She married Michael Kunkel Aft. 1804 in Fawn Twp, York Co, Pennsylvania, son of Johann Kunkel and Elisabeth Klinefelter. He was born 12 Feb 1784 in Springfield, York Co, Pennsylvania, and died 07 Aug 1846 in Jackson Twp, Crawford Co, Ohio.

Notes for Michael Kunkel:

The Birth and Baptismal Records of Shuster's Union Church indicate that the sponsors of Michael were his aunt and uncle, Michael and Justina Kunkel. The 1810 Census Index lists a Michael Kunkle living in Hopewell Township of York County. It shows both he and his wife's age as between 26 and 45, and two sons under the age of ten. This would indicate that he and Elizabeth had two sons in addition to Henry, who was not born until 1814. (M252, roll 57, p.170).

York County Deed Book 3B, page 435 shows that on 28 February 1817, Michael Kunkle of Hopewell Township and his wife Katharine sold to Peter Sentz for $3,000 a tract of 167 acres and 94 perches in Hopewell Township. It was the same tract purchased 24 March 1810 from Conrad Miller. Deed Book 3F, page 146, shows that on 6 April 1821, Michael Kunkel of Shrewsbury Township and wife Catharine granted to Peter Ehrman in trust for the grantor's minor issue Michael, Elizabeth and Samuel: (a) 10 acres 32 perches, (b) 10 acres 73 perches and (c) 1 acre 5 perches, all in York Township, sold to Michael and Catharine on 16 February 1821 by the estate of Michael Riley.

Michael Kunkle moved to Richland County, Ohio, in about 1825; perhaps earlier as he is not listed in the 1820 Pennsylvania Census Index. There he purchased a tract of unimproved land and through his efforts and well directed energies the same was soon transformed into a splendid piece of real estate.

A York County, Pennsylvania deed (Deed Book 3K, page 154) notes that Michael Kunkel of Richland County, Ohio, legatee of Henry Kunkel, executed a release to the decedent's executors. Later, on 22 October 1832 (Deed Book 3N, page 105), Michael Kunkle of Richland County, Ohio, executed a power of attorney to George Heise to collect sums due from the estate of Michael Klinefelter.

His death occurred in Crawford County in 1846, when he was past 70 years of age. His personal property was valued at $97.47 by an inventory performed on December 30, 1846. His most valuable possession was "one black mare" inventoried at $35. Next were a cow and a bureau at $6 each. A gaggle of geese was itemized at ten cents each. His estate was recorded and filed on June 22, 1847 and listed him as late of Jackson Township, Crawford County, Ohio. Grain and meat valued at $60.32 was let off for the support of Cathrine Kunkle, his widow, and Polly Dianah and Rebeca, his minor children.

Michael and Cathrine Kunkle were active members of the Lutheran Church and their lives were ever in harmony with the faith which they thus professed. Although the place of his burial has yet to be found, since his will listed him as from Jackson Township, it would appear that he must have been interred somewhere in that area. Jackson Township, Crawford County, borders Richland County. Thus the cemetery may be somewhere in the vicinity of Crestline, Ohio.

Stabley's Church

Winterstown class is the oldest class in the county. Stabley's or Zion Church is the first church that our people built in the county. Before the church was erected here our people worshiped in private houses, at Adam Stabley's, who lived a few hundred yards west of where the church stands; also at John Smiegh's, and at the Grimms'. The church was built in 1843 on Adam Stabley's land, principally by Mr. Stabley himself and his neighbors. After the church was completed the following brethren were elected trustees of the church October 23, 1843: Frederick Grove, Levi Neff and Charles Neff. At this conference it was decided to name it "Zion Church." The lot, containing 107 perches, with the church upon it, was then bought by these trustees June 1, 1844, for the sum of $2.00. The church was a frame building and was dedicated to God by Rev. John Russell, presiding elder.

During the summer of 1881 this church was torn down and a new one was built in its place under the pastorate of Rev. G. W. Lightner. The pastor drew the plans for the new building and superintended its erection. It was built of the best material and has a slate roof. It was dedicated to God September 11, 1881, by Rev. D. D. DeLong, D.D., President of Lebanon Valley College, assisted by Rev. C. T. Stearn, D.D., and Rev. E. Light. During the year 1895, the church was thoroughly repaired, repainted inside and outside, furnished with new carpet, lamps and pulpit. A tower seventy feet high was also built to its front, and a good bell was placed upon it, all at a cost of $600. Rev. J. W. Grimm was the pastor then. The church was reopened November 10, 1895, by Rev. C. A. Burtner, Ph.D., presiding elder, assisted by the pastor.

A small log parsonage was also built by the side of the church about the year 1850. It was very small and had a very low ceiling, so low that when one of the preachers moved into it he had to saw a part of the legs of his bedsteads off to enable him to set them up. It was torn down some years ago, and the pastors of the charge now live in Red Lion.

Many of the fathers of this church have gone to their long home and their remains lie buried in the adjoining graveyard, but their descendants are still with us and are filled with the same zeal and piety that made their fathers the heroes of their day. No one man among them all, however, stands forth so prominently as does Rev. Frederick Flinchbaugh, whose long and useful life merits more than a mere allusion. He worshiped at the Union Lutheran and German Reformed Church, located several miles east of Zion Church, and was a member of one of these congregations. He led the singing in this church for many years, and all who knew him called him a Christian, as Christians were rated in the neighborhood. Nor was he of a different opinion. He did try hard to be good. He enjoyed the confidence of his preacher and of his fellow church-members, as his life among them was above reproach.

But something happened and the Spirit of the Lord arrested him in his career. It was the custom in the community to have corn-husking parties, after the corn had been gathered in from the fields. On such occasions the neighbors were usually invited to spend an evening at the husking, and after a certain amount of work had been done, a great supper would be ready, when all the huskers would be invited to partake before leaving for their homes. To such a husking Mr. Flinchbaugh went. He failed to get to the first table. While waiting for his turn a party in an adjoining room were making merry with a violin. He listened for a while, but he became uneasy, and moved by some impulse that seemed almost irresistible, he left and went home. He could not sleep that night. The music of that "fiddle" and the merry-making noises of the people were in his ears all night. He arose in the morning with a feeling of sadness. And yet he could hardly tell why he was depressed. He had often been present before when such music and enjoyments were had. An arrow had pierced his heart, and he knew it not as of the Lord. Soon after this a violent disease broke out in his family, and in a short time carried two of his children to the grave. He now became greatly concerned for the salvation of his soul. For many years he had been "fore-singer" (leader of song) in his church, was a member of it in good standing, but he had great unrest within. How to find rest he knew not, nor was there any one in all the neighborhood, not even his pastor, who could give him the proper counsel at this time. He earnestly sought God in prayer for direction and deliverance. After a long struggle he was led into the glorious liberty of the people of God. His conversion was clear and powerful. This was so new in his community, and to him so satisfying, that he felt a strong motive within him to tell his neighbors and friends about it. When by himself working in the fields he would tell the story of his salvation to imaginary audiences. Thus the spirit of God was gradually leading him into the Christian ministry. He began his work with the holding of prayer-meetings, where he took the liberty to read a portion of scripture and give an exhortation. Invitations for such services in the houses of his neighbors showed that his work was taking effect. His heart-stirring words on these occasions revealed the nature of the pent-up fires in his own heart. Having gained confidence in himself and God, he gave the gospel trumpet no uncertain sound. He knew everybody in the community. The evil ways and the godless lives of the people were no secret to him. He laid bare their wickedness, held up their sins before their eyes and exhorted them with all tenderness of heart and often with his eyes streaming with tears, to repent and turn to Christ for salvation.

"Truth from his lips prevailed with double sway,
And fools who came to scoff, remained to pray."

The results of these earnest and faithful efforts were soon apparent. The Haneys, the Strayers, the Stableys, the Smieghs, the Grimms, and many others were converted to God, and identified themselves with the revival movement.

These prayer-meetings, which were an unexpected innovation on the settled methods of the neighborhood, were held from house to house, and the walking of a distance of from two to six miles to these gatherings was a matter only to be lightly considered. "Brother Flinchbaugh, taking his perforated lantern, with a stub of tallow-candle, would call everybody old and strong enough, to him, and then through woods, underbrush, over rocks and hills, would lead them to prayer-meeting, regardless of the toil in the summer or the cold of the winter. Such devotion cannot fail to win. These meetings were attended with about the usual outward demonstrations of shoutings, clapping of hands and leaping for joy. Such a departure from the regular methods of worship as conducted in the church had the double effect of drawing the people to see and hear, as also of stirring up opposition." The leaven of revival by this time pretty thoroughly permeated the community, so that many were not slow to express a preference for the meetings held after this fashion than for the services in the church. This gave rise to warm discussion among the several adherents. During all this time Brother Flinchbaugh was still the leader of the singing in the church, in which he had worshiped from his youth. His revival services, in common with all reform movements, awakened active opposition. But he was one who could meet his neighbors in friendly discussion and prove by scripture that his views and practices harmonized with the Word of God. Being defeated in argument by the superior wisdom of Brother Flinchbaugh, they finally prevailed on the preacher to take the controversy into the pulpit, and silence these troublesome people. "Accordingly on a Sabbath morning, after the introductory services, the pastor arose and announced that in all probability he would preach longer this morning than usual, but they should have patience and hear him, as he had a special subject to bring before the congregation. He at once entered into the subject and began to denounce all revival effort, and especially the noise and shouting that was tolerated in such meetings. While he was striking out with vehemence Brother Flinchbaugh arose, and with his trumpet voice said to the preacher, 'El der Heiland gebiet es jo (why, the Lord commanded it so)' The preacher seemed confused, stammered out a few words, and abruptly closed the services. The unusually long sermon ended in about ten or fifteen minutes."

About this time it became apparent that to maintain their spiritual life they must sever their connection with the church of their early choice and identify themselves with such as encourage a change of heart and life. This was done about the year 1829, shortly after the first class in the county was organized, with which they became identified. What Rev. John Haney was to the Winterstown Church Rev. F. Flinchbaugh was to Stabley's Church, especially in their early history.

Soon after Brother Flinchbaugh had connected himself with our church, the annual conference gave him license to preach. He traveled a few years as an itinerant, but served mostly in a local relation with great efficiency. It was no unusual thing for him to walk ten miles on a Sunday morning, preach and then walk home again. "And there were giants in those days," and Brother Flinchbaugh was one of them. His most enduring monument is erected in the hearts of a large number of grateful people, who under God owe their conversion directly or indirectly to him. Many of his descendants are still battling for the same religion and the same church. He died January 14, 1866, at a ripe and honored old age. His wife, Mary, died January 20, 1866. His memory is a precious legacy to the church he loved so well. Longfellow has well said:

"When a great man dies.
For years beyond our ken,
The life he leaves behind him
Lies upon the paths of men."

And so Rev. F. Flinchbaugh has not been forgotten. The life he lived so long and well will continue to lie "upon the paths of men," brightening their way to the kingdom of heaven.

Notes for Charles William Dotterer:

Harper, Kansas, August 20, 1914 - Harper people were shocked yesterday August 19, 1914 when the news reached town that Charles Dotterer had been run into and killed by the south bound Orient passenger train at a crossing one mile north east of town. Mr. Dotterer had been in the country and was returning home He was driving a team hitched to a low wheeled wagon. The accident occurred at the crossing west of Dan Billig's farm. At this point a clear sight of the track can be had for nearly a mile both ways and no one knows how the train happened to hit him. The team had crossed the track and the engine evidently hit the wagon squarely. Mr. Dotterer was thrown several feet and death resulted instantly from a deep hole in the right side of his head. It was the only mark on him. The wagon was completely demolished but the horses were unhurt.

The train crew brought the body to the Orient depot and the county officials were at once summoned. Judge Rowell held an inquest but it is not completed as he wishes to give the engineer and fireman a hearing and this cannot be done until this evening. Mr. Dotterer was hard of hearing and it is believed that he did not hear the warning of the whistle or see the train until it hit him. His death is a particularly, sad one, and doubly so as only two years ago his wife was killed by being thrown from a buggy when the horse, she and her husband were driving became frightened. Mr. Dotterer was nearing seventy years of age. He was born in Germany and came to this country when only six years of age. He has been a resident of Harper county for the past twenty-six years.

Harper people were shocked yesterday when the news reached town that Charles Dotterer had been run into and killed by the south bound Orient passenger train at a crossing one mile north east of town. Mr. Dotterer had been in the country and was returning home. He was driving a team hitched to a low wheeled wagon. The accident occurred at the crossing west of Dan Billig's farm. At this point a clear sight of the track can be had for nearly a mile both ways and no one knows how the train happened to hit him. The team crossed the track and the engine evidently hit the wagon squarely. Mr. Dotterer was thrown several feet and death resulted from a deep hole in the right side of his head. It was completely demolished but the horses were unhurt.

The train crew brought the body to the Orient depot and the county officials were at once summoned. Harper, Kansas, September 12, 1914 - Charles R. Dotterer was born in Ohio over 43 years ago. In 1882 he with his parents moved to Rice Co., Kansas where they lived until 1889 when they came to this county and settled on a farm north west of town in Grant Township. Here he grew to manhood and remained until a little over two years ago, when he went to Holly, Colorado which place was his home for the remainder of his life. Not long after taking up his residence in Colorado he became troubled with a mental affliction that gradually clouded his mind. Medical skill of the highest order was consulted but to no avail. At last it became necessary to remove him to a Sanitarium at Pueblo, Colorado, where he lingered on till Sunday, September 8, 1918, when death came.

The remains were sent to this place, and arrived on Tuesday, September 10. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church at his place where a large number of friends and relatives gathered to pay the last tribute to the dead. Rev. Von Schrittz delivered a short discourse upon the character of the deceased and spoke of the Christian life with its hopes of life eternal and he solace given to those who mourn that loved ones departed shall be met over yonder. Beautiful (and suitable music was rendered by the choir. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was made in the I. O. O. F. cemetery here.

He married Miss Roberts in 1904 to this union were born one child, a daughter. Both of them survive him. He also left four brothers, Daniel and Edward of Burlington, Oklahoma, Andrew of Stafford, Kansas and Theophilus of this place, and five sisters, Mrs. F. A. Maninger, Mrs. L. D. Renollet and Mrs. Ernest Bear of this place and Mrs. Joseph Smith and Miss Bertha Dotterer of Goodwell, Oklahoma. All were present at the funeral.

A few years ago he was converted and ever afterwards lived the consistent Christian life. By the death Charles Dotterer there has been removed a good father, husband and neighbor. He was quiet, unobtrusive, very sincere in his friendship, and very honest. There are many here who will mourn his departure and cherish a recollection of him and his sterling qualities.

Notes for Henry Kunkel:

Oregon, Missouri, Feb. 7, 1873 - Henry Kunkel, the discoverer and owner of the great Artesian Mineral Well, near Mound City, was in town some days this week. His well is still sending forth immense volumes of valuable water that flow into Davis Creek and the Little Tarkio River. Many persons afflicted with various complaints, have been attracted to this well by its wonderful medicinal properties, and have become well in a short time. Mr. Kunkel wants to dispose of his farm and well to some parties who will build up and establish a watering-place at that point. The well was visited recently by a German chemist, who pronounces its waters fully as valuable for medical purposes, as those of the healing wells at Ems, in Germany, a place so often frequented by the Emperors and Kings of Europe. Anyone having some capital can make a fortune by purchasing Mr. Kunkel's property and fitting up the place for entertaining guests, the same as is now done at Saratoga, New York, and other points of note.

Daniel Kunkel, born May 1, 1815 in York County, Pennsylvania. At age ten, moved to Richland (now Morrow) County, Ohio. He chopped wood and rolled logs; by age 21 had earned 80 acres of land. At age 21, married Veronica Neeler. Came to Missouri in 1847 and settled one mile east of Oregon. He made 50 wheat cradles and other similar articles his first season. Started building a mill and had it in operation in 1849. Put up a woolen mill in 1861. He invented and patented several items of tools and "two different improvements on washing machines. His washing machine has taken the premium at every fair (exhibit), including the highest award at the great Centennial exhibition, at Philadelphia, and is doubtless the best thing of the kind ever invented." Wife died September 1853. Married Elizabeth Hener of Holt Co, Missouri August 16, 1856. Had 6 children by each marriage. He has always been a strong Republican.

Washing Machine. No. 319,589. Patented June 9, 1885.

Daniel Kunkel, Sr., of Oregon, Missouri.

Washing-Machine. Specification forming part of Letters Patent No. 319,589, dated June 9, 1885.

Application filed May 13, 1884. (No model.)

To All whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, Daniel Kunkel, Sr., a citizen of the United States, residing at Oregon, in the county of Holt and State of Missouri, have invented a new and useful Washing-Machine, of which the following is a specification, reference being had to the accompanying drawings. This invention has relation to rocker washing-machines; and it consists in the construction and novel arrangement of parts, as will be hereinafter fully described, and particularly pointed out in the claims.

Figure 1 is a View in perspective of a washing-machine embodying my improvements in the position to be rocked to effect the operation of washing. Fig. 2 is a vertical longitudinal section on the line main Fig. 1. Fig. 3 is a side elevation taken from the side provided with the adjustable steadying-legs, and Fig. 4 is a bottom plan View of the machine. Referring by letter to the accompanying drawings, A designates the suds-box, which has vertical sides and ends B and G, and a flat zinc-lined bottom, D, provided at its middle with a stationary corrugated rubber, E. The top of the suds-box A is closed, and is provided at its middle portion with a removable lid, F, held in place at one end by a crossbar, G, and at the other end by a button, H. The cross-bar G also serves for attaching the wringer to the machine when wringing out the clothes, the suds-box serving as the tub.

The suds-box A is mounted on rockers I I, and is provided with handles K K, by which to impart the rocking motion to it. The rockers and suds-box are connected by vertical cleats L L on one side of their faces, and vertical cleats M M N N on their other faces. The cleats M N are arranged in pairs to form guides for the perforated and notched vertically-adjustable legs O O. The legs O O are kept in their respective grooves O O by cross strips P, secured to the outer faces of cleats M N. Screws Q Q, in the notches Q6) of the legs O O limit the vertical adjustment of the legs O O in their grooves, and pins R, passed through perforations R near their upper ends, hold the legs to either their projected or retracted adjustments, as may be desired. When the legs are retracted, the machine may be rocked; but when they are projected from their grooves or guides below the rockers the machine is held steady, as when wringing the clothes, or when for any reason it is desired that the machine should remain stationary.

To the outer face of the rocker, opposite the legs OO, is secured a spring-bar, S, which is intended to prevent the machine from rocking over on end, and to break the swing of the same. Between the rockers I I and pivoted on a shaft, I, having its bearings in said rockers, are two hangers or arms, T T, the lower ends of which form the bearings for a shaft, U, which forms the axle on which two small wheels, V V, revolve when they are let down in contact with the floor. Between these wheels V V is an arm fl V, pivoted to the shaft U and bifurcated at its other end and pivoted to the lower end of a lever, X, fulcrumed on a shaft, Y, in bearings Z Z on one end of the suds box. The lever X may be locked either against the end of the suds-box or away from it by a locking-rod, Z, passed through lateral perforations in the bearings Z Z near their upper ends. When the upper end of the lever X is locked in against the end of the suds box, the wheels V V will be up off the floor. When locked in the position away from the end of the suds-box, by inserting the locking bar Z between the suds-box and the upper end of the lever X the wheels will be on the floor and the machine may be rolled from the room.

In operation the goods are thrown from end to end of the machine over the rubber and through the water, thereby forcing the water contained in the suds-box through the goods and removing all of the dirt from the clothes. This machine is simple in construction, is easily operated, and is thoroughly effective in operation. Having thus fully described my invention, what I claim as new, and desire to secure by Letters Patent of the United States, is

1. The combination of the suds-box mounted on rockers, and having the corrugated rubber in its bottom, the spring-bar attached thereto, the handles, and the vertically-adjustable legs working in guides at one side of the machine, substantially as described.

2. The combination, with the sudsbox A, 1o perforations R, substantially as specified. I mounted on rockers I I, of the vertically-ad- In testimony that I claim the foregoing as justable legs working in guides at one side of my own I have hereto affixed my signature in the machine, substantially as specified. presence of two witnesses.

3. The combination, with the suds-box and rockers, provided with cleats M N, arranged in pairs on one side of the machine, the crossstrips 1?, and screws QQ, of the legs O O, having notches Q Q and perforations 1%, working between the cleats M N, and the pins R for the DANIEL KUNKEL, SR.

Notes for Caroline Strouse:

Oregon, Missouri – Caroline Strouse-Kunkel was born in Seneca County, New York, October 12, 1826. In 1837 she moved with her parents to Seneca County, Ohio, where she was married to Noah Kunkel, November 13, 1844. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Holt County, Missouri, where they lived until June, 1867, at which time they settled on a homestead in Republic County, Kansas, where they resided until 1886, when they moved to their property in Wayne, Kansas. Mrs. Kunkel was converted when 16 years old: joined the Evangelical church at 20 years of age, and remained a faithful worker in church, missionary and temperance work until her health failed her in December, 1894. She departed this life November 7, 1896, at 12:45 o'clock at the age of 70 years and 25 days, entering upon her long desired and looked for eternal rest.

Her funeral sermon was preached by Rev. E. A. Bruner in the Evangelical church in Wayne, Kansas, from Second Corinthians, 5th Chapter, 1st verse. A large concourse of friends accompanied her remains to the Wayne cemetery where she was laid away. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn the loss of a faithful wife and kind mother.

Notes for Jordan Marbourg:

Alleged Infidelity of a Wife - Summary Vengeance by the Husband 1864, Cambria, Pennsylvania

On Friday morning a week, a shocking tragedy occurred in Johnstown, Cambria County, Pennsylvania, in which two old and influential citizens were the participants. The particulars, as given in the Pittsburg papers, are as follows:

Mr. Joseph Moore, an auctioneer, of Johnstown, on her recent return from nine months service in the army, ascertained that his domestic happiness had been destroyed, it is alleged by Mr. Jordan Marbourg, a wealthy merchant of the town.

On hearing of the intimacy said to exist during his absence between Marbourg and Mrs. Moore, who is represented as prepossessing in appearance and of a dashing disposition, Moore called upon the former, and after an explanation, told him he would shoot him. Mrs. Marbourg, hearing of Moore's threats, appealed to him not to take her husband's life, but the outraged husband would not listen to her.

On Friday morning, Moore arose early, and, leaving his house, visited a grocery store near the postoffice, where he remained between eight and nine o'clock, when Marbourg passed by Moore started out immediately and caught Marbourg by the collar, saying "Get down on your knees, I am going to kill you. My wife made a "clean breath of it last night. She told me all, and gave me a portion of the money which you paid her." Saying this, he drew a revolver and fired - the first shot taking effect in the region of the heart.

Marbourg fell forward, and Moore discharged two balls into his head, and then fired a fourth which took effect in the left arm. Marbourg fell over and almost instantly expired. Moore walked to a magistrate's office, surrendered himself, and was committed to jail to await the action of the authorities.

The deceased man leaves a most estimable wife and eight or nine children - the eldest, a son, about twenty years of age. The murderer has a wife and one child. He was personally popular with all classes, a perfect gentleman in his dress and manner, and was not without influence in the community. The deceased was a prominent citizen, a merchant of Johnstown for thirty years, and had accumulated a large fortune. Both of them were members of a church.

Mrs. Moore, has already been remarked, is a woman not wanting in personal charms. Of late years, her husband, although attentive to business, has not been pecuniarily a well-doer, and it may be the desire for more than her husband could furnish her, coupled with the charms alluded to, has been the cause of her fall, if, fallen she has. Mrs. Marbourg, who is a most accomplished woman, is a native of

INDICTMENT for murder. P. S. Noon, District Attorney, E. B. Foster, James Potts, and A. Kopelin, for the Commonwealth. John Scott, B. G. Childs, C. L. Pershing, B. McLaughlin, and R. L. Johnston, for the prisoner.

The facts are sufficiently detailed in the charge to the jury by TAYLOR, P. J.—Joseph Moore, the prisoner at the bar, is charged in the indictment which you have been sworn to try, with the murder of Jordon Marbourg. The case requires of this court, and of you, gentlemen of the jury, the discharge of the most solemn and responsible duty ever cast upon a court and jury. The life of this unfortunate prisoner, on the one hand, and, on the other, the maintenance of the law made and ordained to shield and protect life, are committed to us; and the discharge of our respective duties to the one and to the other, is required of us alike, according to our best judgment, under the solemn sanction of an oath. It is our duty to state to you the law, and to indicate the questions for your decision which arise in its application. It is your duty to apply the law, as you receive it from the court, to the facts in evidence, as you have received them from the witnesses, and heard them discussed by counsel, and so make up your verdict. We have written and pondered every word we have to say to you; and it is our earnest prayer that you may be guided to conclusions which will discharge the solemn obligations of the oath taken by you all when you entered that box, and result in "a true deliverance between the Commonwealth and the prisoner."

