Notes for Adam (Stabler or Stavely) Stabley:

Landmark History of the United Brethren Church. By Daniel Eberly, Isaiah H. Albright, Commodore, United Brethren Publishing House, - Dayton, Ohio, 1911.

Stabley's Church

Winterstown class is the oldest class in the county. Stabley's or Zion Church is the first church that our people built in the county. Before the church was erected here our people worshiped in private houses, at Adam Stabley's, who lived a few hundred yards west of where the church stands; also at John Smiegh's, and at the Grimms'. The church was built in 1843 on Adam Stabley's land, principally by Mr. Stabley himself and his neighbors. After the church was completed the following brethren were elected trustees of the church October 23, 1843: Frederick Grove, Levi Neff and Charles Neff. At this conference it was decided to name it "Zion Church." The lot, containing 107 perches, with the church upon it, was then bought by these trustees June 1, 1844, for the sum of $2.00. The church was a frame building and was dedicated to God by Rev. John Russell, presiding elder.

During the summer of 1881 this church was torn down and a new one was built in its place under the pastorate of Rev. G. W. Lightner. The pastor drew the plans for the new building and superintended its erection. It was built of the best material and has a slate roof. It was dedicated to God September 11, 1881, by Rev. D. D. DeLong, D.D., President of Lebanon Valley College, assisted by Rev. C. T. Stearn, D.D., and Rev. E. Light. During the year 1895, the church was thoroughly repaired, repainted inside and outside, furnished with new carpet, lamps and pulpit. A tower seventy feet high was also built to its front, and a good bell was placed upon it, all at a cost of $600. Rev. J. W. Grimm was the pastor then. The church was reopened November 10, 1895, by Rev. C. A. Burtner, Ph.D., presiding elder, assisted by the pastor.

A small log parsonage was also built by the side of the church about the year 1850. It was very small and had a very low ceiling, so low that when one of the preachers moved into it he had to saw a part of the legs of his bedsteads off to enable him to set them up. It was torn down some years ago, and the pastors of the charge now live in Red Lion.

Many of the fathers of this church have gone to their long home and their remains lie buried in the adjoining graveyard, but their descendants are still with us and are filled with the same zeal and piety that made their fathers the heroes of their day. No one man among them all, however, stands forth so prominently as does Rev. Frederick Flinchbaugh, whose long and useful life merits more than a mere allusion. He worshiped at the Union Lutheran and German Reformed Church, located several miles east of Zion Church, and was a member of one of these congregations. He led the singing in this church for many years, and all who knew him called him a Christian, as Christians were rated in the neighborhood. Nor was he of a different opinion. He did try hard to be good. He enjoyed the confidence of his preacher and of his fellow church-members, as his life among them was above reproach.

But something happened and the Spirit of the Lord arrested him in his career. It was the custom in the community to have corn-husking parties, after the corn had been gathered in from the fields. On such occasions the neighbors were usually invited to spend an evening at the husking, and after a certain amount of work had been done, a great supper would be ready, when all the huskers would be invited to partake before leaving for their homes. To such a husking Mr. Flinchbaugh went. He failed to get to the first table. While waiting for his turn a party in an adjoining room were making merry with a violin. He listened for a while, but he became uneasy, and moved by some impulse that seemed almost irresistible, he left and went home. He could not sleep that night. The music of that "fiddle" and the merry-making noises of the people were in his ears all night. He arose in the morning with a feeling of sadness. And yet he could hardly tell why he was depressed. He had often been present before when such music and enjoyments were had. An arrow had pierced his heart, and he knew it not as of the Lord. Soon after this a violent disease broke out in his family, and in a short time carried two of his children to the grave. He now became greatly concerned for the salvation of his soul. For many years he had been "fore-singer" (leader of song) in his church, was a member of it in good standing, but he had great unrest within. How to find rest he knew not, nor was there any one in all the neighborhood, not even his pastor, who could give him the proper counsel at this time. He earnestly sought God in prayer for direction and deliverance. After a long struggle he was led into the glorious liberty of the people of God. His conversion was clear and powerful. This was so new in his community, and to him so satisfying, that he felt a strong motive within him to tell his neighbors and friends about it. When by himself working in the fields he would tell the story of his salvation to imaginary audiences. Thus the spirit of God was gradually leading him into the Christian ministry. He began his work with the holding of prayer-meetings, where he took the liberty to read a portion of scripture and give an exhortation. Invitations for such services in the houses of his neighbors showed that his work was taking effect. His heart-stirring words on these occasions revealed the nature of the pent-up fires in his own heart. Having gained confidence in himself and God, he gave the gospel trumpet no uncertain sound. He knew everybody in the community. The evil ways and the godless lives of the people were no secret to him. He laid bare their wickedness, held up their sins before their eyes and exhorted them with all tenderness of heart and often with his eyes streaming with tears, to repent and turn to Christ for salvation.

"Truth from his lips prevailed with double sway,
And fools who came to scoff, remained to pray."

The results of these earnest and faithful efforts were soon apparent. The Haneys, the Strayers, the Stableys, the Smieghs, the Grimms, and many others were converted to God, and identified themselves with the revival movement.

These prayer-meetings, which were an unexpected innovation on the settled methods of the neighborhood, were held from house to house, and the walking of a distance of from two to six miles to these gatherings was a matter only to be lightly considered. "Brother Flinchbaugh, taking his perforated lantern, with a stub of tallow-candle, would call everybody old and strong enough, to him, and then through woods, underbrush, over rocks and hills, would lead them to prayer-meeting, regardless of the toil in the summer or the cold of the winter. Such devotion cannot fail to win. These meetings were attended with about the usual outward demonstrations of shoutings, clapping of hands and leaping for joy. Such a departure from the regular methods of worship as conducted in the church had the double effect of drawing the people to see and hear, as also of stirring up opposition." The leaven of revival by this time pretty thoroughly permeated the community, so that many were not slow to express a preference for the meetings held after this fashion than for the services in the church. This gave rise to warm discussion among the several adherents. During all this time Brother Flinchbaugh was still the leader of the singing in the church, in which he had worshiped from his youth. His revival services, in common with all reform movements, awakened active opposition. But he was one who could meet his neighbors in friendly discussion and prove by scripture that his views and practices harmonized with the Word of God. Being defeated in argument by the superior wisdom of Brother Flinchbaugh, they finally prevailed on the preacher to take the controversy into the pulpit, and silence these troublesome people. "Accordingly on a Sabbath morning, after the introductory services, the pastor arose and announced that in all probability he would preach longer this morning than usual, but they should have patience and hear him, as he had a special subject to bring before the congregation. He at once entered into the subject and began to denounce all revival effort, and especially the noise and shouting that was tolerated in such meetings. While he was striking out with vehemence Brother Flinchbaugh arose, and with his trumpet voice said to the preacher, 'El der Heiland gebiet es jo (why, the Lord commanded it so)' The preacher seemed confused, stammered out a few words, and abruptly closed the services. The unusually long sermon ended in about ten or fifteen minutes."

About this time it became apparent that to maintain their spiritual life they must sever their connection with the church of their early choice and identify themselves with such as encourage a change of heart and life. This was done about the year 1829, shortly after the first class in the county was organized, with which they became identified. What Rev. John Haney was to the Winterstown Church Rev. F. Flinchbaugh was to Stabley's Church, especially in their early history.

Soon after Brother Flinchbaugh had connected himself with our church, the annual conference gave him license to preach. He traveled a few years as an itinerant, but served mostly in a local relation with great efficiency. It was no unusual thing for him to walk ten miles on a Sunday morning, preach and then walk home again. "And there were giants in those days," and Brother Flinchbaugh was one of them. His most enduring monument is erected in the hearts of a large number of grateful people, who under God owe their conversion directly or indirectly to him. Many of his descendants are still battling for the same religion and the same church. He died January 14, 1866, at a ripe and honored old age. His wife, Mary, died January 20, 1866. His memory is a precious legacy to the church he loved so well. Longfellow has well said:

"When a great man dies.
For years beyond our ken,
The life he leaves behind him
Lies upon the paths of men."

And so Rev. F. Flinchbaugh has not been forgotten. The life he lived so long and well will continue to lie "upon the paths of men," brightening their way to the kingdom of heaven.

Notes for John Seitz:

York, March 14, 2000 - Before the invention of the automobile, before tractors replaced horses in the fields, the Seitz family produced hames wooden curved supports that attach to the collar of a draft horse. The traveler or fanner would fasten the traces to the hames to pull a load. John Seitz started the business in the 1850s in a little village along the Susquehanna Trail just north of Shrewsbury that became known for the production of hames. Hence the village earned the name, Hametown. It is said that Seitz contributed to the war effort during the Civil War when the U.S. Army asked for 16,000 pairs of hames, according to the book "Made in York" and descendants of the Seitz family. He used an anvil and forge, a boring tool, some paint and brushes in manufacturing the white oak hames. He sold them under the name of Seitz Loudon Patent Hames. Seitz's son and grandson, both named Benjamin Franklin Seitz, continued the family business until the early 1930s when cars and tractors grew in use. The barn and hame factory disappeared over the years. Only the farmhouse where the hame-makers lived served as a reminder of the once-prosperous business. Now that piece of history will disappear this spring.

Shrewsbury Township, which has owned the Seitz house since the mid-1970s, plans to tear it down later this month. The house and land, which the township building and a park now sit on, had been donated to the township by a former owner. For years the township rented out the home to families. When the last one moved out last year, the supervisors needed to decide the fate of the home. The old house, which dates back to at least the late 1800s, needs repairs. The septic system on the property is failing, Supervisor Joyce Easton said. The supervisors had looked at a variety of options, including repairing the home or even moving it. But nothing seemed feasible. It would take too much money to put in it, she said.

The supervisors voted unanimously in January to dismantle the house. They are allowing Historic York Inc. to salvage old doors, a claw-foot bathtub, mantles, wainscoting and other old fixtures in the home. Those items will be sold through Historic York's architectural warehouse. The proceeds benefit the agency, said Bryan Mundy, warehouse manager. Steve Saubel, a descendant of the Seitz family, plans to contact the state about placing a historical marker on the property. "It's a lot of history there," he said.

Saubel doesn't question the townships decision to tear down the house. He understands that it probably has been a burden on the township. His brother, Greg Saubel, is tearing down a log-front house just down the road in Hametown. The ceiling caved in on the old home and it, too, needed extensive repairs. So, he sold the old, interlocking log section of the home to a man who will be reassembling it for a house in Bel Air, Maryland.

Greg Saubel thinks the home may have dated back to at least the early 1800s. He found a 12-foot cave that apparently served as an underground cellar. There also was a 47-foot deep well on the property. Robert Shaub, a Railroad resident interested in local history, said it's a shame to see York County lose two more pieces of its heritage. I hate to see a lot of these places go by the wayside, he said.

Crumbling read the biographical sketch given below and added remarks as to the virtues of the departed. The choir of the church rendered with much express "Lead Kindly Light" and other selections. Mrs. Dershem and Miss Annie Pines sang a fine duet. The interment took place in the Lewisburg Cemetery. The ministers present were, E. Crumbling, H. W. Buck, A. H. Irvine, L. Dice, W. E. Detwiler, J. The stores of the town were closed in honor of the deceased at the time of the funeral, as Mr. Reeser had been a merchant in the town for a number of years.

Notes for Robert Franklin Stabley:

Pennsylvania EIGHTY-NINTH REGIMENT-EIGHTH CAVALRY: This regiment achieved immortality by its desperate charge upon "Stonewall" Jackson's infantry at Chancellorsville. Lycoming was well represented in the regiment and in the charge. One of the Lycoming companies had the lead in that charge, and sustained considerable loss. James B. Denworth, of Company K, was promoted on the field in this battle for gallantry. Samuel Wilson, of Company B, from this county, became lieutenant colonel, and was both wounded and captured during his service. He was one of the bravest and most representative soldiers of the county. John S. Howard, captain of Company G, from this county, was mortally wounded at Dinwiddie Court House. David McM. Gregg, who became a conspicuous cavalry commander, served as colonel of the regiment, and became auditor general of the State in 1891. Company K contained the following from Lycoming county: 1st Lieutenant, William C. Cole; 1st Sergeant, Christian Gohl; Quartermaster Sergeant, Charles T. Hoffman; Sergeant, James B. Denworth. Corporals: Joseph C. Pepperman, Erskine M. Beach. Privates: Thomas Allen, John Bricker, Daniel Barto, Henry K. Bricker, Frederick M. Bricker, Orin N. Beach, Frank C. Bumgardner, Daniel R. She was born 30 Jul 1882 in Loganton, Clinton Co, Pennsylvania, and died 19 Dec 1959 in Jersey Shore, Lycoming Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Adam Harrison Stabley:

Jersey Shore, Aug. 1, 1925 - A bloodstained newspaper and another missing girl are the two latest developments of the murder mystery, now popularly known as the "Big Rock Mystery" because of the finding of the body of a young woman near Big Rock camp, above Rauchtown.

The body was discovered on July 15, 1925. The bloodstained newspaper, a copy of the Williamsport Sun, was found folded tightly, together and wedged in between two rocks, not far from the place where the body was hidden. The date of issue of the newspaper was July 16, 1921. The missing girl is Teresa Stabley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stabley, of Loganton, R. 1. No. 2, Sugar Valley. The description of Stabley fits the description of the body found near Big Rock camp. The missing girl was last heard from on January 3, 1925, when she wrote her mother from a small town in Shenandoah Valley that she would be home on Easter, April 12. It was either on April 10 or April 17 that a woman, living in Antes Gap, saw what is supposed to be a body being transported on the running board of an automobile. The fact that Teresa Stabley wrote that she would be home on April 12 may have some significance when taken in connection with one of the dates April 10 given by the woman, who saw the body being transported through the gap.

District Attorney Hollis and Detective Sam Myers, of Clinton County were again at the scene of the discovery of the body. They were acquainted with the latest developments of the case. District Attorney Hollis said he was investigating the Stabley feature of the mystery. The mother of Teresa Stabley said she had been married to Floyd Klobe, of Sugar Valley, but the two had parted on December 8, 1923 and she bid adieu to him and her parents and brothers and sisters. At first assuming her maiden name and later that of Tessie Cole, the young woman lived in Harrisburg for a time and later traveled about with a theatrical company, assuming a small speaking part. She wrote home about once every two months. Her mother said she always seemed to have plenty of money, word of a map, recounted the fine clothes and much jewelry. A string of pearls about her neckline young woman declared to be genuine and valuable. On one occasion, visiting her parents, she distribute considerable money to both mother and father and her brothers and sisters. She exhibited the string of pearls and several rings on her fingers. Her mother said her wardrobe consisted of several pair of tan hose - the color of hose found on the body near Rock camp - a blue silk dress and silk underwear and other finery.

