She was a past worthy matron of the Eastern Star. Devoted to her family and friends, Mrs. Stabler was a kind and generous person. She possessed a deep spirituality and enjoyed working in her church.

March 14, 1947 - In Memory of Maud Evelyn Stabler:

Soft as the tread of the kitten, Came death to one of our members. Silently, patiently as glowing embers, Life slowly ebbed away at last.

'Tis in death she lives as we knew her, true, patient, and kind. Though she is gone in body forever; Her spirit she left behind.

Her philosophy is one to be copied, For sunshine she spread every place, Though at times her pains were concealed, By the smile that brightened her face.
 Not an unkind word was ever expressed By this one so precious and dear; Not an untruth ever passed The lips that were stilled in death.
 Yes, she is gout, we remember, But as she would want us to do, We'll gather strength for the future And manage somehow to pull through.

Marriage Notes for Franklin Stavely and Rose Fuhrman:

Littlestown, Sept 11, 1903 – Miss Rose G. Foreman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Foreman, a social favorite among her numerous friends everywhere, and Mr. Francis R. Stavely, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Stavely, of Germany Township, a popular gentleman of excellent reputation, were quietly married at the parochial residence of St. Alloysius' Church, last Tuesday at 12:15 p.m., by the Rector, Rev. Father Kohl. Because of the sudden death of the groom's father on Friday evening – too late to cancel the invitations – the marriage festivities were of the quietest. Only the immediate family and close relationship was present at the marriage ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Julia B. Foreman. The groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Samuel Stavely. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white China silk trimmed with lace and chiffon and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a handsome white embroidered Swiss gown and carried pink carnations. The groom and groomsman wore the conventional black.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Foreman, from 1 until 3 o'clock, where hundreds of friends called to extend their congratulations. A most tempting luncheon was served in the dining room. At 4:17 the bride and groom left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City for a ten days' trip. The depot platform was crowded with their friends who had previously relieved the grocers of all their surplus stock of rice. On their return home they will occupy their newly furnished home on South Queen Street.

Notes for Howard Douglas Stabler:

Alaska Scrapbook; published November 12, 2006 compiled by Steve Haycox:

Howard D. Stabler, US attorney in Juneau, Alaska in the 1920's and early 1930's, was born in Bethany, Ohio, near Cincinnati, on November 11, 1887. A noted figure in the territorial period, he was involved in the attempted to end prostitution in Ketchikan during Prohibition.

After high school Stabler earned a law degree at Hamilton College of Law in Chicago and went west to practice law in Spokane. In 1918, he joined the US Signal Corps, which took him to Alaska. He left the corps and practiced law in Sitka briefly before accepting an appointment as assistant district attorney in Juneau. He served in that office from 1921-1929, when he was named district attorney, serving until the Democratic sweep in 1932, when he went into private practice.

As assistant US attorney, Stabler achieved a certain visibility when he was sent to clean up Ketchikan. That town was "wide open" after the adoption of Prohibition. Smuggling liquor in from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, was relatively easy. Prostitution was highly visible in western American towns well into the early 20th century, and was nowhere more visible than along Creek Street, across from the upright business section of the community.

The town's reputation received an airing during the 1925 territorial legislative session, and in 1926 a Los Angeles newspaper ran a feature story calling Ketchikan a national scandal. That prompted Judge Thomas Reed to order a grand jury investigation, which called for the assistant district attorney to be stationed there; Stabler got the call.

Stabler conducted a one-man campaign for several months, closing down the bawdy houses, open saloons and taxi companies whose drivers colluded with the bar owners and madams. Quickly achieving the status of "town father", he was named president of the Ketchikan Rotary, the first Rotary Club in Alaska. But, as everywhere, Americans during Prohibition were tolerant of drinking and, as always, ambivalent about prostitution. Ketchikan soon returned to its wicked ways despite Stabler's work. He was still battling American ambivalence when he moved back to Juneau to be the district attorney in 1929. Ketchikan would not be "cleaned up" until mid-1950's during the campaign for Alaska statehood.

In the meantime, Stabler finished his brief tenure as district attorney and became an upstanding member of the Juneau bar. Among other things, he sat on the bar committee that recommended the disbarment of William Paul in 1936. He was still practicing law at his death March 17, 1963.

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 13, 1950 - The action of the Alaska statehood committee in hiring a "professional lobbyist" to push its program in Washington D. C., was probably illegal, Howard D. Stabler, Alaska attorney and keynote speaker at a Republican rally, said here yesterday. Stabler cited a 1924 decision of the ninth circuit court of appeals on an Alaskan case which he said supported his belief. Stabler's reference to a "professional lobbyist" concerned Randolph Feltus, a New York relations man who formerly did publicity for communist Poland. He was retained by statehood committee to aid in presenting its program before congress. His employment by the committee was attacked in congress last week by Sen. Schoeppel.

State of Alaska Constitutional Convention - Candidate Howard Stabler

Sept. 8, 1955 - Howard Stabler, Juneau attorney, is a candidate for the Alaska state constitutional convention and as delegate-at-large. Seven will be chosen from a field of 28.

Born in Ohio, Stabler took his schooling there and obtained his law degree from Hamilton college of law in 1916. He came to Alaska in 1919 after having been admitted to the bar in Washington state and practiced in Spokane until he entered the US army in 1919 with the old WAMCATS (forerunner of the Alaska communications system) to be stationed at Sitka. He was a cable operator. He was admitted to practice law in Alaska in 1919, and became assistant district attorney for the first division from 1921 until 1929 when he became the district attorney.

In 1933 Stabler entered private practice in Juneau and has been in it since that time. At present he is city attorney for Juneau, Wrangell, Skagway, Pelican and Hoonah. He is a member of the American and Juneau Bar associations and is active in civic affairs. He belongs to the Juneau Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Rotary club (past president), an Elk, Pioneers of Alaska, Igloo No. 6, and is a 33 degree Mason. He has been in all of the principal cities of Alaska for the past 15 years and is acquainted with conditions. Stabler is married and his wife is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Alaska bar.

Introduction (adapted from notes provided by VWB Harley Clough): Howard Douglas Stabler (1887 – 1963) was a prominent Juneau lawyer and active Freemason, who served as Worshipful Master of Mt. Juneau Lodge No. 147 in 1935. Howard moved to Sitka in 1919 and then to Juneau 1921 as Assistant U.S. Attorney for Alaska. On Feb. 2, 1929, he was elected to receive the degrees of Scottish Rite, which would become one of his scholarly passions. In 1935 he was appointed as Editor-in-Chief of the newly created Scottish Rite Bulletin for the Juneau Valley. In 1939, he began writing communication-related essays for the Scottish Rite degrees, with the first presentation of the 4th degree essay on May 12, 1939. He wrote essays for the 5th and 6th in September 1939, 7th in October that year, and proceeded to write similar essays for each of the 29 degrees. In 1941, he was elected to the 33rd degree, and became Deputy for the Supreme Council in Alaska in October 1955. This oration was delivered to the Grand Lodge of Washington at their annual communication in June 1940, in the midst of the "Great Depression" and just one and a half years before the U.S. entered World War II. This poignant message has significance to Masons of all ages, more especially today.

Preparation by Howard D. Stabler

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Washington: As we look around us in the world today the prospects sadden our hearts. Confusion and chaos crowd the horizon and the conflict of ideas—the greatest stumbling block to human progress—spreads over the whole earth. The clouds hang low and threatening; and the air resounds with strife. As darkness threatens to spread over the face of the deep, the world seeks a principle of order; and a bewildered and confused humanity casts about in despair for some workable maxims of conduct. Has Masonry anything to offer such a world? Can Masonry, out of its wisdom, hold out any guide for the future?

As I searched for the answers to these questions amid the encroaching powers of darkness, my thoughts turned to the starting point in every search for Masonic light—the preparation room, where every candidate for light in Masonry is first prepared in his heart by being robed in a "garment furnished from on high", and symbolically divested of the vanities of his own righteousness. And as I reviewed the lesson of modesty and humility—the first lesson in preparation for Masonry—and searched again for the Word that was lost through the untimely death of our legendary Grand Master, I beheld in all its glory Masonry's magnificent contribution to world welfare; and became inspired anew by the wisdom, strength and beauty of our noble and glorious Order.

Masonry's answer to all such questions is plain. Masonry's great contribution to the world is the philosophy symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry. The Master's Word, like the Holy Grail of ancient legend, has the mysterious power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it. Masonry is prepared to lead men from darkness to light. It will accomplish its great purpose in the world when Masons are prepared; prepared to find, but more especially to observe, what was lost by the untimely death of Grand Master Hiram; prepared to transmit what they find unimpaired to others.

Masonry is preparation of the individual to find and observe what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry. The broad highway of Masonry, straight as an arrow, leads Masons directly to the Lost Symbol. The apprentice might have seen the Master's Word in the first degree of Masonry, when he was presented with his Masonic apron of lambskin, and told that its pure and spotless surface should be an ever present reminder of a purity of life, and rectitude of conduct, a never ending inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. The Fellow-Craft had a glimpse of it, when his attention was directed to the letter "G" suspended in the East. And it was revealed preparation By Howard D. Stabler in the third degree in these words: "Hence, my Brother, how important it is that we should endeavor to imitate our Grand Master Hiram, in his truly exalted and exemplary character, in his unfeigned piety to God, and in his inflexible fidelity to his trust."

Recently I read a sentimental anecdote, which I think demonstrates the noble and glorious meaning of the Lost Symbol. A woman, dressed in rags, was passing along a street in a French town, holding her little son by the hand. Suddenly she stooped to pick up an object from the ground, tucking it within the folds of her ragged garments. In doing so, she aroused the suspicions of a nearby policeman, who demanded that she show him what she had concealed. The poor woman, a picture of deprivation, cast down her eyes and revealed a jagged fragment of a broken bottle, explaining, "I was thinking only of the barefoot children." That miserable and wretched woman, in her thoughtfulness, had the key to the Master's Word.

One evening a few years ago, a neighbor boy came to our summer home and asked if I would take his father to the hospital in town. I knew the old man had come home to die, hopeless after several unsuccessful surgical operations. I had not seen him for a couple of weeks, and hardly recognized him as his two boys lifted his helpless and wasted frame into the back seat of my car. We drove to town, and stopped at the back door of St. Ann's Hospital, where I rang the bell for an attendant. A Catholic Priest came out; and as I started to explain our purpose there, he saw the two boys struggling to lift their father out of the car. At once, without stopping to inquire whether the sick man was Catholic or Protestant, rich or poor, friend or foe of the Catholic Church, the Priest took up the old man in his arms, and, without asking for assistance from any of us, carried him into the Hospital, where he died during the night. That Priest saw a poor, suffering, helpless individual. His unselfish, Christian act healed me of a lot of prejudice and intolerance towards the Institution he represented; and I saw a glimpse of something which I think is symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry.

In the beautiful allegory by Lowell called "The Vision of Sir Launfal", the maiden Knight, in his gilded mail that flamed so bright, set forth in June, the high tide of the year, to seek in all climes for the Holy Grail. As Sir Launfal rode forth from his castle, he saw a leper crouched by the gate, and a loathing over Sir Launfal came. "The sunshine went out of his soul, and the flesh 'neath his armor 'gan shrink and crawl." He tossed a piece of gold to the leper, and rode onward in search of the Holy Symbol.

Sir Launfal traveled the World over in search of the Holy Grail, but failed to find even a glimpse of it. Returning from his fruitless search, in Winter, just at the Christmas time, he again met the leper. Now, Sir Launfal's gold was gone. He was bent with age; and clad in raiment thin and spare. This time he saw in the leper an image of Christ suffering on the cross, and he said: "Thou also hast had thy crown of thorns, Thou also hast had the world's buffets and scorns."

"The heart within him was ashes and dust: He parted in twain his single crust, he broke the ice on the streamlet's brink, and gave the leper to eat and drink." And then, in a vision, Sir Launfal found the object of his search—"The leper no longer crouched at his side, But stood before him glorified, Shining and tall and fair and straight As the pillar that stood by the Beautiful Gate, himself the Gate whereby men can Enter the Temple of God in man." "And the voice that was softer than silence said, 'Lo, it is I, be not afraid. In many climes without avail, Thou hast spent thy life for the Holy Grail; behold, it is here—this cup which thou Didst fill at the streamlet for me but now; This crust is my body broken for thee, This water His blood that died on the tree; The Holy Supper is kept, indeed, In what so we share with another's need. Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare; Who gives himself with his alms feeds three, himself, his hungering neighbor, and me'."

Of all the allegorical stories of the search for what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry, I like best Tennyson's immortal Idyll entitled "The Holy Grail."

In it, Sir Percivale, one of the Knights of King Arthur's legendary court, related to the Monk Ambrosius that one day, in the absence of King Arthur, a fleeting vision of the Holy Grail appeared in the castle; and that Percivale and Sir Bors, and Lancelot, and many among the Knights of the Round Table who saw the vision, swore their vows to follow Galahad, and ride in search of the Holy Thing for twelve months and a day, until they found or saw it; and that King Arthur remained at home, and charged that most of them would only follow wandering fires.

Percivale told of his own adventures. He rode forth from the castle, lifted up in his heart, thinking of all his late shown prowess in the tournaments. As he rode onward, he came to a land of sand and thorns, and he thirsted even unto death. Many times he thought he had found the object of his search, but each time as he touched the object it crumbled into dust and disappeared, until in despair he cried, "Lo, if I find the Holy Grail itself, And touch it, it will crumble into dust." Finally, Percivale came to a chapel, and there he found a holy hermit, to whom he told his phantoms and his dreams, and the hermit said: "O son, thou hast not true humility The highest virtue, mother of them all; For when the Lord of all things made Himself Naked of glory for His mortal change, 'Take thou my robe', He said, 'for all is thine'. But Him thou hast not known; for what is this? Thou thoughtest of thy prowess and thy sins, Thou hast not lost thyself, to save thyself, As Galahad."

Then Galahad appeared and related that he had seen the Holy Symbol, and that it had moved with him night and day; and how in the strength of this he rode, "shattering all evil customs everywhere." Percivale then followed Galahad, "shattering all evil customs everywhere", and in the strength of this he saw a glimpse of something which he described as, "The spiritual city and all her spires And gateways in a glory like one pearl,—A rose-red sparkle to the city, and there Dwelt, and I knew it was the Holy Grail, Which never eyes on earth again shall see."

Then Percivale, glad that no phantoms vexed him more, returned from whence he came—the gate of Arthur's court. And there he found King Arthur on the diad throne, and those other Knights who had returned from the quest, wasted and worn, and but a few of them.

King Arthur made Percivale welcome, and then each Knight in turn related his adventures to the King. Sir Gowain reported the quest was not for such as he. He found a silk pavilion in a field, and merry maidens in it. Sir Bors said, " 'Ask me not, for I may not speak of it; I saw it', and the tears were in his eyes." Lancelot said, "This quest was not for me'."

Then spoke King Arthur, who remained in his castle attending to the duties and responsibilities of his high office while the others were searching for the Symbol in distant places:

"Some among you held that if the King Had seen the sight he would have sworn the vow. Not easily, seeing that the King must guard That which he rules, and is but as the hind To whom a space of land is given to plow. Who may not wander from the allotted field Before his work be done, but, being done Let visions of the night or of the day Come as they will. And many a time they come, Until this earth he walks on seems not earth, This air that smites his forehead is not air, But vision. Yea, his very hand and foot,— In moments when he feels he cannot die, And knows himself no vision to himself, Nor the high God a vision, nor that One Who rose again'." Then said Percivale, "So spoke the King. I know not all he meant."

The mysterious power represented by the Master's Word has been the subject of many legends and allegories. It has been symbolized and personified in many forms. By whatsoever object symbolized,— by whatsoever character personified,—by whatsoever words it has been named,—it is Gospel Truth, that what is represented has power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it.

The great objective of speculative Masonry is to find and restore the mysterious power of the Master's Word—not symbolically, but in fact and practice. Each one of us is obligated by the vows of Masonry to search for the Lost Symbol. Each one of us is charged to observe what is found. And each one of us is charged to transmit what is found, unimpaired, to others.

Are we worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great undertaking to which we are committed? We know the signs and words, and the symbols and allegorical legends, of speculative Masonry. Some among us have received the highest honor within the gift of a Masonic Lodge. We consider ourselves Master Masons. But are we Masters, or Overseers, of the work? Are we entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up?

We were informed that at the building of King Solomon's Temple, Masters wore their aprons in a peculiar manner, to distinguish them as Masters or Overseers of the work. We were given the rank and title of Masters, but were instructed to continue wearing our aprons as Fellow-Crafts. I think this was intended to distinguish us as laborers, and to remind us that there is much work yet to be done before we can attain the high and honorable distinction of a Master; and I think it was also intended to remind us of King Solomon's order—to search for the body of our legendary Grand Master, and if found, to observe whether the Master's Word, or a key to it, is on or about the body.

All too often we attempt to extort or force the secrets of Masonry by impossible and impracticable interpretations of its symbols and legends. Wise King Solomon did not send Fellow-Crafts in search of something that could only be found and recognized by Masters. He did send them in search of something which, if found, they could not see. I think he sent them to search for, and if found to observe, the INTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS—what it was on or about the body that distinguished Grand Master Hiram as a Master or Overseer of the work.

Preparation for the degree of Master, or Overseer of the work, is the whole purpose of speculative Masonry. This purpose is best symbolized by the rough and perfect ashlar. The rough ashlar represents the individual and his rude and imperfect state by nature.

The perfect ashlar represents the state of perfection at which we hope to arrive by a virtuous education, our own endeavors, and the blessings of God. The purpose of Masonry is to develop the rough and imperfect individual to one with the internal qualifications possessed by Hiram the Master. When we find, and observe by practicing them, the internal qualifications of a Master, then we will possess the jewel of Masonry which we call the Master's Word, and become entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up.

The Master's Word of Masonry represents the precepts of Masonry, exemplified in the life and character of Grand Master Hiram. But the Master's Word is lost to many Masons—lost because imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Grand Master Hiram has become obsolete among many Masons. According to Masonic tradition, Masters once wore their aprons with the right hand corner turned up. That custom has become obsolete; and I think it will remain obsolete until we become Masters or Overseers of the work.

Only a few Masons labor on until they find within themselves the internal qualifications of a Master. Too many think they already know all there is to be known about Masonry. Too many, like Sir Gowain, follow wandering fires, and never find what it was on or about the body that made Hiram a Master or Overseer of the work. Too many who see the work and listen to the lectures of Masonry, are like Percivale who said after hearing King Arthur's story of his visions of immortality, "So spoke the King, I know not all he meant." Only a few remain in the allotted field of Masonry and labor on to extend and propagate its principles and precepts among men. There is an unfinished spiritual temple within each one of us. As long as life remains within our bodies—as long as our hands are able to grasp the working tools of Masonry—we must labor on to perfect and complete that spiritual temple. The plans for our spiritual edifices have been laid down for us by the precepts of Masonry. The design on the trestle-board is imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Hiram the Master Builder.

Measured by this exacting standard of morality, we must become worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great building program to which we are committed. We must perfect our spiritual temples by learning to tolerate the political, religious and philosophical opinions of others; by learning to share what we have with another's need; by forgetting our prowess and our sins and learning true humility, the highest virtue, mother of them all; and, above all, by learning to appreciate the immortal gift of that One who said, "Take thou my robe, for all is thine."

There is also much unfinished work on the Temple of Masonry, and completing it is the individual and collective work of all Masons. Here we practice Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. Here we are united by the cement of speculative Masonry into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention exists, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who best can work and best agree. But without the walls of Masonry are fellow- beings in want and need, suffering from hunger, sickness and sorrow. Without the walls of Masonry the world is torn by strife, discord, confusion and despair. Men and nations struggle in mortal conflict. Our own favored country is divided and torn by depression, by greed and intolerance, by selfishness, ambition and prejudice. When the custom of wearing our aprons with the right hand corner turned up is no longer obsolete among Masons—when the great purpose of Masonry is accomplished in the hearts of men—then will men be healed by faith of all their ills; and then will the world be healed of all its wickedness.

The Master's Word, representing the mysterious power of Masonry—the power that oppresses none, threatens none, inspires all, is here—in this room—within the reach of all. Take it, and the speculative jewel and apron of a Master are thine. It is yours— yours for the observance of one simple rule: imitate the internal qualifications of Hiram the Master Builder, and all the secrets of a Master are thine. Take it, and become duly and truly prepared to travel in foreign countries, work and receive Master's wages.

My Brothers, we are assembled here in the Temple of Masonry, upon the level of equality, even as Knights of old were wont to assemble in the castle before the Round Table of King Arthur's legendary court. Let us believe that we have seen a vision of the Master's Word in our Temple, even as Galahad, and Percivale and Lancelot, and many among the Knights, saw the vision of the Holy Grail in the castle, in days of old. Let us make our vows to follow Hiram, and search for the Holy Symbol until we find or see it. When this Grand Communication is closed, and we part upon the symbolic square of Masonry, let us go divested of all the vanities of our own righteousness. Let us go forth into the world without and meet all men upon the level of equality; act towards them by the plumb of uprightness; and part from them upon the square of virtue. Let us resolve that Brotherly Love shall prevail beyond these walls; and that every moral and social virtue shall cement us and all Masons into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers laboring together for the good of humanity. Let us renew the work on our spiritual temples, and upon the Temple of Masonry, with new inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. Let us labor on in preparation for a better way of life. Let us by precept and example do our part to carry on the Great Light of Masonry in a dark and dismal world.

