

Alaska Scrapbook; published November 12, 2006 compiled by Steve Haycox:

Howard D. Stabler, US attorney in Juneau, Alaska in the 1920's and early 1930's, was born in Bethany, Ohio, near Cincinnati, on November 11, 1887. A noted figure in the territorial period, he was involved in the attempted to end prostitution in Ketchikan during Prohibition.

After high school Stabler earned a law degree at Hamilton College of Law in Chicago and went west to practice law in Spokane. In 1918, he joined the US Signal Corps, which took him to Alaska. He left the corps and practiced law in Sitka briefly before accepting an appointment as assistant district attorney in Juneau. He served in that office from 1921-1929, when he was named district attorney, serving until the Democratic sweep in 1932, when he went into private practice.

As assistant US attorney, Stabler achieved a certain visibility when he was sent to clean up Ketchikan. That town was "wide open" after the adoption of Prohibition. Smuggling liquor in from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, was relatively easy. Prostitution was highly visible in western American towns well into the early 20th century, and was nowhere more visible than along Creek Street, across from the upright business section of the community.

The town's reputation received an airing during the 1925 territorial legislative session, and in 1926 a Los Angeles newspaper ran a feature story calling Ketchikan a national scandal. That prompted Judge Thomas Reed to order a grand jury investigation, which called for the assistant district attorney to be stationed there; Stabler got the call.

Stabler conducted a one-man campaign for several months, closing down the bawdy houses, open saloons and taxi companies whose drivers colluded with the bar owners and madams. Quickly achieving the status of "town father", he was named president of the Ketchikan Rotary, the first Rotary Club in Alaska. But, as everywhere, Americans during Prohibition were tolerant of drinking and, as always, ambivalent about prostitution. Ketchikan soon returned to its wicked ways despite Stabler's work. He was still battling American ambivalence when he moved back to Juneau to be the district attorney in 1929. Ketchikan would not be "cleaned up" until mid-1950's during the campaign for Alaska statehood.

In the meantime, Stabler finished his brief tenure as district attorney and became an upstanding member of the Juneau bar. Among other things, he sat on the bar committee that recommended the disbarment of William Paul in 1936. He was still practicing law at his death March 17, 1963.

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 13, 1950 - The action of the Alaska statehood committee in hiring a "professional lobbyist" to push its program in Washington D. C., was probably illegal, Howard D. Stabler, Alaska attorney and keynote speaker at a Republican rally, said here yesterday. Stabler cited a 1924 decision of the ninth circuit court of appeals on an Alaskan case which he said supported his belief. Stabler's reference to a "professional lobbyist" concerned Randolph Feltus, a New York relations man who formerly did publicity for communist Poland. He was retained by statehood committee to aid in presenting its program before congress. His employment by the committee was attacked in congress last week by Sen. Schoeppel.

State of Alaska Constitutional Convention - Candidate Howard Stabler

Sept. 8, 1955 - Howard Stabler, Juneau attorney, is a candidate for the Alaska state constitutional convention and as delegate-at-large. Seven will be chosen from a field of 28.

Born in Ohio, Stabler took his schooling there and obtained his law degree from Hamilton college of law in 1916. He came to Alaska in 1919 after having been admitted to the bar in Washington state and practiced in Spokane until he entered the US army in 1919 with the old WAMCATS (forerunner of the Alaska communications system) to be stationed at Sitka. He was a cable operator. He was admitted to practice law in Alaska in 1919, and became assistant district attorney for the first division from 1921 until 1929 when he became the district attorney.

In 1933 Stabler entered private practice in Juneau and has been in it since that time. At present he is city attorney for Juneau, Wrangell, Skagway, Pelican and Hoonah. He is a member of the American and Juneau Bar associations and is active in civic affairs. He belongs to the Juneau Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Rotary club (past president), an ELK, Pioneers of Alaska, Igloo No. 6, and is a 33 degree Mason. He has been in all of the principal cities of Alaska for the past 15 years and is acquainted with conditions. Stabler is married and his wife is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Alaska bar.

Introduction (adapted from notes provided by VWB Harley Clough): Howard Douglas Stabler (1887 – 1963) was a prominent Juneau lawyer and active Freemason, who served as Worshipful Master of Mt. Juneau Lodge No. 147 in 1935. Howard moved to Sitka in 1919 and then to Juneau 1921 as Assistant U.S. Attorney for Alaska. On Feb. 2, 1929, he was elected to receive the degrees of Scottish Rite, which would become one of his scholarly passions. In 1935 he was appointed as Editor-in-Chief of the newly created Scottish Rite Bulletin for the Juneau Valley. In 1939, he began writing communication-related essays for the Scottish Rite degrees, with the first presentation of the 4th degree essay on May 12, 1939. He wrote essays for the 5th and 6th in September 1939, 7th in October that year, and proceeded to write similar essays for each of the 29 degrees. In 1941, he was elected to the 33rd degree, and became Deputy for the Supreme Council in Alaska in October 1955. This oration was delivered to the Grand Lodge of Washington at their annual communication in June 1940, in the midst of the "Great Depression" and just one and a half years before the U.S. entered World War II. This poignant message has significance to Masons of all ages, more especially today.

Preparation by Howard D. Stabler

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Washington: As we look around us in the world today the prospects sadden our hearts. Confusion and chaos crowd the horizon and the conflict of ideas—the greatest stumbling block to human progress—spreads over the whole earth. The clouds hang low and threatening; and the air resounds with strife. As darkness threatens to spread over the face of the deep, the world seeks a principle of order; and a bewildered and confused humanity casts about in despair for some workable maxims of conduct. Has Masonry anything to offer such a world? Can Masonry, out of its wisdom, hold out any guide for the future?

As I searched for the answers to these questions amid the encroaching powers of darkness, my thoughts turned to the starting point in every search for Masonic light—the preparation room, where every candidate for light in Masonry is first prepared in his heart by being robed in a "garment furnished from on high", and symbolically divested of the vanities of his own righteousness. And as I reviewed the lesson of modesty and humility—the first lesson in preparation for Masonry—and searched again for the Word that was lost through the untimely death of our legendary Grand Master, I beheld in all its glory Masonry's magnificent contribution to world welfare; and became inspired anew by the wisdom, strength and beauty of our noble and glorious Order.

Masonry's answer to all such questions is plain. Masonry's great contribution to the world is the philosophy symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry. The Master's Word, like the Holy Grail of ancient legend, has the mysterious power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it. Masonry is prepared to lead men from darkness to light. It will accomplish its great purpose in the world when Masons are prepared; prepared to find, but more especially to observe, what was lost by the untimely death of Grand Master Hiram; prepared to transmit what they find unimpaired to others.

Masonry is preparation of the individual to find and observe what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry. The broad highway of Masonry, straight as an arrow, leads Masons directly to the Lost Symbol. The apprentice might have seen the Master's Word in the first degree of Masonry, when he was presented with his Masonic apron of lambskin, and told that its pure and spotless surface should be an ever present reminder of a purity of life, and rectitude of conduct, a never ending inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. The Fellow-Craft had a glimpse of it, when his attention was directed to the letter "G" suspended in the East. And it was revealed preparation By Howard D. Stabler in the third degree in these words: "Hence, my Brother, how important it is that we should endeavor to imitate our Grand Master Hiram, in his truly exalted and exemplary character, in his unfeigned piety to God, and in his inflexible fidelity to his trust."

Recently I read a sentimental anecdote, which I think demonstrates the noble and glorious meaning of the Lost Symbol. A woman, dressed in rags, was passing along a street in a French town, holding her little son by the hand. Suddenly she stooped to pick up an object from the ground, tucking it within the folds of her ragged garments. In doing so, she aroused the suspicions of a nearby policeman, who demanded that she show him what she had concealed. The poor woman, a picture of deprivation, cast down her eyes and revealed a jagged fragment of a broken bottle, explaining, "I was thinking only of the barefoot children." That miserable and wretched woman, in her thoughtfulness, had the key to the Master's Word.

One evening a few years ago, a neighbor boy came to our summer home and asked if I would take his father to the hospital in town. I knew the old man had come home to die, hopeless after several unsuccessful surgical operations. I had not seen him for a couple of weeks, and hardly recognized him as his two boys lifted his helpless and wasted frame into the back seat of my car. We drove to town, and stopped at the back door of St. Ann's Hospital, where I rang the bell for an attendant. A Catholic Priest came out; and as I started to explain our purpose there, he saw the two boys struggling to lift their father out of the car. At once, without stopping to inquire whether the sick man was Catholic or Protestant, rich or poor, friend or foe of the Catholic Church, the Priest took up the old man in his arms, and, without asking for assistance from any of us, carried him into the Hospital, where he died during the night. That Priest saw a poor, suffering, helpless individual. His unselfish, Christian act healed me of a lot of prejudice and intolerance towards the Institution he represented; and I saw a glimpse of something which I think is symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry.

In the beautiful allegory by Lowell called "The Vision of Sir Launfal", the maiden Knight, in his gilded mail that flamed so bright, set forth in June, the high tide of the year, to seek in all climes for the Holy Grail. As Sir Launfal rode forth from his castle, he saw a leper crouched by the gate, and a loathing over Sir Launfal came. "The sunshine went out of his soul, and the flesh 'neath his armor 'gan shrink and crawl." He tossed a piece of gold to the leper, and rode onward in search of the Holy Symbol.

Sir Launfal traveled the World over in search of the Holy Grail, but failed to find even a glimpse of it. Returning from his fruitless search, in Winter, just at the Christmas time, he again met the leper. Now, Sir Launfal's gold was gone. He was bent with age; and clad in raiment thin and spare. This time he saw in the leper an image of Christ suffering on the cross, and he said: "Thou also hast had thy crown of thorns, Thou also hast had the world's buffets and scorns."

"The heart within him was ashes and dust: He parted in twain his single crust, he broke the ice on the streamlet's brink, and gave the leper to eat and drink." And then, in a vision, Sir Launfal found the object of his search—"The leper no longer crouched at his side, But stood before him glorified, Shining and tall and fair and straight As the pillar that stood by the Beautiful Gate, himself the Gate whereby men can Enter the Temple of God in man." And the voice that was softer than silence said, 'Lo, it is I, be not afraid. In many climes without avail, Thou hast spent thy life for the Holy Grail; behold, it is here—this cup which thou Didst fill at the streamlet for me but now; This crust is my body broken for thee, This water His blood that died on the tree; The Holy Supper is kept, indeed, In what so we share with another's need. Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare; Who gives himself with his alms feeds three, himself, his hungering neighbor, and me'."

Of all the allegorical stories of the search for what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry, I like best Tennyson's immortal Idyll entitled "The Holy Grail."

In it, Sir Percivale, one of the Knights of King Arthur's legendary court, related to the Monk Ambrosius that one day, in the absence of King Arthur, a fleeting vision of the Holy Grail appeared in the castle; and that Percivale and Sir Bors, and Lancelot, and many among the Knights of the Round Table who saw the vision, swore their vows to follow Galahad, and ride in search of the Holy Thing for twelve months and a day, until they found or saw it; and that King Arthur remained at home, and charged that most of them would only follow wandering fires. Percivale told of his own adventures. He rode forth from the castle, lifted up in his heart, thinking of all his late shown prowess in the tournaments. As he rode onward, he came to a land of sand and thorns, and he thirsted even unto death. Many times he thought he had found the object of his search, but each time as he touched the object it crumbled into dust and disappeared, until in despair he cried, "Lo, if I find the Holy Grail itself, And touch it, it will crumble into dust." Finally, Percivale came to a chapel, and there he found a holy hermit, to whom he told his phantoms and his dreams, and the hermit said: "O son, thou hast not true humility The highest virtue, mother of them all; For when the Lord of all things made Himself Naked of glory for His mortal change, 'Take thou my robe', He said, 'for all is thine'. But Him thou hast not known; for what is this? Thou thoughtest of thy prowess and thy sins, Thou hast not lost thyself, to save thyself, As Galahad."

Then Galahad appeared and related that he had seen the Holy Symbol, and that it had moved with him night and day; and how in the strength of this he rode, "shattering all evil customs everywhere." Percivale then followed Galahad, "shattering all evil customs everywhere", and in the strength of this he saw a glimpse of something which he described as, "The spiritual city and all her spires And gateways in a glory like one pearl,—A rose-red sparkle to the city, and there Dwelt, and I knew it was the Holy Grail, Which never eyes on earth again shall see."

Then Percivale, glad that no phantoms vexed him more, returned from whence he came—the gate of Arthur's court. And there he found King Arthur on the dias throne, and those other Knights who had returned from the quest, wasted and worn, and but a few of them.

King Arthur made Percivale welcome, and then each Knight in turn related his adventures to the King. Sir Gowain reported the quest was not for such as he. He found a silk pavilion in a field, and merry maidens in it. Sir Bors said, " 'Ask me not, for I may not speak of it; I saw it', and the tears were in his eyes." Lancelot said, " 'This quest was not for me'."

Then spoke King Arthur, who remained in his castle attending to the duties and responsibilities of his high office while the others were searching for the Symbol in distant places:

"Some among you held that if the King Had seen the sight he would have sworn the vow. Not easily, seeing that the King must guard That which he rules, and is but as the hind To whom a space of land is given to plow. Who may not wander from the allotted field Before his work be done, but, being done Let visions of the night or of the day Come as they will. And many a time they come, Until this earth he walks on seems not earth, This air that smites his forehead is not air, But vision. Yea, his very hand and foot,— In moments when he feels he cannot die, And knows himself no vision to himself, Nor the high God a vision, nor that One Who rose again'." Then said Percivale, "So spoke the King. I know not all he meant."