Last January when she wrote home, she was working in a grocery store in a small town in Shenandoah Valley, the name of which her mother could not recall and the letter having been destroyed. The mother was at the office of district attorney recently. The latter, with names of all, small towns in the hard coal regions, the mother averring that if she heard the name, she will be able to recall the name given in the letter from her daughter. In this way the district attorney hopes to trace Teresa Stabley or Tessie Cole, the name she assumed.

The majority of those reported missing bore no resemblance to the dead woman, however, but the fact that Miss Stabley fits the description of the dead woman gives this new development an importance that the officials are not denying. Miss Stabley was of the height and weight of the dead woman. Her mother was unable to describe her teeth. The dead woman had several gold crowns and a few missing.

The only point of difference is in the hair. The hair of the dead woman was not bobbed, neither was it long. When last seen by her mother, Miss Stabley wore her hair bobbed, but she may have allowed it to grow since that time. The color of the hair corresponded.

The fact that Teressa Stabley wrote home every two months, that she has not been heard from since January; that she expected to revisit her home on April 12, that the body may have been deposited in the mountains on April 10, and that she wore much jewelry and always carried considerable money, none of which were found on the body, may have a significance that is being seriously considered by the authorities.

Jersey Shore, August 11, 1925 - Chief of Police Christine, of this place, may yet achieve the distinction of solving the Rauchtown murder mystery according to inferences which may be drawn from his recent statements. Chief Christine says he is awaiting certain information which may lead to an arrest shortly. He is said to have conferred with a group of Jersey Shore residents who gave him information linking local individuals with the finding of the body. Additional facts are expected in a few days which would establish a definite connection or dispose of the supposition entirely. It is not known definitely just what direction the investigation of District Attorney Hollis, of Clinton County, and his assistants has taken. The latest report was that the Stabley girl was seen in Allentown about April 1, and that the local authorities were trying to trace her.

There were reports last week that the Stabley girl had been seen here July 3, by individuals who recognized a picture in a Williamsport paper Sunday. It was later established that the girl who was in the Jersey Shore at that time, although she resembled the, Stabley girl, had no connection with her. Both are reported to be from Sugar Valley. Chief Christine is said to know her name, but has declined to reveal it. It is thought she left for another city.

The opinion is growing that investigations of the Stabley angle of the case will lead to nothing. This bears out the testimony of those who saw the body before its interment who declared that the woman must have been between 30 and 45 years old. This was especially established through the wearing down of the teeth, which were ground down much further than would be possible if the woman had been only 23 years old, the age of the Stabley girl.

None of the women who have been traced in connection with the case at least as far as Attorney Hollis has indicated, have been more than 22 or 23 years old. District Attorney Hollis, early in his investigation, expressed the opinion that the murder had been committed outside Clinton County and the body brought to Rauchtown for concealment. Now, however, it is said that the investigating authorities are of the opinion that the body was thrown into the underbrush within an hour or two after death.

Notes for Nellie Fern Miller:

Lancaster - Mrs. Nellie M. Ensminger, 74, widow of Paul P. Ensminger, former Democratic Seventh Ward alderman, was found dead on the living room floor of her home at 530 New Dauphin St., at 9:16 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1967. Dr. Joseph L. Eckenrode, county coroner, who was summoned by city police, said death was caused by a cerebral thrombosis and fixed the time of death at about 8 a.m. Monday. Mrs. Ensminger had been scheduled to work as clerk on the election board of the fifth precinct of the Seventh Ward, located in the Edward Hand Junior High School. When she failed to report for duty, the election board tried to contact her by telephone but got no response. The board finally called a neighbor, Mrs. Anita Schreiber, of 528 New Dauphin St., to investigate. Mrs. Schreiber went to the Ensminger home, looked through the front door and saw Mrs. Ensminger lying on the living room floor. She returned to her home and her husband, Samuel Schreiber, called city police.

Detectives Luther Henry and Joseph Geesey, who investigated, said the victim was found on the floor near a telephone table. Dr. Eckenrode told police Mrs. Ensminger apparently fell after she was stricken, and struck her head against the table. Mrs. Ensminger was active in community and musical circles. She served as president of the Musical Art Society for three terms. She had studied piano at the Combs Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia, for three years. A former president of the Auxiliary to the Lancaster Osteopathic Hospital, she was named to the board of directors of the hospital in 1952. She took an active part in the work of the Women's Symphony Auxiliary and the Community Chest. In January of this year, she was co-chairman of the visitation program in local nursing homes and institutions for the United Church Women in conjunction with World Day of Prayer. Her husband died in April, 1962.

Born in York, Pennsylvania, she was the daughter of the late George and Ida Seitz Miller and was a member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ. Survivors include two children, Betty, wife of George W. Taylor, Pennsauken, New Jersey, and Paul W., Indianapolis; six grandchildren: and two brothers, George A. Miller, Lancaster and Harold E. Notes for Florrie ?:

Florrie Peters, 104, passed away on January 2, 2016. Yes, she made another year. She was born on July 6, 1911 in Georgia. The world was a better place for 104 years and now heaven has a new angel. Typically, we wish for the deceased to "Rest in Peace", but that doesn't seem to fit the life of Florrie Peters. In her case it could be "Rock on MeMa". She was known as MeMa to her family and "Kookie Momma" to her friends at Bayside, her home for many years. Today the music flows from her heavenly piano; we mourn her here on earth. Florrie had 5 children and 17+ grandchildren. She showed the world about life and how to live. She was an artist, a singer, a piano player and a natural entertainer and touched all the souls that listened.

Florrie played the piano at the Hospice House in Fort Myers in the last month of her life; "The Standing Ovation" as her family called it, and earned a ticket back to her Fort Myers Home where she was so happy. She celebrated Christmas at home with her family, just as she had wished. MeMa's family celebrates her life, not the number of years but the way she lived. She spent her life giving and caring for others. She played the piano at the Fort Myers Beach VFW for over 20 years, was active in her church and in Kiwanis for years, cooking for their weekly breakfast meetings and became the first female member. Florrie enjoyed every day, every meal and all her friends and family. She could find great pleasure in the simple things in life. Today her music rings loud in heaven and in the memory of all of us on earth.

A Celebration of Life will be held on Saturday, March 19, 2016 at her daughter's home. In lieu of flowers, she would encourage donations to Hope Hospice, 9470 Healthpark Circle, Fort Myers, Florida 33908, who assisted in her peaceful passing.

Notes for Evelyn Cora Ailman:

Evelyn Cora Ailman was born November 6, 1923 in Douglas, Wyoming to Harry Boyer Ailman and Ellen Cora (Ashland) Ailman. The family eventually moved to Long Beach, California where Evelyn graduated from Long Beach HS in 1941. She attended Long Beach City College and worked as a secretary at Douglas Aircraft, now Boeing. While dating with a young man she met his friend, a dashing young naval officer named Robert Dise, it was love at first sight and her heart was his. Evelyn Cora Ailman became Evelyn AilmanDise on September 1, 1947. As a Navy wife she learned that collaborating with the Navy was better than resisting so she dove right in, raising five children while her husband was at sea or war and moving to a new duty station about every two years. Always the volunteer and support to her husband's command obligations, Evelyn assumed leadership roles in Navy, church, and community-service organizations wherever the family moved. She would join, and shortly thereafter lead, organizations ranging from garden clubs, scouting organizations, church councils, Navy wives' support bodies, and care institutions such as the National Lutheran Home.

In every way the leader and organizer Evelyn gave herself wholly to whatever organization she was involved in, whether service or hobby. Among her contributions and accomplishments are Committee member and chair of various committees, and Board of Trustees member of the National Lutheran Home (now The Village at Rockville) in Rockville, Maryland; longstanding member of Five Hills Garden Club in Vienna, Virginia; volunteer at Wolf Trap National Park for the Performing Arts, volunteer at Meadowlark Botanical Gardens, Vienna, Virginia; District chairman of the National Capital Area Federation of Garden Clubs; member of the Navy Officers Wives Club; active member of the Old Dominion Chrysanthemum Society; and the American Hosta Society and its local chapter, the Potomac Hosta Club. Among her recognitions and accomplishments are;

- Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society for 50 years and 10,000 hours of knitting and sewing for the Layette Division
- Outstanding Member of the Year by the Garden Clubs of the Metropolitan D.C. Area
- With her husband Bob, 2009 recipients of the Old Dominion Chrysanthemum Society's "Nels and Ginny

Johnson Award for Outstanding Service"

Living in northern Virginia for over 40 years since her husband's retirement from the Navy, Evelyn was very active in church committees and organizations, as well as Boy Scout committees and activities through her husband, for which she received many accolades, awards and recognition for her dedicated service. As a member of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, it's hard to recall a position Evelyn didn't fill, or a task or event for which she didn't volunteer. Whether the Altar Guild, VBS, women's associations and the like. Evelyn loved to be outdoors. Weekends would find her weeding the yard, planting flowers, hostas, and, oh yes, chrysanthemums. She enjoyed long drives with her husband, to visit family in Charlottesville, Virginia, Cedar Falls, Iowa, or her husband's hometown of Glen Rock, Pennsylvania, exploring new restaurants and stopping to see shops and sites along the way. Everyone who knows Evelyn, knows she collected things...lots of things, but she also surrounded herself with friends, and family, and was a giver of memories. We will all miss her.

Evelyn's husband of 67 years, Robert, died November 18, 2014. She is survived by four children, Robert Jr. and his wife Jenifer, David, Carol Lewis and her husband Steve, and Jeffrey and his wife Debra, as well as six grandchildren Aaron Dise, Sara Housewright and her husband Jason, Hannah Critzer and her husband Geoff, Elise Flanders, Jonathan Flanders, and Ian Flanders, and even further, nine greatgrandchildren Emma, Juliet, Phoebe, Kahana and William Dise, and Fiona, Elya and Liam Housewright and Louise Critzer.

The marriage of Miss Rita Marie Caprio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caprio, Pearl Street, to James Lewis Stabley took place this morning April 11, 1953 in the Immaculate Conception Church. Mr. Stabley, is the son of Mrs. Pearl Mitterling of Mill Hall. White spring flowers orn1ed a setting for the double ring ceremony which was performed at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Charles W.M. White. He also celebrated the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white nylon net and schiffli embroidery. The fitted strapless bodice was edged in rows of crystal pleated net and had a tiny bolero. The embroidery fell over the crystal pleated skirt. Her French illusion veil, ballerina in length, was attached to a head band of lilies of the valley and she carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid and white satin streamers edged in lilies of the valley.

Miss Martha Matthew of Pittsburgh, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the only attendant. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pink nylon net. The strapless gown fitted bodice was edged in tiny pleats of net and both the bodice and full overskirt were trimmed in small, pink velvet flowers. A matching stole of pink net completed her costume. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed spring flowers and wore a head band. of spring flowers. Joseph Pecchia of Avis was best man. Ushers were James Reynolds, Lock Haven, and John Plastas of Flemington. Mrs. Caprio, mother of the bride, chose a Chantilly type lace dress shade of roses. The strapless bodice had a cuff of matching taffeta and was covered by a shrug bolero of lace edged in taffeta. To complete her costume she wore navy accessories and a corsage of mixed spring flowers. Mother of the bridegroom was attired in a two-piece dress of powder blue crepe. The jacket was edged in matching lace and she wore a blue hat of the same shade. Her corsage was of mixed spring flowers.

A wedding breakfast at the Fallon Hotel for the bridal party and immediate family members followed the service. The young couple then departed for a wedding trip to the Poconos. Marriage Notes for Arnold Walker and Robertha Lloyd:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Walker, of 639 Seventh Street, San Bernardino, are at home from a happy visit at Santa Monica where they witnessed the marriage of their son, Arnold K. Walker and Miss Robertha Lloyd, formerly of Portland, Oregon, and daughter of Mrs. Martha Lloyd of Santa Monica. The ceremony was read at 6 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church on Saturday evening, March 1, 1930, a company of over one hundred relatives and friends being present, when the pastor, Dr. Allen read the marriage ritual. Mrs. Byrde Bohan of San Bernardino, played the organ wedding music. The bride was very lovely in a wedding gown of rich ivory satin, with exquisite veil of lace, an heir-loom in the family. The flowers were a shower of bride's roses, lilies-of-the-valley and maidenhair fern. Miss Bernice Lloyd attended her sister a bridesmaid wearing a frock of Nymph green chiffon, and carrying pink sweet peas. The groom was attended by his brother, Mac Walker of San Bernardino.

After the ceremony the bridal party and members of the two families accompanied the bride and groom to Casello Mare on the Roosevelt highway near Santa Monica where an elaborate wedding supper was served with charming decorations. Places for 19 were laid at the table, embowered in flowers, with centerpiece of sweet peas, stock, marguerites, anemones, sweet peas, and smilax, with the pink and white note in other appointments. The huge pyramid wedding cake was elaborately decorated and the pink flower cups holding bon-bons were decorated with a miniature bride and groom on either side.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker left soon for a motor honeymoon trip to Phoenix, Arizona, and other interesting places in the state. They will make their home in Hollywood. The groom who is a graduate of the Billings, Montana high school, afterward attending University of Minnesota, for seven years has been with the Los Angeles Desk Co. in Los Angeles. He is a son of Charlie Walker who has been connected with the Sun Printing & Publishing Co. for nine years, and is a brother of the late Sanford H. Walker, so well-known as a teller in the Bank of America of California. The bride is a brother of Bob Lloyd, well known aviator, and instructor at the Clover flying field at Santa Monica. San Bernardino friends of the Walker family will anticipate meeting the new benedict in the family and his bride, when they visit here.

He was born 07 Aug 1892 in Clinton Co, Pennsylvania, and died 12 Aug 1923 in Lock Haven, Clinton Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Oliver Wendell Shaw:

Lock Haven, Aug. 13, 1923 – Oliver Wendle Shaw, 31 years old, of 207 North Grove Street, Lock Haven, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 4:20 o'clock when the entire left side of his head was blown off by an exploding shot gun. While all indications point to a suicide, the true nature of the accident will not be actually decided until the coroner's inquest is held Tuesday afternoon. Shaw and his wife of six-months old son had just returned from a visit to the home of Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Herr, of South Hanna Street. According to the story told by his overwrought wife, Shaw took the shotgun from a closet and walked about the room with it. Later, while Mrs. Shaw was in the front room, the shot rang out.