And when at last we lay down our working tools and report that the spiritual temple is completed—when we are robed in the “garment furnished from on high” that divests all men of the vanities of this life, let us be worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the speculative honors of the last and highest degree. May the record of our lives and actions enable each one of us to say, and our conscience to adjudge, I come duly and truly prepared. I have learned the lesson of modesty and humility. To the best of my ability, I followed the designs laid down by Hiram the Master. To the best of my ability, I observe the internal qualifications of a Master or Overseer of the work. I found the key to the Master’s Word, thinking of the barefoot children. I had a glimpse of the Master’s Word when I raised my fallen brother. I saw the spiritual city and all her spires when I shared my single crust with another’s need. I found the jewel of a Master, when I learned to know myself no vision to myself, nor the high God a vision, nor that One who rose again. I helped to restore a noble custom that had become obsolete among Masons. I learned to wear my apron with the right hand corner turned up.

Notes for Laird Joseph Stabler:

Inspired by a visiting entourage of American Chemical Society officials earlier in the year, club member Dr. Laird Stabler, USC Professor, oil refinery consultant, and ACS member originating from Berkeley, California, petitions the American Chemical Society to establish a local section in Los Angeles. On February 11, 1911, the newly chartered Southern California Section of ACS, consisting now of 60 members, holds its first monthly meeting. The meeting topic, "Our Smoke Nuisance", is about the Los Angeles basin's problem with atmospheric haze due to smoke particulate.

This group grew out of eight chemists meeting together in 1901 in an office at the Los Angeles Soap Company. They decide to call themselves the Los Angeles Chemical Club, and meet monthly overlunch and beer to discuss things they have learned that might result in a prosperous collective manufacturing venture. By 1903, the group has doubled in size, and they now call themselves The Los Angeles Chemical and Metallurgical Club to be more inclusive of member assayers who earn their living averting mining scams and swindles.

Notes for Robert James (Bobbie) Stabler:

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - Bond of James Ballard, held on a charge of manslaughter, was fixed at $3,000 after a preliminary hearing this morning in Middletown municipal court. He and Mrs. Ballard testified to events preceding the fatal shooting of Robert Stabler, following closely reports they have given to police.

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - A charge of manslaughter was filed against James Ballard, ago 22, Penfield Street late yesterday by Russell Stabler, brother of Robert Stabler, 17-year-old high school band drum major who was killed shortly before midnight Thursday when shot by Ballard. Ballard told police prowlers have been frequenting his neighborhood and that he shot at Stabler when he saw the youth peering a front window at the Ballard home. A half hour earlier, Ballard says, heard someone outside of the house, had his wife sit in a front room and he secreted himself on the porch, armed with a small caliber rifle.

Within the half hour, Ballard continued, he saw a person, crossing the street. This person walked to the window of the Ballard home and, Ballard says, started toward him when the watcher ordered him to stop. It was then that Ballard fired. "The fellow ran south, I called for him to stop, and when he kept on going, I continued to fire. He tried to get through the front gate at Armco field (a baseball field about 400 yards from the Ballard home) and fell. I think I fired six times, but I didn't want kill him, just make him stop."

Russell Stabler, the brother, expresses contends the opinion Robert was the victim of mistaken identity. One bullet entered Stabler's left side, another his right side, while he third entered the middle of his back. It was this bullet that caused death, an autopsy performed at Middletown hospital revealed.

This bullet severed a large artery from the heart as well as a large vein. Until this was learned, authorities had expressed surprise that such small caliber bullet wounds would prove fatal so quickly. Stabler died a half an hour after being wounded and did not regain consciousness.

From Simmer Lathey, 818 Fifteenth Avenue, detectives learned Stabler had been visiting Lathey's daughter Marie, until 10:30 o'clock Thursday night. The shooting occurred at 11:20 o'clock. Robert Stabler, who would have been a senior in high school next term, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stabler, 302 Garfield Street. Besides his parents, he is survived by his brother, Russell, former city engineer, and a sister, Marie.

Wade E. Miller, principal of Middletown High school, and Herman J. Copp, director of music, for whom Stabler played in the school band, give the slain student a splendid reputation, both asserting "he was a model pupil, honorable in every way and we thought a great deal of him."

Ballard was graduated from Middletown High school several years ago. He was an outstanding member of the 1930 football team, became known as an amateur wrestler, also played football, and last year the Cincinnati Reds sent him training school and then placed him on a farm at Jeanette, Pennsylvania. Ballard is married and he told police Mrs. Ballard is an expectant mother.

Funeral services for Stabler will be held at 3 o'clock Monday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Spring Hill cemetery, Bethany. Edward Cook, Butler county coroner, has not fixed the date of inquest which he said will be conducted next week.

He was born on July 20, 1925 in Mansfield, Louisiana to the late Harvey S. Henning Sr. and Margaret Clarke Henning. Harvey proudly served in the United States Navy from 1943 to his retirement as a Lieutenant Commander in 1967. He began his undergraduate engineering program at Louisiana State University and Tulane, graduating from the United States Naval Academy in 1949. He flew some of the first jets from aircraft carriers during the Korean conflict. After his first wife, Rebecca, died suddenly in 1956, he chose to raise his son and stayed stateside, foregoing reaching flag rank. He earned his Master's Degree in Nuclear Physics from the University of Pennsylvania and became a top Pentagon intelligence expert on the Soviet space program, ending his Naval career at NSA in Fort Meade. As the civilian Project Manager on the High Energy Laser (HEL) Project for the Naval Ordnance Lab, he helped initiate the beginning of missile defense, leading to the end of the Cold War. On June 20, 1959, while stationed at Point Mugu, California, Harvey married his beloved wife, then-LT (JG) Marilyn F. Henning (née Gemme) in Pasadena, California. His hobbies included reading science fiction, woodworking, wine making, and working with computers.

In addition to his beloved wife, Marilyn, he is also survived by his children, Harvey S. Henning III (Teresa) of Huntsville, Alabama, Eric Britt Henning of Laurel, Maryland, and Charon E. Henning (Lexie) of Gainesville, Florida; his grandson, Ian Miller Mitchell Henning of Laurel Maryland; and many extended family and friends. In addition to his parents, he is also preceded in death by his first wife, Rebecca Haile; sister, Margaret Clarke "Peggy" Myers; and daughter-in-law, Betsy Mitchell Henning.

Notes for Daniel Howard Plowman:

Caney, Kansas, May 22, 1911 - Mrs. W. A. Haynes. wife of the pastor of the Christian church here, publicly horsewhipped Daniel H. Plowman, a widely known dairyman and a member of the Caney school board, here today. Plowman swore out a warrant for the arrest of 'Mm. Haynes and her son, who accompanied her. The trouble grew out of the fight over the election of a superintendent of the public schools. Mrs. Haynes write a communication to a local paper concerning the election. Plowman posted the clipped communication in the window of his store and appended the words: "She says she is a religious woman." Mrs. Haynes entered the Plowman store today and demanded that the clipping be removed. Plowman refused. Then Mrs. Haynes attacked him with a riding quirt.

Superintendent Williams, a brother of Byron Williams of this city, was re-elected by a vote of four out of seven members present at a recent meeting of the board. Other members of the board claim that the election was illegal, being held before the regular time for the election and also because a majority of the board did not vote for Mr. Williams. At a later meeting. Prof. Humphrey, who lives in Missouri, was elected. It is understood that Plowman is a Humphrey partisan, while Mrs. Haynes favors Williams.

Notes for Hester Ann Truitt:

Notes for Thomas Dillon Dias:

Thomas Dias, at a young age, he and a friend started off to Pittsburgh to enlist, but his father got work or was suspicious and showed up before they could join. A few months later, in 1863, he slipped off again to Greensburg and enlisted when not quite seventeen. He got into the thick of the fight very soon; first as a guard at Washington, where he saw President Lincoln every day going to the hospitals for his regular visits.

Under the command of Col. Dick Coulter, he was ordered to take care of the Weldon Railroad. This command was part of the big effort to take Richmond. He was in the four day battle of the Wilderness and later Spotsylvania and Cold Harbor. He was shot through both legs, but not with the same bullet or at the same time, he attempted to crawl out of harm's way and was shot in the other leg.

He was a large man, more than six feet tall and built in proportion, and over the years he had sympathy and good-will to men. He operated a boarding house for McMinnie & Simms when they built the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to Altoona. He also ran the Central Hotel at Seward, Pennsylvania.

According to his military pension file, the marriage of Thomas and Edith didn't last, even though they did not divorce. It appears as though Edith brought with her a son from her previous marriage to live with her and Thomas. Thomas apparently considered him to be a deadbeat who did not want to work and maybe threw him out. Edith got mad and moved out, then filed a claim with the government for half of his military pension on the grounds that he abandoned her (she lost).

Thomas was in a car wreck and had a heart attack and then pneumonia at son's home in Seward, while recuperating. This led to his death.

3643. Albert Michael⁷ Walbeck, twin (Lydia S.⁶ Wagner, Anna⁵ Sides, Anna Maria (Anna Elisabeth)⁴ Stabler, Christian³ Staebler, Agnes² Metzger, Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born 06 Jun 1862 in W. Wheatfield, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania, and died 02 Jun 1927 in W. Wheatfield Twp, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania. He married Chrissie Mae (Christine) Stormer Bet. 12 Apr 1887 - 1888 in Indiana Co, Pennsylvania, daughter of Noah Stormer and Rosanna Brendlinger. She was born May 1863 in W. Wheatfield, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania, and died 16 Sep 1935 in Indiana Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Albert Michael Walbeck, twin:

Indiana, Pennsylvania – Coming as a great shock to the community was the tragic death of Albert M. Walbeck, a prominent resident and farmer, of West Wheatfield Township, who ended his life by hanging in the wagon shed of his home farm on Thursday forenoon June 2, 1927. The deceased had been in failing health for several months and it is believed that he committed the act during a sudden mental collapse while brooding over his condition. He was serving as road supervisor of his district and leaving the house that morning he announced that he going to Indiana to transact business in connection with the office. Late that afternoon while at the barn gathering eggs, Mrs. Walbeck went to the wagon shed where she discovered the dead body of her husband suspended from a rope which was tied to a rafter. The condition of body gave evidence that the deed must have been committed shortly after Mr. Walbeck left the house that morning.

The deceased, who was a son of late Levi Walbeck, was aged 66 and was a life-long resident of West Wheatfield Township, where he was regarded as one of the most substantial citizens. He was a man of fine Christian character and was one of the active members of the Germany M. E. church. He was identified with various community interests throughout his active career and served his district in several positions of trust.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Nesbitt, of near Blairsville, and sons, R. S. and R. D. Walbeck, at home. He was a twin brother of Joseph L. Walbeck, who in the same township. Funeral services were conducted at the on Sunday afternoon and interment followed in the Lutheran church cemetery.

John Samuel Walbeck (1780-1852) & Elizabeth Seitz (1790-1858) had 12 Children... two of which were Charles Walbeck (1822-1902) which is the line that Forrest descended from. Another son Was Levi Franklin Walbeck (1824 to 1908). Levi married Lydia Sarah Wagner (1827-1909) and they had 9 children, one of which was Albert M. Walbeck (1862-1927).

Albert married Crissie Mae Stormer (1863-1935) and they had 4 children, one of which was Ralph Deane Walbeck (or Walback)(1903-??) as he seemed to spell it differently throughout various newspaper articles from that period when he as the youngest son was the executor of his mother's estate in 1935. I found him with the Merchant Marines in San Francisco in 1930, but lost track of him after that. He married Margaret Biggerstaff (1912-??) in 1939. He appears to have gone by the name of Dean not Ralph. So based on the evidence that you found, the certificate dated Jul 1928 and the photo, which I'm guessing is around that same date, I believe this to be a photo of Ralph's mother Crissie Mae Stormer-Walbeck. Her husband Albert (Ralph's father) had a tragic ending. According to his obituary, he was a prominent farmer and one of the most substantial residents of the county of West Wheatfield. Unfortunately, his health began failing and he became broody in 1927. He kissed his wife good-bye on the 9th of June and said he was going into Indiana on business and went into the wagon shed and hung himself. Later that day, Crissie went to gather eggs and found his body hanging from a rope suspended from the shed's rafter. He was a man of fine Christian character and an active member of the Germany Lutheran Church.

Notes for John Grant (Walback) Walbeck:

Oct. 12, 1922 - Mystery surrounds a shooting incident in West Wheatfield Township, in which John G. Walbeck had a narrow escape from being hit by a bullet. Mr. Walbeck, who resides two miles north of Robinson, was awakened by a noise in his chicken yard. In the kitchen, preparing to go to the coops, he was startled by the sound of a revolver being discharged, the bullet crashing through the window just missing the householder's head. Mr. Walbeck says he believes he has a clue to the person who fired the shot. He says that while he and his son were going to Robinson last Saturday, he was accosted by five men in a car. It is his opinion that the noise among the poultry was created to get him out as the poultry house was not opened nor were any fowls missing.

Notes for Curtis Beriah Bliven:

History of Dakota County, Nebraska by Warner, page 101:

Curtis Bliven belonged to the Farmer's Club, a society organized in 1886 which held a great "Farmer's Institute" in a grove near home, July 30, 1887.

As a young man who freighted materials with an ox team from Laramie, Wyoming to Sioux City, Woodbury County, Iowa. He was just a teenager when he was driving the ox team. Indians were a menace in those days and family history says Curtis was a friend of an Indian brave who kept him posted on the location of troublesome tribes. As Curtis made his many trips back and forth he gazed at a tract of land with a grove of large elm trees and dreamed of someday owning this land and becoming a farmer.

This dream became reality on October 23, 1860 when Curtis purchased the 10 acres from Israel G. Lash. The farm is located 2 miles west and 2 miles south of Dakota City, Nebraska. Curtis lived with a neighbor family while he constructed a log cabin. This probably served as a family home for a few years. Later a wood frame house was constructed. Curtis cleared much of the land and farmed until about 1890, when Will the oldest boy, took over for about ten years. Then Leslie and Charley began farming the home place in 1900. They purchased a farm directly east of the Bliven place from Glen Armour in 1903. Later they divided the property and Leslie remained on the original Bliven farm.

Notes for William Arthur (Will) Bliven:

Dakota City, Nebraska, Feb 5, 1904 – The funeral of William A. Bliven, who was killed by the care at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on January 31, 1904, was held here yesterday, and although the day was frigid cold the Salem Lutheran church, three miles west of this place, where the services were held, was packed to its utmost seating capacity by old friends of the deceased who came to pay their tribute. The remains arrived in Sioux City from Albuquerque on Friday night, being accompanied by the brother, George. Accompanied by the relatives, they were brought to this place at 10 o'clock this morning, where the members of Omadi lodge, No. 5, A.F. & A.M., of which the deceased was a member, joined the funeral cortege and accompanied the remains to the church where Rev. S. M. Leshner, Lutheran pastor, delivered a most fitting sermon on the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death. The casket was a bank of flowers contributed by loving friends. After the church services the Masonic lodge and many friends accompanied the remains to the Taylor cemetery where Past Grand Master R. E. Evans conducted the Masonic funeral services.

Mr. Bliven was in his thirty-fourth year and was born and raised in the county. He was one of the brightest of young men, sober, industrious and successful farmer and catted feeder. By successful financing in the past few years, he accumulated upwards of $15,000 and when he met his death was enjoying himself sightseeing and looking for an investment.

3760. Sarah Alta⁷ Forshoe (Emeline (Emma)⁶ Sides, Jacob⁵, Anna Maria (Anna Elisabeth)⁴ Stabler, Christian³ Staebler, Agnes² Metzger, Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born 07 Oct 1869 in Dakota City, Dakota Co, Nebraska, and died Bet. 05 Apr 1947 - 06 Jun 1948 in Dakota City, Dakota Co, Nebraska. She married Bernard Manuel Boals 07 Jun 1905 in Dakota City, Dakota Co, Nebraska. He was born 19 Sep 1876 in Dakota City, Dakota Co, Nebraska, and died 11 Jan 1950 in Sioux City, Woodsbury Co, Iowa.

Notes for Bernard Manuel Boals:

Bernard Manuel Boals was born Sept. 19, 1876 and died Jan. 11, 1950. He is buried at Logan Park, Sioux City, Iowa. Bernard Manuel Boals was of sturdy build, rugged and healthy, 5 ft 6 1/2 inches in height. He had brown eyes like his mother. Bernard, like his father George Jr., loved to hunt and surely brought in the plump jack-rabbits which in that country are almost like "beefs" and splendid eating; also cottontails which are plump and fat like the jacks, also many ducks. On the hunt for jack-rabbits he was a stayer and if he once jumped up he would stay on the trail until he brought it down even if it took him all day. Bernard went to school at Brushy Bend School until through the 10th grade, then had a year at business college at Dixon, Illinois at the age of twenty. Bernard had an impediment in his speech which bothered him greatly and at Dixon he tried valiantly to master his difficulty. During the winter of 1903 Bernard spent two months in Detroit, Michigan at a school for training to overcome his impediment. He made significant progress during this time.

When twenty four, Bernard was married on September 20, 1900 to Etta Wilhemina Beerman who was one year and two days his junior. Etta was a daughter of Fred Beerman Sr. and Anna Armbricht. Etta was born Sept. 21, 1877 and was a sweetheart of their Brushy Bend School days. They were a devoted and happy couple and everything was joyful about their home. Members of Etta's family were continually dropping in and would bring a loaf of bread or a pickle or something to pretend they were keeping them from starving. Bernard and Etta set up housekeeping on the David Boals home place, which George Jr. (Bernard's father) bought from David and Hannah Boals when they moved to Dallas, Oregon. Bernard still brought in the jack-rabbits hanging from his belt and Etta would praise him on his success in hunting; theirs was surely a happy home. Bernard and Etta had one son, Manuel Wilhelm Boals, born June 5, 1902. Etta passed away at or shortly after his birth, and here was Bernard, alone and with a little boy, motherless.

Bernard's mother, Hattie Plank Boals, came to the rescue and sustained Bernard and cared for little Manuel. Porter Boals, Bernard's brother said "I used to watch mother bathe him and noted his little arms and legs, just like we grown people, only just little. I always called him the "little fellow" and how I watched him grow day by day." Georga, Bernard's sister lived with Bernard and kept house for him all this time. Bernard, with his mother's assistance gradually accepted the loss of his wife and adjusted himself to conditions as they were and realizing it would be better not to continue on alone married Alta Foreshoe on June 7, 1905. Alta was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Foreshoe of Dakota County, Nebraska and was a member of Salem Church were all of the Boals families attended. Bernard and Alta had three children in addition to Manuel Wilhelm. Bula Berniece, born Feb. 15, 1907, who died in infancy on July 5, 1907. Rhea born March 14, 1908. Rhea was a healthy child and vigorous and how Bernard loved her. When she was a little over two years old she was stricken with Infantile Paralysis and lived only a day or two and died Sept. 11, 1910. Both children are buried at Logan Park, outside of Sioux City. Their third child was Bernard Ralph Boals, born Oct. 19, 1909.

In 1919 Bernard and Alta rented out their farm for two years and with their sons, Manuel and Ralph, went out west to visit the Porter Boals family (Bernard's brother). They crossed the "Plains" with the Robert (LAHS-Ord) Hileman Family and were guided by the "Blue Book" which one would read while the other one drove. (No highways or signs you see). Each family had a two wheeled trailer which could be made up at night into a house on wheels to provide sleeping quarters and protection from the elements. Naturally this was quite an experience and took quite a while with all kinds of roads and weather.

They arrived in July, 1919 and it was an enjoyable occasion for everyone. That was the year that Mary Elizabeth was born to Alice and Porter Boals, so Bernard's family rented a home in Payette and the boys went to school there. The next summer they went on to California. Porter and his family travelled with them as far as Walla Walla. Bernard had a Haynes car and Porter had a Model T Ford. They had a great experience obtaining gasoline and crossing the Blue Mountains. Bernard rather wanted to stay and live in Payette where he had made many friends but Alta and the boys wanted to go back to their farm in Nebraska, so that fall they all returned to Nebraska. Bernard is buried at the Logan Park Cemetery NW of Sioux City, Iowa.

3778. Rev. Winfield Scott⁷ Hoskinson (Louisa⁶ Mikesell, Jane Carrie⁵ Sides, Anna Maria (Anna Elisabeth)⁴ Stabler, Christian³ Staebler, Agnes² Metzger, Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born Oct 1853 in W. Wheatfield, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania, and died 28 Jun 1923 in Richmond, Contra Costa Co, California. He married Clara Belle McKee 1880 in Ohio. She was born May 1854 in Ohio, and died Aft. 1920.