The mysterious power represented by the Master's Word has been the subject of many legends and allegories. It has been symbolized and personified in many forms. By whatsoever object symbolized,—by whatsoever character personified,—by whatsoever words it has been named,—it is Gospel Truth, that what is represented has power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it.

The great objective of speculative Masonry is to find and restore the mysterious power of the Master's Word—not symbolically, but in fact and practice. Each one of us is obligated by the vows of Masonry to search for the Lost Symbol. Each one of us is charged to observe what is found. And each one of us is charged to transmit what is found, unimpaired, to others.

Are we worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great undertaking to which we are committed? We know the signs and words, and the symbols and allegorical legends, of speculative Masonry. Some among us have received the highest honor within the gift of a Masonic Lodge. We consider ourselves Master Masons. But are we Masters, or Overseers, of the work? Are we entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up?

We were informed that at the building of King Solomon's Temple, Masters wore their aprons in a peculiar manner, to distinguish them as Masters or Overseers of the work. We were given the rank and title of Masters, but were instructed to continue wearing our aprons as Fellow-Crafts. I think this was intended to distinguish us as laborers, and to remind us that there is much work yet to be done before we can attain the high and honorable distinction of a Master; and I think it was also intended to remind us of King Solomon's order—to search for the body of our legendary Grand Master, and if found, to observe whether the Master's Word, or a key to it, is on or about the body.

All too often we attempt to extort or force the secrets of Masonry by impossible and impracticable interpretations of its symbols and legends. Wise King Solomon did not send Fellow-Crafts in search of something that could only be found and recognized by Masters. He did send them in search of something which, if found, they could not see. I think he sent them to search for, and if found to observe, the INTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS—what it was on or about the body that distinguished Grand Master Hiram as a Master or Overseer of the work.

Preparation for the degree of Master, or Overseer of the work, is the whole purpose of speculative Masonry. This purpose is best symbolized by the rough and perfect ashlar. The rough ashlar represents the individual and his rude and imperfect state by nature.

The perfect ashlar represents the state of perfection at which we hope to arrive by a virtuous education, our own endeavors, and the blessings of God. The purpose of Masonry is to develop the rough and imperfect individual to one with the internal qualifications possessed by Hiram the Master. When we find, and observe by practicing them, the internal qualifications of a Master, then we will possess the jewel of Masonry which we call the Master's Word, and become entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up.

The Master's Word of Masonry represents the precepts of Masonry, exemplified in the life and character of Grand Master Hiram. But the Master's Word is lost to many Masons—lost because imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Grand Master Hiram has become obsolete among many Masons. According to Masonic tradition, Masters once wore their aprons with the right hand corner turned up. That custom has become obsolete; and I think it will remain obsolete until we become Masters or Overseers of the work.

Only a few Masons labor on until they find within themselves the internal qualifications of a Master. Too many think they already know all there is to be known about Masonry. Too many, like Sir Gowain, follow wandering fires, and never find what it was on or about the body that made Hiram a Master or Overseer of the work. Too many who see the work and listen to the lectures of Masonry, are like Percivale who said after hearing King Arthur's story of his visions of immortality, "So spoke the King, I know not all he meant." Only a few remain in the allotted field of Masonry and labor on to extend and propagate its principles and precepts among men.

There is an unfinished spiritual temple within each one of us. As long as life remains within our bodies—as long as our hands are able to grasp the working tools of Masonry—we must labor on to perfect and complete that spiritual temple. The plans for our spiritual edifices have been laid down for us by the precepts of Masonry. The design on the trestle-board is imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Hiram the Master Builder.

Measured by this exacting standard of morality, we must become worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great building program to which we are committed. We must perfect our spiritual temples by learning to tolerate the political, religious and philosophical opinions of others; by learning to share what we have with another's need; by forgetting our prowess and our sins and learning true humility, the highest virtue, mother of them all; and, above all, by learning to appreciate the immortal gift of that One who said, "Take thou my robe, for all is thine."

There is also much unfinished work on the Temple of Masonry, and completing it is the individual and collective work of all Masons. Here we practice Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. Here we are united by the cement of speculative Masonry into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention exists, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who best can work and best agree. But without the walls of Masonry are fellow-beings in want and need, suffering from hunger, sickness and sorrow. Without the walls of Masonry the world is torn by strife, discord, confusion and despair. Men and nations struggle in mortal conflict. Our own favored country is divided and torn by depression, by greed and intolerance, by selfishness, ambition and prejudice. When the custom of wearing our aprons with the right hand corner turned up is no longer obsolete among Masons—when the great purpose of Masonry is accomplished in the hearts of men—then will men be healed by faith of all their ills; and then will the world be healed of all its wickedness.

The Master's Word, representing the mysterious power of Masonry—the power that oppresses none, threatens none, inspires all, is here—in this room—within the reach of all. Take it, and the speculative jewel and apron of a Master are thine. It is yours—yours for the observance of one simple rule: imitate the internal qualifications of Hiram the Master Builder, and all the secrets of a Master are thine. Take it, and become duly and truly prepared to travel in foreign countries, work and receive Master's wages.

My Brothers, we are assembled here in the Temple of Masonry, upon the level of equality, even as Knights of old were wont to assemble in the castle before the Round Table of King Arthur's legendary court. Let us believe that we have seen a vision of the Master's Word in our Temple, even as Galahad, and Percivale and Lancelot, and many among the Knights, saw the vision of the Holy Grail in the castle, in days of old. Let us make our vows to follow Hiram, and search for the Holy Symbol until we find or see it. When this Grand Communication is closed, and we part upon the symbolic square of Masonry, let us go divested of all the vanities of our own righteousness. Let us go forth into the world without and meet all men upon the level of equality; act towards them by the plumb of uprightness; and part from them upon the square of virtue. Let us resolve that Brotherly Love shall prevail beyond these walls; and that every moral and social virtue shall cement us and all Masons into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers laboring together for the good of humanity. Let us renew the work on our spiritual temples, and upon the Temple of Masonry, with new inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. Let us labor on in preparation for a better way of life. Let us by precept and example do our part to carry on the Great Light of Masonry in a dark and dismal world.

And when at last we lay down our working tools and report that the spiritual temple is completed—when we are robed in the "garment furnished from on high" that divests all men of the vanities of this life, let us be worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the speculative honors of the last and highest degree. May the record of our lives and actions enable each one of us to say, and our conscience to adjudge, I come duly and truly prepared. I have learned the lesson of modesty and humility. To the best of my ability, I followed the designs laid down by Hiram the Master. To the best of my ability, I observe the internal qualifications of a Master or Overseer of the work. I found the key to the Master's Word, thinking of the barefoot children. I had a glimpse of the Master's Word when I raised my fallen brother. I saw the spiritual city and all her spires when I shared my single crust with another's need. I found the jewel of a Master, when I learned to know myself no vision to myself, nor the high God a vision, nor that One who rose again. I helped to restore a noble custom that had become obsolete among Masons. I learned to wear my apron with the right hand corner turned up.

Notes for Laird Joseph Stabler:

Inspired by a visiting entourage of American Chemical Society officials earlier in the year, club member Dr. Laird Stabler, USC Professor, oil refinery consultant, and ACS member originating from Berkeley, California, petitions the American Chemical Society to establish a local section in Los Angeles. On February 11, 1911, the newly chartered Southern California Section of ACS, consisting now of 60 members, holds its first monthly meeting. The meeting topic, "Our Smoke Nuisance", is about the Los Angeles basin's problem with atmospheric haze due to smoke particulate.

This group grew out of eight chemists meeting together in 1901 in an office at the Los Angeles Soap Company. They decide to call themselves the Los Angeles Chemical Club, and meet monthly overlunch and beer to discuss things they have learned that might result in a prosperous collective manufacturing venture. By 1903, the group has doubled in size, and they now call themselves The Los Angeles Chemical and Metallurgical Club to be more inclusive of member assayers who earn their living averting mining scams and swindles.

Notes for Robert James (Bobbie) Stabler:

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - Bond of James Ballard, held on a charge of manslaughter, was fixed at $3,000 after a preliminary hearing this morning in Middletown municipal court. He and Mrs. Ballard testified to events preceding the fatal shooting of Robert Stabler, following closely reports they have given to police.

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - A charge of manslaughter was filed against James Ballard, ago 22, Penfield Street late yesterday by Russell Stabler, brother of Robert Stabler, 17-year-old high school band drum major who was killed shortly before midnight Thursday when shot by Ballard. Ballard told police prowlers have been frequenting his neighborhood and that he shot at Stabler when he saw the youth peering a front window at the Ballard home. A half hour earlier, Ballard says, heard someone outside of the house, had his wife sit in a front room and he secreted himself on the porch, armed with a small caliber rifle.

Within the half hour, Ballard continued, he saw a person, crossing the street. This person walked to the window of the Ballard home and, Ballard says, started toward him when the watcher ordered him to stop. It was then that Ballard fired.

"The fellow ran south, I called for him to stop, and when he kept on going, I continued to fire. He tried to get through the front gate at Armco field (a baseball field about 400 yards from the Ballard home) and fell. I think I fired six times, but I didn't want kill him, just make him stop."

Russell Stabler, the brother, expresses contends the opinion Robert was the victim of mistaken identity. One bullet entered Stabler's left side, another his right side, while he third entered the middle of his back. It was this bullet that caused death, an autopsy performed at Middletown hospital revealed.

This bullet severed a large artery from the heart as well as a large vein. Until this was learned, authorities had expressed surprise that such small caliber bullet wounds would prove fatal so quickly. Stabler died a half an hour after being wounded and did not regain consciousness.

From Simmer Lathey, 818 Fifteenth Avenue, detectives learned Stabler had been visiting Lathey's daughter Marie, until 10:30 o'clock Thursday night. The shooting occurred at 11:20 o'clock. Robert Stabler, who would have been a senior in high school next term, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stabler, 302 Garfield Street. Besides his parents, he is survived by his brother, Russell, former city engineer, and a sister, Marie.

Wade E. Miller, principal of Middletown High school, and Herman J. Copp, director of music, for whom Stabler played in the school band, give the slain student a splendid reputation, both asserting "he was a model pupil, honorable in every way and we thought a great deal of him."

Ballard was graduated from Middletown High school several years ago. He was an outstanding member of the 1930 football team, became known as an amateur wrestler, also played football, and last year the Cincinnati Reds sent him training school and then placed him on a farm at Jeanette, Pennsylvania. Ballard is married and he told police Mrs. Ballard is an expectant mother.

Funeral services for Stabler will be held at 3 o'clock Monday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Spring Hill cemetery, Bethany. Edward Cook, Butler county coroner, has not fixed the date of inquest which he said will be conducted next week.

As the civilian Project Manager on the High Energy Laser (HEL) Project for the Naval Ordnance Lab, he helped initiate the beginning of missile defense, leading to the end of the Cold War. On June 20, 1959, while stationed at Point Mugu, California, Harvey married his beloved wife, then-LT (JG) Marilyn F. Henning (née Gemme) in Pasadena, California. His hobbies included reading science fiction, woodworking, wine making, and working with computers.

Notes for Daniel Howard Plowman:

Caney, Kansas, May 22, 1911 - Mrs. W. A. Haynes. wife of the pastor of the Christian church here, publicly horsewhipped Daniel H. Plowman, a widely known dairyman and a member of the Caney school board, here today. Plowman swore out a warrant for the arrest of 'Mm. Haynes and her son, who accompanied her. The trouble grew out of the fight over the election of a superintendent of the public schools. Mrs. Haynes write a communication to a local paper concerning the election. Plowman posted the clipped communication in the window of his store and appended the words: "She says she is a religious woman." Mrs. Haynes entered the Plowman store today and demanded that the clipping be removed. Plowman refused. Then Mrs. Haynes attacked him with a riding quirt.

Superintendent Williams, a brother of Byron Williams of this city, was re-elected by a vote of four out of seven members present at a recent meeting of the board. Other members of the board claim that the election was illegal, being held before the regular time for the election and also because a majority of the board did not vote for Mr. Williams. At a later meeting. Prof. Humphrey, who lives in Missouri, was elected. It is understood that Plowman is a Humphrey partisan, while Mrs. Haynes favors Williams.

Notes for Hester Ann Truitt:

Marriage Notes for Corrince Stabler and Milton Munger:

Phoenix, Arizona – A charmingly appointed wedding took place at eight o'clock last evening Sept. 4, 1912 when Miss Corinne Stabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Stabler, became the bride of Milton Munger, Rev. S. J. Rogers of the Methodist church officiating. Only the relatives and a few of the intimate friends witnessed the ceremony at the Stabler country place on the McDowell road. Pink and white roses combined with a wealth of greenery were used in decoration. Vases and jardinières of flowers were everywhere, their artistic placing relieving the formal effect obtained by archway of pepper boughs studded in white roses, beneath which the service was read. The bride, who was unattended looked her loveliest in a dainty white marquisette elaborately embroidered in roses. Miss Ruth Griffin, who played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, wore a becoming lingerie frock. Mr. and Mrs. Munger will reside at "Olivette" ranch and be at home after October 1.