Mrs. Shaw snatched up her baby and ran down two flights of stairs to the street crying that her husband had shot off the top of his head. Her cries and the sound of the shot attracted a number of neighbors to the Shaw apartment. Shaw as found sitting at the table with a large pool of blood at his feet. The barrel of the shot gun rested on his chest and the stock was placed between his feet. His left hand clutched the barrel near the end while his right rested over the gun.

Physicians were summoned as a matter of formality. In the absence of Coroner David J. Barry, Deputy Sheriff Harrison Johnson took charge of the case. He impaneled a jury and looked over the situation after which an undertaker took charge of the body. Coroner Barry reached Lock Haven late last evening and took charge. He announced that he would hold an inquest Tuesday or as soon as Mrs. Shaw is able to appear.

Shaw, who is employed at the blacksmith shop of the N.Y.C. shops at Avis moved to Lock Haven about April 1. He had been married about three years. Friends said yesterday that he intended to make his home in Avis again within six weeks. It was also said that Shaw had not been well for a year or more and that he had suffered a great deal from stomach trouble and feared cancer.

Lock Haven, Pennsylvania – Volunteer fireman Joseph Heltman, 27, of the Dunstown Fire Co., was killed late Wednesday night March 24, 1971 when his tanker sideswiped an auto and overturned on Route 222. Heltman was on his way to a fire which destroyed a barn in Mill Hall owned by Charles Bowman and used as a warehouse by the Snowiss Fur Co. of Lock Haven, Alvin Snowiss, a company official, said the barn contained several tons of opossum hides.

State police said Heltman was driving the fire truck west and was overtaking a line of cars when one of the autos, operated by William Walker, 16, Flemington, pulled in to the center lane to make a left turn.

Judith "Judy" Heltman Lamprecht, 86, of Delmar, New York, died Friday, December 24, 2004, at St. Peter's Hospital. Born in Syracuse, New York, on February 12, 1918, she was the daughter of the late Syracuse University Professor Harry J. Heltman and the late Helen (Cafilisch) Heltman of Syracuse. She was raised in Syracuse and was educated at the Northfield School and Syracuse University, where she received a Bachelor of Arts in Theater and a Master of Arts in English Literature. While studying for her MA, she worked at Syracuse radio station WOLF, where she met her future husband, Joseph Lamprecht Jr. Upon completing her MA, she filled a maternity leave teaching vacancy in Cooperstown. After she married, Judy was employed by Syracuse University, first as a secretary and then as a teacher of report writing to Army Air Corps cadets. Her husband was employed by the New York Telephone Company, which required them to move eight times, before settling in Delmar, where she lived for 35 years. Judy used her voice and dramatic talents, combined with extensive professional training, to direct variety shows for the Delmar Progress Club, the Delmar Reformed Church, several amateur theater companies, Childs Hospital and many social groups. She sang in many church choirs, played piano whenever needed and gave piano lessons for many years. As a Sigma Kappa, she was a longstanding member of the Albany Pan-Hellenic Association, serving as president several times, and for many years she delivered "Meals on Wheels".

Notes for George Allan Heltman:

In The Supreme Court of The State Of Utah - - Margaret Evelyn Heltman, Plaintiff and Respondent, No. 13151 v. FILED June 21, 1973 George Allen Heltman, Defendant and Appellant. L. M. Cummings, Clerk

Henroid, Justice: Appeal from a judgment denying defendant's petition in a divorce matter for reduction of payments to Mrs. H., from $85 per month per child to $50. The judgment in all respects is affirmed, with costs to Mrs. H. The parties were married in 1950, and divorced 20 years later, in April, 1970, after four children had been born to them. Eighty-five dollars per month each was decreed her for the support of three children awarded to her. Two months later Mrs. H. was graduated from school with a sociology degree, after which she was employed at $800 per month. Quite, coincidentally, this was the same gross income received at the time of hearing this matter by Mr. H. Heltman then married another woman after his divorce, in 1972, before he filed his petition here. She earns $600 per month. Nonetheless, Mr. H. assigned his marriage to her as a change of circumstances, apparently to show additional burden - without mentioning her income. By this time Mr. H. had defaulted on his payments of support money, had a $1,900 judgment rendered against him for arrearages, a little over a year and a half after the divorce, and apparently in some sort of self-defense or perhaps retaliation sought the reductive relief mentioned above,

He now says that the trial court 1) abused its discretion in failing to deify his plaint and 2) violated his Fourth and Fourteenth Federal Constitutional Amendment rights in addition to his Utah State Constitutional rights under Article I, Section 2, thereof, by asserting and emphasizing a strange cumulative montage of so-called equal protective rights argument, that finds comfort in the heart, perhaps, of an unhappy or agonized ex-husband, but not in any immunity from parental obligation, - under any woman's "lib" concept of parity nor in derogation of the trial court's obvious application of equitable principle directed toward familial needs and obligations. We do not decide Mrs. H.'s request for attorney's fees on appeal, for the reason that this matter is determinable by the lower court in a proper proceeding, where, as is not the case in this court, the matter may be determined by sworn testimony, but determinable by the trial court as arbiter not only of the facts but as to justification for such award, the amount thereof, and whether under the particular circumstances of each case, any award is or is not justified at all.

George Heltman passed away Sunday, September 24, 2000. George was born September 21, 1926 in Syracuse, New York to Harry and Helen Heltman. He is survived by his wife, Marilyn Amos Heltman, as well as his previous wives, Margaret Heltman, Louise Heltman and Romona Anderson; his children Charlotte, Bruce, Patrick and Keith Heltman; step-children, Julie Hopkinson, Randy Henderson, Denise Lancaster (E.L.), Ronald Forsland (Heidi) and Robert Forsland (Jane); many grandchildren and great-grandchildren; his sisters Rebecca and Judy. George is preceded in death by his parents as well as sisters, Mary and Dory.

George was extremely talented and intelligent. He could fix almost anything you could put in front of him. In time, the memory of his wit and humor, his loving and caring will help fix the hurt we all fill at his loss. We will miss you dearly.

Notes for Elizabeth Gayle (Betty) Killingsworth:

Our beautiful mother, Elizabeth (Betty) Gayle Haws, passed away peacefully on Sunday morning, March 15, 2015, in her daughter's home in Northfield, Minnesota. She was born on May 24, 1927 to Bess and Clyde Killingsworth in Prescott, Arizona. She attended St Mary's High School and Arizona State University. She fell in love with "Eddie", a handsome air force pilot and they were married on November 11, 1949 in Phoenix. She traveled the world with him during his military career and they settled down in Phoenix when he retired. She was a devout catholic and served the Lord at St. Augustine's Parish, where she met many of her closest friends.

Our mother's greatest legacy was her 60-year marriage to the love of her life, our father, Edwin B Haws. Theirs was a true witness of Christian marriage - she was devoted to him and he to her. We rejoice that they now abide together in their forever home. Our mother was a beautiful example of Christian love and grace. All were welcome in her home and she was always ready to set a place for one more at her table. God's love shone through her as she taught us grace by her living example. We carry that legacy forward and honor her as we share HIS love, grace, and compassion with others.

She is survived by her children, the joy of her life. They are Michael Haws and his wife Joanne of Golden, Colorado, Mary Ann Ogle and her husband Craig of Charlotte, North Carolina, Janice Roberts and her husband Anthony of Northfield, Minnesota, Jeri Manos and her husband Tim of Phoenix, Sue Glascoe and her husband Lee of Chandler. Her grandchildren include Christina (Danny) Frasier, Christopher (Lauren) Haws, Elisabeth (Brian) Keelan, Sarabeth (Travis) Mathis, Hilary Haws, Rachel (Billy) Wood, Zeke Ogle, Joshua Ogle, Abby Roberts, Naomi Roberts, Zoe (Jared) Morrison, Jayme (Heather) Manos, Kestrel Glascoe and Riley Glascoe. One of the greatest blessings in her life was her 4 great grandchildren, Ethan and Josiah Frasier, Ivydee Haws, and Beckham Keelan. Elizabeth has one surviving brother she dearly loved, Jim (Arlene) Killingsworth of Phoenix and one sister-in-law, Nan Killingsworth, of Phoenix. She leaves behind a large extended family of nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her husband, Edwin B. Haws, her mother and father, Bess and Clyde Killingsworth, and her brothers Jack and Bill Killingsworth.

The mass to celebrate her life will be held on Friday, March 27, 2015, at noon at St Benedict Catholic Church, 16223 S. 48th Street in Phoenix. Following the mass, we will gather at Resthaven Park Cemetery, 4310 E Southern Avenue, for her interment. The family will receive friends after the interment at 5751 W Gail Drive, Chandler. Directions will be provided at the mass.

Notes for Catherine Sue Allard:

Catherine "Sue" Formosa, August 31, 1929 to June 12, 2019, predeceased by husband Joseph Anthony Formosa; resident of Vanadium Woods Village, Bridgeville, formerly of Cloverleaf Estates and Westwood; daughter of Bertha (Baldwin) and Charles H. Allard. Sue was a member of St Elizabeth Ann Seton Church in Carnegie, Pennsylvania and at the church was a member of Partners in Prayer, Ladies of Charity, and Christian Mothers. Before Sunday Mass, she led the congregants in the rosary, and she helped prepare the soft drinks for the weekly Lenten Fish Fry events. During their retirement, Sue and Joe travelled the United States in their motor home. They had five children together: Karen (Michael) Yukevich, Cathy (Robert) Lutes, Carol (Gregory) Swank, Cynthia, deceased, (Robert) Allingham, and Michael (Lorraine) Formosa; 12 grandchildren, and 10 great grandchildren, the twins Luke and Ben, bringing her absolute, perfect delight.

She was an artist who loved to paint on canvas but would also paint just about anything she could get her hands on from decorating shoes with painted flowers to furniture, and even clothing. If you admired one of her paintings, she gave it to you. She also sent hand-painted greeting cards with painted envelopes to each of the 40 members of her family to celebrate their birthdays including holiday cards to all of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She did the same with her too-many-to-count friends. Her Saturday early morning wake-up calls will be missed by her children, as will her not-so-gentle reminders (which continued even into her children's late adulthood) to use good manners and write thank you notes. The family would like to extend its heartfelt gratitude to the kind, caring employees and residents of Vanadium Woods; and for helping Sue navigate the end of her journey, to Three Rivers Hospice and the very special ladies of Theresa's Girls.

Mass of Christian Burial 10:00a.m., Friday, June 28, 2019, in St Elizabeth Ann Seton Church, Carnegie. Burial private by family only in the National Cemetery of the Alleghenies, Bridgeville, PA. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to St Elizabeth Ann Seton Church, 330 Third Avenue, Carnegie, Pennsylvania, 15106.

She married James Harry Meyers 1948. He was born 05 Jul 1923 in York Co, Pennsylvania, and died 23 Jan 2003 in York, York Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Jane Rojahn:

Jane Rojahn Meyers, a loving mother and caring nurse to those in need, died Friday, July 11, 2003 at 5 p.m. at Rest Haven after a lengthy illness. Jane was born in Dallastown on October 14, 1924, the fourth child of Isaiah H. and Flossie (Sechrist) Rojahn. She enjoyed growing up with family and close friends nearby in that small town's atmosphere. As a young girl and probably because of her older brothers, she described herself as a tomboy, who enjoyed sports, especially softball and just being outdoors. She graduated from Dallastown High School in 1942 and recently enjoyed her 60th reunion with her classmates. At the time of this country's great need during 1942-1943, she worked at York Dental Supply to earn funds to attend nursing school and then help in the war effort. She realized her goal and graduated as a registered nurse from Maryland General Hospital in 1946, too late to serve her country in war but in time to care for her ailing parents. Jane's nursing career became secondary in her life shortly after being introduced to the late James Harry Meyers (1923-2003), her husband for 54 years. They met on a double date with Jim's brother Joe in 1947, were married in 1948, and lived in Dallastown.

Jane and Jim had two daughters and four sons, who survived them: Joseph Michael Meyers of Athens, Georgia, James P. Meyers of York Haven, Janeen Meyers Coffin of Camden, Delaware, John E. Meyers of Bridgeville, Jeremy I. Meyers of Shamokin and Jennifer Meyers Taylor of Felton. Jane is survived by 15 grandchildren and one great-granddaughter. She and her older sister, the late Hope Rojahn Eberly (1920-2000), her late brothers, John (1909-1989) and Philip Rojahn (1912-1972), and only surviving sibling, Joseph D. Rojahn of Dallastown, raised their families (27 cousins) in homes just a few blocks apart in Dallastown.

In 1973, she and Jim moved to Jacobus. Jane maintained her career skills while raising a family by taking occasional nursing assignments. After that, she provided home nursing care by working as a health aide for the Lutheran Social Services. Jane and Jim retired in 1983 and enjoyed traveling to New Zealand and visiting relatives and friends throughout the United States. They visited Ralph and Jennette Evans of Cortland, Ohio on occasions from the 1950's to 1990's. Jim and his platoon sergeant, Ralph, survived the Battle of the Bulge and Battle at Remagen (Bridge) in Europe during World War II, for which their company received two Presidential Unit Citations. Jane supported veterans through her membership in the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion Post 605 of Dallastown. In retirement, Jane devoted volunteer time to the Rescue Mission in Dallastown and promoted their efforts to assist those in need, especially in Dallastown. Jane and Jim enjoyed simple things together, but especially seniors' team bowling, summer church picnics, and visiting their retreat in the mountains of north-central Pennsylvania. Jane enjoyed helping people and accepted everyone. She devoted her life to her husband, children and family. Her nonjudgmental personality and faith in God were evident throughout her life, even when she was under Hospice care. We miss her.

Children of Gladys Reichard and Merle Showalter are:

- + 2437 i. Carol Ann<sup>13</sup> Showalter, born 08 Sep 1947.
- 2438 ii. Beth Susan Showalter, born 07 Aug 1953. She married Gregory Bruce Marsh 04 Aug 1979 in Lancaster Co, Pennsylvania; born 30 Sep 1954.

Notes for Gregory Bruce Marsh:

They met at Millersville in the tumultuous 70s, dated seriously after she graduated, married after he graduated, moved out of state, became parents of a daughter, and today live in the sunny Silicon Valley, both holding responsible positions and enjoying moments together as a family. They are Gregory Marsh, a 1976 graduate and native of Hanover, and Beth Showalter Marsh of Lancaster, a 1975 grad. They own a comfortable, sprawling, one-floor, California style home in San Jose, just a few minutes from the shopping center where Greg manages the Kay Jewelry Store. Beth works as a resource specialist with learning disabled children in the San Jose schools. California was not their first move, but the one they have enjoyed the most. Setting the date for their marriage (at Trinity Lutheran in Lancaster) was prompted by Greg's first transfer from the Kay Jewelry store in Lebanon to Erie. ("Too far to commute to date Beth.") They lived in Erie for 18 months. Then Greg was transferred to Charleston, South Carolina. Both times. Beth, who had started her career at the Mifflin Learning Center in Lancaster, got a job working with the educable mentally impaired. She was on a maternity leave and Katie was just two-weeks old when Greg was transferred to San Jose in January 1985.