Notes for Rev. Winfield Scott Hoskinson:

American Lutheran Biographies: or, Historical Notices of Over Three Hundred and Fifty Leading Men of the American Lutheran Church - From its Establishment of the Year 1890. By Jens Christian Roseland. Page 377:

Rev. Winfield S. Hoskinson, Sc.D. was born in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, October, 1852. He is of English and German descent. His paternal grandfather was a Virginian, whose ancestry were of the leading people among early settlers. They were noted especially for their shrewdness and intelligence. Prof. Hoskinson's father has retained these traits in a large degree, being now recognized as a man of unusual intelligence and good, common sense, and although not a professional man, is of liberal education.

But that perseverance characteristic of the subject of this sketch came rather from the German, through the maternal parentage. His maternal grandfather and grandmother were natives of York County, Pennsylvania, and when young emigrated with their parents to the then sparsely settled western part of the State. Both branches of that family were prosperous, and became the thrifty people of their respective communities.

They were Lutherans in church polity, and noted for their strict adherence to the faith of their ancestry, as well as for an honesty and integrity of character, which make their names revered to this day. Prof. Hoskinson's boyhood days were spent on his father's farm. Farming in the hilly country in which he was raised meant an unusual amount of hard work. His father being a practical mechanic, spent his time largely in looking after the interests of a flouring mill and saw mill, leaving the young boy to manage the plowing and sowing. This was done with an energy and determination truly remarkable in one so young. Like most boys, he was unusually fond of horses, and when but twelve years of age would make trips to the distant railroad station, six miles, hauling lumber, flour, tanbark, etc., managing his team on the rough hills with remarkable skill. Being the oldest of a large family of children, the burden of the work and management fell to him. He is remembered by those who knew him when a boy as one who always performed his nearest duty most faithfully.

His schooling when a child was but three months of the year. Of studious habits he made rapid progress, and after spending a short session at a normal school was chosen by the Board of Directors of his home district to teach the winter term of school. This was a severe undertaking, as many of his pupils, being neighbors, were much older than himself. Pluck prevailed, and he was successful, as his re-election to the same school the next year proved. He was not fifteen years old at this time. Having acquired a taste for books and study, he continued teaching in winter and attending normal school in summer.

In the spring of 1870 he came to Wittenberg College, entering the preparatory department, and devoting his time to the study of Greek and Latin. His desire was to return to college at the beginning of the fall term, but was disappointed. He again taught in the winter of 1872, and attended another term of normal school the following summer. In the fall of 1872 he entered the Freshman class in Wittenberg, with the design of preparing himself for the ministry, and in due time was graduated, standing among the first of his class. He then entered the theological seminary, and completed a course in theology. After graduating from the Seminary he was invited to fill the pulpit of Dr. S. A. Ort, in Louisville, Kentucky, during the summer of 1878. Several calls to fields of labor in the ministry were extended to him at this time, but being chosen tutor in the preparatory department of the college he accepted the position, and has filled it ever since. had brought on by an accident in Norway, and they were finally obliged to apply to an older brother for aid.

Mr. Hoskinson is not one of those who is content with present attainments, but is ever desirous of widening his field of knowledge, and of more thoroughly mastering what he has already been over.

As a teacher Professor Hoskinson has been unquestionably a success, and during his work in the college he has always shown himself master of the branches which he taught. He is strict to the extent of requiring his students to prepare thoroughly what they pass over; feeling that their success, especially in Greek, in their after years in the college department, depended greatly on the thorough training and solid foundation they have laid while in the preparatory department.

In the summer of 1880 Mr. Hoskinson was married to Miss Clara B. McKee, who had been for several years a teacher in the city schools of Springfield, O. They have a family of three children, two girls and a boy.

Mr. Hoskinson began his scientific studies in the fall of 1883, paying particular attention to chemistry and mineralogy. In 1884 and 1885 he published, in connection with Dr. E. F. Smith, "Notes on Minerals," and "Electrolysis of Molybdenum and Mercury Solutions" —papers appearing in the Journal of Chemistry, and in abstract form in foreign journals. In 1885 he translated "Stammer's Chemical Problems," published by Blakiston, Son & Co., of Philadelphia. This little work has been of great service to teachers of chemistry. The summer of 1886 he devoted chiefly to the study of geology and paleontology, making a fine collection of fossils, some of which, found in the Clinton limestone of Ohio, are new. His thesis for the Sc. D. degree relates to mixed halogen derivatives of salicylic acid.—Hist. Wittenberg College.

Dr. Hoskinson has spent one year at the University of Berlin, and is at present pastor of the English Lutheran church at Sacramento, California.

Kansas, Dec. 18, 1886 - One of the most interesting cases ever in the United States, is now on trial. It is a very peculiar case and it is doubtful whether there was ever one like it before. E. M. Weston, who was in September, 1885, a hotel clerk at one of the leading hotels of McPherson, brings suit against J. M. Martin, P. L. Jennings and E. Stabler, three of the most prominent citizens of McPherson, for damages to the amount of $10,000, because of treatment he received at their hands. The incident took place at McPherson in September, 1885. The defendants above named were of the opinion that Weston attempted to seduce their daughters, and about 10 o'clock in the morning of September 11, on one main business streets they placed a rope around his neck, strangled him and threatened to kill him. He was ordered to leave town and was placed in an express wagon and driven out of town. Weston claims that he was innocent of any improper conduct with the girls, and for personal injury and damage to character he asks the sum of $10,000.

The case was called at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Judge Foster in the United States circuit court. Weston is represented by Judge John Foster, of this city; Lucien Earle and Wartz & Heyer, of McPherson. The defendants are represented by Captain J. B. Johnson, of this city; John D. Milliken, F. B. Webster, and W. J. Travis, of McPherson.

Young Weston, the three young girls, May Stabler, Rena, Jennings and Carrie Martin and their fathers were present in court, besides a large number of witnesses from McPherson. A jury was selected without much difficulty, and Mr. Lucien Earl, of McPherson, addressed the jury on behalf of the plaintiff. He said that they proposed to show that E. W. Weston was a clerk at one of the leading hotels in McPherson, at a salary of $30 per month. He formed an acquaintance with Miss May Stabler, a daughter of the defendant, Mr. Stabler, and had taken her out riding; he also became acquainted with Miss Carrie Martin, a daughter of the defendant, J. M. Martin; that the three girls played "hookey" from school and asked young Weston to take a walk with them; that they went down the railroad track and in a short time Mr. Stabler came along, and threatened to shoot Weston; that Weston protected his innocence; afterwards he was met at the hotel by Stabler who produced a revolver and again threatened to kill him and ordered him to leave town; believing that his life was in danger, he did leave town for a day or two; when he came back Weston was met by the fathers of the three girls, who put a rope around his neck and choked him; they then load him in an express wagon, all the time pointing a pistol at him, took him to the Union hotel, put his valise in the wagon and ordered the expressman to drive out town; that for three weeks he carried the marks of the rope about his neck; that he was obliged to leave a lucrative position; that he was at no time guilty of immoral conduct; the action of the defendants was without the least justification; he did nothing that no other young man would not do. He thought the jury would agree that he was entitled to damages.

Mr. Milliken then addressed the jury for the defendants. He said that one of the defendants was a church official and two others were members of the school board, and were business men of good character and standing. Weston, he said, was one of that innumerable class who infest all cities and towns, who wear better clothing than anybody else, smoke cigars, and yet have no visible means of support. He came to McPherson one month before the occurrence. The three defendants each had little daughters about 14 years old, to whom Weston made improper advances; it might be that the girls did not show the proper degree of dignity, but the defense would show that Weston solicited them to take a walk; he and another young man met them at church on Sunday and solicited them to go away but they refused; he met them again and suggested a carriage ride; at another time he tried to entice them to his room in Union hotel, saying he had books that he wanted to show them, he solicited them to correspond with him, and told them he could write under an assumed name; he proposed that he would get a postoffice box with several keys, so that when he wrote a letter he would place it in this box where they could get it, and they in turn could place their reply in the box where he could get it. He also asked them to go away with him and when they replied that their mother would not allow that, he told them they must conceal everything from their mother. On one Sabbath afternoon he procured a barouche and drove them out of the city, and when some distance out, he drew out a bottle of chloroform which he sprinkled on their handkerchiefs; he sought to embrace them, but they resisted; he perpetrated indignities of grossly lascivious character, and he was guilty of a great many improprieties. Next week he proposed to write excuses, signing their parents' name, so that they could get away from school. He had the children agree to meet him on one afternoon, and took them down the railroad a distance of one mile, where while they were sitting upon the grass, he grossly insulted them, by exposing his person, and other indignities; he proposed that they go further into the country where they would not be seen. Mr. Stabler having learned from some of his neighbors that this young man had enticed his daughter away, followed them and found them together at the place mentioned. He told Weston to leave, and afterwards visited Weston at the hotel, accused him of attempting to traduce his daughter, and told him he must leave town, which the young man did. A few days later he returned, and the fathers of the three girls know that their daughters were not safe with Weston in the town, went to him with raw hides for the purpose of cowhiding him and ordering him out of town. They also took a piece of rope along for the purpose of tying him if it was necessary. They found him, and ordered him to leave town, but Weston said he would not; a scuffle then ensued, during which it is possible that the rope got around the young man's neck. Some of the citizens congregated, and in response to an inquiry the three defendants told them that they did not intend to hurt Weston, but they wanted him to leave town; and the mayor, who was standing near said that he guessed Weston would leave, but if he did not they would all unite in a job of hanging him. Mr. Milliken said that he thought the jury would agree with him that they hang higher than Haman.

E. W. Weston, the plaintiff, was the first witness to take the stand. He testified: I am 24 years of age; the first time I saw saw the defendants in this case - Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings was on September 11, 1885, at McPherson; I have been residing at McPherson since October 25. On September 11 I was approached Mr. Stabler, who told me to leave town I said I would not because I had done nothing. He then pointed a pistol at me and told me to leave or he would kill me. I told him I would go. He called the sheriff who told me that he thought I had better leave town. I went to Florence, where I had an uncle. I stayed there a few days and then went to Ellinwood, where I stayed only a few hours and returned to McPherson September 14. A few hours afterward, I was approached by Stabler, Martin and Jennings. They took me up in front of the Merchants hotel. Stabler first pointed a gun at me and afterwards he took a rope out of his pocket and put it around my neck. They choked me until I was unconscious. The first remark I heard after I recovered consciousness, was that made by Mr. Stabler, who said to the crowd, "this man has traduced my daughter." Mr. Robinson, who stood by, said I know it is not true, for I saw a letter of recommendation which he had from Wellington." They then put me in an express wagon, put my valise in also, and told the expressman to drive me to Galway, a distance of eight miles. I was then out of employment until November 9, when I went to work in a Kansas City brick yard. Before I went to McPherson, I had been a hotel clerk nine years. When they choked me with the rope, the skin was knocked off my face and neck. The occurrence took place about 9:30 o'clock in the morning of one of the principal business streets.

Cross-examined by Captain Johnson the witness testified that he clerked in hotels in various places in Illinois and also at Wellington. Soon after he went to McPherson he met May Stabler, Rena Jennings and Carrie Martin, daughters of the defendants in this case. Miss Martin told him she was 16 years old. Between 1 and 2 o'clock on September 11, these three girls came up to the hotel where they found me playing ball; Miss Stabler and Miss Martin called me over where they were, and asked me to take a walk with them. They wanted me to meet them at the church on the corner; they had their gossamers with them. We went about a half mile down the track, and sat down on the grass on the bank of a railroad cut. I did not do anything, and I did not try to do anything. There was a house not very far distant, but I do not know just how far. I could see a man at the house all the time. My conduct was proper and right. After we had been sitting there about half an hour, Mr. Stabler came up to us, and said to the girls, "Go on home." He then turned to me and said, "You, if I had a gun, I would kill you. I told him I had done nothing, but he still threatened to kill me. I told him the girls had asked me to go with them, and they also told him the same.

We separated, and when I got into town I caught up with the girls, and they said they would tell Mr. Stabler that they had asked me to go with them and that I had done nothing improper. I told the girls I would see Mr. Stabler and explain things. I then went to the hotel, and on arriving there I found Mr. Stabler, who asked "are you going to leave town?" I replied in a joking manner that I was. He went into the hotel and told the proprietor that he wanted him to settle with me, as I had to leave town. He pulled out his revolver and threatened to kill me. When the girls were with me, they said they intended to run off with a show that was coming to McPherson in a short time; they also said that a few weeks before they had run off to Salina with two traveling men, and when they got to Salina they ran away from the travelling men and visited friends. On another occasion took a buggy ride with Miss Stabler, she having invited me to go with her. I met her and Miss Martin at church and we then went riding. I think it was Miss Stabler's buggy. She said her mother had told her she could take me out riding, had never seen her mother. We were out about an hour; there was nothing improper between us. Court then adjourned until this morning.

Dec. 16, 1886 - A case will come up in the United States circuit court tomorrow which is somewhat of an anomaly, and which involves $10,000. E. M. Weston sues J. M. Martin, J. W. Stabler and others for personal damages in the sum of $10,000, the said Weston having been kicked, cuffed and choked nearly unto death by the said defendants. Weston is a young man, under 30 years of age, and in the summer of 1885 was a hotel clerk in the city of McPherson. He was a bold, dashing young fellow, and was known as a great ladies' man. One of his pastimes was to take several little girls 14 or 15 years old out tiding in a buggy. Among others he took the daughters of J. M. Martin and J. W. Stabler out into the country not unfrequently.

At length these excursions of Weston's in to the country with the daughters of these gentlemen became so notorious that public attention was attracted. The girls seemed to have become fairly fascinated with the dashing hotel clerk. They played truant from school to be in his company, and committed other errors of this nature. Weston's conduct with regard to the girls became so loud that the fathers waited upon him and informed him that he must leave the city at once. He obeyed, but in about ten days returned. Again, his relations with the girls were resumed until finally one day a neighbor of Mr. Stabler came to him and said: "What would you do if you saw your neighbor's daughter going into the country with a suspicious character?"

Mr. Stabler promptly replied that he would inform the girl's father of the fact. The neighbor then told Mr. Stabler that he had seen Weston take his daughter into a buggy and drive her toward the country. Stabler at once started in pursuit of the couple. He came upon them several miles out of the city. As soon as Weston saw him, he started to run. Stabler took his daughter back to McPherson, but by the time he arrived there, Weston was there, too. After taking the girl to her home, Mr. Stabler, in company with the fathers of two other girls to whom Weston had been paying some attention, waited upon the gentleman at the hotel where he was employed. They took with them a rope, and when they met Weston there was an excited and stormy debate. Finally, one of the irritated papas reached for Weston with his strong right arm, and pulling in the limp form of the dude hotel clerk, his neck was circled with the rope.

Weston began to pray for mercy, and for a time it looked rather rough for the "lady's man." He was dragged far a considerable distance. His face became black and blue and his tongue hung out. All his entreaties for mercy were in vain. The three papas had been bothered enough with Mr. Weston, and they proposed to teach him a lesson that he would not forget for a while any way. Finally, after Mr. W. had given up all hope of ever being rescued, the rope was untied and he was told that he was at liberty to leave the city by the first train or leave the world from the nearest tree. It did not take him long to decide. The first train suited him well enough. He was therefore escorted to a station a short distance down the road, and from that day to this Mr. Weston has been a stranger to the city of McPherson.

In consideration of the rough treatment which he received at the hands of the papas of the little girls with whom he alleges he was carrying on an innocent flirtation, Weston now sues for personal damages in the sum of $10,000. His attorney is the Hon. John Martin, of this city, while Messrs. Stabler and Martin are represented by Captain J. B. Johnson.

Dec. 21, 1886 - Miss Stabler corroborated by Miss Jennings and Martin – The Cross-Examination Fails to Develop New Facts - At 9:30 yesterday morning the bailiff, of the United States circuit court rapped for order in the commodious rooms of the court in the federal building. The case on for trial was the Weston-Stabler damage suit which has attracted considerable attention owing to its many sensational features. It had been announced on Saturday that the young ladies with whom Weston had carried on what he is pleased to term a harmless flirtation would be placed on the stand to testify for the defense, and as a consequence all the available space in the court room was occupied by interested spectators who remained throughout the entire day listening to the testimony. Miss May Stabler, one of the young ladies whose foolish flirtation with Weston has caused considerable trouble for that individual and a great deal of litigation for her father was first placed on the stand to testify for the defense. Miss Stabler is a pleasant looking blonde, 16 years old. She gave her testimony in a quiet, diffident way, answering all questions put to her promptly, and in a clear and decided tone. Her testimony was strangely contrasted to that of Weston, whoever and anon contradicted himself, not unfrequently refused to answer questions and on the whole his demeanor on the stand was not such a would win for him many friends in the jury box. In response to the questions of Capt. J. B. Johnson, Miss Stabler said that she knew Weston, in all about three or four weeks. The first time she ever saw him was when she passed the Union hotel on her way to the business part of the town. Rena Jennings was with her when she first met Weston. De Wolf was with Weston at the time, and while Rena Jennings and the witness were out walking, De Wolf and Weston spoke to them and asked them to go out walking with them. They did not accept, and no time was fixed for another meeting. The next time the witness met Weston was on Sunday at the church. She did not hear the conversation between De Wolf and Weston and Carrie Martin and Rena Jennings. She was at the organ playing. De Wolf wanted Carrie Martin and the witness to go to Salina with him that afternoon. They refused.

The next time the witness saw Weston was at the church, and then he wanted to know, if he would get post office boxes, whether or not the three girls would correspond with him. Was there about half an hour talking with him. He said he had some very nice books up in his room, and wanted the girls to come up. He said the number of his room was 28. While they were standing there, Rena Jennings said: "There comes my papa," and when she said this Weston at once left. The next time the witness remembered of meeting Weston was when he took her and Carrie Martin driving. He met them on the street and asked them if they did not wish to take a ride. An affirmative answer having been given, Weston procured a rig at the livery stable. The witness and Carrie Martin drove for about half an hour with Weston.

The next time the witness met Weston was on the next Sunday at the church. Weston wanted to know at this time if the witness would go outriding with him. She declined to go for a time and finally consented. They drove into the country about a mile and then returned. School began on the next day after this and on that evening Carrie Martin, Rena Jennings and the witness took Weston out riding.

The witness next saw Weston on Friday. Carrie Martin was with him. They were standing on the sidewalk in front of the Union hotel and motioned to Weston to come across. They asked him to write them excuses from school. Weston wanted to know where the girls were going and wanted to know why he could not go with them. As the girls did not want to go to school that day they went down the railroad track east of the city and Weston accompanied them. They sat down by the bridge in a cut and remained there about an hour before Mr. Stabler came for them. While in the carriage some days before Weston had attempted to place his hand on their persons, and also stated to the girls that he had some chloroform. This he placed upon their handkerchiefs. He also placed his hands upon the girls' limbs and other parts of their persons. He attempted to put his hands under Carrie Martin's clothes and under those of the witness. The girls all remonstrated with him for doing this. The witness did not remember that she had put her foot on the seat by him. The girls were all dressed in short dresses, and Weston frequently made vulgar allusions in talking to them. While the girls were in the railroad cut Weston attempted to take improper liberties with all of them. He threw Carrie Martin down on the ground and fell on her and kissed her. After the witness' father came up and took her home, he asked her to tell him all about the circumstances and Weston's conduct, which she did.

Cross-Examination. Judge John Martin then compelled Miss Stabler to go through a rigid cross-examination. She did so without any trouble whatever, and the cross-examination failed to shake any of her testimony.

At the afternoon session of the court the room was equally as crowded as it was during the forenoon by interested spectators. Rena Jennings, a most prepossessing little blonde, was placed on the stand to testify for the defense. She stated that she was 16 years old. The first time she ever spoke to Weston was at the Methodist church in company with May Stabler, De Wolf was with Weston at this time. The witness then went on to state her experiences with Weston substantially as related by May Stabler above. She said that while riding with Weston in the barouche he attempted to take liberties with her in the way of feeling of her person. She said that Weston had asked her to run away with him and she had replied that when she ran away with any one it would have to be with a better-looking man than he was. She related the occurrences at the railroad cut, how he threw Carrie Martin down, fell on top of her and kissed her.

The cross examination failed to develop any additional facts or to shake the evidence brought out by the direct examination. Miss Jennings was on the stand about two hours, and during that time she broke down crying but once. She answered all questions put to her in a quiet, determined way, and the whole rather favorably impressed the spectators. Miss Stabler was on the stand three hours, and during that time she repeatedly broke into spells of crying. Whenever this occurred silence reigned supreme in the court room, and one could have heard a pin drop. The last witness placed upon the stand for the day was Miss Carrie Martin. Her testimony was substantially the same as that given by the other girls. The examination of this witness was not completed when the court took an adjournment until 9:30 a.m. Today will probably see the completion of this celebrated trial.