Notes for Dr. Glen Craig Gustafson:

Glen Craig Gustafson - The US Air Force gave me my start with the analysis of aerial photography, as an Aerial Photo Interpreter (later "Image Analyst") during the Cold War. I worked with standard aerial photography, also U-2 imagery, LOROP imagery, and the Corona and Gambit satellite reconnaissance films. The experience during the Cuban Missile Crisis of October 1962 was so exciting and stimulating that I decided to make aerial photo analysis my career. I had interrupted my college education to go into the Air Force, so, after four years in the Military Service, I continued my education at Orange Coast College (AA Degree), University of California (BA), the International Institute for Aerial Survey and Earth Science in the Netherlands (MSc), and finally the University of Munich, Germany (PhD). I then began a teaching and consulting career in New York, Munich, and Harrisonburg, Virginia. My primary university specialties have been Aerial Photo Interpretation, Remote Sensing, Cartography, Map Reading, and Physical Geography (lecture and lab). My consulting business, using (and teaching) aerial photo analysis began in 1983 with some military intelligence work, and then expanded into extensive work with the analysis of historical aerial photography for polluted industrial sites which were either in Court, or headed in that direction. That type of work has dominated my small consulting company for almost 40 years. Because of having given evidence in Court, I have been accepted as an Expert Witness, under the Daubert Standard.

- 1099 i. Betty Jo¹² Lawless, born 05 Jan 1924 in Denver, Colorado; died 11 Mar 2014 in Melbourne, Brevard Co, Florida.

Notes for Betty Jo Lawless:

Betty Jo Lawless, 90, formerly of Camp Point, died March 11, 2014, in Melbourne, Florida. She was born in Denver, Colorado, on Jan. 5, 1924, a daughter of William and Ruth Rachel Pomeroy Lawless. Her father had worked wherever there was work during the Depression, but because of illness and the economy, moved the family back to Paloma. They finally settled in Camp Point, where her father opened a hardware store. Betty Jo was 6 years old at the time, and she took her elementary and secondary schooling there at Camp Point. She enjoyed many activities in high school and was always very active, including getting her pilot's license by the age of 20.

After high school graduation, she went to college in Macomb at Western Illinois University where she earned a physical education degree. This led her also to work closely with polio victims and eventually to the University of Minnesota, where she worked with Sister Kenny and received her physical therapy degree. From there, she served her country by enlisting in the U.S. Army (which became the Army Air Force). World War II was over, but she was stationed in England at the Rudyard Kipling Estate that had been turned into a field hospital (kind of a European Walter Reed Hospital for wounded servicemen of World War II). She served for 12 years in this field. Betty Jo's background and training led her to Alaska for four years where she worked at the Alaska Crippled Children's Hospital. Here she worked not just at the hospital, but her flying expertise allowed her to fly a Piper Cub to many outlying areas and Native American villages. Once, she and her pilot crashed, and they had to walk out of the wilderness. Because of her extensive hunting and fishing experience, that wasn't much of a problem!

From Alaska, Betty went to Colorado State University in Greeley, Colorado, where she received a degree in occupational therapy. From there, she moved to California where she was hired to be the head of occupational and physical therapy for all of Southern California. (She was flown out to Palm Springs for a few weeks to care for a recuperating General Eisenhower as his personal physical therapist, also.) She was transferred to serve the whole of Northern California in that same capacity, and she did so for 10 years, mostly in the 1960s. Betty Jo heard the calling to serve her family in 1974 and moved back to Camp Point to care for her mother and, later, her father. It was during this time that she moved back to the farm again and involved herself with a "few other things" such as being a physical therapist in Quincy and fitting braces for children; taking charge of the family farm; being in the National Guard; and singing in the choir at the Methodist church. She "retired" in 2004 ... some of her various activities were: being a solid rock for the outreach of the church and being the "mom" in records for the National Guard Unit (which was really the tank unit). Her hobbies included animals (in particular dogs, cats and birds), music, wintering in Florida the last 15 years, singing in choirs, church work two days a week and family.

She is survived by her sister, Marilyn Beckemeier (Ed), Melbourne, Florida; two nephews, Andrew Beckemeier, Germany, and Bill Beckemeier, Naperville. Her third nephew, Jim Beckemeier, had survived Betty Jo, but recently passed away in April in Texas. Each of them have two children, and she also has six grandnephews and nieces and one great-grandniece, Jade.

Services 10:30 a.m. Saturday, May 3, in the Camp Point United Methodist Church with the Rev. Joe Tomich and Rev. Jeff Rasche conducting. Burial of her cremated remains will follow at Evergreen Cemetery in Camp Point. Visitation 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the church. Memorials Camp Point United Methodist Church. On the night of Jan. 2, 1936, Dr. Silber C. Peacock, a respected Chicago pediatrician, left his Edgewater Beach apartment to attend to a sick child at 6438 N. The next evening he was found dead in the back of his black sedan.

Dr. Peacock was, by all accounts, a successful 40-year-old physician who had led a scandal-free life. On the staff at Children's Memorial Hospital and with an office at 4753 N. Broadway, he was well on his way to enjoying what would have been a long and flourishing medical career.

Notes for Betty Virginia Yarrison:

Betty Virginia Scharon. Our beloved wife, mother, Gran and friend passed away in her home on August 26, 2015. Born in Baltimore, Maryland on December 15, 1924, she spent most of her life in Carroll County, Maryland. Married to Louis Scharon for 71 years, they enjoyed a full and rich life together that included raising three children, Stephen Scharoun of Farmington, Maine, Michael Scharon of Westminster, Maryland and Kathleen Burns of Richmond, Virginia.

Also grieving the loss of this exceptional lady are her daughters-in-law, Marion and Connie; as well as 10 grandchildren, Seth, George, Tom, Mike, Jessie, Sara (Martin), Tim, Joe, Hannah and Grace; and one great-granddaughter, Amalie.

Betty always happily followed the entrepreneurial spirit of her husband, Lou, which took them into a wide variety of ventures ranging from small farming, school secretary, a large-scale egg operation (not the greatest idea), owner/operator of Scharon's Black Eagle gift shop and wife of a county commissioner. Betty's passions were taking care of her family, volunteering her time and talents to their local community and church family. Her love of gardening was evident by any who knew her as she tended flower beds at the Carroll County Farm Museum, the church and her home.

A memorial service will be held at Bon Air Christian Church on September 12 at 11 a.m. "Strength and dignity are her clothing and she smiles at the future. She opens her mouth in wisdom and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. She looks well to the ways of her household and does not eat the bread of idleness. Her children and grandchildren rise up and bless her." Proverbs 31. In lieu of flowers, contributions to any of the following would have pleased her: The American Cancer Society, the Carroll County Literacy Council, or the Carroll County Farm Museum.

Notes for Patrick Donald Stabler:

Camp Point man gets probation, jail time in sex abuse case

A Camp Point man narrowly avoided going to prison on an aggravated criminal sexual abuse charge during a sentencing hearing Tuesday in Adams County Circuit Court. Patrick D. Stabler, 37, was sentenced to 36 months' probation and 360 days in the Adams County Jail by Judge William Mays. In May, Stabler pleaded guilty to one count of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and faced up to 4 1/2 years in the Illinois Department of Corrections as part of the plea negotiation. Even though this is Stabler's first felony conviction, which usually leads to a probation sentence, Assistant State's Attorney Josh Jones argued that Stabler deserved to go to prison for his actions.

"I understand there is a presumption of probation being the appropriate sentence," Jones said. "But there are certain offenses that are so serious, so damaging, so inherently evil that just because you haven't been caught before you're not entitled to probation. This is one of those offenses." Stabler admitted to forcing a 7-year-old girl to touch his penis through his clothes while he played "house" with the girl and her sister when they were living in the same house as he was in September 2008. The girl no longer lives in the area. Her family contacted Adams County Sheriff's Department investigators last year and asked them to investigate the incident.

"He victimized a child, which is bad enough," Jones said. "But the victim was a child that he was in a position of power over." At a May plea hearing, Jones said Stabler denied the incident happened when he first met with investigators, but Stabler eventually admitted it took place and that he did it for his own sexual arousal. Jones said Tuesday that the girl said she was scared she would get in trouble after the incident if she told anybody about it. Jones said the girl told investigators that she thought her mother would hate her if she told anyone.

Dennis Woodworth, who defended Stabler, said that his client was an appropriate candidate for probation. He said that Stabler took responsibility for his actions and was cooperative with police. Woodworth said the cost of sending Stabler to prison was more than $20,000 a year, which was much less than putting him on probation and having Stabler seek appropriate sex-offender counseling.

Jones argued that the people wouldn't have a problem paying for Stabler's prison bills. "I don't think the citizens of Adams County and the state of Illinois have a problem paying for the incarceration of people who victimize children," Jones said. "I think if you took a poll, they would be OK with sending him to prison." Stabler said that if the girl was in the courtroom, he would apologize to her. "I've done a great injustice to her," he said. "I am willing to do any kind of treatment, whatever the court wants. I do deserve the time, whatever you choose."

Mays said he wrestled with the decision about what to do with Stabler's case. He said a sex-offender risk assessment performed by Dr. Keir Goatley showed that Stabler was at a low risk to re-offend. Mays said he took that into account when he made his sentencing decision. "I don't think it's necessary at this point to send you to the Department of Corrections," Mays told Stabler. Stabler must complete sex-offender rehabilitation and could be subject to GPS monitoring. He will have to register as a sex offender.

Mays ordered that Stabler spend 270 days in the Adams County Jail, giving him credit for five days already served. Stabler was taken into custody after the hearing. He will be allowed to leave jail for work and counseling. Stabler was arrested Jan. 27 and was held in the Adams County Jail on a $50,000 bond. He had his bond reduced to $25,000 Jan. 29 and posted $2,500 that day.

Notes for Marvin Roger Lillie:

Marvin R. Lillie was born December 18, 1921, on a farm near Murray, Nebraska. He was the youngest of five children born to Frank Lillie and Minnie Doering Lillie. His father, Frank died of pneumonia when Marvin was only 2 years old. After his father's death, the family moved into Plattsmouth, Nebraska. His older brother, Harold was a father figure to him. He kept busy and out of trouble by working odd jobs. He helped Harold with a milk route and was Harold's gas station attendant at the age of 9. Marvin also had a newspaper route for five years. As a teenager, he worked for George Gallup doing telephone interviews, pumped gas at a station, was the window dresser for the local dime store, delivered groceries, and was the janitor at the Plattsmouth Methodist Church. At 19, he began working at a canning factory where he got a cut which caused an infection that nearly ended his life. He was in the hospital on and off for nearly a year and which also prevented him from serving his country in WWII. In 1941, he got a job as a taxi driver and worked the overnight shift at the electric substation.

He met his bride to be, Connie Summers, who was a waitress at Carr's Café & Bakery in Plattsmouth. The couple both got hired to work at the Glenn L Martin Bomber Plant near Fort Crook (now Bellevue). They married September 10, 1944 at the Methodist Church in Plattsmouth. After the war, Marvin was hired as a cook at Walgreens in Omaha. In 1946 he worked at a gas station in Plattsmouth and was offered and accepted a Sinclair gas station and tank wagon dealership in Wahoo in August 1947. Housing was not available in Wahoo until December when Connie and their baby daughter Rita came to join him. A son, Doug was born six years later. In his 50-year career, he also worked for Shell, Frontier and Husky Oil distributors operating filling stations and a tank wagon service. His Husky station was a 24-hour operation and it only closed once for Rita's wedding. He opened Marv's Parts and Service after closing the Husky station, continuing with his tank wagon service. They also had a contract of 10 years duration to deliver products to Avon sales reps in 19 towns in eastern Nebraska twice a month utilizing their two "C& M Deliveries" panel vans. After retiring, they went to auctions, collected Plymouth cars from the 1930's, and traveled to see friends and family throughout the United States.

Marvin is survived, by his wife Connie, daughter Rita and husband Loren Lindahl, son Doug Lillie and wife Julie. Five grandchildren Todd Lindahl, Kelcie Keeling and husband Shane, Tiffany Hale and husband Jeff, Alicia Arnold and husband Nick, and Kenzie Sattler and husband Tony and eight great-grandchildren, Jordan Lindahl, Courtlyn and Creighton Keeling, Chloe Hale and Serenity Hale, Shawn Arnold, and Jackson and Isaac Sattler. A special thank you to Don and Ann Jonas, Todd Blaske, and John Virgl.

Daniel Hon¹² Cuddy (Warren Ninde¹¹, George Lawson¹⁰, Rachel Ann⁹ Stabler, George⁸, Christian⁷, Christian⁶ Staebler, Georg (Jerg)⁵, Hans⁴ Stebler, Hans³, Konrad², Mathias¹) was born 1921 in Valdez, Alaska. He married Betty J. Puckett 1948 in Alaska, daughter of Fay Puckett and Nellie ?. She was born 21 Jul 1924 in O'Neill, Nebraska, and died 2010.

Notes for Daniel Hon Cuddy:

IN 2012, Dan H. Cuddy is still having fun. With a twinkle in his eye and a joy in helping others that has yet to be sated after 61 years as president of First National Bank Alaska, Cuddy keeps following his own advice and doing what he likes best. When people ask him for advice about success — although “not as often as they should,” he says — his guidance is simple. “No. 1, you got to enjoy your work,” he said. “If you don’t enjoy your work, go find another job.”

Cuddy, 91, has had a lot of jobs — working in a cannery, running a bulldozer, serving in the Army in Europe during World War II, practicing law — but he’s had just one since taking over as president of FNB at age 30 in 1951 when his father Warren Cuddy passed away. Warren Cuddy led the bank for 10 years after purchasing the controlling interest in 1941. Prior to his father’s passing, D.H. Cuddy, a Stanford University alum, practiced law for three years and found it to be full of sadness. “When you practice law, sometimes your client is lying, or the other one is lying,” he said. “The operation of a bank — 98 percent of what you do is happiness. It makes you feel awfully good when you can take an energetic young man, get him started in a business, see his business progress and grow. “That’s kind of fun. That’s what we’ve been doing for the last 90 years: helping people get started. It’s more for the benefit of the community. That’s where we hope to shine. “That’s where we put our energy — serving the community and helping it grow.”