Murder, as defined by the common law, is committed, "when a person of sound memory and discretion, unlawfully killeth any reasonable creature in being, and in the peace of the Commonwealth, with malice prepense or aforethought, either express or implied." "A person of sound memory and discretion" is one who has sufficient knowledge to know and understand the nature of the act, and that it is a violation of his moral and social duty, and will subject him to punishment. But everyone is presumed by the law to be sane, and to possess this measure of understanding, and he is responsible for his acts, unless this presumption be overcome by facts and circumstances disclosed in the proof of the principal fact, or shown by affirmative evidence in the defense. Malice, in its legal, as distinguished from the popular sense of the word, does not mean spite or malevolence against the deceased in particular, but that the fact has been attended with such circumstances as the ordinary symptoms of a wicked, depraved and malignant spirit; a heart regardless of social duty, and fatally bent on mischief. It is either express or implied. Express malice is when the killing is with a sedate, deliberate mind, with formed design manifested by external circumstances, such as previous threats or menaces, former grudges, and concerted schemes to do the party bodily harm. Implied or legal malice means that the fact has been attended with such circumstances as carry with them the plain indication of a malevolent spirit. The law implies malice in every deliberate cruel act committed by one person against another, however sudden. Every unlawful killing is therefore murder, unless it be shown to be a less offence, or no offence at all.

This is murder at common law, and this is murder in Pennsylvania. Our statutes furnish no new definition of the crime. What was murder at common law is still murder; but our statute, for the purpose of more just punishment, distinguishes between different acts of malicious homicide, and divides murder into murder of the first and murder of the second degree. It is in the language of Act of 22d of April, 1794, re-enacted in the Act of 31st March 1860, that "all murder which shall be perpetrated by means of poison, or lying in wait, or by any other kind of willful, deliberate and premeditated killing, or which shall be committed in the perpetration of, or attempt to perpetrate any arson, rape, robbery or burglary, shall be deemed murder in the first degree, and all other kinds of murder shall be deemed murder in the second degree; and the jury before whom any person indicted for murder shall be tried shall, if they find such person guilty thereof, ascertain in their verdict whether it be murder of the first or second degree."

The duty is imposed on the jury, when they find the prisoner guilty, of discriminating between the two degrees of murder, in the verdict. It is not difficult, usually, to recognize the murders . in the first degree, here specifically defined; but more difficulty has arisen in determining whether a particular murder is included in or described by "any other kind of willful, deliberate, and premeditated killing." This phraseology evidently means a degree of deliberation similar to that indicated in the defined cases of "murder perpetrated by means of poison or lying in wait; and from the case of Mulatto Bob, 4 Dallas 145, tried by Chief Justice McKean, soon after the passage of the Act of 1794, down to the present day, the uniform judicial construction has been, that whenever there plainly appears to have been a formed design, or a specific intent, however suddenly formed, to take life, it is murder of the first degree. When such design, or intent to kill, is not shown beyond a reasonable doubt, or when there is a reasonable doubt whether the murderer, when the mortal wound was inflicted, intended anything more than to do great bodily harm, it is murder in the second degree. The test inquiry is, did the prisoner, at the time, deliberately aim at life, and intend to kill?

A response to this inquiry must be given by the jury, from all the evidence. Such deliberation and design may be shown—and it is for the Commonwealth always to make it out beyond a reasonable doubt—by express evidence of such design, or by circumstances and conduct which necessarily imply it. It may be an irresistible inference from the weapon used, and the manner of its use. If, for example, he deliberately aim a loaded pistol at the head or breast of another, and discharge it; or if, with deliberate aim, he cleave the skull with an axe, it could not admit of a moment's doubt that he intended to kill. And if he had time to deliberate and form such design, though but for a minute, and did so, it is a "willful, deliberate, and premeditated killing," and murder of the first degree. This has been the uniform construction of our statute; and, with the report of the commissioners to revise the penal code before them, that they had made "no attempt to interfere with the law of murder as it has existed since the Act of 1794," for the reason that it had "been so thoroughly considered, and its construction and its meaning so entirely settled by a long course of judicial decisions," the legislature, in 1860, adopted, without the change of a word, the old statute.

A homicide, indicted as murder, may be reduced to manslaughter, by evidence which rebuts the presumption of malice; or to no offence at all, by evidence showing it to be justifiable or excusable.

Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of another without malice. It is a killing which usually happens in a sudden heat and quarrel, and upon sufficient provocation. The law, from tenderness to human infirmity, considers a homicide committed in passion, upon what it judges sufficient provocation, as committed without malice, and therefore, only manslaughter. Provocation, without passion, or passion without provocation, is not sufficient for the purpose. And provocation, such as will avail for the purpose, has a defined legal signification. No breach of a man's word, no trespass to his lands or goods, no insult by words, no matter how provoking or insulting they may be, will free a party killing from the guilt of murder. And this is especially true where the party killing upon such provocation, makes use of a deadly weapon. "This is most wisely settled," as Judge King remarks in The Commonwealth v. Green, 1 Ash. 297; "for dreadful would be the state of society in which the law would listen as an apology for taking human life, to such notions of insult or provocation as a licentious and ill-governed spirit would give rise to."

This is the law of homicide, so far as it is necessary to state it, at least at present, in this case; and we now turn to the evidence to which the law is to be applied. The testimony of the many witnesses proving the homicide, which is not denied, presents, as was properly remarked by one of the prisoner's counsel, no conflict, except that slight discrepancy in the statement of details which is always to be expected when several undertake to describe an exciting transaction. We learn from them, that on the morning of the 12th of February, about eight o'clock, the prisoner, who, as it appears by other evidence, had been informed by his niece, living with him, of a report in circulation about his wife and the deceased, the truth of which he had in the meantime been industriously engaged in investigating, was observed standing at Frazer's corner (in view of the house of Jordan Marbourg, the deceased, and the post-office, in Johnstown), looking one way, and the other, and noticeably excited. From there he walked to Mr. Wehn's store, and upon Mr. Wehn's invitation, went in and sat down, and remained there about half an hour. During that time, Mr. Wehn was reading or talking to him, though he appeared to pay no attention, but seemed to be steadily looking towards the street through the glass door. He then rose up and went out. Mr. Wehn, who had seen Marbourg, pass, followed to the door, and says that when he came to the door, he saw Marbourg coming out of the post-office, and saw the prisoner catch hold of his coat collar. About this time the noise attracted the attention of a number of other witnesses, who all give substantially the same account of the horrid occurrence which followed, with some discrepancy respecting the expressions used, the order and turn in which they were made, and perhaps, some other unimportant details. We gather from all their statements that the prisoner caught and held the deceased by the collar with his left hand, brandishing a pistol which he held in his right hand, over his head, and pushing him back against the building, and drawing him out from it, at one time striking him on the forehead a slight tap with the pistol. Before he took the pistol out of his pocket and afterward, he accused the deceased with having seduced his wife when he was in the army fighting for his country; with having ruined his family; that his wife had confessed all that morning; told him to get down on his knees and confess, or repent; said that he would be justified in shooting him, but hated to have his blood on his soul. His appearance is described as wild and excited, his manner violent and boisterous, and his language profane. During this time, the deceased made no resistance, seemed to be paralyzed, and in a subdued or low tone was denying the charge. At length, at some expression made by the deceased, the prisoner became more excited, let go his hold, stepped back, brought the pistol down to a level with the head of Marbourg, aimed, and fired the pistol. Five shots were fired all of which took effect, one of them, which lodged in the brain, being sufficient, as Dr. Lowman testifies, to have produced instant death. This altercation lasted about one and a-half or two minutes. The prisoner, after the shooting, put the pistol in his pocket, took off his hat and walked away some distance, talking aloud, and to no one in particular. Dr. Jackson said to him, "Joe, that's a terrible revenge;" he replied "he had ruined him and his family." To another, at the same time, he stated that he could not help it. Soon afterwards he went to the office of Irvin Rutledge, Esq., and said he had come to surrender himself into the hands of the law. This is an outline of the evidence as it describes the homicide. You have heard it all from the stand, and heard much of it read and frequently referred to in the argument. Your recollection will supply the various and varied expressions of the prisoner and the deceased during the altercation, and the language used by the witnesses in describing their appearance and manner. It will be remembered that Levi B. Cohick, testifies that on Saturday, the prisoner, when engaged in ferreting out the report, made the remark that if it was true, he could settle the matter between him and Marbourg in a very few minutes, and on Monday " he told me that if the report was true, he would shoot Marbourg in one or two minutes." Thompson Kimmell testifies that about the 6th of February the prisoner remarked to him that it was bad enough, and that if it was true, he could settle with Marbourg in a minute. He turned to Marbourg and said "if this report was true, he would kill him in two minutes—he would come Sickles over him." Captain Hite testifies that on Friday, 5th February, the prisoner, in a conversation with him, said ".if he found they were guilty—he was rather under the impression it was a slander upon his wife—but if he found Marbourg guilty, by the eternal God he would kill them dead in their tracks." The witness understood him to say in this connection, that if he found it to be a slander, or that they were guilty, he would kill either.

This simple statement of the undisputed facts, in view of the law as we have given it to you, gentlemen of the jury, discloses, beyond any room for reasonable doubt, if the prisoner was at the time responsible, a willful, deliberate, premeditated killing.

The defense, as stated in the opening argument for the prisoner, is two-fold:

"First, that the homicide was justifiable, under all the circumstances.

"Second, that the defendant was not a responsible agent."

1. Upon the first proposition here stated, it is surely unnecessary to dwell a minute. We are surprised, indeed, to hear it asserted or hinted even, here, whatever might be said elsewhere, that, if the prisoner was at the time a responsible agent, this is, or in any possible view of it could be, a justifiable homicide. Justifiable! There is no ground for a reasonable doubt that the prisoner acted at the time under the belief that the deceased had committed adultery with his wife; or that he had sufficient reason for that belief. Judging from his terrible earnestness when he uttered it, added to the evidence of the guilty intimacy which he had discovered, and of course involving her, it is no doubt true, as he said, that she had "confessed it." But if he had caught them in the very act, and instantly killed Marbourg, it will not be claimed surely, that our law would hold him guiltless. It would not have been justifiable homicide. That would have such a provocation as would have reduced the killing to manslaughter. That is all. But he would still be guilty of manslaughter. We are told that the Jewish law punished adultery with death; but that is not the law of Pennsylvania. This court, and you, gentlemen, have not been sworn to administer the municipal law of the Jews. Our law has not made adultery a capital offence; how could it justify the infliction of that penalty? Or, if that were the penalty, how could it justify any injured party in taking the law into his own hands; becoming the prosecutor, court, jury, and executioner, and in sending, without a trial, or an hour's warning, the accused culprit into the presence of his God? To come to such a state of things would, we submit, be "progressing" backwards. "There would be exceedingly wild work taking place in the world," Judge Park well remarks, "if every man were to be allowed to judge in his own case." If he may claim to do it in one case, why not in another? As a remedy, too (as the facts in this unfortunate case afford the most touching illustration), it is absurd almost to madness. Without any resulting good, without restoring anything lost, it gives one hundred-fold more publicity to the family disgrace under which he smarts, beside bringing upon himself the indelible stain of blood. And while, as a remedy for his wrongs, he brings these aggravated evils upon himself, by his lawless act. he inflicts the deepest injury upon others who are as innocent as himself of the crime he would punish, and as much injured by it. Mrs. Marbourg, as, with true Christian philosophy, she reminded the prisoner, was as much injured (since a woman must be allowed as keen sensibilities as a man) by the criminal conduct of his wife and her husband, as he was by the guilty conduct of her husband and his wife, and each one of her nine children was as innocent as his son, and yet his act visited her with the desolation of widowhood, and made her children orphans. There are persons, we know, who ignorantly and thoughtlessly, or wickedly, proclaim that the adulterer should be shot down, and who busy themselves in propagating that morbid and mischievous sentiment; but it requires very little discernment to see how much wiser the law is, than the reckless impulses of human passions.

We repeat, gentlemen, the homicide was not justifiable under all or any of the circumstances. Nor have we been able to arrive at the conclusion that the prisoner had legal provocation such as would extenuate it. We do not find the law to be so. Besides, to say nothing of the evidence of express malice, dating back a week, could it admit of a reasonable doubt that there was more than sufficient time for passion to cool? We turn, therefore, to the other ground of defense.

2. Was the prisoner, at the time of the homicide, a responsible agent? or, in other words, was he insane?

The just principle upon which this defense rests, is, that one whose perception of right is perverted or destroyed by mental malady, is not responsible for his actions, any more than an infant. The law imputes to them no guilt whatever; and, when such a state of mind at the time of the commission of an act sought to be punished as a crime, is shown to have existed, it is the duty of the jury to find the defendant not guilty. And by a recent statute of this Commonwealth, the Act of 31st March, 1860, known as "the revised Penal Code," it is enacted that "in every case in which it shall be given in evidence upon the trial of any person charged with any crime or misdemeanor, that such person was insane at the time of the commission of such offence, and shall be acquitted, the jury shall be required to find specially whether such person was insane at the time of the commission of such offence, and to declare whether he was acquitted by them on the ground of such insanity." This, as it is indicated in the statute, so that he shall be treated and provided for as his unhappy situation and the safety of the community in which it is thus ascertained to be unsafe to let him go at large, may require; and such, should the defense set up in this case prevail, will be your duty.

The law, gentlemen, which must govern your inquiries, and to which you must apply, and by which you must judge of and pass upon the facts relied upon to establish the defense of insanity, as declared by all the judges in England, in Mr. Naghten's Case, and by the English courts ever since, and by almost every American court, including the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and by the most able and eminent judges, among them Chief Justice Shaw of Massachusetts, and the late distinguished Chief Justice Gibson of Pennsylvania, and in the words which we have felt it to be our duty heretofore to state it to a jury in a capital case, is this?

"Every man is presumed to be sane, and to possess a sufficient degree of reason to be responsible for his crimes, until the contrary be proved to the satisfaction of the jury; and to establish a defense on the ground of insanity, it must be clearly proved, that at the time of committing the act, the party accused was laboring under such a defect of reason, from disease of the mind, as not to know the nature and quality of the act he was doing, or if he did know it, did not know that he was doing what was wrong." However others may speculate, it is the duty of a jury to bring the evidence to this test.

Upon this general subject, we state to you the law as applied to a case before the judges of our own Supreme Court (three of them present), in the language of Chief Justice Gibson:

"Insanity is mental or moral; the latter being sometimes called homicidal mania, and properly so. It is my purpose to deliver to you the law on this ground of defense, and not to press upon your consideration, at least to an unusual degree, the circumstances of the present case on which the law acts.

"A man may be mad upon all subjects; and then, though he may have glimmerings of reason, he is not a responsible agent. This is general insanity; but, if it is not so great in its extent or degree, as to blind him to the nature and extent of his moral duty, it is no defense to an accusation. It must be so great as entirely to destroy his perception of right and wrong; and it is not until that perception is thus destroyed that he ceases to be responsible. It must amount to delusion or hallucination, controlling his will, and making the commission of the act, in his apprehension, a duty of overruling necessity. The most apt illustration of the latter is, the perverted state of religious obligation which has caused men sometime to sacrifice their wives and children.

"Partial insanity is confined to a particular subject, the man being sane on every other. In that species of insanity, it is plain that he is a responsible agent, if he were not instigated by his madness to perpetrate the act. He continues to be a legitimate subject of punishment, although he may have been laboring under a moral obliquity of perception, as much as if he were laboring under an obliquity of vision. A man whose mind squints, unless impelled to crime by this very mental obliquity, is as much amenable to punishment as one whose eye squints. On this point there has been a mistake as melancholy as it is popular. It has been announced by learned doctors, that if a man has the least taint of insanity entering into his mental structure, it discharges him of all responsibility to the laws. To this monstrous error may be traced both the fecundity in homicides, which has dishonored this country, and the immunity which has attended them. The law is, that whether insanity be general or partial, the degree of it must be so great as to have controlled the will of its subject, and to have taken from him the freedom of moral action.

"But there is a moral or homicidal insanity, consisting of an irresistible inclination to kill, or to commit some other particular offence. There may be an unseen ligament pressing on the mind, drawing it to consequences which it sees but cannot avoid, and placing it under a coercion which, while its results are clearly perceived, is incapable of resistance. The doctrine which acknowledges this mania is dangerous in its relations, and can be recognized only in the clearest cases. It ought to be shown to have been habitual or at least to have shown itself in more than a single instance. It is seldom directed against a particular individual; but that it may be so is proved by the case of the young woman who was deluded by an irresistible impulse to kill her child, though aware of the heinous nature of the act. The frequency of this constitutional malady is fortunately small, and it is better to confine it within the strictest limits. If juries were to allow it as a general motive operating in cases of this character, its recognition would destroy social order as well as personal safety. To establish it as a justification in any particular case, it is necessary either to show by clear proof its contemporaneous existence evidenced by present circumstances, or the existence of a particular tendency developed in previous cases, becoming in itself a second nature."

We introduce here, and answer, the written points submitted by the prisoner's counsel:

1. "The court are requested to instruct the jury that if they believe that at the time of the killing the defendant was in such a state of mind as to be unable to apply the test of right and wrong to the particular case, he is not a responsible agent, and the verdict should be, not guilty."

This is the test or criterion, in passing upon evidence of the existence of insanity, in its common and usual forms, to a degree that will relieve from responsibility; and we answer the point in the affirmative.

2. "The court are requested to instruct the jury that if they believe the prisoner to have been governed by an uncontrollable impulse; his will no longer in subjection to his reason, owing to the excited and continued impetuosity of his thoughts, and the tumultuous and confused condition of his mind; that, goaded by a sense of grievous wrong, he was wrought to a phrensy bordering upon madness, which, for the time being, rendered him unable to control his actions or to direct his movements, their verdict should be not guilty."

We are at some loss to understand what is here meant. If the point is predicated of moral insanity, which is recognized in Mosler's Case, 4 Barr 264, and which we recognize, we affirm it. We recognize moral insanity, however, as they did, as of uncommon occurrence, and evidence of the existence and operation of which, since it cannot be tested by the general rule applicable to the common and usual forms of insanity, is to be received and passed upon in view of the cautions suggested in the case referred to. If the point means more or less than we have supposed, we refuse our assent.

You will inquire, then, gentlemen, whether the prisoner was laboring under moral insanity, and in doing so, you will remember the cautions suggested in the case read. The general test here fails, for in this mania, it seems, one may be drawn on to consequences which "he sees, but cannot avoid," and "be aware of the heinous nature of the act." There is little, in such case, to distinguish it from an ordinary criminal act. "To the eye of reason, every murderer is a madman." In the commission of every crime, the judgment and conscience are overborne for the time by temptation to evil, acting upon the wickedness of the heart and exciting the evil passions to overmastering strength; but to allow that to excuse, would be to make crime its own justification and evidence of its own innocence, and to strike at the foundation of all accountability. It is well said, therefore, that "the doctrine which acknowledges this mania is dangerous in its relations, and can be recognized only in the clearest cases." The evidence adduced to establish it should be subjected to the strictest scrutiny. "It ought to be shown to have been habitual, or at least to have shown itself in more than one instance." "To establish it as a justification in any particular case, it is necessary either to show by clear proofs its contemporaneous existence, evidenced by present circumstances, or the existence of a particular tendency developed in previous cases." Is there such proof here? Were the shots fired at the deceased without discrimination or without a motive? Had a tendency to such acts been developed in a single instance in the whole life of the prisoner before this act of homicide, or has it been since?

If the prisoner was not laboring under moral insanity, you will inquire whether, upon the evidence here, he was laboring under mental malady of any kind, so as not to know and understand the nature of the act he was doing, and that it was wrong and would subject him to punishment. And we propose to detain you but a short time longer, with a few observations upon the evidence in this part of the case.

It is claimed on the part of the prisoner that his appearance and conduct, on that occasion, explained and accounted for by other evidence heard in his behalf, evidenced insanity. The witnesses state that he was wild and excited in his appearance, violent in his gestures, his voice raised to a high and unnatural pitch and heard in a crying tone, and his expressions, some of the witnesses say, were incoherent. The witnesses themselves were of course more or less excited, and they use their own words to describe his conduct and to express their own impressions. Some express his manner and appearance as "excited" and "wild;" some of them say he was in "a phrensy." They testify that he swore profanely, and used also low and vulgar expressions.

The question here is, was this the incoherent raving and phrensied conduct of a maniac or one at the time insane, or was it the violence of one excited by passion and seeking revenge? Was it insanity, or was it anger? You will judge. Violent gestures, loud tones and excited looks are the natural expressions of anger, varying in degree with the temperament of the person and the intensity of his passion. Profanity seems also to be the natural language of angry passion. The witnesses say that his appearance was different from what they had ever noticed it; but none of them had ever seen him angry. Was his conduct natural or otherwise, supposing him to have been sane and to have sought out Marbourg and shot him down, in revenge for an injury? If, calm and unexcited, and as the witnesses had always before seen him, or with a smile on his face, instead of the fire of anger in his eye, he had met Marbourg and shot him down, without any assigned or known motive, and then turned around and walked calmly away, without manifesting any excitement or concern, what would have been the conclusion, that he was sane or insane?

It is claimed also that his appearance and conduct, on that occasion, wore in such striking contrast with his habits and character through his whole life, as to exhibit a complete transformation, which is only reasonably explained on the supposition that the sad calamity that had befallen him, the evidence of which he had confirmed that morning by the confession of his wife, acting upon an excitable temperament for a week, during which he had ate and slept but little, had dethroned his reason. And it is true that he has shown, by all the witnesses, not merely a good, but a very good, an excellent character. It has been shown, too, that he has long been a regular, punctual and an exemplary member of a church; an elder, occasionally officiating for the preacher in his absence; that no one had ever heard him use a profane or vulgar word, or any expression which might not have been used in any company. All this is entitled to your consideration, and to such weight as you think it deserves, in determining the question of his sanity. Is it probable, the inquiry naturally arises, that if his reason had not for the time been overthrown, he would have acted and talked in a manner so inconsistent with his whole previous life, and so contrary, apparently, to his very nature, as exhibited in the proof of his excellent character as a man and a Christian? And yet it is not to be forgotten that men of the most exalted personal and religious character have fallen into crime. David, who was a man after God's own heart, was guilty of adultery, and, to hide it, of murder. And we read that when the mob had taken his Divine Master before the high priest, "Peter sat without in the palace, and a damsel came unto him saying, thou also wast with Jesus; but he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest." He was accused by another, "and again he denied with an oath, saying, I know not the man." And "after a while they that stood by accosted him with the same accusation; then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man." He soon afterwards

"went out and wept bitterly." Peter 'was guilty of lying and profanity. It was conduct grossly inconsistent with his religious character; but it is not intimated that he was insane. The Saviour, "who knew what was in the heart of man," said to his followers, "watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation." And an apostle said, "let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." Such is human nature, that a good character is no certain guaranty that its possessor may not fall into sin, and but feeble evidence against clear proof of guilt. Still we commend this evidence to your consideration upon this question of insanity, and you will allow it all the weight you think it merits in the prisoner's behalf.

It has also been shown that one of the prisoner's brothers is insane, and has been a raving maniac for twenty-eight or thirty years; and that he has a sister, who, as some of the witnesses expressed it, is a weak-minded woman. She is married and has children, but, in the opinion of some of the witnesses, is not capable of giving proper attention to her children and her domestic affairs. This evidence was offered and received to show a hereditary taint. Insanity is, no doubt, a hereditary disease, which may appear and re-appear, overleaping sometimes a generation; and proof of its existence in a family is pertinent evidence on a question like this. The evidence here, however, going no further than we have stated, is very slight. It does not appear that his parents or any of his ancestors have been insane, or any of the family, except one brother. But, if such proof were made, the force of it would only be to show a liability, or a predisposition at most, to the disease. That is not the disease. If a hereditary taint were established, it might aid in solving the question, whether his unusual conduct is most reasonably ascribable to insanity or anger. You will judge whether this evidence sheds any light on the question.

We all remember, too, that the prisoner became suddenly ill here in this room on last Friday, and it has been shown that, after he was taken to the jail, he was laboring under delirium, and was, for a short time, phrensied and raving. He imagined there were persons there trying to injure him, and he wanted the sheriff sent for to protect him, when the sheriff was there, trying to calm him. He wanted to see his son, when his son was present. He fancied they wanted to shoot him, and that he saw blood on his breast. He continued in that state near half an hour, when he fell asleep and awoke rational. This was delirium, "resulting," as Dr. Bunn testifies, "from depression following high nervous excitement, and resembling mania a potu." During its continuance, there can be no doubt he would not have been responsible for any act done by him. But the question is not what was his condition on Friday, but on the 12th of February, when he shot Marbourg. The evidence has no other bearing on this question than as it may tend to show the existence of some predisposition to delirium or mania, under like circumstances, and from a similar cause, and of the same character. He had been under excitement a week before the homicide. This fact, with the evidence now under consideration, it is argued, explains and accounts for his conduct at that time. It is not made to appear, however, that he labored under any delusion then. He was dealing with a real character, and for a reason then given. To the excitement up to that time was added that of the terrible tragedy, of everything that has followed to him, and of this trial, and yet we do not learn that he had any mania or delirium during the intervening month. That mania, too, results from and follows excitement; while he was under high excitement at the time of the homicide. It is to be remarked, also, that in mania a potu, with which Dr. Bunn classes it, the patient is not fierce, but fearful; his delusion being apprehended danger to himself, which he is trying to escape; and so it was with him on Friday.

