Notes for William Smith:

William Smith is one of the honored and esteemed citizens of Middleton Township, and his well-spent life is in many respects worthy of emulation. Educational, social and moral interests have found in him a friend, and he has been an important factor in agricultural circles, thus adding to the material welfare of the community.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Smith was born in York County, July 23, 1823, and is descended from honored Revolutionary ancestry. His grandfather, Samuel Smith, was one of the heroes of the war for Independence, and the father, William Smith, Sr., a native of York County, Pennsylvania, served in the war of 1812. His wife bore the maiden name of Christiana Snyder, and was born in Germany. They had a family of ten children, but Samuel, Liza, Sarah, Liddie and William are the only ones now living. The parents both died in Crawford County, Ohio.

Our subject acquired his education in the public schools near his home, and worked on the old home farm until twenty-four years of age, when he started out in life for himself. He purchased a farm of forty acres which he continued to cultivate until 1858, when he came to Ohio. He made his first location in Sandusky County, where he rented a farm of eighty acres for three years, and then removed to Seneca County, taking up his residence near Kansas, where he operated 160 acres of land. During the war, however, he laid aside all business cares in order to aid in the protection of the Union, enlisting, in 1863, as a member of Company F, 126th O. V. I. He participated in all the engagements of his company, and valiantly did his duty until the war was over, when he was honorably discharged at Columbus, Ohio, in 1865.

Mr. Smith then returned to his farm in Seneca County, subsequently coming to Wood County, and located in Portage Township, where for two years he engaged in the operation of fifty-six acres of land. He then came to Middleton Township, and purchased forty-two acres of land, which constitutes his present farm. This is now a very valuable tract, and the well-tilled fields yield to him a golden tribute, while the buildings upon the place stand as monuments to his thrift and enterprise,

In 1847 was celebrated the marriage of Mr. Smith and Miss Catherine Snyder, a native of York County, Pennsylvania, and a daughter of Adam Snyder, a blacksmith of that county. Ten children were born to them-Albert, a farmer of Sandusky county; William, a farmer of Wood county; Edward, an agriculturist of Nebraska; Levi, who operates a tract of land in Michigan; Barbara A., wife of Peter Bobey; John, a farmer of this county; Angelina, wife of J. H. Carnes, of Plain Township; Jane, wife of Henry Schuyler, of Convoy; Mary; and one who died in infancy.

In politics, Mr. Smith is a stalwart advocate of Republican principles, and is a faithful member of the United Brethren Church. He was one of the first to suggest the erection of Union Hall, gave $200 to the enterprise, and by his labors aided in its construction. He is now serving as one of its trustees, and does all in his power to promote its interests, and to advance the moral and educational welfare of the community. Over his life there falls no shadow of wrong, and his exemplary character and manly qualities have made him a popular and highly esteemed citizen.

Notes for Cornelius S. (Schneider) Snyder:

Prowell's History of York County Pennsylvania, Biographical, Volume II Chicago J. H. Beers & Co. 1907 pages 739-740: Cornelius S. Snyder, of the firm of Kohler-Snyder Cigar Company, manufacturers of high-grade cigars at Yoe and other points in York County is recognized as one of the progressive young business men of his native county, while he has in all respects upheld the prestige of the name which he bears and which has been long and prominently identified with the history of this favored section of the Keystone State.

Mr. Snyder was born in the borough of Yoe, York County, Jan. 1, 1874, son of Aaron Snyder. He secured his education in the public schools and in a well-ordered summer school maintained at Dallastown, this county. When about out eighteen years of age he entered upon an apprenticeship at the factory of the Kohler Cigar Company, at Yoe, where he became an expert workman and a competent judge of stock, also learning all details of the practical business, including the packing of cigars. In 1896 he became associated with the Messrs. George A and Adam W. Kohler in the same line, under the firm name of Kohler-Snyder Cigar Company, with headquarters in the borough of Yoe. In 1898 A.W. Kohler retired from the concern, and in 1900 G. A. Kohler also withdrew Mr. Snyder assuming entire control in the latter year, since which time he has individually carried forward the enterprise, which has grown to be one of wide scope, its trade extending into divers States of the Union. The business is still conducted under the title of Kohler-Snyder Cigar Company, and aside from the large and well-equipped plant at Yoe, about ten branch factories are maintained in York County, a large quantity of the best local product of tobacco being utilized in these establishments. An idea of the extensive scope of the business may be gained when it is stated that in the main factory, at Yoe, a corps of about forty-five employees is retained and kept busy in the manufacture of excellent grades of cigars, which are shipped throughout the Union. Mr. Snyder is an alert, reliable and discriminating young business man, as is clearly indicated by the character of this thriving enterprise with which he is thus prominently identified. He is also a public-spirited citizen, loyal to all civic duties and responsibilities. He is a staunch adherent of the Republican party, and has served as a member of the borough council of Yoe, and is a school director of this borough. He has also been a member of the election board of the township. Both he and his wife are devoted members of the United Brethren Church in which he is a trustee, being active in all departments of the church work.

On June 1, 1892, Mr. Snyder was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Lehman, who was born and reared in Springfield township, York County, a daughter of Jacob Lehman, a prominent and influential resident of the section. To Mr. and Mrs. Snyder have been born five children, of whom Aaron Winfield and another died in infancy, being laid to rest in the cemetery at Yoe, as was also May, the fourth in order of birth, who died at the age of eight months. The two surviving children are: Curwin Arthur and Salada F.

Aaron Snyder, father of the immediate subject of this review was born in Hopewell township, York, county, in 1818, and was a son of Philip Snyder, who was likewise a native of the county and had two sisters and five brothers; the names of the brothers were: Jacob, Michael, John, George and Abraham. Philip SNYDER was numbered among the very early settlers in Hopewell township, where he was a man of influence and prominence, having been a successful school-teacher in the pioneer days and having also served for a number of years as justice of the peace; in addition to farming, he did a considerable amount of excellent work as a surveyor. He married Eva Stabley, a representative of another of the old families of York County, and both passed the remainder of their lives in Hopewell township, where they were laid to rest many years ago. Of their children is entered the following brief record: Elizabeth died in York, York County; Aaron was the father of Cornelius S.; Susan wife of a Mr. Shaeffer, died in Hopewell township; Mary, wife of a Mr. Reiker, died in Chanceford township; Joseph died in Hopewell township; Kate in Enon, Ohio; Philip in York township, William in Hopewell township; Lydia, wife of a Mr. Shenberger, died in Hopewell township; Annie, wife of a Mr. Gibson, died in Yoe; and Sallie, wife of a Mr. Reiker, resides near Stewartstown, York County.

After receiving a common school education Aaron Snyder learned the blacksmith's trade in Chanceford township and after the completion of his apprenticeship removed to Florin, Lancaster County, where he was engaged in the work of his trade for a number of years. He then returned to York County and located near Springvale, Windsor township, where he was actively engaged in business for the long period of forty years, at the expiration of which, in 1875, he became a resident of the present borough of Yoe. Here he operated a sawmill for a few years and then retired from active labor continuing to reside in Yoe until his death, in 1896, and being buried in the cemetery of that borough. He was a man of sterling character and ever commanded the esteem and confidence of all who knew him. In politics he was originally a Whig and later a Republican, and his religious faith was that of the Evangelical Church, of which he was a devoted member.

Aaron Snyder was twice married, his first union having been with Catherine Yoe, a member of the well-known family in whose honor the borough of Yoe was named. She was born and reared in Windsor township, and died when comparatively a young woman. Following is a brief record concerning her children: George married Rebecca Hartman and they resided in Yoe. Lydia died unmarried. Elias married Anna Mary Snyder and they reside in Yoe. Leah is the wife of Abraham S. Strayer, of Yoe. Moses first married Catherine Sechrist, daughter of Harry and Mary (Yoe) Sechrist, and the only child of this marriage is Mrs. Emma L Slenker, of Yoe. After the death of his first wife Moses Snyder married Mary Ann, daughter of Harry and Elizabeth (Ebersole) Detrich, and they still reside in Yoe, having four children. It may further be said that Moses Snyder was practically the founder of the borough of Yoe, erecting the first house in the village and laboring with constant zeal for the development and upbuilding of the borough. He has ever been foremost in the promotion of all worthy enterprises and causes and is a prominent and valued member of the United Brethren church in which he is a local preacher. In every respect he is one of Yoe's most honored and influential citizens having a beautiful modern residence and being also engaged in the cigar business. Aaron Y, the next of the children of Aaron and Catherine (Yoe) Snyder, married Elizabeth Woods and they reside in Wrightsville, York County. William H., who married Catherine Woods, is likewise of resident of that town.

For his second wife Aaron Snyder chose Susan, the daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Spotts) Snyder. She was born in Windsor township, and her death occurred in Yoe, in 1894. She is survived by four children, namely; John W, who married Sarah Grim, resides at Dallastown, York County; Alice is the wife of John Bortner, of that place; Frank P. married Leah Horn and they reside in Yoe; and Cornelius S.

NOTE: The 2nd wife of Aaron Snyder, Susan Snyder's dates are in conflict with the tombstone dates at Yoe Union Cemetery, Yoe, York County, Pennsylvania. Crumbling read the biographical sketch given below and added remarks as to the virtues of the departed. The choir of the church rendered with much express "Lead Kindly Light" and other selections. Mrs. Dershem and Miss Annie Pines sang a fine duet. The interment took place in the Lewisburg Cemetery. The ministers present were, E. Crumbling, H. W. Buck, A. H. Irvine, L. Dice, W. E. Detwiler, J. The stores of the town were closed in honor of the deceased at the time of the funeral, as Mr. Reeser had been a merchant in the town for a number of years.

He gave twenty five years to active ministerial labors, but was a minister of the Gospel three years over a half century. He was the trusted Treasurer of the Missionary Society of the Central Penna. Notes for Robert Franklin Stabley:

Pennsylvania EIGHTY-NINTH REGIMENT-EIGHTH CAVALRY: This regiment achieved immortality by its desperate charge upon "Stonewall" Jackson's infantry at Chancellorsville. Lycoming was well represented in the regiment and in the charge. One of the Lycoming companies had the lead in that charge, and sustained considerable loss. James B. Denworth, of Company K, was promoted on the field in this battle for gallantry. Samuel Wilson, of Company B, from this county, became lieutenant colonel, and was both wounded and captured during his service. He was one of the bravest and most representative soldiers of the county. John S. Howard, captain of Company G, from this county, was mortally wounded at Dinwiddie Court House. David McM. Gregg, who became a conspicuous cavalry commander, served as colonel of the regiment, and became auditor general of the State in 1891. Company K contained the following from Lycoming county: 1st Lieutenant, William C. Cole; 1st Sergeant, Christian Gohl; Quartermaster Sergeant, Charles T. Hoffman; Sergeant, James B. Denworth. Notes for Alfred Henry Schwarze:

After a week's illness Alfred Henry Schwarze, former Freeport druggist and a native of this community, passed away at the home of his brother, Oscar Schwarze, in Lancaster township, about 5 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Schwarze had come to Freeport from Aurora one week ago to visit relatives and shortly after arriving here was stricken with influenza. Bronchial pneumonia developed and caused his death yesterday morning March 19, 1922. Mr. Schwarze was well known throughout the entire community and the news of his taking off came as a great shock to his many friends. Al, as he was familiarly known to his friends, was a kind, generous and congenial fellow who was held in esteem by all who knew him and the family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Alfred Henry Schwarze was born in Freeport on October 31, 1880, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Schwarze. He was educated in the public schools of Freeport and later attended the School of Pharmacy at Northwestern University, being graduated from that institution. He was employed at the H.J. Moogk drug store in Freeport for several years and later engaged in the drug business with William Stevens under the firm name of Stevens and Schwarze. Later he disposed of interests and went to Rockford, about five years ago, where he was connected with one of the leading drug stores of that city. About one year ago Mr. Schwarze went to Aurora, engaging in the drug business there.

He was married in October, 1905, to Miss Grace Walker, who survives. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Schwarze, reside in this city. Two brothers also survive. They: E.L. Schwarze, Freeport; Oscar Schwarze, Lancaster township. One sister died four years ago. Mr. Schwarze was a member of Freeport lodge of Elks and also of the Aurora lodge of Moose.

Funeral services were held at 330 o'clock this afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Schwarze, 773 West Galena Avenue, Rev. D.L. McNary, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the services and burial was made at Oakland cemetery. The Elks lodge had charge of the funeral services and also the ritual . . . services at the grave. The following members of the Elks lodge acted as pallbearers: Ben Hermsmeier, J.E. Hance, John H. Place, Will Gibler, F.A. Schulz and M. Douglas Grant.