It is impossible to tell the story of FNB without telling the story of Alaska, or vice versa. Pick a major event in Alaska history, and First National Bank was there. When the Japanese occupied territory in the Aleutians during World War II, it was FNB that supplied payroll to the troops and opened a banking facility on Adak. When the Good Friday quake carved a path of destruction from Kodiak to Anchorage in 1964 and wiped out Cuddy’s birthplace of Valdez, it was First National and Cuddy who were the first to announce ambitious plans to not only rebuild, but to rebuild taller and stronger by adding eight stories to the 5th Avenue branch in Anchorage.

After the first Prudhoe Bay lease sale netted more than $900 million in 1969, it was Cuddy’s daughter Betsy who flew the check on a chartered commercial airliner from Anchorage to New York to earn an extra day's interest on the deposit. While some 20 financial institutions were failing, residents were fleeing, foreclosures were spiking and oil prices were plummeting in the mid- to late-1980s, it was FNB who weathered the storm thanks to calculated decisions by Cuddy to start pulling back speculative lending several years before the recession hit. "We were accused of being unfair to people, not doing the right thing," Cuddy says of pre-recession Alaska. "We took a beating. We lost deposits. But on the other hand, we came out of the '80s still here."

In 2012, as FNB Alaska celebrates its 90th anniversary, the bank assets have reached $2.9 billion — a hundred-fold increase since Cuddy became president in 1951. "In banking you're helping people build something," said Cuddy's daughter Betsy Lawer, vice chair of FNB, who is married to the bank's senior vice president and general counsel David Lawer. "That's what he really enjoys. That's what he has fun at. That's why he has a twinkle in his eye. He enjoys driving down the street and looking at buildings in town and thinking, 'I had a hand in helping these people succeed.'"

Cuddy is — humbly — correct when he says that the state would have grown without FNB, but there is no question Alaska wouldn't be the same without his foresight, his steady leadership and the tens of millions in contributions from his family and employees to causes in the communities the bank serves. For that continuing legacy, Cuddy is the only choice as the first Alaska Journal of Commerce Business Leader of the Year.

Vision to succeed

In the office by 8 a.m., Cuddy pores over U.S. Treasury yields, the latest financial news and every now and then he picks up on a nugget of information that will serve him well — sometimes not until a decade later. After describing how FNB saw the Alaska housing bust coming and began avoiding risky real estate loans in 1982, Cuddy was asked if he had a feeling of déjà vu watching the Lower 48 housing market overheat during the last decade before it spectacularly blew up in 2008.

Without a word, Cuddy swivels in his chair to the drawer behind him and right at the top he pulls out a heavily underlined article from the New York Times about the government-sponsored mortgage entity Fannie Mae lowering the credit standards for the home loans it would purchase. "Look at the date on that," Cuddy said. The Times article was from 1999, nine years before the beginning of the subprime lending crisis that rocked financial markets and triggered a global recession. "That's when they did it," Cuddy said. "I saw it coming and I saved it. That's where the disaster started."

After the interview was over, Cuddy made sure to place the article back in his drawer. Unlike the Alaska bust caused by a rash of misguided optimism that the state would keep growing at a rapid clip, Cuddy puts the blame for the mess in the Lower 48 on Washington, D.C. "What makes me aggravated there, was that was the federal government that did that," Cuddy said. "They thought everyone should own a house. Well that's not true. Not everybody can afford a house. They can't afford the payments, they can't afford the maintenance. But they put them in houses they had no business doing and it's because of that we had our big depression."

That kind of vision was clear to Dave Cruz in the early 1980s as he was just getting started. Cruz's father moved their family to Alaska in 1946 and did business with Cuddy's father Warren, and Dave Cruz has known the Cuddy family for nearly a half-century. The one time Cruz has worn a suit to meet with Cuddy was in 1981 when he sought a loan to repair a bulldozer and to purchase a tractor for his business, Cruz Construction. Cruz got the loan, and he listened to Cuddy when he warned him off real estate in the years before the 1986 recession. "In any culture, the elders have the experience," Cruz said. "You may not like the answer. But you trust them. If he's telling me things are going bad, I'm sure not going to try and tell him, 'I know more than you.' So I listened to him."

Cruz focused on public construction projects, and he watched as those who ignored Cuddy's advice went belly up. "I know a lot of them," Cruz said, "and they're no longer around." It was a "frustrating" time for FNB, Lawer said, as some of the bank's best customers went elsewhere when they didn't want to hear Cuddy's concerns about the real estate market. "So the folks across the street would say, 'oh, Dan's wrong. We'll be happy to lend you all the money you want,'" Betsy Lawer said. "So our good customers would go across the street to Brand X, and sure enough, because they were credit-worthy, lend them all the money they wanted and there was nobody to buy the spec homes. There weren't coming to town to fill the retail malls. It was very sad for us to see those customers' balance sheets become challenged again. Some of them were too old to rebuild. The younger folks could rebuild, lessons learned. Then the banks went down. "It was frustrating to us because if banks had thought about it, been more cautious, the downturn might not have had to be so severe.”

Cruz started with one employee — himself — and his company now has about 215 employees working in Alaska and the North Dakota oil fields. Cruz said his father and Cuddy have been the biggest factors not only in making his business a success, but in how he’s become successful. “They don’t make them like that anymore,” Cruz said of Cuddy. “He’s the kind of individual I have extreme, extreme, high regard for. How you conduct yourself in a day is a reflection on what that guy has instilled in you.”

Cruz has always taken Cuddy’s advice about business, but one of his proudest moments was when his mentor told him he didn’t need it anymore. Cruz described the “biggest deal I ever did with him” as one where he didn’t borrow any money. Cruz, whose company does much of its work on the Alaska river system, was considering building a $6.5 million tugboat and he wanted to know what Cuddy thought about the idea. “There was a change I’d never saw after 20 years dealing with him,” Cruz recalled. “He looked at me and said, ‘Well, I’m not going to tell you not to build the tug. I’m not going to tell you to build the tug. You ought to know by now.’” “That’s the first time he ever said that to me. I will never forget that.” So, did Cruz build the tug?

“In fact, I built two of them,” Cruz said. “One’s working in Australia and the other one is up here.” Cuddy has taught Cruz a lot over the years, but one thing stands above all. “They go above and beyond giving back to this community and that’s touching all of us,” Cruz said. “All these things that are sponsored, you see First National’s name up there. If I take anything from him, it’s to give back to my community and that’s what my wife and I try to do.”

Cuddy on current events

Cuddy has seen plenty in his 61 years running FNB, but he hasn’t seen anything like what’s been going on in Juneau during the last two years with the legislature and Gov. Sean Parnell at a bitter impasse over reforming the state oil production taxes. “I don’t think we’ve had one this bad,” he said. “This is a major one. You have a legislature that is anxious to keep the money flowing. They think the state’s entitled to it. “You have an administration that thinks that unless the oil companies get back to activity, there won’t be any economic activity in the state. You have the administration trying awfully hard to create activity to induce the oil companies to come back full fledged to drilling. The companies are irritated with the cost of that escalating percentage that it incurs and they can go elsewhere where they don’t have to pay it.”

Cuddy said Alaska is a great environment for business, unless it’s the oil business. He said it would be “terrible” for FNB if it operated under a system like Alaska’s oil taxes that takes a larger and larger bite of the profits as prices increase. “We’re building up our capital,” he said. “It takes capital to make loans. The larger the capital, the larger the loans limits we have. If you limit capital, it limits our ability to make loans.” But if you really want to get Cuddy going on a topic, bring up inflation.

When discussing the bank’s tremendous hundred-fold growth since 1951, he attributes part of FNB’s success to expansion around the state from one branch when he became president to 30 today. The other part of the growth, “a great deal,” Cuddy says, comes from inflation. When he talks about the inflation he’s seen in his lifetime — from gas at 21 cents per gallon to his $400 cost per semester at Stanford for tuition, room and board — he doesn’t do it in the typical “walked uphill to school both ways” kind of fashion. It’s a warning.

“What I’ve seen in the last 70 or 80 years is something else,” Cuddy said. “That was over a long time. What you’re going to see is rapid inflation in the next five years.” With the U.S. government running annual deficits of $1.5 trillion over the past three fiscal years, Cuddy knows what is coming even as he looks at the piddling current returns on U.S. debt keeping borrowing costs low. “What’s going to happen because of this deficit is they’re not going to pay it back with taxes,” he said. “They’re going to pay it back by printing money, because printing money is easier. You go to Europe. Those people in the euro dollars can’t print money. So Greece, Italy and Spain are in deep trouble because they have a deficit, but they can’t cover it by printing money. “I detest the idea that our dollar is going to be cut back, but we can see it’s going to be cut back. It’s going to be more dollars printed, and that’s a tax on the poor people, which they don’t recognize.”

On Alaska, Cuddy is bullish with the progress being made by Shell toward development of the vast oil resources in the Beaufort and Chukchi seas. After seven years and two false starts, the company is mobilizing its flotilla now that it finally has the approvals to explore this summer. “On recovery, it looks very favorable with Shell getting permission to drill,” Cuddy said. “We’re of the opinion there is a quantity of oil in the Chukchi Sea. As that's developed, they'll need a 400-mile pipeline from shore to the main oil line. Once Shell gets moving, you'll see a good 10 years extending the economy just from that one project. That Shell project will pull us out." A 10-year expansion would coincide nicely with the bank's 100th anniversary, and making it happen will take the same kind of effort that Cuddy has made his routine over 61 years at FNB.

"He believes in hard work," Lawer said of her father. "He believes in honesty and integrity. It's that pioneer ethic that's part of these folks that originally came to Alaska. It's very much a 'can-do' attitude that the individual can make a difference." Cuddy keeps proving that's as true today as it was in 1951.

Notes for Betty J. Puckett:

Betty Jane Puckett (later spelling her name Betti) was born July 21, 1924, in O'Neill, Neb., to Fay and Nellie Puckett, grew up in Nebraska and earned a liberal arts degree from Doan University. The consummate educator, Betti started out teaching high school biology, English and Spanish. In the early 1940s, she pulled up her Nebraska roots and moved to Seattle to take on a new career in banking at the Bank of California. It was while living in Seattle, that she met the love of her life Alaska attorney Dan Cuddy, on a blind date, and that blind date wove into a marriage that lasted 62 years – from 1948 until her death in 2010. The Cuddys spent their honeymoon on the new Alaska Highway making their way home. Betti's community leadership in Alaska began in the 1950s when she was a young mother, and she volunteered as a Girl Scout leader and secretary/treasurer of the Anchorage Women's Club. She then held a seat on the organizational committee for what became Alaska Pacific University.

An advocate for well rounded education, Betti organized the Treasures of Sight and Sound (TOSS) in the 1960s. TOSS was the self-funded predecessor to the Community Schools Program, which paved the way for local theater productions. For almost six decades, Anchorage children who've turned a cartwheel, played an instrument, sang a song or acted out a scene on stage can thank BettiCuddy for the chance to do so. She and the program received a Gold Pan Award from the Greater Anchorage Chamber of Commerce in 1972. "I just thought the schools should be teaching more than the 'three Rs'," Betti said. After Community Schools took over from TOSS, Betti became a prolific patron of the Anchorage arts, especially the theater. She became a board member for the Alaska Center for the Performing Arts and that group's Symphony Committee.

During the late 1970s, Betti sat on the State Board of Education, and continued to be a prolific patron of Anchorage arts, especially the theater. She served as a board member of Alaska Center for the Performing Arts and that group's Symphony Committee. A lifetime member of the Anchorage Women's Club, she helped form the organization's FREE Committee, a grass-roots women's only political advocacy effort in the 1970s. Cuddy was named honorary chairwoman of the YWCA Anchorage Academy of Woman Achievers. At the university level, Betti played a major role in the renovation of the Lucy Cuddy Center on the University of Alaska Anchorage campus and helped develop a renewed focus for the university's culinary arts and hospitality programs through remodeling the facility and retooling the curriculum. "She was an ardent supporter of UAA's Lucy Cuddy Hall and a tremendous fan of the Culinary Arts, Hospitality, Dietetics and Nutrition Program," said Tim Doeblen, the program's UAA Director. "She will be greatly missed and her kindness will always be remembered. This program and facility would not be what it is today if it hadn't been for her. I feel like I've lost a co-worker."

In her most recent years, Betti Cuddy was a supporter of the Cuddy Family Midtown Park near the Loussac Library in Anchorage. When completed, the park will include a covered stage and seating area for outdoor theatrical venues, amenities Betti felt were important to encourage community performances. In honor of her efforts as a supporter, a landscaped area of the park was designated "Betti's garden." On Aug. 16, 2001, one of Cuddy's granddaughters was killed by a drunk driver. In the aftermath, Cuddy devoted herself to battling alcohol abuse by facilitating communication between parents and children on the subject. Above all of Betti Cuddy's community activities, however, she considered her most important role was as a wife to Dan, and mother to their six children: Betsy (David) Lawer, David (Kathy) Cuddy, Gretchen Cuddy, Jane (Gary) Klopfer, Lucy (Mark) Mahan, and Laurel (Fred) Stutzer.

Many believed Betti's greatest strength was her unusual ability to organize people and get them moving in the same direction. She consistently displayed this ability throughout a lifetime of service in Alaska, and she instilled her views on community service in all her children. Betti Cuddy impressed everyone with initiative and a take-action approach to address problems or fill needs she witnessed in the community. When she saw something she thought needed to be done, she did something about it. Betti was always reluctant to "toot her own horn." But her forthrightness and willingness to sacrifice her own time and money provided a great example of community involvement to countless women.