"I love the moving, seeing new places, meeting new friends," says Beth. "The hardest part of it for me is obtaining the proper teaching credentials in each state." She completed three year of part-time course work last May in order to obtain California certification. She says she is now interested in moving into administration, but is waiting to see what will happen with Greg's assignment before taking more courses. Greg's company has been growing steadily and Greg anticipate another reassignment soon. The chances are fair, however, that he will stay in California but move to a bigger store. Greg enjoys the California ambience-the cultural contrast from Pennsylvania. "People on the East Coast think California is a different world," he observes. "They're right, it is."

Graduating with a B.A. in biology. Greg found limited career opportunities in biology without graduate work. As a result, he took a job in sales and discovered he was suited to it. He has earned Ka Jewelers "outstanding manager of the year" award.

Greg and Beth are baseball fans and enjoy going to Giant and A's games. Greg, who is now converting an unused bedroom to a weightlifting room, recalls that "I got an 'A' in weightlifting from Gene Carpenter." He returns to Pennsylvania about every two years and keeps up with his Sigma Tau Gamma friends by reading the fraternity newsletter. He had been vice president of the fraternity in school and is quick to point out that it was Millersville's first national frat. He was also active in intramural sports and played the baritone horn for one year in the band. Beth, the more outgoing of the two, recalls with fondness her favorite teacher, Or. Ermaleen Etter, remembers good times with Kappa Delta Phi sorority, dating the student body president, streaking across the dormitory quad, and marching on President Duncan's house. About the protest march she adds, "Funny, now I can't even remember why." For Beth and Greg, who just recently were removed from the lost alumni list,

"Millersville seems like a lifetime ago - so far away." But Beth added, "Thinking back on my college days was fun. I will enjoy hearing from Millersville again."

Notes for Guy Herr Stabley:

York, April 8, 1939 - Coal gas which escaped from a furnace pipe caused the death today April 8, 1939 of Guy Stabley, 34. Mrs. Stabley and their eight-year-old daughter were made ill while the family slept. When the wife awoke this morning, she staggered to a window which she opened and then tried to awaken her husband and daughter. The husband failed to respond and a can was sent for the city inhalator. Stabley was dead. Mother and daughter will re cover.

Lethal coal gas, forced through the house by a checked furnace, brought death by asphyxiation early Saturday morning April 8, 1939 to Guy H. Stabley, 34, 130 South Highland Avenue. His wife, Isabelle, 33, and a daughter, Doris Elaine, 8, became ill of the fumes and Mrs. Stabley collapsed after attempting to awaken her husband. Dr. William H. Horning, summoned when the family's condition was first noticed, agreed with Coroner L. U. Zech on the cause of death.

Mrs. Jacob Stabley, 1402 West King Street, the deceased's mother, told the coroner that she saw a light in her son's home about 10:30, and surmised that the family was retiring. It is believed Mr. Stabley checked the furnace for the night about that time, and that the damper on the main flue was left open, allowing the automatic blower to spray the coal gas out from the damper instead of up the chimney. With only one window open because of the high wind, the house soon filled with the gas. Mrs. Stabley, awakened by her coughing, tried to arouse her husband and found him unconscious. She then awakened the daughter and neighbors, who called the Pennsylvania Gas and Electric company for an inhalator, before collapsing from effects of the fumes. Dr. Horning was summoned and worked with Andrew Poet and C. S. Hause of the gas company for an hour, and a half in an attempt to arouse Stabley. The physician said, however, that when he arrived there were no signs of life. Eleven-year-old Jack Stabley was saved from the illness and possible death by the fact that he was spending the night with his grandparents at the West King Street address. Mrs. Stabley and her daughter were taken there and placed under the care of Dr. Horning and Mrs. Theron Krumrine, registered nurse visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slaybaugh, at 1414 West King Street.

The deceased was employed in the cost derailment of the York Ice Machinery corporation for the last 12 years. For the last year he had been equipment manager of the Viking Athletic association of West York. He was a member of Salem United Brethren church, Toe, and attended services at First United Brethren, York. Surviving are the widow, the two children and his parents.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon, with all services at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Stabley, 1402 West King Street, at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Lehman, pastor of the Yoe United Brethren church, assisted by Rev. Paul E. V. Shannon, pastor of the First United Brethren church, this city, will be the officiating ministers. Burial will be in the Mt. Rose cemetery. Funeral director Purd A. Reidel, Dallastown, is in charge of arrangements.

Funeral services over the body of Guy H. Stabley, 130 South Highland Avenue, West York, who died from inhaling coal gas, escaping from the furnace in his home, while he slept early Saturday morning April 8, 1939, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Stabley, 1402 West King Street. Rev. J. H. Lehman, pastor of Salem United Brethren church. Yoe, and Rev. Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon, pastor of the First United Brethren church, this city, ere the officiating clergymen. The pallbearers were Frank Stabley, Horace and Fred Uffelman, James Lind, George Logeman and Mervin Myers. She was born 03 Feb 1919 in Motherwell, North Lanarkshire, Scotland, and died 03 Mar 1985 in Glen Rock, York Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Lillian Diana (Lulu) Ash:

Lillian "Lulu" Rex Keller, 82, of Howell passed away peacefully on Thursday, March 3, 2016. Lulu believed that "life is not measured by the breaths you take, but by the moments that take your breath away" and she had many breath-taking moments in her lifetime. Born in Roselle Park, Long Island, Lulu lived with her parents, Anny Henriksen and David Ash, and sister, Vivian in West Hempstead, Long Island. She attended P.S. 30 and after moving to Westerliegh, Staten Island, she graduated with honors from Curtis High School where she sang in the choir. After high school Lillian married the boy next door: Wilson A. Rex III, a tugboat captain and C&W musician. They had two children; Kristian, who was born on his father's birthday in 1952 and Karin, who was born on Mother's Day in 1960, just after the family moved to Winston Park in Howell, New Jersey. In Howell, Lulu was a proud founding member of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, where she was a Vacation Bible School teacher and a volunteer in many capacities for more than five decades. God's love was one of the things that took Lulu's breath away. She always said he was "sitting on her shoulder." Lulu managed Howell Lanes for two decades, was an avid bowler, and taught the sport to many, including seniors and children with special needs. She was a Director of the Monmouth County Women's Bowling Association (1969-1973) and a member of the Women's International Bowling Congress, and bowled in more than 20 national tournaments across the US. She retired from Howell Lanes in 1986, when she married her second husband Bob Keller and they set off to travel the nation in their RV, wintering in Apache Junction and Bullhead City, Arizona and Laughlin, Nevada. She met Bob while attending the Eastern Region Bowling Proprietors Assoc. conference in Atlantic City. His sparkling blue eyes were also one of the things that took her breath away and it was love from the start. Lulu's true calling was caring for people. She was called "Aunt Lu" or "Grandma Lulu" by generations of her many friends' children and was always there for all of them with comfort, advice or shelter. When she first moved to Howell, she volunteered for the ambulance squad. In her later years, she was a member of the Howell Women's Club and a caring hospice volunteer. This work also took her breath away and strengthened her faith in God and her love of family. Lulu was proud of her Norwegian heritage and was a member of Sons of Norway Lodge #3-439 in Point Pleasant since 1975. She loved visits from her Norwegian relatives and took her son and daughter to Norway for her 70th birthday to see her mother's homeland and visit with relatives. That trip was full of moments that took her breath away- not just by the sights, but by the laughter that always ensued when any of us tried speaking Norwegian, especially her favorite toast: "Ein skoal, dein skoal, allaganskaflickor skoal!" She last resided at Brandywine Senior Living in Howell, where she made very good friends, played piano in the parlor, and called Bingo. If you knew Lillian, you knew she loved the ocean and the beach, which never failed to take her breath away. She would like it if you would think of her whenever you hear the waves crashing on the beach.

Lillian was predeceased by her 2nd husband, Robert Faust Keller in 1999. She is survived by son Kristian Rex of Howell Township; and daughter, Karin Rex and husband, John McGready of Lansdale, Pennsylvania, as well as Kristian and Karin's father, her former husband, Wilson A. Rex, III. Additionally, she is survived by Kristian's children Faye Rex-Landsman and husband, Adam Landsman, Tess Rex, and Lucas Rex, as well as grandchildren and great grandchildren from Bob's side of the family: Gail (Keller) Markle, Karen (Keller) Chodikov and husband, Gary and their daughters Rachel and Madison; Bobbi (Keller) Pearce and husband, David and their children Lydia and Robert. Her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren took her breath away on a regular basis just by existing and she loved them all deeply. Lulu is also survived by many friends who were her chosen family.

Flowers are welcome; however, in lieu of flowers you may donate to Holiday Express in Lulu's name. Holiday Express works year-round to deliver music, food, gifts, and human kindness to adults and children in need, including the mentally and physically disabled and children with serious illnesses. Visitation will be held at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, 434 Aldrich Road, Howell on Friday, March 11, 2016 from 6:00 to 9:00 PM. Relatives and friends are also invited to attend her funeral service on Saturday, March 12, 2016 at 9:30 AM at the church. Interment will follow in Old Tennent Cemetery, Manalapan Township.

Many enjoyable years were spent at his cabin at Huntington Lake. Notes for Rodney Kent Althouse:

Well-loved Hanford teacher Rod Althouse, age 66, passed away at his home on August 9th after a short battle with cancer. From 1968 until his retirement from the Partnership Academy in 1999, Rod taught social studies at Hanford High. "I enjoy teaching kids," he said once during an interview, "and I love the opportunity to learn myself." He received several honors including Teacher of the Year in 1994.

He is survived by his wife of 39 years, Judy, a teacher in the Hanford Elementary District until she retired in 1998. Rod married Judy after a short long-distance courtship and he liked to say it was a gamble that paid off well. (Rod had a great sense of humor.) In many ways - as teacher advocates, community volunteers, gourmet dinner hosts and loving examples to family and friends - Rod and Judy were an exemplary team. Rod loved golfing, fishing, his cabin at Huntington Lake, his party boat, cars, traveling around the world and wine - he was a connoisseur who loved to share his wine discoveries with friends.

Rodney Kent Althouse was born in Porterville, California, March 29, 1944 to Wilbur and Wilma Althouse. He graduated from Fresno's McLane High School in 1962 and from Fresno State with his teaching credential in 1968. Growing up he loved camping and hiking in the High Sierras - he enjoyed Boy Scouts and became an Eagle Scout in 1960.

In addition to his wife Judy, he is survived by his brother, Mike Althouse (Jeanne), his brother-in-law, Stuart Meissner (Barbara), his sister-in-law, Priscilla Mills, his nephews, Grant Althouse (Alyssa) and Robert Mills (Dena), his nieces, Laura Althouse, Pam Eichler (Mark), Linda Shattuck (Scott), Beth Repka (Mike), Lori Hight (John), Amy Palma (Diego), Jenny Mills and Erin Monohan (Sean), many great-nieces and nephews, and a large circle of family and friends.

She married Howard Craig (Hal) Lewis. He was born 22 May 1951.

Notes for Jeannie Elizabeth Dise:

OUR colleague, friend, and mentor, Dr Jeanne Dise-Lewis died on September 18, 2014, from an aggressive type of liver cancer. Dr Dise-Lewis was well known in the world of pediatric brain injury for her investigation of student behaviors and clinical recommendations to assist children, adolescents, and young adults return to school and community after traumatic brain injury (TBI).

Jeanne received her BA from Saint Joseph's University, her MS in Human Learning and Development from the University of Pennsylvania, and her PhD in Child Clinical Psychology from the University of Denver. She was a licensed psychologist (Colorado, 1986) and a diplomate in Pediatric Rehabilitation. For the majority of her career, Jeanne served on the faculty at the University of Colorado School of Medicine, where she rose to the rank of full professor. She served as the Head of Psychology for CU's Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation for more than 20 years and carried out a parallel role directing the psychology service for Colorado Children's Hospital pediatric rehabilitation units.

Jeanne was an outstanding clinical psychologist, combining keen observational and diagnostic skills with tremendous capacity for empathizing and connecting with pediatric patients and their families. She was skilled in providing interventions, support, and consultation/liaison with other professionals to help children with chronic pain, with spina bifida and other neurodevelopmental disorders, with severe burns, and with severe illnesses and injuries including acquired brain injuries. One of her most wonderful skills was teaching self-hypnosis to children with chronic pain and/or facing frightening medical procedures. Families, themselves in emotional pain and distress, uniformly felt supported and comforted by Jeanne's professional and personal presence as she stood with them during the difficult journey they had to take.

Jeanne's programmatic research agenda focused on recovery patterns of children and adolescents with TBI, most specifically on methods for helping students return successfully to their homes, schools, and communities post-brain injury. Toward this end, Jeanne developed the BrainSTARS (Brain Injury: Strategies for Teams and Re-education for Students) program, a program that included a 300-page manual, a training program, a carefully specified consultation approach, and an applied research component. Largely funded through US Department of Education grant funds, the BrainSTARS program was disseminated to scores of school districts in Colorado, many other states, and several foreign countries as well. The success of the BrainSTARS program has been documented, and data showing notable skill acquisition on the part of parents and school personnel, successful team building, and developmental progress on the part of students have been published in professional journals.

A few comments from professionals and family members illustrate the professional and endearing personal qualities that Jeanne brought to her work: Jeanne was generous to a flaw. When I invited her to serve as a peer reviewer for the TBI grant programs of the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research (NIDRR), Jeanne accepted without hesitation and returned again to serve in this capacity sometime later, despite the many demands for her time and expertise. She played an important role in maintaining the scientific integrity of NIDRR's TBI research portfolio.

My story isn't grand but it is heartfelt. I was the parent on a panel at the TBI Inter-Agency Conference in 2006 who shared "our" story. Jeanne, Ann Glang, and Janet Tyler presented from the professional perch along side of me. Jeanne and the others felt my emotion before, during, and after the panel and what I remember most was Jeanne's genuine warmth and understanding of where I was coming from that day. With gentle reminders she helped me to leave a "take away" message, which at the end of the day, was all I had wanted ... to make someone in the audience that day "do" something with what was learned in our talk to help a child with a TBI and their family. You are the person who comes along so infrequently with your honesty, love, and knowledge. You meant so much to our family.