She was born 30 Jul 1882 in Loganton, Clinton Co, Pennsylvania, and died 19 Dec 1959 in Jersey Shore, Lycoming Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Adam Harrison Stabley:

Jersey Shore, Aug. 1, 1925 - A bloodstained newspaper and another missing girl are the two latest developments of the murder mystery, now popularly known as the "Big Rock Mystery" because of the finding of the body of a young woman near Big Rock camp, above Rauchtown.

The body was discovered on July 15, 1925. The bloodstained newspaper, a copy of the Williamsport Sun, was found folded tightly, together and wedged in between two rocks, not far from the place where the body was hidden. The date of issue of the newspaper was July 16, 1921. The missing girl is Teresa Stabley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stabley, of Loganton, R. 1. No. 2, Sugar Valley. The description of Stabley fits the description of the body found near Big Rock camp. The missing girl was last heard from on January 3, 1925, when she wrote her mother from a small town in Shenandoah Valley that she would be home on Easter, April 12. It was either on April 10 or April 17 that a woman, living in Antes Gap, saw what is supposed to be a body being transported on the running board of an automobile. The fact that Teresa Stabley wrote that she would be home on April 12 may have some significance when taken in connection with one of the dates April 10 given by the woman, who saw the body being transported through the gap.

District Attorney Hollis and Detective Sam Myers, of Clinton County were again at the scene of the discovery of the body. They were acquainted with the latest developments of the case. District Attorney Hollis said he was investigating the Stabley feature of the mystery. The mother of Teresa Stabley said she had been married to Floyd Klobe, of Sugar Valley, but the two had parted on December 8, 1923 and she bid adieu to him and her parents and brothers and sisters. At first assuming her maiden name and later that of Tessie Cole, the young woman lived in Harrisburg for a time and later traveled about with a theatrical company, assuming a small speaking part. She wrote home about once every two months. Her mother said she always seemed to have plenty of money, word of a map, recounted the fine clothes and much jewelry. A string of pearls about her neckline young woman declared to be genuine and valuable. On one occasion, visiting her parents, she distribute considerable money to both mother and father and her brothers and sisters. She exhibited the string of pearls and several rings on her fingers. Her mother said her wardrobe consisted of several pair of tan hose - the color of hose found on the body near Rock camp - a blue silk dress and silk underwear and other finery.

Last January when she wrote home, she was working in a grocery store in a small town in Shenandoah Valley, the name of which her mother could not recall and the letter having been destroyed. The mother was at the office of district attorney recently. The latter, with names of all, small towns in the hard coal regions, the mother averring that if she heard the name, she will be able to recall the name given in the letter from her daughter. In this way the district attorney hopes to trace Teresa Stabley or Tessie Cole, the name she assumed.

The majority of those reported missing bore no resemblance to the dead woman, however, but the fact that Miss Stabley fits the description of the dead woman gives this new development an importance that the officials are not denying. Miss Stabley was of the height and weight of the dead woman. Her mother was unable to describe her teeth. The dead woman had several gold crowns and a few missing.

The only point of difference is in the hair. The hair of the dead woman was not bobbed, neither was it long. When last seen by her mother, Miss Stabley wore her hair bobbed, but she may have allowed it to grow since that time. The color of the hair corresponded.

The fact that Teressa Stabley wrote home every two months, that she has not been heard from since January; that she expected to revisit her home on April 12, that the body may have been deposited in the mountains on April 10, and that she wore much jewelry and always carried considerable money, none of which were found on the body, may have a significance that is being seriously considered by the authorities.

Jersey Shore, August 11, 1925 - Chief of Police Christine, of this place, may yet achieve the distinction of solving the Rauchtown murder mystery according to inferences which may be drawn from his recent statements. Chief Christine says he is awaiting certain information which may lead to an arrest shortly. He is said to have conferred with a group of Jersey Shore residents who gave him information linking local individuals with the finding of the body. Additional facts are expected in a few days which would establish a definite connection or dispose of the supposition entirely. It is not known definitely just what direction the investigation of District Attorney Hollis, of Clinton County, and his assistants has taken. The latest report was that the Stabley girl was seen in Allentown about April 1, and that the local authorities were trying to trace her.

There were reports last week that the Stabley girl had been seen here July 3, by individuals who recognized a picture in a Williamsport paper Sunday. It was later established that the girl who was in the Jersey Shore at that time, although she resembled the, Stabley girl, had no connection with her. Both are reported to be from Sugar Valley. Chief Christine is said to know her name, but has declined to reveal it. It is thought she left for another city.

The opinion is growing that investigations of the Stabley angle of the case will lead to nothing. This bears out the testimony of those who saw the body before its interment who declared that the woman must have been between 30 and 45 years old. This was especially established through the wearing down of the teeth, which were ground down much further than would be possible if the woman had been only 23 years old, the age of the Stabley girl.

None of the women who have been traced in connection with the case at least as far as Attorney Hollis has indicated, have been more than 22 or 23 years old. District Attorney Hollis, early in his investigation, expressed the opinion that the murder had been committed outside Clinton County and the body brought to Rauchtown for concealment. Now, however, it is said that the investigating authorities are of the opinion that the body was thrown into the underbrush within an hour or two after death.

Notes for Major Thomas Crawford Thoburn:

Thomas Crawford Thoburn is gone. His work was well done. His was a true and helpful life. No better, no more faithful man ever bared his breast to defend the flag or endured the privation and vicissitude of pioneer life to make a home for wife and family. Mr. Thoburn was born Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, April 27, 1829. When but a few months old his parents emigrated to Belle Mont County, Ohio to where they engaged in farming. His parents were Scotch-Irish immigrants. The Thoburn family was large, five sons and five daughters. Two of the boys, older than Thomas C. had gone from the home before the father died and Thomas shouldered the responsibility of managing and tilling the farm, depriving himself of an education to educate the rest of the children and provide for the mother. This he did until the war broke out, and did it contentedly. His older brother enlisted on the first call for volunteers and reached the rank of colonel of the First West Virginia Infantry. Thomas C. remained on the farm until the summer of 1862, at the time when the outlook for the Union forces was very dark and discouraging. He then told the mother that the farm would have to be sold, that he desired to shoulder a musket in defense of the flag.

He enlisted in Co. F. 50th Ohio Volunteers, August 8th, 1862, and was made orderly sergeant. His regiment went to the front a few weeks later and just before the battle of Perryville, Mr. Thoburn was sent to the hospital with typhoid fever. While a patient in this institution the hospital was captured by Morgan, the raider, and Mr. Thoburn was paroled, reaching home during Thanksgiving, weak in body but courageous in spirit. At home, under the tender care of loving hands, he rapidly regained his strength and spent his time then in parole camp at Camp Chase, near Columbus, until exchanged at the end of nine months and allowed to rejoin his regiment and again face the music of the bullets that sang only of death and desolation. In the summer of 1863 his regiment saw active service and shortly afterwards he was attached to the Army of the Cumberland and commissioned Second Lieutenant and assumed command of the company during the Atlanta and Nashville campaigns. Early in 1865 Mr. Thoburn was commissioned major of the 198th O.V. Inf, and the war ended with the surrender of Lee within a few weeks after the regiment was mustered into service and saw no service more hazardous than camp and garrison duty at Baltimore and Winchester. For a time during the spring and summer of 1865 Major Thoburn served as president of the general court marshal board of Hancock's battery and reserve corps at Winchester, Virginia. He was mustered out and discharged at Columbus, Ohio, in September, and a few days later. (September 6th) was married to Miss Mary Eleanor Crozier, at Marlboro, Ohio, and settled at Bellaire, where he engaged in business for five years. In the fall of 1870 Thoburn made a trip to Kansas with a view of homesteading and after looking over the state, filed upon a soldier homestead of a quarter section in Catlin township, six miles northwest of Peabody, and brought his family to Kansas in March, 1871, making the first trip by rail from Emporia to Strong City accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Wheeler and H.H. Mitchell who also shared the trials of pioneer life in a new country with the Thoburns. Mr. Thoburn was one of the pioneers who took an active part in the bettering of church, school and social conditions and in 1872 he helped to organize and hold the first farmers' meeting ever convened in Marion County, and from that little organization grew the Marion County Agricultural Society, of which Mr. Thoburn was the first president, serving during the first two county fairs in 1875 and 1876. This county fair existed until 1888. He represented the agricultural society at the first annual meeting of the state board of agriculture in 1874. At this time Peabody and Catlin townships were one and Mr. Thoburn served as township trustee, a position that entailed unusual responsibility at this period by reason of the fact that he had charge of the distribution of food and clothing to those who were impoverished by the grasshoppers and people were desperate not hesitating to misrepresent and even steal. Married men could get support more easily than single men and it is related that one young fellow, rather than hustle, got married and asked for aid. Mr. Thoburn advised him that since he had married trouble, to care for it. And during his strenuous tenure of office as township trustee the board had the letting of the contract for the present Peabody library, the first ever erected in Kansas, for the free use of the public, and the supervision of the work. Mr. Thoburn's last official act was the dedication of this building, the opening ceremonies including speeches, banquet and a big dance. Mr. Thoburn was always interested in school work and a member of the board of education a number of years, finally moving closer to town so his children could have the benefit of the city schools.

At the age of twenty-one Mr. Thoburn united with the Methodist Episcopal church and after coming to Peabody, in the days when there were no preachers in town, was active in holding services for men of all faiths. In May, 1871, Mr. Thoburn took the lead in the movement that resulted in the organizing of the present Methodist Episcopal church here and served as Sunday School superintendent a number of years and had charge of a class in the school as long as he was here. Later in life he took greater interest in foreign missions and his brother, J.M., and sister, Miss Isabella, were the first foreign missionaries sent out by the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M.E. church, and they devoted their lives to their chosen vocation, being frequently called to deliver missionary addresses in neighboring towns. For many years Mr. Thoburn was president of the Marlon County Bible Society and likewise president of the Marion County Sunday School Association. Mr. Thoburn represented the local congregation, in the quadrennial lay conference. In 1872-6-8 88 and 92 and was elected lay delegate to the general conference of the M.E. church from the southwest Kansas conference. As a matter of course Mr. Thoburn was a member of the G.A.R., serving two terms as Post Commander, and being member of the Masonic order. Mrs. Thoburn died at the family home in Peabody, April 20th, 1893. In 1902 Mr. Thoburn married Mrs. Mary Gabel Norton of Glenlord, Michigan, and on account of her failing health he disposed of his Peabody property in 1905 and went to Colorado and later to Texas, where his wife died in 1907. Since that time he had made his home with his children of whom he had four, and all survive him. They are Joseph E. Thoburn of Oklahoma City, John C. Thoburn, of Butler, Pennsylvania, Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Thoburn, of Erie Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Blanche I. Currie, of Hasbrouck, New Jersey. Mr. Thoburn's last visit with old Peabody friends was in November and December, 1909. For a year past he has been an invalid and though suffering much pain and being confined to his bed, yet he endured it all with patience and fortitude and died in his faith at the home of his daughter, September 19, 1911.

Funeral services were held at the Peabody M. E. church under the auspices of the G.A.R. Saturday, September 28rd, conducted by his former pastor, Harrison Walte of Wichita, assisted by Rev. W.G. Woodward, of Newton, also a former pastor, and Rev. Books. The pall bearers were his neighbors since 1871 being Mrs. R.B. Craw, William Fitch, A.S. Lowther, T.M. Potter, A.A. Wheeler and W.H. Traver. After the services the body was laid to rest in Prairie Lawn cemetery. Out of town people at the funeral, besides his children and relatives, were Mr. John Burgert of Canton. a former resident of Peabody, and Mr. Curtiss Chandler of Newton.

Sept. 20, 1911 – Word was received las night of the death, yesterday, Sept. 19, 1911, at Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, of Major Thomas C. Thoburn, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blanche Corey. Major Thoburn was born 85 years ago, in Belmont County, Ohio, and served in the Union army during the Civil war. Later he moved to Peabody, Kansas, where he resided for many years. He was a brother of Bishop James M. Thoburn, of the methodist Episcopal church, and of the late Miss Isabella Thoburn, a noted missionary to India.

He is survived by his daughter and three sons, Joseph Thoburn, of Oklahoma City, former secretary of agriculture of Oklahoma; John C. Thoburn, of Butler, Pennsylvania, and Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Thoburn, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Erie, Pennsylvania. Rev. Dr. James M. Thoburn, of Ben Avon, superintendent of the Allegheny district of the Methodist Episcopal church, is a nephew.

Notes for Franklin Augustus Holley:

Lincoln: the capital city and Lancaster County, Nebraska, Volume 2, edited by Andrew J. Sawyer. Page 647:

Frank A. Holley, a well-to-do and highly esteemed farmer residing in Mill precinct, was born in Erie County, New York, on the 14th of April, 1846, a son of John and Lenora (Ketchum) Holley. The father, whose birth occurred in New York, on the 30th of January, 1813, followed the shoemaker's trade for a time and also drove stage out of Buffalo in the early days. Later he conducted a store at Mill Grove, a few miles from Buffalo, and there he remained until his removal to Vermont. He lived in that state in honorable retirement from business life for a number of years, dying on the 27th of October, 1858. He was survived by his wife until the 19th of July, 1882.

