Notes for Albert Henry Stollsteimer:

Regina, Saskatchewan, Sept. 8, 1934 - William Gunderson, trusty prisoner at Regina jail who is snterested In the Oxford Group movement, told authorities the other day all about a crime he committed back in 1931. Gunderson was sentenced Saturday to five months by Magistrate W. B. Scott, K.C., in Mounted Police court for breaking and entering a grocery store at Flaxcombe, Saskatchewan, on October 10, 1931.

But Gunderson will only serve about one month of the sentence which became effective Saturday. Gunderson still has four months to serve of a 15-month sentence imposed upon him at Lampman in December, 1933, for attempted safe "blowing." This term concludes In January, and the one imposed Saturday in February. Gunderson's confession gave police their first clue to what was evidently a "perfect crime," Corporal W. Lambert, R.C.M.P., prosecuting, told the court. When the safe in A. H. Stollsteiner's grocery store at Flaxcombe was found "blown" there was not a single clue, he said, and first inkling of who was responsible came with Gunderson's confession.

Troy Beaver, speaking as a friend of Gunderson's, said the man wished to clear up his past as he had a job to go to upon completion of his term and wished to be re-united with his wife and child. Mr. Beaver was emphatic Gunderson would make restitution and repay for the damaged safe when re-established. A companion of Gunderson's in the Flaxcombe episode is at present in a Manitoba jail. Gunderson told the court his previous convictions included terms of seven months in Prince Albert for selling homebrew and one month in another jail for vagrancy in addition to the Lampman sentence.

born 26 Jun 1852 in St. Joseph, Buchanan Co, Missouri, and died 15 Dec 1916 in Altadena, Los Angeles Co, California.

Notes for Christian Friederich (Cristino) Stollsteimer:

At age 13 attended school at Hohenheim Castle; then at 14 worked for a merchant in Reutlingen, Wurtemberg. A few years later was a bookkeeper for a weaver in Heidenheim on Brenz; then worked for Mr. Kayser in Boeblingen, Wurtemberg, who was a grocer.

On April 17, 1860 he left by way of Frankfurt to Hamburg, Germany for the United States. The ship stopped at Southampton, England on its way. He landed in 1860 at New York City and traveled by way of the Erie Canal to Detroit, Michigan and stayed overnight in Ann Arbor, Michigan and by train thru Chicago, Illinois to Milwaukee, Wisconsin. From Milwaukee he travel on foot to Greenfield, Wisconsin.

On April 6, 1863 he left Greenfield for the west. He went by way of Hamilton, Missouri; St. Joseph, Missouri; Fort McKearney, Colorado; Denver, Colorado; to Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

When he arrived in the United States he spoke only German and French. After a few years in Wisconsin he learned English and Spanish.

He had a registered horse and cattle branding iron. He had his own coinage. He was involved in several business ventures, a few with Kit Carson.

Corruption hinders progress for the Jicarilla Apache

By John M. Motter

After waiting almost 30 years, the Jicarilla Apache finally had a home, the reservation they still occupy in New Mexico just south of Pagosa Springs. Unfortunately, even after obtaining title to the land in 1887 following a presidential order, the Jicarilla had a great deal of difficulty occupying their new home. Government bureaucracy, squatters and thieving, dishonest agents were only part of the trouble. Black troops belonging to the Tenth Cavalry were stationed in Dulce, their job in theory to protect the Jicarilla and their hard-won land base.

The Tenth's commander, Col. Grierson, charged Indian Agent Christian Stollsteimer with using his official influence to retard the removal of illegal settlers from the reservation. Stollsteimer was in no position to protect Jicarilla interests. J.M. Archuleta, business manager of the Archuleta Mercantile Company and owner of a large livestock operation in southern Colorado and northern New Mexico was his son-in-law. Archuleta was son of J.M. Archuleta Sr., the Colorado Senator for whom Archuleta County is named. The Archuletas were well connected politically in Colorado. Archuleta Mercantile Co. at one time or another operated stores in Amargo, Lumberton, Edith and Pagosa Springs. I think the Pagosa Springs store was on Pagosa Street on the lot later occupied by Sullenburger's Hotel.

A great deal of feuding took place between Archuleta and his compatriots and the Anglo stockmen in Pagosa Springs. Archuleta's Pagosa business burned at least twice. Archuleta apparently led an effort to move the county seat from Pagosa Springs to the settlement that later became Edith. It was natural that a man of Archuleta's economic stature would be called upon to protect the interests of his neighbors. It was partially through the influence of the Archuletas that the Jicarilla had been removed to Mescalero in 1883, and it was this same group that sought the advice of Stollsteimer when protesting the return of the Jicarilla.