On the other hand, it is urged that the prisoner, during the whole of the week before the homicide, was ferreting out and trying to ascertain the truth of the reports concerning his wife and the deceased; going from one person to another, and from place to place, as he discovered some new source of information; comparing statements and noticing discrepancies, in his efforts to get at the truth, as counsel would prepare a cause; that, after having satisfied himself of the truth of the reports, he provided the loaded pistol and went to the vicinity of the post-office, where, as it is alleged, he expected to find the deceased; waited and watched, lying in wait for him in Wehn's store, as it is also alleged, till he passed; followed him to the post-office, and shot him down—what he declared a week before he would do, if he found the report to be true, and giving that reason for it at the time and afterwards. In all this, it is argued against the prisoner, he was following out and executing a deliberately formed and repeatedly declared purpose, reasoning at every step, and knowing and understanding what he was about. It is urged, also, that he afterwards went to the office of Irwin Rutledge, Esq., knowing where it was, and that he was a magistrate; stating to him that he had shot Marbourg, and had come to surrender himself into the hands of the law, expressing at the same time his belief that God would forgive him, and his willingness to be tried by a jury of his country. This, it is argued, all clearly shows that he knew at the time the nature and consequences of the deed, and knew and understood before what tribunal he was answerable for it.

You, gentlemen of the jury, will take into careful consideration the whole evidence, and determine the prisoner's responsibility. This is all we have to say to you.

If you find the prisoner guilty, you will state in your verdict the degree of his crime, or of what you find him guilty. If you find him not guilty on the ground of insanity, the only ground on which you can acquit him, it will be your duty to state that you find he was insane at the time of the commission of the act, and that you acquit him on that ground.

And now, gentlemen, we have discharged our duty. We have dealt faithfully with this case. We sit here, as you sit in that box, to discharge our duty, as you must discharge yours, under the solemn obligations of an oath. Having done so, according to our best judgment, no conscious self-reproach, which we should of all consequences most dread, will ever rise up within us to disturb us in the future. For other consequences, we are not responsible. It is not our province, nor yours, to make the law, but to administer it. It is not for us or for you to remit its penalties; the pardoning power is lodged in other hands. Whatever the result may be, to the prisoner or to the public; whether it be a result which will convict the prisoner, or acquit him; that will vindicate the law, or strike it down; whatever the result may be, we are acquitted at the bar of our own conscience.

The case, and the responsibility of its decision, are now with you.

Notes for Edmond S. (Edward) Marbourg:

Bedford, Pennsylvania - Last week our townsman, A. B. Egolf, received word of the death of Edward Marbourg of Elyria, Ohio, who died in that city at the home of his brother-in-law, H. J. Egolf, on Tuesday, February 2, 1915. Mr. Marbourg was formerly from Schellsburg, and was a brother of the late Dr. Frank Marbourg.

Elyria - Edward S. Marburg, agent for the Berkshire Life Insurance company, passed peacefully from this life, Tuesday afternoon Feb. 2, 1915, at his apartments on East Avenue, having been ill for the past few months, due to Bright's disease. The deceased was a native of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, until 20 years ago, the opening of the steel plant at Lorain, attracted many Johnstown people to this city. The deceased would have been 65 years of age had he lived until but the active life he led, combined with his simple manner of living, led one to believe him a much younger man than he really was. For many years, Marbourg, by hard work, enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most successful agents in the employment of the Berkshire Life company and he prized the success attained by him along that line.

His devotion to his niece, Miss Anna Egolf, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Egolf, of Middle Avenue, was remarkable in this, age and generation and served to bring out one of the chief characteristics of the deceased, who devoted the greater part of his life to make others happy. The deceased was one of the most respected members of the Masonic and B.P.O.E. lodges of this city and his departure from life of activity and social relations, will be regretted in fraternal circles as well as in the hearts his many personal friends. The funeral will be held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egolf, Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, the burial to be private.

Notes for Webster Lewis Stabler:

History of Washington: The Evergreen State, from Early Dawn to ..., Volume 2. By Julian Hawthorne. Page 627:

Webster L. Stabler, farmer and stockman on the Atahnam, near North Yakima, Washigan, was born in Pennsylvania in 1835, being the fourth child in a family of eight born to John and Catherine Stabler, both of whom were natives of the Keystone State. Young Stabler had the misfortune to lose his father when but eight years of age, and after receiving a common school education left home at fourteen, went to Illinois, and remained there until 1852, when he crossed the plains with a train of only four ox-teams. They had no trouble with the Indians, but counted no less than five hundred and twenty-two new-made graves beside the trail, victims of the cholera then scourging that whole section of country. After much difficulty they succeeded in crossing Green River, and reached Portland, Oregon, safely late in the year, having been eight months on the road. Mr. Stabler went to Yakima, returned to Clark County, Washington, thence to Puget Sound, tried the timber business, than stock-raising on the Columbia, and finally in 1870 settled down in Yakima County upon the farm of two hundred acres, which he owns and still continues to cultivate. Here he has a fine orchard, good buildings, garden, and all other agricultural conveniences, and raises blooded stock, both horses and cattle. He was married in 1882 to Miss Harriet Millican. They have two children, both boys. Mr. Stabler is a Republican.

An Illustrated History of Klickitat, Yakima and Kittitas Counties: With an outline of the Early History of the State of Washington; Interstate Publishing Company, 1904:

Webster L. Stabler - Among the early pioneers of Yakima County, Washington who have had a hand in the experiences of those primitive days as well as in the later developments and progress of this now populous county, the name of Webster L. Stabler should appear. Born in 1832 in the Keystone state, his parents moved with him at the age of five to the then wild western country of Illinois. Here he was reared amid the border scenes of that state until he had reached the age of twenty, acquiring his education in the log cabin schoolhouse and developing muscle and hardihood in the various duties required about the home. In 1852, when but twenty, he started from Morgan County, Illinois with ox teams to cross the wide expanse of prairie desert and mountains a path beset with dangers of floods and Indians on the one hand and privation and exposure on the other. He reached Portland his destination on October 8, 1852 at the end of a six months' journey, and, after wintering there he took a pre-emption claim in the spring, just across from Vancouver on the Oregon side of the line, where he engaged in farming and stock raising until 1864, when he went to the Salmon River mines in Idaho, where he mined and ran a pack-train into the Boise mines, in partnership with A. J. Bean. He later returned to his ranch near Vancouver and was married to Miss Melinda S. Hayden February 22, 1864. In 1868, he bought a bunch of cattle and drove them to Yakima County, taking up a claim in the Ahtanum valley and putting up hay for his stock. He then returned to his place in Oregon, leaving a man in charge of the new ranch. In the spring of 1869, he returned and filed on the land, which has never since changed hands nor had a mortgage on it. His wife died in Vancouver, Washington August 7, 1869, before he got his effects moved to his present home. Her father, Gay Hayden, was a native of New York and crossed the Plains to Oregon in 1850, settling near Vancouver.

In 1882 Mr. Stabler was united in marriage to Mrs. Harriet Millican: to which union were born two children: Gay, born September 17, 1883, and Lewis, August 17, 1887. Mr. Stabler is an active Republican and in 1890 was appointed Indian agent at Fort Simcoe, but resigned after holding the position for a year and a half preferring to attend to his ranch and stock rather than pose as an office holder. He owns a fine ranch of one hundred and sixty acres, and makes a specialty of breeding Shorthorn and Holstein cattle, of which he owns some fine specimens. Mr. Stabler is recognized as an enterprising public spirited citizen and a good neighbor.

Notes for Ida Catherine Snyder:

Ida Catherine Snyder 1873 1959. She lived at 35 Henrietta Street Red Lion, Pennsylvania. She and Uncle Aaron had no children and she lived alone during my time. My cousins and I loved to visit her. She always seemed to have sugar cakes on hand and had luxuries we didn't have at home. Like a furnace, bathroom and a refrigerator. She also drove an automobile which was unusual for her era. Had a row of tea roses in back yard. I think she and Uncle Aaron built the house. I inherited her photo albums. Virginia Beck

York, March 14, 2000 - Before the invention of the automobile, before tractors replaced horses in the fields, the Seitz family produced hames wooden curved supports that attach to the collar of a draft horse. The traveler or fanner would fasten the traces to the hames to pull a load. John Seitz started the business in the 1850s in a little village along the Susquehanna Trail just north of Shrewsbury that became known for the production of hames. Hence the village earned the name, Hametown. It is said that Seitz contributed to the war effort during the Civil War when the U.S. Army asked for 16,000 pairs of hames, according to the book "Made in York" and descendants of the Seitz family. He used an anvil and forge, a boring tool, some paint and brushes in manufacturing the white oak hames. He sold them under the name of Seitz Loudon Patent Hames. Seitz's son and grandson, both named Benjamin Franklin Seitz, continued the family business until the early 1930s when cars and tractors grew in use. The barn and hame factory disappeared over the years. Only the farmhouse where the hame-makers lived served as a reminder of the once-prosperous business. Now that piece of history will disappear this spring.

Shrewsbury Township, which has owned the Seitz house since the mid-1970s, plans to tear it down later this month. The house and land, which the township building and a park now sit on, had been donated to the township by a former owner. For years the township rented out the home to families. When the last one moved out last year, the supervisors needed to decide the fate of the home. The old house, which dates back to at least the late 1800s, needs repairs. The septic system on the property is failing, Supervisor Joyce Easton said. The supervisors had looked at a variety of options, including repairing the home or even moving it. But nothing seemed feasible. It would take too much money to put in it, she said.

The supervisors voted unanimously in January to dismantle the house. They are allowing Historic York Inc. to salvage old doors, a claw-foot bathtub, mantles, wainscoting and other old fixtures in the home. Those items will be sold through Historic York's architectural warehouse. The proceeds benefit the agency, said Bryan Mundy, warehouse manager. Steve Saubel, a descendant of the Seitz family, plans to contact the state about placing a historical marker on the property. "It's a lot of history there," he said. Saubel doesn't question the township's decision to tear down the house. He understands that it probably has been a burden on the township. His brother, Greg Saubel, is tearing down a log-front house just down the road in Hametown. The ceiling caved in on the old home and it, too, needed extensive repairs. So, he sold the old, interlocking log section of the home to a man who will be reassembling it for a house in Bel Air, Maryland.

Greg Saubel thinks the home may have dated back to at least the early 1800s. He found a 12-foot cave that apparently served as an underground cellar. There also was a 47-foot deep well on the property. Robert Shaub, a Railroad resident interested in local history, said it's a shame to see York County lose two more pieces of its heritage. I hate to see a lot of these places go by the wayside, he said.

- 1547 vi. Dr. Elizabeth Gable, born 20 Feb 1854 in York Co, Pennsylvania; died 07 May 1897 in Stewartstown, York Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Dr. Elizabeth Gable:

Dr. Elizabeth Gable died at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Gable, Stewartstown, yesterday May 7, 1897. After a lingering illness from consumption. The deceased, after having been educated in the Stewartstown academy, began her career as a teacher at the early age of fifteen. Her numerous friends in York will especially recall her as a faithful teacher of the Orphan's Home some years ago, which position she filled with much credit during a period of three years. About eleven years ago she began the study of medicine with Dr. J.D. Martin, of Stewartstown, and in the fall of 1887 matriculated in the Women's Medical College, in Philadelphia, from which institution she received her degree in medicine in 1890. After having undergone a successful competitive examination, she was appointed resident physician to Staten Island Hospital, New York. After serving her time of appointment at Staten Island, she was chosen physician at the Children's Hospital, at Palmer, Massachusetts, from which institution she resigned in 1894 and accepted the position as physician in chief of the female department in the Philadelphia Hospital, to which she was unanimously chosen three years ago. While rendering faithful hospital service to the inmates of the institution, Dr. Gable contracted that dread malady consumption, and was advised to relinquish her professional work and seek a needed rest and change away from the confines of the city. She came to York and for nearly two months, was the patient of her cousin, Dr. I.C. Gable, at his residence on South Beaver Street. She subsequently returned to her former home in Stewartstown, where death ended her protracted suffering, which she bore with Christian patience and great fortitude. Dr. Gable was the first female resident of this county upon whom was conferred the degree of M.D. She was a woman of more than ordinary talents and attainments, who was ever ready to relieve suffering, in whatever form it came under her observation, with the true spirit of loving kindness and Christian friendship.

- 1565 v. Amanda Brenneman, born 16 Oct 1862 in Hopewell Twp, York Co, Pennsylvania; died 22 Dec 1953 in Winterstown, York Co, Pennsylvania. She married John Wesley (Shaffer) Sheffer 22 Apr 1886 in York Co, Pennsylvania; born 22 Aug 1862 in Hopewell Twp, York Co, Pennsylvania; died 05 Dec 1929 in Red Lion, York Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Amanda Brenneman:

Two persons were asphyxiated and another was overcome, when coal gas filled their Red Lion RD 3 home, about a mile north of Winterstown, early yesterday morning Dec. 22, 1953. Dead are: Mrs. Amanda Brenneman Sheffer, 91, and her son-in-law, Emory Roy Shaffer, 59. The latter's wife, Lola, 58, was overcome by the fumes but is recuperating at home. Coroner Lester J. Sell listed the deaths as accidental.

Members of the family, quoting from the story told them by Mrs. Emory Shaffer, said the three were overcome as they were getting up yesterday morning. Shaffer arose about 6 a.m. but his wife remained in bed, saying she was "too sick" to get up. Members of the family said they have not determined whether Mrs. Shaffer was suffering from the effects of the gas at that time or was ill from a gall bladder condition, which she has. About 8 a.m., Mrs. Shaffer. noticed the light on in the hallway of the two-story brick house and managed to make her way down to the living room. There, she found her husband dead, sitting in a rocking chair, fully clothed except for his shoes. Mrs. Shaffer tried to reach a door but collapsed across her husband's feet.

Meanwhile, Charles Seitz, a neighbor living across the Red Lion-Stewartstown highway along which the Shaffer home is situated, came to the residence to deliver a Christmas present. Hearing some noises, believed to be Mrs. Shaffer struggling to reach the door in her semi-conscious state, when he knocked on the back door, Seitz went to get help. Seitz returned with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte Seitz. Mrs. Shaffer by that time had revived and crawled to the back door, opening it as the Seitzes arrived. They found the aged Mrs. Sheffer in her second-floor bedroom, fully dressed, "overcome by the gas. Dr. Grover Artman, Red Lion, and the resuscitator squad from Leo Fire company, Red Lion were called. Dr. Artman pronounced Shaffer dead. After the aged Mrs. Sheffer was revived by the resuscitator crew, she was taken to West Side Osteopathic hospital, York, in the Burg ambulance but died enroute. Mrs. Shaffer was treated at home by Dr. Artman and was reported yesterday as apparently having suffered no ill effects.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Sheffer were the only occupants of the house, located between Red Lion and Winterstown, just south of Pleasant. Hill park. Relatives said the house was heated by a hand-fired furnace, generally fired with anthracite coal. The front door of the furnace was found open and the cellar of the house was filled with gas, members of the family asserted. Seitz was quoted as saying that gas fumes were noticeable throughout the house when the tragedy was discovered. Mr. Shaffer was a supervisor for North Hopewell Township and was also employed as a fireman at the Red Lion Woodcraft plant. He was serving his fourth term as supervisor.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Lola (Sheffer) Shaffer, he leaves two sons, Arthur P. Shaffer, Red Lion RD 3, and Clair T. Shaffer, 234 East Lemon Street, Lancaster; a grandson, Larry A. Shaffer, Red Lion RD 3; a brother, Howard Shaffer, York, and a sister, Mrs. George Markey, also of York. He was a deacon of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Red Lion.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Saturday from the F. B. Olewiler Funeral home, 145 East Broadway, Red Lion, by his pastor. Rev. Alexander Bibighaus, assisted by Rev. M. B. Heiland. Rayville, Maryland, former pastor of the Red Lion United Brethren circuit. Interment will be in Zion EUB cemetery, near Red Lion.

Mrs. Sheffer, wife of the late John W. Sheffer, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joel Brenneman. She was a member of Lebanon Lutheran church, near Felton. Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Emory Shaffer, Red Lion RD 3; two grandsons, and a great-grandson.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning with brief rites at the Burg Funeral home, 134 West Broadway, Red Lion, at 10 a.m. Concluding obsequies will be held in Lebanon Lutheran church. Rev. Charles Lady, pastor of Felton Lutheran charge, and Rev. Alexander Bibighaus, will officiate. Interment will be in Lebanon Lutheran cemetery, near Felton.

Dallastown - Rev. John F. Stabley, retired Lutheran minister, died Saturday afternoon Sept. 24, 1949 at 4 o'clock at the home of his nephew, Purd E. Douglass, 62 West Main Street. Death was attributed to a heart condition and followed a short illness. He was 78 years old. Rev. Stabley was born in Felton, attended the old York County Academy, and was ordained in 1899 following graduation from Susquehanna University and seminary. He served near Johnstown, and Fisherville, Dauphin County, where he last served before retiring about 16 years ago due to a voice condition. He moved to Dallastown after his retirement.

Oct. 6, 1950 - A retired Lutheran minister, Rev. John F. Stabley, 78, who died about a year ago in Dallastown, left a $39,127.64 estate, all but $500 of which was left in public bequests to Lutheran organizations. Judge Harvey A. Gross, in Orphans' court, yesterday handed down an adjudication in the minister's estate which determines the amounts to be distributed through terms of Rev. Stabley's will.

Rev. Stabley, who had served in Lutheran churches in Fisherville and Johnstown, retired in 1933 to live in Dallastown. He lived there at the time of his death, Sept. 24, 1949. Judge Gross authorized $19,313.82, half the estate, to be distributed to the Board of Pensions and Relief of the United Lutheran Church of America. Other beneficiaries were as follows: $9,656.91, one-quarter of the total, to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Lutheran church and $4,828.46 each, or one-eighth of the estate each, to the Good Shepherd Home, Allen town, and the Board of American Missions of the Lutheran church. Rev. Stabley left $200 to his sister, Annie E. Livingston, and $300 to the Lebanon Lutheran Cemetery association, North Hopewell township, for maintenance of the burial plot of his parents. Judge Gross' adjudication becomes effective in 10 days unless exceptions are filed.

Notes for John Shenberger:

In 1949, John Shenberger, age 80, was still going strong in his blacksmith shop in Yoe, Pennsylvania. John did not, at first glance, appear to be the might man of Longfellow's poem, Village Blacksmith. He was slight of built, but his arm and shoulder muscles are more powerful than those of men half his age.

He was located in Yoe since 1902. His one room shop was well stocked with nails, rivets, various types of iron and machinery. His shop was heated by an old pot-bellied coal stove.

In 1948, his business consisted of repairing farm equipment, tools, toys, household items, or anything made of iron. Cars have long replaced the horse as a means of transportation. He gave up shoeing horses in 1928 when a particularly nervous animal kicked him in the chest. It was four years before he completely recovered. He then sold all his horse shoes so he would not be asked to do any more of that kind of work. At 80, his hearing was still excellent and his sight was good. He had given up sharpening saws. He found it difficult to tell which of the saw's teeth had been filed and which ones had not.

Farmers used to gather at the blacksmith shop to exchange the news in bad weather or to pitch horse shoes when work was slack. The shop was no longer the clearing house for news and the gathering place for men.

John received his early education in the country schools near Winterstown and Peach Bottom. He learned his trade during a three year apprenticeship under his older brother, Adam. Another brother, Albert, was his partner for many years in the Yoe shop. John and Albert used to make all the iron work for six-horse farm wagons. He remembers the covered wagons and folks moving to the west. The canvas-topped Conestoga wagons were used in his youth to haul produce from York county farms to Baltimore. Each spring the farmers drove the wagons to Havre de Grace, Maryland. They would bring them back loaded with fish which they dried and stored for winter.

John never married. He has made his home with his brother, Adam. He lived a simple life. He preferred to eat vegetables over meats. He was a religious man, seldom missing a Sunday at church; but he did not have any strong denominational ties. He went to the closet church. His formula for his good health at an advanced age was simple. According to John, hard work, never drinking intoxicating beverages, smoking a cigar occasionally, and a little chewing tobacco never hurt anyone. He didn't think that never being married had anything to do with it. He appeared on the census of 1900 at Windsor Twp and in 1910 at Yoe, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Capt. George Washington Stabler:

William G. Cutler's History of the State of Kansas; Chicago, by A. T. Andreas in 1883, page 410:

G. W. Stabler, farmer and stock-raiser, Lancaster Township, Atchison County, Kansas, was one of the oldest settlers of this township; was born in Stablersville, Baltimore County, Maryland, in 1839, where his ancestors had lived for 200 years. In 1852, he moved to Ohio, where he remained until 1854, when he moved to Adams County, Illinois, where he learned the carpenter's trade. In the fall of 1858, he moved to Kansas, settling in Lancaster Township. In 1859-60, he worked in a quartz mill in Colorado. In the spring of 1861, returned to Kansas and enlisted as a private in Company D, Second Kansas Infantry, for 100 days; at the expiration of that time, he re-enlisted in the Second Kansas Cavalry, and was made Sergeant; was in the battles of Prairie Grove, Cane Hill, Van Buren and all the battles of his regiment. In June, 1863, he was commissioned First Lieutenant, and in 1865 was promoted to Captain of Company C, and was mustered out at Leavenworth in August, 1865, when he returned to his farm and has followed that pursuit ever since. The farm comprises 230 acres; 140 under cultivation.

He was married at Huron, September 21, 1865, to Mrs. Nancy Wilson, who died in October, 1878, leaving four children, Gale C., John P., James H. and Mark O. He was again married January 14, 1880, at Huron, Kansas, to Mrs. Anna Berger, of Nodaway County, Missouri. Capt. Stabler has always taken an active part in the politics, both in county and State issues. In 1870, he was census taker for the western part of Atchison County. In 1871-72, served as Deputy United States Marshall. In 1866, was elected to the Legislature, and served his constituents faithfully. He has been Justice of the Peace for the past twelve years. He is an active member of the Huron Lodge, No. 72, A., F. & A. M.

May 11, 1911 - Captain G. W. Stabler was stricken with paralysis Sunday afternoon May 7, 1911 and is in a serious condition. He was in his usual good health and spirits Sunday and had gone out to feed his chickens when the stroke came and Mrs. Stabler found him in the poultry yard unconscious. She called in some of the neighbors who carried him into the house and summoned medical assistance. His right side is paralyzed and he is unable to speak but appears to be conscious of everything. His children were called and some of them have already arrived. Captain Stabler is probably the best-known citizen of Huron and his affliction will be widely deplored.

Atchison, Kansas - Captain G. W. Stabler died at his home in Huron last night May 11, 1911, death following a stroke of paralysis. Had he lived until July 4, he would have been 70 years of age. He leaves a widow and five children as follows: Mrs. Roert Grimes, Good Intent; James Stabler, Coebin, Montana; M. C. Stabler, Fort Collins, Colorado; E. G. Stabler, Atchison; Mrs. G. E. Brooks, Branman, Oklahoma.

The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, the interment being in the old Huron cemetery. Captain Stabler was born in Stablerville, Maryland, July 4, 1841. He came to Kansas in 1857. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in Company D, Second Kansas Cavalry, and served until August 10, 1865, after having risen to the rank of captain and being assigned to Co. C, Veteran Battalion of Second regiment.

On his return he settled on a farm at Huron. He was a member of the slate legislature for twenty years and also served as a justice of the peace of Lancaster Township. He was the first mayor of Huron, being elected three successive terms. He was a member of the Atchison bar association, having been admitted several years ago. He was postmaster under the Harrison administration. Captain Stabler was for a number of years the Huron correspondent for The Champion. He was a man whose home record, war record and political record was stainless, a man universally esteemed and a man who will be missed in his home town and in the state.

Notes for John Henry Cline:

John Henry Cline educational advantages were somewhat limited, for he began helping his father, farming and lumbering, at an early age. After attaining his majority he "cropped" on his father's farm for five years, and then bought the Jacob Sides farm (later selling it to his son Harry A. Cline). Buying the Robinson gristmill in W. Wheatfield he also operated that for a time, and then bought 800 acres of timber land, embarking in the lumber business quite extensively in his own and surrounding townships. During this time he made his home wherever it was convenient, mostly in Burrell and W. Wheatfield Townships.

He has continued to deal in timber lands ever since, buying the land, cutting off the timber, and reselling, and has also dealt largely in other real estate, being notable shrewd buyer. He assisted in laying out the borough of Farrell, in Hickory Township, Mercer County, Pennsylvania, built many houses there and had his own home there for a while, but he preferred his native township. And in 1890 returned to W. Wheatfield Township, buying a farm of 135 acres where he resumed agricultural pursuits. He still manages the cultivation of that place in addition to looking after his real estate and timber interests. There are two rich veins of coal underlying the property. Mr. Cline is a self-made man, and all the success that has come to him is well deserved, for he has worked hard to make his ventures profitable, and all his advancement is due to his own efforts.

Indiana County, Pennsylvania, Her People, Past and Present" by Prof. J. T. Stewart:

John Henry Cline is one of the notable successful men of his section, engaged in farming, lumbering, milling, dealing, in timber land and general real estate transactions, and though he has now relinquished arduous labor he retains many important interests and continues his business activities.