Frank A. Holley, is the third in order of birth in a family of seven children. At first attended school in Clarence, New York, and later in Mill Grove, New York, and in Vermont and Illinois. Following his father's death he made his home with a cousin of his mother and when about seventeen or eighteen years of age accompanied that family to Illinois, his mother consenting to his removal west. He spent one winter in Ripon, Wisconsin, working in the lumberyards for a time, and ran down the Mississippi river on a lumber raft as far as Hannibal, Missouri, the trip requiring nine weeks. He then returned to Illinois, but after spending some time with the family which had reared him he came to Lancaster County, Nebraska, and in March, 1869, homesteaded land on which he lived for about six years. He then traded that place for his present farm, going into debt for the difference in the value of the two properties. For a number of years he had to watch his expenditures closely as he desired to pay off his indebtedness as soon as possible and as the crops were sometimes poor. About 1877 he lost heavily owing to the grasshopper scourge, but he persevered and in time had his farm free of encumbrance. He has brought it to a high state of development, erecting excellent buildings and making other improvements upon the place which would now command a high price per acre if he desired to dispose of it. It comprises eighty acres and he derives a good income there from, although he is not personally operating the place now, having retired from active life. He might have become the owner of more land, but he preferred to give his children excellent educational opportunities rather than invest all of his capital in farms.

Mr. Holley was united in marriage on the 25th of February, 1875, to Miss Ella E. Gable, who was born at St. Charles, Madison County, Iowa. Her father, Enoch Gable, was born in York County, Pennsylvania, on the 21st of January, 1826, and followed the carpenter's trade in his native state and in Iowa for a number of years. In the fall of 1868, however, he took up his residence upon a farm in Waverly precinct, in Lancaster County, just across the road from Mr. Holley's place. After operating that farm for many years he removed to another tract of land which he cultivated for two years. At the end of that time he removed to Waverly, but is now making his home with Mr. Holley. Mr. Gable married Miss Martha Walmer, who was born in Wayne County, Ohio, in 1834, and who is now deceased. They became the parents of six children: Wayne, who is an employee of the Burlington & Missouri Railroad and resides at Lincoln; Mrs. Holley; George, who is farming in Mill precinct; James, who is engaged in the mercantile business in Geary, Oklahoma; William, who is engaged in the implement business in Waverly; and John, who is farming in Mill precinct.

To Mr. and Mrs. Holley have been born eight children: Lenora, the wife of Harry Stevenson, a farmer of Colorado; Gail F., who is a carpenter and contractor living at Waverly; Gertrude B., who is the wife of Arthur Anderson, a city employee of Los Angeles; Minnie M., who married Edgar Anderson, a mail carrier, living at Waverly; Georgia E., who is attending the Nebraska Wesleyan University at University Place, and is a teacher; Ruby B., the wife of Fred Malone, a farmer living south of Waverly; James E., who married Esther Hause, who is teaching in the Denton schools; and Muriel L., who is attending the Waverly high school.

Mr. Holley is an advocate of democratic principles, but at local elections votes independently, believing the qualifications of the candidate to be of greater importance than his political allegiance. He has always taken a keen interest in educational matters and was a member of the first school board in district No. 58 and was serving when the first school house in the district, known as the Jordan school, was erected. He served continuously on the board for more than forty years, filling all of the offices in that body, and in July, 1915, he refused reelection. During his connection with the board he did a great deal to promote the advancement of the schools and was highly esteemed by his fellow members of the board and by the teachers of the district. Fraternally he belongs to the Modern Woodmen of America and for three years held the office of venerable consul, for three years was banker and for one year was outside guard. His wife is identified with the Royal Neighbors. He has thoroughly identified his interests with those of the county and expects to continue to live here throughout his remaining days. When actively engaged in farming he ranked among the up-to-date and enterprising agriculturists of the county and the leisure which he now enjoys is well deserved.

Notes for Charles Franklin (Poppy) Harkins:

June 16, 1936 - A contest for the fancy roller skating championship of America will be staged at the White Rose Arena rink within the near future when Walter Laidlow, 81-year-old skater from Washington, D. C. and Fred Murree, Indian skater known here as "Bright Star" clash there. The contest grows out of a challenge published in a showman's magazine about a month ago by Laidlow and accepted through the same magazine by Murree. Five rinks, all located in large cities, are said to have bid for the match as an attraction but Charles "Poppy"

Harkins, manager of the local rink beat them to the match by personally visiting and signing the two contestants to contracts.

Laidlow, despite his advanced age, is still one of the cleverest of men on roller skates. Murree is formerly from Boston but is now manager of the skating rink at Red Lion. Harkins will import three competent judges to decide the winner, of the contest. Since advanced age is to figure in the contest. Harkins will also import Col. Phillips, the 85-year-old Philadelphia skater, who appeared here in exhibitions about a year ago. Harkins, himself is quite a skater and no baby on the rink. He is 68 years and will don skates for the program supporting the contest. The combined age of the four skaters. Laidlow, Murree, Phillips and Harkin totals 311 years. All four of them have been figures on the roller-skating rinks for better than 50 years. The date of the event to be set in the near future will close the season at the White Rose rink.

Charles F. Harkins, 70, more familiarly known as 'Poppy' Harkins, died early this morning March 15, 1939 at his home, 407 North Beaver Street. As a youth, the deceased was identified with semi-professional baseball, later with roller skating, for which he was in demand for exhibitionist in many parts of the country. In recent years he was manager of the White Rose arena. Mr. Harkins was employed during the seasons of 1888, 1889 and 1890 by the Barnum and Bailey circus. He was a member of the Elliott family of bicyclists. being the trick roller skater in the act and also performed on unicycles. He was engaged in roller skating for approximately 44 years. Professionally, he was known as Jack Harkins. in the years 1891 and 1892 Harkins was the manager of Minnie Douglas nine-year old skating dwarf of Boston. Then roller skating became a national craze Harkins managed the pier rink of Captain Young, at Atlantic City, from 1894 until 1896. Thereafter he returned to York and remained out of roller skating for several year. When the sport was received in 1908 the Yorker opened the Peoples' rink, at Lancaster, but in 1910 he became manager of the rink at Highland Park, southwest of the city. It was then owned by Frank Hartley. The deceased was a member and one of the organizers of the Royal Fire company. A special meeting has been called by President George Garver for 7:30 o'clock this evening to take action on his death. He held membership in Trinity First Reformed congregation and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Surviving are his widow, Ella Stabley Harkins; three step-brothers, Norman, Luther and Wilbur Harkins, York, and a step-sister, Mrs. John Sohnleitner, York.

Notes for Calvin F. Shenberger:

Calvin Shenberger had his own cigar making shop, he operated at his home. His wife Susan also worked in the family business. Calvin and Susan were married in 1886. Thier son, Henry Calvin, was born in 1883.

The family folklore is that Henry was not Calvin's son, but Henry used the Shenberger surname. When Calvin died, he did not name his son, Henry, or any of his grandchildren in his will. Instead, he left his estate to James and Rebecca Sentz.

Atchison, Kansas, August 6, 1952 - Huron is an attractive town on U. S.-73 about 15 miles northwest of Atchison with approximately 50 attractive homes and several places of business. All homes have spacious, well-kept yards, indicating the community's pride of ownership.

The Atchison County town is the center of a prosperous farming community, noted for well graveled streets and alleys. It is a place where farmers trade and sell their grain. Many persons are drawn to Huron for medical treatment by Dr. J. E. Thompson, the town's only physician, who has been practicing medicine there since 1916. His office is on the Main Street of the town, and his waiting room is usually full of patients.

The only other person now living in Huron who was there in 1890 is G. E. Stabler, now Missouri Pacific agent, who was a small boy. But Stabler has not lived there continuously. Stabler, known to his many friend "Curley," has served as operator or agent for the Missouri Pacific in Huron since 1916. He began railroading there in 1903, but three years later quit to accept a banking position. From 1906 to 1910 he worked in a bank at Arrington, then gave up and returned to the Missouri Pacific. He and Mrs. Stabler left Saturday for Little Rock to remain a week, and plan to spend the winter in California. Stabler began work for the Missouri Pacific Feb. 20, 1904, and resigned the following year to become assistant cashier of the State Bank at Arrington. He returned to work for the Missouri Pacific August 15, 1910. He worked a few years as telegrapher in the Atchison yards, and was agent at Huron from 1961 until 1952, when he transferred to Lancaster. Mr. and Mrs. Stabler are visiting her brother, Don Shoekley, and wife, at Little Rock, and about Dec. 15, they plan to leave for California to visit son, Roland L. Stabler, San Bernardino. Stabler for many years has been active in affairs in the Huron community where he retained his hoe after transferring to Lancaster.

March 14, 1947 - In Memory of Maud Evelyn Stabler:

Soft as the tread of the kitten, Came death to one of our members. Silently, patiently as glowing embers, Life slowly ebbed away at last.

Tis" in death she lives as we knew her, true, patient, and kind. Though she is gone in body forever; Her spirit she left behind.

Her philosophy is one to be copied, For sunshine she spread every place, Though at times her pains were concealed, By the smile that brightened her face.

Not an unkind word was ever expressed By this one so precious and dear; Not an untruth ever passed The lips that were stilled in death.

Yes, she is gone, we remember, But as she would want us to do, We'll gather strength for the future And manage somehow to pull through.

Marriage Notes for Franklin Stavely and Rose Fuhrman:

Littlestown, Sept 11, 1903 – Miss Rose G. Foreman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Foreman, a social favorite among her numerous friends everywhere, and Mr. Francis R. Stavely, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Stavely, of Germany Township, a popular gentleman of excellent reputation, were quietly married at the parochial residence of St. Alloysius' Church, last Tuesday at 12:15 p.m., by the Rector, Rev. Father Kohl. Because of the sudden death of the groom's father on Friday evening – too late to cancel the invitations – the marriage festivities were of the quietest. Only the immediate family and close relationship was present at the marriage ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Julia B. Foreman. The groom's best man was his brother, Mr. Samuel Stavely. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white China silk trimmed with lace and chiffon and carried Bride roses. The bridesmaid wore a handsome white embroidered Swiss gown and carried pink carnations. The groom and groomsman wore the conventional black.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Foreman, from 1 until 3 o'clock, where hundreds of friends called to extend their congratulations. A most tempting luncheon was served in the dining room. At 4:17 the bride and groom left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City for a ten days' trip. The depot platform was crowded with their friends who had previously relieved the grocers of all their surplus stock of rice. On their return home they will occupy their newly furnished home on South Queen Street.

He married (2) Gladys Aletha Buehler 14 Jun 1930 in Eugene, Oregon; born 14 Aug 1906 in Ritzville, Washington; died 19 Oct 2000 in Eugene, Oregon.

Notes for Howard Douglas Stabler:

Alaska Scrapbook; published November 12, 2006 compiled by Steve Haycox:

Howard D. Stabler, US attorney in Juneau, Alaska in the 1920's and early 1930's, was born in Bethany, Ohio, near Cincinnati, on November 11, 1887. A noted figure in the territorial period, he was involved in the attempted to end prostitution in Ketchikan during Prohibition.

After high school Stabler earned a law degree at Hamilton College of Law in Chicago and went west to practice law in Spokane. In 1918, he joined the US Signal Corps, which took him to Alaska. He left the corps and practiced law in Sitka briefly before accepting an appointment as assistant district attorney in Juneau. He served in that office from 1921-1929, when he was named district attorney, serving until the Democratic sweep in 1932, when he went into private practice.

As assistant US attorney, Stabler achieved a certain visibility when he was sent to clean up Ketchikan. That town was "wide open" after the adoption of Prohibition. Smuggling liquor in from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, was relatively easy. Prostitution was highly visible in western American towns well into the early 20th century, and was nowhere more visible than along Creek Street, across from the upright business section of the community.

The town's reputation received an airing during the 1925 territorial legislative session, and in 1926 a Los Angeles newspaper ran a feature story calling Ketchikan a national scandal. That prompted Judge Thomas Reed to order a grand jury investigation, which called for the assistant district attorney to be stationed there; Stabler got the call.

Stabler conducted a one-man campaign for several months, closing down the bawdy houses, open saloons and taxi companies whose drivers colluded with the bar owners and madams. Quickly achieving the status of "town father", he was named president of the Ketchikan Rotary, the first Rotary Club in Alaska. But, as everywhere, Americans during Prohibition were tolerant of drinking and, as always, ambivalent about prostitution. Ketchikan soon returned to its wicked ways despite Stabler's work. He was still battling American ambivalence when he moved back to Juneau to be the district attorney in 1929. Ketchikan would not be "cleaned up" until mid-1950's during the campaign for Alaska statehood.