Dec. 24, 1886 - The case of E. C. Weston vs. J. W. Stabler, J. M. Martin and Mr. Jennings, came up yesterday in the United States court before Judge Brewer. This case has attracted wide spread attention over the entire state, owing to the numerous sensational features, and as a consequence the circuit court room was yesterday quite comfortably filled by spectators who had assembled for the purpose of hearing the evidence. It will be remembered that Weston brings suit against Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings for damages in the sum of $25,300, for injuries which he sustained at the hands of the above-named parties, who, under the impression that Weston had attempted to defile their daughters, compelled him to leave McPherson. Captain J. B. Johnson, F. B. Webster, W. J. Travis and John D. Milliken are representing the defendants in this case. Hon. John Martin, of this city, Worts & Hyer and Lucien Earle, of McPherson, are representing Weston in this case.

Yesterday afternoon some little time was spent in securing a satisfactory jury, but the difficulty having at length been bridged, Mr. Lucien Earle, on behalf of Weston, made a statement of his client's case to the jury. Mr. Earle said that the plaintiff would endeavor to prove that the three defendants had uselessly and without cause threatened the life of the plaintiff Weston. That they had forced him to leave the city of McPherson, and had by force overpowered him, attached a rope to his neck and by tightening the same had caused Weston to become unconscious. All the actions of the defendant originated from the false belief that Weston had attempt to defile the three daughters of the defendants, whereas he was merely carrying on a harmless flirtation with them with no bad or malicious intent. For the defendants, Mr. John D. Milliken made a statement of their side of the case to the jury. Mr. Milliken dwelt upon the fact that the defendants were all three re-puttable business men of McPherson. Weston came to McPherson in September of 1885, and in a short time he picked up an acquaintance with the three daughters of the defendants, all school Bins aged 1. wee ton's reputation before coming to McPherson was by no means clean. Directly after he had succeeded in making the acquaintance of the girls, he had made open boasts that he would accomplish their ruin. He took them out buggy riding, and while with them his conduct and actions indicated what his object was. On September 12th, 1885, ha had taken the three girls to a secluded spot and there he renewed his lascivious conduct. He also attempted to persuade them to run away from home, and the girls in their innocence had proposed to first make known their intentions to so do to their parents. This Weston told them they must not do, as it would spoil everything. He proposed to write them excuses, whereby they might be excused from school in order that they might be in his company. He had taken the girls out in a barouche and had saturated their handkerchiefs with chloroform, and attempted to stupefy them in order that he might be enabled to defile them. When the fathers learned of this conduct, they were naturally indignant. They told Weston be must leave the city, and he did so, but returned in two days. He was again told to leave, and acts were committed to induce him to do so. Whatever was done, Mr. Milliken said, was done to protect the children.

E. C. Weston, the plaintiff in the case, was the first witness called to the stand. He testified that he was 25 years old, and that he had resided in McPherson in 1885; was clerk at one of the hotels. He received $30 per month and board. He first became acquainted with Messrs. Stabler and Martin in September, 1885. He bad had quite an experience with Mr. Stabler. Stabler had objected to him (the witness) keeping company with his daughter. Stabler had placed a pistol to his head and asked him to leave town.

In compliance with this demand he (Weston) had left the city and gone to Florence and Ellinwood, and two days later he returned to McPherson. Here he was again waited upon by Stabler, Martin and Jennings and three pistols were placed at his bead and he was again told by these three parties that he must leave the city. Finally, a rope was placed around his neck, and from then on he did not remember much. He was unconscious in fact, choked. Finally, he was placed in a wagon by force and driven to Galva, a station a short distance from McPherson, where he was placed on the train and sent to Florence. He had been out of employment after he was compelled to leave McPherson, up to November 9, 1885. He had been employed after that time in Kansas City in different ways. He had no trade or profession, but had always been hotel clerk. The rough handling which he had received at the hands of Messrs. Stabler and others had caused an abrasion of the skin on the neck of the witness. This was brought about by the rope which was placed about his neck. When the rope was first placed around his neck it was about 10 o'clock in the morning, in front of the Merchants hotel, at McPherson, in the main street of the town. About 100 people were attracted by the incident.

The witness being cross examined by Captain Johnson, testified that he was a single man. He had resided in Kansas since December, 1883. He had commenced work as a hotel clerk in '881. Captain Johnson then entered upon a rigid cross examination of the witness. He compelled Weston to give an account of himself for the time years prior to the time he arrived at McPherson, in September, 1885. The witness testified that he had clerked at the Phillip house at Wellington. He denied that the establishment bore a bad name. He did not know that Phillip, the proprietor, had been compelled to leave Wellington and close his house owing to public indignation at the filthy way in which it was kept. He did not know what business Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings were engaged in at McPherson. He had never been admitted to their households. He did not remember when he met Rena Jennings, May Stabler or Carrie Martin. The last-named girl had told him that she was 16 years old. The other two girls had told him they were past fifteen. On the 11th day of September, 1885, Miss Stabler and Miss Martin came to the hotel and asked the witness to take a walk with them. He complied with the strange request of two little girls asking a stranger 24 years old to take a walk with them. In company with Miss Martin and Miss Stabler he walked about a half mile out from the hotel. This was about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. They went out to the railroad and sat on the Dana for the purpose of talking. The only object he had in going out that far was to sit down. There were no other places to go to sit down and talk. He went to this isolated place in company with the girls because they ask him to go. He did not do or try to do anything while he was there. From the place where he was, there was a house distant about 300 feet, he thought He was with the girls about half an hour when Mr. Stabler came upon them. During this half an hour he did nothing at all. He took no improper liberties with the girls. When Stabler came up he (Stabler) called him (the witness) hard names and told him that he must leave town. Stabler took the girls and started towards the city. The witness followed up behind and finally he took a different route from that which Stabler took and proceeded to the Union hotel. Shortly after the witness arrived at the hotel Stabler came up and asked him if he was going to leave town. To this the witness replied that he was going to leave. Stabler then related the facts of the witness connection with the girls to the crowd in the hotel. Stabler had drawn a pistol on him in the cloakroom, and threatened him. Shortly after this Stabler went for the sheriff. When the sheriff came, this officer advised the witness to leave town as he was in imminent danger of being killed. The witness told the sheriff that he was innocent of any charge of attempting to defile the girls. When he was down on the bank with the girls alone they talked about everything in general. The girls said that they intended to run away with a traveling company. He gave them no advise whatever in regard to the matter. A few days before he went down to, the railroad bank in company with the girls, Miss Stabler wrote him a note telling him to be at the Methodist church at 7:30 in the evening and they would go buggy riding. He went down to the church as per appointment, and in company with Miss Martin and Miss Stabler he went riding for about an hour. They (the girls) furnished the rig, and he went out at their invention. During this time he undertook no improper liberties with the girls. At this point the court adjourned until 9 a.m. today.

McPherson, Kansas, July 7, 1893 - J. W. Stabler had a wheat stock struck by lightning Saturday night and burned up, Mr. Stabler estimates it contained about one hundred and fifty bushels of wheat which was not insured.

McPherson, June 1, 1894 - Mr. Wright, mayor of this city, has gone to California. This leave Mr. Stabler the president of the council, as acting mayor. Several years ago Mr. Stabler was Mayor of this city by election. Its business was well looked after. For every dollar of taxes expended the city got a dollars' worth in return. The laws were well enforced and the public morality was good. But the people wanted a change and they got it. And now we presume they are ready to welcome back Mr. Stabler as the best mayor we ever had. There is no need of a special election.

Notes for Johann Friedrich Graf:

History of Washtenaw County, Michigan. By Chas. C. Chapman & Co. Chicago: Chas. C. Chapman & Co., 1881.

John F. Graf, Saline, was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, March 6, 1833. His parents were John G. and Margaret Graf. Mr. Graf was reared in his native land, and attended its public schools, where he received the education he now possesses. In 1854, he emigrated to America, and came West, till he saw Washtenaw county. This fair spot pleased him, and he purchased a farm; by subsequent purchases this farm has been increased to 305 acres. May 1, 1860, he married Dolly Grass, and this union has been blessed with 6 children, 4 of whom are living - Charles F., George A., William H. and Lydia. Mr. Graf is a member of the German Lutheran Church, at Saline, and in politics is a firm believer in the principles adopted by the Democratic Party.

Notes for Johann Georg Schnirring:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

J. George Schnirring is a farmer owning a fine place on section 22, Freedom Township. He is a son of Michael Schnirring, a native of Wurtemberg, Germany, where he was engaged as a farmer. Our subject's mother was Magdalena (Schrat) Schnirring, a native of the same place as was her husband, where they both died. They were the parents of seven children, three of whom are now living. Of these our subject was the sixth child in order of birth, his natal day being May 15, 1836, and his birthplace being Wurtemberg.

The original of our sketch grew to manhood in his native country and there received a good education, having been a student of a High School in Germany. On reaching his majority he started out from home to engage in the struggle of life for himself and America offering inducements to an energetic young man superior to any other country he cast his lines here, and on arriving in this country proceeded directly to Michigan and settled in Freedom Township where he worked out on a farm by the day. He continued this for a time in order that he might learn to speak English and also to learn the methods of work in this country.

Later Mr. Schnirring became a teacher of German in Lodi and Freedom Townships and was very successful in this work. In 1857 he was united in marriage to Christian Lawrence, a daughter of Henry Lawrence of Wurtemberg, Germany. She was born in 1833 and was well versed in her native tongue and the usual branches as taught in German schools. This union has been blest by the advent of nine children, seven of whom are now living. Of these Riga is the wife of John Monroe and lives in California; Regina married Peter Johnson and also lives in California; William is the husband of Lizzie Scherdt and lives in Bridgewater; Clara, Paulina, Eugene and Minnie are still under the home roof.

Our subject settled upon his present farm twenty-three years ago (1891) and now has one hundred twenty acres, ninety acres of which are improved. He built all the buildings on the place and he has a very pleasant house that is charmingly located on the southeast corner of Pleasant Lake. Since living here he has added greatly to the value of his land by the careful and thorough attention he has given it.

Mr. Schnirring has given his children very good educational advantages and they are able to hold their own both in English and German with the young people of the day. The family is members of the Evangelical Church, of which our subject has been a Trustee for twenty-two years. For the past eighteen years he has been a member of the School Board and for fifteen years has been School Inspector of Freedom Township. Our subject is a Democrat in his political sympathies and has been elected to some local offices by virtue of his loyalty to his party. Mr. Schnirring carries on his agricultural operations independently and devotes himself to general farming, supplementing the products of the soil by raising traded stock. He is an encouraging illustration of what a man may accomplish in America, for like so many others he began life empty-handed, and the fine property which he is now possessed of he has earned by his own individual efforts.

John George Schnirring died at the home of his son, Wm. Schnirring, in Pittsfield, Dec. 10, 1908, at the age of 72. Mr. Schnirring was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, May 15, 1836, and was married to Christiana Lorenz, Oct. 8, 1854, coming to America the same year. To them ten children were born of which four are still living, three daughters and one son. Funeral was held Sunday forenoon at the home of his son, and Dr. Rev. Meyer, of Freedom, officiated in German. The interment was made in Freedom cemetery.

Notes for Wilhelm (Willie) Stierle:

William Stierle, aged 32, employee of William Marken, was instantly killed last Wednesday evening Dec. 6, 1922 about 6:00 o'clock, when his team ran away on Lewis Street. It is presumed that his neck; was broken by the reins when the horses started to run. While there were no actual eyewitnesses, he was seen walking alongside his loaded wagon with the reins slipped over his shoulders shortly before the accident happened. Just a few minutes later the team, without load or driver, ran into the Saline Garage where they were brought to a stop. Upon investigation it was found that the driver's body lay alongside the curbing on Lewis Street where the team started to run, and the load of wood was thrown-off not far from this point. Examination of Mr. Stierle's body showed that it had not been dragged at all, giving rise to the theory; he had met his death as outlined above.

Funeral services, for Mr. Stierle were, held Saturday afternoon, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Herman Klumpp, who-lives two miles west of Saline, Rev. G. A. Lederer officiating. Deceased is survived by three sisters and one younger brother, all of whom live in this vicinity. Interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery.

Notes for Ludwig Christof (Lewis Miller) Mueller:

History of Washtenaw County, Michigan. By Chas. C. Chapman & Co. Chicago: Chas. C. Chapman & Co., 1881.

Lewis Miller (deceased) was born in Scio Township, Washtenaw County, in 1844, and was a son of Godfrey Miller, a native of Wurtemberg, Germany. He married, in Scio Township, Fredericka Burkhardt, who settled in this county in 1848. Mr. Miller became a farmer of prominence in Scio Township, owning at the time of his death 235 acres of valuable land. His widow sold this property in 1880, and at present resides in Ann Arbor, where she owns valuable city property.

Michigan Argus, August 13, 1875:

A shocking tragedy occurred in Scio, six miles and half west of this city on Tuesday night. Ludwig Miller, a farmer of considerable property and of good social standing was murdered in cold blood. The deed was committed by an adopted son only fifteen years of age, who hears the name of George Luman Burkhardt. This lad entered the bed room of Mr. Miller, where he was in bed and asleep with his wife and a young child, and deliberately shot him, causing his almost instantaneous death. The lad had made careful preparations for his deed, sometime in advance, as an extra gun loaded and cocked and standing against a brick oven in the rear of the house, seemed to indicate, he evidently intended to use this if the other failed. An old bookcase or cupboard in a room over the woodshed, in which Mr. Miller kept his powder and shot, and which was securely locked, was found to have been broken into, and a portion of the contents taken. Suspension early fastened upon him, and when threats were made in his presence he ran away. He was soon caught however and put under arrest. For a long time all efforts to get a confession from him failed, but at length he made a clear breast of the whole matter, and said that he had killed Mr. Miller because he was recently whipped him and since that time he did not like him. He said he had prepared the guns in the evening, and when all were quiet and asleep, between eleven and twelve o'clock, he approached the bed of Mr. Miller, which was plainly seen by the light of a burning lamp in a n adjoining, and saw him lying on his right side and well up on the pillow. He took deliberate aim at his breast and fired. He then replaced the gun beside the other at the brick oven, and returned to his room upstairs. He was afterward on hand when the alarm was given, and ran to one of the neighbors to tell them that Mr. Miller had been struck by lightning.

Mrs. Miller does not know how she was aroused, but when awake, she smelled the burning sleeve of her husband's shirt, which had been ignited by the wad from the gun. Extinguishing this she noticed his unnatural breathing, and tried to arouse him, but failing she thought he must have been struck by lightning and immediately called a hired man from the chamber. He ran to a neighbor to convey this intelligence, but before he had returned the unfortunate man had breathed his last. Not till after this did they learn what was the true cause of his death, as but few drops of blood came from the wound.

On a post mortem examination performed by Dr. Frothingham, it was ascertained that the charge from the gun had entered the breast just below the left shoulder, passed between the second and third ribs, through the two lobes of the left lung, shattered the seventh and eighth ribs and finally lodged within the body.

The hardened youth took the matter of his arrest very coolly, and burst into laughter when the handcuffs were put upon his wrists. On coming to this city he asked of the sheriff what work he would probably have to do in State Prison, and seemed to look forward to it with some degree of pleasure. It is hardly conceivable that so unprovoked and premeditated a deed could have been wrought by the hands of this young boy, who had never wanted for anything that would make him industrious, honest and educated. Mr. Miller had always been very kind to him, using no more chastisement in his training than any father upon his son. He had endeavored to keep him at Sunday school instead of having him roaming in the fields or woods hunting on the Sabbath, and this curb on his vicious spirit had provoked to this horrible deed. The boy was always well clothed, and had plenty of spending money when he needed it; the verdict of all Mr. Miller's neighbors is that he treated him too well.

The earlier history of this boy murderer is as follows: Mrs. Miller's brother a Mr. Burkhardt, shortly before the war married a young French woman. Two sons were the fruits of this union, when the father joined the army, and not long after was killed, leaving his widow with these two children, one of them George something over two years old. Their mother being poor and not caring to be burdened, put them into the County House. One of her husband's relatives, in pity took them to this home and reared them up till George was eight years old. At this time Ludwig Miller was married and George Burkhardt was bound over to him as an adopted son. But alas! for human calculations, the efforts of an honest, hopeful man to reclaim a cast-off child have recoiled upon him, and caused the shedding of his life's blood. The annals of Crime present scarcely anything so repulsive as this horrible murder, and we can hardly feel satisfied with the leniency of justice in the punishment of its perpetrator. It is almost beyond comprehension that a youth of his age could become so hardened as to deliberately shoot his own benefactor. Even the brute creation have more feeling than this!

Mr. Miller, by his death, leaves a wife, two small children and a widowed mother. But they are not without abundant means subsistence, as a farm of 245 acres is left for their support. A large number of wealthy relatives and kind friends stand ready to offer their assistance and sympathy. Mr. Miller was a nephew of Mr. Henry Paul, of this city, and brother of J. G. Miller who died recently and quite suddenly on Detroit Street. He was thirty years of age, and was doing finely in the way of the world's possessions. His funeral will be held at his residence this morning at ten o'clock.

The crime has given the community a shock from which it will not soon recover, and will form one of the darkest chapters in the history of this county, if not the State.

Notes for George Lyman Burkhardt:

Michigan Argus, September 17, 1875:

The boy murderer, Lyman Burkhardt, was brought into court at the opening of the session on Wednesday afternoon, to answer to the charge of the murder he committed. In reply to the question of "guilty or not guilty," he said promptly, "guilty." When asked further by the Court if he knew what pleading guilty meant, he replied that he understood it perfectly well. Again the judge inquired: "Do you really comprehend the enormity of the crime you have committed?" "I do," he calmly answered. His whole bearing and conversation in court were marked by the same cold indifference and heartlessness that have characterized him all along. He was ordered by the judge to be returned to prison to await his formal trial, which by the law of the State must be granted.

Michigan Argus, October 1, 1875 (from Jackson Patriot):

It is hard to think of a boy "fifteen years old and in person for life," but that is the brief history of Lyman Burkhardt, who was brought yesterday from Ann Arbor, to begin the punishment awarded him for the shooting of his foster father, Mr. Miller, in Scio, Washtenaw County, last month. The story of his crime has been told before in this columns and needs no rehearsal at length. At the prison yesterday we sought him out and had some little conversation with him. He is fifteen years old and very slight even for his age. He is dark in complexion with large grey eyes, small mouth, large, irregular teeth and full lips. His expression is far from being brutal or devilish, and in any other place and under circumstances less odious he would be regarded as a handsome boy. To sit and look at him would find it hard to persuade oneself that it is the face of a cold-blooded murderer; but at times as he became excited in telling his story his eyes would flash and there would come into them a look of fierce passion that made one shudder, and which showed that he possessed a large share of latent evil in his composition, and which was enough to inform the observer what sent him there. He told his story briefly but frankly. That he murdered the old man he at once admitted, and said that he did it because he was severely and continually maltreated by Mr. Miller, who took him from his father seven years ago to live with him, his father being very poor.

The boy's actions and demeanor since he committed the crime have been a riddle. He made no attempt to escape and did not seem to realize the probable consequence of his act; he had slaked his revenge and was satisfied. When he first arrived yesterday he manifested the same indifference, or assumption of it, for it is difficult to tell whether he is or is not playing stoic by an effort of will. If he really can realize his situation and future and experiences and emotion he does not care to have it known, for once Saturday it was seen that his eyes were filled with tears, but as soon as he saw he was observed he dashed them away, and refused to say what had moved him. In the afternoon he had evidently been doing some thinking, and was more disposed to look his future in the face. He enters on his life with a feeling of hope and asks us if we did not think he would be let out in six years if he was good. The idea that his whole life must be spent inside alls his mind did not seem able to comprehend, and he was confident that his term would be shortened by some dispensation of Providence. The opinion of nearly every one who has seen him is that his mind is not sound, and that he is mentally unable to comprehend more than vaguely what he has done and what it entails.

It is saddening to talk with or think of this boy convict, with what seems only blankness before him. It is bad enough to think of any man being sentenced to prison for life, but when a mere child, one just at the threshold of life, as it were, is called on to undergo this ordeal it is simply fearful to contemplate.

She was born 14 Feb 1843 in Ohio, and died 16 Jan 1932 in Troy Twp, Wood Co, Ohio.

Notes for Frederick John Swartz, twin:

FRED SWARTZ, is a native of Medina county, Ohio, born in Liverpool township, January 10, 1841, and is a son of Frederick and Fredericka (Henning) Swartz, whose births occurred in Germany. He is a prominent and influential farmer of Lake Township, located on his present farm in 1867, at that time purchasing sixty-seven acres of timber land, to which he has since added and now has a fine tract of 143 acres under a high state of cultivation. He is a man of great energy and perseverance, and has effected many improvements upon his farm since taking possession, including the erecting of a good frame residence in 1876. He was at once recognized as a valued addition to the community, a man possessing excellent judgement, and giving support and encouragement to those enterprises calculated for the general welfare.

Our subject spent his boyhood in Medina county, where he attended the common schools, and in 1855 accompanied his parents to Troy Township, where he made his home until locating upon his present farm. His entire life was devoted to agricultural pursuits, and he has been very successful in his chosen calling.