Mr. Cline belongs to an old family of West Wheatfield Township, founded here almost a century ago by his grandfather, Samuel Cline, who was born in York County, Pennsylvania, where he passed the first part of his life, his family being born there. Moving to is now West Wheatfield Indiana County, Pennsylvania, he lived there among the pioneers for a number of years, later moving to Greenville, Ohio, where he died. His children were: Andrew, Henry, Samuel, and Kate, who married George Fulcomber and had children, George, Samuel, (who followed farming in West Wheatfield Township all his life) and John. Andrew Cline, son of Samuel, was born in 1806, in York County, Pennsylvania, and came to West Wheatfield Township with his parents in the year 1820. After working with his father for some time he rented a farm and began on his own account, this being the place owned by grandfather Sides. He was a tenant there until he bought the property, which consisted of over 238 acres, part of which he cleared and all of which he improved, in addition to general farming carrying on stock raising, making a specialty of hogs and fine horses. Mr. Cline was a man of good education, in both German and English, and he also had exceptional business ability, which, combined with his thrifty and industrious habits, brought him unusual success. His methodical management and intelligent care made his farm one of the best kept in the vicinity.

Mr. Cline married Elizabeth Sides, who was a daughter of Adam Sides, and four children were born to them: (1) Samuel, born May 18, 1830, died March 2, 1908, On September 27, 1860, he married Lydia Walbeck, who was born December 19, 1830, and died July 30, 1885. Their children were: Armenta Elizabeth, born July 16, 1861, married John Mabon; Anna Theresa, born September 27, 1862, married

Joseph M. Mack; Andrew Curtis, born March 29, 1865, died April 6, 1866; Sarah Matilda, born October 15, 1867, married Harry H. Mack, Nora Eveline, born March 29, 1870, married John F. St. Clair, of West Wheatfield Township, who is employed as pure food inspector by the State of Pennsylvania. (2) William died in infancy. (3) Anna, married Harry Penrose, of West Wheatfield Township, and their children are: Andrew, Mary, John, Elizabeth, Joseph, Lloyd, Albert, Emory, and Charles. (4) John Henry is mentioned below. The father of this family died May 30, 1876, the mother died in 1886. He was one of the founders of the German Lutheran Church in West Wheatfield Township, served that congregation as elder for many years and was always a liberal contributor to its support. He and his wife are buried in the Lutheran cemetery there. They were held in affectionate regards by all who know them.

John Henry Cline was born Juno 29, 1839, in West Wheatfield Township, and there attended the Lynn school. But his educational advantages were somewhat limited, for he began helping his father, farming and lumbering, at an early age. After attaining his majority he "cropped" on his father's farm for five years, and then bought the Jacob Sides farm of 173 acres (which he later sold to his son Harry A. Cline). Buying the Robinson gristmill in West Wheatfield he also operated that for a time, and then bought eight hundred acres of timber land, embarking in the lumber business quite extensively in his own and surrounding townships. During this time he made his home wherever it was convenient, mostly in Burrell and West Wheatfield Townships. He has continued to deal in timber lands ever since, buying the land, cutting off the timber, and reselling, and has also dealt largely in other real estate, being a notable shrewd buyer. He assisted in laying out the borough of Farrell, in Hickory Township, Mercer County, Pennsylvania, built many houses there and had his own home there for a while, but he preferred his native township. and in 1890 returned to West Wheatfield Township, buying a farm of 135 acres where he resumed agricultural pursuits. He still manages the cultivation of that place in addition to looking after his real estate and timber interests. There are two rich veins of coal underlying this property. Mr. Cline is a self-made man, and all the success that has come to him is well deserved, for he has worked hard to make his ventures profitable, and all his advancement is due to his own efforts.

On April 26, 1866, Cline was married to Evelin Livengood, who was born September 20, 1848, daughter of Henry and Mary Ann (Willits) Livengood, of Derry township, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, and they have had a family of twelve children, namely: (1) Clark, born February 7, 1868, now in the lumber business in West Wheatfield Township, married Myrtle Robinson and they have a son, Clark. (2) Harry A. is mentioned below. (3) Joseph Wilmer, born July 29, 1871, was killed with a shotgun November 4, 1907, in West Wheatfield Township, and his body was not found until five days afterward. He was in the lumber business and ran several sawmills, and having just sold his sawmill to his brother Harry had a large amount of money with him when murdered. His slayer, Emanuel Betz, was convicted and is now serving a twenty years' term. Mr. Cline was one of the well-known young business men of his section. (4) Annie, born May 9 1873, married Charles Rashon, an optician, of Johnstown, Pa., and has three children, Russell, Allen, and Hazel. (5) Frank, born August 9, 1875, is working at home on the farm. (6) Alice, born April 29, 1277, married Andrew J. Riddle, and died in 1899, and is buried in the Lutheran cemetery in West Wheatfield Township. (7) John, born March 28, 1879, died in 1898. (8) Garfield, born September 24 1880, now: residing in St. Clair Township, Westmoreland County, where he conducts a sawmill, married Sarah George. (9) Charles, born October 21, 1884, married Ida Pickles and resides at Bolivar, Westmoreland County, where he superintends the planning mill of his brother Harry A. Cline. (10) Daisy, born October 26, 1887, is at home. (11) Jessie Hazel, born March 3, 1892, married Robert Black and resides at Strangford, Indiana County. (12) George Homer, born October 31, 1889, living at home is engaged in the lumber business and also owns a saw mill.

Mr. Cline is a member of the Lutheran Church, which he serves as trustee. In politics he was originally a Whig, but long ago joined the ranks of a Republican party, though he is independent in supporting whatever men or measures he most approves.

Harry A. Cline, second son of John Harry Cline, was born July 13, 1869, in West Wheatfield Township, and there attended common school. Working with his parents until he reached his majority, he then bought his father's farm of 173 acres, and far a time devoted himself entirely to farming. Then he became interested in the lumber business, also running three steam sawmills, and he has continued to enlarge the volume and scope of his various interests until he now has one hundred men in his employ.

He owns and operates several up-to-date threshing machines, has over forty horses and does teaming, and is also successful merchant, owning a large general store at Bolivar. He has continued his speculations in timber lands, of which he has become an excellent judge, and the system with which the different interests are managed shows him to be a versatile and thorough business man, alive to the possibilities of the various lines he has entered and capable of developing them.

Mr. Cline was married May 20, 1894, to Elizabeth Griffith, daughter of James L. and Phebe (Myers) Griffith, of New Florence, Pennsylvania. They have had children as follows: John Lewis, Phebe Eveline, Myrtle Armeta, Theresa Virginia, Andrew Scott, Lillie Marie, Harry Curtis, and Ida Elizabeth.

Notes for Joseph Wilmore Cline:

From Indiana Evening Gazette - Indiana Pennsylvania - November 11, 1907:

"William Cline of Bolivar, Pennsylvania, Victim of Atrocious Murder and Battered corpse lay in field, where it was found after search of several days"

Victim had sold sawmill for cash and was returning him with the money. Johnstown, Pennsylvania, November 11 - Badly mutilated and showing evidence of having been shot repeatedly and terribly beaten, the body of William Cline of Bolivar, Westmoreland Co, was found a short distance from that town in a field. He had been murdered and robbed of a large sum of money.

Two weeks ago Cline sold a large sawmill he operated about three miles from Bolivar, obtaining the price in cash. He started at once to walk to the residence of relatives in Bolivar with the cash in his pockets and that was the last that he was seen alive. Although a vigorous search had been prosecuted for the man it was unsuccessful not withstanding that the remains lay in a field near a public highway during that time.

There is no clue to the murderer.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (November 13, 1907) REWARD IS OFFERED FOR CLINE'S SLAYER Father of Bolivar Lumbermen Will Aid in Search for Murderer DETECTIVE NEAL AT INQUEST

County Detective Josiah Neal returned yesterday from near Bolivar, where he had attended the inquest held over the body of Joseph Wilmore Cline, who was shot down on Nov. 4. The authorities have no clue to the murderer, although a man of questionable reputation in that section is being watched.

John H. Cline, father of the dead man, has offered a reward of $50 for the arrest of the murderer. He is a well-known lumberman and says he will assist financially in running down the man who waylaid his son. Detective Neal will present the facts in the murder to the County Commissioners and they may offer a reward. One of the chief witnesses heard at the inquest held on Monday by 'Squire John Houston in the German schoolhouse, was Mrs. Robert Mack, of West Wheatfield township. From her home overlooking the valley, she testified on the forenoon of Nov. 4 she had heard at least seven or eight shots fired in fairly rapid succession. Upon hearing the first shot, she looked in the direction of the sound and saw two men fighting. Later she observed one of the men attack the other with stones. When she told Mr. Mack of the strange happenings he said several hunter had evidently quarreled, and the subject was dropped.

William Felton, of Pitcairn, was another witness. He was visiting relatives in that section last week and on Friday went hunting in one of the Cline Farms. He told the jury of his party discovering a badly mutilated body in an open field under a locust tree and their recognizing the remains as those of Joseph Cline, a neighbor. The father was then notified. Up to that time he believed his son was in South Sharon as he had left home on Nov. 4 saying he intended looking after business interests there.

The dead man was aged 34 years and was regarded as one of the most prominent residents of that section. Some weeks ago he sold a sawmill near there and it is thought by the officers that the man who committed the murder had robbery as a motive. The dead man had a large sum in his possession when he was waylaid and this is missing. Cline was a powerful man and from indications put up a terrific struggle before the murderer shot him to pieces.

Cline is survived by five brothers and three sisters, besides his father already named.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania - December 7, 1907: Garfield Youth Mixed Up in Disappearance of Broken Shot Gun, Placed in Jail to Answer for William Cline's Death

Three or four who seemed to have suddenly secured a surplus of funds were watched, and rumors of probable arrests became general. One of the suspects was Emanuel Betts, who recently quit a job on the railroad.

The search for Betts' possible part in the Cline murder soon developed that on the day of Cline's disappearance, Emanuel Betts had borrowed a shot gun from his brother, Robert, announcing that he was going hunting. The next day Emanuel did not return the gun, and upon being asked about it by his brother, first said he had left it at home. He admitted that the gun was broken, saying he had fallen with it. This story reached the detectives through a cousin of Cline, who had learned it from Robert Betts.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (December 7, 1907) Chain of Evidence About Betts Caused His Arrest for Murder Garfield Youth Mixed Up in Disappearance of Broken Shot Gun, Placed in Jail to Answer for Wm. Cline's Death

One of the promised arrests in the William Cline murder was made at Garfield on Friday, the prisoner being Emanuel Betts, a robust youth aged nineteen, who is a brother of an exconstable in West Wheatfield Township. Betts was brought to Indiana Friday night by County Detective Josiah Neal and Officer Stiffler, of town, and a detective from Pittsburg, the accused being handcuffed to the local officers during the ride from Bolivar to Indiana. The arrest of Betts had been expected for some days and is the result of the public's having heard of a dispute Betts is alleged to have had with a brother. Betts was arrested Friday forenoon and during the remainder of the day the excitement ran high in Bolivar. When the party left there platforms in the vicinity of the depot were thronged with people. The trip to and arrival at Indiana were uneventful.

A few persons were attracted to the office of Squire James A. Crossman, when they saw the quartette going there. An information charging murder was read to Betts and he was asked if he wished to have or to waive a preliminary hearing. He replied that he desired an early hearing, but had nothing further to say. Sheriff Wettling was then given custody of the prisoner and told to present him at a hearing at the Justice's office on Dec. 19.

The murder of William Cline occurred on the Cline farm, near Germany Church, on the forenoon of Nov. 4. Cline had sold a sawmill and was making the rounds of his brothers preparatory to starting on a business trip to Sharon that day. While passing a bit of woodland he was shot several times from ambush. Although desperately wounded, Cline did not fall at once but rushed toward the man who had attacked him. A hand-to-hand struggle followed, Cline being killed by blows over the head from stones or other blunt instrument. His body was found a week later by John Felton and Clint Wakefield, who were hunting. As Cline had carried about $300 the day he was murdered, his near relatives, all of whom are well-to-do, decided that robbery had been the motive.

In working out this line, detectives from the G. B. Perkins agency, of Pittsburg, who were employed by Cline's father, John Cline, soon invaded the township and looked into the habits of a number of young men.

Three or four who seemed to have suddenly secured a surplus of funds were watched, and rumors of probable arrests became general. One of these suspects was Emanuel Betts, who had recently quit a job on the railroad.

The search for Betts' possible part in the Cline murder soon developed that on the day of Cline's disappearance, Emanuel Betts had borrowed a shot gun from his brother, Robert, announcing that he was going hunting. The next day Emanuel did not return the gun, and upon being asked about it by his brother, first said he had left it at home. Then he admitted that the gun was broken, saying he had fallen with it. This story reached the detectives through a cousin of Cline, who had learned it from Robert Betts.

The Perkins men also found that Emanuel Betts had taken the broken gun to the works at the pumping station at Roaring Run, near Garfield, and there trace of the weapon was lost. It is believed, however, that the gun was later thrown in the Conemaugh River.

That Betts had spent the night of Nov. 4 at the pumping station was evident from the fact that he and his brother Jesse went from there to Bolivar on the forenoon of Nov. 5, election day. The officers say that if Emanuel killed Cline, he tramped over the hills of Chestnut Ridge all that afternoon to the pumping station on the West Penn tracks.

Following the arrest of Emanuel Betts, Robert Betts and Mrs. Jesse Betts were apprehended. Jessie Betts was taken into custody on stepping off the evening train on his way up from the water works. Jesse Betts and wife and also Robert Betts were given a hearing before Justice McHale, of Bolivar, and were warned to hold themselves in readiness to appear as witnesses. Jesse was discharged on the count of being an accessory to the crime. Daniel Betts, father of the suspected youth, is a Civil War veteran and resides in Bolivar.

Detective Neal returned to Bolivar today to secure additional witnesses. One of those who will appear against Betts is Mrs. Robert Mack, who testified at an inquest that on Nov. 4 had observed a quarrel between two men near the scene of the Cline murder.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (December 11, 1907) DIS-INTERRED CLINE'S BODY
Coroner Gates Performed Post Mortem on Murdered Man.

Coroner W. D. Gates is in Bolivar today holding a post-mortem on the body of William Cline, who was murdered on Nov. 4. The coroner is doing this so as to secure evidence desired by District Attorney Feit, and Judge Telford on Tuesday issued an order permitting the disinterment of Cline's body. It will be remembered that Cline's body was not found until a week after his death. At an inquest held by 'Squire Houston, of Garfield, acting for Coroner Gates, witnesses testified that Cline had been shot a number of times and had also been struck on the temple with a blunt instrument.

District Attorney Feit in order to present his case against Emanuel Betts, now in jail here charged with Cline's murder, decided he should know more about these wounds. He also wished to learn whether the gunshot wounds came from a rifle, revolver or shotgun.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (December 14, 1907) COMPLICATES CLINE CASE

Since He Was Shot by a Revolver Prosecution Needs Evidence. Coroner W. D. Gates found at his post-mortem examination of the body of William Cline at Bolivar on Wednesday that the murdered man had been shot with both a revolver and shot gun.. The bullet from the revolver entered Cline's head near the left eye It will be remembered that the chief clue connecting Emanuel Betts with the Cline murder rests on the alleged disappearance of broken shot gun.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (December 18, 1907) BETTS HEARING GOES ONER
UNTIL TUESDAY Interested Attorneys Desired More Time in Order to Prepare Their Evidence REVOLVER AND GUN FIGURE

'Squire James A. Crossman has postponed the hearing in the murder case against Emanuel Betts from today until next Tuesday, the postponement being made in order to allow District Attorney Feit and Attorneys J. N. and William Banks, counsel for Betts, more time in which to secure evidence as the barristers have kept busy at court during the past few days.

According to interested parties no more arrests are expected as the prosecution believes it has a strong case against the young Betts. Their charges are built around a revolver found in Betts' possession when he was arrested and a broken shot gun said to have been thrown into the Conemaugh River shortly after Cline's death on Nov. 4.

The post-mortem held by Coroner Gates last Wednesday revealed that Cline had been shot in the left eye with a 32 caliber revolver, this being the kind of weapon found on Betts, and that Cline had also received a charge of buckshot in his back.

It is presumed the dead lumber dealer was first shot in the back and then when wounded was shot in with the revolver. As the scene of the murder indicated that a struggle had occurred and as Cline had been felled through the use of some blunt instrument it is figured that a shot gun was used to beat the wounded man.

Jesse Betts, Emanuel's younger brother, is out under bail as a witness, it being charged that he advised Emanuel to dispose of the broken fowlingpiece. From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (December 24, 1907)

Damaging Testimony Against Young Betts Man Accused of Cline Murder Near Bolivar Was Given a Hearing Before Justice Crossman Today.

Before a crowd that filled the room, Justice James A. Crossman this afternoon head damaging testimony against young Emanuel Betts, the alleged slayer of William Cline, of Bolivar. One of the chief witnesses was Robert Betts, a brother of the defendant. The hearing was for the purpose of deciding whether Betts should be held for court. District Attorney Feit conducted the investigation. He was assisted by Attorney Samuel Cunningham. Attorney John N. Banks was counsel for Betts, being assisted by his son, William Banks, Esq. The latter objected to a number of Mr. Feit's questions but was frequently overruled by the justice. He continually said Mr. Feit was conducting a "pumping expedition."

Coroner W. D. Gates, who held a postmortem over the remains of Cline, was the first witness. He said Cline had received a blow over the temple from some blunt instrument, which he believes was not a stone. Cline had been shot at close range with a revolver, probably of 32 caliber. The bullet entered the right eye, passed through the head and came out below the left ear, the course of the bullet indicating that the man who shot Cline stood above him when he fired the pistol.

Dr. Gates said a blow from the butt of a gun would have felled Cline, but would not have rendered him unconscious at once. Asked if it would have caused death, he replied in the affirmative, unless the patient had been removed to a hospital and had received excellent care.

Regarding the shot found in all parts of Cline's back and legs, the witness said they came from a shot gun fired some distance away. He said the charges of shoe would not have caused death. Witness also believed several shots had been fired.

William Felton, of Pitcairn, and his cousins, J. C. and H. C. Wakefield, were hunting on Harry Cline's farm in West Wheatfield Township on Nov. 9, when Felton found the body of William Cline, a brother of Harry. The remains were about 600 yards from the Cline home and twenty feet from a lane leading to it. The body was lying covered in elder bushes and golden rod and would not have been seen from the lane.

Felton helped carry the body to the Cline home and was also there the next day. He said probably 250 No. 6 shot were lodged in Cline's body and that it took two or three loads to produce this result. Loose shot rolled from Cline's shoes when they were removed.

Robert Betts was the next witness. The young man was affected his being called as a witness and took some time in giving his answers. His testimony is summed as follows: On Nov. 1 Emanuel Betts asked the witness for the use of his gun. Later the witness's wife said Emanuel had secured the gun. One week later Robert met Emanuel on the streets in Garfield and asked for the gun. Emanuel said the weapon was at the pump house, one mile from Garfield. Emanuel promised to return the fowling piece, but failed to do so and some days later Robert went to the pump house. The gun was not there and witness could not locate it in the cupboard or other such places.

Upon returning to Garfield, Robert Betts met Emanuel at Fisher's store and was again told the gun was at the pumping station. The witness replied, "It was, like the devil." Emanuel then said that if witness would accompany him home he would secure the gun there. On the way to Emanuel's home he told Robert he had fallen on the gun and had broken it. Clarence Johns was with him at the time. He said the pieces were at the pump house.

Two days later Robert again went to the pump house to "See whether his brother Jesse, who works there, had the gun." This time it was found lying on a bench. The stock was broken near where the connection is made back of the barrel. New scars and scratches were noted on the stock and something that Jesse pronounced blood was visible near the outer end of the barrel. The witness said he believed the marks near the sight came from new mud. As the gun was no longer of use he left it at the pump house.

During this evidence Robert also said the gun had previously been broken at the stock but he had fastened it together. On cross examination Robert told Attorney Banks that Emanuel was careless during his hunting trips and had fallen and broken two other guns. To District Attorney Feit, the witness then said the fowling piece could also have been broken if it had been used to strike a blow.

Just previous to this the prosecuting attorneys played one of their best cards when they finally induced Robert to say that Emanuel had given him something equivalent to the value of the gun.. This was a revolver and the exhibit presented by Detective Miller, of the Perkins Agency, Pittsburg, caused the witness to state that it was at least just like the one he received from his brother, Emanuel. Before leaving the stand District Attorney Feit secured from him a statement that Jesse had thrown the broken gun into the Conemaugh River. Robert said he did not care as the weapon could not have been repaired.

County Detective Josiah Neal was called. Mr. Neal had several conversations with Emanuel Betts, both in the jail here and in Bolivar. He said Betts had told different stories. But the last one relating to his movements Nov. 4, the probable day Cline was shot, showed that he had toured the vicinity of the crime. According to Detective Neal, Betts left the pump-house early in the morning and then went to Muir's sawmill, but returned at noon. While hunting he fell and broke the gun. It was then put away. Some nights later, "Upon the advice of interested parties," Betts threw the weapon into the river.

Other witnesses and their testimony were: John Cline, father of William, told of meeting his son on Harry's farm at 10:15 a. m. the day of the shooting.

Mrs. Robert Betts corroborated the statements of her husband and examined the revolver alleged by the prosecution to be the one given her husband by Emanuel. Mrs. J. B. Mack told of seeing two men quarrel on the Cline farm and of hearing shots. L. H. Taylor said he spent the forenoon of November 4 at the pump-house and that Emanuel was not there. Justice Crossman then decided that Emanuel should be held for court. The prisoner was returned to jail by Sheriff Wettling.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (March 19, 1908) Emanuel Betts Will Soon Be On Trial for Cline Death - Large Array of Legal Talent Spent the First Day in Securing Jurors, the Examination of Talesman Being Especially Severe --- Accused Man May Plead Self-Defense.

What promises to be the most interesting murder trial heard in the courts of Indiana County for many years opened this morning with Judge S. J. Telford on the bench. The defendant, Emanuel Betts, or Robinson, this county, is charged with the murder of Wilbur Cline, a wealthy lumberman. The crime occurred on one of the Cline farms in the forenoon of Nov. 4, 1907 and the motive was robbery.

The prosecution is expected to produce what is said to be a confession made by Betts while a prisoner in the jail here. This statement it is said was made to Former District Attorney George J. Feit, Detective Miller, of the Perkins Agency, Pittsburgh, and Miss Annie E. Vogel, a stenographer.

As publicity had been given to this statement, it is understood the defense will make a plea that Betts was defending himself when Cline received the wounds that produced death. Betts has taken on some weight since committed to jail four months ago, and presented a neat appearance when brought into court. He is a fair-complexioned youth, aged about nineteen, and bears up well under the ordeal of hearing the attorneys use the words "murder" and "death" in the questioning of prospective jurors.

His brother, Jesse, sits at this side at the counsel table. Attorney John N. Banks is senior counsel for the defendant. He is being assisted by his son, William Banks, and James W. Mack. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Betts are also here.

John Cline, the wealthy Bolivar lumberman, is her aiding in the prosecution of Betts. He is the father of Wilbur Cline, the murdered man. Harry Cline, a brother, of the deceased, is also present. District Attorney Elkin is being assisted by Former District Attorney Feit and Attorneys Cunningham & Fisher.

Each side is allowed 20 peremptory challenges. Three men have already been discharged by the court and several challenges for causes have been recognized. Out of 21 jurors examined during the forenoon six were accepted.

After being sworn each talesman is quizzed as to his acquaintanceship with the Betts and Cline families: as to his occupation, age, father's name, religion, vocation, and opinion regarding capital punishment; he is then asked concerning his knowledge of the crime and as to whether what he had read caused him to form an opinion and as to how far said opinion could be moved by evidence.

R. C. Cunningham was excused because he is the nephew of the Attorney Samuel Cunningham. John R. Smith was dismissed because of slight trouble in hearing. Lewis Conway did not understand question propounded by the attorneys and was allowed to return to the audience. Fred Downs, who is of German birth, does not fully understand all English phrases and was likewise excused by the court.

The jurors not accepted by either one side or the other because they had opinions regarding the crime and punishment follow: J. E. Smith, George Adams, John Malcolm, Charles Conner, J. A. Bogley, Dennis Peddicord, W. L. Barrett, A. R. Fyock, J. K. Altimus, J. F. Donahue, Cornelius Rowley, S. M. Cribbs, S. A. Douglass, G. W. Colgan, R. W. Langham, John Huffman. With the court being crowded, scores of women being in the assembly, a special venire for 20 jurors was issued early in the afternoon. After 51 men had been examined, the twelfth juror was secured at 3:15 p. m. Six jurors were taken during the afternoon. Two minutes later District Attorney Elkin opened for the commonwealth. These men were found unsatisfactory to the interested attorneys at the second session;

Wallace Irvin, C. A. Ginter, R. B. Calhoun, James Neal, Joseph H. Elkin, C. R. Piper, James Speedy, E. T. Anderson, John Shank, Isaac Billings, John Gamble, R. E. Coleman, Ben Jamison and James Barclay. Thomas Hart, J. D. Thompson, and J. A. Cripps were excused by the court because of illness.

The Jurors Accepted. A. C. Coleman, Farmer, Conemaugh Twp.; T. M. Carson, Painter, 4th ward, Indiana; Enos Dorr, Will Worker, Indiana; W. C. Shields, Farmer, Rayne Twp.; Harvey Balentine, Foundryman, Indiana.; D. H. Stephens, Farmer, Cherryhill Twp.; John Russell, Lumberman, Indiana.; J. D. Cummins, Carpenter, Indiana.; D. L. Ralston, Bricklayer, Indiana.; H. K. Boucher, Woolen Mill Employe, Indiana.; I. W. Gibson, Hardware Dealer, Indiana.; J. E. Lewis, Farmer, White Township. Attorneys Cunningham and J. N. Banks agreed that they had secured a good Jury. Messrs. Russell and Gibson served on the Jury in the Lindsay murder case.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (March 20, 1908) Cline's Kin Chief Witnesses Heard in the Trial of Betts Father of the Murdered Man Was on the Stand for Two Hours, and a Younger Brother Was Under Fire Almost as Long – Dr. Gates Described the Wounds.