Lisa A. Ubelaker, Doctoral Candidate at Yale University; Mellon/ACLS Dissertation Completion Fellowships 2011; Doctoral Candidate in History at Yale University. Americas Mapped: Mass Media and the Construction of "American" Geography, 1938-1948.

"Americas Mapped" connects the rise of transnational mass media outlets with inter-American diplomacy and the history of geography. It focuses on three major media forms: mass-produced maps (on high demand during the war), the rise of Selecciones del Reader's Digest; and the popular consumption of the radio programming of Ecuador-based Evangelical missionary radio station HCJB. It shows how international and national politics converged in the production and consumption of these medias, and how their consumption played a part in national histories and social/cultural movements of Argentina and Ecuador.

Notes for Wade Michael Winemiller:

Nov 6, 2019 – Pottsville, Pennsylvania – Two York County men accused of attacking a game warden and taking his gun in Schuylkill County last year have been acquitted of the most serious charges. Wade Winemiller, 58, of Wrightsville, and Thomas Kelly Jr., 58, of Stewartstown, were recently found not guilty of felony aggravated assault and disarming a law enforcement officer. They were convicted of lesser charges including resisting arrest, harassment and disorderly conduct, according to court records.

Police said the game warden was investigating a complaint of a hunting violation in Norwegian Township on Dec. 1 when he encountered the two men on ATVs. A fight broke out between the three and the game warden was disarmed after firing a round from his service weapon. Winemiller and Kelly then fled on their ATVs. Police said the pair was not dressed in hunting clothes. The game warden was treated at a hospital for injuries he sustained in the fight.

Dec 17, 2019 - One of two men — Wade Michael Winemiller, 58, of Wrightsville — accused of attacking a Pennsylvania deputy game warden and taking his gun was sentenced to serve two to 23 months in Schuylkill County Prison in a ruling by President Judge William E. Baldwin Monday. Winemiller and Thomas Earl Kelly Jr., 58, of Shiremanstown had been charged with aggravated assault, simple assault, robbery/theft, criminal conspiracy, disarming a law enforcement officer, harassment and disorderly conduct. The sentencing for Kelly has been continued, with no date yet set.

The encounter between the three men occurred at 9:20 a.m. Dec. 1, 2018, which was the first Saturday of the state's two-week firearm season for white-tailed deer. The co-op area is called The Grand property, located near Arnots Addition and Peach Mountain Road. Game Commission "co-op" properties are privately owned tracts turned over to game commission management by the landowner. All-terrain vehicle riding is prohibited on co-op properties. Winemiller and Kelly were riding ATVs and had entered the co-op lands via a path when they encountered Fidler. The co-op land is posted with the prohibition against ATV riding.

According to Fidler's testimony, when he stepped into the path, the two men ignored his shouted orders to stop and dismount from their ATVs. In a statement made to Pennsylvania State Police after the encounter, Winemiller said that Fidler was the aggressor, spraying them with pepper spray "as soon as they came around the corner." The robbery charge was dismissed at the magistrate level.

After a trial in October, both Winemiller and Kelly were acquitted of the most serious charges — but convicted of simple assault, resisting arrest and harassment. Baldwin sentenced Winemiller to two to 23 months for simple assault and two to 23 months on resisting arrest, to run concurrently. The harassment charge merges with the simple assault charge. The standard sentencing guideline on the assault and resisting arrest charges is one month to 12 months, but First Assistant District Attorney Mike Stine asked Baldwin to sentence Winemiller under the guidelines for aggravated assault, despite the jury's findings. Stine referred to a victim impact statement from deputy warden David P. Fidler, stating that the incident "had a lasting impact, he continues to suffer, and really did think he was going to be killed."

Winemiller's attorney, Jeff Markosky, asked for a probation sentence, pointing out that Winemiller has no prior record and the incident was "the only time he's been in trouble his entire life." He added that he didn't think using the aggravated assault range guideline was appropriate. Prior to sentencing, three people who have each known Winemiller for more than 30 years testified on his behalf, describing him as a "laid-back" and "easygoing" man who was not a violent person. He often helped others, and his main hobbies are riding motorcycles, dirt bikes and ATVs, they said. Winemiller also spoke, asking for leniency in sentencing.

"I want to apologize for what happened on the mountain, it happened so quick," he said. "It's the first time I ever had anything like this happen — I have a home and a very good job that I'd like to keep, and I'll make restitution for whatever is needed." Baldwin replied that "if you and Mr. Kelly had just stopped, you would have paid a fine." He added that he would apply the aggravated range, because the victim experienced significant injury mentally and physically. After the ruling, Stine said he felt the sentence was appropriate, "given the fact that this (deputy game warden) is a difficult job, and they are often working in isolated areas."

Notes for Major Charles Frederick McVicker:

Major Charles Frederick McVicker (USAF Retired) passed away Monday, June 22nd, 2015 at home after a courageous battle with lung cancer. Charles was born September 10th, 1928 to Edward and Edyth McVicker in Darrozzette, Texas. His family later moved to Kalama, Washington where he attended Kalama High School and graduated in 1946. He entered the Marine Corps upon graduation and was later deployed to Korea, where he participated in the seizure of Inchon and Seoul. After completing service he still felt the calling to serve his country and enlisted in the United States Air Force where he was accepted into flight training school. He spent much of his Air Force career with KC-97's and also B-47's as part of the Strategic Air Command.

It was in the Air Force that he met Nannette Hood; they married in 1960 and had three kids: Keith McVicker, Bruce McVicker, and Tina (Wayne) McVicker. Upon Charles's retirement in August of 1969 they settled in Greeley, Colorado where he took a sales position with Mutual of Omaha. He quickly rose to be assistant manager and in 1976 was offered the opportunity to move to Yakima to be general manager of the local office. After the death of his wife Nannette, he remarried Rebecca Sellers in 1982 and a few short years later welcomed his youngest son Kevin McVicker. He soon made the decision to semi-retire. He went back to school and received his teaching certificate in History from Central Washington University and worked for the next 20 years as a substitute teacher in both the Selah and West Valley School Districts. Believe it or not he found this relaxing and this gave him the ability to spend more time with his family, while keeping him busy. Charles always led an active lifestyle and enjoyed waterskiing, snow-skiing, fishing and camping with his family even into his later years. He will be remembered by his loved ones as a hardworking, honest individual with a great sense of humor.

He is survived by his wife Rebecca McVicker (Yakima), two sons, Bruce McVicker (Oak Park, California) and Kevin McVicker (Yakima), his daughter Tina Wayne (Seattle), six grandkids, Hailey Wayne, Bryon Wayne, Katie McVicker, Lisa McVicker, Ariel McVicker, and Miranda McVicker, and one great-grandkid, Isaiah Rivera. Our family would like to extend our greatest thanks to Dr. Brady and his supportive staff at Washington Hematology-Oncology, for always providing the highest level of care. Memorial services will be Monday, June 29, 2015 at 11:00 am at Rainier Memorial Center in Terrace Heights.

Notes for Freida Louise McPherson:

Freida Louise McPherson Gouker, 91, passed away on Sunday, February 21, at her daughter's residence in Bloomington, Indiana. She was born in Springvale, Pennsylvania on August 1, 1924 to E. Sidney and Mary (Burke) McPherson. She was a 1940 honor student graduate of Red Lion High School, and was quite proud of graduating at only 15 years of age. Early on Freida worked at the First National Bank of Red Lion, and was then longtime bookkeeper for T.E. Brooks & Co. Cigar Manufacturers and the Thompson Investment Company of Red Lion. She served as treasurer for the board of Kaltreider-Benfer Library in Red Lion, for the class of 1940, and as auditor for her church. She was one of the founding officers of the Red Lion Area Senior High School band parents club. She was a life member of the Springvale United Methodist church and the American Legion Women's Auxiliary. Her father, Sidney, founded and established the McPherson Tree Farm in Hellam. With his untimely death, Freida and her siblings became partners and staff of the farm. This family tradition of 63 years is carried on today with her nephew, Robert Stabley, and her son, John and his family.

Mom had an incredible sharp mind and wit. Her busy and strong hands created home style food, fabulous art works whether stained glass, pottery, or fabric, beautiful flower gardens, home interiors and seasonal decorations. And these hands were always full of love and warmth. She was feisty, had strong opinions, was brutally honest, and never held anything back. Her stories entertained, and her laugh was infectious – many smiles and good times in our home. She loved the Phillies, music, politics, her church, and life itself. But there was nothing she was more passionate about then her pride for her children and grandchildren. You weren't in her presence long before any of our accomplishments and her love of us were made well known. Mom was our biggest fan and her belief in us never wavered.

Freida is survived by her children, John Gouker of Red Lion, and Jane Gouker of Bloomington, Indiana; her daughter in law, Wendi (Wolf) Gouker; her grandchildren, Grant (Angela) Gouker and Gian (Rob) Walker; and her great-grandchildren, Ray and Sydney Gouker and Sutton and Hadleigh Walker; her sister, Lola Hamm; and numerous nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband of 41 years, Ray Calvin Gouker; and her siblings, Bertha McPherson, Margaret (Peg) Stabley, and Harry McPherson.

The family would like to thank Almost Heavenly Home Care, Special Care of Lancaster, Deannie Taylor King Personalized Home Care, and Dr. Stephen Kreiger of the Red Lion area; and Home Instead Senior Care, Dr. Melissa Hullinger, and the Indiana University Health Hospice of Bloomington, Ind. for their compassionate care of Freida. Viewing will be Friday, February 26, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Burg Funeral Home in Red Lion. Funeral services will be on Saturday, February 27 at 10 a.m., following an hour of viewing prior, at Springvale United Methodist Church. Pastor Thomas R. Osenbach will officiate. Burg Funeral Home of Red Lion and the Funeral Chapel of Bloomington, Indiana, are entrusted with arrangements. Interment will follow in the Red Lion Cemetery. Memorial contributions can be made to Springvale United Methodist Church, 265 Circle Dr., Red Lion, Pennsylvania 17356 or Yoe Fire Company, P.O. Box 249, Yoe, Pennsylvania 17313, or the Jane A. Children of Ray Gouker and Freida McPherson are:

- + 1547 i. John E.¹³ Gouker, born 03 Oct 1946.
- 1548 ii. Jane A. Gouker, born 1952.

Notes for Jane A. Gouker:

Jane A. Gouker became Director of the Bloomington High School Orchestra program, and chair person of the entire string program for the Monroe County Community Schools in 1980. At that time the orchestra program was in disarray. Jane worked diligently and tirelessly to build and develop the orchestras and now the MCCSC maintains a healthy, successful, award-winning, and complete program that offers students an opportunity to enjoy making music. The strength of the program and the accomplishments of its ensembles over these past 40 years have not only earned respect throughout the music community, but are considered a shining star of the Monroe County schools.

The Hoosier Youth Philharmonic was honored with the "Leading Light Award" by the Bloomington Chamber of Commerce, the Franklin Initiative, and the Monroe County School Corporation for the impact the orchestra has had on the community and the exemplary way the HYP has represented the community and our schools. Under her direction the Bloomington HS North and Bloomington HS South Orchestras both placed in the prestigious ISSMA State Orchestra Finals various years; and the Hoosier Youth Philharmonic (the orchestras combined) travelled on 31 concert tours – performing in Carnegie Hall in New York City, in the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., in Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Tennessee, in the Field Museum in Chicago, Illinois, and in the Cumberland Caverns in Tennessee. Other tours ranged from Myrtle Beach to Atlanta, from Virginia Beach to Honolulu, Hawaii. Many of these tours involved an orchestra competition and the HYP earned consistent superior ratings, and the grand championship at the North American Music Festival in Toronto, Canada in 2000. In June, 2009 the "HYP" traveled to France by invitation from Musical Celebrations International. The orchestra performed at the American Cemetery in Normandy in tribute to the 65th anniversary of the D-Day invasion, of which her father was involved, and several times in Paris.

Jane grew up in Red Lion, Pennsylvania as part of a very musical family. Her dad had been in the Army Band in World War II; her grandfather, a community band director; and her brother, a music educator and supervisor of music for the Red Lion public schools. As a youngster, she studied piano and theory at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, Maryland. Jane graduated from Indiana University in 1976 with a Bachelor of Music Education degree, as a double instrument concentration in piano and double bass. She studied with Mrs. Sidney (Bronja) Foster, and Murray Grodner and Greg Dugan respectively. In 1989, Jane earned her Master of Music Education degree also from Indiana University, with a minor in child psychology. She began her teaching career in Virginia, initially for the Fairfax County public schools, and later for the Manassas City public schools, in elementary and middle school strings.

Jane serves as President and Treasurer of the Bloomington Alumni Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, and is principal bassist for the Southern Indiana Wind Ensemble. Jane has been chosen for the Who's Who Among America's Teachers several times and is listed in Marquis' Who's Who Among American Women and Madison's Who's Who of Professionals. She has been recognized by the Indiana Department of Education as a "saluted teacher", has been honored as the Monroe County Educator of the Year, and has been named Bloomington's "feature teacher" of the month. In 2010 Jane was recognized by her hometown and her high school as an extremely accomplished alumnae, and therefore was inducted as a member of the Red Lion Area Hall of Fame by the Red Lion Education Foundation.