In 1862, at Stony Ridge, Troy Township, Mr. Swartz joined Company K. 111th O. V. I., for three years' service and was mustered into service at Toledo, where he was assigned to the 23d Army Corps, under Gen. Sherman. At the battle of Resaca he was wounded by a shell, and was taken to the field hospital, from which he was sent to Nashville, and later to Camp Dennison Hospital at Cincinnati, Ohio, where he received an honorable discharge in 1865, and returned to his home. In Liverpool Township, Medina county, in 1865, Mr. Swartz married Miss Louise Nollenberger, a native of that county, of which father was one of the early pioneers; he died in Medina county, and his wife in Wood county, about 1883. Nine children have been born of the union of our subject and his wife, namely William, who is married and resides in Lucas County, Ohio; Fred, a resident of the same county; Frank, of Toledo, Ohio; Isaac;. George; John; Albert; Arthur; and Katie.

Mr. Swartz votes the straight Republican ticket, and takes an active interest in politics, but cares nothing for public office. He is prominently identified with J. B. Wilford Post No. 153, G. A. R., of Perrysburg. Both he and his estimable wife are consistent members of the Lutheran Church, are foremost in all good works, and are highly respected in the community. They have witnessed the many changes that have taken place in the county since their arrival, and their support to all interests for the public welfare and advancement.

Notes for John Jacob Metzger:

JACOB METZGER, was born in Liverpool township, Medina Co., Ohio, and is the son of Jacob and Catherine (Struble) Metzger, natives of Stuttgart, Wurtemberg, Germany.

Mr. Metzger, of this review, was reared and educated in Medina county, and has always followed the occupation of farming, working at home until coming to Wood county in 1861, when he located in Troy township; but the following year found him a resident of Perrysburg township, where he has since made his home. In August, 1862, he enlisted in Company K., 111th O. V. I., for three years; or until the close of the war, and was mustered into service at Toledo, being assigned to the Western army. He was first on guard duty at Bowling Green, Ky., was then in the East Tennessee campaigns, after which he joined Sherman's army and participated in the siege of Atlanta: Returning to Tennessee, he was in the battles of Franklin, Nashville, and Clifton, was then ordered to Cincinnati, whence he proceeded to Washington D. C., and later was in the Carolina campaigns. At Salisbury, N. C., he was discharged, and was paid off at Cleveland, Ohio, in June, 1865. On the termination of his war experience he returned to his home in Perrysburg township.

In November 1865, in Liverpool township; Medina county, was celebrated the marriage of Mr. Metzger and Miss Catherine Snyder a native of that county, and a daughter of Daniel and Amelia (Swartz) Snyder, who were born in Germany and became residents of Medina county, Ohio, at an early day. Since 1852 her father has made his home in Troy township, Wood county where her mother died in 1892. To our subject and his wife were born five children, two of whom died in infancy. Those living are Anna, who is preparing for a teacher; William, at home; and Bertha.

Mr. Metzger, of this review, a valued and esteemed agriculturist of Perrysburg township, has his residence upon Section 24, where he has a farm of seventy acres of most superior land, which is under excellent culture and well improved. The buildings upon the place; including a good brick residence, are of a neat and substantial character; betokening thrift and prosperity. He is meeting with a merited success in his farming operations, and bids fair to achieve an easy competence, so that in his declining years he may rest peacefully from the cares of life.

Politically, Mr. Metzger is a staunch Republican, always taking a deep interest in public affairs, and socially is connected with Wolford Post No., 51, G. A. R., of Perrysburg, of which he is past commander. Both himself and wife are members in good standing of the Lutheran Church, and have a large circle of friends and well wishers.

4454. John Jacob⁸ Snyder (Eva Barbara⁷ Schwarz, Anna Katharina⁶ Mezger, Johann Georg⁵, Johann Georg⁴ Metzger, Johann Georg³, Hans Jerg², Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born 08 Apr 1858 in Troy Twp, Wood Co, Ohio, and died 27 Aug 1912 in Montgomery, Wood Co, Ohio. He married Mary Magdalena Burkin 23 Apr 1885 in Stony Ridge, Wood Co, Ohio, daughter of Jacob Birkin and Katherine Joseph. She was born 18 Jan 1852 in Baden.

Notes for John Jacob Snyder:

Jacob J. Snyder, to whom success has come as the reward of well-directed efforts, is one of the leading farmers of Wood county. His father, Daniel Snyder, was born in Germany, November 11, 1818.

Jacob J. Snyder was born in Troy township, April 8, 1858, and acquired a fair English education in the district schools. He was reared on his father's farm, and early became familiar with all the labors connected with its development. On April 23, 1885, in Stony Ridge, Ohio, he was joined in wedlock with Mary Magdalena Burkin, who was born in Baden, Germany, January 18, 1862, a daughter of Jacob and Catherine (Joseph) Burkin, who came to the United States in 1866, making voyage in four weeks on the sailing vessel "Kimball". They located first in Erie county, Ohio, and removed to Webster township, Wood county, when Mrs. Snyder was twelve years of age. The mother died in Sandusky, Ohio, August 3, 1895, and the father is still living in Webster township. They had thirteen children, of whom three sons and six daughters reached adult age.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder have two children - Amelia, born March 9, 1886; and Samuel H., born July 18, 1888. In October, 1884, Mr. Snyder purchased forty-two acres of land in Section 6, Montgomery township, and has since made that farm his home. It was poor condition, but with characteristic energy he began its development and improvement, and his earnest labors, perseverance and capable management have converted it into a good property, and have brought to him a comfortable competence. He votes with the Democratic party, but has never sought or desired office. Both he and his wife are members of the Lutheran Church at New Rochester, and are people whose many excellencies of character have gained for them the high regard of all with whom they have been brought in contact.

She was born 18 Jun 1865 in Baetterkinden, Canton Berne, Switzerland, and died 22 Sep 1949 in Pemberville, Wood Co, Ohio.

Notes for Frederick Gottlieb (Fred George Schwarz) Swartz:

Frederick G. Swartz, one of the active, prominent and enterprising citizens of Montgomery Township, is quite engaged in general farming in Section 18. He is a native Wood County, born in Troy Township, April 21, 1858, where his parents, John and Dora Swartz, located on their emigration from Germany, their native land. They made a home in this new country, clearing and developing the land, and there reared their family of six children. They are still living, and have the esteem of all who know them.

Our subject, being the eldest of the children, was called upon at an early age to assist in the work on the farm. His educational privileges were consequently limited, and at the age of eighteen his school days were over. His father could always find plenty of work for his five sons, and under his able guidance our subject became a thorough and painstaking agriculturist. Until his marriage he remained upon the home farm, with the exception of one summer, when he worked for his uncle, Jacob Swartz, in LaGrange Township, Lorain County, Ohio. On April 15, 1886, Mr. Swartz married Miss Annie Hastings, who was the daughter of R. C. Hastings, a highly respected citizen of Montgomery Township. She died the following year, and her remains were interred in Rochester Cemetery. In Freedom Township, Wood County, our subject was again married, on January 31, 1889, his second union being with Miss Mary Ruch, who was born in Canton Berne, Switzerland, June 18, 1865, and is the daughter of Peter and Mary (Messer) Ruch. In that country her father was employed as a butcher, and in 1872 brought his family thence to the United States, sailing from Havre, France. At the end of nine days they landed safely in New York, whence they came to Wood County, the father purchasing sixty acres of land in Webster Township, where he and his worthy wife still reside. In his family are nine children, one son and eight daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Swartz have two children - William L., born June 5, 1890; and John Arthur, born June 25, 1895.

In February, 1883, Mr. Swartz bought seventy-four acres of land in Section 18, Montgomery Township, paying $25 per acre for the same, which was then in its primitive condition, and not a building of any kind stood upon the place. He at once began the work of improvement, clearing away the timber, and placing the land under cultivation, and spent a portion of three winters in a little shanty, keeping "bachelors hall" while he was developing his land. He encountered on his farm the same conditions that the earliest settlers were forced to meet. The land was heavily timbered, and of the character of all the wild land in the "Black Swamp". However, he went industriously to work, and has transformed the place into one of the best farms of the community, making every improvement thereon, so that it now stands a monument to his thrift, enterprise and persistent efforts. The buildings are of a substantial character, and in 1896 he erected an excellent new barn. He is a man of the strictest integrity and reliability, and is regarded as a valued citizen, progressive and public-spirited.

Notes for Ottmar Michael Kaercher:

Obituary - Ann Arbor Newspaper:

Ottmar M. Kaercher, 66 a lifelong resident of Washtenaw county, died yesterday afternoon April 30, 1954 at his home, 2509 W. Liberty Road, Scio Township, after a long illness. Born in Lima Township, July 10, 1887, he was the son of J. Michael and Wilhelmina Walker Kaercher. He was a farmer there for many years until illness forced his retirement. Mr. Kaercher had lived at his present home for the past 27 years. He was a member of Salem Lutheran Church in Scio Township.

He was married to Melita Waltz of Lodi Township, March 2, 1916. She survives, along with two brothers, Reuben of Ann Arbor and Edwin of Lima township; and five sisters, Mrs. Edward Gross of Saline, Mrs. Emanuel Lambarth of Lodi Township, Mrs. Carl Gelenius of Ann Arbor, Mrs. William Luick of Lima township, and Mrs. Clarence Bahnmler of Chelsea. Another sister, Mrs. Robert Toney, died in 1946.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Muehlig Chapel. Burial will be in Bethlehem Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel.

The original owners of Lot 1, West Liberty Heights - 2509 West Liberty Street; Ann Arbor, Michigan were Ottmar Michael and Melita Maria Kaercher (Waltz). Prior to moving here in 1927, they lived at 529 Fifth Street. Mrs. Esther Kaercher now lives at 744 S. Maple Rd. She is the wife of Homer Kaercher, Ottmar Kaercher's nephew. I have also spoken to Glen Steinman, son of Ben and Eleanor Steinman, William Luitje, the second owner of the home, Barbara (Kaercher) Mesnard, Ottmar's niece, Paul C. McCoy, and Ruth and Paul Jedeke, who lived at 770 S. Maple Rd.

I learned from these sources that Melita Kaercher kept her house in an immaculate condition. She was a hard worker. Dorothy Kaercher Mason (whose father, Edwin Kaercher, was Ottmar's brother) said that Uncle Ottmar was a very intelligent, gentle and always good-humored and cheerful person. The Kaercher family came here from the town of Leinfelden, south of Stuttgart--the Black Forest area of Germany. They called themselves "Schvatzes" meaning "from the Black Forest." They worshipped in Musberg at one of the first established Lutheran churches after Martin Luther. They brought their knowledge, ways, values and energy to Ann Arbor where many others from their area had settled. In Michigan, the families were all members of Salem Lutheran Church on Scio Church Road, west of Ann Arbor. The church was built by those early settlers as an almost exact replica of the church they left in Musberg, Germany.

The Kaercher family acquired a farm 9430 Scio Church Road in 1836. The farm was passed down to relatives over the years and remained in the family for 165 years. It was designated as a Centennial Farm in 1946. Information about the site can be found on the Washtenaw County Historic Resource Database by searching for 9110 Scio Church Road. It was a sheep farm for a number of years then a "general" farm.

Mrs. Mason said that Ottmar used a wheel chair when he lived here and that there was a ramp on the front steps. She said that Ottmar and Melita took in several male roomers, and Melita did laundry for them as well as other families to earn money. She was sweet and quiet and loyal to her husband. Dorothy Mason remembers stopping at Ottmar and Melita's house on their way home from monthly shopping trips to Ann Arbor. "Melita had her ironing board set up in the kitchen and I could smell the fresh, clean smell of the laundry," she said.

Mrs. Mason also shared that Otto Buss, a cousin who lived at 2281 West Liberty, took Ottmar out for rides; and sometimes her father, Edwin Kaercher, transferred Ottmar into the front seat of the car when they regularly drove to Monroe, Michigan, where they filled aluminum tubs with iced-down fresh fish. They removed the back seats of the car to make room for the tubs of fish. When they returned to the area, they made the rounds of customers who purchased the fresh fish, leaving a small profit for Ottmar. It was as much an outing as a business venture. Those were great days for Ottmar.

I would love to know who built my house. One guess is that Otto Toney (Thone), the brother of Ottmar's brother-in-law, Robert Toney (Thone), may have built it. He is listed as a builder in the 1926 City Directory; and since he was a relative, I thought that perhaps he was the builder. Another possibility is that George Scott's son, Walter F. Scott, was the contractor and his father, George, provided the design. In April, 2008, I saw an advertisement for the sale of 417 Soule Boulevard, which said it was, "designed by renowned A2 architect George Scott in the late 1920's." I became curious because Ottmar Kaercher's brother, Reuben Kaercher, was the original owner of 417 Soule Boulevard. The sellers, Barbara and Norman Yoffee, allowed me to see the inside. Mrs. Yoffee told me that they had lived there for 15 years, and that she had researched the history of the house. She had the original blueprints. Here are some reasons why I thought the Scotts may have built my house.

One way the Kaerchers may have met Walter Scott is that he lived across the street from Ben Steinman. Perhaps Mr. Steinman introduced him to the Kaerchers. Another possibility is that the Kaerchers and the Scotts met because George Heinrich Kaercher (who shared a great-grandfather with Ottmar and Reuben) and his wife Tesa M. (Kern) lived in the Cutting Apartments (aka Flats) at 706 Monroe. George Kaercher is listed as being the original owner in the 1926 and 1927 City Directories. George Scott designed the Cutting Flats in 1904.

These are just guesses. I keep hoping I will find my house's blueprints hidden away somewhere. You never know. While I was cleaning my basement last winter (2008) I found Ottmar Kaercher's name on a board in the cellar entrance. Neither Scio Township, nor the City of Ann Arbor has a record of who built the house. I thought that perhaps the house was a Sears Catalog kit home because it resembles the Sears Westly from the Sears Honor Built Homes 1925 catalog. There is an authentic Sears Westly at 602 Soule Boulevard, which the owner, Dina Cocco, was kind enough to let me tour. Similarities include the floorplan, the columns on the front porch, the windowed closets, and the mirrored closet in the living room. There are a number of differences as well. My house measures 26 x 30 feet, and the Westly 24 x 30 feet. Also, I have been unable to find any numbers on the wood in my house. So, my home's origin remains a mystery; but whoever built it was truly a craftsman.

Ottmar and Melita Kaercher purchased Lot 1 from Benjamin Steinman on February 6, 1926. Ottmar passed away on April 30, 1954, at age 66. His obituary says that he was a farmer for many years until illness forced his retirement. He is listed in the 1928 City Directory as a salesman. Melita lived here until she moved to the Martin Luther Home in South Lyon, where she passed on September 13, 1975, at age 83. The Kaercher's had no children.

The Kaercher's deed came with restrictions, some of which, thankfully, would not be legal today:

- (1) Said lots shall be occupied by people of the Caucasian Race only.
- (2) No building for residence purpose shall be erected on said lots, the cost of which is less than $4,000.00.
- (3) No house shall be erected nearer than thirty (30) feet from front property line and four (4) feet from side line, and garages not attached to house must be placed 50 feet back from front line and four (4) feet from side line. On corner lots garages must be back at least thirty (30) feet from street property line.
- (4) No garage shall be used as a residence longer than three (3) years.
- (5) No frame building shall be erected and stand more than ninety (90) days without having been painted or stuccoed.
- (6) No outside toilets shall be permitted on said lots. All toilets shall be of the approved chemical kind or shall be properly connected with septic tank.
- (7) No chickens shall be permitted to run free on said lots.

They must have a clean coop with park to run in.

William and Lydia Luitje were the second owners of my house. They purchased it for $29,500 on June 1, 1973, and lived here for 13 years. Mr. Luitje said that the house was in mint condition when they purchased it--like a time capsule, something from the 20's or 30's. They bought the house with all of its furniture. He said, When you buy the contents of a house, amazing to what extent there are problems and a solution for it. The apple tree is a Baldwin apple tree, good for cooking, bears once every other year. One of the problems - in years when it bears, it drops a lot of apples. I found a rake here that had tines on one side and loops on the other side and used that to pick up the apples.

He was right about the falling apples--there were LOTS of them. The Luitjes added insulation to the attic and remodeled the upstairs bathroom in the 70's. (The dark brown sink and tub are still here; the matching toilet had to be replaced when I moved in.) Mr. Luitje told me that rain water used to be funneled into the cistern on the west side of the house and used for washing. When I moved in, the kitchen sink had an extra spout for this water that was no longer functional. Mr. Luitje spoke as if he had fond memories of this house. He told me that his children still missed the house because of the stairs. When they were small, they would get ready for bed--had pajamas with feet in them--and they would slide down the stairs on their stomachs. I had the pleasure of meeting them (all grown up) a few years ago just after Thanksgiving.

Mr. Luitje told me that there had been a chicken coop on the rear of the garage, and there are still what look like chicken prints in the concrete there.

On October 17, 1986, the Luitjes sold 2509 W. Liberty to the City of Ann Arbor for $59,500 "when real estate was difficult to sell. The City wanted to widen one street or the other. The appraisal for the amount of land they wanted was so high, they might as well have bought the house too." The Luitjes had two children and "wanted to move where it would be better for them."

The City needed 12.42 feet along W. Liberty and three feet along S. Maple for road improvements. The City owned the house for 18 months until they sold it to Shelley Steele for $62,500 on April 19, 1988.

- 12442 vi. Levi Clarence Keppler, born 30 Oct 1905 in Ann Arbor Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan; died 13 Apr 1930 in Pittsfield Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan.

Notes for Levi Clarence Keppler:

April 17, 1930 - Levi Keppler, 24, Ann Arbor; Willard Clawson, 60, Ypsilanti, and Harry Walters, 28, Ypsilanti, were electrocuted Sunday afternoon when an airplane became entangled in the high tension wires while attempting to make a landing at the Ypsilanti Airport. Leon Hanselmann, 24, of Ann Arbor, pilot, was slightly hurt and taken to Beyer hospital In Ypsilanti for treatment. Hanselmann, who has been an air enthusiast for some time, rents a hangar at the Ypsilanti airport and took his friend Keppler for a ride Sunday and was preparing to land when the accident occurred. Keppler was not injured in the fall but remained imprisoned in his seat in a tangle of high tension wires while rescuers struggled to release him. He died when he rose from his seat to jump, the change in position bringing him into contact with the high voltage.

Walters was killed when he attempted to release Keppler. Clawson, a bystander, was killed when he sought to draw Walter's body away from the wires. It is said that Hanselmann's plane approached the airport from the west, flying low with the motor apparently dead. The ship side-slipped and nearly went out of control before it got to the port. The plane's tail hooked on a high tension wire at the side of the field and burst into flames. The nose fell forward dragging the wires and throwing the pilot to the ground. Keppler, the passenger, remained imprisoned in the ship. Attendants attempted to extinguish the flames but they had gained too great a headway. Most of this was witnessed by Keppler's mother who had to be restrained from rushing into the tangle of highly charged wires.

Notes for Lester Hendeson Sweetland:
Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

Lester H. Sweetland. Age has not laid its dignifying hand upon our subject, but the weight and responsibility of chief local official of Lodi Township have been assigned to him, because of his peculiar fitness as a man of ability and rare judgment. He is an intelligent and enterprising young farmer, and a native of this township, having been born just across the road from where he now lives, on the old Sweetland homestead, on section 9, Lodi Township, his natal day having been October 22, 1855.

He is a son of Oleton and Delilah (Holden) Sweetland, natives of Genesee County, New York. They came to Michigan in 1835, and were here among the earliest settlers, having cleared and improved the farm on which the father still lives. Our subject's mother was stricken with death about 1871, at the age of fifty-five years. Mr. Sweetland, Sr., is an ex-Supervisor of this township and an able man, who has won the respect of all who know him. There were three children that were the issue of the first family. His first wife died, and not a great while after he again married and the second marriage resulted in the birth of four children, all of whom are living. The original of our sketch acquired his education in its rudimentary branches in the district schools of the vicinity of his home, after which he attended the Union School at Ann Arbor for a year, and on returning taught for one year in his home district. He remained at home until 1887, but prior to that had conducted the work of the farm for several years. In 1887 he induced Miss Clara Zahn to give up her life of single blessedness and take up the lines with him. The lady is a daughter of George and Elinor (Ambruster) Zahn, both natives of Michigan, and both of whom are still living on their farm in this township.

Politically the original of our sketch is in favor of Democracy and Democratic institutions. He cast his first vote for Gen. Hancock in 1880. He is generally recognized as a young man of unusual intelligence and ability, and has been sent as a delegate to county and State conventions. He was elected to his first office as School Inspector and served in this capacity for three years; he was next elected Township Clerk and served four years, and then was made Supervisor of the township by the election of 1890, and is now serving his second term. Socially Mr. Sweetland belongs to the Knights of the Maccabees. Himself liberal in religious matters, his wife is a communicant with the German Lutherans. Our subject is the owner of one hundred and sixty acres of land on sections 4 and 5; here he raises all kinds of stock and carries on a profitable and extensive business in mixed farming. His success has been so marked thus far that his friends expect of him extending influence and prominence for the future.

