Notes for Bertha Marie Kollwehr:

Ann Arbor, July 16, 1923 - The coroner's jury probing the death of Mrs. Bertha Altenberndt, late Monday night, brought in a verdict that she had come to her death in the fire which destroyed the barn on the Altenberndt farm.

Ann Arbor, July 16, 1923 - Is Bertha Altenberndt alive and in hiding from her husband, family and friends, or was it her charred bones that were found in the basement of the barn owned by her husband, Henry Altenberndt, the morning of May 2, after the structure was destroyed by fire? If they were her bones, did she end her own life or was she murdered, her body placed in the barn and the building fired to hide the crime?

These were the questions to which answers were sought at the coroner's inquest, held Monday night upon the demand of 35 people. Clarence Hueshman, the first witness, was the first man at the fire. His son, hearing the telephone ring at 5 o'clock in the morning, and curious as to what was going on, "listened in" on the line and heard a woman telephone to another that "Hank" Altenberndt's barn was on fire. Hueshman and his son hurried to the scene and rescued all the stock that was still alive. Then they went to the Altenberndt home, some distance from the barn, and roused Altenberndt, telling him his barn was on fire. Before running down the hill to the fire, he called his wife, but received no answer, the witness said, and a hurried search of the house failed to locate her. As he ran down the hill he met a woman neighbor. Mrs. Tine Kress, going toward the house and said to her, "What the does this mean? Where is my woman? I can't find her."

Two hours later they found charred bones in the basement of the barn, which the family physician, Dr. P. A. Schurer, said were of a human being. Hairpins and partly binned buttons recognized as on a dress she used to wear constituted the evidence on which identification is based. Each witness told of trouble between the Altenberndts three years ago, when Altenberndt, they said, drove his wife out into the cold of a January night, after a quarrel. Even the eldest son, Russell Altenberndt, 16 years old, admitted that quarrel and that his father had been arrested for it, but all denied any knowledge of further trouble, except Mrs. Lena Mers.

"I believe she was murdered and her body thrown into the barn and the barn set afire." Mrs. Mers told the inquest. "Once Mrs. Altenberndt told me he had tried to brain her with a stove poker, but she dodged the poker and it stuck into the door casing. It would have killed her had it hit her." she said. "But when there was company around, he treated her like a queen. He wanted to show off. One time he told her to go and hang herself. Then when their house burned on March 20, he blamed her for that. He was away."

It appeared that on the morning of the fire they searched everywhere for Mrs. Altenberndt except in the cistern, and when Coroner Burchfield suggested to Mrs. Mers that the body might be in the cistern she said she had suggested that the morning of the fire, but that nobody seemed to want to look there, and that no one had looked since.

He married Julia Leticia Baroni. She was born 10 Feb 1953.

Notes for Julia Leticia Baroni:

May 28, 2013 - Julia Van Aken recently spoke about her duties as pharmacist and store manager at Longe Drugs on East Ganson Street in Jackson:

Age: 60

Residence: Grass Lake

Position and Workplace: Pharmacist and store manager at Longe Drugs, 900 E. Ganson St., Jackson

Length of employment: 36 years as a pharmacist; 12 years at Longe Drugs.

Family: Married to husband Tim for 12 years. Two step-children, Justin, 32, and Jessica, 30; and one step-granddaughter, Raiden, 5

Q. How did you get into this line of work?

A. My dad was a high school counselor. He told me being a pharmacist would be a good job for a woman.

Q. What is your favorite part of your job?

A. Interacting with people; (especially) the people that I work with. We're in such a close proximity ... you have to really love the people you work with. We're shoulder-to-shoulder eight and a half hours a day. We spend more time together than we do with our spouses.

Q. What has been your proudest or most memorable moment at work?

A. There is a particular customer that I have helped a number of times. She's a mental health patient. She's had times where her doctor needed to be contacted and I went out of my way to reach her doctor for her. That's the most rewarding.

Q. Have you had a most embarrassing moment at this job?

A. When (co-workers) bought me a pair of black silk panties that were so big they would have fit a 300-pound man. One of the girls gave them to me all wrapped up nice for some occasion. There were customers standing around and I opened them up. Everyone was in on the joke but me. I put them right on over my pants. It was really funny. I could have fit three of me in them.

Q. If you could change one thing about your job, what would it be?

A. I wish the store were bigger and we had more room.

Q. How do you like to spend your free time?

A. Horseback riding. I've crisscrossed Michigan on a horse. It's a 520-mile ride. I also run. I get up at quarter to four in the morning, run six miles; then come to work. I just started doing that two years ago. I've run 5Ks. I'm usually outside.

Q. If you could have a "dream job," what would it be?

A. Something with horses. I worked at a camp store for awhile. I was like a camp counselor in a horse barn and I really liked that. I don't mind mucking stalls, feeding horses, brushing horses and doing the down-and-dirty work. ... That would be perfect if I could make a living at that.