Following District Attorney W. F. Elkin's address to the jury late Thursday afternoon, at which time he explained a map drawn by County Surveyor D. L. Moorhead in which all places connected with the Cline murder are shown, the Commonwealth opened its case against Emanuel Betts. The chief witness heard that afternoon was William (should be John) Cline, the father of Joseph Wilbur Cline, the murdered man. William Cline (should be John) stated that his son left home the morning of Nov. 4 last, intending to call at his brother's farm nearby and then go to Bolivar, where he would leave for Sharon. The father related details concerning his son's business as manager of a sawmill and told of this mill having been sold during the last week in October to another son, Harry Cline.

Details were given regarding the clothes worn by Wilbur Cline and, before the witness left the stand, he identified a rain coat, sack coat, trousers and lumberman's shoes as part of the apparel worn by his son when he bade the home folks goodbye the forenoon previous to this death. It is also declared that Wilbur Cline then had a large sum of money in his possession. William Felton, of Pitcairn, took the stand to tell how he and his cousins, J. C. and H. C.

Wakefield, happened across the body of Wilbur Cline lying in a small thicket while hunting on the Cline farm the afternoon of Nov. 9, 1907. After notifying the elder Mr. Cline and his sons, Mr. Felton went to Bolivar and secured Undertaker J. L. Vann. Mr. Felton was at the Harry Cline home when the remains were carried to the house, some 600 yards from where they were found. He remained while the body was prepared for burial, and described at length the wounds on the deceased.

Wilbur Cline had received several charges of buckshot in this back, the shot extending from head to feet. A scalp wound was noticed on the back of the head and a contusion was noted on the forehead. A revolver bullet had entered his left eye and had passed out the right ear. Loose shot were found in Cline's heavy shoes and small leaden pellets dropped from the clothes when they were removed.

Although the Cline farm was "posted" against hunter, the Wakefield boys had shot a rabbit before they met the senior Mr. Cline. The witness had found several of the four empty shells that are supposed to have held the shot sent into Cline's body. George Cline, a younger brother of the deceased, was heard this morning, after his father had been recalled to answer a few questions. George told many things related by his father and introduced a few new incidents connected to the case. One of these related to a strange rabbit dog he and his mother had noticed the day Wilbur Cline left home. This dog belongs to a Mr. West of Garfield and will figure in the trial.

Much of the testimony given by Mr. Felton was repeated by Undertaker J. L. Vann who had charge of the burial. He also related his part in the examination Fr. Gates made of the body two months after burial. The remains were exhumed and Dr. Gates, assisted by Detective Miller, traced the course of the bullet wound in the head and made a study of the blows on the skull. This post-mortem was conducted in a summer kitchen on the Lichenfels farm. It is the opinion of Coroner W. D. Gates, as the result of this examination, that the blow on the head was received first and that the pistol shot followed while Cline was on the ground. Marks on the right hand of the deceased indicate that he had struggled valiantly for his life. Powder marks on the body show that the weapon was discharged at short range.

To the belief of Dr. Gates the blow on the head was inflicted with some blunt instrument, such as the butt of a gun or a very smooth stone. He said the revolver used was probably of .32 caliber.

Interest was a fever heat in the Betts murder trial this afternoon when, in the presence of a crowd that filled practically every available nook in the court room, Robert Betts took the stand to relate particulars concerning the shot gun Emanuel Betts borrowed from him but failed to return. Robert Betts is but a year or so older than the defendant and is of a retiring disposition. The shot gun episode related by Robert Betts started with his meeting Emanuel several days before Nov. 4 and granting him permission to use his gun. The weapon was secured by Emanuel but was never returned, the latter saying he had left it at the pump house with Jesse Betts, another brother.

In the interim between the death of Wilbur Cline and the finding of his body, Nov. 9, Robert grew impatient over the delay in securing the gun. He therefore went to the water station, but although he looked in the place designated, could not find the gun. Later Emanuel said he had fallen while out hunting and had broken the gun. He also said the pieces were no longer of any use.

Following this Robert one day met Emanuel in Garfield and was told by him that he would give him a revolver to replace the weapon lost. A .32 caliber revolver was secured at the Betts family home and was turned over to Robert. The pistol was shown by Attorney Feit and was partially identified.

MRS. MACK SAW ENCOUNTER

After proving a crime on Friday, the prosecution today, in the case against Emanuel Betts produced a witness to show that young Betts did not give a clear account of his travels on Nov. 4 and that he is implicated in the death of Wilbur Cline. That he alone committed the act has not yet been stated by the commonwealth, but the full extent of their case is yet to be shown. T. N. Miller, a field operator for the Perkins Detective Agency, of Pittsburg, is the party who testified regarding Betts' alleged connection with death of the former Bolivar lumberman. Detective Miller was engaged by the Cline family on Nov. 16 and on Dec. 8 he assisted in the arrest of Betts.

Previous to that he had visited the Cline farms several times and had found shells, stones and the "four end iron piece" from a Remington gun. All these exhibits were admitted after much parleying and figure in the case. When Betts was arrested on Dec. 8 he was taken to the Bolivar station and kept in that vicinity for some hours. In the presence of Detective Miller, Detective Neal, and Officer Stiffler he is said to have told the first of a series of contradictory stories relating to his movements on Nov. 4.

One of these was that the prisoner spent the forenoon at the pump house with Jesse and that they played checkers. The second version was that Emanuel had been hunting on the day in question and that while chasing a rabbit he fell on a stone. He received several bruises on his chest and hands that were attended by a physician. During this expedition Emanuel broke his gun. He changed this story by saying he had been hunting on Wednesday, Nov. 6.

The third story was secured two days after the prisoner was placed in jail here. Detectives Miller and White, of the Perkins Agency, and Detective Neal, were present. It was alleged by the defendant's counsel that Miller had asked Sheriff Wettling to keep others away from Betts and not offer him counsel, thus securing this latest information under duress. After plenty of argument by both sides Miller was allowed to tell what was learned. Upon this occasion Betts said he had hunted in the vicinity of Muir's saw mill the forenoon of Nov. 4.

Detective Miller's story was not altered in the least during the three hours Attorney Banks quizzed him. Many of the witnesses returned home this evening and will return for a forenoon session Monday. Detective Neal with another Betts confession will then be the star witness.

Mrs. John H. Cline, the mother of Wilbur Cline, was the last witness heard Friday afternoon. Although still bearing signs of the suffering she experienced, Mrs. Cline readily answered the questions propounded by Attorney Samuel Cunningham. Her testimony related principally to the departure of Wilbur Cline on the morning of Nov. 4. She said that at that time her son had a roll of money as he had shown it when he gave her some money that day.

Mrs. Cline was given a brief cross examination when court opened this morning. That Cline and his assailant struggled before the dead man lost the unequal battle was shown through testimony of Mrs. J. B. Mack, who lives about one-half mile from the Harry Cline home. Shortly after 10 o'clock on the forenoon of Nov. 4, she was in her front yard when she heard several rounds that seemed to come from the discharge of a shot gun. She heard four of these shots and upon looking in the direction of the sounds, saw two men. They were about 2,200 feet from her home, but she could follow their movements because they were on higher ground. Later one man seemed to stoop over and the other hit him with a club and then threw three stones toward him. Mrs. Mack heard a number of moans at that time. The witness then re-entered her house and when she re-appeared outside a few minutes later she heard a pistol shot. That noon Mrs. Mack told her husband of hearing the shots and seeing the quarrel, but no investigation was made as the Macks thought the parties engaged in the fight were strange hunters. Mrs. Mack is distant relative of the Clines.

Mrs. West, of Garfield, was heard. She formerly owned the white rabbit dog with black spots that is said to have been borrowed by Harry Betts, brother of the defendant, at 6 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 4, 1907.

Witnesses "Knew it was one of the Betts boys when she received this early caller and was told later it was Harry Betts who borrowed the fog." The canine wandered home late the same afternoon. Mrs. West said Harry Betts worked at the McGraw home that day. Asked how she fixed the date, witness said two of her children had been vaccinated on Nov. 4 and she presented a certificate from Dr. Alexander to better prove the date. J. C. and H. C. Wakefield, cousins of William Felton, told of their hunting expedition on Nov. 9 and of the finding of Wilbur Cline's body. Much of their testimony had already been given by Mr. Felton.

One of the first persons to reach the scene after the finding of Cline's body was John F. St. Clair. He related incidents connected with the taking of Cline's remains to Harry Cline's house. Mr. St. Clair described at length the wounds received by Cline, his evidence corroborating testimony given by Coroner Gates and others.

J. A. Walbeck, one of the well-known Walbeck twins and a distant relative of the Clines, was summoned to Harry Cline's home the evening of Nov. 9. After the clothes were removed from the deceased, Walbeck instituted a search. He found a small package of tobacco. Several pockets were turned inside out.

County Surveyor D. L. Moorhead identified the map he had made of the Cline land and the scene of the murder. J. B. McCartney, a Bolivar barber, stated that he had shaved Wilbur Cline the day previous to his disappearance and that at that time the deceased appeared to have plenty of money.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (March 23, 1908) Plea of Self-Defense for Betts; Commonwealth Closed at Noon - Defense Claims the Accused After He Was Attacked by Cline, Who Had Ordered Him from the Place

In the opening address to the jury this afternoon, Attorney William Banks, of counsel for Emanuel Betts, stated that his client has killed Wilbur Cline, but the tragedy had been committed in self defense. Mr. Banks spent a half hour in explaining the testimony the defense would introduce. The crowd is larger than at any time since the trial started.

The defense hopes to show that Betts was hunting on the Cline farm on Nov. 4 and that he was ordered off by Wilbur Cline; that because Betts would not go readily Cline calling him some vile names: that Cline pursued Betts and then threw stones at him; that Betts discharged his shot gun; that other stones were hurled; that Betts again shot Cline; that Betts a mere boy was defending himself from a powerful man when Cline received the wounds that caused his death, and there was no robbery as Cline had but a few dollars.

Preliminary testimony was introduced to show that Harry Betts was not with Emanuel on Nov. 4. Conductor James L. Horton, of Derry, stated that Harry worked for him that day. Timekeeper E. H. Cassidy, of Pittsburg, identified reports showing that Betts was on the road Nov. 4.

Harry Betts appeared and said that it was Oct. 25 when he borrowed the West dogs and that on Nov. 4 he was in Derry, taking his breakfast that morning with John Betts, another brother. Emanuel Betts took the witness stand on his own behalf about three o'clock. In direct examination he admitted the killing of Cline, claiming it was done in self-defense. He denied that he had robbed the body of his victim. He is still on the stand as this report closes.

Stories related by Betts figured largely in the testimony presented by the Commonwealth this morning. The accused showed that he laid many pitfalls for himself by his freedom of speech, as four witnesses appeared who told of damaging statements they had heard Betts utter. Constable Findley Barr, of town, had a brief conversation with Betts early in January, that was introduced. Here is the way Barr repeated the conversation. Mr. Barr said, "What are you in for, young man?"

For the killing of Cline," said Emanuel Betts. "You didn't do that, did you?" asked Barr. "Yes, I did: I had to" was the reply. "He would have killed me had I not shot him" said Betts. "Did you use the shot gun or revolver first?" inquired Barr. "With the shot gun" said Betts. Asked whether any others were present at the time, Betts said no one was "near or handy." Barr stuck to his story on cross examination.

John Williams, a young man from Smith Station, made six visits to Indiana for the purpose of interviewing Betts and then secured interviews with the accused. He said that Betts at one time had said he had killed Cline and that he secured $4,300. At another time Betts stated that $2,200 was the amount taken from Cline's pockets. According to Williams, Betts had given a part of this money to his sister living in Johnstown, had handed $1,500 over to his mother, and had presented his brother, Jesse, with a portion.

Young Betts had also taken a Bolivar to Johnstown and they had spent money rather freely there. The watch found on Cline's person was sold for $8, according to Williams. During one of his six visits Williams was asked by Betts to bring a saw and a revolver with him on his next trip. Williams replied that Sheriff Wettling would not allow. County Detective Josiah Neal testified regarding another Betts confession. His story is similar to that given by Barr. Charles W. Hammond, of Bolivar, and Detective John Williams, both of whom worked under Detective Miller, told of articles found at the scene of the murder. Hammond also presented the revolver he had secured at the residence of Robert Betts. This is the weapon Emanuel gave Robert after he broke the shotgun.

The commonwealth closed its case a few minutes previous to the noon hour today when Robert Boyle and Amos Bossinger were called. These men work on the Conemaugh Division and were employed in the vicinity of the pump house, below Garfield, on Nov. 4 and Nov. 16. Shortly after 1 o'clock on the afternoon of the first named day they saw Jesse and Emanuel Betts walking on the opposite track. Emanuel was showing Jesse some money and was fingering a few bills. On Nov. 16 the witnesses saw the Betts brothers again, and upon this occasion, Emanuel carried a shot gun that seemed to be wrapped with a shoe lace. Mr. Boyle also learned that early in November Jesse Betts made a trip to Pittsburg. This was one or two days after he had seen the brothers with the money.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (March 21, 1908) Emanuel Betts, on Trial for His Life, Relates His Version of the Fatal Quarrel with Wilbur Cline STATE STRONG IN REBUTTAL.

Endeavored to Show that the Murdered Man was Incapable of Throwing Stones Because of Physical Infirmities, Arguments by the attorneys this afternoon and Judge Telford's charge will bring the Betts murder trial to a close by night. The twelve jurors, who have been on duty since Thursday afternoon, will hardly complete their work before tomorrow. As the Commonwealth closed its taking of testimony in rebuttal at noon, the opening hours this afternoon were devoted to addresses by counsel. James W. Mack discussed the points of law as they should apply to Betts' case and Samuel Cunningham reviewed the statutes for the Cline side. Former District Attorney George J. Feit spent an hour in delivering an able review of the case the Commonwealth had woven around Betts. William Banks spoke on Betts' behalf, his contention being that the accused acted in self defense and that he had not robbed Cline. Messrs. Mack and Cunningham will also further address the jury before the Court's charge is delivered. Following the testimony of Jesse Betts the defense rested at 10 o'clock this morning. As the defendant, Jesse and his mother, had related incidents to show that Emanuel was injured in his encounter with Cline, thus endeavoring to establish the self defense theory, the Commonwealth on rebuttal started out to explode this testimony.

It was shown that some eight years ago Wilbur Cline was injured in a sawmill accident and that he had since been slightly muscle-bound in the right fore-arm. Three months previous to the death of Wilbur Cline he was burned on the right hand and some weeks later and the forefinger on his hand amputated. This wound was almost healed at the time of his death.

Cline was a right handed man and, it was claimed, was not able to pick up small object or throw a stone more than a few feet. Those heard regarding Cline's injured hand are, John H. Cline, Harry Cline, George Cline, J. A. Walbeck, and Dr. Updegraff. Squire James McHail, of Bolivar, was heard and was asked to identify statements made by Jesse Betts in which alleged contradictions regarding Emanuel's hurts were set forth in writing. Miss Annie Vogel and County Detective Josiah Neal, of town, and Perkins Detective W. J. White, of Pittsburg, were the last witnesses called. They spoke concerning confessions made by Betts. This closed the testimony. Several members of the Betts family testified today. Mrs. Carolyn Betts, mother of the defendant, who was called Monday afternoon, stated that shortly after Nov. 4 she gave Emanuel some salve to apply locally to bruises he received while out hunting.

Jesse Betts told that Emanuel had described his bruises to him at length and that he had dressed them. This was not until after Cline's body had been found. Jesse told the assembly that Emanuel had informed him that the broken gun had been thrown in the river. John Betts, of Derry, another brother, stated that on Nov. 4 Harry Betts was at his home. The only other testimony introduced by the defense was that Emanuel Betts had borrowed a hunting dog from Russell McLain, who testified to that effect. Emanuel Betts was on the stand three hours during Monday afternoon. He confessed practically everything shown by the prosecution, either stating that the testimony against him had been correct or that he was so confused when visited by detectives and others that he could not remember what he said. The only witness he flatly contradicted was John Williams, who "sprung" the $4,300 story.

Betts' voice was weak in direct examination and Attorney James W. Mack had (unreadable) the boy to express himself. When Attorney Samuel Cunningham took up the cross examination, the defendant deliberated before making his answers and usually said he did not remember the full details of any special incident when asked to make matters plain. Despite a number of questions propounded by the opposing counsel, Betts did not at any time tell where he had secreted the broken shot gun that is said to have been used over Cline's head. Betts said any injuries on Cline's head came from the deceased being kicked when they were fighting. Another denial made by Betts was that he had ever tried to purchase a Remington gun in order to replace the one borrowed from his brother, Robert.

In brief Betts' story is as follows:

Last month the defendant was nineteen years old. On Nov. 4 he took Robert's shot gun and his revolver and went to the pump house. Leaving there at 7:30 a. m. Betts hunted through the Jenkins, Henderson, and other fields and finally reached Harry Cline's. After being there 15 minutes, he saw Wilbur Cline on the road.

The accused knew the deceased by sight, but did not speak to him as he was in the field and probably 100 feet distance from Cline. Wilbur Cline said "Get off this land you --- (here Betts repeated the vile name is said to have uttered). Or I will kill you." The defendant stated that his reply was, "I'll get off."

Cline picked up three or four stones, each about as large as a tennis ball, and began throwing them at Betts. One missile hit Betts on the neck. Betts then drew his shot gun and shot at Cline's feet, Cline turning his side and throwing his arm in front of his face in order to shield it. More swearing by Cline, some additional stone throwing and another shot from Betts followed. This time young Betts also aimed at Cline's feet.

Cline had gained on Betts by this time and the defendant was making for the top of the hill. Cline again threw a stone and it struck Betts on the back. For the third time Betts turned and shot at Cline, this time aiming at his hips. Cline was still able to run and Betts turned again, but the gun would not go off and Cline caught up to Betts.

Although Cline had received at least three charges of buckshot in his back, according to Betts, he was able to fight and pulled the gun from the latter's hands. While they were tussling for the weapon, both went down, Cline securing the gun. Cline struck at Betts with the gun, but hit the ground instead, breaking it at the breech.

Owing to numerous wounds, Cline was not able to pursue him, but he still had sufficient strength to rise. While Cline was standing below him Betts fired the revolver in Cline's face. Cline then fell to the road and Betts hurried away.

He went to the pump house and spent an hour with Jesse. Shortly after the noon hour the brothers started to Garfield. On the railroad Jesse asked Emanuel for a loan, saying he was intending going to Pittsburg. Emanuel was showing his money, about $15 that remained from October pay as a brakeman on the Conemaugh Division, when they passed Boyle and Bossinger. Seeing that Emanuel's funds were not large, Jesse did not negotiate the loan.

For two days following the encounter with Cline, Emanuel remained at his home. He never told any of his people that he had killed a man and he did not explain why he desired some ointment for his bruises. He never at any time explained the disappearance of the gun, and did not make any confession whatever until after the preliminary hearing at Crossman's the last week of December. Betts also said he had not searched Cline's pockets and knew nothing concerning his watch and money.

From Indiana Evening Gazette, Indiana Pennsylvania (March 25, 1908) GENERAL PUBLIC EXCITEMENT Wide-Spread Discussion of the Finding of the Jurors --- No New Trial is Anticipated -- "Guilty of murder in the second degree," was the verdict of the jury in the Betts murder trial.

The jury went out at 9:30 o'clock, last night and returned at 9 o'clock this morning. The jurors took the first ballot shortly after midnight and the final one at daylight. For six hours two jurors stood out for a first degree verdict. Betts was overjoyed when he learned the death penalty would not be inflicted and he shook hands with his attorneys and then turned to receive the relatives who were present. The aged father and mother, whose plight had been noted by many and who were greatly pitied, were not present.

Mr. and Mrs., John H. Cline, George and Harry Cline, Mrs. J. H. Mack, William Felton, the Wakefield boys and several others were present. An audience of several score was in attendance. Betts' punishment for the killing of Wilbur Cline may be twenty years in the penitentiary, that being the maximum penalty.

Discussion of the verdict was heard in all quarters about town today. Those who argue that the jury should have found Betts guilty of murder in the first degree, and they are many, believe there was a robbery and that Betts was the aggressor in the fight. Others, however, claim that robbery was not proved and that the commonwealth did not show that the shooting was premeditated. These persons state that the only possible verdict would be the one returned.

In round figures the Cline case has already cost over $2,000. The 35 witnesses presented by the commonwealth were here from five to seven days and received $744 from the county. The pay of the jurors was $210. Then add to this the salaries of the court officials, district attorney and county detective. The Betts family must meet the expenses of the eight witnesses they provided.

John H. Cline engaged the Perkins Detective N. B. Miller and three assistants for some weeks and expended a large sum in addition to clear up the mystery of his son's death. The body of Wilbur Cline was found Nov. and Miller was engaged Nov. 14. He worked on the case almost constantly until the arrest of Betts late in December, and made four visits to Indiana after the prisoner was placed in jail.

After the jury was excused today, Judge Telford ordered Court Crier Youngblood to adjourn the court until next Monday afternoon when the Smith cases from Glen Campbell will be heard. The trial of Dimity Dorasehoof, an Ernest foreigner, accused of murder, is postponed until June. Attorney Samuel Cunningham addressed the jury Tuesday night. He spoke for eighty minutes and his excellent review of the case against young Betts was heard by a large and attentive audience. He claimed that any boy who could play checkers an hour after he left a person dying in a field could commit deliberate murder.

In the mind of Mr. Cunningham, the fact that Cline was literally filled with buckshot, was shot in the head with a pistol and had received a fractured skull, showed that he was murdered for a purpose. That motive, said Mr. Cunningham, was robbery, as the deceased had on his person when he met death a roll of money and a watch that were not found. The charge delivered by Judge Telford lasted an hour. He reviewed the testimony at length and stated that it was for the jury to decide where contradictions occurred. He stated that the burden of proof rested on the commonwealth. It was his opinion that the motive should be ascertained by the jury and that if all reasonable doubts were cleared away and a willful murder had been committed, the defendant was guilty of murder in the first degree.

The Court outlined the law regarding the rights of a man to act in self-defense saying that when a person was in danger of losing his own life and had tried every possible means of escape, the defendant has a right to check the aggressor. Under these circumstances the defendant should be acquitted. The grade of crime recognized as second degree and the statutes recognizing man-slaughter were also outlined. Jesse Betts told a Gazette reporter that he was taking treatment for trouble in his nose from a Pittsburg specialist during November and December and that he visited the doctor on Nov. 5, the day brought out by the prosecution the he spent in Pittsburg.

Notes for Dr. Hezekiah Wilson Marbourg:

History of Cambria County, Pennsylvania, Volume 2. By Henry Wilson Storey. Page 564:

Hezekiah Wilson Marbourg, M. D., late of Johnstown, who was a capable and efficient physician and surgeon and a citizen of worth and character, was a representative of a family of German ancestry which numbered many professional members.

Maximilian Marbourg, M. D., grandfather of Dr. Hezekiah W. Marbourg, was born in Marbourg, Austria, and studied medicine in the college at Munich, Germany. Soon after his graduation from this institution he came to the United States and located in Baltimore, Maryland. He removed to York County, and from thence, after a short time, to what is now Coopersdale, or the Twenty-First ward of Johnstown, Cambria County, Pennsylvania, where he practiced his profession with success for a number of years. His remains were interred in the old Union burying ground. His wife, a native of York County, Pennsylvania, bore him children: 1. Alexander, a merchant of Johnstown, who later removed to Washington, Iowa, and died there; 2. Frederick, see forward; 3. Jordan, died during the Civil war; 4. Charlotte, married Daniel Seigh, the family removing to Iowa, where she died.

Frederick Marbourg, second son and child of Dr. Maximilian Marbourg, was born on the family homestead in what was then Perkinsville, and is now the Twenty-first ward of Johnstown. He received a common school education, and then entered upon a mercantile career. At one time he was in a business partnership with his brother Alexander. He resided in Centerville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, for a number of years, later returned to Johnstown and established himself in business in Market Street. He and his wife were members of the Lutheran church, in which he held the office of elder. His political affiliations were with the Republican Party. His death occurred about 1862, and his widow survived him until 1882. He married, at Centerville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, Eva Lydia Sides, and several of their children were born in Centerville, the others in Johnstown. The children were: 1. Betsey, who married Michael Jack and died in Johnstown; 2. Dr. Jeremiah Lavimus, who was graduated from Jefferson Medical College in 1854. He practiced medicine until the outbreak of the Civil war, when he was made assistant surgeon and rendered excellent service. At the close of the war he practiced his profession in Bedford, Pennsylvania, until 1895 when he removed to Tacoma, Washington, and from thence to Seattle, where he died; 3. Hezekiah Wilson, see forward; 4. Charlotte, who married James Gardner, and died in Cumberland, Maryland; 5. and 6. Sarah and Annie, who died unmarried.