Jeanne Dise-Lewis possessed a remarkable combination of clinical expertise with a passion for educating teachers about students with brain injuries. Through her extensive writing and training, she worked systematically to improve both the knowledge base and systems capacity of schools to respond to the unique needs of these children and adolescents. Jeanne was a professional mentor, a personal friend, and an unbelievable contributor to the success of brain injury supports in Colorado and across the nation. I still feel I catch glimpses of that tall lanky woman with her arms full and the biggest smile coming down a hallway or around a corner. Though she is not physically with us, she will always be with us in spirit, providing guidance and support as we pursue the best supports for children and youth with brain injury.

In July 2007, TBI came into the lives of Jeanne and her family when her son Dan, who was bicycling across America in a Habitat for Humanity event, was struck by a speeding teenage driver in western Kansas. Dan's injuries were catastrophic and survival was in doubt as Jeanne, her husband Hal, and her other 2 children, Katie and Peter, stood by his side along with extended family and a wonderful community of support. For the next 7 years, Jeanne never wavered in terms of her professional commitments; although sometimes exhausted from countless hours of care and fierce dedication to Dan and her family, she continued to provide clinical services, write, research, and mentor others. She also shared her personal story so that others could learn from her.

In the same vein, another colleague commented: I wrote to Jeanne shortly following her son's accident. In the midst of her own anguish and that of her family, she returned my note with a handwritten note of her own. Even as she sat by her son's side in the hospital, she asked about my newborn son, and urged me to hold my baby close and to treasure every moment of the experience of bringing life from life. Her love as a mother was irrepressible; her ability to share herself was beyond measure.

Jeanne Dise-Lewis walked her journey of TBI from many perspectives. She lived her life fully as a wife, mother, and professional. Her work helped transform the care that children and adolescents with TBI receive. Her humor, compassion, and dedication to her family and clients will continue to serve as an inspiration to the TBI community. Because she was such a dedicated mentor, her vision will move forward through those of us she befriended and taught. Thank you Jeanne, for choosing TBI and teaching us throughout your journey. Your shoes are too big for any one of us to fill, but together we will try.

Children of Paul Leiner and Katharine Young are:

- + 2860      i. Jean<sup>14</sup> Leiner, born 18 Aug 1951.
- 2861      ii. George Harvey Leiner, born 06 Mar 1953. He married Virginia (Ginnie) Long 2000; born 05 Dec 1954.

Notes for George Harvey Leiner:

Dr. George H. Leiner of Greensburg, associate professor of philosophy in the Saint Vincent College School of Humanities and Fine Arts, was honored with the presentation of the Boniface Wimmer Faculty Award at the Saint Vincent College spring Honors Convocation on April 26 in Saint Vincent Basilica. Named for the founder of Saint Vincent and the pioneer of Benedictine monasticism in the United States, the Boniface Wimmer Award recognizes a senior faculty member for sustained excellence.

Leiner earned a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy with college honors from Knox College followed by a master of arts degree and a Ph.D. in philosophy from Purdue University. He joined the faculty of Saint Vincent College in 1989 and over the past 28 years has distinguished himself as a teacher, a scholar and a leader among his colleagues. He was awarded the Thoburn Award for Teaching Excellence and twice honored with the Student Government Association Faculty Award.

Leiner is an internationally-recognized authority on the work of Friedrich Nietzsche. He has been a long-time editor for the New Nietzsche Studies journal and has served as a member of the executive committee of the Nietzsche Society. Most recently he has been translating an important volume of Nietzsche's writing into English for Stanford University Press. This entailed spending significant time working with Nietzsche's archival materials in Weimar, Germany while on sabbatical and subsequently. Back on campus, Leiner has numerous years of experience chairing the Philosophy Department, has directed the Center for Ethics in Community and has served on a variety of committees and taskforces.

"Dr. Leiner shines most vibrantly when he is sharing his passion for philosophy with his students," Dr. John Smetanka, vice president for academic affairs and academic dean, commented in making the presentation. "Students describe him as amazing, witty and constantly questioning them. His classes are most often described as outstanding and 'one of my favorites, challenging on the brain.' One First Philosophy student wrote, 'I did not expect to enjoy philosophy – however, it was a pleasant surprise – it is one of my favorite courses ever.' Another student in an upper-level course wrote, 'Dr. Leiner challenges us, but at the same time he will do anything it takes inside or outside the classroom to make sure we grasp the material.' Finally, another student observed that 'Dr. Leiner can pinpoint the most important passages in a text, getting right to the heart of the philosopher's idea, and then he is equally good at expounding and clarifying those ideas.'"

"Dr. Leiner, it is with sincere gratitude for your continuous and passionate dedication to your students' growth, your outstanding service as a faculty leader and your sustained scholarship that we recognize you with the 2017 Boniface Wimmer Faculty Award," Smetanka concluded. In accepting the award, Leiner said he was humbled by the honor that Saint Vincent accorded him in making the presentation. "As I look out over those gathered here in the Basilica today, I see a rich arc of community – one that I have been enormously privileged to be a part of, and to which I have, I hope, in some small way made a contribution," Leiner commented. "There are many communities here: students, colleagues, both faculty and administrative, members of our monastic community, family, friends." "I think back over my life and my decades here at Saint Vincent and at the educational institutions I served before my life here at this college, to Knox College where I, as an undergraduate, first learned what an academic community meant, to my family, to my home town on the prairies of northwest central Illinois, places that gave me my first sense of community; I see it all of a piece," he continued.

"Each of these places shaped and formed me," he said. "My parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles gave me models of lives of service – I watched as they enriched their local communities through friendship and spiritual fellowship, through intellectual and scientific contribution. My own college professors inspired me with the depth of their insight and wisdom. They inspired me with their humanity and commitment to the flourishing of each of their students. They inspired me with their keenness to engage other cultures in deep, respectful and fruitful conversation. They taught me to be confident in my own culture, and yet to be eager to look out to those broad prairie horizons to seek the dimensions of truth and wisdom that would surely come to me from the most unexpected quarters." "And perhaps one of the most unexpected quarters was from the Benedictine Society of Westmoreland County," he recalled. "In May of 1989 I received a phone call from Br. Norman Hipps of Saint Vincent College. Br. Norman asked if I would be interested in discussing a teaching position in the philosophy department, a position for which I had applied the previous fall. I was. A number of long phone conversations took place, and it seemed that this Benedictine place in southwestern Pennsylvania might be a good fit for a Congregationalist from Illinois. It seems to have worked out."

"It has been a great privilege for me to make my career with a community of students who have faith in the possibility of a future," he concluded. "Faith in a future in which they will not only live their personal lives in elevated creativity, but faith in a future in which they will help create communities in which others may live such lives of celebration as well. It has been a great privilege to spend my professional life with such an exemplary and supportive set of philosophers as I have found in my home department at Saint Vincent, and with my colleagues in the Nietzsche Society, here and abroad. I have been sustained by my compatriots and my dean in the humanities. By my collaborators across the college and disciplines. By my great friends among the Benedictines. And, of course by most intimate community, my family. Ginnie, my dearest companion, our daughters and grandchildren. Communities, all of a piece."

Notes for Charles Stabley (Stabe) Hackenberry:

Charles "Stabe" Hackenberry, 90, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, passed away and entered into glory to be with his Lord and Savior on Saturday, December 10, 2022. He was a former resident of Webster and Henrietta, New York. Born in Williamsport, Pennsylvania, Stabe was the son of Lester and Arlene (Stabley) Hackenberry. He was the youngest of three boys. Stabe looked up to his older brothers—the late Lester and Donald Hackenberry. It was one of Lester's friends, Robert Dittmar, who became Stabe's youth group leader/mentor, and a life-long friendship was forged. During Stabe's high school years, Bob Dittmar, who was leading and discipling young teenagers, had the idea of forming a youth, and as a result a new camp began. Camp Susque, a youth summer camp began in 1947 in Trout Run, Pennsylvania and Stabe was one of its first campers. He would continue his deep love for the Camp by serving as a long-term board member and by influencing countless people to go to camp where they too could be confronted with the truth of their Creator and experience the beauty of his creation, and hear the good news that Christ Jesus is the Savior of sinners. Stabe sent his children and grandchildren to Camp Susque and the impact that this gospel ministry had on them, along with many others, continues in their lives.

After Stabe graduated from Williamsport High School, he worked for the FBI in Philadelphia. Due to the Korean conflict, Stabe resigned from the FBI and enlisted in the Army Security Agency and was trained as a Morse Code Interceptor. He served in the Army and was stationed in Kenai, Alaska. After his service for his country, through the GI bill, he went to Lycoming College and concluded his education at the University of Buffalo where he earned his Masters degree, as he began his career in teaching History with a special focus on European History. He taught for 32 years in New York State, primarily at Sperry High School in Rush-Henrietta, New York.

In 1958, he met Margaret Scruton at a summer school class at Wheaton College, Illinois. This meeting began a beautiful romance, leading to their wedding in 1960. With a marriage centered on Christ and his Word as their foundation, they enjoyed 62.5 years of marriage. Their marriage served as an example of a Christian marriage to countless people of how to serve the Lord and others by opening up their life and home to many people.

Stabe and Marg were blessed with three children: Karen (Steve) Wellum, Lyn (Robert) Young, and Steve (Jennifer) Hackenberry. Stabe and Marg raised their children and taught them the glorious truths of God's Word centered in Christ. What was especially important to Stabe was to teach his family and others that the triune God of the Bible is the sovereign Creator and Lord, and that our identity is to be found in Christ Jesus, and being a child of the King of Kings. Stabe is remembered by his family for always encouraging his children to know and glory in Christ, to live a life of balance, hard work, and to care for one another. Stabe was blessed with 13 grandchildren: from the Wellums: Joel (Stephanie), Justin (Maddy), Joshua (Morgan), Janae, and Jessica (Matt) Cherry; from the Youngs: Joshua (Stephanie), Olivia (Trever) Ruzat, Hunter, Hannah and Jenna; and from the Hackenberry's : Ryan Betlach, Ross, and Regan. The grandchildren greatly loved their grandfather, not only because there was always a reason to find a treat—especially ice cream—but also because he played, laughed, sang and told jokes with them, and taught them that the only place to sit on a roller coaster was in the first seat with your arms lifted high. But most important of all, Stabe and Marg faithfully prayed for their grandchildren daily, and now for their growing number of great-grandchildren: Elijah and Jocelyn Wellum, and Conrad, Grayson and Skylar Wellum. Stabe and Marg also have an honorary daughter, Jen (Charles Ong) Po, who they loved, and Jen cared for and loved Stabe (and Marg) as only a daughter could.

Stabe will also be remembered as a faithful elder in the different churches he served in New York and Pennsylvania, along with his love for history, travel, classical music, gospel music, and great humor. Stabe consistently demonstrated his deep love and commitment to his wife and family. Although he endured a long, slow decline due to illness, one would never hear him complain or grumble. In the last few years of his life, his wife, Marg, tirelessly cared for him with love and devotion. Their love for each other continued to grow until his last breath. Psalm 116:15 reminds us that "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His godly ones," and this certainly was true of Stabe. As a family, Stabe rightly taught us to know and love our Creator and Lord. He taught us rightly that Scripture is God's Word and as such, it is trustworthy and true. Most significantly, he taught us the truth of the Gospel that for all those who repent of their sins, place their faith in Christ alone, and receive God's forgiveness of our sins in and through Christ Jesus our Lord, that nothing, not even death itself can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord (Romans 8:37-39).

Services will be held at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 2151 Oregon Pike, Lancaster, PA 17601 on Friday, December 16, 2022. A Viewing will be held at 9:30 AM and a Funeral Service will follow at 11:00 AM. Committal will take place in the Church Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Camp Susque at 47 Susque Camp Road, Trout Run, Pennsylvania 17771.

John Malmström Whitaker passed into Spirit on February 18, 2016, in Lancaster, California. He was born on December 14, 1950, to George Parks Whitaker and Anita Malmström Whitaker. His dear sister, Maria Louise, was adopted 12 years later. John is survived by his beloved wife, Linda, and their son, David, as well as extended family across the United States and in Finland, the birthplace of his mother, Anita. He is predeceased by his mother, father and sister. John and Linda married in Triadelphia, West Virginia, on July 30, 1974. On a visit with John's parents at Old Trail Farm, his mother said, "Why don't you get married right here in the rose garden?" And they did ten days later, surrounded by family and friends! It was 12 years before their beloved son, David, was born. He is a blessing that fills their hearts and lives.

John was a lifelong learner and educator. His university degrees include a B.A from Middlebury College (1975), an M.E. from the University of Vermont (1977), a Master's Degree in Spiritual Psychology from the University of Santa Monica (1984), and a Ph.D. from the Professional School for Psychological Studies (1988). His innovative influence is still active today in the work of Yes2Kids, Partnership for Families, Welcome Baby, and Mayor Antonovich's Policy Roundtable for Child Care and Development. John's intellectual brilliance and unwavering advocacy for children and families brought dignity to many lives. John's spiritual focus was ever present and of primary importance to him. He was an Ordained Minister in the Church of the Movement of Spiritual Inner Awareness. He had a consciousness of service and his kindness, generosity, and leave-it-better-than-you-found-it-policy made our world a better place. John loved to celebrate. Many a dance floor has been graced by his footsteps. All who knew him experienced his abundant joy and good humor. John, we are celebrating you now as your loving dances in our hearts.

Two memorial services will be held. Easter Sunday, March 27, at 3PM, University of Santa Monica, 2107 Wilshire Blvd, Santa Monica, California 90403. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to the University of Santa Monica.

She married Louis Edward Montarsi, Jr. 21 Jul 1951. He was born 05 Sep 1924 in Lock Haven, Clinton Co, Pennsylvania, and died 18 Jun 2017 in Pennsylvania.

Notes for Joyce Marie Connor:

Joyce Marie Montarsi passed away after bravely battling Alzheimer's disease for over 20 years. Joyce was born in Lock Haven on May 9, 1928. She was the daughter of Vivian and Harry Connor Sr. She married Louis "Eddie" Montarsi on July 14th 1951, who survives.

Her children include Jude Montarsi of Lock Haven, Gina (Montarsi) Gregaletto and her husband Paolo of Pompano Florida, Gio and Linnette (Miller) Montarsi of Lock Haven, Jan Montarsi and partner Bill Bates of Milford Ohio, and Gemma (Montarsi) Rinella and her husband Tony of Woolrich. Grandchildren include Jordon and Selena Stern Proctor of Boston Mass, Paolo Greggaletto of Fort Lauderdale Florida, Gianna Montarsi of Dallas Texas, and many nieces and nephews that she adored as if they were her own children. Also surviving Joyce is her sister Donna (Donald) Vonada of Avis and brother Harry Connor Jr. and his wife Elaine of Lock Haven.

