Notes for Jeremy C. Goodling:

Jeremy has been traveling and singing throughout Central Pennsylvania in various bible believing denominational and non-denominational churches for over 29 years. He sings a variety of styled music including Southern Gospel, Hymns and light contemporary with a mix of songs that will relate and minister to all ages. He also performs at various centers, community events and banquets as well spreading the good news of Jesus. Jeremy enjoys using his wide vocal range by always including a few lower range bass songs in his concerts along with his mid-range selections.

Jeremy and his wife Tabitha have been married 18 years and share four daughters. They reside in McAlisterville, Pennsylvania and are active members at Niemoonds Independent Church of Richfield, Pennsylvania.

Jeremy Goodling in July 28, 2016

McAlisterville - He never set out to be a singer. In fact, as a kid, even while he sang in the chorus at school, he never really cared for it much. He certainly never considered doing it as a ministry. How is it, then, that 39-year-old Jeremy Goodling is celebrating his 25th year in music ministry in central Pennsylvania this year? As a young teenager, Goodling, a Richfield-area native, said he experienced a divine call that led him down a path he never would have thought of going himself. In 1991, shortly after he reluctantly agreed to sing in a group organized by a lady at the tiny church he grew up in, he said God took a hold of his heart during a revival service there. "I was really convicted by the Holy Spirit, through the message going through the preacher," he said. "I asked Christ into my heart and life." He was 14. That's when he started seeing that singing could actually be a ministry—something he could do to serve God and encourage others.

Always drawn to the southern-gospel genre, Goodling jokingly admits he is “kind of a country boy,” and enjoys the drums, bass and piano of that style of music. But ultimately, it was the words being sung that affected him the most. He spent many hours as a teenager, sitting next to his grandfather as together they watched VHS tapes of groups like the Gaithers, Cathedral Courtet, and Gold City. “The message was really clear in the songs,” he said. “I understood why they were singing.” He and the group from church decided to take their singing on the road, and as news about them spread through word of mouth, they held some fundraisers to buy sound equipment, and then continued for the next few years to travel from church to church throughout central Pennsylvania. Some people left, and new people joined the group during this time, and then in 1995, Goodling started going solo and learned to accompany himself on the piano, which he plays by ear—another gift, he said, that God has given him.

He also learned in the beginning years that he could sing both bass as well as the higher notes, and as a soloist, the versatility has been a big bonus. Having learned percussion in school, he has over the years played the drum as well as the bass to assist other area Christian groups, such as the Kerstetter Family and Saving Grace, in their ministries throughout the region. Barry Boney, of the Saving Grace band, said he sees Goodling as a brother. The two played together during congregational worship times at their church in the mid- to late-90s, and for a year and a half performed and traveled together. “I think since the beginning, I’ve seen the love he had for music ministry,” Boney said, adding that Goodling has “nice, smooth” vocals and is adaptable to just about any situation with his versatile musical gifts.

Pastor Casey Hostler, pastor of Heaven Bound Church in Mifflintown, has known Goodling since 1993, when they attended church together. Goodling has performed numerous times at Hostler’s church, as well as for various community events that Hostler has helped to organize. “He’s very caring and understanding,” Hostler said, adding that the area, where there is a big love for southern gospel music, seems to be a perfect fit for Goodling, and vice versa. And it’s clear Goodling takes his ministry seriously. “I think he really prays about what he’s supposed to do,” Hostler said. “Some people just perform, but he does it for ministry.” “I just think the world of him.”

Goodling has a full-time job outside of his music ministry, so to ensure that he has quality time with his family and that he stays connected to his home church, he typically limits his ministry to two, sometimes three weekends out of each month. It’s also a safeguard to ensure he doesn’t get burnt out and can continue to fulfill the calling he senses so strongly on his life. “I’ve always felt like this is what I am supposed to do,” Goodling said. “I’m going to continue doing it for as long as I can.”

Born in York on May 25, 1933, he was the son of the late Charles and Elzina (Diehl) Epley. Charlie prided himself on his hardworking nature, his faith, and his family. It is with great comfort to know that they have finally been reunited in their heavenly home. A machinist by trade, Charlie held several positions through the years, starting his career at AB Farquhar. He then went on to spend over 30 years at Allis Chalmers/Precision Components where he grew his career, culminating as a Superintendent. He was a very hardworking provider for his family, of which he was very proud.

Charlie graduated from William Penn Senior High School in 1951. He was a long-time member of Zion United Church of Christ in York. He served his church dutifully throughout his lifetime, serving on the finance, property, and worship committees and as a member of the Church Consistory, serving as President for multiple terms. He loved sports - both playing and watching. In his youthful years, he played baseball and basketball. He was very invested in both his son's and granddaughter's sporting events and enjoyed golfing and bowling. He was an avid Penn State football and Baltimore Orioles baseball fan and was very excited about the recent success of both teams.