Stollsteimer stated that he could not afford to offend the squatters; that he had much property; and that if he attempted to aid in their removal, they would prosecute him for damages. Furthermore, he expected to make his home in that section after he ceased to be Indian Agent. He favored the removal of the Jicarilla to the Ute Reservation and removal of the Utes to Utah. Stollsteimer was not alone in wanting to send the Jicarilla and Utes off to Utah. Daniel Egger, editor of The Pagosa Springs News from 1891 until about 1900, wrote endlessly of the necessity of "removing the Utes." One can only assume that Egger's readers agreed with him. Stollsteimer opposed the construction of a sawmill for building an agency and homes for the Jicarilla. When confronted by Special Agent Welton who had been instrumental in helping the Jicarilla obtain their reservation, Stollsteimer denied the charges and informed the Indian Office that Welton's envy had caused him to misinterpret his actions. Grierson and Welton brought additional charges against Stollsteimer. They claimed he was opposing government policies regarding the Jicarilla; that he was illegally grazing sheep on the reservation, and instigating plans to prevent the Jicarilla occupation of their own land. They both recommended his suspension.

In October 1887, the commissioner appointed T.D. Marcum to investigate the charges. Marcum concluded that Stollsteimer should be removed from office, but the Indian Office took no action. During an inspection visit to the Southern Ute Agency in Ignacio, Marcum found Stollsteimer's farmer (Agent) guilty of signing certificates for vouchers he knew to be false. This indirectly implicated Stollsteimer. In June, Marcum finally had sufficient evidence to file the following charges against the Southern Ute and Jicarilla agent (Stollsteimer): awarding contracts to higher rather than lower bidders, making open market purchases at excessively high prices, purchasing old buildings at five times their true market value, making questionable distribution of annuity goods, and violating other departmental regulations.

On June 20, 1888, Stollsteimer lost his job, but through his political connections he obtained the position of clerk for the Jicarilla agency in 1889. Stollsteimer's corrupt practices gave the Jicarilla little cause to respect the government and its representatives. More next week on the Jicarilla's long struggle to make a home in Dulce. Much of the information for this series of articles concerning the Jicarilla is taken from "The Jicarilla Apache Tribe, A History, 1846-1970," by Veronica E. Velarde Tiller.

Notes for Adela Josephina (Della) Stollsteimer:

Durango, Colorado, May 3, 1899 - The Ute Indian Reservation will be thrown open to settlement tomorrow at noon. The first man took his place before the land office door at 6.30 a. m. Tuesday and began his long wait. The man is Philip F. Voght of Blanco, Coetello County, Colorado. News of Voght's initiative spread quickly over the city during the morning, and at noon the line began to lengthen at a rapid rate. By nightfall it had extended down the stairway into the street, the last man being compelled to stand in the wind and the snow, which has been playing fitfully upon the thoroughfares all day.

Two young women, Misses Emma and Adela Stollsteiner, neither of whom is over 20 years, occupy the third and fourth places in the line, their brother, A. P. Stollsteiner, holding fifth place. Those in line have agreed to preserve the lineup intact while the members take turns at eating and sleeping. There are several hundred boomers in the city, but most of them will make the run for the land, believing that they are too far away to be stopped, although Registrar Perkins has announced that he will not receive duplicate filings, regardless of when improvements on the land were begun. A snow storm is raging here.

Notes for Fredinand Francis (Fred) Stollsteimer:

May 10, 1899 – The rush at the land office was wild one. The line, consisting of one hundred people, was kept in check by a committee of ten until the whistles announced the noon hour. Main and Eighth Streets were crowded with people to witness the rush. When the land office opened at noon George P. White was the first man into the enclosure. White purchased the improvements on Chief Ignacio's ranch and the priority of filing. P. F. Voight was really the first man to file. He took up 160 acres of land in the valley of San Juan and cheerfully paid $80 and registry fees. Fred Stollsteimer and sisters followed next. They took mediatly after filing, the Stollsteimer crowd rushed away from the and office to protect their holdings. The two girls, Della and Emma, daughters of the sheep king of the San Juan, formed an unique picture in the rush at the land office. The Stollsteimers have taken up over 1,200 acres of land and it is said will start a new town near Ignacio and extend the sheep industry throughout the valley of the San Juan.