Joyce was a graduate of Lock Haven High School, an active member of St. Agnes Parish, Catholic Daughters of America, and supported Millbrook playhouse for many years. Joyce will be remembered for her breathtaking beauty both inside and out, her love of nature, her devotion to God, and of course her incredible love for animals...especially her dogs. Joyce worked alongside of her husband Eddie as a hairdresser and together they turned Montarsi's Beauty Salon into THE salon to be seen in the 60's and 70's. For several years she worked nights as a waitress at Stop 64 in Lamar as well as her day job as a hairdresser, and was beloved by all of her patrons. In recent years she was known as "The Greyhound Lady" of Lock Haven, rescuing retired racing greyhounds. She could be seen all over town walking her dogs or riding her bike, putting several miles in daily. Anyone that knew Joyce remembers her stunning beauty and fashion sense, her marvelous humor, the unwavering love for her children and family, and her tireless work ethic. She was kind-hearted, generous...a woman to emulate.

A Memorial Mass will be held on Monday, November 23, 2015 at 11 a.m. at St. Luke's Catholic Church, 120 Kendall Ave., Jersey Shore with the Rev. Father Bert S. Kozen officiating. Friends and family will be received at the Donald G. Walker Funeral Home, Inc., 231 High St., Flemington on Sunday, November 22, 2015 from 5 until 7 p.m.

Notes for Louis Edward Montarsi, Jr.:

Louis "Eddie" Montarsi of Lock Haven passed away at the age of 92 on Father's Day, June 18th, 2017. He was the son of Louis and Josephine Ottaviano-Montarsi, whom emigrated from Italy in the early 1900's. Eddie was preceded in death by his brother Monty Montarsi as well as three sisters; Ada Hennessy, Beatrice Wolfe, and Gina Adams. Eddie was born an entertainer and began a career in show business playing the piano and singing on a weekly radio show when he was five years old. After being drafted in the U.S. Army, Eddie joined the USO during WWII and eventually ended up in Hollywood, California as a background dancer and singer in movies such as Christmas in Connecticut and Meet Me in St. Louie. He worked in the studios doing hair and make-up as well. Eddie eventually found his way back to Lock Haven where he met Joyce M. Connors, his wife of sixty-five years. Together Eddie and Joyce created Montarsi's Beauty Salon which was THE salon to be seen at in the 60's, 70's, and 80's. Eddie was considered an artist and master hair coloring expert in the Lock Haven area for decades. He retired at the age of 83 to help take care of his wife during her battle with Alzheimer's disease. She preceded him in death on November 19, 2015.

Eddie was a proud father of his five children; Jude Montarsi, Gina Gregoletto (Paolo) Gio Montarsi (Linnette), Jan Montarsi (Bill) and Gemma Rinella (Tony). Perhaps his greatest pride and joy were his grandchildren Jordon and Selena Proctor of Boston, Mass, Gianna Montarsi of Sulphur Springs Texas, and Paolo Gregoletto of Pompano Beach Florida (who inherited his musical genius). Also surviving Eddie is his beloved nephew Dennis Hennessey of Pittsburgh.

Eddie was known for his musical talent around town and eventually donated his piano to the Susqueview home, where his wife resided in her later years. Eddie needed no sheet music and often played for the residents of the home. He had a fabulous sense of humor, was a gifted storyteller, gardening enthusiast, pet lover, thoroughly enjoyed life and especially the people who crossed his path.

A visitation for Eddie will be held on Wednesday, June 21, 2017 from 4 until 6 P.M. at the Donald G. Walker Funeral Home, Inc., 231 High St., Flemington. A service with Military Honors will follow at 6 P.M.vvMemorial contributions may be made to Millbrook Playhouse of which Eddie was a founding father.

Notes for Phyllis Jean McCoy:

Spring Garden Twp. - Phyllis J. Kimmons, age 92, of Spring Garden Township, York, Phyllis died peacefully on July 4, 2020 in her home of 67 years, surrounded by love, as she had lived her life. She was born December 21, 1927 in York, daughter of the late Charles and Ruth (Schrivver) McCoy. She graduated from William Penn Senior High School in 1945, and retained valued friendships with many classmates, including a lunch group that continued to meet monthly until recently. In early 1946, while working as an assistant at Thompson's Ladies Wear Store, she met Leroy S. Kimmons, who had returned that day from military service in Europe in World War II. Phyllis and "Kim" were married August 17, 1947 and enjoyed 56 years of adventures and joy until Kim's death in 2004.

Phyllis was devoted to her family, and created a warm and loving home. She faithfully acknowledged birthdays, anniversaries, and other landmarks. She maintained strong friendships throughout her life, always interested in the stories others had to share, and loved gatherings of family and friends. Phil and Kim loved hosting parties — the table was always full, and musical performances were encouraged. Phyllis was a lifelong learner, with keen interest in the arts and travel, and was a voracious reader throughout her life. She and Kim shared a love of dancing to big band music, and may have fallen in love to the soundtrack of Stan Kenton. They always enjoyed traveling together, and frequently visited friends and family throughout the country, always making new memories. She was an active member of Luther Memorial Lutheran Church and cherished her church family. She was a longtime member of the choir, was active in ladies' circles, Bible studies, and the Young-at-Heart group, and edited the church newspaper for many years.

She is survived by daughter Nancy J. Kimmons and her husband John O. Senior of Wayne, Pennsylvania; son Stephen T. Kimmons and his wife Ruth of West Orange, New Jersey; granddaughters Diana Senior, Emily Kimmons, and Rosalie Dumas; brothers Robert McCoy of Moorestown, New Jersey and Donald McCoy of Sun Lakes, Arizona; and sister-in-law Virginia Young and her husband Malcolm of Willow Valley, Pennsylvania, as well as numerous nieces and nephews, all of whom stayed in close contact with her.

Phyllis and her family especially appreciated the network of local friends and neighbors whose support and companionship enabled her to remain in her home, as well as the expert care provided by her helpers and Hospice & Community Care at the end of her life. A public memorial service will be held at a later date. Private burial will be in Mount Rose Cemetery. Kuhnert Associates Funeral Directors, Inc., 863 South George Street, York, is in charge of arrangements. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Luther Memorial Lutheran Church, 1907 Hollywood Drive, York Pennsylvania 17403.

He married Nancy Jane VanStone 25 Jan 1964 in Philadelphia Co, Pennsylvania. She was born 08 May 1936.

Notes for Wayne Porter Seidensticker:

Wayde Porter Seidensticker (Sr.), 82, died Monday morning, March 9, 2020, at Physicians Regional Hospital in Naples, Florida. He is survived by his loving wife of 56 years, Nancy (Van Stone), and their children, Wayde (Sharon) Seidensticker, Jr., and Dana (Mitchell) Zeitler, and five grandchildren, Benjamin, Samuel, and Nate Zeitler, and Carly and W. Chase Seidensticker (Naples, Florida).

Wayde was born in York, Pennsylvania, on February 27, 1938, the fourth of five children of Adolph Seidensticker III and Sadie (Siltzer) Seidensticker. He is also survived by his brother, Dolph (Sharon) Seidensticker (Reno, Nevada), his sister, Marguerite (John) Celani (Moorestown, New Jersey), and was preceded in death by his brother, John (Erika Kemp) Seidensticker (Lowell, Massachusetts), and sister, Barbara (Walter) Scott (Camp Hill, Pennsylvania).

Wayde was a 1956 graduate of William Penn Senior High School, and a 1960 graduate of Pennsylvania State University where he received his degree in business and was a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. After graduating from Penn State, he served in Korea as a first lieutenant in the US Army Signal Corps and was honorably discharged in 1962. Wayde attended Dickinson School of Law and received his Juris Doctor in 1966. That year he won the Nathan Burkan Memorial Competition for a legal writing, and was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Later that year, he and Nancy purchased and renovated a townhouse at 55 South Queen Street in downtown York for his law office and their home. His law practice flourished and eventually became Seidensticker, Keiter, Tarlow, and Baughman, and handled matters including antitrust, business and commercial litigation, trust and estates, and municipality law.

In the mid-1970s Wayde moved his family's home from downtown York to a country farmhouse in Wrightsville, Pennsylvania, near the Susquehanna River. Living in the country, Wayde enjoyed horseback riding and sailing with his family and friends. Wayde was an accomplished equestrian, and after whipping-in to the Andrews Bridge Fox Hunt for several years, he became Master of the Rose Tree Hunt Club and its part-time huntsman. In the early to mid-1980s, while he was running his law practice, he started Canadochly Cable Communications, which he grew into a successful cable television business. By the late 1980s, Wayde became a permanent Naples resident, and contributed to Naples Philharmonic and the Collier Athletic Club. When he was not in Naples, Wayde enjoyed spending time in mountains of North Carolina in Linville Ridge, and later, Balsam Mountain Preserve. Among his ever-expanding list of hobbies, Wayde was a gourmet cook, connoisseur of wine, and loved hosting dinner parties with Nancy. In his 50s, Wayde and Nancy found time to become certified scuba divers, play competitive tennis, and golf enough to frustrate him, as his friends at Quail Creek, where he has been a member for over 35 years, can attest. If you were ever out to dinner with Wayde when a band was playing, you could always count on him to ask your wife or girlfriend for a dance, and he was quite nimble on his feet.

In honor of Wayde's memory a gathering of family and friends will held be at 2:00 pm, with a Celebration of Life at 3:00 pm, on Saturday, March 14, 2020, at Hodges Funeral Home at Naples

Memorial Gardens at 525 111th Ave N, Naples Florida, 34108. In lieu of flowers, it is requested that donations be made to the Alzheimer's Association.

Gloria Harris Leber, 79, born September 8, 1942 left this earth on December 17, 2021. Gloria was born in Hampton, Virginia, the second of three daughters to Lillian and Uroy Harris. After high school Gloria graduated from the University of Richmond, formerly West Hampton College, with a degree in Math. It was there that she met the love of her life Charles. They married in 1964 and eventually settled in Kettering, Maryland where they raised two children Laura and Michael. Gloria was a doting mom and wife. She enjoyed baking, playing bridge, family gatherings, traveling, and shopping. Later in life Gloria worked full time as an accountant. Gloria was always very involved in church. In Kettering the family attended Hope Presbyterian Church, where Gloria sang in the choir, served as deacon, and made sure her children and husband attended Sunday Services every week. After they moved to Potomac Maryland in 1986, Gloria continued to sing in the choir and volunteer at Potomac Presbyterian Church. Her joy in life was watching her grandkids in all their many activities. She was always making an effort to attend birthday parties, school performances and sporting events. He married Miriam H. Miller 1950. She was born 27 Aug 1928 in Maryland, and died 20 Nov 1997.

Notes for John Harold Housman:

East Petersburg, Pennsylvania - J. Harold Housman, a medical doctor, ophthalmologist and pilot who served for 19 years with Eastern Mennonite Missions in Tanzania, Ethiopia, Somalia and Nigeria, died April 25. He was 81. At the memorial service April 29 at East Petersburg Mennonite Church, Don Jacobs, a missionary colleague, said that Housman — who had always loved to fly and had earned his "wings" at age 16 — had answered God's call to "move up higher" after a 14-year struggle with Parkinson Disease.

"I always wondered why Harold loved to fly," Jacobs said. "I think flying was Harold's way of handling life 'down below' where feet need washing. . . . It gave him perspective." "He always seemed to be looking at the sky. At first I thought this was because he was a pilot. But it went deeper than that. He was always trying to make some sort of connection between Earth and heaven. . . between physical sight and spiritual sight."

Housman and his wife, Miriam first went to Tanzania in 1957. They served at the Shirati Hospital, where Housman practiced medicine and taught in the growing nursing school. He also found time to develop an airstrip as a link to the wider world.

During this time Housman also flew to Somalia, where he taught and practiced eye surgery. Later the Housmans served at Dedar Hospital in Ethiopia and at the Kano Eye Hospital in Nigeria. For part of his time in Tanzania, Housman served 19 clinics in the region of Mount Kilimanjaro, a job that combined his love of both medicine and flying and earned him the nickname "Flying Doctor." He was also instrumental in developing landing strips to serve many of the remote clinics. Returning from his initial service in Africa, Housman completed a three-year residency in ophthalmology at Jefferson medical College in Philadelphia, where he had earned his medical degree. He is also a graduate of Eastern Mennonite University in Harrisonburg, Virginia. The Housmans returned from their last stint in Africa in 1996.

David Shenk, then director of overseas missions at EMM, described Housman's medical ministry in Africa as legendary. Shenk said that in Somalia, where he served, Housman was called "the miracle doctor." He added that Housman was a man who gave "gracious and forthright witness" of Jesus, modeling EMM's core value of uniting word, deed and being in one seamless whole. Clair Good, representative to Africa for EMM, said: "Who would have known that Housman's medical service to the Maasai was one of the first mission endeavors that eventually led to the birth of a Mennonite church among the Maasai people?"

In subsequent years, Good and his family helped to pioneer EMM church planting work among the Maasai.

Notes for Irene A. Kasch:

Irene Stabley in her eighty-first year lost a courageous and hard fought battle with cancer on Friday June 11, 2010 at Hospice of Lancaster County. Irene was born in Chicago, Illinois to Frank and Gertrude Kuszyuski. Irene loved the Chicago city life, and enjoyed going out bowling and dancing with friends. In 1949 Irene met Jere Stabley; the two were married on August 12, 1950 in Chicago. This August would have been Irene and Jere's 60th wedding anniversary.

Soon after marrying, Irene and Jere relocated to Lancaster, Pennsylvania to begin their life together. While raising a family of four, Irene worked as a secretary for the School District of Lancaster for 11 years. Irene lived a wonderful life filled with family and friends. She began every day by completing the daily newspaper's crossword puzzle. She remained active by joining a bowling league and golfing at Olde Hickory Village. Irene also took pleasure in spending time with friends, either by going out to lunch, playing cards and mahjong, or taking a day trip to Delaware Park or Hollywood Casino. Irene also enjoyed traveling and taking family vacations. Every winter Irene and Jere would spend several weeks at The Villages in Florida to not only soak up the sun and warm weather, but also spend time with friends. Throughout the years Irene's entire family took multiple summer vacations together to various destinations, such as Wildwood Crest, New Jersey and Deep Creek Lake, Maryland.

Irene is survived by her loving husband, three children: Nancy, wife of Dennis Balmer of Lititz, Pennsylvania, Linda, wife of Timothy Landis of Lititz, Pennsylvania, David, husband of Deborah Stabley of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; six grandchildren and one great grandson.