Charlie is survived by his sons, Robert H. Epley and his wife, Amnuay of Nashville, Tennessee, and

Barry A. Epley and his wife, Mary Jane of York; granddaughter, Lindsey (Epley) Wilson and her husband, Wayne of Pickerington, Ohio. Notes for Theodore Paul (Ted) Hammond:

Paul Theodore Hammond, 65 years old of San Marino, California passed away with his family surrounding him on the morning of March 6, 2013. Ted Hammond was born on May 2, 1947 in Pasadena. He grew up in San Marino, California and attended Carver Elementary, Huntington Junior High and San Marino High School. He attended DePauw University and graduated Cum Laude with his BS from USC. He went on to receive his Juris Doctorate Degree from USC Law Center.

Ted Hammond's life was truly lived to the very fullest. He had a zest for life that was fulfilled in his love for family, friends, and the practice of law. Teddy's first love was his strongest and longest lasting. He fell in love at 15 with his wife and best friend Karen Marculescu. After receiving his law degree from USC, he focused his passion for law in the field of medical malpractice both as a trial attorney and most recently as an arbiter. He loved his work and taught us all to love and have passion in everything we do.

His ultimate love was his family and friends. He is survived by his sister Sharon Boultinghouse, three children Rob Hammond (Nicole Bieggar), Courtney Negrevski (Eric Negrevski) and James Hammond (Sarah Hamill) and grandchildren Lauren, Colby, Alex, Nick, and Ryan. He taught us to live, love and laugh. Ted never held back his infectious smile making everyone in the room, on the beach, or on the golf course feel all of his love. Teddy always said, "Memories are made." They are made on great trips, around the fire pit, on the boat or simply when great friends surround you.

How fortunate we all are to have known and loved such a special man who, in too short a life, lived more fully, loved more deeply and laughed more often than anyone we have ever known. We are so much richer for having Teddy in our lives. He will continue to be a model for us all, and we will make him proud of the lessons we learned from him. We will dance in the rain and dance wherever and whenever knowing in our hearts that's what Teddy would want us all to do.

Ted enjoyed his involvement in the community and was a member of Annandale Country Club, Fourth of July Yacht Club, Pasadena Breakfast Forum, Huntington H.E.A.R.T., The Twilight Club and many others. He loved giving back to society and participating actively in each of these organizations. In Lieu of flowers please give the gift of life in memory of Ted Hammond to USC Cardio Vascular Thoracic Institute; 1975 Zonal Ave. KAM 300 Los Angeles, California 90089 or The Pasadena Guild of Children's Hospital P.O. BOX 51101 Pasadena, California 91115. There will be a celebration of his life, held at San Marino Community Church on Tuesday March 12 at 3:30 p.m. Cabot and Sons Funeral Directors.

His interests included aerobatics for which he received many awards including 2nd place at nationals in Texas and Wisconsin and 1st place in the KC Region. Hunting, sailing, boating, cycling, scuba diving, and coaching his children's CYO sports were special interests. Rich planned and took part in many cross-country motorcycle trips in the U.S. and Canada.

Rich was preceded in death by his father, Richard, June 13, 2014. Rich is survived by his wife of 23 years, Annette V. Hartzell, three children, Lauren, Richard, and Kristen, his mother, Jean Hartzell, Bella Vista, Arkansas and aunt, Linda Bergquist, Iowa City, Iowa. His family was his greatest joy. He was deeply proud of their many achievements.

Notes for Ronald Eugene (Ron) Miller:

Jan. 11, 2016 - Ex Rep. Ron Miller, retired at 64, busy as ever As politics is hotter than ever in Harrisburg, former Rep. Ron Miller sets out to ski and just be. Ron Miller smiled broadly as he talked about the beauty of the mist from the spring-fed pond on cold winter mornings at his home at the edge of Jacobus. But then Chance the dog saw Bonnie the cat. Once again, the barking dog failed to catch her. Chance has appeared on nearly every campaign flier since the former 16-year state representative adopted the rescue dog seven years ago. Those ads are no more because Miller, 64, retired from politics at the end of November 2014, after he lost the election to replace Mike Waugh on the state Senate to state Sen. Scott Wagner, R-Spring Garden Township. Since then, he's embarked on an equally busy schedule of tending to household projects and skiing as much as he possibly can.