A. F. Sellenberger filed a claim for a railroad from Cato to Pagosa Springs. Sellenberger, Whitney Newton and others are figuring on a railroad and town near Arboles. The land office quickly disposed of the applicants in line and registered 4 filings before closing.

May 2, 1945, Rochester – The locomotive and 10 cars of the Wolverine, New York Central Chicago-New York train, were derailed at the downtown overpass early today, killing the engineer and injuring 38 trainmen and passengers, most of them slightly. Three teetered on the edge of the embankment, held only by trees and bridge girders.

Mother (Amanda),

I never realized how much I want and need you. So many things we didn't get to do. The laughter. The cries. The no goodbyes. I know you're happy as can be with our Lord all mighty pain free. Just remember I love you, ma, eternally with every ounce of all of me. I think of you now every day since the day you passed away. I grieve the love no longer felt as emptiness fills my heart. My angel you are and will always be the best living part of me. Until that day we meet again I'll do everything I forever can. I say now a final goodbye to the one and only mother of mine. I love you to the moon and back and don't you ever forget that.
I miss you, mom. Lala Willingham

Notes for Henry Carl (Hank) Rivas:

The Lord took his son home on June 11, 2010. Henry "Hank" C. Rivas was born on March 25, 1953, in Durango, Colorado, to Amanda Stollsteimer and Ernest Rivas. Hank was most infamously known for his musical talents and his ability to make people laugh. Hank lived in Pagosa Springs all his life. Hank also touched the lives of so many people. His name was practically a legend on its own. Hank smiled daily even though he suffered through many illnesses. He was proud of his music, but most importantly, he was proud of his wife, children, and grandchildren.

Hank is survived by his wife, Marie Rivas, and his children, Andy Rivas, wife Kristina and their son Tyler, his daughter April Clark, husband Ryan and their children, Cheyenne, Dustin and Kaylee. His daughter Amber Garcia, husband Lando and their children Dorian, Janiah and Aleah. His daughter China Rose Blankenship, husband Tommy and their son Quintin, and also his son Jordan Rivas and his daughter Kimberly Rivas. His mother Amanda Stollsteimer, brothers Freddy Rivas, Tito Rivas, Joseph Rivas, Leroy Cotton, Albert Rivas, and his sister Lala Willingham, along with numerous cousins, nephews and nieces.

The Rosary for Hank was held on Tuesday June 15, 2010 at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church in Pagosa Springs. The mass of Christian burial was Wednesday, June 16, at the Pope John Paul II Church in Pagosa Springs. Daddy, you will be missed, but never forgotten.

Notes for Randy Patrick Stollsteimer:

THORNTON, Colorado -- A couple and their three sons were all killed instantly Thursday night by an out-of-control sport utility vehicle -- a vehicle driven by a Denver woman who was placed on probation just two days before the deadly crash.

The victims were identified as Randy Stollsteimer and Crystaldawn Stollsteimer and their sons, 12-year-old Sebastian, 8-year-old Darian and 6-year-old Cyrus. Randy was 34 and Crystal was 31.

Family and friends who stopped by the site of the crash at East 84th Avenue and North Grant Street said that the Stollsteimer's were a loving couple and would do anything for their children. They said the Stollsteimer's didn't live too far away, but they don't know where the family was headed. They placed balloons, flowers and stuffed animals in the parking lot as part of a growing makeshift memorial.

Four others were injured in the chain-reaction crash, which was all started by an out-of-control Ford Expedition, police said. The Expedition was driven by 33-year-old Monica Chavez, of Denver, police said Friday. Her 6-year-old son and 10-year-old daughter were in the car with her. All three were transported to Denver Health. The hospital status of the three was not clear. Chavez has a lengthy criminal history, with arrests for assault, felony menacing, shoplifting, driving under restraint, traffic violations, possession of a controlled substance and forgery.

The driver of a third vehicle, 47-year-old Victor Omar Madrid-Martinez, of Denver, was also hurt in the crash. He was in a Mazda and was taken to St. Anthony's Central. He has since been released. The cause of the accident is still undetermined.