In the meantime, Stabler finished his brief tenure as district attorney and became an upstanding member of the Juneau bar. Among other things, he sat on the bar committee that recommended the disbarment of William Paul in 1936. He was still practicing law at his death March 17, 1963.

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 13, 1950 - The action of the Alaska statehood committee in hiring a "professional lobbyist" to push its program in Washington D. C., was probably illegal, Howard D. Stabler, Alaska attorney and keynote speaker at a Republican rally, said here yesterday. Stabler cited a 1924 decision of the ninth circuit court of appeals on an Alaskan case which he said supported his belief. Stabler's reference to a "professional lobbyist" concerned Randolph Feltus, a New York relations man who formerly did publicity for communist Poland. He was retained by statehood committee to aid in presenting its program before congress. His employment by the committee was attacked in congress last week by Sen. Schoeppel.

State of Alaska Constitutional Convention - Candidate Howard Stabler

Sept. 8, 1955 - Howard Stabler, Juneau attorney, is a candidate for the Alaska state constitutional convention and as delegate-at-large. Seven will be chosen from a field of 28.

Born in Ohio, Stabler took his schooling there and obtained his law degree from Hamilton college of law in 1916. He came to Alaska in 1919 after having been admitted to the bar in Washington state and practiced in Spokane until he entered the US army in 1919 with the old WAMCATS (forerunner of the Alaska communications system) to be stationed at Sitka. He was a cable operator. He was admitted to practice law in Alaska in 1919, and became assistant district attorney for the first division from 1921 until 1929 when he became the district attorney.

In 1933 Stabler entered private practice in Juneau and has been in it since that time. At present he is city attorney for Juneau, Wrangell, Skagway, Pelican and Hoonah. He is a member of the American and Juneau Bar associations and is active in civic affairs. He belongs to the Juneau Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Rotary club (past president), an Elk, Pioneers of Alaska, Igloo No. 6, and is a 33 degree Mason. He has been in all of the principal cities of Alaska for the past 15 years and is acquainted with conditions. Stabler is married and his wife is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Alaska bar.

Introduction (adapted from notes provided by VWB Harley Clough): Howard Douglas Stabler (1887 – 1963) was a prominent Juneau lawyer and active Freemason, who served as Worshipful Master of Mt. Juneau Lodge No. 147 in 1935. Howard moved to Sitka in 1919 and then to Juneau 1921 as Assistant U.S. Attorney for Alaska. On Feb. 2, 1929, he was elected to receive the degrees of Scottish Rite, which would become one of his scholarly passions. In 1935 he was appointed as Editor-in-Chief of the newly created Scottish Rite Bulletin for the Juneau Valley. In 1939, he began writing communication-related essays for the Scottish Rite degrees, with the first presentation of the 4th degree essay on May 12, 1939. He wrote essays for the 5th and 6th in September 1939, 7th in October that year, and proceeded to write similar essays for each of the 29 degrees. In 1941, he was elected to the 33rd degree, and became Deputy for the Supreme Council in Alaska in October 1955. This oration was delivered to the Grand Lodge of Washington at their annual communication in June 1940, in the midst of the "Great Depression" and just one and a half years before the U.S. entered World War II. This poignant message has significance to Masons of all ages, more especially today.

Preparation by Howard D. Stabler

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Washington: As we look around us in the world today the prospects sadden our hearts. Confusion and chaos crowd the horizon and the conflict of ideas—the greatest stumbling block to human progress—spreads over the whole earth. The clouds hang low and threatening; and the air resounds with strife. As darkness threatens to spread over the face of the deep, the world seeks a principle of order; and a bewildered and confused humanity casts about in despair for some workable maxims of conduct. Has Masonry anything to offer such a world? Can Masonry, out of its wisdom, hold out any guide for the future?

As I searched for the answers to these questions amid the encroaching powers of darkness, my thoughts turned to the starting point in every search for Masonic light—the preparation room, where every candidate for light in Masonry is first prepared in his heart by being robed in a "garment furnished from on high", and symbolically divested of the vanities of his own righteousness. And as I reviewed the lesson of modesty and humility—the first lesson in preparation for Masonry—and searched again for the Word that was lost through the untimely death of our legendary Grand Master, I beheld in all its glory Masonry's magnificent contribution to world welfare; and became inspired anew by the wisdom, strength and beauty of our noble and glorious Order.

Masonry's answer to all such questions is plain. Masonry's great contribution to the world is the philosophy symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry. The Master's Word, like the Holy Grail of ancient legend, has the mysterious power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it. Masonry is prepared to lead men from darkness to light. It will accomplish its great purpose in the world when Masons are prepared; prepared to find, but more especially to observe, what was lost by the untimely death of Grand Master Hiram; prepared to transmit what they find unimpaired to others.

Masonry is preparation of the individual to find and observe what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry. The broad highway of Masonry, straight as an arrow, leads Masons directly to the Lost Symbol. The apprentice might have seen the Master's Word in the first degree of Masonry, when he was presented with his Masonic apron of lambskin, and told that its pure and spotless surface should be an ever present reminder of a purity of life, and rectitude of conduct, a never ending inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. The Fellow-Craft had a glimpse of it, when his attention was directed to the letter "G" suspended in the East. And it was revealed preparation By Howard D. Stabler in the third degree in these words: "Hence, my Brother, how important it is that we should endeavor to imitate our Grand Master Hiram, in his truly exalted and exemplary character, in his unfeigned piety to God, and in his inflexible fidelity to his trust."

Recently I read a sentimental anecdote, which I think demonstrates the noble and glorious meaning of the Lost Symbol. A woman, dressed in rags, was passing along a street in a French town, holding her little son by the hand. Suddenly she stooped to pick up an object from the ground, tucking it within the folds of her ragged garments. In doing so, she aroused the suspicions of a nearby policeman, who demanded that she show him what she had concealed. The poor woman, a picture of deprivation, cast down her eyes and revealed a jagged fragment of a broken bottle, explaining, "I was thinking only of the barefoot children." That miserable and wretched woman, in her thoughtfulness, had the key to the Master's Word.

One evening a few years ago, a neighbor boy came to our summer home and asked if I would take his father to the hospital in town. I knew the old man had come home to die, hopeless after several unsuccessful surgical operations. I had not seen him for a couple of weeks, and hardly recognized him as his two boys lifted his helpless and wasted frame into the back seat of my car. We drove to town, and stopped at the back door of St. Ann's Hospital, where I rang the bell for an attendant. A Catholic Priest came out; and as I started to explain our purpose there, he saw the two boys struggling to lift their father out of the car. At once, without stopping to inquire whether the sick man was Catholic or Protestant, rich or poor, friend or foe of the Catholic Church, the Priest took up the old man in his arms, and, without asking for assistance from any of us, carried him into the Hospital, where he died during the night. That Priest saw a poor, suffering, helpless individual. His unselfish, Christian act healed me of a lot of prejudice and intolerance towards the Institution he represented; and I saw a glimpse of something which I think is symbolized by the Master's Word of Masonry.

In the beautiful allegory by Lowell called "The Vision of Sir Launfal", the maiden Knight, in his gilded mail that flamed so bright, set forth in June, the high tide of the year, to seek in all climes for the Holy Grail. As Sir Launfal rode forth from his castle, he saw a leper crouched by the gate, and a loathing over Sir Launfal came. "The sunshine went out of his soul, and the flesh 'neath his armor 'gan shrink and crawl." He tossed a piece of gold to the leper, and rode onward in search of the Holy Symbol.

Sir Launfal traveled the World over in search of the Holy Grail, but failed to find even a glimpse of it. Returning from his fruitless search, in Winter, just at the Christmas time, he again met the leper. Now, Sir Launfal's gold was gone. He was bent with age; and clad in raiment thin and spare. This time he saw in the leper an image of Christ suffering on the cross, and he said: "Thou also hast had thy crown of thorns, Thou also hast had the world's buffets and scorns."

"The heart within him was ashes and dust: He parted in twain his single crust, he broke the ice on the streamlet's brink, and gave the leper to eat and drink." And then, in a vision, Sir Launfal found the object of his search—"The leper no longer crouched at his side, But stood before him glorified, Shining and tall and fair and straight As the pillar that stood by the Beautiful Gate, himself the Gate whereby men can Enter the Temple of God in man." And the voice that was softer than silence said, 'Lo, it is I, be not afraid. In many climes without avail, Thou hast spent thy life for the Holy Grail; behold, it is here—this cup which thou Didst fill at the streamlet for me but now; This crust is my body broken for thee, This water His blood that died on the tree; The Holy Supper is kept, indeed, In what so we share with another's need. Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare; Who gives himself with his alms feeds three, himself, his hungering neighbor, and me'."

Of all the allegorical stories of the search for what is represented by the Lost Word of Masonry, I like best Tennyson's immortal Idyll entitled "The Holy Grail."

In it, Sir Percivale, one of the Knights of King Arthur's legendary court, related to the Monk Ambrosius that one day, in the absence of King Arthur, a fleeting vision of the Holy Grail appeared in the castle; and that Percivale and Sir Bors, and Lancelot, and many among the Knights of the Round Table who saw the vision, swore their vows to follow Galahad, and ride in search of the Holy Thing for twelve months and a day, until they found or saw it; and that King Arthur remained at home, and charged that most of them would only follow wandering fires.

Percivale told of his own adventures. He rode forth from the castle, lifted up in his heart, thinking of all his late shown prowess in the tournaments. As he rode onward, he came to a land of sand and thorns, and he thirsted even unto death. Many times he thought he had found the object of his search, but each time as he touched the object it crumbled into dust and disappeared, until in despair he cried, "Lo, if I find the Holy Grail itself, And touch it, it will crumble into dust." Finally, Percivale came to a chapel, and there he found a holy hermit, to whom he told his phantoms and his dreams, and the hermit said: "O son, thou hast not true humility The highest virtue, mother of them all; For when the Lord of all things made Himself Naked of glory for His mortal change, 'Take thou my robe', He said, 'for all is thine'. But Him thou hast not known; for what is this? Thou thoughtest of thy prowess and thy sins, Thou hast not lost thyself, to save thyself, As Galahad."

Then Galahad appeared and related that he had seen the Holy Symbol, and that it had moved with him night and day; and how in the strength of this he rode, "shattering all evil customs everywhere." Percivale then followed Galahad, "shattering all evil customs everywhere", and in the strength of this he saw a glimpse of something which he described as, "The spiritual city and all her spires And gateways in a glory like one pearl,—A rose-red sparkle to the city, and there Dwelt, and I knew it was the Holy Grail, Which never eyes on earth again shall see."

Then Percivale, glad that no phantoms vexed him more, returned from whence he came—the gate of Arthur's court. And there he found King Arthur on the dias throne, and those other Knights who had returned from the quest, wasted and worn, and but a few of them.

King Arthur made Percivale welcome, and then each Knight in turn related his adventures to the King. Sir Gowain reported the quest was not for such as he. He found a silk pavilion in a field, and merry maidens in it. Sir Bors said, " 'Ask me not, for I may not speak of it; I saw it', and the tears were in his eyes." Lancelot said, " 'This quest was not for me'."

Then spoke King Arthur, who remained in his castle attending to the duties and responsibilities of his high office while the others were searching for the Symbol in distant places:

" 'Some among you held that if the King Had seen the sight he would have sworn the vow. Not easily, seeing that the King must guard That which he rules, and is but as the hind To whom a space of land is given to plow. Who may not wander from the allotted field Before his work be done, but, being done Let visions of the night or of the day Come as they will. And many a time they come, Until this earth he walks on seems not earth, This air that smites his forehead is not air, But vision. Yea, his very hand and foot,— In moments when he feels he cannot die, And knows himself no vision to himself, Nor the high God a vision, nor that One Who rose again'."

Then said Percivale, "So spoke the King. I know not all he meant."

The mysterious power represented by the Master's Word has been the subject of many legends and allegories. It has been symbolized and personified in many forms. By whatsoever object symbolized,—by whatsoever character personified,—by whatsoever words it has been named,—it is Gospel Truth, that what is represented has power to heal the world of all its wickedness, and power to heal by faith the ills of all who find it.

The great objective of speculative Masonry is to find and restore the mysterious power of the Master's Word—not symbolically, but in fact and practice. Each one of us is obligated by the vows of Masonry to search for the Lost Symbol. Each one of us is charged to observe what is found. And each one of us is charged to transmit what is found, unimpaired, to others.

Are we worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great undertaking to which we are committed? We know the signs and words, and the symbols and allegorical legends, of speculative Masonry. Some among us have received the highest honor within the gift of a Masonic Lodge. We consider ourselves Master Masons. But are we Masters, or Overseers, of the work? Are we entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up?