A Memorial Service will be held at Grandview United Methodist Church, 888 Pleasure Road, Lancaster, PA on Wednesday June 16, 2010 at 7 PM. The family will greet family and friends before the service at 5:30 PM until time of service. She married Stephen Anthony Anella 15 Aug 1964 in Clark Co, Ohio. He was born 16 Jan 1942 in New York City, Manhattan, New York.

Marriage Notes for Louise Habeeb and Stephen Anella:

June 14, 1964 - Dr. and Mrs. William J. Habeeb of 1609 Woodedge Road are announcing the engagement and approaching August 8 marriage of their daughter, Louise Ann, to Stephen Anthony Anella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Anella of New Milford, New Jersey. The bride-to-be was graduated this month from St. Mary's College, South Bend, Indiana, where she received a bachelor of science degree in Home Economics. Mr. Anella is completing his last year in the School of Architecture at Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Indiana. Following their marriage, the couple will reside in South Bend, Indiana.

Miss Louise Ann Habeeb and Stephen Anthony Anella were married Saturday August 15, 1964 during a 10:30 a.m. nuptial mass offered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor James H. Hoban in St. Raphael Church. A nuptial Papal Blessing was conferred on the couple during the ceremony. The bride wore an ivory silk peau de soie gown of empire design with a floor length A-line skirt. The bodice featured a high neckline with embroidered raised flowers of lace, and finger-tip length sleeves. Flowing Wateau panels, also decorated with embroidered lace flowers, enhanced the circular court train. Her ivory mantilla of re-embroidered Alencon lace on imported English net fell to her shoulders. She carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids surrounded with stephanotis and ivy.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Ann Roach of Cincinnati and the bridesmaids were Miss Marie Ellen Anella of New Milford, New Jersey, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Karen Wile. They wore floor-length gowns of aqua chiffon over taffeta featuring a bodice with finger-tip length sleeves and corded waist. A Wateau panel fell from a neckline bow which added back interest to the A-line design. Their double Dior bows of matching chiffon topped bouffant veils of illusion. Ivy dropped from the cascading bouquets of orchid pompons which the attendants carried.

The duties of best man were performed by William Connolly, III, of New Brunswick, New Jersey, and guests were escorted to their seats by John Butkovich of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and Daniel Morrissey of White Meadow Lake, New Jersey. A program of wedding music was presented by Robert Lubbers, soloist, and Miss Maureen Peacock, organist.

The bride's mother wore a dress and coat ensemble of turquoise cotton brocade of fleur de lis pattern. The sleeveless fitted A-line dress was adorned only with a self-faced scalloped collar. The contour-cut A-line coat had wrist-length sleeves. A draped chiffon cloche repeated the turquoise tone. She wore white brocade accessories and a corsage of baby white orchids. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige chiffon dress with matching jacket. The jacket was trimmed at the collar line with blending mink and chiffon petals. Accessories of bronze and beige accented the costume. She wore a corsage of orchids.

The wedding breakfast and reception were held at the Hotel Shawnee following the ceremony. Members of the bridal party and relatives attended the breakfast. Hostesses at the 2 p.m. wedding reception were Mrs. Terrence Elbersen of Dayton, Mrs. George Click, Mrs. James Tehan, and Miss Mary Ann Lykken. Mrs. Dominick Cappelli was in charge of the guest book. Musical selections were given by Mrs. Weldon Young.

For traveling to the mountains of the southern states, the bride chose a double-breasted white linen coat dress of A-line design. The neckline was accented by a wide lapel collar of chocolate brown ribbon-stitched crepe. She wore chocolate brown accessories. The bride is a graduate of Catholic Central High School and received her bachelor of science degree in Home Economics from St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana. She will teach in the South Bend school system this autumn. The bridegroom is associated with the Building Division of Armco Steel, South Bend, Indiana. IN the autumn he will complete work on a bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Notre Dame. Upon graduation in January, Mr. Anella will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Corp of Engineers of the Army. The couple will reside at 307 LaMonte Terrace, South Bend, Indiana.

He married Jacquelyn (Jackie) ?. She was born 18 Dec 1957.

Notes for Eugene Otterbein:

April 6, 2019 - Eugene Otterbein has no regrets about how his military career played out. The Picture Rocks resident can look back on a 20-year stint in the Air Force that brought him wonderful memories and lifelong friends. Otterbein, 74, surely could not have predicted how things would turn out. Like many young men who came of age during the Vietnam War, he was drafted into the service. In his case, it was the Army in 1965. "I didn't want to go into the Army," he said. "So, I enlisted in the Air Force." At the time, Otterbein worked at a furniture store and took classes at Lycoming College. The Air Force sent the Williamsport native and St. Mary's High School graduate to Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, to learn how to become a radio operator.

"My first assignment was the Panama Canal," he recalled. At Albright Air Force Base, he used his training to help maintain communications for military missions in the region. While there, he had a couple of temporary duty assignments — to Chile and Lima, Peru to perform backup communications for the Gemini 10 and 11 space missions. One of his fondest memories from that time was driving with a buddy in his 1961 Corvette from Central America to Pennsylvania. He later sold the car for $1,000. "Now, it's probably worth $80,000," he said.

His next assignment as a radio operator was in Athens, Greece. "We were assigned to the Turkish Logistics Command," he said. His job, as before, consisted of maintaining communications with military bases. Otterbein said it was in Greece where he had a chance to do some scuba diving. "It was a lot of fun," he said. "I got involved in scuba competitions." At one point, Otterbein joined in a search for a 10-year-old boy who went missing. Unfortunately, the boy was found dead. Overall, he recalled Greece as a time of "wonderful friends and some fantastic food." Following his time there, Otterbein trained to become an air traffic controller and was assigned to Westover AFB in Massachusetts. He met his first wife there and started a family. When his enlistment ended, he returned to Lycoming County with his family and took a job selling insurance and driving a truck before deciding he wanted to get back in the Air Force.

"I re-enlisted as a radio operator," he said. He spent two years at March Air Force Base in California, then went to Thailand before returning to March. "I wanted to go back to March because my family was there," he said. While still in Thailand, Otterbein was flown back to California to appear on the Girl in My Life Show. He and other military personnel separated from their spouses and families, appeared on the program to be reunited with them in a surprise visit. Subsequent assignments were to Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, Texas, where he was reassigned to air traffic control and Japan. In Japan he became lifelong friends with a Japanese man. Over the years, the two have crossed the globe to see each other and their families.

Unfortunately, it was in Japan where Otterbein's first marriage ended and he became a single father raising his children. After being assigned to Holloman Air Force Base in New Mexico, he met his second and present wife, Jackie. By this time, Otterbein had achieved the rank of master sergeant and was Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of plans and program for the Communications Squadron. His final assignment was Plattsburgh Air Force Base in New York where he managed the air traffic control tower for the airfield.

He returned home with his family and used his skills from the military to work at the Williamsport Regional Airport. "They were just building the flight service station at the airport," he said. "Our job was to brief pilots on the weather and other information." He stayed there more than 18 years before retiring. Otterbein has remained active in his community, including many years as a Picture Rocks Borough Councilman and with the Church of Resurrection, Muncy, as a Eucharist minister. He said if he was a young man he would definitely join the military again. "I enjoyed every one of my assignments," he said.

Notes for Beatriz Rivero (Beatrice) Torres:

Our beautiful mother Beatriz Rivero Stabley, age 83, passed away peacefully at her Fort Lauderdale home on Valentine's Day February 14, 2021 due to natural causes. She was born on February 24, 1937 to a noble family from Cochabamba, Bolivia. Her parents Rolando Rivero Torres and Beatriz Lavayen Velasco were hotel and movie theater owners who collected fine art and antiques. Her grandfather, Ramon Rivero Lopez, was a Bolivian diplomat and Mayor of Cochabamba. Her grandmother, Clorinda Velasco Sanjines, affectionately known as "Abuelita", was the great-grand daughter of Bolivian president Jose Miguel Velasco. As a young girl, Beatriz enjoyed horseback riding at her family's rambling Sumumpaya Estate and traveling to her second home in La Paz. In later years, she appreciated teatime in the afternoon with her girlfriends and relatives in Bolivia and the U.S.

Beatriz was a loving mother, who will always be remembered for her kind heart, charming humor and elegant style. She was a long-time breast cancer survivor who taught her children to live life to the fullest. From 1958-1985, she was married to financial planner Russell E. Stabley, which enabled the family to live in Argentina, Colombia and the U.S. In 1971, Beatriz and her family finally settled in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

We will always remember telling our Mother that we loved her "teamo" as well as being prepared for her quick shining reply... "teamomuchos mas!" (I love you even more). Her sudden passing has saddened us all quite deeply, but we find comfort knowing that she will be resting next to our respected Mami Otra in Bolivia.

Beatriz is survived by her family, including son Michael Roland Stabley, son Anthony R. Stabley and his wife Amy Rose Stabley, daughters Maria Beatriz Burke and Susan Stabley, as well as her grandchildren Henri K. Stabley, Colette Beatriz Stabley, Mateo K. Notes for Cade Michael Gold:

York - Cade Michael Gold, our 20-year gift, joined his Mamaw in heaven on Friday, March 16, 2018. Cade was the beloved son of Abby and Shawn and big brother to Carsyn, with whom he shared the same birthday (January 15) and so much more. The entire family is absolutely heart broken by this loss, however the outpouring of love and support from family, friends, teammates and anyone that knew Cade has been unbelievable and such a comfort during this difficult time. Cade's number one priority was his family and we will forever cherish the time we had with him.

While at Dallastown High School (Class of 2016) Cade was President of the National Honor Society, a first team All-Conference quarterback and team captain for two league championship football teams, received the Pennsylvania Mini Maxwell Award for athletic and academic achievement, was a league champ and team captain in lacrosse and numerous other achievements and acts of humility and kindness that are only carried in peoples' hearts, not the headlines. He enjoyed all things that challenged him mentally and physically. He was an avid runner and enjoyed golfing, biking, kayaking, and tennis.

He was attending Washington & Lee University (VA) as a pre-med major and was the epitome for their core principles of honor, trust and integrity. While at W&L, he played football and was the VP of the pre-med club.

A public memorial for Cade will be held on Saturday, March 24 beginning at 10 a.m. at Living Word Community Church, 2530 Cape Horn Road, Red Lion. There will be an opportunity during the service for anyone that wants to speak about their experiences with Cade. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Dallastown Area Educational Foundation, c/o Ashley Spector, 700 New School Rd., Dallastown, Pennsylvania 17313 for the Cade Gold Scholarship to benefit Dallastown Football and Lacrosse players. Life Tributes by Olewiler & Heffner Funeral Chapel & Crematory, Inc., 35 Gotham Place, Red Lion, is in charge of arrangements.

Oct. 16, 2019, Lexington, Virginia -- The parents of a college student who committed suicide are now targeting the university he attended in a wrongful death lawsuit. Cade Gold started at Washington and Lee as a freshman in 2016 and was a member of the football team after playing in high school. He opted not to play football his sophomore year. According to the lawsuit filed by his father, he started showing signs of mental illness during his sophomore year but he hid them from his parents.

The lawsuit states Gold got into a conflict with his roommate, which the lawsuit described as a close friend, in March 2018. After speaking with a public safety investigator for an interview about what happened, Gold left campus and drove four hours to his home in York, Pennsylvania. During the time between the incident with his roommate and before he went home, the lawsuit states Gold texted his roommate, but his roommate never responded. Later that night after he got home, he contacted a person at the university about his plans to take his own life. He also searched the Internet for ways to kill himself. According to the lawsuit, a university employee spoke with Gold for a few minutes, but did not ask to speak with his parents who were listed as his emergency contact. Officers with the Department of Public Safety determined that no further action was needed after the discussion, the lawsuit states. Shortly after the call, Gold left his home and shot himself in a field across the street.

"This case seeks accountability for the failure of a University and its employees to recognize and respond to the acute mental health needs of one of its students. Cade's parents hope this case will help keep other students safe and alive," the Gold's family attorney wrote in a statement. The Golds said they were never told by the university that Cade had expressed intention to take his own life, was in a scuffle with his roommate, had been interviewed by public safety, or that Washington and Lee officials were aware Cade expressed intention to take his own life. Cade's parents believe if they were aware of these things they could have prevented his death.

"The health and well-being of our students are exceedingly important to all of us at W&L. We are reviewing the complaint and will file a response at the appropriate time," the school said in a statement. The family is seeking $24 million from the university and its employees.

October 22, 2019 - The father of a Washington and Lee student who committed suicide last year has sued the university for failing to take reasonable measures to protect his son. Shawn Gold filed a federal lawsuit in U.S. District Court in Lynchburg on Oct. 9 against the university, two public safety department employees and an associate dean over the death of Cade Gold, '20, who died in March of 2018. Gold said in the lawsuit that Director of Public Safety Ethan Kipnes, Associate Dean of Students Megan Hobbs and Public Safety Lt. Chuck Hubbard were aware that his son was planning to commit suicide. All three declined to comment.

The lawsuit says that the university investigated a roommate conflict involving Cade Gold in the early hours of the morning on March 15, 2018. A public safety officer interviewed Gold and his roommates separately about the conflict around noon the same day, according to the lawsuit. Before the meeting, Gold's mother texted him,

"I love u! Just wanted u to know," according to the lawsuit. Gold responded by texting, "I love you too I'm sorry I let you down I should have a girlfriend and I let Dad down by not playing football I will try to change," the lawsuit says. His mother reassured him that she loved him, too. Gold played football during his first year at the university in the fall of 2016. But he decided not to play on the team his sophomore year.

A university spokesperson declined to discuss the lawsuit. "I can share that the health and wellbeing of our students are exceedingly important to all of us at W&L," said Drewry Sackett, associate director of communications and public affairs. "We are reviewing the complaint and will file a response at the appropriate time." The lawsuit says that Gold was suffering from and exhibiting signs of mental illness that he hid from his parents. His mother noticed the month before that he had developed an unusual sleeping pattern and that he had lost weight.

After the public safety officer interview, Gold then drove four hours to his home in York, Pennsylvania. He called his mother, possibly from the road, to let her know of his surprise visit, according to the lawsuit. He had classes the next day, but he told his mother that they were cancelled. He had told his professors that his grandmother was ill and that he was going home, the lawsuit says. At about 7:30 p.m. March 15, Gold searched the internet for suicide by gun, according to the lawsuit. A Washington and Lee public safety incident report says that Gold contacted a person at the university at about 9 p.m. and communicated his intent to take his own life. That person, along with another person, contacted public safety to alert officials that Gold was suicidal, according to the lawsuit. At 9:46 p.m., Hubbard was called back to the office to meet with the two individuals, the lawsuit says.