Longtime rep says mind not ready to retire, "I loved serving the people of the 93rd District as state rep so I don't want to minimize that," Miller said while sitting next to an inside garden he built and his wife, Kitty, maintains. "But I have been shocked by how little I have missed ... the overall process and the legislative stuff." But Harrisburg hasn't exactly forgotten him, said his successor, state Rep. Kristin Phillips-Hill, a York Township Republican Miller campaigned for as his replacement. She said Miller's former colleagues ask about him often. "Because I have the seat with the number on it people often say, 'We're happy you're here but we really miss Ron. You tell him we say hello,'" she said. "He was respected and liked in Harrisburg on both sides of the aisle." Miller stays active on certain local social boards like the Boy Scouts USA's New Birth of Freedom Council, local advisory board the York Area Metropolitan Planning Organization and the board for the Huber Foundation, which supports chemistry and engineering education at York College of Pennsylvania.

What he did miss was skiing, a hobby he picked up at the relatively late age of 38. Because he finally had time, upon retirement, to hit the slopes he said he probably put 40 miles on his downhill skis last winter. And he excitedly showed off his skis at Roundtop Mountain Resort when for its first day of the season. "On New Year's Day I cleaned and sharpened and waxed my skis and got ready to go," he said of his 10-year-old skis, emblazoned with flame decals. That very afternoon he left for a planned five-hour skiing trip at the resort. As a volunteer member of the safety patrol — which marks hazards, investigates incidents and supports the work of the ski patrol staff who respond to injuries — he gets to do his hobby for free. All the exercise has helped him to lose 40 pounds— "actually lost 45 but I put five back on." The house projects haven't hurt things either, he said. But the bigger contributor might be that he doesn't have to sit at a desk for 10 to 16 hours, as he did throughout his legislative career.

"I seldom took an elevator at the capitol, I always took the steps and stuff," he said. "You tend to eat late when you're in office and then you don't get any exercise afterwards. "It has nothing to do with not eating because I still eat an ice cream sundae almost every night," he added. "Highly recommend Carman's ice cream, two to three scoops and make it a sundae. Lots of whipped cream and nuts and everything else."

But politics hasn't fully left him. Under the glass surface of his coffee table he keeps a large collection of Republican federal, state and local campaign pins and his "former representative" badge for capitol security, though he said he's only been back three times. A display case contains trinkets, rewards and certificates from his career and a caricature of him "passing a bill" on a ski slope given to him by his staff. His home reflects his district and his life the way a mural on his former district office's wall did. Most of the mural is preserved under Phillips-Hill's occupancy of the office, she said, though redistricting has made some of the scenes of the mural no longer relevant to the 93rd Legislative District and other scenes, like Miller's childhood home and the Glen Rock headquarters of Adhesives Research, Inc., where he worked for a long time before moving into politics, were just too personal to him for her to keep. Showing off the collection in his display case, he held a gavel in each hand: One a retirement gift from his time in the House and another his chairman's gavel from the Chesapeake Bay Commission. The latter was something very close to him and he said he would be willing to serve as the citizen representative on it if the incumbent ever wanted to leave the post. It's a tri-state commission created in 1980 that Pennsylvania shares with Maryland and Virginia to work on policies to protect and preserve the Chesapeake Bay. That's in addition to his former work as majority chairman of the House Environmental Resources and Energy Committee in the Pennsylvania House.

Despite everything, he said it might have been fun to have been in office for the protracted budget battle Pennsylvania is going through. "I actually, on election day, November 2014, predicted exactly what had happened. It was obvious what had happened," he said. "The state legislatures went more conservative, the governor's office went much more liberal. It was going to be a battle one way or another and it was fully expected." As he gazed over his pond last week in early January his phone rang. He just laughed as he glanced at it. "That's the one thing that's great. I don't get many phone calls like I used to," he said. "Emails, texts, oh my goodness, half as much." And now he can sleep in — until 7 a.m., maybe. "I almost had a built-in clock in my head that knew what time it was almost constantly," he said. "It doesn't matter as much anymore. Time isn't as important, schedules aren't as important. Things are less structured. That's kind of nice."

York - Donald G. Harrell, 72, passed away at home with his family by his side on Thursday, October 16, 2014. He was the loving husband of Sara M. Back in civilian clothes, he worked for Household Finance in Lancaster and Ritter Finance Company in York. He then sold mobile homes for York County Homes, and later sold used cars for Gene Latta and other dealers in central Pennsylvania. He retired from car sales, but had no interest in sitting around. Always active, he soon started a lawn care and handyman business, D.H. Property Services. He worked until illness forced him to stop. A longtime member of St. Paul Wolf's Evangelical Covenant Church, Don loved spending time with his family and especially cherished the time he spent with his grandchildren. He dove into the waves with them at Bethany Beach, Del. He cheered them on when they were playing soccer, volleyball, field hockey or baseball. And he never let them go home empty-handed from a yard sale or toy store.