We were informed that at the building of King Solomon's Temple, Masters wore their aprons in a peculiar manner, to distinguish them as Masters or Overseers of the work. We were given the rank and title of Masters, but were instructed to continue wearing our aprons as Fellow-Crafts. I think this was intended to distinguish us as laborers, and to remind us that there is much work yet to be done before we can attain the high and honorable distinction of a Master; and I think it was also intended to remind us of King Solomon's order—to search for the body of our legendary Grand Master, and if found, to observe whether the Master's Word, or a key to it, is on or about the body.

All too often we attempt to extort or force the secrets of Masonry by impossible and impracticable interpretations of its symbols and legends. Wise King Solomon did not send Fellow-Crafts in search of something that could only be found and recognized by Masters. He did send them in search of something which, if found, they could not see. I think he sent them to search for, and if found to observe, the INTERNAL QUALIFICATIONS—what it was on or about the body that distinguished Grand Master Hiram as a Master or Overseer of the work.

Preparation for the degree of Master, or Overseer of the work, is the whole purpose of speculative Masonry. This purpose is best symbolized by the rough and perfect ashlar. The rough ashlar represents the individual and his rude and imperfect state by nature.

The perfect ashlar represents the state of perfection at which we hope to arrive by a virtuous education, our own endeavors, and the blessings of God. The purpose of Masonry is to develop the rough and imperfect individual to one with the internal qualifications possessed by Hiram the Master. When we find, and observe by practicing them, the internal qualifications of a Master, then we will possess the jewel of Masonry which we call the Master's Word, and become entitled to wear a Master's apron, with the right hand corner turned up.

The Master's Word of Masonry represents the precepts of Masonry, exemplified in the life and character of Grand Master Hiram. But the Master's Word is lost to many Masons—lost because imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Grand Master Hiram has become obsolete among many Masons. According to Masonic tradition, Masters once wore their aprons with the right hand corner turned up. That custom has become obsolete; and I think it will remain obsolete until we become Masters or Overseers of the work.

Only a few Masons labor on until they find within themselves the internal qualifications of a Master. Too many think they already know all there is to be known about Masonry. Too many, like Sir Gowain, follow wandering fires, and never find what it was on or about the body that made Hiram a Master or Overseer of the work. Too many who see the work and listen to the lectures of Masonry, are like Percivale who said after hearing King Arthur's story of his visions of immortality, "So spoke the King, I know not all he meant." Only a few remain in the allotted field of Masonry and labor on to extend and propagate its principles and precepts among men. There is an unfinished spiritual temple within each one of us. As long as life remains within our bodies—as long as our hands are able to grasp the working tools of Masonry—we must labor on to perfect and complete that spiritual temple. The plans for our spiritual edifices have been laid down for us by the precepts of Masonry. The design on the trestle-board is imitation of the truly exalted and exemplary character of Hiram the Master Builder.

Measured by this exacting standard of morality, we must become worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the great building program to which we are committed. We must perfect our spiritual temples by learning to tolerate the political, religious and philosophical opinions of others; by learning to share what we have with another's need; by forgetting our prowess and our sins and learning true humility, the highest virtue, mother of them all; and, above all, by learning to appreciate the immortal gift of that One who said, "Take thou my robe, for all is thine."

There is also much unfinished work on the Temple of Masonry, and completing it is the individual and collective work of all Masons. Here we practice Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth. Here we are united by the cement of speculative Masonry into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention exists, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who best can work and best agree. But without the walls of Masonry are fellow- beings in want and need, suffering from hunger, sickness and sorrow. Without the walls of Masonry the world is torn by strife, discord, confusion and despair. Men and nations struggle in mortal conflict. Our own favored country is divided and torn by depression, by greed and intolerance, by selfishness, ambition and prejudice. When the custom of wearing our aprons with the right hand corner turned up is no longer obsolete among Masons—when the great purpose of Masonry is accomplished in the hearts of men—then will men be healed by faith of all their ills; and then will the world be healed of all its wickedness.

The Master's Word, representing the mysterious power of Masonry—the power that oppresses none, threatens none, inspires all, is here—in this room—within the reach of all. Take it, and the speculative jewel and apron of a Master are thine. It is yours— yours for the observance of one simple rule: imitate the internal qualifications of Hiram the Master Builder, and all the secrets of a Master are thine. Take it, and become duly and truly prepared to travel in foreign countries, work and receive Master's wages.

My Brothers, we are assembled here in the Temple of Masonry, upon the level of equality, even as Knights of old were wont to assemble in the castle before the Round Table of King Arthur's legendary court. Let us believe that we have seen a vision of the Master's Word in our Temple, even as Galahad, and Percivale and Lancelot, and many among the Knights, saw the vision of the Holy Grail in the castle, in days of old. Let us make our vows to follow Hiram, and search for the Holy Symbol until we find or see it. When this Grand Communication is closed, and we part upon the symbolic square of Masonry, let us go divested of all the vanities of our own righteousness. Let us go forth into the world without and meet all men upon the level of equality; act towards them by the plumb of uprightness; and part from them upon the square of virtue. Let us resolve that Brotherly Love shall prevail beyond these walls; and that every moral and social virtue shall cement us and all Masons into one sacred band or society of friends and brothers laboring together for the good of humanity. Let us renew the work on our spiritual temples, and upon the Temple of Masonry, with hew inspiration for higher thoughts, for nobler deeds, for greater achievements. Let us labor on in preparation for a better way of life. Let us by precept and example do our part to carry on the Great Light of Masonry in a dark and dismal world.

And when at last we lay down our working tools and report that the spiritual temple is completed—when we are robed in the "garment furnished from on high" that divests all men of the vanities of this life, let us be worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, for the speculative honors of the last and highest degree. May the record of our lives and actions enable each one of us to say, and our conscience to adjudge, I come duly and truly prepared. I have learned the lesson of modesty and humility. To the best of my ability, I followed the designs laid down by Hiram the Master. To the best of my ability, I observe the internal qualifications of a Master or Overseer of the work. I found the key to the Master's Word, thinking of the barefoot children. I had a glimpse of the Master's Word when I raised my fallen brother. I saw the spiritual city and all her spires when I shared my single crust with another's need. I found the jewel of a Master, when I learned to know myself no vision to myself, nor the high God a vision, nor that One who rose again. I helped to restore a noble custom that had become obsolete among Masons. I learned to wear my apron with the right-hand corner turned up.

Notes for Laird Joseph Stabler:

Inspired by a visiting entourage of American Chemical Society officials earlier in the year, club member Dr. Laird Stabler, USC Professor, oil refinery consultant, and ACS member originating from Berkeley, California, petitions the American Chemical Society to establish a local section in Los Angeles. On February 11, 1911, the newly chartered Southern California Section of ACS, consisting now of 60 members, holds its first monthly meeting. The meeting topic, "Our Smoke Nuisance", is about the Los Angeles basin's problem with atmospheric haze due to smoke particulate.

This group grew out of eight chemists meeting together in 1901 in an office at the Los Angeles Soap Company. They decide to call themselves the Los Angeles Chemical Club, and meet monthly over lunch and beer to discuss things they have learned that might result in a prosperous collective manufacturing venture. By 1903, the group has doubled in size, and they now call themselves The Los Angeles Chemical and Metallurgical Club to be more inclusive of member assayers who earn their living averting mining scams and swindles.

Notes for Robert James (Bobbie) Stabler:

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - Bond of James Ballard, held on a charge of manslaughter, was fixed at $3,000 after a preliminary hearing this morning in Middletown municipal court. He and Mrs. Ballard testified to events preceding the fatal shooting of Robert Stabler, following closely reports they have given to police.

Middletown, Ohio, June 22, 1935 - A charge of manslaughter was filed against James Ballard, ago 22, Penfield Street late yesterday by Russell Stabler, brother of Robert Stabler, 17-year-old high school band drum major who was killed shortly before midnight Thursday when shot by Ballard.

Ballard told police prowlers have been frequenting his neighborhood and that he shot at Stabler when he saw the youth peering a front window at the Ballard home. A half hour earlier, Ballard says, heard someone outside of the house, had his wife sit in a front room and he secreted himself on the porch, armed with a small caliber rifle.

Within the half hour, Ballard continued, he saw a person, crossing the street. This person walked to the window of the Ballard home and, Ballard says, started toward him when the watcher ordered him to stop. It was then that Ballard fired.

"The fellow ran south, I called for him to stop, and when he kept on going, I continued to fire. He tried to get through the front gate at Armco field (a baseball field about 400 yards from the Ballard home) and fell. I think I fired six times, but I didn't want kill him, just make him stop."

Russell Stabler, the brother, expresses contends the opinion Robert was the victim of mistaken identity. One bullet entered Stabler's left side, another his right side, while he third entered the middle of his back. It was this bullet that caused death, an autopsy performed at Middletown hospital revealed.

This bullet severed a large artery from the heart as well as a large vein. Until this was learned, authorities had expressed surprise that such small caliber bullet wounds would prove fatal so quickly. Stabler died a half an hour after being wounded and did not regain consciousness.

From Simmer Lathey, 818 Fifteenth Avenue, detectives learned Stabler had been visiting Lathey's daughter Marie, until 10:30 o'clock Thursday night. The shooting occurred at 11:20 o'clock. Robert Stabler, who would have been a senior in high school next term, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stabler, 302 Garfield Street. Besides his parents, he is survived by his brother, Russell, former city engineer, and a sister, Marie.

Wade E. Miller, principal of Middletown High school, and Herman J. Copp, director of music, for whom Stabler played in the school band, give the slain student a splendid reputation, both asserting "he was a model pupil, honorable in every way and we thought a great deal of him."

Ballard was graduated from Middletown High school several years ago. He was an outstanding member of the 1930 football team, became known as an amateur wrestler, also played football, and last year the Cincinnati Reds sent him training school and then placed him on a farm at Jeanette, Pennsylvania. Ballard is married and he told police Mrs. Ballard is an expectant mother.

Funeral services for Stabler will be held at 3 o'clock Monday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Spring Hill cemetery, Bethany. Edward Cook, Butler county coroner, has not fixed the date of inquest which he said will be conducted next week.

Lt Commander Harvey Sydney Henning Jr. (USN, Ret.), 91, of California, Maryland died October 13, 2016 at his home surrounded by his loving family. He was born on July 20, 1925 in Mansfield, Louisiana to the late Harvey S. Henning Sr. and Margaret Clarke Henning. Harvey proudly served in the United States Navy from 1943 to his retirement as a Lieutenant Commander in 1967. He began his undergraduate engineering program at Louisiana State University and Tulane, graduating from the United States Naval Academy in 1949. He flew some of the first jets from aircraft carriers during the Korean conflict. After his first wife, Rebecca, died suddenly in 1956, he chose to raise his son and stayed stateside, foregoing reaching flag rank. He earned his Master's Degree in Nuclear Physics from the University of Pennsylvania and became a top Pentagon intelligence expert on the Soviet space program, ending his Naval career at NSA in Fort Meade. As the civilian Project Manager on the High Energy Laser (HEL) Project for the Naval Ordnance Lab, he helped initiate the beginning of missile defense, leading to the end of the Cold War. On June 20, 1959, while stationed at Point Mugu, California, Harvey married his beloved wife, then-LT (JG) Marilyn F. Henning (née Gemme) in Pasadena, California. His hobbies included reading science fiction, woodworking, wine making, and working with computers.

In addition to his beloved wife, Marilyn, he is also survived by his children, Harvey S. Henning III (Teresa) of Huntsville, Alabama, Eric Britt Henning of Laurel, Maryland, and Charon E. Henning (Lexie) of Gainesville, Florida; his grandson, Ian Miller Mitchell Henning of Laurel Maryland; and many extended family and friends. In addition to his parents, he is also preceded in death by his first wife, Rebecca Haile; sister, Margaret Clarke "Peggy" Myers; and daughter-in-law, Betsy Mitchell Henning.

Notes for Daniel Howard Plowman:

Caney, Kansas, May 22, 1911 - Mrs. W. A. Haynes. wife of the pastor of the Christian church here, publicly horsewhipped Daniel H. Plowman, a widely known dairyman and a member of the Caney school board, here today. Plowman swore out a warrant for the arrest of 'Mm. Haynes and her son, who accompanied her. The trouble grew out of the fight over the election of a superintendent of the public schools. Mrs. Haynes write a communication to a local paper concerning the election. Plowman posted the clipped communication in the window of his store and appended the words: "She says she is a religious woman." Mrs. Haynes entered the Plowman store today and demanded that the clipping be removed. Plowman refused. Then Mrs. Haynes attacked him with a riding quirt.

Superintendent Williams, a brother of Byron Williams of this city, was re-elected by a vote of four out of seven members present at a recent meeting of the board. Other members of the board claim that the election was illegal, being held before the regular time for the election and also because a majority of the board did not vote for Mr. Williams. At a later meeting. Prof. Humphrey, who lives in Missouri, was elected. It is understood that Plowman is a Humphrey partisan, while Mrs. Haynes favors Williams.