There has been an endowment created in Jane's name and honor by the HYP Orchestra Booster Parents. This endowment is through the Community Foundation of Bloomington and Monroe County. The purpose of the Endowment is to ensure that the Hoosier Youth Philharmonic, and the MCCSC Orchestra Program, continue to survive and thrive despite any future financial challenges the school system may meet. More information, and an opportunity to donate to the endowment, may be found at: <http://www.janeagoukerendowment.org>

At the end of school year 2015-16, Jane retired. The baton has been passed to the very capable hands of Mr. Jon Hansen (who ironically had been her student teacher in 1993-94). Jon comes to the program with wide, varied experience, astounding musicianship, and new energy. Since retiring, Jane has re-discovered her first love – the piano – and is performing in local venues and for special occasions. Jane misses her orchestra and her "kids", but she now has more time to devote to her many other interests – gardening, cooking, holiday decorating, catching sunsets, and camping and traveling in her motor home with her exuberant best friend, Shadow, a black Labrador mix!

Hoosier Youth Philharmonic founder and director Jane A. Gouker is being honored with the establishment of an endowment in her name through the Community Foundation of Bloomington Monroe County. She has taught students for the past 40 years, directing string orchestras for the youth of Monroe County Community School Corp. Those students — playing violin, viola, cello and bass — have performed in Carnegie Hall in New York City; the American Cemetery for the 65th anniversary of the D-Day invasion in Normandy, France; Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, DC; Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Tennessee; and Cumberland Caverns Volcano Room, where the NPR "Bluegrass Underground" musicians perform. The Hoosier Youth Philharmonic, along with Jane Gouker, was also honored during the 2012-2013 school years as the "Leading Light" program by the Franklin Initiative with the Greater Bloomington Chamber of Commerce.

The endowment will enable the strings program in the Monroe County Community School Corp. to flourish, with an elementary strings program that leads into the middle school and high school orchestras in the school system. With uncertain financial times, now is the time to ensure that there is always a financial foundation for strings programs in the Monroe County Community School Corp.

Notes for William Scott Johnson:

Missoula - William Scott Johnson died at The Paxson Home on Wednesday, Dec. 3, 2008. Bill was born in Missoula on Jan. 18, 1945, to Valarah Ellen and Roy O. Johnson. A disability resulted from a lack of oxygen at birth. It hindered his ability to communicate but it was apparent to anyone who knew him that he had a very active, perceptive mind, a remarkable memory and a talent for art; he loved to draw, paint and assemble things. One of his happiest years was when he and his mother lived at the "teacherage" in the woods near Ovando where he met and became friends with the Copenhavers and talked about them for the rest of his life. He often traveled with his mother to Disneyland, Los Angeles, Las Vegas, New York and Canada. He loved going to Glacier Park, stopping at the Lake MacDonald Cafe to have the "best club sandwich in the world." He also enjoyed his trips around the state with Special Olympics, having recently returned from Butte with a medal in basketball, adding it to his collection. He was one of the original workers at Opportunity Workshop; he retired this past summer and enjoyed the many parties held in his honor. He continued bowling and could be found every Tuesday at West Side Lanes.

He and his mother were avid Lady Griz fans and in later years he was a fixture at all Grizzly events. His room became a Griz shrine including soccer, football, boy's basketball, Shannon, the Lady Griz and Monte. Bill was a train and fire truck fanatic. A week would not go by without a trip to the Treasure Chest to check out "train stuff." One of his heroes was Captain Rick Smith of the Missoula Fire Department. He also shared the family obsession for books. In December 2000, he went to live with the guys at Central Street Home where he was lovingly cared for by Kerry and Rob and most recently the gang at the Paxson Street Home.

He was preceded in death by his brother-in-law, Merle Manis in 2008; mother in 2004; father in 1997; and brother, Larry in 1991.

He is survived by his sister, Roberta Manis, and brother, Ron (Margaret) of Missoula; nieces, Holly Crownhart of Seattle, Cathy Manis of Missoula, Susan (Peter) Goeddel of Bozeman, Michele (Conrad) Nokleby of Missoula and Eric (Sandy) Johnson of Helena. His great-nieces and nephews include Holly's sons Brian and Daniel Crownhart; Cathy's children Zach Schubert and Cony Craighead; Susan's children Lauren and Jason Gully and Sean and Nicole Goeddel; Eric's daughter Ariel Johnson; and Michele's children Mark Hermann and Lara Nokleby.

There will be no funeral service. A gathering of friends and family for a concert by Jan Halmes, pianist, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 14, at the Christian Science Church, 509 S.W. Higgins Ave. In lieu of flowers the family suggests memorials in Billy's name to The Paxson Street Home, 3831 Paxson St., Missoula, Montana 59803. Everyone will always remember his ever-present smile.

- 1649 iii. Larry Johnson, died 1991.
- 1650 iv. Ronald Johnson.

Notes for Dr. Kimball Wiles:

A nationally known educator and a fellow professor at the University of Florida were killed Thursday night Feb. 1, 1968 in a car-truck collision, the Florida Highway Patrol reported. Dr. Kimball Wiles, 54, dean of the college of education for the past three years and a University of Florida professor since 1950, died shortly after being admitted to a hospital. His companion, Dr. Charles G. Wood Jr., 32, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Wiles served as a consultant to 300 school systems in 41 states last year and headed a team which did an in-depth study of the Colorado school system. He delivered a major address at a White House Conference on Children and Youth in 1960 and in 1966 made an around the world trip for the U. S. State Department to study overseas dependents' schools. He was the author of three widely used textbooks. Wiles was returning from a consulting trip to Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and Wood, returning from a trip to Boston, happened to be on the same plane. Fog prevented a landing at Jacksonville and the plane continued to Tampa, where the men rented an automobile for the drive to Gainesville. Trooper Charlie Helms said Wiles, driving the late model car, attempted to pass another and crashed head on into the truck.

Wood, an assistant professor at the University of Virginia in 1965-66, became assistant professor in the department of personnel services at the college of education in July, 1967. Wiles is survived by his widow, Hilda, and four children, David, Jon, Wendy and Kimi. Wood, a bachelor, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ann Price, and a sister, Joyce, in Daytona Beach; his father, Charles Sr., and a brother, Fidelity, both of Cincinnati.

Funeral services for Wiles will be conducted at 4 p.m. Saturday at University Methodist Chapel, Gainesville, with burial in Evergreen Cemetery there. Funeral services for Wood will be conducted at Johnson Hays Funeral Chapel, Gainesville, at 11 a.m. Monday. Burial will be in Hillscrest Memorial Park.

Hamilton, Ohio - Miss Hilda Long entertained a group of young friends at a leap year party Saturday evening May 2, 1936 at her home, north of town. Many clever contests were enjoyed, topped by a treasure hunt. The treasure consisted of a box of candy on which was a miniature bride and groom and the date June 6 of the wedding of Miss Hilda, the hostess, and M. Kimball Wiles. Miss Maxine Elliott and Fred Finkbine found the treasure. Notes for William Laird Stabler:

William (Bill) Laird Stabler, 89, of Newport Beach, California passed away on April 2, 2015 with his family by his side. Born July 10, 1925, Bill grew up in Venice, California and served in the US Navy during World War II. He married Barbara (Bobbie) Guth in 1948, graduated from UCSB in 1950 and then resided in Newport Beach for over 50 years. He was a consummate waterman, among the first board-surfers in the 1940's and 50's, as well as a patron of black-diamond ski runs at Taos, Alta, Aspen, and Mammoth. While raising his family in Newport, he found ample time to enjoy other passions and became an accomplished golf and tennis player, while endowing his children with his same "joie de vivre." Bill was President of Sta-Lube, Inc. founded by his grandfather, an internationally known chemist and Dean at USC. Sta-Lube was known as the leading brand of specialty lubricants and its waterless hand-cleaner. Following the death of his first wife of 58 years, Bill married Barbara Grady in 2007. They moved to Rancho Mirage where they enjoyed an abundant social life, traveling with friends, and countless rounds of golf. His homemade waffles, gin fizzes, and "dry martini with an olive and twist of lemon" will not be surpassed.

Bill, always a true gentleman, will be sorely missed by Barbara, his 3 children - Linda (Peter), Randy, and Lauren - as well as his 10 grandchildren, 6 great-grandchildren, and brother, Laird (Tricia).

999. Milton Potter¹² Munger, Jr. (Corrince Wilbur (Carine or Coryme)¹¹ Stabler, Alvin E. (Albert Kemper)¹⁰, Daniel F.⁹, Adam⁸, Christian⁷, Christian⁶ Staebler, Georg (Jerg)⁵, Hans⁴ Stebler, Hans³, Konrad², Mathias¹) was born 29 Jun 1913 in Phoenix, Maricopa Co, Arizona, and died 21 Nov 2009 in Eugene, Lane Co, Oregon. He married Winifred Emily Foster 06 Apr 1938 in Alameda, Alameda Co, California. She was born 14 Dec 1914 in Corona, Riverside Co, California, and died 17 Nov 2005 in Eugene, Lane Co, Oregon.

Notes for Milton Potter Munger, Jr.:

Milton P. Munger passed away on November 21, 2009, at 96 years old. Born in Phoenix, Arizona, on June 29, 1913, Milton grew up in Alvarado, California, and went to college at San Jose State and the University of California Berkeley, graduating in 1937 in mechanical engineering. In 1938, he married Winifred Foster and together they raised two sons, Charles and James.

Milton spent 1943 to 1981 as a materials engineer at Mare Island Naval Shipyard. In 1948, he and Winifred moved to Napa and became long-time members of the First Methodist Church, where Milton was a member of the choir and a trustee. Because of his knack for all things mechanical, he oversaw maintenance, tuning, and eventually replacement of the pipe organ.

In 1950, he embarked on the construction of a one-of-a-kind house, a project that received his attention for the next 50 years. The house was designed by architect Jack Hillmer, constructed of glass, redwood, and cinder block, and was based on 120 (not 90) degree angles. Much of the work he did himself or with the help of neighbors. He was part of a neighborhood of families building their own homes. This community would converge to help out when they heard a cement truck lumbering up Hilton Avenue.

Milton was a tinkerer and innovator extraordinaire. A book written about his life might be entitled "Solutions" and would describe the multitude of mechanical "solutions" he developed during his lifetime: Gasoline in short supply? Develop a carburetor for the Model A that would burn kerosene as well. Need to settle the concrete used for floor tiles? Put an eccentric weight on the shaft of a vacuum cleaner motor, creating a powerful vibrator. Need to cut through noise at a restaurant? Install a miniature directional microphone on a hearing aid. Need to ventilate a greenhouse on hot days? Develop a Rube Goldberg apparatus that starts with a pneumatic bladder made of inner tube and ends with a string attached to a sliding door. Need to save money on utilities? Create an array of solar hot water panels with a control system that sequentially sent heat first to the household water, then to the radiant heating coils in the floor, then the greenhouse and hot tub, and finally to the swimming pool.

Milton was a long-time member of the Sierra Club, and he led a number of hikes in the Napa area. He also was especially fond of dogs, and raised several Welsh Corgis, a corgi mix, an English Bulldog, and two terrier mixes that were rescued from the pound. Milton was a painfully honest, unassuming, gracious, generous, patient, and grateful man. He was a quietly spiritual person who would spend hours in reading and contemplation.

In 2002, Milton and Winifred moved from Napa to Eugene, Oregon, to be near their son Charles and his wife Robin, who took care of the details of their lives in their later years. Milton's and Winifred's final years in Eugene also were made easier and richer by caregivers Debbie Krakauer, Marj Biehl, and Mary Pray, who took care of them as if they were family. Milton was predeceased by his wife Winifred in 2005. He is survived by his two sons, Charles of Eugene, Oregon, and James of Boise, Idaho. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Sara and Aaron. A gathering to remember Milton will be held in the spring at a date and location to be determined.

When her husband was called to active duty at the beginning of World War II, Mrs. Parrish took control of the family hotel and restaurant business in Great Bend and managed them successfully until the war was over. When the war ended, Mrs. Parrish and her husband continued to build their business and purchased a farm south of Great Bend. Betty moved to Topeka in 1977 to retire, but retirement was not to be her mission. She quickly became involved in assisting political candidates and developed a new career in the Constituent Services Office of Governor John Carlin. Children of Ruth Cox and Clemont Parrish are:

- 1738 i. Monte Merryman¹³ Parrish, born 17 Oct 1943 in Great Bend, Barton Co, Kansas; died 01 Jan 2018 in Ames, Story Co, Iowa. He married Tana ? 29 Dec 1991 in Ames, Iowa.

Notes for Monte Merryman Parrish:

Monte Merryman Parrish died Monday, January 1, 2018 at his home in Ames, Iowa. He was 74. He served his country on the battlefields of Viet Nam and after military retirement, he successfully owned and operated several hotel properties. He lived in Ames with his wife Tana. Monte was the oldest of six children. He was born October 17, 1943 in Great Bend, Kansas, the first son of Maj. Gen. Clemont C. Parrish and Ruth Elizabeth Parrish. He was graduated from Great Bend High School in the spring of 1961. He joined the U.S. Army Reserves and completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, MO. Monte attended junior college in Pratt, Kansas for two semesters before receiving appointment to attend West Point Military Academy. He received two congressional appointments, one from U.S. Senator Frank Carlson and another from U.S Congressman Floyd Breeding. He reported for duty to West Point on July 1, 1963.