In the public safety report, Hubbard wrote that he learned that Gold "was at home in Pennsylvania and was going to commit suicide tonight," according to the lawsuit. The individual provided Gold's cell phone number to Hubbard, who called Gold at about 9:46 p.m. Gold did not answer the phone. But he sent a text saying that he would return the call after he said good night to his mother, according to the lawsuit. Gold texted again at 9:50 p.m., saying, "Wait I'm sorry who is this? I thought this was a different number." At 9:52 p.m., Hubbard called Gold again. Shawn Gold, his father, remembers that his son left the kitchen to take the call.

The lawsuit says Hubbard expressed concern for Gold during the call, which lasted about four minutes. Gold said he was "ok." Hubbard and Gold discussed whether the student had told his parents about the roommate incident. Gold said he had told his mother, according to the lawsuit. Hubbard then contacted his boss, Ethan Kipnes, and Megan Hobbs, the associate dean of students, and told them what was going on, including Gold's plan to take his own life, the lawsuit says. The three officials determined that no further action was needed, the lawsuit says. They also did not contact Gold's parents, who were listed as his emergency contacts, according to the lawsuit.

Federal law protects the privacy of students and restricts access to much information, even for parents. But there are exceptions. "An educational agency or institution may disclose personally identifiable information from an education record to appropriate parties, including parents of an eligible student, in connection with an emergency if knowledge of the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other individuals," according to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, better known as FERPA. After the call with Hubbard, Gold went upstairs to say good night to his parents, the lawsuit says. He told them he loved them.

At some point, Gold left his house after his family went to bed, the lawsuit said. The next day, his family realized he was missing. Gold's cousin found his body in a field across the street from his home at 5:45 p.m., the lawsuit says. He had shot himself. The lawsuit said Gold's parents did not know that their son had threatened to take his life. John Fishwick, Jr., Shawn Gold's attorney, said in the lawsuit that the University and the three officials "could have prevented Cade's senseless and tragic death."

"This case seeks accountability for the failure of a University and its employees to recognize and respond to the acute mental health needs of one of its students," Fishwick's firm said in a statement to the Phi. "Cade's parents hope this case will help keep other students safe and alive."

Fishwick also represents Kionte Burnette, a former Washington and Lee student, who sued the university in January for allegedly failing to provide him with proper mental health treatment. Burnette also played on the football team. The lawsuit involving Gold seeks $20 million in compensatory damages and $4 million in punitive damages from the university and three school officials. Fishwick graduated from the Washington and Lee School of Law in 1983. Burnette's lawsuit says he told a mental health counselor, Rallie Snowden, that he planned to jump off "Cadaver Bridge." But she did not perform an evaluation of him or report what she knew to anyone else. He then tried to hang himself but failed, the lawsuit said. He subsequently climbed onto a Doremus balcony and intentionally threw himself off it backwards. He survived and is claiming negligence and gross negligence, according to the lawsuit. The National Suicide Prevention Hotline (1-800-273-8255) provides a 24/7, toll-free hotline and is available for anyone in suicidal crisis or emotional distress.

He was an avid motor racing fan and for a time was owner of Beinhower's Racing Team and the #33 limited late model race car at Silver Springs Speedway. When not spending time at the beach and with family, Alan enjoyed watching the Saturday Night Series at Williams Grove Speedway. He was a member of the York County Racing Club and Eastern Museum of Motor Racing in Mechanicsburg, where he often volunteered at the Vintage Race Car Track during the annual Latimore Valley Fair. Alan was a graduate of Red Lion High School's class of 1971. He retired from Johnson Controls, formerly York International, after 41 years where he held various positions and is a member of both the Johnson Controls 25 Year Club and Club 41. Notes for Adrienne Lynn Waltemyer:

Adrienne N. (Richcreek) Wheeler, of Red Lion entered into God's care unexpectedly on Thursday, February 22, 2018 at 4:43 pm at the age of 43. She was the wife of Michael J. Wheeler of Red Lion. She was born on September 29, 1974 and was the daughter of Charles and Martha Jean "Jeanie" (Hivner) Richcreek of York. Adrienne worked at WellSpan as a phlebotomist for six years. She enjoyed traveling and was an avid reader.

Besides her husband Michael and her parents, she leaves her two sons, Cain Dale of Windsor and Gage Dale of Middletown, and her daughter, Lydia Dale of West York. She was the sister to Jamie Curtis of Wisconsin and daughter in law of Dolores (Ayers) Wheeler of Red Lion. She also has nieces and nephews to cherish her memory.

It was Adrienne's wishes to be cremated. The services and burial will be private and at the convenience of the family. Burg Funeral Home, Inc., 134 W. Broadway, Red Lion will be assisting the family with the arrangements. Anyone wishing to make a contribution in memory of Adrienne, may offer it to the Red Cross by donating blood, which was very important to her, or with a monetary donation in her name, and mail it to 724 S. George Street, York, Pennsylvania 17401. Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free. I'm following the path God laid for me. I took his hand when I heard Him call, I turned away and left it all. I could not stay another day. To laugh, to love, to work or play. Tasks left undone must stay that way. I found that place at the close of day. If my parting has left a void. Then fill it with remembered joy. A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss; ah yes, these things, I too will miss. Be not burdened with times of sorrow, I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow. My life's been full, I savored much. Good friends, good times a loved one's touch. Perhaps my time seemed all too brief; Don't lengthen it now with undue grief. Lift up your heart and share with me. God wanted me now, HE SET ME FREE.

She married David John Hively 25 Oct 1998 in Felton, York Co, Pennsylvania. He was born 30 Dec 1971.

Notes for David John Hively:

David McKinley arrived in Chanceford Township in 1743. The ninth and 10th generations of his family - Rebecca Myers Hively; her husband, David Hively; and their children, Luke, 5, and Emma, 2. now live on the land David McKinley once called home. Earlier this year, the farm was recognized by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture as a Bicentennial Farm, honoring 200 years of progress in production agriculture.

Rebecca Myers Hively is the daughter of George and Jane Myers. George Myers is the son or Ralph and Loretta McKinley Myers, a direct descendant of David McKinley. "Loretta lived here her whole life and she did not want to sell the farm that had been in the family since 1743. David and Becky bought the house in 2000," said Rebecca Hively's mother, Jane Myers, who is researching the family history. "George was born here and we lived here with his parents when we got married. I am really just getting started on the research," Jane Myers said. "Rachel Seitz, my husband's sister, and I go looking up things together. The fact that all these McKinleys lived on this land, it is all very interesting."

David Hively grew up over the hill from the Myers family. His parents and Rebecca's parents encouraged the young couple to buy the house that is so much a part of family history. "My mom said to me, 'You have to buy that house. It will take a lot of work, but you can do a lot of it yourself.' We removed three and four layers of wallpaper and we sanded the floors. We found old bottles in the attic and old newspapers dating back before the Civil War," said David Hively.

The original homestead house, built by David McKinley, is gone but the remaining part is thought to have been built in the early 1800s and may have been part of McKinley's original home. The Hivelys have added a new wing that blends in well with the older portion of the house that they have restored. Jane Myers is sure the ground holds a lot of history yet to be discovered.

"I just got a metal detector and I can't wait for spring," she said David McKinley, of Scotch-Irish heritage, emigrated from his homeland to New Castle, Delaware, before moving to Chanceford Township in 1743, where he bought 111 acres from Richard McDonald. "Apparently, as soon as David came here he told McDonald he wanted to buy this land. We assume McDonald sold it to in 1743, but it could not be deeded to him until 1748," Jane Myers said.

A member of the Penn Family, possibly Thomas Penn, or an agent of the Penns, issued a warrant in 1743 for the sale of the land, but similar to homesteading, McKinley had to live on it before and make improvements on it before it would be deeded to him, she said. According to information on the deed, the land was surveyed by T.C. for David McKinley on May 13, 1748. Jane Myers thinks it is possible that the initials T.C. are those of Thomas Cookson, an agent of the Penns who surveyed and laid out York in 1741. "I don't for certain. I just kind of put it together, but it would be nice to know for sure if it was Thomas Cookson who surveyed this land here seven years after he laid out York," she said.

McKinley, a weaver by trade, owned a total of 316 acres. He planted crops and raised livestock to provide nearly all the things early settlers needed to survive in what was pretty much a wilderness at that time. McKinley served as a township supervisor and trustee and petitioned for many of the roads laid out in the township. He was the father of four children – Stephen, who took over the family farm; John; David; and Mary, who married Samuel Gordon and moved to Fawn Township.

Jane Myers said the family is not certain if Stephen bought the farm or inherited it after David's death. The McKinleys were staunch Scotch-Irish Presbyterians, very religious and strong in their faith. They were farmers who worked the land, served their nation time of war - including the Revolutionary War - and did their civic duty holding their share of public offices, she said.

William McKinley served as sheriff of York County and as county commissioner; another William McKinley was the 25th president of the United States. The great-great-grandson of David McKinley, the William McKinley who would be president was born in 1843 in Niles, Ohio. His grandfather, James McKinley, moved to Ohio in 1830 and set up an iron foundry. William McKinley served as governor of Ohio and in the U.S. House of Representatives before being elected president in 1896. He was re-elected in 1900, shot by an assassin Sept 6, 1901, and died eight days later.

"We believe that when he was a boy President McKinley spent some time here," said Jane Myers. "We discovered when we visited his library in Ohio that he vacationed at the homestead in York County, Pennsylvania, and since this is the homestead, where else would it have been? We are not entirely positive, but from discussions with the McKinley Library, we believe he did vacation at our homestead house."

She married (2) Jody Harlacher. He was born 08 Jan 1960.

Notes for Jody Harlacher:

June 14, 2021, Portrait of the top painting craftsman - Jody Harlacher "has more artist in him than he admits," says Zach Ausherman of Mike Ausherman Painting. A resident of Dover, Jody has been named the "Craftsman of the Year" by the Painting Contractors Association, a national organization based in St. Louis. The award is officially named the L.E. Travis Jr. Craftsman of the Year, honoring a painter who excels at his work. Jody, 61, (he proudly points out he was born at the former West Side Hospital in York) has been a professional contract painter since 1988 when he joined the Ausherman team. A 1977 graduate of the York County Vo-Tech School in carpentry and cabinetmaking, he worked for Boring Furniture, Boring Manufacturing and Yorktowne Kitchens before working with his father in his painting businesses prior to joining Ausherman.

Over the years, he has become an expert with matching paint and stain colors. His high quality work can be seen across the area, most recently in his intricate work on a large 1837 home in Gettysburg with a series of unique porches. Over the years, he has used his expertise in repainting the original Glatfelter Mansion in Spring Grove and helping to restore the former Hahn Home (now Kuhner Associates Funeral Directors) after a fire damaged the interior of the building. Jody, who decided to “go part-time” as a painter on May 1, says his “knowledge comes from experience and training classes” he has taken over the years. In nominating Jody for the award, Zach Ausherman, who refers to himself as the company’s “Chief Vision Officer,” wrote: “A notable interior project was a large three-story stairwell in a one-hundred-year-old home.” He went on to praise Jody’s technique with stains. ‘With stain, the talent is in blending stains to match the existing. A few times a year, we’ll have stain projects where the substrate causes lighter or darker spots. Jody has the ability to modify the stain to darken or lighten those spots.’”

When it comes to paints, Jody has “the ability to manipulate paint to match colors by adding pigments. A few times a year, he’ll add white, amber or others needed to make the paint color needed for that project.” Indeed, that is what he did on the Gettysburg house project. Jody Harlacher also shares his knowledge with other members of the Ausherman painting crews. “Each spring he runs our ladder safety program for the company,” Zach Ausherman writes. He is “adamant about cleanliness and keeping things in order” as well as “making sure he and his crew are wearing proper PPE for dust and paint particles; from dust masks to properly fitting respirators.”

Now that he has reduced his schedule to part-time, Jody says he will have time to work on family projects for his son, two daughters, and his wife, Brenda. And, oh yes, “time for fishing,” a favorite activity

Ausherman Painting has 18 employees with a market area including York and Adams Counties, as well as Mechanicsburg and Camp Hill. Jody Harlacher is proud of his York County roots and York County can be proud of Jody Harlacher and his brush with fame as the painting craftsman of the year.

Deb and Dave have gone through many artistic changes over the years, as they explore and experiment with new directions, according to their website. Recently, their work has focused on clay work. In 2014, the couple opened up The Clay Studio at the Pajama Factory in Williamsport, where they share their own work while encouraging others to express themselves through clay. The Clay Studio is a part of Pajama Factory's nonprofit organization Factory Works, which also encompasses Woodshop, Darkroom and Bicycle Recycle.

Both Deb and Dave are employed as art professors at the Pennsylvania College of Technology, Williamsport. Dave, born in Lancaster, earned his Bachelor of Art degree from Millersville University and his Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Nebraska- Lincoln, focusing on ceramics. His teaching experience includes workshops for elementary through high school students to a graduate assistantship, and being an art school owner and instructor, and more. Notes for Jennifer Marie Toomey:

Feb. 23, 2024 - A York County corrections officer is facing a felony charge for allegedly having a romantic relationship with an inmate. According to court documents filed by Springettsbury Township Police, Jennifer Claybaugh, 37, is accused of having a sexual relationship with a work-release inmate. Claybaugh allegedly admitted to police in an interview meeting up with the inmate about six different times since June 2023 when she was off-duty, the criminal complaint states. The investigation began in August after officials at the York County Prison learned about an inmate having alleged sexual contact with an off-duty corrections officer while on a work release, court documents state.

During the time of the investigation, Claybaugh was a corrections officer who was assigned to the work release section where the inmate was housed. Police said in the charging documents that when the inmate was interviewed, he admitted to meeting her outside his place of employment in her vehicle where they allegedly committed sexual acts. The inmate said that he did not know Claybaugh before being incarcerated and that they would sometimes meet up to five times a week. Claybaugh, police reported, told investigators that she would talk to the inmate about fitness and personal issues. She allegedly admitted to kissing and hugging the inmate along with letting him sexually touch her. It was noted in court documents that the relationship was consensual between the two.

Police said in the complaint that Claybaugh "admitted that emotions overshadowed her decision-making as the conversations progressed." Claybaugh knew that what she was doing was wrong because of her employment but she did not think it was criminal, court documents read. Claybaugh faces a third-degree felony charge of institutional sexual assault. According to Pennsylvania law, if someone is convicted of a third-degree felony charge of institutional sexual assault they face up to seven years of jail time. Claybaugh was released on recognizance and is out on unsecured bail. She has a preliminary hearing scheduled for March 19.