Notes for Thomas Dillon Dias:

Thomas Dias, at a young age, he and a friend started off to Pittsburgh to enlist, but his father got work or was suspicious and showed up before they could join. A few months later, in 1863, he slipped off again to Greensburg and enlisted when not quite seventeen. He got into the thick of the fight very soon; first as a guard at Washington, where he saw President Lincoln every day going to the hospitals for his regular visits.

Under the command of Col. Dick Coulter, he was ordered to take care of the Weldon Railroad. This command was part of the big effort to take Richmond. He was in the four day battle of the Wilderness and later Spotsylvania and Cold Harbor. He was shot through both legs, but not with the same bullet or at the same time, he attempted to crawl out of harm's way and was shot in the other leg.

He was a large man, more than six feet tall and built in proportion, and over the years he had sympathy and good-will to men. He operated a boarding house for McMinnie & Simms when they built the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Pittsburgh to Altoona. He also ran the Central Hotel at Seward, Pennsylvania.

According to his military pension file, the marriage of Thomas and Edith didn't last, even though they did not divorce. It appears as though Edith brought with her a son from her previous marriage to live with her and Thomas. Thomas apparently considered him to be a deadbeat who did not want to work and maybe threw him out. Edith got mad and moved out, then filed a claim with the government for half of his military pension on the grounds that he abandoned her (she lost).

Thomas was in a car wreck and had a heart attack and then pneumonia at son's home in Seward, while recuperating. This led to his death.

Wheatfield, Indiana Co, Pennsylvania, and died 16 Sep 1935 in Indiana Co, Pennsylvania.

Notes for Albert Michael Walbeck, twin:

Indiana, Pennsylvania – Coming as a great shock to the community was the tragic death of Albert M. Walbeck, a prominent resident and farmer, of West Wheatfield Township, who ended his life by hanging in the wagon shed of his home farm on Thursday forenoon June 2, 1927. The deceased had been in failing health for several months and it is believed that he committed the act during a sudden mental collapse while brooding over his condition. He was serving as road supervisor of his district and leaving the house that morning he announced that he going to Indiana to transact business in connection with the office. Late that afternoon while at the barn gathering eggs, Mrs. Walbeck went to the wagon shed where she discovered the dead body of her husband suspended from a rope which was tied to a rafter. The condition of body gave evidence that the deed must have been committed shortly after Mr. Walbeck left the house that morning.

The deceased, who was a son of late Levi Walbeck, was aged 66 and was a life-long resident of West Wheatfield Township, where he was regarded as one of the most substantial citizens. He was a man of fine Christian character and was one of the active members of the Germany M. E. church. He was identified with various community interests throughout his active career and served his district in several positions of trust.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Nesbitt, of near Blairsville, and sons, R. S. and R. D. Walbeck, at home. He was a twin brother of Joseph L. Walbeck, who in the same township. Funeral services were conducted at the on Sunday afternoon and interment followed in the Lutheran church cemetery.

John Samuel Walbeck (1780-1852) & Elizabeth Seitz (1790-1858) had 12 Children... two of which were Charles Walbeck (1822-1902) which is the line that Forrest descended from. Another son Was Levi Franklin Walbeck (1824 to 1908). Levi married Lydia Sarah Wagner (1827-1909) and they had 9 children, one of which was Albert M. Walbeck (1862-1927).

Albert married Crissie Mae Stormer (1863-1935) and they had 4 children, one of which was Ralph Deane Walbeck (or Walback)(1903-??) as he seemed to spell it differently throughout various newspaper articles from that period when he as the youngest son was the executor of his mother's estate in 1935. I found him with the Merchant Marines in San Francisco in 1930, but lost track of him after that. He married Margaret Biggerstaff (1912-??) in 1939. He appears to have gone by the name of Dean not Ralph. So based on the evidence that you found, the certificate dated Jul 1928 and the photo, which I'm guessing is around that same date, I believe this to be a photo of Ralph's mother Crissie Mae Stormer-Walbeck. Her husband Albert (Ralph's father) had a tragic ending. According to his obituary, he was a prominent farmer and one of the most substantial residents of the county of West Wheatfield. Unfortunately, his health began failing and he became broody in 1927. He kissed his wife good-bye on the 9th of June and said he was going into Indiana on business and went into the wagon shed and hung himself. Later that day, Crissie went to gather eggs and found his body hanging from a rope suspended from the shed's rafter. He was a man of fine Christian character and an active member of the Germany Lutheran Church.

Notes for John Grant (Walback) Walbeck:

Oct. 12, 1922 - Mystery surrounds a shooting incident in West Wheatfield Township, in which John G. Walbeck had a narrow escape from being hit by a bullet. Mr. Walbeck, who resides two miles north of Robinson, was awakened by a noise in his chicken yard. In the kitchen, preparing to go to the coops, he was startled by the sound of a revolver being discharged, the bullet crashing through the window just missing the householder's head. Mr. Walbeck says he believes he has a clue to the person who fired the shot. He says that while he and his son were going to Robinson last Saturday, he was accosted by five men in a car. It is his opinion that the noise among the poultry was created to get him out as the poultry house was not opened nor were any fowls missing.

Notes for Loyal M. Walbeck, twin:

June 24, 1911 - Two children of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Walbeck, of West Wheatfield Township, died the past week from the of whooping cough. A third child is seriously ill with the disease. The children which died were aged four years and six months, respectively. The six months-old child died on Thursday and when the friends and neighbors gathered to attend the funeral they were surprised to find that the four-year's-old child had also died from the same disease, while another child was in a serious condition.

The funeral of the child that had first died was then postponed until Saturday afternoon, when both children of the afflicted parents were buried together. Mr. and Mrs. Walbeck were married in 1902, nine years ago, and nine children have been born to them during that time, all but two of whom are dead. The condition of the child now ill with the whooping cough is reported as being improved.

Notes for Curtis Beriah Bliven:

History of Dakota County, Nebraska by Warner, page 101:

Curtis Bliven belonged to the Farmer's Club, a society organized in 1886 which held a great "Farmer's Institute" in a grove near home, July 30, 1887.

As a young man who freighted materials with an ox team from Laramie, Wyoming to Sioux City, Woodbury County, Iowa. He was just a teenager when he was driving the ox team. Indians were a menace in those days and family history says Curtis was a friend of an Indian brave who kept him posted on the location of troublesome tribes. As Curtis made his many trips back and forth he gazed at a tract of land with a grove of large elm trees and dreamed of someday owning this land and becoming a farmer.

This dream became reality on October 23, 1860 when Curtis purchased the 10 acres from Israel G. Lash. The farm is located 2 miles west and 2 miles south of Dakota City, Nebraska. Curtis lived with a neighbor family while he constructed a log cabin. This probably served as a family home for a few years. later a wood frame house was constructed. Curtis cleared much of the land and farmed until about 1890, when Will the oldest boy, took over for about ten years. Then Leslie and Charley began farming the home place in 1900. They purchased a farm directly east of the Bliven place from Glen Armour in 1903. Later they divided the property and Leslie remained on the original Bliven farm.

Notes for William Arthur (Will) Bliven:

Dakota City, Nebraska, Feb 5, 1904 – The funeral of William A. Bliven, who was killed by the care at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on January 31, 1904, was held here yesterday, and although the day was frigid cold the Salem Lutheran church, three miles west of this place, where the services were held, was packed to its utmost seating capacity by old friends of the deceased who came to pay their tribute. The remains arrived in Sioux City from Albuquerque on Friday night, being accompanied by the brother, George. Accompanied by the relatives, they were brought to this place at 10 o'clock this morning, where the members of Omadi lodge, No. 5, A.F. & A.M., of which the deceased was a member, joined the funeral cortege and accompanied the remains to the church where Rev. S. M. Leshner, Lutheran pastor, delivered a most fitting sermon on the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death. The casket was a bank of flowers contributed by loving friends. After the church services the Masonic lodge and many friends accompanied the remains to the Taylor cemetery where Past Grand Master R. E. Evans conducted the Masonic funeral services.

Mr. Bliven was in his thirty-fourth year and was born and raised in the county. He was one of the brightest of young men, sober, industrious and successful farmer and catted feeder. By successful financiering in the past few years, he accumulated upwards of $15,000 and when he met his death was enjoying himself sightseeing and looking for an investment.

Notes for Bernard Manuel Boals:

Bernard Manuel Boals was born Sept. 19, 1876 and died Jan. 11, 1950. He is buried at Logan Park, Sioux City, Iowa. Bernard Manuel Boals was of sturdy build, rugged and healthy, 5 ft 6 1/2 inches in height. He had brown eyes like his mother. Bernard, like his father George Jr., loved to hunt and surely brought in the plump jack-rabbits which in that country are almost like "beefs" and splendid eating; also cottontails which are plump and fat like the jacks, also many ducks. On the hunt for jack-rabbits he was a stayer and if he once jumped up he would stay on the trail until he brought it down even if it took him all day. Bernard went to school at Brushy Bend School until through the 10th grade, then had a year at business college at Dixon, Illinois at the age of twenty. Bernard had an impediment in his speech which bothered him greatly and at Dixon he tried valiantly to master his difficulty. During the winter of 1903 Bernard spent two months in Detroit, Michigan at a school for training to overcome his impediment. He made significant progress during this time.

When twenty four, Bernard was married on September 20, 1900 to Etta Wilhemina Beerman who was one year and two days his junior. Etta was a daughter of Fred Beerman Sr. and Anna Armbrecht. Etta was born Sept. 21, 1877 and was a sweetheart of their Brushy Bend School days. They were a devoted and happy couple and everything was joyful about their home. Members of Etta's family were continually dropping in and would bring a loaf of bread or a pickle or something to pretend they were keeping them from starving. Bernard and Etta set up housekeeping on the David Boals home place, which George Jr. (Bernard's father) bought from David and Hannah Boals when they moved to Dallas, Oregon. Bernard still brought in the jack-rabbits hanging from his belt and Etta would praise him on his success in hunting; theirs was surely a happy home.

Bernard and Etta had one son, Manuel Wilhelm Boals, born June 5, 1902. Etta passed away at or shortly after his birth, and here was Bernard, alone and with a little boy, motherless.

Bernard's mother, Hattie Plank Boals, came to the rescue and sustained Bernard and cared for little Manuel. Porter Boals, Bernard's brother said "I used to watch mother bathe him and noted his little arms and legs, just like we grown people, only just little. I always called him the "little fellow" and how I watched him grow day by day." Georga, Bernard's sister lived with Bernard and kept house for him all this time. Bernard, with his mother's assistance gradually accepted the loss of his wife and adjusted himself to conditions as they were and realizing it would be better not to continue on alone married Alta Foreshoe on June 7, 1905. Alta was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Foreshoe of Dakota County, Nebraska and was a member of Salem Church where all of the Boals families attended. Bernard and Alta had three children in addition to Manuel Wilhelm. Bula Berniece, born Feb. 15, 1907, who died in infancy on July 5, 1907. Rhea born March 14, 1908. Rhea was a healthy child and vigorous and how Bernard loved her. When she was a little over two years old she was stricken with Infantile Paralysis and lived only a day or two and died Sept. 11, 1910. Both children are buried at Logan Park, outside of Sioux City. Their third child was Bernard Ralph Boals, born Oct. 19, 1909.

In 1919 Bernard and Alta rented out their farm for two years and with their sons, Manuel and Ralph, went out west to visit the Porter Boals family (Bernard's brother). They crossed the "Plains" with the Robert (LAHS-Ord) Hileman Family and were guided by the "Blue Book" which one would read while the other one drove. (No highways or signs you see). Each family had a two wheeled trailer which could be made up at night into a house on wheels to provide sleeping quarters and protection from the elements. Naturally this was quite an experience and took quite a while with all kinds of roads and weather.

They arrived in July, 1919 and it was an enjoyable occasion for everyone. That was the year that Mary Elizabeth was born to Alice and Porter Boals, so Bernard's family rented a home in Payette and the boys went to school there. The next summer they went on to California. Porter and his family travelled with them as far as Walla Walla. Bernard had a Haynes car and Porter had a Model T Ford. They had a great experience obtaining gasoline and crossing the Blue Mountains. Bernard rather wanted to stay and live in Payette where he had made many friends but Alta and the boys wanted to go back to their farm in Nebraska, so that fall they all returned to Nebraska. Bernard is buried at the Logan Park Cemetery NW of Sioux City, Iowa.

Notes for Rev. Winfield Scott Hoskinson:

American Lutheran Biographies: or, Historical Notices of Over Three Hundred and Fifty Leading Men of the American Lutheran Church - From its Establishment of the Year 1890. By Jens Christian Roseland. Page 377:

Rev. Winfield S. Hoskinson, Sc.D. was born in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, October, 1852. He is of English and German descent. His paternal grandfather was a Virginian, whose ancestry were of the leading people among early settlers. They were noted especially for their shrewdness and intelligence. Prof. Hoskinson's father has retained these traits in a large degree, being now recognized as a man of unusual intelligence and good, common sense, and although not a professional man, is of liberal education.