Hezekiah Wilson Marbourg, M. D., second son and third child of Frederick and Eva Lydia (Sides) Marbourg, was born in Centerville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, August 5, 1833, and died in the city of Johnstown, during the disastrous flood of 1889. He attended the public schools of Johnstown, and prepared himself for college in that city. He matriculated at Gettysburg College, and was graduated from the theological department of that institution, but was never ordained. He then took up the study of medicine with Dr. John Lowman, then entered the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, from which he was graduated with the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1857. He immediately established himself in the practice of his profession, and with the exception of one year spent in Philadelphia, his entire medical career was passed in Johnstown. During the latter part of 1863 he took up military service and served one year as contract surgeon. He practiced continually until his death, meeting with the success which attends well directed effort in any trade or profession. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church; of St. Paul's Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of Philadelphia; and of the Cambria County Medical Society, in which he served as secretary for a number of years.

He married (first) Wilhelmina Rachel Wright, who was graduated from the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia, and practiced for a period of one year. She bore him children: Eva L., wife of McClellan Leggett, of Johnstown, and Edgar M., a physician of Colorado Springs, Colorado. Mrs. Marbourg died in 1870. He married (second), in March, 1872, Esther L. (Wright) Nippes, widow of J. Charles Nippes, who was killed at the battle of Gettysburg, by whom she had one child, Chester W. C. Nippes, a farmer of Indiana County. Mrs. Marbourg is a daughter of William and Rachel (Lukens) Wright, of Philadelphia, and a granddaughter of Elizabeth Johns Lukens, a Quaker preacher in Philadelphia. William Wright was a civil engineer, professor of languages in Philadelphia, and was a man of prominence. Esther L. (Wright) (Nippes) Marbourg was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She was educated in the public schools of her native city, and subsequently pursued a course of reading in medicine under the preceptorship of Dr. Benjamin B. Wilson, of Philadelphia. She entered the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, in 1869, and in March, 1872, was graduated with the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Shortly after graduation she came to Johnstown, where she has been engaged in the successful practice of her profession since that time. She was one of the incorporators of the Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital, being the only woman among the incorporators, and has served on the staff of that institution. She is an honored member of the Cambria County Medical Society, the Pennsylvania State Medical Society and the American Medical Association, having been a delegate to the meeting of the latter association when it convened in Chicago, in 1887. She is also a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the work and interests of which she takes an active part.

He was born Jun 1827 in Monongalia Co, West Virginia, and died 07 Mar 1908 in New Florence, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for William B. Hoskinson:

Indiana, Pennsylvania – After a brief illness, Squire William B. Hoskinson died late Saturday night March 7, 1908 at his home in New Florence, his death being due to a sudden attack of apoplexy. Last week his wife and adopted daughter, Miss Annie Lawson, recovered from a siege of the grip and at that time Mr. Hoskinson was in his usual health. He took sick Saturday afternoon and his decline was rapid. He was unusually well preserved for a man 80 years old and had visited his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Zimmerman, of Johnstown for the annual holiday gathering there.

Squire Hoskinson was born near Morgan town, West Virginia, (then in Virginia) in 1827. He was educated at the university in Morgantown. In 1850 he accompanied his uncles, Jacob and George Gamble, to this county, settling near Heshbon. Two of his brothers, John and Riley Hoskinson, were members of the party. For a number of years, the Messrs. Gamble followed their trade of millwrights and built grist mills along the Black lick Valley, at Peelors, in Penn Run. Marion Center, etc, the Hoskinson boys assisting them. In the early 50s, Squire Hoskinson was employed as a construction engineer on the Pennsylvania and was with that road when the line was built through Westmoreland County.

In 1864 the deceased went to the front with Company H, 206th Regiment, P.V.I. The company was recruited near Brushvalley and was in charge of Rev. George M. Greer, a deceased U. P. pastor. Mr. Hoskinson was orderly sergeant and was among the first to enter Richmond after Lee's surrender. After the war he engaged in milling at Heshbon and later became merchant and postmaster there. His first wife, Louisa Mikesell, died in 1874. About ten years later he married Mrs. Maria Lawson, of New Florence. He soon removed there and had since been a resident of that town. In politics he was a Republican and served two terms as Justice of the peace and as school director. For a score of years, he was a member of the board of the Methodist church there. He was always prominent in the fight waged almost yearly in New Florence against saloons. Within the past few years he represented Clearfield parties in securing coal lands near New Florence and business brought him to Indiana a quite regularly. He had been a reader of the Gazette for many years.

The deceased is survived by his wife and these children: Rev. Dr. W. S. Hoskinson, pastor of the First Lutheran church in Sacramento, California, Dr. Wilson Hoskinson, of Parkville, Michigan; Mrs. Emma E. Wilson, of South Eleventh Street; Mrs. Herbert C. Howe, of Spokane, Washington; John N. Hoskinson, a merchant in New Castle, Nebraska, and Mrs. E. A. Zimmerman, of Johnstown, and an adopted daughter, Miss Annie Lawson, also by one sister, Mrs. Julia Anderson, formerly of Illinois, but now of near of Bolivar. His brothers died during November, 1905. Mrs. W. E. Owens, of Naples, (formerly Amy Hoskinson, a teacher here) is a niece of the deceased.

Funeral services will be held at the Hoskinson home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and interment follows in the Blairsville cemetery Wednesday forenoon.

History of Dixon County, Nebraska: Its pioneers, settlement, growth and ... By William Huse. Page 184:

S. P. Mikesell was born in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, June 14, 1839. Received a preparatory education for college, at Eldersridge Academy, and entered the sophomore class, Pennsylvania College, in 1861. Left the junior class in 1863 and joined the 26th Regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, commanded by Col. Jennings. After the battle of Gettysburg he was appointed clerk in the ordinance office, war department, Washington. Resigned this position in the fall of 1865, and came to Nebraska in March, 1866. Was a resident of Dakota City and Sioux City three years.

In June, 1869, located in Ponca and entered the mercantile business with John Stough under the firm name of Stough & Mikesell. On January 1, 1886, the firm was dissolved, and in September of the same year, Mr. Mikesell opened the large store (38 x 100 feet) which he had previously built and which he has occupied from that time to the present. Mr. Mikesell is one of the most successful and reliable merchants in the county, and in other pursuits as well as merchandise, has an immense business. In education and executive ability he probably has no superiors in the county. At New Castle, Mr. Mikesell has another extensive mercantile establishment of which J. M. Hoskinson is manager. Mr. Mikesell has a wife and three grown up sons. A view of his large residence, as well as his portrait, are seen on the following pages.

JOHN STOUGH VS. WILLIAM L. OGDEN. FILED OCTOBER 7, 1896. No. 6713.

1. Alteration of Instruments: TIME. Whether an alteration apparent from the face of a note was made at, or subsequent to, the time of its execution is a question of fact for the jury, and it is not in such case error to receive in evidence the note sued on, upon proof by the payee that the alleged alteration was made previous to its receipt by him, on the day of its date, from one of the Joint makers thereof.

2. Witnesses: CBOSS-EXAMINATION: DISCRETION OF COURT. The law has conferred upon the trial court some discretion in determining the limits within which the cross-examination of witnesses may be allowed, and its action in that respect will not, in the absence of an abuse of discretion, be the subject of review by this court.

3. Review: INSTRUCTIONS. Where several instructions are grouped in one assignment of the motion for a new trial or petition in error, they will be examined no further than to determine that a single one thereof was rightly given or rightly refused.

ERROR from the district court of Dixon county. Tried below before NORRIS, J. Gantt & Welty, for plaintiff in error. J. J. McCarthy, A. E. Barnes, and Marsh & Henderson, contra.

POST, C. J.

This was an action by William L. Ogden in the district court for Dixon County against S. P. Mikesell, S. K. Bittenbender, and John Stough upon a promissory note for $6,000, bearing date of September 5, 1889, payable to the order of the said Ogden one year after date, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable semiannually. Separate answers were interposed to the petition below, and a trial had, resulting in a verdict and judgment for the plaintiff against the several makers of the note described, from which Stough alone prosecutes error to this court .

The answer of the defendant last named states two defenses, viz.: (1.) That said note was, as the plaintiff well knew, executed by said defendant as surety only and for the accommodation of the Ponca Milling Company, a corporation, and that payment thereof was for a valuable and sufficient consideration by the plaintiff extended from time to time after its maturity without the consent of the answering defendant. (2.) Said note has, without the consent of the defendant, been materially altered since its execution and delivery, by the insertion therein of the prefix "semi" immediately preceding the word "annually," thus making the interest in terms payable semi-annually, whereas the note as executed provided for interest payable annually. The jury, as we have seen, found against the contention of the defendant with respect to both defenses, and we cannot, upon the record, say that the verdict is unwarranted by the evidence. Referring to the second defense it is sufficient to say that Mr. Mikesell, who prepared the note for the signatures of the makers, testifies positively that the alleged alteration was made by him previous to the signing by either of the parties thereto. He is, it is true, contradicted by his co-defendants, but the issue of fact thus made was fairly submitted to the jury, whose finding thereon must be accepted as conclusive. The verdict was right also upon the other issue tendered by the answer, since the evidence fails to sustain the allegation that the note in suit was executed by the defendant as surety for the Ponca Milling Company. True it was in one sense for the accommodation of the milling company, for the reason that the proceeds thereof were devoted to its benefit; but it is also true that Mr. Ogden, the plaintiff, refused to make any advancement upon the credit of that corporation, and expressly stipulated that the loan in question should be made upon the personal credit of the defendants, who are as to him principals, whatever may be their relations toward the corporation named as the result of that transaction.

It is argued that the trial court erred in receiving in evidence the note sued on, without first requiring an explanation of the alleged alteration, which, as we have seen, is the insertion in writing of the prefix "semi" in the printed form employed for that purpose. The plaintiff had, however, testified that he received the note on the day of its date from Mr. Bittenbender, one of the makers thereof, and that it was in the same condition when offered in evidence as when received by him. This evidence certainly tended to prove that the alleged alteration was made by the makers themselves at the time of the execution of the note, and was sufficient, prima facie, to rebut any presumption to the contrary arising from its appearance. The court did not, therefore, err in receiving the note in evidence, the question of the alleged alteration being in the end one of fact for the jury upon all of the evidence adduced. (Goodin v. Plunge, 47 Neb., 284.)

The plaintiff below, in his examination in chief, answered in response to an interrogatory by his attorney, that he had on one occasion, by appointment, met the defendants, when the latter all examined the note; that no objection was made thereto by any one present, and that all agreed that he, plaintiff, should have his money, but could not unite upon the means of paying it. On cross examination he was asked the following question: "Was his [Stough's] attention in any manner drawn to these changes in the note?" to which an objection was interposed and sustained on the ground that it "was assuming something not in evidence." The examination might properly have been allowed, although its exclusion cannot be said to be error calling for a reversal of the judgment. There had, up to that time, been no proof of any alteration of the note subsequent to its execution by Stough, and there is nothing in the record to indicate the purpose of the question, and its exclusion under the circumstances is not prejudicial to the defendant.

It is next argued that the court erred in allowing the plaintiff, upon cross-examination of the defendant Stough, to inquire into the affairs of the milling company. The examination may, it is conceded, have been unnecessarily protracted, but there was no such an abuse of discretion as to warrant a reversal upon that ground.

The remaining questions all relate to instructions given and refused, and are assigned in the motion for a new trial as follows:

"5. The court erred in refusing to give the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, ninth, eighth, first, and seventh instructions asked by the defendant.

"6. The court erred in giving the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth instructions asked by the plaintiff."

It has been repeatedly held by this court that where several instructions are grouped in one assignment of the motion for a new trial, or petition in error, they will be examined no further than to determine that a single one thereof was rightly given or rightly refused. It is not claimed, and cannot be claimed, that the district court erred in refusing all of the instructions enumerated in the fifth assignment, or in giving those enumerated in the sixth assignment. Indeed, the charge, as a whole, stated the law quite as favorably to the defendant as he was entitled to in view of the case as made by the pleadings and proofs. There being no error of record, the judgment will be AFFIRMED.

Sioux City – At Darlington, Gentry County, Missouri, John G. Ogden, of Sioux City, aged 47 years, 1 month and 23 days. The first news of the illness of Mr. Ogden came on Wednesday night in a telegram to his son Lincoln, saying that if he wished to see his father alive to come at once. The son left on the first train and arrived at Darlington at 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon Sept. 30, 1884, three hours after the death of his father. The remains arrived at this, city on the midnight train of last night, and from the son these particulars of the death were learned: On Monday afternoon Mr. Ogden was riding in a wagon with several other gentlemen. A singletree breaking the horses sprang forward, tipping back the seat on which Mr. Ogden was sitting. In falling back his neck struck the end-gate of the wagon. He called to the others that his arms were broken. They were paralyzed from the shoulder down, and his lower limbs were also paralyzed. During his last days he had the best care that kind friends could bestow. As shown by the certificate of the attending physician, death was caused by concussion of the spinal chord.

The deceased was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, June 8, 1837. He came to Dakota City seventeen year, ago and after the death of his first wife, was married there. Ten years ago he removed to this city and engaged in the mercantile business with B. 8S Holmes. The partnership lasted a year. After going out of this business Mr. Ogden went to the Black Hills, and after his return was several terms city marshal.

He leaves three sons, Lincoln and Amos by his first marriage, and Otis, the son of his second wife. At the time of his death he was engaged in railroad work, as he has been for several years past, as foreman for S. Smead, of this city. The deceased was a member of both the Knights of Pythias and Freemasons, and it is expected that the funeral will be in charge of the former order. There was an insurance of $3,000 on his life in the endowment rank of the first named order, which, it is understood, is payable to his eldest son, who for several years has paid the dues and assessments. The remains were taken to the residence of Mrs. W. Bowdlear, Bluff Street, between West Sixth and Seventh, where Amos Ogden makes his home. The funeral will be from that residence at 10:30 a.m. today.

Notes for Jacob (Adamy) Adammire:

Wrightsville - A fire entailing a loss of about $1,500 occurred this morning Feb. 5, 1912 at 10 o'clock in the double frame dwelling house on South Front Street occupied by Jacob Adammire and his son, Henry Adammire. The fire was discovered shortly before 10 o'clock on the second floor of the home of Jacob Adammire, and is thought to have been caused by a defective flue. The flames had gained considerable headway when the firemen arrived with their apparatus and it was at first thought that the entire building would be consumed. The Wrightsville Hardware company, whose plant is nearby, had the first plug stream playing, which was followed by two chemical streams and two plug streams by the firemen. The second floor of the building with its contents and the roof of the building was badly damaged. Considerable loss was sustained to the furniture in both the houses by the water and chemicals. The firemen were hampered in fighting the flames by the intense cold weather. Several firemen made narrow escapes from being suffocated by the smoke. The damage to the building and contents is covered by Insurance and is carried by the Phoenix Fire Insurance company, of Hartford, Connecticut.

An 83-year-old man, walking on crutches, was severely injured last evening at 6:30 o'clock when he was struck by an auto in the 700-block East King Street. George William Swartz, rear 124 South Pattison Street, received a compound fracture of the left leg, a fracture of the left arm, a fractured rib and lacerations of the scalp and face. He also suffered from shock. Taken to York hospital by the city ambulance he was admitted in "serious" condition. Hospital authorities said he responded well when given plasma and his condition later was listed as "satisfactory." Police identified the driver of the auto as Jacob Weinbrom, 360 East Poplar Street. Mrs. C. Hessler, 1600 First Avenue, Elmwood, said she slowed down her auto to let Swartz pass the Weinbrom's car passed her and hit Swartz. Swartz was hit by the left side of the vehicle, breaking the headlight, and was thrown onto the hood and down in the fender. Police said the brakes apparently took hold on only one wheel of Weinbrom's car.

George W. Swartz, 83, of 124 South Pattison Street, who was hit by a car Monday evening, died at 3:25 p. m. yesterday Jan. 12, 1949 at York hospital as a result of his injuries. Swartz, who used crutches, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, a fracture of the left arm, a fractured rib, and lacerations to the scalp and face when he was struck in the 700-block, East King Street. Coroner Lester J. Sell said a post-mortem would be performed this morning. An inquest will be held, he said, but no date for it has been set. Swartz was struck by a car driven by Jacob Weinbrom, 360 East Poplar Street. Police said Weinbrom was passing a car.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for George W. Swartz, 83, of 124 South Pattison Street, who died Wednesday Jan. 12, 1949 of injuries suffered when hit by an automobile two days before. The funeral services were conducted at the Memorial Funeral home Henry Sleeper and Sons. Rev. Paul J. Seltzer, pastor of Bethany and Olivet Moravian churches, officiated. George had some schooling, but was mostly self-educated. In 1844, the family moved to Holt County, Missouri, settling in Lewis township two miles northeast of Oregon. George engaged in farming with his father until 1849. He joined the Gold Rush to California and was one of the first to leave Holt County for the Pacific Coast. He went with his brother Andrew and Judge McIntyre; their wagon was the first to cross the Missouri River at Iowa Point - the crossing usually selected by emigrants from Holt County. They left the Iowa and Sac agency May 1, 1849 and reached Hangtown, California August 13, beating the main body of emigrants from Holt County who stated 3 days later on May 3 by more than a month. He searched for gold mainly on the American River, usually within 2 miles of the initial discovery by Sutter and Marshall. He started back to Missouri in September 1850. He selected the water route via Isthmus of Panama and by way of New York.

Notes for Osmer Deloss Hardman:

A History of Northwest Missouri, Volume 3, edited by Walter Williams.

O. D. Hardman. What may be accomplished when one is young, strong, clear of brain and studiously inclined, in this twentieth century, is being demonstrated by O. D. Hardman, who is engaged in cultivating 120 acres of land in Hickory Township, Holt County. The agricultural community of Northwest Missouri has undergone a wonderful transformation in the past several decades, but methods and returns have not yet reached their ultimately high standard, and it is to such progressive, energetic and industrious young farmers as Mr. Hardman that Holt and the surrounding counties must look for the advancement which will bring about improved conditions. In the meantime he is steadfastly carrying on his labors in tilling the soil and in building up his substantial position in the community.

Mr. Hardman was born in Ottawa County, Kansas, March 17, 1884, and is a son of Albert and Mattie (Goodwin) Hardman. The family was founded in Holt County about the year 1880 or 1881, and a short time later went on to Ottawa County, Kansas. However, the father had become so favorably impressed with Northwest Missouri, that after a short time in Kansas he returned to Holt County, settling on a farm located north of the Town of Newpoint. There he continued to be engaged in farming and stock raising until failing health caused his retirement and removal to Idaho, where his death occurred. He was a man of industry and enterprise, of fidelity to engagements and of strict integrity in all dealings, and won a reputation that made his name an honored one in business circles. The mother, who still survives, is a woman of many excellencies, both of mind and heart. There were three children in the family: Laura, who became the wife of W. H. Huntsman; Ola, who married Charles Conn; and O. D., of this review.

O. D. Hartman was brought up amid the farming locality of Holt County, and here, during the winter months, attended the district schools. Being the only son in his father's family, he was early called upon to share in the duties and labors of the farm's management, and thus received a training in his youth that has since proved invaluable to him. He was married in Holt County, to Miss Pansy Kunkel, a daughter of Benjamin Franklin Kunkel, who was a well-known farmer and pioneer settler of Hickory Township. Mr. Kunkel was married several times, as was also his wife, and they had a number of children, but Pansy was the only one by their union. Mrs. Hardman was born and reared on the farm which she and her husband occupy, and which is known as the Kunkel homestead. This is one of the old properties of this township, the first buildings thereon having been erected some forty years ago by one Huntsman. When Mr. Hardman first located on this land, the tract consisted of but forty acres, but to this original acreage he has added from time to time until he now has 120 acres, all under a good state of cultivation. His improvements consist of a modern residence, substantial barn and good outbuildings, the farm is well fenced and drained, the live stock is of a high grade and everything about the property denotes good management and well-directed industry.

Mr. Hardman is a republican in his political views, and is fraternally an Odd Fellow. His religious connection is with the Christian Church, while Mrs. Hardman is a Presbyterian.

Notes for John Wesley Hare:

Biographical history of Cloud County, Kansas: biographies of representative. By E. F. Hollibaugh, page 635:

John W. Hare is a native of Indiana, born in 1852 (for ancestry, see sketch of Mark Hare). When a boy Mr. Hare's parents emigrated to Iowa and subsequently to Missouri, where Mr. Hare received a common school education. He began his career on a farm at the age of fourteen years. In 1871, he came to Kansas and took up the homestead where he now lives in Lyon Township, about four miles from Glasco. The family took up four hundred and eighty acres of land in a body, or three homesteads. Mr. Hare raises wheat extensively and at the present time has two hundred and forty acres. In 1898-9 his ground yielded on an average forty bushels of wheat to the acre. He has made wheat growing a specialty.

Mr. Hare was married, in 1870, to Mamie Kunkel of Holt County, Missouri, a daughter of Jacob Kunkel. Their family consists of three sons. Mark, Edward, and Arthur, all of whom have reached their majority. Mark, the eldest son, married May Prince, daughter of Ferd Prince of Glasco. Edward is married to Myrtle Childs.

Politically, Mr. Hare is a Republican. He is a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Glasco. Mr. Hare has one of the best homes in his township. In 1884 he built a comfortable frame residence. He is a frugal and successful farmer. Mrs. Hare is an estimable woman and their home is a pleasant one.

John Wesley Hare was born at Bedford, Taylor County, Iowa, Nov. 3, 1851, and died April 20, 1921 at the age of 69 years, 5 months and 17 days. In 1870 he moved to Cloud County, Kansas, and settled on a farm which became his permanent home. In 1875 he was united in marriage to Damaris Jane Kunkle at Newport, Heit County, Missouri.

To this union were born four sons, Marcus W., Edwin C., Arthur L., and Franklin S. Franklin died in infancy and Marcus died in 1903. Hare of Glasco; and five sisters, Mrs. Mead Goff of Topeka; Mrs. Alice White of Delphos; Mrs. Verdine Welch of Salem, Oregon; Mrs. Ida Sheets of Glasco; and Mrs. Etta Emmick of Miltonvale. He united with the Christian Church in early manhood and made that his church home till the time of his death.

Notes for Abraham Slade (Abram) Pearce:

Mr. Pearce in 1885 with his wife and nine children settled in Kansas and thier pioneer home was a sod house with a single room. Another room was added later and still later a kitchen, but the "soddy" was not abandoned until after a lapse of 28 years, when Mr. Pearce erected his present substantial farm home, which has all the comforts and conveniences and stands as a progressive improvement in that part of Ness County.

The experiences of Mr. Pearce as a farmer in Ness County are interesting. From the first he tried to cultivate the soil and grow crops, but had many setbacks and failures. His first attempt was as a corn grower. That had been a favorite in Missouri, but after two or three plantings in Ness County he gave it up as impossible. He had beter success with wheat, and has been one of the growers of Ness County for a great many years. During his entire experience he has recorded only two complete failures. His best yield of wheat was about 25 bushels to the acre.

His substantial prosperity is the result of his activity as a stock raiser. That has always yilded him a steadfast income, and his handling of stock has enabled him to acquire ownership of 4 quarter sections and bring his land up the best standard of improvement. His family home is in section 28, township 28, range 26. Mention has already been made of the substantial residence he erected there, and in addition he has put up good barns, granaries and other improvements.

His arrival in Kansas brought a progressive and public spirited citizan to Ness County. He has always taken an interest in local politics, and has filled the office of township trustee. An active republican, he was defeated during the populist era for the office of county treasurer. He has never joined a church nor any fraternal order.

He married Mary Ellen (Mollie) Casey 12 Dec 1871 in Holt Co, Missouri, daughter of Daniel Casey. She was born 15 Apr 1852 in Andrew Co, Missouri, and died 18 Sep 1917 in Oregon, Holt Co, Missouri.

Notes for Daniel Buehler Kunkel, Jr.:

Oregon, Missouri – Daniel Kunkel, one of those who lived within a few years of his entire lifetime in this county, coming here when a mere lad with his parents from Crawford County, Ohio, was the host to the members of Meyer Post, G.A.R., at his elegant new home in the western addition, on Saturday of last week, December 12, 1914. His good wife was also a party to the affair, it not only being her husband's birthday, but it was also her wedding day, and the two joined in making the occasion a most enjoyable and ever remembered one by the members of the Post. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel was elaborately decorated in national colors for the occasion, and as the "boys" arrived they were relieved of wraps and ushered into the spacious rooms by Masters Kenneth Kunkel and Clarence Dissinger, and were most heartily received by Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel. Seventeen comrades came to greet this kindly couple on the birthday and wedding anniversary, and good cheer and comradeship prevailed throughout their stay, and they went home tilled with gratification and conscious that they had been well paid for the visit, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. The Post transacted its regular business, including the election of officers for the year 1915, who will be installed at the January meeting, at the home of Thomas Frye, on January 23.

The proceedings were followed by an elaborate two-course luncheon. Mrs. Kunkel in serving was assisted by Mrs. Roy Kunkel. Mrs. Dan Zachman, Mrs. Dan. R. Kunkel and Mrs. B. F. Kunkel, Kenneth Kunkel and Clarence Dissinger, who kept the "grub-pile" heaping high all the time, and if any of the old fellows went away hungry it was not because of lack of commissary supplies, or because there was a lack of numbers to keep them supplied. Mrs. Geo. Meyer, Mrs. Alice Kunz, Mrs. F. S. Rostock and Mrs. B. F. Kunkel were guests of Mrs. Kunkel, and seemed to share with the veterans in the joyousness of the occasion, and added to the pleasure of the occasion. The host was called on for a speech, and he told of many amusing incidents connected with his experience of a young soldier, and cited the fact that he drilled as a militiaman in 1861, on the grounds now occupied by his home, and that he was mustered into the militia service by Jas. L. Allen, now deceased; that the grounds then belonged to a Mr. Bing Trigg. He also described the Blair Lane fight, the only battle fought in Holt County, and it was a bloodless contest; this fight occurred in September, 1861. The following March he enlisted in the 4th M.S.M. Cavalry and served for three years, being less than 17 years of age at the time of his enlistment.