Notes for Alfred Charles Schairer:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S. J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

Alfred C. Schairer, whose interest in the intellectual and moral as well as material development of Ann Arbor makes his a well rounded character, while his energy prompts his active co-operation in these various lines of activity, was born in Scio Township, Washington County, on the 25th of October, 1874. His father, John Schairer, was born in Germany and was only eight years of age when brought to Michigan. Reared to manhood in this state, he eventually began farming on his own account and owned and operated ninety acres of land on the Jackson Territory Road. He married Rose Meyer and both have now departed this life. In their family were eleven children, of whom nine are yet living: Frank, a farmer residing in Lima Township; Mrs. William Stierle, whose husband is an agriculturist of Scio; Jacob and William, who follow farming in Scio Township; Mrs. George Heppler, who is living in Ann Arbor Township; Simon, a merchant of Dexter, Washtenaw County; Mattie, living in Ann Arbor; Alfred C., of this review; and Clara of this city.

Alfred C. Schairer at the usual age entered the district schools and was a student in Scio Township until nine years of age, after which he continued his studies in Lima Township until fifteen years of age. At that time he came to Ann Arbor and entered the city schools. His connection with the printing business began as an employee of the Inland Press, remaining with that house until about 1900, when in connection with Messrs. Gates & Kerr he established the Athens Press in the Athens Theatre building, just north of the Ann Arbor post office. The company has large quarters on the main floor, and are printers of general commercial and society work, pamphlets, booklets, etc. The Athens Press is noted for its high class work, its thorough reliability and its continuous progress in keeping with the most advanced ideas of the industrial art. Mr. Schairer has a thorough and practical understanding of the trade and in the development and growth of the enterprise he has put forth earnest purpose guided by laudable ambition and sound judgment.

On the 25th of August, 1898, Mr. Schairer was married to Miss Lydia Staebler, of Ann Arbor Township, and they have a little daughter, Esther, who, at the age of six years, is now attending school. Mr. Schairer takes a deep interest in those concerns which effect humanity and the betterment of the race. He has been corresponding secretary of the local Young Men's Christian Association and for three years was one of its board of directors. The association has fine new quarters in a beautiful brick structure, and the organization has a large and growing membership. Mr. Schairer belongs to the Bethlehem Church and has been a co-operate factor in many activities promoting the moral development of the community. He is a man of kindly sympathy, of ready charity and benevolent disposition, and while he is conducting a business of considerable extent and importance and meeting- therein a justly merited and gratifying success, he is never so busy but that he can find time to devote to church or religious work. He is always willing to extend to any one the courtesy of an interview, and his ready sympathy has made him greatly beloved by many who have benefited by his assistance. Fraternally he is connected with the Woodmen of America, while his political relation is with the Republican Party.

Notes for Roland Karl Schuhholz:

Roland Karl Schuhholz of Ann Arbor, Michigan, age 95, died Tuesday, January 25, 2000 at the University of Michigan Medical Center. He was confirmed at St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Indian Village, Detroit and was a very active member there for most of his life; in recent years he was a member at Historic Trinity Lutheran Church, Detroit. Mr. Schuhholz travelled all the continents of the world during his lifetime, including extensive study of European architecture, many trips under the leadership of Reinhardt Whittke Professor Emeritus at Eastern Michigan University, and several round-the world freighter trips. Mr. Schuhholz is a graduate of the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Urban planning and Wayne State University, as well as holding a Master's degree from the Graduate School of Design, Department of Architecture at Harvard University. He is a member of the University of Michigan's President's Club and The Woodward Society at the Detroit Medical Center, Wayne State University. Mr. Schuhholz made a career of teaching, spending two years at Clemson University and 38 years at Cass Technical High in Detroit where his expertise was focused on teaching perspective drawing, art history, and providing faculty direction for the Triangle. The priceless gift he gave to his students was his ability to teach them to discover their own hidden potential and to bring their special talents to fruition. He taught them to see the absolute "beauty" in those hallways and stairways at Cass and in the simple yet elegant lines of a plain white pitcher. He taught them discipline and pride in their craft. He was a hard taskmaster, highly respected and admired by his students and colleagues alike. He made a significant and lasting impact on two generations of students at Cass as well as the area of art education and the art community of Detroit. That is teaching at its highest level. He will be sorely missed.

He is survived by his beloved lifelong friend Josephine D. Campbell of Temple, Texas, her daughter the Rev. Jacqueline A. Campbell of Houston, Texas, and his godson R. Jay Campbell, Jr. of Dallas, Texas. Also surviving are cousins: Madeline Bastian, Ypsilanti, Michigan, Donald Staebler, Ann Arbor, Michigan, Helen Staebler Kranish, Merced, California, Ruth (and Walter) Staebler Hileman, Tucson, Arizona, Stella Jo Staebler, Centralia, Washington, special friends: the Severance's, Lucille, Mary (Znlnsky), Eric and Hugh; Anjanette Stoltz, Rebecka Andress, Clara and Randy Blackard, "Millie and Mr. Millie", Margie Enforth, Mary Metzger, Jack Ragels, Bill Cline, Harold and June Wark, Emily Scott, many travelling companions and other friends too numerous to list.

Roland is preceded in death by his parents, S. Christopher Schuhholz and Matilda Staebler Schuhholz, cousins Lloyd Staebler, Northeast, Pennsylvania, George Staebler, Centralia, Washington, Melvin Staebler, Orange, California and friend Joseph Znlnsky, Traverse City, Michigan.

Notes for Donald George Staebler:

Donald Staebler, Ann Arbor: The Staebler family settled the Staebler Farm at 7734 Plymouth Road in 1912. By the year 1925 six children had been born to the household. All the children attended the Frains Lake one room school, Ypsilanti High School and all graduated from college, a forester for Weyerhaeuser, an electric engineer, a registered nurse and three school teachers. I was one of the teachers. After the disruptions of World War II the children of the family moved to many parts of the country but my wife, Lena, and I elected to buy the farm and keep it going. At this time I also held an off the farm job in mechanical research and gave considerable time to the Planning and Zoning Commissions in my community. Lena, my helpmate on the farm, passed away in 1991. The farm has been a typical general farm operation with cash crops of corn, wheat, oats plus dairy cows, hogs, chickens and draft horses. At 90+ years, I continue as a beef farmer, feeding and caring, sometimes, for as many as 50 Angus cattle. The excavation for M-14 freeway fill created a large pond on my land. My neighbors were thrilled when my picturesque farm with its woods and beautiful pond was sold for a county park.

Newspaper article in Ann Arbor News Sunday, January 21, 2001, entitled "The Land of His Legacy" by Anne Rueter:

Donald G. Staebler shoves open the pump house door. Immediately, in a move he's made tens of thousands of times, he turns on the water to fill a trough in the barnyard. As the water spurts out and cattle start bawling for dinner, traffic sounds from Plymouth Road recede a bit. But you'd never forget the forces of urbanization here. Standing in the mucky barnyard, looking on either side of the calf barn, you see the streaming cars and trucks as rush hour begins: on the left across the fields on M-14, on the right on Plymouth Road. Commuters flash by the barns at 50 mph on Plymouth, on past the signs a bit further west that say "Mystic Forest - lots for sale" and "rolling wooded home sites available." But Staebler, like the 4-foot thick oaks across the creek, has stayed put on this farm nearly all his 90 years, raising cattle and hay as his family farm has become an island in a sea of houses.

And this 87-acre parcel of open fields, creek, 7-acre pond and woods is destined to keep its identity even longer than Staebler stubbornly has. Earlier this month, Staebler sold the farm to the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission. "That land is safe from bulldozers," says Fred Barley, parks and recreation director. "I think that's what Don really wanted to do." Fifteen to 20 years from now, as suburban growth continues in the busy corridor, "that place is going to be a beautiful green island," Barley adds. The commission envisions preserving the farmstead as a demonstration farm, with fishing and picnicking by Fleming Creek and small ponds in the part of the property north of Plymouth Road. The south portion will remain as it is, and swimming and boating are not part of the plan, Barkley says.

Staebler will have a life lease to stay in the farmhouse. He says he'll keep raising and feeding cattle as long as the county wants him to. The change, though, is monumental. "I've owned it so long," he says. "To lose control all at once is something."

Since the sale became public, he's heard angry voices of neighbors across Frains Lake opposing his decision to sell the land for a park. He's also gotten a dozen letters from people he's never met, praising him for preserving a choice piece of open space for the public and foregoing the higher profits he could have had from selling to a developer. Staebler is selling the land to county for $1.5 million, compared to possibly $2.5 million some estimate he could have gotten from a developer.

"I used to work all that land, and now it's houses," he says of the area south of Frains Lake. He's watched for years as longtime neighbors up and down Plymouth Road have subdivided, finding farm earnings slim and developers' wallets fat. "All the family farms are gone," Staebler says. But houses covering his land? He's not having it. He's pleased his sisters and their offspring, who live out of state, agree. "They're behind me 100 percent," he says about his decision to sell to the county.

Though Staebler wasn't born in the house, his family ties to the area around his home go back 130 years. His father was born in a house across Frains Lakes, the son of a German immigrant who had arrived in the U.S. in 1848. His father was farming rented land and the family was living near Geddes Road when Staebler was born. In 1912, when Donald was 1-1/2, his father was able to buy the Plymouth Road farm, which had an existing farmhouse and barn. Farmed since 1824, the 98 acres included fertile farm land, small frontages on Frains and Murray lakes to the south, and a stand of mature oaks to the north. Fleming Creek bisected the fields behind the barn, and later led to the farm's punning nickname. "Click in the Back Farm," reads a homemade sign as you drive up the driveway.

With one portion sold off, now the farm consists of 86 acres. Staebler has grown corn and hay and raised cattle there virtually all his adult life, taking over the farm from his father in the 1950s. One of six children, he attended close by one-room Frains Lake school. "We could walk down to the lake and skate up to the schoolhouse," he says. Then came Ypsilanti High. At 14, he usually grabbed the wheel first to drive his brothers and sisters there in one of the family's cars. They felt lucky: It was unusual in the 1920s to have two cars. Donald mechanically minded, made sure the 1925 Ford Model T wouldn't start for his older brother, but mysteriously would for him, says Mary Ciminnisi-Staebler, his widowed sister-in-law.

Staebler earned a teaching degree at Eastern Michigan University, the called Michigan State Normal College. He married Lena, his wife of 56 years, whom he met at a church social picnic further down Fleming Creek at the Parker Mill. Lena Staebler died nine years ago. During the Depression, Staebler landed a job teaching shop at a high school in Eaton Rapids. It was a long commute, he says, but for 10 years, the couple returned to the farm each weekend to help out.

He combined farming with other jobs at other times in his life, too. During World War II, he worked nine-hour days, six days a week, teaching soldiers at a school at the nearby Willow Run Bomber Plant how to maintain B-24 bombers. After a six-month stint of more Army teaching in England, Staebler decided to come home to farm full-time as his father's partner. He then hit what he calls the cost-price squeeze all farmers experienced starting in the 1950s. "Our costs went up and our prices didn't." That's been the trend ever since. Beef on the hoof sold for 40 cents a pound then, and only 50 cents today, he says. Like many other area farmers, he looked for ways to earn outside income. He took a job at Eaton Corporation in Southfield while continuing to raise feed and raise cattle. He ended up being the only family member committed to farming. "He stayed put. The rest....scattered to the four winds," says Ciminnisi-Staebler, who cooks and does housekeeping at the farm.

Looking back, Staebler says staying put - planting corn, milking cows season after season - was not a deliberate choice: "It just happened. ... I really didn't see any reason to move, and we didn't." For a man who's always liked to build and repair things, it's been a good fit. All around the farm are the results. The walnut inlaid desk in the dining room that he made in high school. The two vintage tractors, one a 62-year-old John Deere, that he still uses - "Nobody can run them but me." And the camper trailer he built in 1937. He and Lena used it to tour the country on vacations.

Daily chores of feeding suit him fine too. "What would I do if I didn't? I hate television," he says. The big white farmhouse faces three barns across the road. That's where Staebler heads twice a day to feed his herd of 47 red and black angus cattle: two bulls, cows and ever-arriving calves. He strides there, waiting with a trace of annoyance for an opening in the stream of traffic on Plymouth, which was a sandy track with horse and buggies when he was little. Staebler moves like a man 30 years younger. He says his health is good, he's not troubled by arthritis. "I think that's 'cause I keep moving," he says. When Barkley came to see the land, Staebler amazed him by climbing ladders and hopping over fences with ease.

Inside the biggest barn, built by his dad in 1922, furry cattle press tight together, mooing in a rising chorus as Staebler forks hay into feeding racks. He heads to the smaller barn he calls the cattle's "loafing barn." The simple pitched-roof structure was there when the family moved there. He points up to timbers with bark still on, mortised together without nails, marks of construction in the county's early days. Every evening he hooks a few bales of hay and drags them there with an easy motion, so the cows ambling in later will find an after dining snack.

Staebler is pleased that the county parks commission plans to continue a contract Staebler currently has with a sharecropper who grows and harvests corn and hay in the fields by the farmhouse. For now, Staebler plans to keep on feeding about 22 bales of the hay a day to his herd of beef cattle. The heavy snow has kept him from selling some animals, as he normally would, so he feeds a hull house. This winter he had to replace a pump at the barn, a job he did himself and didn't consider a headache.

Over the years, Staebler has let lots of folks catch pike, bass, bullhead and pan fish in the pond north of the barn. But such leisurely pastimes don't appeal to him. "I never fish. It's a waste of time," he says. "I've got more important things to do than give worms fishing lessons." Like the family history on his dining room table, largely put together by him. Its latest pages tell about the farm sale. Soon, one would guess, he'll record the next details of a long consistent life on the farm.

Donald G. Staebler, age 106, passed away at the Ball Pavilion of Brevillier Village in Erie, Pennsylvania on Wednesday, March 1, 2017. Donald was born in Superior Township, Washtenaw County, near Ann Arbor, Michigan on August 18, 1910, son of the late Albert J. and Ella (Goodell) Staebler. Until very recently, Donald lived on the family farm in Ann Arbor, beginning in 1912 when he moved in with the family at age 2. Donald was preceded in death by his wife, Lena (Severance) Staebler in 1991. They were married on August 21, 1935 in Grass Lake, Michigan, Reverend Brunger officiating.

Donald attended the Frains Lake one room school house through 8th grade, and afterwards Ypsilanti High School, graduating in 1929. He attended Michigan State Normal College (now Eastern Michigan University) graduating in 1934 with a BS in Industrial Arts, and a life Certificate to teach. He taught industrial arts and was principal at Eaton Rapids High School, MI, after graduation. While there, he was a member of the Eaton Rapids Kiwanis, and served as its president for a year. In 1942, he became a maintenance instructor at the Willow Run Bomber Plant in Ypsilanti, Michigan, working for Ford Motor Company, under a contract with the Army Airforce Technical Training Command. From 1945 to 1946 he was an instructor at the Warton Army Technical School, Lancashire, England, set up to provide technical and industrial training for American servicemen prior to return to civilian life. Upon returning home, he worked with his father on the family dairy farm until 1952, when he purchased the farm.

In 1961, he sold the dairy herd, turned the farm to raising beef cattle, and began a career as a Technician Supervisor at the Eaton Corporation Research Center, Southfield Michigan, retiring in 1975. After retirement, he remained on the farm, raising beef cattle. In 2001 he sold the farm to Washtenaw County for future use as a park, retaining a life lease to live there. In addition, from 1946-1958, Donald taught auto mechanics in the Adult Education Program at Ann Arbor High School 2 nights per week, and from 1948-1978 he served on the Superior Twp. Planning Commission, Board of Review, and Zoning Board of Appeals. For a few years, he was chairman of all three. He was also a long time member of the Dixboro Methodist Church, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and for a while served as Superintendent of Sunday School, and Secretary of the Finance Committee. Donald had a lifelong love of wood working, and continued for many years to make furniture in the shop he built in 1946. He loved to travel, and for many years enjoyed seeing the corners of the United States with Lena in the travel trailer he built. He also was dedicated to preserving the family history, and the history of the farm, writing many stories of his experiences there.

Notes for Helene Maria Klumpp:

An Open House Sunday at Pleasant Lake School win honor Helen Gross (Mrs. Rudolph Gross, of 7385 Noble Rd.), who retire this year (May 1962) after 41 of teaching. The Open House, for former students, fellow teachers, and friends, is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m., at the school where Mrs. Gross has taught since 1953.

Mrs. Gross graduated from Saline High School in 1921. She taught for half a year at a school in Lima Township, and then went to Jedele school in Lodi Township for three years. She taught at Dold school in Lodi Township for 16 years School, then taught at Kuebler school in Freedom township for a year at Mooreville for a year, and then returned to Kuebler. Along the line in 1931 she graduated from Eastern Michigan. She got married that same year.

She always had time for outside activities, including her own orchestra, "Helen's Orchestra", to play at parties and square dances -- "I'm a fiddler, not a violinist," she says -- travel every summer that has so far taken her to 44 states, and gardening, indoors and out. Just last week, at a PTA function in her honor, she was presented with a floor planter for her famed African violets.

The 41 busy years have left many memories, including the fact that her starting salary was $85 a month, and there was wood to carry in and ashes to carry out, and the ink froze overnight in the winter. She remembers older ways of travel, when parents at Dold brought their children to school in bob sleighs, and she had to shovel her way home every night and out in the morning. "There hasn't been so much snow lately." She remembers the hayrides that were enjoyed by parents and students alike, at Kuebler school, and the many Christmas programs that brought families from miles around. She also recalls vividly a birthday surprise party that really was a surprise to her, at Pleasant Lake school in 1956.

Yes, teaching has changed a great deal, she believes. For one thing, "children have much more freedom now in the school room than they used to"; and "children used to walk to school Now they take busses". For another thing, there are more visiting teachers, these days -- to teach music, art, and even special reading.

She recalls the first school officers she met at each of her schools: at Jedele, it was Albert Frey, George Bohnett and Mark Sweetland; at Dold, it was Lauren Stark, Reuben Bredernitz, Alfred Rentschler. At Kuebler, her first officers were Jake Bihlmeyer, Oscar Staebler, and Christ Kuebler; at Mooreville, Clarence Searfoss, Gus Grams, A. J. Turner; and at Pleasant Lake, Alton Horning, Roy Bihlmeyer, and Nathan Alber. By and large, they are all pleasant memories and she believes she'll "miss it, when fall comes". In fact, says Mrs. Gross, "I may do a little substitute teaching once in a while."

Helen (Klumpp) Gross (b. 15 Mar. 1902 Lodi Twp., Washtenaw Co., Michigan, d. there 5 Mar. 1983) of Lodi Township, Washtenaw County, was a retired teacher. She was the daughter of Jacob and Christina Klumpp who were themselves children of German immigrants. She learned to play from her father, and played for dances; in later years, she regularly played for them at the rod and gun club in Willis. Helen was an influential fiddler from Saline, Michigan. Helen played for dances from her youth and influenced other fiddlers in the area.

Helen M. Gross, 7385 Noble Road in Lodi Township, died March 5, 1983 at Saline Community Hospital. She was born April 15, 1902 at the above residence where she had lived her entire life, the daughter of Jacob and Tina Stierle Klumpp. On August 3, 1931, she married Rudolph (Butch) Gross in Ann Arbor; he survives. Mrs. Gross was a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ and the Ladies Fellowship of the church, the Saline Woman's Club, the Saline Hospital Auxiliary, the Washtenaw Farm Bureau, the Ann Arbor Senior Citizens, the Saline Senior Citizens, the National Retired Teachers Association, the M.R.T.A., and the M.E.A. She taught school in Washtenaw County for more than 40 years. Mrs. Gross enjoyed music and was a musician for many years. She is survived by her husband, Rudolph; one uncle and cousin.

Funeral services were held Monday at Bahnmler Funeral Home with Rev. Ronald Boldman officiating. Burial followed in Lodi Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to St. Paul United Church of Christ Building Fund or the Michigan Heart Association.

Notes for John Edward Fiegel:

Mr. John Fiegel, a highly respected farmer of Pittsfield, was killed last evening by a very sad and unexpected accident. The ladies of Zion church, of this city, had been holding their regular weekly social at his house. When the ladies were ready to return home at about half past five o'clock, Mr. Fiegel appeared with his team to take them as far as the motor line. He had a hay-rack on the wagon with seats along the sides and twenty-one ladies and two children were loaded in the wagon. Mr. Fiegel then got up on the front seat. One of the lines either dropped or lay on the whiffletree and Mr. Fiegel reached forward to get it. As he did so, the cushion on which he was seated slipped and he fell, striking his head on the pole and breaking his neck. One of the horses kicked him, nearly severing the right ear. The horses then turned around and stated to run, bringing up between the barn and fence. Most of the ladies were thrown out. Some fell beneath the wagon. One lady was thrown over a high board fence. Mrs. Fred Schlanderer fell under the horses heels, out of the front end of the wagon, but escaped injury; Mrs. Ludwig Walz was bruised about the shoulder and wrist. No one was seriously injured, though several fainted.

Mr. Fiegel has twice been elected treasurer of Pittsfield township on the democratic ticket and was treasurer at the time of his death. His popularity among his neighbors in this strong republican town is thus strongly attested. He leaves a wife and seven children, the oldest daughter having been married but three weeks. The funeral will be held Sunday. The blow fell so suddenly that the wife could hardly believe her husband dead, and the scene was a most pitiful one.