But that perseverance characteristic of the subject of this sketch came rather from the German, through the maternal parentage. His maternal grandfather and grandmother were natives of York County, Pennsylvania, and when young emigrated with their parents to the then sparsely settled western part of the State. Both branches of that family were prosperous, and became the thrifty people of their respective communities.

They were Lutherans in church polity, and noted for their strict adherence to the faith of their ancestry, as well as for an honesty and integrity of character, which make their names revered to this day. Prof. Hoskinson's boyhood days were spent on his father's farm. Farming in the hilly country in which he was raised meant an unusual amount of hard work. His father being a practical mechanic, spent his time largely in looking after the interests of a flouring mill and saw mill, leaving the young boy to manage the plowing and sowing. This was done with an energy and determination truly remarkable in one so young. Like most boys, he was unusually fond of horses, and when but twelve years of age would make trips to the distant railroad station, six miles, hauling lumber, flour, tanbark, etc., managing his team on the rough hills with remarkable skill. Being the oldest of a large family of children, the burden of the work and management fell to him. He is remembered by those who knew him when a boy as one who always performed his nearest duty most faithfully.

His schooling when a child was but three months of the year. Of studious habits he made rapid progress, and after spending a short session at a normal school was chosen by the Board of Directors of his home district to teach the winter term of school. This was a severe undertaking, as many of his pupils, being neighbors, were much older than himself. Pluck prevailed, and he was successful, as his re-election to the same school the next year proved. He was not fifteen years old at this time. Having acquired a taste for books and study, he continued teaching in winter and attending normal school in summer.

In the spring of 1870 he came to Wittenberg College, entering the preparatory department, and devoting his time to the study of Greek and Latin. His desire was to return to college at the beginning of the fall term, but was disappointed. He again taught in the winter of 1872, and attended another term of normal school the following summer. In the fall of 1872 he entered the Freshman class in Wittenberg, with the design of preparing himself for the ministry, and in due time was graduated, standing among the first of his class. He then entered the theological seminary, and completed a course in theology. After graduating from the Seminary he was invited to fill the pulpit of Dr. S. A. Ort, in Louisville, Kentucky, during the summer of 1878. Several calls to fields of labor in the ministry were extended to him at this time, but being chosen tutor in the preparatory department of the college he accepted the position, and has filled it ever since. had brought on by an accident in Norway, and they were finally obliged to apply to an older brother for aid.

Mr. Hoskinson is not one of those who is content with present attainments, but is ever desirous of widening his field of knowledge, and of more thoroughly mastering what he has already been over.

As a teacher Professor Hoskinson has been unquestionably a success, and during his work in the college he has always shown himself master of the branches which he taught. He is strict to the extent of requiring his students to prepare thoroughly what they pass over; feeling that their success, especially in Greek, in their after years in the college department, depended greatly on the thorough training and solid foundation they have laid while in the preparatory department.

In the summer of 1880 Mr. Hoskinsen was married to Miss Clara B. McKee, who had been for several years a teacher in the city schools of Springfield, O. They have a family of three children, two girls and a boy.

Mr. Hoskinson began his scientific studies' in the fall of 1883, paying particular attention to chemistry and mineralogy. In 1884 and 1885 he published, in connection with Dr. E. F. Smith, "Notes on Minerals," and "Electrolysis of Molybdenum and Mercury Solutions" —papers appearing' in the Journal of Chemistry, and in abstract form in foreign journals. In 1885 he translated "Stammer's Chemical Problems," published by Blakiston, Son & Co., of Philadelphia. This little work has been of great service to teachers of chemistry. The summer of 1886 he devoted chiefly to the study of geology and paleontology, making a fine collection of fossils, some of which, found in the Clinton limestone of Ohio, are new. Kansas, Dec. 18, 1886 - One of the most interesting cases ever in the United States, is now on trial. It is a very peculiar case and it is doubtful whether there was ever one like it before. E. M. Weston, who was in September, 1885, a hotel clerk at one of the leading hotels of McPherson, brings suit against J. M. Martin, P. L. Jennings and E. Stabler, three of the most prominent citizens of McPherson, for damages to the amount of $10,000, because of treatment he received at their hands. The incident took place at McPherson in September, 1885. The defendants above named were of the opinion that Weston attempted to seduce their daughters, and about 10 o'clock in the morning of September 11, on one main business streets they placed a rope around his neck, strangled him and threatened to kill him. He was ordered to leave town and was placed in an express wagon and driven out of town. Weston claims that he was innocent of any improper conduct with the girls, and for personal injury and damage to character he asks the sum of $10,000.

The case was called at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Judge Foster in the United States circuit court. Weston is represented by Judge John Foster, of this city; Lucien Earle and Wartz&Heyer, of McPherson. The defendants are represented by Captain J. B. Johnson, of this city; John D. Milliken, F. B. Webster, and W. J. Travis, of McPherson.

Young Weston, the three young girls, May Stabler, Rena, Jennings and Carrie Martin and their fathers were present in court, besides a large number of witnesses from McPherson. A jury was selected without much difficulty, and Mr. Lucien Earl, of McPherson, addressed the jury on behalf of the plaintiff. He said that they proposed to show that E. W. Weston was a clerk at one of the leading hotels in McPherson, at a salary of $30 per month. He formed an acquaintance with Miss May Stabler, a daughter of the defendant, Mr. Stabler, and had taken her out riding; he also became acquainted with Miss Carrie Martin, a daughter of the defendant, J. M. Martin; that the three girls played "hookey" from school and asked young Weston to take a walk with them; that they went down the railroad track and in a short time Mr. Stabler came along, and threatened to shoot Weston; that Weston protected his innocence; afterwards he was met at the hotel by Stabler who produced a revolver and again threatened to kill him and ordered him to leave town; believing that his life was in danger, he did leave town for a day or two; when he came back Weston was met by the fathers of the three girls, who put a rope around his neck and choked him; they then load him in an express wagon, all the time pointing a pistol at him, took him to the Union hotel, put his valise in the wagon him and ordered the expressman to drive outer town; that for three weeks he carried the marks of the rope about his neck; that he was obliged to leave a lucrative position; that he was at no time guilty of immoral conduct; the action of the defendants was without the least justification; he did nothing that no other young man would not do. He thought the jury would agree that he was entitled to damages.

Mr. Milliken then addressed the jury for the defendants. He said that one of the defendants was a church official and two others were members of the school board, and were business men of good character and standing. Weston, he said, was one of that innumerable class who infest all cities and towns, who wear better clothing than anybody else, smoke cigars, and yet have no visible means of support. He came to McPherson one month before the occurrence. The three defendants each had little daughters about 14 years old, to whom Weston made improper advances; it might be that the girls did not show the proper degree of dignity, but the defense would show that Weston solicited them to take a walk; he and another young man met them at church on Sunday and solicited them to go away but they refused; he met them again and suggested a carriage ride; at another time he tried to entice them to his room in Union hotel, saying he had books that he wanted to show them, he solicited them to correspond with him, and told them he could write under an assumed name; he proposed that he would get a postoffice box with several keys, so that when he wrote a letter he would place it in this box where they could get it, and they in turn could place their reply in the box where he could get it. He also asked them to go away with him and when they replied that their mother would not allow that, he told them they must conceal everything from their mother. On one Sabbath afternoon he procured a barouche and drove them out of the city, and when some distance out, he drew out a bottle of chloroform which he sprinkled on their handkerchiefs; he sought to embrace them, but they resisted; he perpetrated indignities of grossly lascivious character, and he was guilty of a great many improprieties. Next week he proposed to write excuses, signing their parents' name, so that they could get away from school. He had the children agree to meet him on one afternoon, and took them down the railroad a distance of one mile, where while they were sitting upon the grass, he grossly insulted them, by exposing his person, and other indignities; he proposed that they go further into the country where they would not be seen. Mr. Stabler having learned from some of his neighbors that this young man had enticed his daughter away, followed them and found them together at the place mentioned. He told Weston to leave, and afterwards visited Weston at the hotel, accused him of attempting to traduce his daughter, and told him he must leave town, which the young man did. A few day later he returned, and the fathers of the three girls know that their daughters were not safe with Weston in the town, went to him with raw hides for the purpose of cow hiding him and ordering him out of town. They also took a piece of rope along for the purpose of tying him if it was necessary. They found him, and ordered him to leave town, but Weston said he would not; a scuffle then ensued, during which it is possible that the rope got around the young man's neck. Some of the citizens congregated, and in response to an inquiry the three defendants told them that they did not intend to hurt Weston, but they wanted him to leave town; and the mayor, who was standing near said that he guessed Weston would leave, but if he did not they would all unite in a job of hanging him. Mr. Milliken said that he thought the jury would agree with him that they hang higher than Haman.

E. W. Weston, the plainti, was the first witness to take the stand. He testified: I am 24 years of age; the first time I saw saw the defendants in this case - Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings was on September 11, 1885, at McPherson; I have been residing at McPherson since October 25. On September 11 I was approached Mr. Stabler, who told me to leave town I said I would not because I had done nothing. He then pointed a pistol at me and told me to leave or he would kill me. I told him I would go. He called the sheriff who told me that he thought I had better leave town. I went Florence, where I had an uncle. I stayed there a few days and then went Ellinwood, where I stayed only a few hours and returned to McPherson September 14. A few hours afterward, I was approached by Stabler, Martin and Jennings. They took me up in front of the Merchants hotel. Stabler first pointed a gun at me and afterwards he took a rope out of his pocket and put it around my neck. They choked me until I was unconscious. The first remark I heard after I recovered consciousness, was that made by Mr. Stabler, who said to the crowd, "this man has traduced my daughter." Mr. Robinson, who stood by, said I know it is not true, for I saw a letter of recommendation which he had from Wellington." They then put me in an express wagon, put my valise in also, and told the expressman to drive me to Galway, a distance of eight miles. I was then out of employment until November 9, when I went to work in a Kansas City brick yard. Before I went to McPherson, I had been a hotel clerk nine years. When they choked me with the rope, the skin was knocked off my face and neck. The occurrence took place about 9:30 o'clock in the morning of one of the principal business streets.

Cross-examined by Captain Johnson the witness testified that he clerked in hotels in various places in Illinois and also at Wellington. Soon after he went to McPherson he met May Stabler, Rena Jennings and Carrie Martin, daughters of the defendants in this case. Miss Martin told him she was 16 years old. Between 1 and 2 o'clock on September 11, these three girls came up to the hotel where they found me playing ball; Miss Stabler and Miss Martin called me over where they were, and asked me to take a walk with them. They wanted me to meet them at the church on the corner; they had their gossamers with them. We went about a half mile down the track, and sat down on the grass on the bank of a railroad cut. I did not do anything, and I did not try to do anything. There was a house not very far distant, but I do not know just how far. I could see a man at the house all the time. My conduct was proper and right. After we had been sitting there about half an hour, Mr. Stabler came up to us, and said to the girls, "Go on home." He then turned to me and said, "You, if I had a gun, I would kill you. I told him I had done nothing, but he still threatened to kill me. I told him the girls had asked me to go with them, and they also told him the same.

We separated, and when I got into town I caught up with the girls, and they said they would tell Mr. Stabler that they had asked me to go with them and that I had done nothing improper. I told the girls I would see Mr. Stabler and explain things. I then went to the hotel, and on arriving there I found Mr. Stabler, who asked "are you going to leave town?" I replied in a joking manner that I was. He went into the hotel and told the proprietor that he wanted him to settle with me, as I had to leave town. He pulled out his revolver and threatened to kill me. When the girls were with me, they said they intended to run off with a show that was coming to McPherson in a short time; they also said that a few weeks before they had run off to Salina with two traveling men, and when they got to Salina they ran away from the travelling men and visited friends. On another occasion took a buggy ride with Miss Stabler, she having invited me to go with her. I met her and Miss Martin at church and we then went riding. I think it was Miss Stabler's buggy. She said her mother had told her she could take me out riding, had never seen her mother. We were out about an hour; there was nothing improper between us. Court then adjourned until this morning.

Dec. 16, 1886 - A case will come up in the United States circuit court tomorrow which is somewhat of an anomaly, and which involves $10,000. E. M. Weston sues J. M. Martin, J. W. Stabler and others for personal damages in the sum of $10,000, the said Weston having been kicked, cuffed and choked nearly unto death by the said defendants. Weston is a young man, under 30 years of age, and in the summer of 1885 was a hotel clerk in the city of McPherson. He was a bold, dashing young fellow, and was known as a great ladies' man. One of his pastimes was to take several little girls 14 or 15 years old out tiding in a buggy. Among others he took the daughters of J. M. Martin and J. W. Stabler out into the country not unfrequently.