W. H. Hardman also spoke, referring to the kindly hand of Providence, that came forth in many incidents of his military experience, whereby his life had been spared. D. P. Dobyns delivered the congratulatory speech for the Post, congratulating the host and hostess, and extending the thanks of the Post for their generous reception and royal entertainment. The souvenirs were tiny drum, tilled with candy, and the napkin bore the national emblem. A bunch of the comrades were seared at a walnut table, which was made by his father, Daniel Kunkel, Sr., in the old home in Ohio, and at which the host ate his first meal seated in a baby's high chair.

At the meeting Saturday, there were five veterans who served in the same regiment and the first four served in the same company – Company F, 4th M.S.M. Cavalry; B. F. Kunkel, Forest City; Philip Rush, Daniel Kunkel, the host; Jack Markt, and William Turnham, of Company B. In addition to these, the following . . . and F. S. Rostock.

Oregon, Missouri, Dec. 18, 1914 - Daniel Kunkel was born at Gaillon, Ohio, December 12, 1844. IN 1844 his uncle, Jacob Kunkel, an elder brother of his father, moved to Holt Count, Missouri, and settled one mile west of the Hollister Mill and nine miles east of Oregon. He was so well pleased with the country and sent back to the family in Ohio such glowing accounts of this garden spot of the world, that it induced his father, Daniel Kunkel, Sr.; uncle, F. S. Rostock, Sr.; uncle, Jacob finical and uncle, Barnabas Kunkel, together with all their families, to follow him to this country in the autumn of 1847. At that time there were no railroads in Indiana, . . . Missouri, so they rigged up wagons and teams of horses to bring them here to Missouri. While the mode of travel was rather strong, they got here safe and none the worse on account of the overland trip. His father entered 320 acres of land lying directly east of Oregon, and paid $1.25 per acre to 160 acres lying next to Oregon. His father's family at that time consisted of his wife Veronica, Gideon, the oldestson, John F., Daniel, . . . son, and Margaret, . . . Mrs. A. J. Jamison. All the above were born in Ohio, excepting the father, who was born in York, Pennsylvania, and mother, who was born in Baden, Germany, and died in 1857. Cornelius and Curtis were born here, John F. and . . . are now deceased. Gideon is living at Anadarko, Oklahoma and is in the milling business. Daniel is at home in Oregon, Missouri. His father married again, and married Elizabeth Haner, from Germany. His second family comprised Elizabeth, now Mrs. R. Schlotzhauer, of Los Angeles, California; Albert, of . . . ; George W., Sandy, Palms, California; Lydia, now Mrs. Daniel Webster, of Emporia, Kansas, ad Mary and D . . . of Los Angeles, California.

In 1854 his father built a flour mill, one mile east of Oregon, Missouri, known as the "Dutch Mills." . . . mill was run by water power from the stream called West Mill Creek. On East Mill Creek was Foster's flour mill, ad Watson's woolen mill, and . . . here were also some sawmills on these streams and all run by water power. In those times you could . . . spring of pure cold living water in almost every valley or hollow. "Where are we now?" All these streams and springs which used to drive so much machinery and furnish us so many cool and refreshing drinks are gone forever.

In building and making these improvements, his father and Gideon and John E. had a great deal to do. Not long after they came here the great '49 emigration to California commenced, and he can just remember about George Meyer and his brother, Andrew, fitting out their ox team and starting for the gold fields of California. It was then the road leading past their home, and had on it almost a continuous stream of covered wagons. Their near neighbors were Indians, who came to visit them daily from Kansas side of the Missouri River. He well remembers Indian Chief Hughes, who had blue eyes and spoke English fluently, and suspicioned he was a white man.

The '49 excitement had not ceased when the Brigham Young Mormon emigration began. This continued the stream of covered wagons for a much longer time. One family of Mormons camped near their home for a week or more. The head of the family, Mr. Blazzard, had seven wives were out gathering hazel, walnut and other nuts and brought in wood and worked otherwise, Blazzard sat outside, propped up against his tent and blowed his tin horn. You see the men let the women do the work," in those days, too. Mr. Kunkel says: "The Platte Purchase country was the great outfitting place for all this heavy emigration. Our produce brought the ready cash. Our medium of exchange was gold and silver, checks and a bank was unknown. All this time our country was improving and settling up. Missouri being a slave state, we had many slaveholders and one important product of the country was hemp, all raised by slave labor. At the same time the country was filling up with people from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and the East, which the Southern element called Freed-Sollets. We had a little taste of war here before 1861. We had what was called the "Border Ruffian" warfare. Our slaveholders would cross the Missouri River to vote in Kansas, to make Kansas a slave state. History shows that this was one of the great causes of the civil war. The Missouri River was dividing line between us and the plains. The wild buffalo was not more than 20 miles west of us. A first class Indian tanned buffalo robe could be bought from the Indians for $2.50. . . .

It will be seen that the subject of our sketch, and the kindly host to his comrades on last Saturday was but a youngster of three years when he first came to Hot County, and it has practically been his home these 67 years. His first army experience dates from October 8, 1861, when he enlisted in Company F, 6th M.S.M. serving six months. In March, 1862, he re-enlisted in Company F, 4th M.S.M. Cavalry and served three years.

December 12, 1871, he married Mary E. Casey, who is still traveling along life's pathway with him, and enjoying the best of health with him – a happy, devoted Christian pair. They have three living children: Mrs. Elwood McDonald, of St. Joseph; Roy and Daniel, of Oregon, and these have brought Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel six sparkling grandchildren. Mr. Kunkel was elected county clerk in 1886, and served one term.

Notes for Jennie Kunkel:

Oregon, Missouri, Feb. 15, 1889 - Jennie Kunkel of typhoid pneumonia. She was the daughter of J. H. and Margaret Kunkel. She struggled under the influence of the above disease for five weeks. She was born, January 16th, 1881, and died, February 4th, 1889, being eight years and eighteen days at her death. Her life was a brief one, although it was well filled with affliction for it was four years that she could not walk. Although her life was so brief and full of suffering, yet she taught all who knew her lessons of patience and resignation. Jennie will always be missed, not only in the family from which she was taken, but by all within the circle of acquaintance. But she has fought her battle and bid farewell, not only to the family who so intently mourn their loss, but she has also bidden farewell to all her sufferings. Heaven will be doubly dear to the parents for now they have there the most precious jewel of their flock.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Stephen Blanchard, and remarks were made from "Thy word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path." Ps, 119, 105. Her remains were followed by a large concourse of people, to their resting place in the Maple Grove Cemetery to wait the resurrection.

When we see a precious blossom, that we tended with such care, Rudely taken from our bosom, How our aching hearts despair! 'Round its little grave we linger, 'Till the sitting sun is low, Feeling all our hopes have perished, With the flower we cherished so. We shall sleep but, not for ever, There will be a glorious dawn We shall meet to part no never, On the resurrection morn!

She was united in marriage to Philo P. Way on April 8, 1866, and moved with him to a homestead in Kansas, locating in Republic County, where she lived the life of a pioneer and remained until 1901; when they moved to Concordia. Philo P. Way, her husband, who was a Civil War veteran and an honored member of the G.A.R.; Mrs. Aluta Acheson of Wayne, Dr. F. E. Way and Dalton L. Way, of Kansas City, N. P. Notes for Philo Philander Way:

Concordia, Kansas, April 1, 1920 – Philo Philander Way was born in Indiana, Adams County, on November 27, 1840. His mother died while he was young and he spent most of his boyhood days near Oregon, Holt County, Missouri, with an older brother named Lucias Way. After enlisting in Co. E. 89th Indiana Volunteer Infantry, he served three years in the Union Army in the Civil War. After being honorably discharged at the close of the war he returned to Holt County, Missouri, where he married Miss Margaret Ann Kunkel. With his young wife at his side he settled upon a homestead in Republic County, Kansas, upon which homestead part of the present town site of Talmo, Kansas is now located, in May, 1866. This homestead was still in his possession at the time of his death.

After the death of his wife in 1913 he moved to Kansas City to make his home with his son, Franklin E. Way, at 2301 East Sixth Street where he met death at 1:30 p. m., March 28, 1920; dying of heart disease and influenza. In his earlier manhood days, he was an active Christian worker in the Cumberland Presbyterian church. In conversation with his son Franklin a short time before his death he said: "I do not want to die just yet, but I am ready any time to go." His age was 79 years, 4 months and one day. His life was one of industry and privation always being devoted to his friends and family.

Surviving are Franklin E. Way, M. D., 2301 East 6th Street, Kansas City, Missouri; D. L. Way, 2937 Brooklyn, Kansas City; N. P. Way, Talmo, Kansas, and Mrs. S. A. Way, East 6th Street, Concordia, Kansas. Mr. Way was the first county clerk of Republic County.

Notes for Henry G. Strayer:

Henry G. Strayer, the son of John & Elizabeth (Grimm) Strayer, in 1860 he was a carpenter living in Hopewell Township, York County, Pennsylvania. He stood 5' 7" tall and had black hair and blue eyes.

A Civil War veteran, he enlisted in York February 26, 1864, mustered into federal service at Harrisburg February 27 as an unassigned bugler with the 3rd Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery (152nd Pa). Allegedly wounded - date, place, and nature of wound not stated - he transferred to Co. B, 188th Pennsylvania Infantry to date July 26, 1864, and honorably discharged with his company December 14, 1865.

He married Elizabeth Slough, but children, if any, and the reason for the conclusion of their relationship remain unknown. He then married Rose Ann Hartman and fathered Frances Ann "Annie" (b. 05/29/66 - married James Flinchbaugh), Clara Lillian (b. 03/22/69 - married Victor U. G. Snyder), Ida May (b. @1871), Henry (b. @1873), David Franklin (b. 08/04/75), Rella M. Gibson). In 1890, he lived in North Hopewell Township, York County (which may have been where he was living in 1860), and died at his son James' home in Yoe, York County, from "broncho-pneumonia caused by a fall and contracting a cold" with "old age" a contributing factor.

Evan Griffin Gemmill, the son of George & Mary Ann (Sykes) Gemmill, in 1860 he was a farmer living in Hopewell Township, York County, Pennsylvania. B, 209th Pennsylvania Infantry, and honorably discharged with his company May 31, 1865.

As you can see, the tombstone spells his first name "Even." However, this spelling is in conflict with all of Gemmill's military records and his pension file. There was an "Even Gemmill" living contemporaneously in Hopewell Township, but he is not the same person.

Notes for Florence P. ?:

York - Argument on a bill in equity before Judge Ray P. Sherwood yesterday April 9, 1946 was continued until next Friday morning unless Attorney John Carl Foster, counsel for the defendant, Mrs. Florence P. Kunkel, presents a doctor's certificate to the court showing that his client is ill. If he does this there may be further continuance. The plaintiff in the action is Robert H. Paules, a former Wrightsville serviceman, and involves alleged breach of agreement for the sale of a property owned by Mrs. Kunkel at 1210 Lancaster Avenue.

When court convened yesterday morning the plaintiff and his counsel, Attorneys Ralph F. Fisher and Carl R. May, were ready to present their argument on behalf of the bill of complaint, but the defendant, Mrs. Kunkel, and her counsel, Attorney Foster, were not present. Judge Sherwood directed Court Crier Harry Peeling to summon Foster to the court room. On arriving Foster told the court his client is ill, and that he had so informed the plaintiff's counsel. Fisher demanded proof of her illness. Then Sherwood directed that Foster produce a doctor's certificate as to her physical condition. The judge stated that if it was not forthcoming argument in the case would be heard Friday morning.

According to the bill of complaint, Mrs. Kunkel, on Dec. 19, 1945 entered into an agreement for the sale and transfer of the Lancaster avenue property to Paules for $4,750, and that she accepted $100 to bind the deal, the balance of the purchase price ' to be paid Jan. 2, 1946. It is further averred that efforts to have her appear and receive the balance and deliver a deed to the property proved futile. Now the court is asked to direct the plaintiff to deliver a deed for the property upon payment of $4,650 by Paules.

In an answer to the bill, Mrs. Kunkel admits many of the averments, but claims that she did not enter into the agreement of "her own will."

Marbourg V. Lewis Cook Manufacturing Co. Filed November 2S, 1884. Attachment—Defrauding Creditors—Affidavit—Dissolution.

In an action instituted by a creditor against the defendant on a claim not due, an attachment was sued out under the provisions of sections 230 and 231 of the Code. The affidavit charged, among other things, that the defendant had sold and conveyed and otherwise disposed of his property with the intent to cheat and defraud his creditors, and to hinder and delay them in the collection of their debts. Upon the hearing of a motion filed by the defendant to dissolve the attachment upon the ground that the affidavit for the attachment was untrue, it was shown by the creditor that the defendant was insolvent; that he had executed to another four promissory notes, and to secure the same had given to the payee thereof four chattel mortgages; and that he had included in the notes and chattel mortgages an amount of indebtedness in excess of the bona fide amount due to the payee of the notes, with the intent to transfer all of his non-exempt personal property to the mortgagee in payment and satisfaction of an indebtedness very much less than the face of the promissory notes, and for the purpose of cheating and defrauding his other creditors, and also for the purpose of hindering and delaying them in the collection of their debts. Held, that upon this showing the court properly overruled the motion to dissolve the attachment. Wallner v. Wyhe, 25 Kan. 138; Winstead v. Hulme, 32 Kan. 8; 4 Pac. Rep. 194.

Error from Nemaha County.

Action brought January 7, 1884, by the Lewis Cook Manufacturing Company against Oscar O. Marbourg, in the district court of Nemaha County, to recover $1,721.56 upon two certain negotiable promissory notes executed by the defendant to the plaintiff, which said notes were not due at the time of the filing of the petition. At the same time the plaintiff filed the affidavit of H. C. Solomon, its duly-authorized attorney, for attachment, which affidavit was in due form, and, as grounds for attachment, alleged that "the said defendant, Oscar O. Marbourg, had sold and conveyed and otherwise disposed of his property with the fraudulent intent to cheat and defraud his creditors, and to hinder and delay them in the collection of their debts; that the said defendant, Oscar O. Marbourg, was about to make a sale or conveyance and disposition of his property with the fraudulent intent to cheat and defraud his creditors, and to hinder and delay them in the collection of their debts, and was about to remove his property with the intent and to the effect of cheating and defrauding his creditors, and hindering and delaying them in the collection of their debts." At the same time plaintiff filed an undertaking and attachment bond, which were, in all respects, in due form of law. Thereupon the clerk of the district court issued an order of attachment to the sheriff of Nemaha county, and on January 7, 1884, at 2 o'clock p. M., he executed the same by attaching a large amount of goods, wares, chattels, and personal property as the property of Oscar O. Marbourg, in Nemaha county, and the order of attachment was thereafter, in due form, returned to the clerk of the district court. On February 4, 1884, the defendant filed his answer to the petition of the plaintiff, containing a general denial, and stating that the plaintiff's pretended cause of action had not accrued at the time the action was brought, and also alleging that he had paid all sums, of every kind and nature, that were due, or to become due, to the plaintiff from him. To this answer the plaintiff filed a reply containing a general denial of all the allegations therein. On February 5, 1884, the defendant filed his motion to dissolve the attachment for the following reasons: First, because no sufficient affidavit or bond had been filed as required by law; second, because the proceedings for attachment were irregular, informal, and void; and, third, because the facts stated in the affidavit for attachment were untrue, and without any foundation; and also filed his affidavit, which was duly verified, denying the truth of each and every ground set forth in the affidavit for attachment. This motion was heard at the April term of court for 1884. Affidavits and oral testimony were introduced upon the hearing thereof. The court made and filed the following conclusions of fact:

"(1) On or about September 9, 1882, the defendant embarked in the hardware business at Sabetha, a city of about 1,500 inhabitants, in this county. He had recently purchased E. J lot 4, block 29, in Sabetha, which had a business building thereon, and he purchased his opening stock of hardware about September 9, 1882, amounting to about $6,000, from the Western Hardware Company, a corporation doing a wholesale hardware business at Atchison, Kansas, of which corporation his brother, W. W. Marbourg, was president and manager. Said corporation failed in business on September 25, 1882. Within a few months afterwards said W. W. Marbourg bought up and took assignments of the claims of creditors against the corporation, but the business had never been resumed.

"(2) Said defendant remained in business until January 2, 1884, and was apparently carrying on a large trade, and his goods were stored in several localities in Sabetha for want of room in said business building. At said last date his stock was very large for that place, there being two other tolerably large and one other small hardware store in Sabetha. In some of the lines of his trade he had enough goods for two or three years, while in other lines he was not overstocked, although having a good supply. Between August 1, 1883, and January 1, 1884, he had become indebted to merchants and manufacturers for goods over the sum of $18,000, nearly all of which indebtedness matured in January and February, 1884.

"(3) On or about January 2, 1884, the defendant executed and delivered to said W. W. Marbourg four several promissory notes, which were secured by four chattel mortgages, as follows: First. A promissory note for 83,287.10, to the order of said W. W. Marbourg, in ten days, with interest at ten per cent, per annum from date, secured by a chattel mortgage on all wagons, wagon and buggy, phaeton, and spring-wagon parts, in building known as Baker carpenter shop, on lot 7, block 27, Sabetha, and also said building on said lot 8, all wagons set up on lots 9 and 10, block 29, Sabetha, and all wire, smooth and barbed, mixed paints, axes, picks, buggies and buggy parts, clothes-wringers, nails, scales, and all hardware, merchandise, goods and chattels, and all other property, of every kind and nature, in said buildings or on said lots. Second. A promissory note for 86,000 payable to the order of said W. W. Marbourg in 30 days, with interest at 8 per cent, per annum from date, secured by a chattel mortgage on all hardware, wire, nails, cutlery, shelf goods, stoves, tinware, woodenware, guns, clocks, buggies, paints, oil and lead, and all goods, chattels, wares, and merchandise, and all other property, of every kind and nature, in building occupied by O. O. Marbourg as a hardware store on E. £ lot 4, block 29, Sabetha. Third. A promissory note for 84,000, payable to the "order of said W. W. Marbourg in 20 days, with interest at 10 per cent, per annum from date, secured by a chattel mortgage on all stoves, ranges, wagons, nails, buggies, parts of buggies, barbed wire, fence staples, buckthorn wire fencing, corn-shellers, and all goods, chattels, wares, and merchandise, and all other property, of every kind or nature, in the two sheds occupied by said O. O. Marbourg as store-houses on the west end of O. O. Marbourg's homestead, known as lots 1 to 12, block 6, in Sabetha. Fourth. A promissory note for 87,949.33, payable to the order of said W. W. Marbourg in 40 days, with interest at 12 per cent, per annum from date, secured by a chattel mortgage which covers and describes all of the personal property mentioned in the first three mortgages, and, in addition, all feedmills and wagons in and around said store building, and all goods, wares, and merchandise in the Whittenhall barn, used as a store-house; also two wagons standing in front of said homestead in the street; also the books of account of said O. O. Marbourg, showing indebtedness due said O. O. Marbourg, and all other merchandise, goods, wares, and chattels held by said O. O. Marbourg, or under his control, used in the business of said O. O. Marbourg, or dealt in by him in the hardware and implement business, and not before more fully specified, and situate in Sabetha, Nemaha county, Kansas. But said mortgage is given subject to said other three mortgages for 83,287.10, 80,000, and 84,000, respectively. Each of said mortgages contains provisions for the taking of immediate possession by the mortgagee when in his judgment the possession and custody of the same in said O. O. Marbourg shall be deemed unsafe, or upon the issue of any attachment or other legal process, or in case the mortgagee shall deem the security insufficient, and that the mortgagee may sell at public or private sale without notice, for cash, or on credit, and that all expenses of caring for and selling the property, as well as said indebtedness and interest, shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale.

"(4) At the time of taking said mortgages said W. W. Marbourg also requested the defendant to convey to his mother, Anna M. Marbourg, of Shellsburg, Pennsylvania, said E. J of lot 4, block 29, Sabetha, and the- defendant and his wife did so make a deed of conveyance of said property on January 2, 1884, which was then handed to said W. W. Marbourg. The consideration for said deed was a first and bona fide indebtedness of $2,000 from the defendant to his mother, which the defendant had been owing for many years, and on which he had kept the interest paid up, without paying any part of the principal.

"(5) On January 3, 1884, at 8 o'clock A. M., said W. W. Marbourg filed said four chattel mortgages and said deed with the register of deeds of this county, and said mortgages were duly filed and entered, and said deed duly recorded.

"(6) As soon as said chattel mortgages were executed, and before the filing thereof, said W. W. Marbourg, with the consent of the defendant, took possession of all the property covered by said chattel mortgages, including the books of account, and said W. W. Marbourg left said accounts, amounting to about 81,000, with his attorney at Sabetha for collection.

"(7) After making said chattel mortgages and said deed, the defendant had remaining no real estate except his homestead, and no tangible personal property except his household goods and other exempt personalty, and no visible or apparent means of paying any of his other creditors unless there should be a surplus in the hands of said W. W. Marbourg after satisfying said chattel mortgages, which amounted in nil to ¥21,236.43.

"(8) On or about January 4, 1884, said W. W. Marbourg sold and transferred all of the property covered by said chattel mortgages except one buckboard, one phaeton, and the accounts and account-books, to Harvey L. Whittaker of Atchison, Kansas, for the express consideration of $21,000, of which 81,000 was paid down, and for the remainder said Harvey L. Whittaker executed and delivered to said W. W. Marbourg four promissory notes, payable to his order, each for 85,000, and payable in 60 and 90 days, and 4 and 6 months, respectively, with 8 per cent, interest thereon. Said Harvey L. Whittaker was in possession of said property when the first attachment in these cases was levied, and all of said property was taken from his possession by the sheriff on the attachments in these cases, but said property had not been in any way removed either by said W. W. Marbourg or Harvey L. Whittaker when said attachments were levied, but the same remained in the same condition as before the execution of said chattel mortgages.

"(9) Although the defendant was indebted to said W. W. Marbourg, and said W. W. Marbourg held certain evidences of indebtedness against the defendant before the execution of said four promissory notes and said four chattel mortgages, yet said indebtedness was not near so large as the aggregate of said four promissory notes, as the defendant must have known; but the real indebtedness was greatly enlarged by the defendant in said four promissory notes, and as so enlarged was secured by said four chattel mortgages for the purpose and with the intent on the part of the defendant of transferring all of his non-exempt personal property to said W. W. Marbourg in payment and satisfaction of his indebtedness to said W. W. Marbourg, which was very much less than 821,236.43, and very much less than the value of the property covered by said chattel mortgages, and for the purpose of cheating and defrauding his other creditors who had sold him goods, and hindering and delaying them in the collection of their debts, and not for the mere purpose of preferring said W. W. Marbourg as a creditor for the amount of the real, actual, and existing indebtedness of the defendant to said W. W. Marbourg."

And thereon the court made and filed the following conclusions of law:

"(1) Shortly before the commencement of these actions, and the issue of orders of attachments therein, the defendant had mortgaged, transferred, and disposed of his property with the fraudulent intent to cheat and defraud his creditors, and to hinder and delay them in the collection of their debts.

"(2) The several motions to dissolve the attachments in these actions, on the ground that the causes for attachment alleged in the several affidavits are untrue, should be overruled."

Motion to dissolve was overruled. The defendant excepted, and brings the case here. Everest d Waygener, for plaintiff in error.

Smith d Solomon, T & J, for defendant Bissett, Conicell d Wells, J. D. McCutne, and Jackson d Royse, for defendant in error.

Hubb, J. The creditors of Oscar O. Marbourg, to the number of 21, instituted actions in the court below against him by attachments. The aggregate amount sought to be recovered in these several actions was about $17,000. Nearly all of the actions were brought upon claims not due. A large amount of property was attached. The affidavits for attachments on the claims not due, alleged, among other things, the grounds set forth in section 230 of the Code. The affidavits /or attachments upon the claims due were drawn under section 190 of the Code. In each case, O. O. Marbourg filed a motion to dissolve the attachment, alleging that the grounds set forth in the affidavit for attachment were untrue. The motions in all the cases were heard at the April term of the district court for 1884, and on the hearing thereof it was agreed, inasmuch as each of the motions presented the same questions, that all should be heard together, and the evidence taken in any one case was used and considered in all the other cases, so far as the same were relevant and competent. On the hearing, the court below overruled the motions to dissolve the attachments in each case, and the plaintiff in error now seeks to have this court review and reverse the action of the district court. Three questions are presented by plaintiff in error, as follows, viz.: First, that the findings of fact of the court below were not sustained by the evidence; second, that the court below erred in admitting to be read in evidence a copy of a bill of sale, without any effort being made to obtain the original, which was shown to be in existence; third, that the court erred in admitting other incompetent evidence.