Notes for Sylvia Elenore Fiegel:

Battle Creek - Mrs. Sylvia Hooper, 27, of 114 Orleans Avenue, died at Sheldon Memorial hospital in Albion about 3:20 this morning March 4, 1930 while her husband, William, 28, is not expected to live, following an automobile accident on US-12, near Parma, Sunday night. They received fractures of both legs when the Oldsmobile coach Mr. Hoover was driving skidded into a fence. A heavy board plowed through the side of the car and crushed their legs. A passing motorist found them unconscious in the car late Sunday night and brought them to Albion hospital.

Mrs. Hooper appeared to rally somewhat Monday but embolism set in and was the cause of her death. She sustained a triple fracture of one leg and a compound fracture of the other. Mr. Hooper has compound fractures of both legs. While the couple had not been residing long in the city both were popular and had many friends. On graduating from the University of Michigan Mr. Hooper, an Ann Arbor resident, entered the employ of G. O. Lewis company as a construction engineer, three years ago. A year ago last June he married. Mrs. Hooper was Miss Sylvia Fiegel, before her marriage, and a private secretary in the university. She has a sister residing in Detroit, but her parents are not living.

Mr. Hooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hooper, reside in Ann Arbor and the local couple had been visiting them and were returning when the accident happened. The couple belonged to the Masonic Country club, while Mrs. Hooper was a member of the Eastern Star. The body of Mrs. Hooper was being kept at, C. E. Marsh's undertaking establishment today awaiting further development in the condition of her husband.

Notes for William H. Hooper:

Battle Creek - William Hooper, 28, like his wife, failed to survive the severe injuries which both received in an automobile accident near Parma late last Sunday night March 2, 1930. Mr. Hooper, a construction engineer with the G. O. Lewis company, and University of Michigan graduate in engineering, died at the Sheldon Memorial hospital, Albion, about 10:05 Wednesday night March 5, 1930. Both Mr. and Ms. Hooper received compound and triple fractures of the legs when their car skidded off the US-12 highway and hit a fence, a board from which pierced the side of the automobile and struck them. The couple had been married since June 1928 and were living at 114 Orleans Avenue, Battle Creek.

Their bodies were taken today from the C. E. Marsh undertaking parlors and removed to Ann Arbor where funeral arrangements were being made today. It is believed that services will be held there Saturday with burial there likewise. Mr. Hooper is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hooper, of Ann Arbor. His wife leaves a sister in Detroit but has no parent living.

Notes for John Christopher Ehrhardt:

Clare Sentinel newspaper, Aug. 30, 1928:

John Christopher Ehrhardt was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, Oct. 11, 1849, and died at the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown, August 26, 1928, age 78 years, 10 months and 15 days. Mr. Ehrhardt came to America in 1878 and located in Marquette, Michigan, where he remained for five years. He moved to Clare in 1883 and the following year he was married to Miss Eva Karcher.

Four children were born to this union and two of them have preceded him in death. Charles departed this life nine years ago, and George, of North Bradley, died four years ago.

Mr. Ehrhardt was janitor of the Clara schools for twenty years and his natural love for children and faithfulness to his work made him a very successful caretaker of the building. He resigned that position the spring before the old school structure burned.

He was confessed follower of the Christian religion and a member of the Baptist Church for many years. During the past three years, Mr. and Mrs. Ehrhardt have rented their home on east Eighth Street and have made their home with their daughter. He has been in ill health for some time and during his last illness was confined to his bed for a period of four weeks.

Notes for Junius Jacob (James) Mayer:

Junius J. Mayer married and divorced from Martha Mayer (see reported divorce case, Martha Mayer

v. Junius J. Mayer (6 Mar 1934), which reports, in part:

The parties lived together contentedly for about 25 years. Their separation and divorce were caused by the relations of defendant [Junius Mayer] with a woman whom he met in Detroit about two years ago and for whom he was willing to leave his family and home. The parties have one child, a son 26 years old, underdeveloped mentally, able to do much simple farm work but needing direction and personal care. He lives with his mother.

The parties have always lived on a farm. Both are industrious and frugal and, except for defendant's lapse, bear excellent reputations. Defendant also has established a business in sale of tractors and farm implements, which he conducted from the homestead.

The family home is a farm of 150 acres, inherited by defendant. He owns also a farm of 40 acres, a half interest in 140 acres, a house and lot in Ann Arbor, and personal property. The court awarded plaintiff the homestead, some livestock, farm tools and one automobile, together worth from $15,000 to $18,000, and ordered defendant to pay her $50 per month during her lifetime, with the understanding that as long as the son makes his home with plaintiff defendant should not be liable for any additional sum for his support. The property retained by defendant is worth $24,000. He complains that he cannot conduct his tractor business anywhere else than on the homestead and offered to give plaintiff all the rest of the real estate if he could have the home.

Defendant inherited all the land or purchased it with inherited money. However, plaintiff assisted him in conserving it and in acquiring personal property. The property does not admit of ready division upon the basis of values alone. The proportion of worth of the award to the wife is rather more than is usual. But there is no rigid rule of division and the security of a living for the wife is a major consideration. It does not appear that the homestead may be divided conveniently. It does not appear that other property would be as suitable for the wife's livelihood. She ought not to be driven from her home because of defendant's misconduct. Defendant's business can be readily established elsewhere. We think the court reached an equitable result and it should not be disturbed.

5411. Dr. David Willard⁸ Zahn (Herman Henry⁷, David⁶, Johann Michael⁵, Johann Michael⁴, Agnes³ Staebler, Agnes² Metzger, Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born 10 Aug 1896 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co, Pennsylvania, and died 16 Jul 1977 in Jenkintown, Montgomery Co, Pennsylvania. He married Dorothea Alma Lutz 1922 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co, Pennsylvania, daughter of George Lutz and Ida Northardt. She was born 30 Mar 1898 in Pennsylvania, and died 24 Apr 1947 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Dr. David Willard Zahn:

April 30, 2014 - Pitman man's photos show new side of World War I

Vernon and Irene Castle had reached the peak of their fame in 1914. The husband-and-wife dance team starred in Irving Berlin's first Broadway show, Watch Your Step. They helped popularize the Fox-trot as well as ragtime, jazz rhythms, and African American music for dance. But Vernon gave up stage and stardom to fly combat missions during World War I - a decision that led to his death in a plane crash in 1918.

D. Willard Zahn of Philadelphia was there and captured the wreckage in one of 57 black-and-white pictures he assembled in an album later passed on to his son, Dick, of Pitman, Gloucester County. As the First World War's centennial is marked this July, the rare, haunting images of pilot training open a window on a bygone time when fixed-wing flight was still new and many military cadets were killed learning to fly rickety biplanes. One picture shows an obviously dejected pilot leaning against a wing as others step through a cotton field to inspect the plane he had just crash-landed. Top of Form, Bottom of Form, Top of Form, Bottom of Form. In others, a flier stands with a bandaged hand and face next to another smashed aircraft; a wrecked biplane marks the spot where a pilot died; and cadets sit on bunks and trunks in spartan Texas barracks, their flight suits hung nearby.

"These guys in World War I were the astronauts of their day," said Dick Zahn, 85, a professor of psychology who retired about 20 years ago from what was then Glassboro State College. "They were pioneers who took their lives in their hands." Zahn treasured his late father's album and shared it over the winter with John Leach, vice chairman of the Pitman Memorabilia Committee, which seeks to preserve the community's history. "I think flying was my father's great adventure," said Zahn, a Navy veteran who served in the United States at the end of World War II, and was briefly stationed in Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands and near Manila in the Philippines during the Korean War. "I guess he wanted a record of his military service, but he was very, very modest and never talked about it."

Leach was surprised to see the photos and scanned them onto a DVD for Zahn. He also checked with the National World War I Museum in Kansas City, Mo., to learn more. The images "documented an era 100 years old, from the ground school to the flight school," said Leach, a former New Jersey state trooper and civilian pilot who also lives in Pitman. "It's a real find. Where else would you find anything like this?" Numerous World War I pictures have survived, but Zahn's clear images from flight training exercises in Texas are uncommon as a personal, never-before-seen history of a pilot's experience.

"They're evidence of what we're trying to preserve," said Doug Lantry, curator of the National Museum of the U.S. Air Force at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio. "The tools, context, and surroundings [in photos] can often tell us things left out of documentary sources. "Bottom line - this is a valuable visual record," he said. "A good set of undamaged prints from that era is an exciting thing."

D. Willard Zahn completed his preflight training at Princeton University before heading to Carruthers Field near Fort Worth, Texas. His photos reflect his whole training experience. But Army Second Lt. Zahn never found himself in combat. The war ended Nov. 11, 1918, and he returned to Philadelphia, where he worked as a grade school physical education teacher, an elementary school principal, associate superintendent of schools and Temple University's dean of the College of Education. "I had a feeling he never looked back at that album," said Dick Zahn. "He lived in the present and never volunteered much about his training."

But over time, the younger Zahn learned more about his father's experience from reading histories. "Think about it," he said. "The Wright brothers had just flown [a power-driven, heavier-than-air machine] for the first time in 1903 and my father is flying in 1918."

"They didn't know how to pull out of spins back then," he said. With so many deaths, "the odds against you were pretty bad." Beating the odds seemed easy for Vernon Castle, the ballroom dancer, who started flying for the Royal Flying Corps during World War I. He completed 300 combat missions over the Western Front, shot down two aircraft, and was awarded the Croix de Guerre.

In 1918, Castle was assigned to training American pilots and was taking off with a student on Feb. 15 when his plane stalled as he tried to avoid another aircraft. He wasn't able to recover and crashed. Apparently, his pet monkey had been along for the ride. "Neither the other pilot, his student cadet, nor Vernon's pet monkey, Jeffrey, were seriously injured," according to a monument at the crash site.

D. Willard Zahn grabbed his camera and took a photo of the wreckage. "My father must have known him," said Dick Zahn. "It must have been terribly sad." Castle "was a celebrity, a great dancer, a guy with all these hundreds of hours in the air," he said. "How could it happen?" The early pilots of that time "were doing something dangerous, new and exciting," said Lantry. "And that's why a lot of them wanted to do it."

Notes for Richard Harold (Dickie) Gauss:

Richard "Dickie" Gauss 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gauss, 802 W. Washington St., was killed instantly when he was struck by lightning on the Barton Hills Country Club golf course about 6 o'clock last night.

Richard had been caddying for two golfers, Josephine Lange, 71 S. Forest Ave., and Ronald Butler Detroit. It was his first day as caddy at the Barton Hills course. A sudden rainstorm had interrupted the golf game and the party had taken refuge under a clump of closely-spaced trees between the ninth and first fairways, about half way up the latter. As the rain continued, Guy Russell, another caddy, was sent to the clubhouse after a car to bring the party to shelter. While he was gone, lightning struck the tree beside Richard was standing.

Miss Lange and Mr. Butler neither of whom was injured, were said to have felt a shock and looked around and saw Richard lying on the ground. The three of them had been standing about three feet apart and Richard was about two feet from the tree which was struck. Physicians and Detroit Edison Co. employees administered artificial respiration for two hours, and the sheriff's department was called to put its inhalator into service. Richard's father is a lieutenant in the Ann Arbor fire department and a veteran golfer for who Richard had caddied a number of times.

Miss Lange is a former city women's championship golfer and Mr. Butler, who is employed of the Michigan Inspection Bureau, is a former resident of Ann Arbor, son of the late Hackley Butler, a former Chamber of Commerce secretary. Richard was well-known locally as a tap dancer and was described by critics as having considerable talent. He appeared in numerous University and city dance revues and dramatic productions since 1935 and had taken part in the annual "Juniors on Parade" show for several years. He also participated in Children's Theater productions, minstrel shows and school plays. As well as his dancing and dramatic work. Richard was known for his ability as a singer and pianist.

Richard was born July 6, 1928, in Ann Arbor. He was a student at Slauson Junior High School, where he was to have entered the ninth grade this fall. He attended Bach elementary school, where he was a safety patrol captain. He was a member of the Bethlehem Evangelical Reformed Sunday school and was confirmed in the church this year. Besides his parents, he is survived by his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Mayer of Ann Arbor, and an aunt, Mrs. John J. Burby, of Los Angeles, California.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Muehlig funeral home, with Rev. Theodore A. Schmale officiating. Burial will be in Bethlehem cemetery. Friends may call at the Muehlig chapel.

6036. Milburn Eppley⁸ Stabler (Christian Emmanuel⁷, Friederika (Riga)⁶ Koch, Rosina⁵ Eckardt, Anna Rosina⁴ Zahn, Agnes³ Staebler, Agnes² Metzger, Hans Jerg¹ Mezger) was born 06 Mar 1891 in Lansing, Ingham Co, Michigan, and died 17 May 1931 in Boston, Ionia Co, Michigan. He married Martha Galbraith Draper 21 May 1918 in Lansing, Ingham Co, Michigan, daughter of Frank Draper and Eleanor Galbraith. She was born 29 Oct 1893 in Michigan, and died 17 May 1931 in Michigan.

Notes for Milburn Eppley Stabler:

Lansing - State police Monday afternoon still were dragging the waters of Morrison Lake, in Ionia County, for the bodies of Lawrence Stabler, 11, and Grenfall Stabler, 9, who with their father, Milburn E. Stabler, 40, Lansing coal dealer, were drowned shortly after noon Sunday May 17, 1931 when the motor boat Mr. Stabler was piloting, capsized. The body of Mr. Stabler was recovered during the night, after police had dragged the lake for approximately 12 hours. A detail of state police was ordered to the lake Monday morning to relieve the officers who had worked during the night. The new detail continued the search for the bodies of the two children. Edward W. Roe, teller in the South Lansing branch of the American State Savings bank, a brother-in-law of Mr. Stabler, who was with him and the two children in the boat, was rescued by L. F. Phillips of Grand Rapids.

At noon Monday six boats manned by state police and officers of the Ionia county sheriff's department, were dragging the lake, but at 1 o'clock no trace of the bodies of the two children had been found. When the tragedy occurred, Mr. Stabler was testing a speed boat that he purchased last fall and had planned to enter the motor boat events to be held July 4th at Spring Lake near Grand Haven. Mrs. Stabler and Mrs. Roe who were at the lake were invited to accompany their husbands in the test but declined to go out on the lake.

Witnesses asserted that Mr. Stabler attempted to rescue the two children and was clutching them when they disappeared below the surface of the water. Mr. Roe clung to the overturned boat while Mr. Phillips who had witnessed the accident from his cottage was rowing to the scene directly in front of the cottage but nearly a half mile from the shore. When he reached the ill-fated boat, Mr. Stabler and his sons had disappeared from view.

Mr. Stabler was interested in Morrison Lake Gardens club, an organization consisting of prominent Grand Rapids, Ionia and Lansing resident which sponsored entertainment for the cottagers. He had planned to attend a meeting of the entertainment committee late Sunday afternoon to consider a program of motor boat events to be held later in the spring or early summer. Deputy Sheriffs Edward Good of Saranac and William McKendry of Ionia were called to the accident and took charge of the search for the bodies. Later state police officers, Segriest and Arnett of the East Lansing post, were ordered to the lake.

Long a resident of Lansing, Mr. Stabler, was associated with C. E. Dale in C. E. Stabler and company, 638 E. Michigan Avenue. The business was established by Christian E. Stabler, his father, who later retired and now resides at 115 North Chestnut Street. The two boys were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn E. Stabler. His marriage to Miss Martha Galbraith Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Draper, 230 Rumsey Street, was the first naval wedding in Lansing during the World war. The event took place while Mr. Stabler was awaiting orders to report at the Great Lakes naval station where he had enlisted. He was a graduate of Lansing high school and of Carroll college, Wisconsin. Mr. Stabler was a past master of Capital lodge No. 66. S.O., and was a member of Lansing Commandery No. 25, Knights Templar and Capital chapter No. 9 R.A.M.

Surviving relatives besides the widow and mother, Mrs. Martha Draper Stabler are Mr. Stabler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian E. Stabler and a sister, Mrs. Erma Stabler Dale, wife of Clarence E. Dale, all of Lansing.

Marriage Notes for Irma Stabler and Clarence Dale:

Lansing - Tall wicker vases filled with rose-tinted gladioli, the favored flower among the brides of the late summer, with a background of ferns which banked the fireplace, formed a garden-like setting for the wedding of Miss Irma Stabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Stabler to Mr. Clarence Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dale which was solemnized today at high noon August 30, 1920 at the home of the bride's parents, 115 Chestnut St. As the bride and her attendant, Miss Irene Dale, a sister of the groom, descended the stairway, the Lohengrin wedding march was played by Mr. Milburn Stabler, a brother of the bride. Miss Stabler wore a lovely bridal gown of white georgette and lace and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and swansonias showered with narrow satin ribbons. The bridesmaid was gowned in pale pink crepe de chine and her flowers were pink roses and snapdragons, showered with pink ribbons. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John C. Willits of the Central Methodist church and Mr. Earle Shuttlesworth assisted Mr. Dale as best man.

A mound of pink roses and snapdragons centered the table in the dining room, where a four-course luncheon was served following the wedding ceremony. Smilax and pink roses, and pink candles in crystal candle sticks completed the dainty table decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Dale left immediately for the north- They will be at home after September fifteenth in the Hadley apartments. Mrs. Dale is a graduate of the Lansing high school with the class of 1913. Notes for Paull Whiting Saffold, Jr.:

Paull W. Saffold, Jr. (July 11, 1919 - March 13, 2007) and Jean Compton (March 23, 1925 - April 18, 2004) married February 24, 1941. He was born in Montgomery, Alabama he married Alma Jean Compton from Thomaston, Alabama. At the time they met dad was working as an engineer for the Alabama Highway Department in the area of Thomaston. He joined the Alabama National Guard in August 1936 as an enlisted soldier and was discharged in August 1939. One month after the attack on Pearl Harbor he re-enlisted in the Army and was accepted as an aviation cadet in November 1942. After finishing flight school, he was transferred to England where he flew ninety-six combat missions in a P-47 from Duxford England in the 8th Air Force, 78th Fighter Group. During that time he took part in the first daylight bombing of Berlin and numerous other bomber escort and low level strafing missions. To his disappointment, he was sent home for R&R just prior to the D-Day invasion. He spent a total of twenty-six years on active duty, retiring in May 1964 as a colonel in the United States Air Force. Prior to having children mom worked for a while as a secretary having obtained a position that both she and her former English teacher had applied for although she had not finished high school. She spent her time raising two sons after they were born until we moved out.

When he learned to fly, he had a flat tire on the nose wheel of my airplane. Being Sunday, no one was there to fix it so he had to get mom and dad to pick me up at the Council Bluffs airport. While waiting for them, several people were getting ready to sky dive. They tried to get him to go with them but he told them that he should wait for my parents. On the way home he told dad about the invitation. He gave me one piece of advise that he never forgot. "Son, there is no reason to practice something that you only have to do once."

THE MILITARY CAREER OF PAULL W. SAFFOLD JR. 1936 to 1964

Alabama National Guard August 1936 to August 1939

My first experience in the military was in the Alabama National Guard. I enlisted as a Private on August 22, 1936 at the age of 17. I attended drill regularly and made two summer camps at Fort McClellan Alabama as a private in HQ CO 167th Infantry. In WWI it was part of the Rainbow Division. I served until August 1939. After the second year I informed my Company Commander, Johnny Snider, a WWI veteran, that I had taken a job with the Alabama Highway Department in Abbeville and could no longer attend drills. I was placed on the inactive list and remained there until the expiration of my three-year term August 21, 1939.

Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941

Jean and I were attending a movie in the Paramount Theater when it was flashed on the screen that the Japs had attacked Pearl Harbor. We went to Mother's home on Holcombe Street and listened to the news for several hours (no TV in those days) before returning to our home in Clanton Alabama. I was with the Alabama Highway Department when I learned that the Army Air Corps was accepting applications for Aviation Cadet training from married men. Two weeks after Pearl Harbor I spent a full day at Maxwell Field taking mental and physical exams and returned to Jean in Clanton who approved what I had done. I had wanted to be a pilot for a long time. Especially an Army Air Corp pilot. I had been taking lessons at the small airport in Clanton from Charlie

Wade who was the fixed base operator. I had about four hours ($6 per hour dual) in a 13 Piper Cub when I received a telegram about January 15 to report to Maxwell Field for enlistment. Jean had to sign a paper that she was not dependent on me for a living. Being the good wife, as she always had been, she signed the paper. When I enlisted I was never asked if I had previous military experience. It was found while processing for retirement that I had three years in the Alabama National Guard that I had not applied for longevity. This added three years to my retirement. I was told that I could file a claim for longevity pay that I had been entitled to so I did. About six months later I received two checks, one from the Army and one from the Air Force. The two amounted to about $4,000. It had taken about six months for the two services to calculate this claim.

Aviation Cadet 1942

There were twelve of us at Maxwell to be sworn in as Aviation Cadets in January 1942. One was William May who was a classmate and became a member of the 78th Fighter Group and a good friend. After several weeks of preflight training at Maxwell I was sent to Lodwick Aviation Military Academy at Avon Park Florida for primary training in the PT-17, Stearman (a bi wing trainer) then on to Greenville, Mississippi for another 60 hours in the BT-13 (Vultee Vibrator) While in Greenville, Jean and a friend Virginia Crew, came over on a bus and stayed a couple of weeks. Virginia's husband Jeff and I had alternate open post. We only had open post every two weeks when we could leave the base. Boy was it hot in Greenville. No one had air conditioning in 1942.