Cadet Parrish was graduated from West Point in June of 1967 with a bachelor of science degree in engineering and was commissioned 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. After graduation, he continued his training at the Army Airborne School and the Army Ranger Indoctrination Program at Ft. Benning, Georgia. In December 1967, he and Pat Tupacz were married at West Point's Holy Trinity Chapel. Later they divorced. In May of 1968, he was deployed to Viet Nam where he served as a Fire Support Officer (forward observer). He returned to Ft. Sill, Oklahoma in May of 1969 and was promoted to the rank of 1st Lieutenant. On August 28, 1970, his daughter Jamie Kathleen was born, and a few weeks later, in September of 1970, he was redeployed to Viet Nam for a second tour. He returned in September of 1971 and was stationed at Ft. Benning, Georgia. After two tours in Viet Nam, he was promoted to the rank of Captain in 1972 and was blessed again with the birth of his son, Michael Patrick. Monte was stationed at Ft. Ord, California and was one of 12 non-Navy students (out of hundreds who applied) to receive a prestigious appointment to study at the Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey, California. There he earned a master's degree in operational analysis in 1974. He put this scholarly achievement to work when he transferred back to the Ft. Sill artillery school as an instructor and was promoted to the rank of major. One of his works was published in the September edition of the Field Artillery Journal in 1976 entitled The Battle of Aachen. Maj. Parrish retired from the active military service in 1977. He joined the Gulf Oil Corporation and worked first in Boston, Massachusetts and later in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Later he joined a smaller oil company in southern California before joining Seven Seas real estate brokerage and investment company and began investing in real estate and hotel properties in California and other states.

On December 29, 1991, Monte and Tana married in Ames where the two made their home. Monte had purchased the University Inn hotel which he owned and operated for several years. He later developed, owned and operated a Microtel hotel in Ames, and after the sale of the University Inn to a shopping-center developer, he purchased another hotel and transferred to it the name, University Inn. After the purchase and sale of these hotel properties, he purchased a bed and breakfast known as the Iowa House. He and Tana moved to this property, and he was operating it successfully until his death on January 1. Monte outpaced his peers in every mission he undertook. He was a brilliant student, so much so that attending class in high school often seemed a nuisance. He breezed through his education with little effort leaving little doubt among his siblings that he was the smartest of the six Parrish children. While his military service was exemplary, Monte's passion was to be successful in business. He retired from Military service in 1977, and while the impact of the war took its toll, he held fast to his commitment to succeed, fueled by his work ethic and determination. He was a thought master - a no-nonsense, problem solver with an iconoclastic tendency to do things his way.

Monte's survivors include his wife Tana of 26 years, her son Dr. David Sosnouski (Jessica) and their three children, all of Ames, Iowa. He is survived by his daughter Jamie Kathleen Lomber (Jeff) and their children, Ryan Elizabeth and John Henry of Tigard, Oregon; his son Michael Parrish (Tirsa) and their son Jaden of Los Gatos, California; two sisters: Claire Parrish (Sue) of East Garrison, California and Annie Tharp (Bruce) of Los Angeles, California; three brothers: Jim Parrish (Nancy) of Topeka, Kansas, Victor Parrish of San Francisco, California, and John Parrish of Parsons, Kansas as well as many wonderful nieces and nephews who loved and respected their Uncle Monte.

A memorial service is planned for Friday, January 19, 2018 at Grandon Funeral and Cremation Care, 414 Lincoln Way, Ames, Iowa 50010. The service begins at 3:00 p.m. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the University of Iowa Children's Hospital in care of the funeral home.

1100. Marilyn E.¹² Lawless (Wilbur William¹¹, Charles Clarence¹⁰, Mary Ann⁹ Pearce, Elizabeth⁸ Stabler, Christian⁷, Christian⁶ Staebler, Georg (Jerg)⁵, Hans⁴ Stebler, Hans³, Konrad², Mathias¹) was born 04 Oct 1928 in Illinois. She married Edward August Beckemeier. He was born 09 Oct 1925 in St. Louis, Missouri, and died 04 Jan 2015.

Notes for Edward August Beckemeier:

Edward A. Beckemeier - a man of many lives -- was born on Oct. 9th, 1925 in St. Louis, Missouri and was called home eternally on Sunday, Jan. 4th, 2015 at the age of 89 years. His family was originally from the Plattdeutsch region of Germany and emigrated to the United States in the 1840's. They were carpenters, builders and farmers and the family roots go back to a small village called Tottenhausen in the Kaisermuehl (Kingsmill) region of northern Germany. In fact, the family farm still has a windmill on it to this day.

Ed's father also was a carpenter/builder in south St. Louis and his mother Edna was a homemaker. He was the oldest of four children. The family was an active member of Messiah Lutheran Church where Ed was baptized and confirmed. His schooling was in the elementary schools of St. Louis and he attended Cleveland High School. Because he enlisted in the U.S. Navy just after age 17 (1943) he did not quite finish high school before his military service - however he was able to receive a graduation certification, because of his military credits. During his high school years, Ed worked as a newspaper boy and primarily in a Pharmacy as a delivery person and a soda jerk. He always was involved in music and singing in choirs.

When he went into the Navy, they asked his work experience - he said he worked in a pharmacy, so he became a Pharmacist Mate 2nd Class. He served his country well - being one of the people attending to wounded and participated during landing campaigns - including Okinawa. His ship - on which he served the entire time - the U.S.S. LaGrange was the last ship in the U.S. navy to be attacked by kamikaze suicide bombers during the second world war. He had traded shifts in order to finish reading a book, while he was above deck reading, 21 men died and over 89 were wounded in the attack. As fate would have it, the man he traded shifts with died in the attack! He received an honorable discharge and also was the recipient of the Purple Heart. After service to his country, he knew that he did not want to go into the building trade and went to college on the G.I. bill - first at Westminster College (site of Churchill's Iron Curtain speech) and then the University of Missouri in Columbia. At Westminster he lived at the Beta Fraternity house until it burned down his freshman year. He and his friend Bob Friday hung from the top floor and had to slide out a window to be rescued (with only his shoes and a lamp! - all the clothes he bought with his navy pay were went up in flames. They were forced to live in a coal bin located in the basement of the School for the Deaf and Dumb for the rest of the college year.

He then transferred to U. Missouri, where he met Marilyn on a blind date arranged by her sorority sister. They were married in 1952 in Camp Point, Illinois. He didn't quite finish college (two credits short) because he was hired by Western Adjustment Bureau - as an insurance adjuster and claims specialist. This was the company he served well most of his life - going from Joliet, Illinois (where son William was born); to Galesburg, Illinois (son James); Des Moines, Iowa (son Andrew); Mt. Prospect, Illinois, Bay Valley, Ohio, Naperville, Illinois and then 4 years in London, England (Northwood/Middlesex area of Greater London). Ed always was able to meet and engage people - when he left Lloyds of London in 1981, he knew more than 2000 associates by name and was affectionately referred to as Big Ed. Lloyds even honored him with a farewell tea!

After London, he and Marilyn returned to the states. Bernardsville, New Jersey was where he called home. Here he finished his career at GAB, working in the "Big Apple". Though most people would be looking forward to retirement, he was offered a new job working for Hudson International, a specialty engineering firm for big buildings. He gladly took on the new challenge. His extensive knowledge of buildings and assessments led him to a successful career there for many years (so, eventually, he did follow in his father's profession in a sense). He retired at the age of 73 and after the extremely snowy winter of 1995-1996 was convinced to move to Florida - which they did in the fall of 1996, settling in Suntree. For almost twenty years, they enjoyed retirement, traveling, church (Faith Viera Lutheran), friends, golfing and fishing, volunteering at Town Square (Gift Shop), Wuesthoff Hospital, and taking food to Food Banks. He also managed to confound many doctors along the way with his miraculous recoveries from major health issues. People claimed he had nine lives, but really he had one rich and fulfilling life!

Ed is survived by his wife of 62 years, Marilyn; his sons Bill (Norma) of Naperville Illinois, Lisa (Jim's widow) of Dallas, Texas and Andy (Tina) of Koeln, Germany; sister Ruth Mawdsley of Tulsa, Oklahoma; six grandchildren Kristine, Alex, Jason, Michael, Francis Belle, William Peers and two great grandchildren, Jayde and Mason. He is predeceased by his brother David, his sister Lois, his son James in 2014 and his sister-in-law Betty Jo Lawless in 2014.

Interment of ashes will be private with family at a later date. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to Faith Viera Lutheran church, The American Cancer Society, The American Heart Association or any charity of your choice.

Through the entirety of Joe's life, he remained passionate about athletics and science. A tenacious athlete, Joe began swimming competitively at the age of 5, and quickly became proficient in soccer, basketball, cross country, track and field, and his most recent passion: rugby. Not only did he find competition on the field but also in the classroom. An avid student and scholar, Joe quickly received top marks in all of his math and science courses both in high school and college. While attending Old Dominion University, Joe pursued many courses of study to include biology, physics, physiology, and mathematics. Shortly after beginning his collegiate experience, Joe was diagnosed with stage III Hodgkins-Lymphoma. Despite his health becoming compromised, Joe only furthered his academic pursuits by adding a pre-Med minor and reading everything he could about Hodgkins-Lymphoma. Joe's dream was to one day be Dr. Joseph Burns and insisted on nothing short of academic excellence. Despite his busy academic and athletic pursuits, Joe loved nothing more...

Notes for Helen Elaine Tovar:

Helen Elaine Cone, 72, of Memphis died Saturday, April 16, 2016 at University of Iowa Hospital and Clinics in Iowa City. She was born the daughter of Walter and Carmen (Petez) Tovar on May 25, 1943 in Johnstown, Colorado. Helen graduated from Loveland High School in 1962. She was an accomplished saxophone player and received a music scholarship to the University of Kansas. She didn't accept the scholarship because she was interested in studying fashion and instead attended Santa Clara College in California. She could only afford one semester, so she worked as a nanny until she was married. Helen married Phillip C. Cone on February 1, 1964 in Irwindale, California. He survives.

To this union, two daughters were born. The Cones lived most of their married life in Scotland County. They celebrated their 52nd anniversary the day before Helen entered the hospital. Helen had many jobs throughout her life. She worked at National Garment Factory, Scotland County R-1 as a cook, ran the Memphis City Swimming Pool and worked at Casey's General Store – but her favorite occupation was as a Family Development Specialist for the Southeast Iowa Community Action Agency. She loved her job there and the families she worked with. She retired from Community Action in June 2007 after 19 years.

She was a devoted volunteer and enjoyed helping others. In 1992, she received an award for Volunteer of the Year in Iowa from Gov. Terry Branstad. This was one of her proudest moments. Helen was a Girl Scout leader for six years and helped start the Ladies Auxiliary at Scotland County Hospital. She volunteered in Burlington during the 1993 flood. She had recently been keeping hours on Monday at the Memphis Youth Center, saying that the children kept her young. She was on the board of Northeast Missouri Community Action for the past eight years.

Helen enjoyed reading, going to garage sales, having coffee with friends feeding and watching birds. She was a dog lover and always carried treats with her. There wasn't a dog in the county who didn't know her. The most important thing in Helen's life was her family. She would tell us the best gift in the world was her family. She would tell us the best gift in the world was getting to spend time with her grandchildren. She was proud her grandsons and great granddaughter. Helen had many stories to tell. Helen will be remembered as a kind and generous woman who touched the lives of many. She will be missed but never forgotten.

She was preceded in death by her parents; daughter, Phyllis Milburn and her husband Jim; step father Jim Torres; in laws, Raymond Cone and Lois and Russell Aldridge.

She is survived by her husband, Phil, of the home; daughter Crystal and husband Rob Jones of Excelsior Springs, Missouri; three grandsons, Sam Jones and his girlfriend, Kelly Cordingly of Lawrence, Kansas, Preston and wife Shelbee Jones of Kirksville and Zach Milburn of Memphis; a great-granddaughter, Annabelle Jones of Kirksville; step-mother, Pauline Tovar of Loveland, Colorado; eight half-brothers and two half-sisters; two brothers-in-law, Harry and wife Dee Aldridge of Eugene, Oregon, Steve and wife Yamiko Aldridge of Springfield, Oregon, and sister-in-law Betty Aldridge of Lincoln City, Oregon.

A celebration of life service will be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, April 26 at the Gerth Funeral Chapel in Memphis with Leland Hyde officiating. Inurnment will be in the Brock Cemetery in Scotland County. Visitation is from noon until 8 p.m., with the family present from 6-8 p.m., Monday, April 25 at the Gerth Funeral Home in Memphis. Memorials are suggested to the Tiger Pack Program, in care of the Scotland County Ministerial Alliance and can be left at or mailed to the funeral home.

He was an Iowa farm boy during the Great Depression and graduated from Creston High School in 1945. On February 27, 1947, he married the former Jo Ann Kelley, his high school sweetheart.

Following service in the US Navy in World War II, he graduated from Knox College in Illinois, and then the University of Michigan Law School. Spurred by his judicial experience with children and the mentally ill, he became a board member, then president, of the Michigan Mental Society (now the Mental Health Association in Michigan). He was involved in the passage of Michigan's Community Mental Health legislation. During his second term, he successfully engaged the Board of Supervisors (as it was then called) to create the state's first Community Mental Health Authority. He served three governors on Michigan's Youth Commission. As special counsel to the legislative committee investigating the troubled Ionia State Hospital, he presided over the closing of that hospital and the creation of Michigan's Forensic Center, accompanied by major revisions of the state's criminal law pertaining to people experiencing mental illness. In private practice he won important cases of local and national prominence. He was especially proud of a case that expanded the statute of limitations for the victims of child sexual abuse. He was a member of the Owosso Hunting Club, the Shiawassee Arts Center, and the Shiawassee H.O.P.E. Project on Poverty. Notes for David W. Cuddy:

David Warren "Dave" Cuddy is a businessman and Republican Party politician from the U.S. state of Alaska. David was born September 16, 1952 in Anchorage, Alaska to Daniel Hon "Dan" and Betty Jane "Betti" (née Puckett) Cuddy. He was named after his uncle (and Dan Cuddy's only sibling), who died in World War II in 1944. Growing up in Anchorage (where he has lived for most of his life), he graduated from West Anchorage High School in 1970, and went on to earn a B.A. in economics from Duke University in 1974.