The court, at the request of the parties, made its conclusions of fact and of law. Among its conclusions of fact was the following:

"Although the defendant was indebted to said W. W. Marbourg, and said W. Marbourg held certain evidences of indebtedness against the defend**t before the execution of said four promissory notes and said four chattel mortgages, yet said indebtedness was not near so large as the aggregate of said four promissory notes, as the defendant must have known; but the real indebtedness was greatly enlarged by the defendant in said four promissory notes, and, as so enlarged, was secured by said four chattel mortgages for the purpose and with the intent, on the part of the defendant, of transferring all of his non-exempt personal property to said W. W. Marbourg in payment and satisfaction of his indebtedness to said W. W. Marbourg, which was very much less than $21,236-43, and very much less than the value of the property covered by said chattel mortgages, and for the purpose of cheating and defrauding his other creditors who had sold him goods, and hindering and delaying them in the collection of their debts, and not for the mere purpose of preferring said W. W. Marbourg as a creditor for the amount of the real, actual, and existing indebtedness of the defendant to said W. W. Marbourg."

It was held in Wallach v. Wylie, 28 Kan. 138, that where a chattel mortgage was executed purporting to secure certain alleged indebtedness largely in excess of the bona fide indebtedness actually existing between the parties, and such excess was fraudulent, that the mortgage was void in toto and could not be sustained, even to the extent of the actual debt covered by the mortgage. This, upon the ground that the statute of the state provides that every transfer of property made with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors is utterly void and of no effect. Comp. Laws 1879, p. 464, § 2. See, also, Winstead v. Hulme, 32 Kan. ;S. C. 4 Pac. Rep. 994.

Therefore, if there was evidence sufficient to sustain this finding of the district court, the attachments were properly sustained. The question was one of fact only. The testimony presented to the district court was not wholly by affidavit. Several witnesses, among others, J. E. Black, a former partner of O. O. Marbourg, Ira F. Collins, and John Brady, gave their testimony in person to the court. We have read carefully the whole record, and are convinced that the findings of the court, and especially the finding above quoted, were sustained by the evidence presented in the court below. In a case of this kind we cannot retry the facts upon the evidence and determine upon which side the preponderance exists. All we can do is to look into the evidence and see whether it is sufficient to sustain the findings of the court below; or, in other words, to see whether there is such a lack of evidence that we can say, as a matter of law, that the findings are erroneous. Gibbs v. Gibbs, 18 Kan. 419; Railway Co. v. Kunkle, 17 Kan. 145; Wilson v. Lightbody, 29 Kan. 446. Under the findings of fact the district court committed no error in sustaining the attachments. The other errors complained of, under this view, are immaterial, and therefore it is unnecessary to consider them.

The ruling and order of the district court will be affirmed.

The above and foregoing decision in easy No. 3,363 also disposes of cases Nos. 3,304, 3,365, 3,366, 3,367, 3,368, 3,369, 3,370, 3,371, 3,372, 3,373, 3,374, 3,375, 3,376, 3,377, 3,378, 3,379, 3,380, 3,381, 3,382, and 3,383. In all of these cases the ruling and order of the district court will be affirmed. (All the justices concurring.)

Hiawatha, Kansas - Oscar O. Marbourg, a resident of Sabetha for 45 years, died at that place Sunday, Nov. 16, 1914. Mr. Marbourg was the lumberman in Sabetha in the early day. He had many acquaintances among the old timers in Hiawatha and other Brown County communities. At his funeral Wednesday an eulogy was delivered by George W. Hook, a life long friend of Mr. Marbourg. The Sabetha Star has the following to say of Mr. Hook's talk: The speaker said that his acquaintance with Mr. Marbourg dated from the time when, young, handsome and prosperous he came to Sabetha in 1870. As a lad he regarded the young man with a sort of hero worship and the heritage of a kindly and sympathetic nature which he left had always seemed to Mr. Hook to fulfill his Ideal of nature's nobleman. He had often heard his friend assert that an honorable life was the only one worth living and the good which one was able to accomplish was the only thing worth remembrance. Mr. Marbourg, said his friend, never lost the gift of forgiveness, and during his long life he was never heard to speak ill of a neighbor. Children remember him as the kindest man of their acquaintance and he was never too busy to soothe their childish heartaches. Previous to Mr. Marbourg's death they had often discussed the life beyond and the assertion had always been made by his friend that he was without fear of death but regarded the grim doorway from mortality to life everlasting. Thru the adversities of his later years he maintained his cheerful disposition, showing no bitterness because of the comparative deprivation which he suffered but was always the kindly, cheerful man that he had been in more prosperous days.

Notes for Sarah J. Whittenhall:

Sabetha, Kansas - The death of Mrs. Oscar Marbourg, which has been expected for several weeks, occurred Monday night June 7, 1920 at her old home on the north side. For a year Mrs. Marbourg has been failing, and for some time it has been known her death was only a question of a short time. The devotion of her girl hood friends is worthy of comment. Their devoted care and thoughtfulness made the last days of Mrs. Marbourg happy.

The following taken from the Nemaha Comity History tells of the girlhood of Mrs. Marbourg. She came here a tiny girl with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Whittenhall. She married Oscar Marbourg here Two has lived all her life in Albany Harry Sabetha. Mrs. Marbourg told Emma story herself just as it is written, to the author of the history. "Elihu, why did you bring me and my daughters to this dreadful country?" cried Mrs. Elihu Whittenhall, shivered as the wind, too, shivered, and whistled around the log cabin, high on the Albany hill, and trembling at the stealthy patter of the wolves' feet on the roof above her. 'We will make money here,' answered her husband, his eye on the vision of the country as it is now, sixty years later. "It will be a wonderful land." "But with four little daughters cuddled close to her, thousands of miles from the New York home, on the desolate, windswept prairie, no vision came to Mrs. Whittenhall. "Still her husband's vision was realized, altho neither she nor he lived to see its full realization. Mrs. Whittenhall was college bred, carefully nurtured, tenderly reared, in a New York home. She graduated from the Oxford New York Academy in the class with Governor Seymour, of New York, and other distinguished men. Away from all this, overland, by train, steamboat, and mule team, bringing with her the only piano in the State of Kansas, and four little daughters, is it any wonder she trembled at wolves, who made themselves as much at home as pet dogs; shivered at weeping prairie winds, and shrank from stray Indians, who walked into her house and took anything which caught their vagrant, childish fancy?

"To the high hills of Albany, they came in 1857 and located their farms. Any of the magnificent land which their fancy chose, could be had for the simple act of sleeping and eating on the ground desired and the payment of $2.50. But before long, within the following year, other New Yorkers came out. Other frail, delicate, courageous women risked comforts, quiet, calm and peace to break the prairie and pioneer with their husbands. Edwin Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Miller, W. B. Sloeson, John L. and William Graham came out to Kansas; and Albany, the mother of Sabetha, was colonized and named in compliment to the capital of their native state. Mr. Miller built a hotel, and then Mr. Whittenhall built a frame dwelling, and the family removed from the confined quarters of the log house, almost filled by the big square piano, so bravely standing for the refinement and elegance of its former surroundings in its New York home. The Whittenhall house was built of walnut lumber, big timbers and all, a real treasure in these days when Kansas black walnut is so valuable, and for which European aristocracy pays a big price.

"Mrs. Whittenhall lived several, happy, contented years on their farm at Albany, but she died before Albany was moved to Sabetha and never dreamed that her husband would own almost half the town, which was eventually electric lighted, heated by municipal steam, governed by commissioners, and with all the intermediary improvements of the modern city. Mrs. Marbourg concluded, 'If mother could only have seen these electric lights.' " Mrs. Marbourg was Sara Whittenhall, born in 1851 at Addison, New York. Her childhood was spent at Albany. She was married September 18, 1876 to Oscar O. Marbourg, whose death occurred about five years ago.

Two children were born to them; who lives in Gary, Indiana, and Emma who died in childhood. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock Wednesday, interment at Albany by the side of Mr. Marbourg. Mrs. Marbourg was the last of the family of little daughters who braved the terrors of the prairie and overland travel with their mother and father, to start the commonwealth of Kansas.

Funeral services were conducted by Reverend Elledge. Robert Bressem, Dr. Rucker and Misses Ruth and Wilhelmina Bressem sang beautifully. Many floral offerings attested the esteem in which Mrs. Marbourg was held. Mrs. Marbourg had many friends, old and new, who could not forget her kindly ways.

Notes for Adam Goodling:

A. M. BARNER ARRESTED - Juniata Tribune, Mifflintown, PA - Thursday, November 1, 1900, page 1
HE IS CHARGED WITH KILLING ADAM GOODLING, WHO WAS MURDERED ON THE 2ND OF OCTOBER
DETECTIVES WORK UP THE CASE; IT IS CLAIMED THEY SECURED SUFFICIENT DAMAGING EVIDENCE TO WARRANT TAKING THE ACCUSED INTO CUSTODY - WAS BROUGHT HERE AND COMMITTED TO JAIL

Ever since the day the news was received here, about noon on the third day of October, that a most foul murder had been committed in Susquehanna Township, the night previous, rumors have been rife as to suspects, that a certain person was strongly suspected as the one who committed the foul crime, and that an arrest would certainly be made in a day or two. Time went on, and after awhile detectives were put at work of running down what all called "the cowardly assassin," and what headway they were making in their efforts was only known to a few. But it leaked out the other day that sufficient circumstantial evidence had been gathered to warrant an arrest, and that the sleuths were putting two and two together, and making every effort known to the profession to substantially form a complete and strong chain around and tightly fasten the crime of killing aged Adam Goodling on the suspect, and that he would be arrested soon.

Sheriff S. C. Stoner received word on Monday that those working on the case had conducted their efforts in such a satisfactory way that warranted an immediate arrest. That county official and ex-sheriff Samuel Lapp left here on Monday evening for Susquehanna Township, where the recent murder had been committed, and arrested Absalom M. Barner, the man whom the detectives seemed to think committed that most cowardly murder. The accused man was brought here on Tuesday afternoon and taken before Justice of the Peace C. B. Horning, who committed Barner to jail to await a hearing at some early future day.

S. E. Dressler, a Pittsburgh detective, a working member of the Perkins Detective Agency of that city, who was one of the sleuth-hounds on the case that were employed by the county authorities, made the charge and swore out a warrant against Barner, charging the accused with murder, on what it is said to be alleged facts acquired by the detectives, indicating the guilt of Barner.

The crime that the Pittsburgh detectives seem satisfied can be proven against the accused is the killing of Adam Goodling, at the time an aged Susquehanna Township farmer, who was shot on the night of October 2, while sitting on a rocking chair in one of the lower story rooms of his modest little home. The murder was committed between 8 and 9 o'clock on that evening, the shot being fired through a partly-opened window. The weapon was a shot gun loaded with No. 4 shot, and almost the entire charge struck the murdered man in the face, killing him instantly.

The word was quietly passed around town Tuesday morning that the officers would return here with their prisoner on Way Passenger, and there was quite a crowd of town people and a number of residents of nearby sections, whose business pursuits brought them to town early in the morning, gathered on Bridge and Main Streets, where they anxiously waited for their arrival. But the 10 o'clock train did not bring them, and the crowd separated and those two principal streets again took on their usual quiet of an ordinary day.

It was about the noon hour when it was definitely given out that the prisoner would be brought here on the 1:11 train, and a short time before train time the streets again had a holiday appearance, the quiet crowd all seeming anxious to see the man charged with the crime of killing a fellow creature. Their curiosity was soon satisfied. Just as soon as possible after the arrival of the train the two officers and the prisoner were driven over from the station in Bergey's bus, up to Squire Horning's office, and then there was a great rush to get into the small quarters to hear what would be said against the accused; but all were disappointed. All that was done in the case was the making out of the commitment, which required but little time, and the prisoner was taken to jail. It was at the accused's request the hearing was postponed, and the time set for it will no doubt also be as he desires.

The prisoner did not seem to be in any way excited over his arrest on the grave charge made against him. To all outward appearances he was the least exercised of any in the crowd, and his every action was of a man that had no fear of the final result being in his favor. The accused was arrested some years ago, being charged with "assault and battery, with intent to kill." He was indicted by the grand jury at the following term of court, but on being tried, was acquitted.

Since the formation of the county in 1831 there have been nine indictments for murder in the first degree returned by grand juries. The trials of the cases resulted in the acquittal of four of the accused; a verdict of murder in the second degree in one case and manslaughter in one. There were three sentenced to be hanged, two of which were executed, the other one having his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The first trial was at the December session in 1852, for the murder of John Jackson, which resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree, and the convicted man served a term in the penitentiary. The second was at the December session, 1859, when one Andrew Limbert was tried on the charge of murder, and the verdict was "not guilty." At the April session, 1861, one principal and two accessories were tried for the murder of Henry Auker, and resulted in the conviction of one of murder in the first degree and the other two of second degree murder. The first paid the penalty of the law by being hanged by the neck until dead, and his companions in crime each served long terms in the penitentiary, one of them dying during his penal service. In 1863 at the December session, the man indicted for the murder of Charles Brown, colored, was found "not guilty." The next case was tried in 1878, at the December session, when two principals were indicted on the charge of murder in the first degree, but both were acquitted. At the December session, 1882, there was a murder trial, and the result was acquittal of the accused. In 1884 at the September session, the trial for the murder of Charles Kepner was held and a verdict of manslaughter was returned, the accused being sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of years. At the April session in 1886, the second verdict of murder in the first degree in the history of the county was rendered by a jury. It was the Nancy (Funk) McMeen murder case. The convicted man was sentenced to be hung, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and he is still confined. The last case tried was for the murder of the old blind man, James Carpenter, which was at the February session in 1894. There were two accused principals and both were indicted for murder in the first degree. One pleaded guilty as accessory after the fact, and received a penitentiary sentence, the other one was convicted and paid the life penalty.

What the present case will result in coming developments will decide. _____ for greatly as to what will be the result. What will come out bearing directly on the case at the hearing so far as known here is only conjecture on the part of all but the officers making the charge, and we will defer judgment until the complaint against the prisoner is fully substantiated.

JUNIATA JUSTICE, By Marian Mertz, 1998; 147 pages, 18 illustrations, 3 maps, index and references

Juniata Justice is a true story of a heinous murder. It was committed in the year 1900 in Susquehanna Township, Juniata County. The victim was a middle-aged man of no particular talent, and with no outstanding traits, just an average citizen by the name of Adam Goodling. He was killed by a shotgun blast through his kitchen window as he sat in a rocking chair talking to his wife.

The finger of suspicion pointed at once to his nearest neighbor, Absalom Barner, who lived just over the ridge. Barner was a man of many talents: a schoolteacher, surveyor and a Justice of the Peace, with an unblemished reputation. He had, however, driven all of his friends and neighbors crazy for months telling anyone who would listen about his suspicion that Goodling had been having an affair with his wife.

The tale is told using official documents including written reports from a Pittsburgh Detective Agency hired by the Juniata County authorities, transcripts of the preliminary hearing and newspaper accounts in the local papers. Grizzly details abound to whet the appetite and the imagination of the reader of this old time crime story.

Notes for Adam Goodling:

HE IS CHARGED WITH KILLING ADAM GOODLING, WHO WAS MURDERED ON THE 2ND OF OCTOBER. DETECTIVES WORK UP THE CASE; IT IS CLAIMED THEY SECURED SUFFICIENT DAMAGING EVIDENCE TO WARRANT TAKING THE ACCUSED INTO CUSTODY - WAS BROUGHT HERE AND COMMITTED TO JAIL

Ever since the day the news was received here, about noon on the third day of October, that a most foul murder had been committed in Susquehanna Township, the night previous, rumors have been rife as to suspects, that a certain person was strongly suspected as the one who committed the foul crime, and that an arrest would certainly be made in a day or two. Time went on, and after awhile detectives were put at work of running down what all called "the cowardly assassin," and what headway they were making in their efforts was only known to a few. But it leaked out the other day that sufficient circumstantial evidence had been gathered to warrant an arrest, and that the sleuths were putting two and two together, and making every effort known to the profession to substantially form a complete and strong chain around and tightly fasten the crime of killing aged Adam Goodling on the suspect, and that he would be arrested soon.

Sheriff S. C. Stoner received word on Monday that those working on the case had conducted their efforts in such a satisfactory way that warranted an immediate arrest. That county official and ex-sheriff Samuel Lapp left here on Monday evening for Susquehanna Township, where the recent murder had been committed, and arrested Absalom M. Barner, the man whom the detectives seemed to think committed that most cowardly murder. The accused man was brought here on Tuesday afternoon and taken before Justice of the Peace C. B. Horning, who committed Barner to jail to await a hearing at some early future day.

S. E. Dressler, a Pittsburgh detective, a working member of the Perkins Detective Agency of that city, who was one of the sleuth-hounds on the case that were employed by the county authorities, made the charge and swore out a warrant against Barner, charging the accused with murder, on what it is said to be alleged facts acquired by the detectives, indicating the guilt of Barner.

The crime that the Pittsburgh detectives seem satisfied can be proven against the accused is the killing of Adam Goodling, at the time an aged Susquehanna Township farmer, who was shot on the night of October 2, while sitting on a rocking chair in one of the lower story rooms of his modest little home. The murder was committed between 8 and 9 o'clock on that evening, the shot being fired through a partly-opened window. The weapon was a shot gun loaded with No. 4 shot, and almost the entire charge struck the murdered man in the face, killing him instantly.

The word was quietly passed around town Tuesday morning that the officers would return here with their prisoner on Way Passenger, and there was quite a crowd of town people and a number of residents of nearby sections, whose business pursuits brought them to town early in the morning, gathered on Bridge and Main Streets, where they anxiously waited for their arrival. But the 10 o'clock train did not bring them, and the crowd separated and those two principal streets again took on their usual quiet of an ordinary day.

It was about the noon hour when it was definitely given out that the prisoner would be brought here on the 1:11 train, and a short time before train time the streets again had a holiday appearance, the quiet crowd all seeming anxious to see the man charged with the crime of killing a fellow creature. Their curiosity was soon satisfied. Just as soon as possible after the arrival of the train the two officers and the prisoner were driven over from the station in Bergey's bus, up to Squire Horning's office, and then there was a great rush to get into the small quarters to hear what would be said against the accused; but all were disappointed. All that was done in the case was the making out of the commitment, which required but little time, and the prisoner was taken to jail. It was at the accused's request the hearing was postponed, and the time set for it will no doubt also be as he desires.

The prisoner did not seem to be in any way excited over his arrest on the grave charge made against him. To all outward appearances he was the least exercised of any in the crowd, and his every action was of a man that had no fear of the final result being in his favor. The accused was arrested some years ago, being charged with "assault and battery, with intent to kill." He was indicted by the grand jury at the following term of court, but on being tried, was acquitted.

Since the formation of the county in 1831 there have been nine indictments for murder in the first degree returned by grand juries. The trials of the cases resulted in the acquittal of four of the accused; a verdict of murder in the second degree in one case and manslaughter in one. There were three sentenced to be hanged, two of which were executed, the other one having his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

The first trial was at the December session in 1852, for the murder of John Jackson, which resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree, and the convicted man served a term in the penitentiary. The second was at the December session, 1859, when one Andrew Limbert was tried on the charge of murder, and the verdict was "not guilty." At the April session, 1861, one principal and two accessories were tried for the murder of Henry Auker, and resulted in the conviction of one of murder in the first degree and the other two of second degree murder. The first paid the penalty of the law by being hanged by the neck until dead, and his companions in crime each served long terms in the penitentiary, one of them dying during his penal service. In 1863 at the December session, the man indicted for the murder of Charles Brown, colored, was found "not guilty." The next case was tried in 1878, at the December session, when two principals were indicted on the charge of murder in the first degree, but both were acquitted. At the December session, 1882, there was a murder trial, and the result was acquittal of the accused. In 1884 at the September session, the trial for the murder of Charles Kepner was held and a verdict of manslaughter was returned, the accused being sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of years. At the April session in 1886, the second verdict of murder in the first degree in the history of the county was rendered by a jury. It was the Nancy (Funk) McMeen murder case. The convicted man was sentenced to be hung, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and he is still confined. The last case tried was for the murder of the old blind man, James Carpenter, which was at the February session in 1894. There were two accused principals and both were indicted for murder in the first degree. One pleaded guilty as accessory after the fact, and received a penitentiary sentence, the other one was convicted and paid the life penalty.

What the present case will result in coming developments will decide. _____ for greatly as to what will be the result. What will come out bearing directly on the case at the hearing so far as known here is only conjecture on the part of all but the officers making the charge, and we will defer judgment until the complaint against the prisoner is fully substantiated.

Juniata Justice is a true story of a heinous murder. It was committed in the year 1900 in Susquehanna Township, Juniata County. The victim was a middle-aged man of no particular talent, and with no outstanding traits, just an average citizen by the name of Adam Goodling. He was killed by a shotgun blast through his kitchen window as he sat in a rocking chair talking to his wife.

The finger of suspicion pointed at once to his nearest neighbor, Absalom Barner, who lived just over the ridge. Barner was a man of many talents: a schoolteacher, surveyor and a Justice of the Peace, with an unblemished reputation. He had, however, driven all of his friends and neighbors crazy for months telling anyone who would listen about his suspicion that Goodling had been having an affair with his wife.

The tale is told using official documents including written reports from a Pittsburgh Detective Agency hired by the Juniata County authorities, transcripts of the preliminary hearing and newspaper accounts in the local papers. Grizzly details abound to whet the appetite and the imagination of the reader of this old time crime story.

Notes for George Washington Hess:

Private Washington Hess, born June 8, 1845 son of Henry and Julia (Messersmith) Hess. Joined the 200th PA Volunteers for term of one year and collected a $100 bounty. He was mustered into service at Camp Curtin Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. August 20, 1864. Enrolled when he was only 19 years old and his listed occupation is recorded as a "miller." Military records describe him as being 5ft. 7in., blue eyes, and light hair. Pension papers say that Washington Hess "took ill with typhoid fever" approximately two weeks after enrollment with the unit. Washington was sent to the US Hospital at York, PA where Washington fought his fever. As he battled his fever, both of his legs began to swell and his left leg became ulcerated. Testimony of a fellow sick soldier, William Stine, said that "although Washington's leg was still open, he returned to the 200th PA Regiment in the middle of January 1865."

Washington then participated in the following battles and events of the war:

Siege of Petersburg December, 1864, to April, 1865.

Dabney's Mills, Hatcher's Run, February 5-7, 1865.

Fort Stedman March 25.
 Appomattox Campaign March 28-April 9.
 Assault on and capture of Petersburg April 2.
 Occupation of Petersburg April 3.
 Pursuit of Lee April 3-9. Appomattox C. H. April 9.
 Surrender of Lee and his army.
 Duty at Nottaway C. H. till May.
 Ordered to City Point, thence to Alexandria and duty there till May 30.
 Mustered out May 30, 1865.

During the Assault on Petersburg, Washington was wounded slightly in the shoulder but continued on with the regiment. He was present at each muster until the end of the regiments term and mustered out with the unit 5/30/1865 at Alexandria, Virginia. After the war he married Catharine Einstein 7/8/1866. They were wed by the Rev. C.J. Deininger. They had five children. Washington became a cigar maker until he applied for an invalid's pension for the "injuries and continued pain of his ulcerated leg."

Dr. G.M. Fickes of Seven Valleys, PA described Washington as "temperate in all things, sober, industrious, clean, careful, and his condition is in no wise brought about or aggravated by any vicious mode of living." Washington died January 17th 1917 from Heart Failure and Rheumatism.

Notes for Dr. Robert Lee (Kunkel) Kunkle:

Dr. Robert Kunkle, Piqua physician for 35 years, dies early Wednesday:

"Highly Respected General Practitioner and Friend of Hundreds Succumbs in Hospital - was World Veteran and Former City Health Officer"

Members of the medical profession in Piqua lost a highly respected and deeply admired associate and many Piqua families relinquished a wise and sympathetic councilor when Dr. Robert Lee Kunkle, 63, of 32 West High Street, died at three o'clock this morning at Memorial Hospital. Although his health had been affected for some time by an incurable disease, it was only four weeks ago that he became too ill to engage in active practice.

A practitioner of general medicine in this city since 1904 when he was graduated from Ohio Medical School, Columbus, he had established himself as a considerate, benevolent, understanding and skillful family doctor in the 35 years that have elapsed since he began to practice.

As a young doctor he capably fulfilled the duties as Piqua Health officer and city physician. During the World War he was commissioned as a first lieutenant in the United States Medical Corps. Since his 21st birthday he had been actively affiliated with the Masonic lodge; he was a member of the Piqua lodge of Elks, the Presbyterian Church, the Miami County Medical association and the American Legion.

Born in Galion, Ohio, March 10, 1876, the son of Elias and Sarah Flick Kunkle. In 1895 he graduated from Galion High School and took his pre-med work at Otterbein College, Westerville. He received his degree in medicine at Ohio Medical School of Ohio State University, coming to Piqua shortly thereafter. He established his office at 22 West High Street where he remained until four weeks ago when illness forced him to discontinue practice.

On September 2, 1916, he married Miss Florence Cron, member of a well known Piqua family and has resided at 320 West High since then. Besides his widow he leaves two sisters, Miss Maude Kunkle of Newark, Ohio, and Mrs. George Jeames (Nelle) of Galion; a stepson, Francis Cron of Piqua and granddaughter, Ellen Margaret Cron, Piqua.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church with interment at Forest Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at the J.C. Cron Funeral Home Thursday afternoon and evening.