After 60 hours in Greenville I was sent to Craig Field, (Air Force Bases were called Fields at that time) Selma, Alabama, for advanced training in AT-6s. I felt lucky since three out of five cadets had been washed out. I started training in the class of 42-I but was hospitalized for about a week with an infected hand. So I finished with the class of 42-J and was commissioned 2nd Lieutenant on November 10, 1942. The last 10 hours of flying was in a P-36, about 3 or 4 flights. This was not recorded in the 60 hours of advanced flight training. I thought I was a hot pilot then.

Operation Training in P-40s November 1942 to January 1943

I was sent to Pinellas Field at St Petersburg Florida for operational training, mostly formation, acrobatics, and gunnery practice. I received about 40 hours in the Curtiss P-40. Jean and Nita came down for about two weeks and had a room in St Petersburg, near Tampa, while I trained and waited orders to go overseas. Archie Hill's mother and father were there for a while and we went to dinner with them several times at their expense. Mr. Hill was the Chevrolet dealer in Huntsville Alabama and when they left Tampa to go home they dropped Jean off in Montgomery. I thought we were going to be sent to the Pacific since P-40s were in combat over there. While at Pinellas we were issued parachutes, a Colt 45, a gas mask and clothing impregnated with a horrible smelling oily substance that was to be used in case of a gas attack. Pinellas had one runway, a small wooden building used for administration and operations, and squad tents for those who lived on base. It is now an International airport.

Port of Embarkation

Near the end of December we boarded a train bound for Fort Hamilton New York, which was a port of embarkation. It was about a thirty-minute subway ride to Manhattan on the Sea Beach Express. I was in Times Square New Years Eve on January 1, 1943. That was an experience I will never forget. I had a little too much to drink and went to sleep on the subway and must have made three or four trips between Manhattan and the Fort Hamilton before waking up. I was among about twelve 2nd Lieutenants who boarded the Queen Elizabeth three days before departing for England for instructions to help the troops find where they were to be quartered when they boarded. American and Canadian troops started boarding after dark and continued all night. About 12,000 boarded from 5 or 6 gangplanks. The ship sailed before daylight without escort. Officers were crowded twelve to a stateroom. Accommodations for the enlisted men were atrocious. We had two meals a day. Could not smoke on deck day or night. Anything thrown overboard could leave a trail for the enemy. Lt Col Hub Zemke was the senior Air Force commander and was accompanied by all of his Officer and enlisted personnel of the 56th Fighter Group. As senior officer he commanded all of the Air Force personnel on board. One thing I remember was he allowed only one canteen of water per day per man. We had to bath in salt water so we didn't bath very often. The 56th Group had trained in P-47s for more than a year at Bridgeport Connecticut and had the most experienced pilots ever to fly in the 8th Air Force. They produced more aces than any group. Men like Bob Johnson, Francis Gabreski, Walter Beckam, Jerry Johnson and many more. I was headed for England as a replacement pilot to be assigned to a group later. We arrived in the Firth of Clyde in Scotland on January 9 and I was in a group that boarded a train. The next morning we arrived at Stone, a small town in northwest England. Stone was where we waited for our next assignment. I was there about a week before being sent to Shrewsbury in Wales, another place to wait for assignment. We made up our flying time flying J-3 Cubs while there. I was there about three weeks before receiving orders to be 78th Fighter Group located at Goxhill.

78th Fighter group at Goxhill

Goxhill was located on the south side of the Humber River with the large seaport city of Hull on the north side. German aircraft frequently came over at night and dropped mines in the river. The 78th arrived in England after training in California in P-38s. The P-38s were soon transferred in February to North Africa with most of their pilots. They were needed in the fighting there. The officers left at Goxhill were the group, squadron and flight commanders and the some enlisted men. P-47s were flown in from Ireland by ferry pilots. A few at a time. I had never seen a P-47 until then. Ferry pilots checked out most experienced pilots who in turn checked out the rest of us. We trained at Goxhill in gunnery over the North Sea. Gunnery consisted of firing at a long canvas sleeves about 8 feet tall and 20 feet long towed by a long rope behind a British Lysander. Four P-47s participated in each practice flight with ammunition in two guns, which made a colored mark on the target. The rest of the guns were empty. The target was dropped on the airfield and the colored marks were counted to determine the score of each pilot. This method was also practiced in Florida over the Gulf of Mexico. I did not do very well in gun practice which showed later in combat. I missed a few enemy aircraft that I should have shot down. After about 15 hours of training at Goxhill the 78th with its three squadrons left Goxhill for Duxford in April 1943.

Duxford 1943 and 1944

Duxford airfield was built in 1919 during World War I. Located near Cambridge 50 miles north of London it was used by Spitfires and Hurricanes during the Battle of Britain. The British turned the base over to the 78th Fighter Group in April 1943. I was assigned to the 84th squadron. I flew on the third mission flown by the group. My first mission, on April 29 I was wingman for my squadron commander, Major Eugene Roberts. A Fighter squadron consisted of three flights of 8 or 10 pilots and a Fighter Group consisted of three squadrons.

The first mission I flew was a fighter sweep (rodeo) over northern France. We made landfall near Calais and then over Abbeville hoping to entice Adolf Galland and his experienced pilots to come up to meet us. They didn't come up. Abbeville was heavily defended with anti-aircraft guns so we didn't go down to strafe. We were up only one hour and thirty minutes. We didn't get belly tanks until later.

On May 4 we flew fighter support for bomber diversion over Dunkerque and other French towns at 28,000 feet. Heavy flak but otherwise uneventful. Up 17:45 down 19:10.

On May 13 we flew an escort mission over northern France. Up at 15:33 and down 17:15.

On May 15 we staged at Horsham, an advanced base, for refueling and on to Amsterdam. One hour thirty minutes. No belly tanks yet:

May 19, I flew my first bomber escort mission. It was a bomber diversion mission. We crossed into Holland at 30,000 and returned to the English coast at Oxfordness. The mission was uneventful except for heavy flak. The mission lasted one hour and twenty minutes. At 30,000 we were indicating 189 mph but true airspeed was more than 300 mph. There were only a few bomb groups in England at this time. About 4 or 5. They could put up only about 200 bombers. Bombers would usually take off before daylight and form up to cross the enemy coast in line with the other groups. Eighth fighter command would schedule the fighter groups to takeoff at different times to rendezvous with its assigned bomb group at the proper time for escort. The fighters would fly one or two thousand feet above the bombers and make s-turns to stay with them because we could not fly as slow as the bomb groups. As more fighter and bomb groups became available an escorting group could be relieved by another flight group and if we had enough fuel we could go down and look for targets of opportunity such as enemy airfields, trains, barges, trucks and anything valuable to the enemy.

From May 19 to November 26 I flew many missions but I think November 26 was the first with belly tanks. This was an escort mission over France. Jack Price leading Red flight shot down a ME 109 and an FW 190. Bombers were attacked by at least 30 enemy aircraft, mostly 109s. We lost my good friend Wayne Dougherty just north of Paris, hit by a ME 109. The mission lasted 3 hours. Wayne was flying number 4 in Price's Red flight.

As I approached 200 hours which was the normal tour in combat I thought the invasion would soon take place because of the strafing and bombing we were doing on the French coast. I wanted to take a part of the invasion. So on March 17, 1943 I submitted a request to fly additional missions. This had to be approved by the squadron flight surgeon, the squadron commander, the group commander, and through channels all the way to 8th Fighter command headquarters.

The Luftwaffe was almost decimated by then. They had lost most of their experienced pilots. They were still building fighter aircraft and flying them with pilots that had only a few hours of flying time.

After my retirement the Air Force sent me my Mission Summary Reports and my AF Form 5s that are a complete record of my military flying time.

To write about all of the missions I flew is just too lengthy. Anyone so inclined can find the details in the Mission Summary Reports. They are contained in a large brown envelope along with the AF Form 5s that are a monthly record of my flying hours. These 96 Mission Summary Reports are on flimsy brittle second copy typewriter paper located in my office for anyone so inclined to review.

After flying 50 missions I had received the Distinguished Flying Cross and 4 Air Medals. Air Medals were awarded for each 10 missions. I later received two more DFCs but no more Air Medals. I guess 8th Fighter Command decided not to give more. The commendations for the additional two DFCs have been lost but they are recorded in my retirement Form 214 and in newspaper reports in my scrapbook. I flew 96 missions and somewhere in my files show that I had 252:15 combat hours.

While Paull and I were in London we visited Duxford home of the Imperial War Museum a branch of the Imperial War Museum in London we also visited. We also visited the American Air Museum on the same airdrome with the Duxford museum. I told an attendant at the American Museum that I had been a pilot at Duxford during the war and wanted to meet the director of the museum. He gave me directions to his office, which turned out to be the building that housed the 78th Group headquarters. We proceeded there and were met by two women, the Director was not there, who greeted us and gave us a copy of the dedication of the American Museum, which took place one month earlier. They also had a copy of the Duxford Diary and wanted me to autograph it. They also suggested that we visit the Officer's club across the road, which we did. On the way back to the Imperial Museum we met two men who were very anxious to meet me. They took us to their office, which was in the hanger that had housed our briefing room. They brought out a large photo album of pictures of pilots and ground personnel and wanted me to provide names. Many of the pictures were of me. After spending about an hour with them they provided a vehicle and driver to take us to the train station in Cambridge. Let's leave Duxford for a little recreation.

London

About once a month we were given a three-day pass and we usually went to London with a couple of friends. We did not stay at the Red Cross club where the accommodations were meager. We stayed at the better hotels such as the Strand Palace, the Mount Royal or the Park Lane. London was blacked out at night and I mean black. Prostitutes were everywhere. Mostly around the streets of Piccadilly Circus. You couldn't walk fifty feet without being propositioned. Many were refugees from France, Poland and other occupied countries as well as the English. Men trying to sell condoms would approach us. We wore blue patches under our wings to show we were combat pilots. That was supposed to give us priority in bars, hotels, train stations and so on but I don't think it worked very well. We usually met friends from other stations while in London. I remember meeting Grover Hall of the Montgomery Advertiser and Sam Perry Dixon, a B-17 pilot and son of the Alabama Governor, as well as many flying school classmates while in London. We also took advantage of visiting many of the historical sites. Many buildings were damaged or destroyed. Barrage balloons and anti-aircraft guns were everywhere. Hyde park was full of them. The Germans would send a few airplanes over London at night. They were known as nuisance raids. They would be caught in several searchlights and the anti-aircraft guns were fired at them. It was a sight to see until you had to take cover from the flack falling from the British guns. The British bars were allocated different kinds of liquor. They would run out of scotch and gin and if you wanted a drink late at night you would have to settle for a terrible rum drink.

Return to the Zone of the Interior

On May 8, 1944 Quince Brown and I received orders from VIII Fighter Command to return the States for thirty days rest and recuperation. We were flown in the group's U-78 to Blackpool. The commanding officer there was Colonel W. A. Gale. Col. Gale, a WWI veteran, had been a popular mayor of Montgomery for many years. I went to his office and introduced myself as a native of Montgomery and learned that he knew my mother and father from years ago. He greeted me warmly and invited me to have my meals at the table reserved for him and his staff, this saved me from waiting in a long chow line. Colonel Gale arranged to have his adjutant drive me to Blackpool to visit many of the nightclubs. We had a ball. After a few days we boarded the SS Argentina. One of about 2 ships in a convoy for a long voyage to New York. About four navy destroyer escort ships escorted us. Every 3 or 4 nights they would weave through the formation and drop depth charges. We never knew if they were for enemy subs or practice. We had boat drills about twice a day. We had to don life preservers and go to a designated place near a lifeboat. We were at sea about two weeks. When we landed in New York we spent about an hour on board before disembarking being questioned by some men, the FBI, I think. They were mainly wanted to know how the P-47 performed against enemy fighters. I saw my first bubble canopy P-47 on a ship in the harbor. Quince and I checked in at the Commodore Hotel and left by train our homes. An overnight trip. Jean and Nita (my mother) met me at the station. Jean had made reservations at Greystone Hotel where we spent the night after a short visit at home. Nita had a nice party for us at the club at Maxwell. We spent some time at Johnnie's cabin on Lake Martin. After meeting many pilots at Maxwell who said they wished they could be assigned overseas I became disillusioned about returning to England.

Anyway, we had a nice stay at home and two pilots at Maxwell volunteered to fly me to New York in a C-45. We landed at LaGuardia airport, which was the only airport in New York at the time. We checked in at the Commodore and I was having a drink at the bar when I walked Quince Brown wearing Major insignia. Quince was an ace with several victories. He had received word of his promotion to Major and was celebrated by a Quince Brown day in his hometown of Bristow Oklahoma. He returned to the 84th and shot down 3 or 4 to bring his total to 13. I read in the Eagles of Duxford that he was shot down by flack and crash-landed Germany. Quince was shot and killed by a German civilian. The German was tried after the war by the War Crimes trial and was executed.

Quince and I left New York by train for Atlantic City. The Air Force had taken over the Ritz-Carlton hotel for a redistribution center. Since my birthday was in July I was due for an annual physical exam. Doctors at the center did this and I was told I had severe combat fatigue. I was sent to a convalescence center at St. Petersburg Florida. The center was the Don Cesar Hotel. Jean came down to be with me and since I did not have to stay overnight at the hotel we rented a nice motel on the beach within walking distance of the hotel. I had to check in at the hotel every morning for treatment. When I was released for duty I was sent to Chanute Field to be trained as an Aircraft Engineering officer. They must have seen on my records that I had been a highway engineer. It was a good thing for me as it turned out. The course was nearly a year. We lived in Champaign Illinois about 10 miles from the base.

I was then transferred to Mitchell Field NY. I didn't like it there on Long Island and told the Colonel I was to work under that I was looking forward to being closer to home. He picked up the phone and called the base commander at Richmond VA, Colonel Hughes, and asked if he could use a fighter pilot trained as an Aircraft Engineering Officer and the answer was yes. So I left that very day for Richmond. I was pleased because it was closer to home and I did not like Long Island at all.

My first duty at Richmond was a flight test engineering officer. Richmond was a training base for P-47 pilots. I flew several times a day testing aircraft that had just been through periodic inspections. I was later made flight line maintenance officer to supervise maintenance of aircraft needing repair. I stayed at Richmond until the war with Japan ended September 2, 1945. Paul was born April 16, 1945 and my commanding officer gave me permission to fly a P-47 to Montgomery to see my son and wife. The Germans surrendered May 7, 1945. The P-47 was quite an attraction at Maxwell. Few people had seen it. Jean joined me later at Richmond and shortly after we were ordered to Shaw Field where we were when I was relieved from active duty in December 1945.

CIVILIAN LIFE AGAIN

I received a letter from the Director of the State Highway Department congratulating me for serving my country and offering my old job back. I rejected it because of the low pay. I later accepted a job with Eastern Air Lines in Montgomery as assistant station manager. It didn't pay much either. I later went back in the Air Force when I learned that ex officers could enlist with the grade of Master Sergeant. The pay was much better. About $300 a month. I had a nice job in base operations. Bobby was born December 17, 1947. With the Korean War looming I was recalled to active duty October 1947 with my old rank of Captain and sent to Bergstrom Field at Austin Texas.

BACK TO AIR FORCE LIFE

I was assigned to the 313th Troup Carrier Group an aircraft maintenance officer. We were equipped with C-47s for a few months then we began getting C-82s. The C-82 was a nice troop carrier aircraft. We could carry 40 paratroops and tow two gliders. We provided support for the 101st Airborne Division at Ft Campbell, KY and the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft Bragg, NC. The United States Air Force became a separate branch of the service in 1947. It was previously the Army Air Corps.

HAWAII

In May 1950 I received orders to proceed to Hickham AFB. Jean and our two boys accompanied me. We departed San Francisco on an army troupe ship for a seven-day voyage to Honolulu. I was assigned to the 1500 Maintenance and Supply Group as an aircraft maintenance officer. Hickham was equipped with two squadrons of C-54s and one squadron of C-97s. We had several C-47s for support and I flew supplies to about seven units on the outlying islands such as Maui once a week. I was called to the office of Major Busby, chief of maintenance, and was told that I was needed to replace the maintenance office on Johnston Island and was given the choice of going there or staying at Hickham in the Inspector General Office. I chose to go to Johnson Island. I didn't want to have any part of the Inspector General. I went to Johnson Island with my family who was very unhappy about my decision.

JOHNSTON ISLAND 1950 1951

The Korean War started in 1950 and there was a lot of traffic thru Johnson Island, a refueling base. The tour there was 12 months. Maintenance personnel were kept very busy refueling and providing maintenance on aircraft that needed it. I did get a chance to go to a maintenance conference in Tokyo. Conditions were very poor there since they were recovering from the war. Life on Johnston was miserable for Jean but Paull and Bobby seemed to enjoy it. I didn't mind it because it kept me busy and I had the use of the only Jeep on the island. The fishing was very good. We used the rescue boat when available. When my tour was up I received orders in March 1952 to return to Chanute AFB and assigned to the 1114th Special Air Mission Squadron. The mission was to provide VIP transportation for the 2nd Army in Chicago. While at Chanute I received a phone call from Group Headquarters in Washington offering me the job as commander of the 231st Special Air Mission Squadron at Dobbins AFB. I had been promoted to Major while at Chanute. I accepted the job and moved to Marietta with my family in March 1953.

DOBBINS AIR FORCE BASE

I enjoyed my job as squadron commander and flew as much as any pilot in the squadron. We were providing executive transportation for the 3rd Army that covered seven southeastern states. I flew personalities such as General Mark Clark and Werner Von Braun. While at Dobbins I received a call from Air Force Headquarters in August 1957 that I was to attend Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell APB. I considered this an honor since I had not applied for it.

COMMAND AND STAFF COLLEGE

Command and Staff College was a great experience for me. We had students from many nations. They left during the break for Christmas. After Christmas we got into a lot of top-secret stuff I flew C-45s for flying time. I qualified for Command Pilot while there. I had previously qualified for Senior Pilot while at Dobbins. I graduated on 12 June 1958 and was assigned to 1st Missile Division, Strategic Air Command at Vandenberg APB where I was working with the Titan I missile. I worked with a group that did all of the missile staff work for SAC

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND HEADQUARTERS

In September 1960 SAC decided to transfer the staff work to SAC headquarters and many of the officers I worked with were transferred to SAC headquarters. I was a project officer on Titan I and Titan II. I worked under Major General James Wilson. I got my flying time in C-47s flying staff members to various SAC bases. One of the C-47s was equipped with compartments to train navigators. One of the navigators who flew with me was a Lt Colonel who dropped the atomic bomb on one of the cities in Japan. I was promoted to Colonel shortly before I retired in July 1964. This was the end of a wonderful and rewarding career.

Notes for Henry Routon Shows:

Henry Routon Shows of Luverne, Alabama married Merle Compton of Marengo County, Alabama. She is the daughter of Samuel William Compton, a teacher, lawyer, farmer and cattleman, and Ella Boozer. Merle attended Judson College and intended to become a teacher. She did teach for two years after graduation but did not enjoy that profession. She accepted a position as Director of Child Welfare in Luverne, Alabama in 1931. It was while working in this position that she met Henry Routon Shows. He was the bank president and successful widower about town and she the new and bright young lady from Tennessee. Merle said that she and a girlfriend with whom she worked would visit a local drugstore at noon each day to get a cup of coffee to go with their sandwiches for lunch. She said that Routon would "siddle up to the car" and try to talk to her. She "never paid him much mind" but several months later they were married.

It was about this time that the bank failed. The depression was hard in Luverne and the bank was suffering. A Dr. Ford, local physician and major depositor in the Bank of Luverne, decided to remove his money from the bank. Merle said that Routon came home that day, fell across the bed and cried like a baby. No amount of talk could persuade Dr. Ford to keep his money in the bank. It was then that several of the members of the board decided that a merger with a second bank in Luverne would be the best way to go. When this merger was completed, the second bank dumped their debt on the Bank of Luverne and it folded. Routon and his brother Taylor were too poor to carry the bank by themselves so they went into other ventures. Taylor and Routon had a falling out and Taylor left the area. His young son Thomas didn't want to leave the area so Merle and Routon took him in. Routon died an early death in 1947. Merle raised young Tom and is well respected in the community. She was unaware that the Shows families in Rutledge were directly related to Routon but she was instrumental in getting some of them accepted to colleges in the south. One of those was to Judson, her Alma Mater.

Merle has managed the Shows interests in Luverne for the last 53 years after Routon's death. She made the rounds in the early days and collected the rents from the tenant farmers. She sold the cattle and horses and made all the decisions for a 2,000-acre estate. So, while Routon was certainly an outstanding Shows man, Merle has been the one to stand in the breach for the last half century and built an outstanding estate. As told to Ron Shows by Merle and placed here with her permission.