Jerry L.⁹ Goodling (Anna Ruth⁸, Benjamin Franklin⁷, George Washington⁶, Benjamin Franklin (or Henry)⁵, Peter (Adam)⁴, Adam (Goodling)³ Gutling, Johann Peter (Gudling)² Goodling, Jr., Johann Peter¹ Gutlin) was born 27 Apr 1945 in York, York Co, Pennsylvania, and died 25 Nov 2023 in York, York Co, Pennsylvania. Notes for Jerry L. Goodling:

York - Jerry L. Goodling, 78, devoted husband, father, grandfather and friend passed away on Saturday, November 25, 2023, at home surrounded by his loving wife, Martha M. (Sandy) Goodling and their daughters. Born April 27, 1945 in York, Jerry was the son of the late Anna (Goodling) Weaver. Jerry married his high school sweetheart in 1963 and spent the next 60 years making his wife, his family and friends smile. He was a proud veteran of the United States Air Force, serving his country honorably during the Vietnam War as a jet engine mechanic on B52 bombers. Jerry was a devoted, hardworking family man. He exemplified qualities of reliability, commitment, responsibility and perseverance. Holding many positions throughout his career, Jerry retired in 2003 from one of his favorite positions, an Operations Manager at the Hanover Mall. (Let's be honest, all the beautiful ladies coming and going made that job even more enjoyable.)

Jerry's passions in life started and ended with his family. With life's trials and tribulations, he and Martha approached life together with strength, courage, loyalty, and above all else, love. Obstacles were approached with confidence. He found humor in everyday life and had a belly laugh you could hear down the street. His coaching days with the West York Midget football team provided great joy and pride. He was an avid NASCAR memorabilia collector, loved watching Penn State football, and golf was a favorite past time. Dogs were always one of Jerry's best friends. Throughout his struggles, Jerry remained resilient, strong minded, positive and with a will to help others. His last wishes include donating his body for scientific study to Humanity Gifts Registry. Giving to other's even in the afterlife, Jerry's love for life and humankind persevere.

In addition to his beloved wife, Jerry leaves behind four daughters, Carol Kennedy and her husband, Dion, Barbara Goodling, Brenda Walker and her husband John, Melissa Gordon and her husband Michael; nine grandchildren, Crista, Michelle, Meaghan and her husband Matt, Abigale, Christopher, AnnaMae, Jeremy, Emma, and Elana; six great grandchildren, Bailey, Matthew, Bradley, Caden, Ashton, and Benny; a brother, Terry Weaver; a sister, Sharon Tomczyk; several nieces and nephews; many wonderful close friends including his childhood best friend, George Hoffman, who he loved reminiscing with. Jerry is preceded in death by his mother, Anna Weaver; step father, John Weaver; his grandparents, Sarah and Benjamin Goodling, and his mother-in-law, Jimmie Sandy.

Notes for Edward Clinton Aubitz III:

Edward Clinton Aubitz III passed into heavenly peace on January 14, 2013. Ed was born in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, in 1944. He spent some early years in Mt Vernon, Washington, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He moved to Atlanta in 1960 where he attended and graduated from Marist High School and the Georgia Institute of Technology with a degree in Industrial Management with Computers. He married Sandra James in 1966. In their early years of marriage, Ed and Sandy spent time at road rallies together which started Ed's life-long love of cars and racing. Ed was drafted into the U S Army in 1968 and spent two years at Fort Hood, Texas, working on data processing equipment in mobile vans for combat readiness. After his army years, he started a 30-year long career working for Unisys in 1970. In addition to cars, one of Ed's greatest passions, downhill skiing, was begun when they lived in Germany. It was during this favorite pastime that Ed discovered he had hereditary Ideopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis (IPF). He was helicopter skiing at Park City in 1999 with his son, Brian. He had trouble making the six runs and thought he was out of shape. After a year with treatment for asthma, they did a lung biopsy and made the diagnosis. His father and uncle had died of this disease in the 1980s. Even after the diagnosis Ed would ski with oxygen tanks.

To prolong his life with this disease, Ed received the gifts of life through 2 precious organ donations. The first organ donation he received was a lung transplant on October 17, 2005. After his lung transplant, Ed was able to go skiing again without oxygen at Whistler in Canada and in Austria as well as experiencing several other trips and amazing family events, including the birth of his last grandchild. On March 20, 2012, he received a kidney transplant via a live kidney donation from Sandy's cousin.

He is survived by his wife of 46 years, Sandy, and sons, Brian (Ann) and Scott (Sara), and grandchildren, Christopher, Mitchell, Ashley, Katlyn, Charlie, and Daniel; sister, Ginny Alexander (Bob Kleinertz) and brother, Keith (Beth Kieffer).