Witnesses Say Expedition Was Driving Recklessly. Witnesses told police around at 5:50 p.m. they saw a white 2000 Ford Expedition speeding and driving erratically southbound on Grant Street at East 88th Avenue. Just before the intersection of East 84th Avenue and Grant, the Expedition crossed over the raised median and veered into the northbound lanes, said Thornton police spokesman Matt Barnes. The Expedition clipped a 1994 Mazda, which was in the westbound East 84th Avenue left turn lane, and then struck the raised median, which caused the SUV to go airborne, Barnes said. The SUV flew into an eastbound Chevrolet S-10 pickup, landing on top of it, and then rolled across the parking lot into an Urban Mattress Store, eventually landing on its side, police said. The pickup truck was flattened and everyone inside was killed, Barnes said.

Police originally said four occupants of the pickup truck died in the crash. Emergency crews found a fifth body more than three hours later as they were moving the mangled wreckage. The force of the impact pushed the Mazda across the intersection and over the curb near where the other two vehicles came to rest.

Monica Annemarie Chavez has a history of arrests and may have used numerous aliases, according to state records. Chavez was arrested on Nov. 6 on suspicion of felony menacing. She is accused of waving a knife at several women.

She appeared in Adams County court on Tuesday and pleaded guilty to misdemeanor assault -- recklessly causing injury. She was sentenced to two years probation and ordered to pay more than $1,300 in fines. "She seemed to be out of it," Paul Roggow, the owner of the Urban Mattress store, said of Chavez. "There didn't seem to be any obvious issues. I can only speculate on why she was driving that fast." Roggow was the only person in the mattress store at the time of the crash. He said he was on the phone with a customer when he turned around and saw an SUV rolling through the parking lot. He said he heard the glass storefront crashing and out of instinct, he ducked behind his desk. Large shards of the glass flew over his head and landed behind him. He walked away with scratches on his hand and back.

"Only by the grace of God am I standing here," Roggow said. He said the next thing he knew, people who were nearby rushed in to check on the victims in the SUV and in the upside-down pickup truck. "When I saw everything, I was just kind of horrified ... You can never dream anything like this would happen. The thought that came to my mind was, 'Come quickly, Jesus,'" Roggow said.

The SUV landed on top of Roggow's desk and part of a mattress in the store. He said he heard the boy and girl in the SUV screaming, but Chavez didn't say anything. He's not sure if she was in shock or if her silence was the result of her injuries. He said both children appeared relatively fine, but shaken up. His mattress store is expected to be closed for a week for structural repairs, but Roggow's not thinking about the store. "I just pray for the families of the victims," Roggow said.

A relative of the family wants the community to drive more safely. "What can the community do to help is you know, slow down. Slow down, watch your surroundings, pay attention to what's going on," said Alejandro Aldaco, the uncle of Crystaldawn Stollsteimer. The case is actively being investigated by the Thornton Police Traffic Accident Investigation Team. Police don't know why the woman was speeding and driving so recklessly. It's not clear if alcohol and drugs were involved.

Memorial for Randy & Crystaldawn Stollsteimer Family

Departed on February 17, 2011 and resided in Thornton, Colorado.

Memorial Service: Friday, February 25, 2011 Cemetery: Mount Olivet Cemetery

Crystaldawn Cheri: Was born May 8th 1979 at Rose Hospital. A very healthy and curious child, not more than 5 minutes after she was born she rolled over to see what was going on. Was into theatre with her sexy legs! Her laugh was the most unique thing that everyone would recognize. Her courage to fight for anything she would believe in or just to argue her point.

Randy Patrick: Was born July 10th 1976. Randy started out as the quiet shy timid gentleman but then once you got to know him he was a wonderful outspoken person. The simplest toys would frustrate Randy at Christmas time to put together and in turn he became a fine sheet metal worker. Randy's sister is the one who introduced them; they then became middle school sweet hearts and were inseparable. Crystal drew Randy out of his shell. They were married in 1997 and started a family soon after.

Sebastian Orion: Was born October 1st 1998. So loving and just adorable, he grew to become a very respectable young man and a wonderful charmer. A big kid whose latest endeavor had him playing basketball.

Darrian Demetriouse: Was born August 2nd 2001. Just very quiet until he would start playing video games, he would get so excited he would be bouncing around and Crystal would always ask him if he needed to use the restroom.

Cyrus Vincent: Was born March 3rd 2003. Very sweet and cuddly and looks like a little man. Loved to tease Randy and his Gramps and then run and flop his feet up on Grandma to rub.

In closing we want you to know how strong this family was, the many surgeries they had to overcome made them stronger. Most people would only wish to have their strength. Randy, Crystal, Sebastion, Darrian, and Cyrus passed away as they lived, together.