Cuddy joined the business operated by his family, First National Bank of Anchorage (now called First National Bank Alaska) in 1972, working his way up from teller to loan officer, and eventually vice-president at the time he left the bank. Cuddy was elected to a single term in the Alaska House of Representatives in 1980. A combination of redistricting and pressure from Dick Randolph to defect to the Libertarian Party played heavily in his decision not to run for re-election. In 1996 and 2008, Cuddy unsuccessfully challenged Ted Stevens in the Alaska Republican U.S. Senate primary.

Cuddy currently lists his occupation as an independent film producer. In 2001, he worked for a California-based entertainment firm as a business consultant to independent filmmakers, and left them in 2003. While acting as executive producer on the film Light in the Forest, he met Austin-based screenwriter Bonnie Orr, and in 2007 he began construction of a film studio in Austin, Texas.

Frank was a 1976 graduate of Lock Haven High School and attended Penn State University where he was a member of the Sigma Pi fraternity. His career consisted of a lifetime of customer service, mostly in the automotive industry. He was also employed for several years for STEP, Inc. where he served as a Wilderness

Challenge instructor and business liaison to support local child care facilities. In his earlier years, Frank was a professional downhill skier and certified ski instructor. On August 27, 2000 on the Island Route in Lock Haven, Frank married the love his life, the former Sue Farley, who survives in Dunnstown. From his childhood years to present, Frank had a love for spending time on the river and was proud to be the owner of the oldest boat still operating – his pontoon, which was initially launched in 1974. He also enjoyed tinkering with and riding his motorcycle and snowmobile and was a member of the local Dirty Dabbers. Many were unaware of Frank's tremendous musical talent. He was an avid pianist, a gift he kept humbly private.

In addition to his wife and mother, Frank is survived by three children, Marlene Gladden of Maryland, Brice McKinley of Milesburg and Marie Harris of Lock Haven; a brother, Delbert D. "Tag" (Kathryn) Helt, III of South Carolina; a sister, Cynthia (Wesley) Kline of New Jersey; a niece, Zammany Kline of California; a nephew, Ian Helt of South Carolina; and five grandchildren: Cameron, Aurianna, Christiana, Caylyn and Wyatt.

A celebration of Frank's life will be held on Saturday, June 27, 2020 at 11 a.m. at the Woodward Township Boat Ramp, 316 Old Coudersport Pike, Lock Haven, Pennsylvania 17745 where words of remembrance will be said before Frank will board a boat for his final voyage on the river he cherished so much. Friends and family will be received for a viewing on Friday, June 26, 2020 from 5 to 8 P.M. at the Donald G. Walker Funeral Home, Inc., 231 High Street, Flemington, Pennsylvania 17745. Private burial will take place at Highland Cemetery, Lock Haven. Notes for Dr. Merle Eugene Manis:

Dr. Merle E. Manis of Missoula died at St. Patrick Hospital in Missoula on Tuesday, March 11, 2008, as the result of a devastating stroke. He was 73. Merle was born in the Mission hospital at St. Ignatius on Aug. 20, 1934. As he weighed a mere 3 pounds, the birthing nurse was confident that his chances of survival were negligible. Despite this inauspicious start, Merle proved to be a precocious child, walking at 9 months although he was only 18 inches tall. During his school years, Merle plagued the teachers with his high jinks and lack of appreciation for the standard curriculum, despite his obvious intellectual abilities. Several of his grade school teachers cried because he was "throwing his life away." One resourceful teacher placed him in the back of the room with instructions to study a high school math text. Merle taught himself algebra and geometry during the many hours he spent there after she learned that it kept him out of trouble.

When Merle was 10, his father was killed in a sawmill accident. His mother struggled to support Merle and his three sisters, but times were very hard. At the beginning of the seventh grade, when he was big enough to be useful, Merle returned to Charlo and worked for his keep on relatives' farms. In high school he played varsity football and basketball, and served on a multitude of committees and student clubs. He graduated from high school in 1952. He enlisted in the service shortly thereafter, and was accepted into the Aviation Cadets, the precursor of the U.S. Air Force Academy. This program trained pilots and navigators. After completing his training, he turned in a letter of resignation because he was deeply offended by the elitism that was being taught to the prospective officers. His commanding officers were reluctant to allow reassignment in light of his high class standing, and were sure he was "throwing his career away." In due course, Merle became a military newspaper editor, and was able to work in an environment where rank was neither visible, nor important. In this capacity, he served the last of his enlistment, and was discharged in 1956.

Studying under the GI Bill, Merle returned to the valley to attend the University of Montana. He received his B.A. in 1960 and M.A. in 1961. Then, with a National Science Foundation Grant, he headed for the University of Oregon to pursue his PhD. During this time, he began courting the love of his life, Roberta Johnson, as well as her three little girls, Holly, Cathy and Susan. He experienced a breakthrough in his research in 1963, and completed his thesis in the space of 10 intense days. As a result, he was able to relax and enjoy his newfound domesticity during the final year of his NSF fellowship. When one more little girl was born, Merle's thoughts began to turn toward the practical concerns of his family. Although he had offers from more glamorous universities, he knew he wanted to raise his family in Montana. He accepted a faculty position at the University of Montana, where he stayed until his retirement in 1996.

He purchased a run-down Victorian home in the University district that he lovingly restored for his family of girls. At the time of his death, he was renovating the third floor of the house, and beginning spring maintenance on his amazing flower gardens that many have admired. With a penchant for hard physical labor and a knack for tinkering, he was always eager to lend his help and expertise in building or remodeling everything from stage sets to residences.

People in need were drawn to him because of this generous spirit. Merle frequently invited "strays" into his large home to live for months or years as members of the family. He enjoyed a very close relationship with all of his daughters, and loved nothing more than dancing with them at any given opportunity, especially if his grandson happened to be playing in the band. While Merle had the option of having a spectacular scientific career, he very deliberately chose to devote himself to his family. He took an unusually active role in caring for his girls, and was a school "room father" long before it was popular or acceptable for men to do so. Merle's mathematical interests included commutative rings, rings of several objects, Pruefer rings, and valuations. His expertise also extended into theoretical physics. Named after him are Manis Valuations and Manis Valuation Rings. His groundbreaking work in Ring Theory continues to be the subject of books, dissertations, and scholarly research throughout the world. His work wasn't motivated by utility, but by a profound delight in the austere beauty inherent in pure mathematics. He was not only a scientist, but an aesthete. His dedication to intellectual curiosity and integrity influenced not only his children but many graduate students. We will all miss him for his passion, his brilliance, his absolute lack of ostentation, and most of all, his unwavering loyalty and love.

He is survived by his wife, Roberta Manis, as well as his four daughters, Holly Crownheart, Cathy Manis, Susan Goeddel (Peter), and Michele Nokleby (Conrad). In time his family grew to include eight grandchildren, Zach Schubert, Mark Hermann, Lauren Goeddel, Sean Goeddel, Brian Crownhart, Valarah Nokleby, Daniel Crownhart, and Cony Craighead. After many years without a baby in the house, Merle was delighted by the arrival of his newest girl, great-granddaughter Lola, born three months prior to his death. He also has two surviving sisters, Deanna Simonson and Susan Ehlert. His sister Sally Jean Sandford preceded him in death in 2007.

Merle chose to donate his body for organ harvest and research purposes, and his remains have been cremated, with Whitesitt Funeral Home handling these arrangements. A memorial concert in celebration of Merle's life will be held this summer. The family wishes to express our deepest appreciation to all the friends who have made this difficult time easier to bear with your cards, visits, and phone calls. Any memorials in Merle's name can be made to the University of Montana, Department of Mathematical Sciences, Missoula, Montana 59812.

Notes for Gwynne Edwin Felton, Jr.:

Gwynne Edwin Felton, Jr., 83, passed away Sunday, August 23, 2009 in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Born January 14, 1926 in Bartlesville, Oklahoma to Gwynne Edwin and Jeanne (Kirkpatrick) Felton. He has been a Tulsa resident since 1940. He attended Bartlesville and Tulsa Public Schools and Oklahoma Military Academy in Claremore, Oklahoma. He left OMA after his junior year of High School in 1943 and joined the Navy at age 17, serving with the Amphibious Forces in the European Theatre. His LST (Landing Ship Tank) participated in Exercise Tiger, an amphibious training exercise along the Devon coast of England preparing for D-Day. During early morning hours of April 29, 1944, a Flotilla of German E-Boats operating out of Cherbourg, France suddenly attacked the LST's with torpedoes and heavy machine gun fire. Two fully loaded LST's were sunk and a third heavily damaged resulting in 750 Soldiers and Sailors being killed or drowned and many wounded during this engagement. Exercise Tiger is documented as one of the U.S. largest casualty count from a single enemy encounter during WWII and was held in top secret for many years before being made public. Five weeks after Tiger, his LST took part in the early morning assault landings at Normandy, France on D-Day, June 6, 1944. On one round trip to England for reinforcements, the ship he was on hit a mine and he was returned to England for several weeks before shipping to the U.S. where he served in the Norfolk, Virginia area until his honorable discharge after three years' service. He was holder of several medals and the Navy Combat Ribbon. He seldom talked of his wartime experiences and credited his safe return home to the "luck of the draw".

While still in the Navy, he completed the necessary exams through the Gwynne Edwin Felton, Jr. U.S. Armed Forces Institute leading to his high school diploma being issued in 1946 from Central High School in Tulsa. He attended Tulsa University and graduated with a BS Degree in Petroleum Engineering at mid-term ('51-'52) which led to a 43-year career in the Natural Gas Industry. This career took him to many oil and gas producing areas of the U.S. and several foreign countries. He was directly responsible in the planning, engineering, construction and operation of many gas processing facilities and associated pipelines. He was a Registered Professional Engineer in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Colorado and a past Vice-Chairman of the Gas Processors Association, Permian Basin Chapter. He retired as President of Optimized Gas Systems, Inc. of Tulsa and Owner of an Engineering/ Consulting firm bearing his name and will be remembered as a fair and capable man in all his endeavors. He shunned the word "Expert" and his honesty was never questioned, believing a firm handshake following business agreements was as binding as a written contract. To him, a man's word and devotion to family was the hallmark of his legacy. Over the years, he and his wife made several extended trips motoring throughout England and Wales and staying in small towns and villages, making lasting friendships with the local citizens. On one such trip, they attended the 50th anniversary of D-Day in Normandy, France where he and others received France's D-Day Commemorative Medal in a Ceremony held at Cherbourg Town Center.

Preceded in death by: his parents; 2 sisters, Suzanne Fee of Raytown, Missouri and Patricia Felton of Sun City, Arizona. Survived by: his devoted and loving wife of 59 years, Marcellette, of the home; 2 wonderful sons, Kirk Felton of Richmond, California and Dr. Mark Felton of Oklahoma City; and many cherished nieces and nephews.

He married Marie-Helene Roudaut. She was born 24 Mar 1952.

Notes for Clark Michael Shanahan:

Clark Michael "Mike" Shanahan, 64, of Oak Park, formerly of Owosso, Michigan, died on July 1 of COVID-19 complications. Born in Owosso on July 12, 1955 to Clark and JoAnn (Kelley) Shanahan, after his early years in Durand, he moved with his family to Owosso where he attended Owosso public schools. He left Owosso to attend the Farallones Institute in California. While there, he met a group of French architects, whom he would later join in a design/build venture in Paris, working as a cabinet and furniture designer and builder. His first night in Paris, at the age of 22, Mike met the love of his life, Marie-Hélène Roudaut, who would become his wife of 42 years.

He would go on to have his own woodworking shops in and around Paris. A craftsman with a finely-honed aesthetic, and a natural engineer, his clients included Chanel; the actress Delphine Seyrig (at whose home he met Samuel Beckett); the Manufacture Nationale des Gobelins (where he helped restore an 18th-century loom); and a small alimentary business in St. Maur, for which he made a truffle washer. His porte-cochère (coach gate) for the courtyard building, which also housed his first shop, can still be seen in Paris. He greatly admired French culture, and later on in life received a B.A. from UIC in French. In the U.S., he was the primary designer and craftsman in the transformation of a 1930s barn into a residence for his parents. In Chicago, he produced work for the Museum of Contemporary Art, and Tigerman and McCurry, among others. An excellent cook, he was also a passionate advocate for racial, social, environmental, and economic justice. This led, as his friends and family can attest, to many fine and memorable meals, followed by lively and enlightening discussions. He adored his family, and was enthralled with his grandchildren. He loved nothing more than taking his first grandchild, Elliot, on walks, hand-in-hand.

Mike was predeceased by his parents. His survivors include his wife, Marie-Hélène Shanahan; his children, Matthieu Shanahan (April Paulson); Claire (Matthew) Senn of Brookfield, and their children, Elliot and Louise; and Alice (Carlos) Robles-Shanahan of Chicago, and their child, Oliver. He is also survived by his siblings, Kathleen Shanahan (Joseph Hlavacek); Thomas Shanahan (Mariann Watson); Matthew Shanahan (Carla Weiler of Oak Park; and Susan (Jeffrey) Phillips of Owosso.

Due to the pandemic, the memorial will be held at a date and place to be determined. Any contributions in his name can be made to Black Lives Matter, the Poor People's Campaign, or the Cornell Lab of Ornithology. Mike's life and death are a reminder to us all to put public safety and the common good ahead of our individual wants.