At length these excursions of Weston's in to the country with the daughters of these gentlemen became so notorious that public attention was attracted. The girls seemed to have become fairly fascinated with the dashing hotel clerk. They played truant from school to be in his company, and committed other errors of this nature. Weston's conduct with regard to the girls became so loud that the fathers waited upon him and informed him that he must leave the city at once. He obeyed, but in about ten days returned. Again, his relations with the girls were resumed until finally one day a neighbor of Mr. Stabler came to him and said: "What would you do if you saw your neighbor's daughter going into the country with a suspicious character?"

Mr. Stabler promptly replied that he would inform the girl's father of the fact. The neighbor then told Mr. Stabler that he had seen Weston take his daughter into a buggy and drive her toward the country. Stabler at once started in pursuit of the couple. He came upon them several miles out of the city. As soon as Weston saw him, he started to run. Stabler took his daughter back to McPherson, but by the time he arrived there, Weston was there, too. After taking the girl to her home, Mr. Stabler, in company with the fathers of two other girls to whom Weston had been paying some attention, waited upon the gentleman at the hotel where he was employed. They took with them a rope, and when they met Weston there was an excited and stormy debate. Finally, one of the irritated papas reached for Weston with his strong right arm, and pulling in the limp form of the dude hotel clerk, his neck was circled with the rope.

Weston began to pray for mercy, and for a time it looked rather rough for the "lady's man." He was dragged far a considerable distance. His face became black and blue and his tongue hung out. All his entreaties for mercy were in vain. The three papas had been bothered enough with Mr. Weston, and they proposed to teach him a lesson that he would not forget for a while any way. Finally, after Mr. W. had given up all hope of ever being rescued, the rope was untied and he was told that he was at liberty to leave the city by the first train or leave the world from the nearest tree. It did not take him long to decide. The first train suited him well enough. He was therefore escorted to a station a short distance down the road, and from that day to this Mr. Weston has been a stranger to the city of McPherson.

In consideration of the rough treatment which he received at the hands of the papas of the little girls with whom he alleges he was carrying on an innocent flirtation, Weston now sues for personal damages in the sum of $10,000. His attorney is the Hon. John Martin, of this city, while Messrs. Stabler and Martin are represented by Captain J. B. Johnson.

Dec. 21, 1886 - Miss Stabler corroborated by Miss Jennings and Martin – The Cross-Examination Fails to Develop New Facts - At 9:30 yesterday morning the bailiff, of the United States circuit court rapped for order in the commodious rooms of the court in the federal building. The case on for trial was the Weston-Stabler damage suit which has attracted considerable attention owing to its many sensational features. It had been announced on Saturday that the young ladies with whom Weston had carried on what he is pleased to term a harmless flirtation would be placed on the stand to testify for the defense, and as a consequence all the available space in the court room was occupied by interested spectators who remained throughout the entire day listening to the testimony. Miss May Stabler, one of the young ladies whose foolish flirtation with Weston has caused considerable trouble for that individual and a great deal of litigation for her father was first placed on the stand to testify for the defense. Miss Stabler is a pleasant looking blonde, 16 years old. She gave her testimony in a quiet, diffident way, answering all questions put to her promptly, and in a clear and decided tone. Her testimony was strangely contrasted to that of Weston, whoever and anon contradicted himself, not unfrequently refused to answer questions and on the whole his demeanor on the stand was not such a would win for him many friends in the jury box. In response to the questions of Capt. J. B. Johnson, Miss Stabler said that she knew Weston, in all about three or four weeks. The first time she ever saw him was when she passed the Union hotel on her way to the business part of the town. Rena Jennings was with her when she first met Weston. De Wolf was with Weston at the time, and while Rena Jennings and the witness were out walking, De Wolf and Weston spoke to them and asked them to go out walking with them. They did not accept, and no time was fixed for another meeting. The next time the witness met Weston was on Sunday at the church. She did not hear the conversation between De Wolf and Weston and Carrie Martin and Rena Jennings. She was at the organ playing. De Wolf wanted Carrie Martin and the witness to go to Salina with him that afternoon. They refused.

The next time the witness saw Weston was at the church, and then he wanted to know, if he would get post office boxes, whether or not the three girls would correspond with him. Was there about half an hour talking with him. He said he had some very nice books up in his room, and wanted the girls to come up. He said the number of his room was 28. While they were standing there, Rena Jennings said: "There comes my papa," and when she said this Weston at once left. The next time the witness remembered of meeting Weston was when he took her and Carrie Martin driving. He met them on the street and asked them if they did not wish to take a ride. An affirmative answer having been given, Weston procured a rig at the livery stable. The witness and Carrie Martin drove for about half an hour with Weston.

The next time the witness met Weston was on the next Sunday at the church. Weston wanted to know at this time if the witness would go outriding with him. She declined to go for a time and finally consented. They drove into the country about a mile and then returned. School began on the next day after this and on that evening Carrie Martin, Rena Jennings and the witness took Weston out riding.

The witness next saw Weston on Friday. Carrie Martin was with him. They were standing on the sidewalk in front of the Union hotel and motioned to Weston to come across. They asked him to write them excuses from school. Weston wanted to know where the girls were going and wanted to know why he could not go with them. As the girls did not want to go to school that day they went down the railroad track east of the city and Weston accompanied them. They sat down by the bridge in a cut and remained there about an hour before Mr. Stabler came for them. While in the carriage some days before Weston had attempted to place his hand on their persons, and also stated to the girls that he had some chloroform. This he placed upon their handkerchiefs. He also placed his hands upon the girls' limbs and other parts of their persons. He attempted to put his hands under Carrie Martin's clothes and under those of the witness. The girls all remonstrated with him for doing this. The witness did not remember that she had put her foot on the seat by him. The girls were all dressed in short dresses, and Weston frequently made vulgar allusions in talking to them. While the girls were in the railroad cut Weston attempted to take improper liberties with all of them. He threw Carrie Martin down on the ground and fell on her and kissed her. After the witness' father came up and took her home, he asked her to tell him all about the circumstances and Weston's conduct, which she did.

Cross-Examination. Judge John Martin then compelled Miss Stabler to go through a rigid cross-examination. She did so without any trouble whatever, and the cross-examination failed to shake any of her testimony.

At the afternoon session of the court the room was equally as crowded as it was during the forenoon by interested spectators. Rena Jennings, a most prepossessing little blonde, was placed on the stand to testify for the defense. She stated that she was 16 years old. The first time she ever spoke to Weston was at the Methodist church in company with May Stabler, De Wolf was with Weston at this time. The witness then went on to state her experiences with Weston substantially as related by May Stabler above. She said that while riding with Weston in the barouche he attempted to take liberties with her in the way of feeling of her person. She said that Weston had asked her to run away with him and she had replied that when she ran away with any one it would have to be with a better-looking man than he was. She related the occurrences at the railroad cut, how he threw Carrie Martin down, fell on top of her and kissed her.

The cross examination failed to develop any additional facts or to shake the evidence brought out by the direct examination. Miss Jennings was on the stand about two hours, and during that time she broke down crying but once. She answered all questions put to her in a quiet, determined way, and the whole rather favorably impressed the spectators. Miss Stabler was on the stand three hours, and during that time she repeatedly broke into spells of crying. Whenever this occurred silence reigned supreme in the court room, and one could have heard a pin drop. The last witness placed upon the stand for the day was Miss Carrie Martin. Her testimony was substantially the same as that given by the other girls. The examination of this witness was not completed when the court took an adjournment until 9:30 a.m. Today will probably see the completion of this celebrated trial.

Dec. 24, 1886 - The case of E. C. Weston vs. J. W. Stabler, J. M. Martin and Mr. Jennings, came up yesterday in the United States court before Judge Brewer. This case has attracted wide spread attention over the entire state, owing to the numerous sensational features, and as a consequence the circuit court room was yesterday quite comfortably filled by spectators who had assembled for the purpose of hearing the evidence. It will be remembered that Weston brings suit against Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings for damages in the sum of $25,300, for injuries which he sustained at the hands of the above-named parties, who, under the impression that Weston had attempted to defile their daughters, compelled him to leave McPherson. Captain J. B. Johnson, F. B. Webster, W. J. Travis and John D. Milliken are representing the defendants in this case. Hon. John Martin, of this city, Worts & Hyer and Lucien Earle, of McPherson, are representing Weston in this case.

Yesterday afternoon some little time was spent in securing a satisfactory jury, but the difficulty having at length been bridged, Mr. Lucien Earle, on behalf of Weston, made a statement of his client's case to the jury. Mr. Earle said that the plaintiff would endeavor to prove that the three defendants had uselessly and without cause threatened the life of the plaintiff Weston. That they had forced him to leave the city of McPherson, and had by force overpowered him, attached a rope to his neck and by tightening the same had caused Weston to become unconscious. All the actions of the defendant originated from the false belief that Weston had attempt to defile the three daughters of the defendants, whereas he was merely carrying on a harmless flirtation with them with no bad or malicious intent. For the defendants, Mr. John D. Milliken made a statement of their side of the case to the jury. Mr. Milliken dwelt upon the fact that the defendants were all three re-puttable business men of McPherson. Weston came to McPherson in September of 1885, and in a short time he picked up an acquaintance with the three daughters of the defendants, all school Bins aged 1. Weston's reputation before coming to McPherson was by no means clean. Directly after he had succeeded in making the acquaintance of the girls, he had made open boasts that he would accomplish their ruin. He took them out buggy riding, and while with them his conduct and actions indicated what his object was. On September 12th, 1885, he had taken the three girls to a secluded spot and there he renewed his lascivious conduct. He also attempted to persuade them to run away from home, and the girls in their innocence had proposed to first make known their intentions to so do to their parents. This Weston told them they must not do, as it would spoil everything. He proposed to write them excuses, whereby they might be excused from school in order that they might be in his company. He had taken the girls out in a barouche and had saturated their handkerchiefs with chloroform, and attempted to stupefy them in order that he might be enabled to defile them. When the fathers learned of this conduct, they were naturally indignant. They told Weston he must leave the city, and he did so, but returned in two days. He was again told to leave, and acts were committed to induce him to do so. Whatever was done, Mr. Milliken said, was done to protect the children.

E. C. Weston, the plaintiff in the case, was the first witness called to the stand. He testified that he was 25 years old, and that he had resided in McPherson in 1885; was clerk at one of the hotels. He received $30 per month and board. He first became acquainted with Messrs. Stabler and Martin in September, 1885. He had quite an experience with Mr. Stabler. Stabler had objected to him (the witness) keeping company with his daughter. Stabler had placed a pistol to his head and asked him to leave town.

In compliance with this demand he (Weston) had left the city and gone to Florence and Ellinwood, and two days later he returned to McPherson. Here he was again waited upon by Stabler, Martin and Jennings and three pistols were placed at his head and he was again told by these three parties that he must leave the city. Finally, a rope was placed around his neck, and from then on he did not remember much. He was unconscious in fact, choked. Finally, he was placed in a wagon by force and driven to Galva, a station a short distance from McPherson, where he was placed on the train and sent to Florence. He had been out of employment after he was compelled to leave McPherson, up to November 9, 1885. He had been employed after that time in Kansas City in different ways. He had no trade or profession, but had always been hotel clerk. The rough handling which he had received at the hands of Messrs. Stabler and others had caused an abrasion of the skin on the neck of the witness. This was brought about by the rope which was placed about his neck. When the rope was first placed around his neck it was about 10 o'clock in the morning, in front of the Merchants hotel, at McPherson, in the main street of the town. About 100 people were attracted by the incident.

The witness being cross examined by Captain Johnson, testified that he was a single man. He had resided in Kansas since December, 1883. He had commenced work as a hotel clerk in '881. Captain Johnson then entered upon a rigid cross examination of the witness. He compelled Weston to give an account of himself for the time years prior to the time he arrived at McPherson, in September, 1885. The witness testified that he had clerked at the Phillip house at Wellington. He denied that the establishment bore a bad name. He did not know that Phillip, the proprietor, had been compelled to leave Wellington and close his house owing to public indignation at the filthy way in which it was kept. He did not know what business Messrs. Stabler, Martin and Jennings were engaged in at McPherson. He had never been admitted to their households. He did not remember when he met Rena Jennings, May Stabler or Carrie Martin. The last-named girl had told him that she was 16 years old. The other two girls had told him they were past fifteen. On the 11th day of September, 1885, Miss Stabler and Miss Martin came to the hotel and asked the witness to take a walk with them. He complied with the strange request of two little girls asking a stranger 24 years old to take a walk with them. In company with Miss Martin and Miss Stabler he walked about a half mile out from the hotel. This was about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. They went out to the railroad and sat on the Dana for the purpose of talking. The only object he had in going out that far was to sit down. There were no other places to go to sit down and talk. He went to this isolated place in company with the girls because they ask him to go. He did not do or try to do anything while he was there. From the place where he was, there was a house distant about 300 feet, he thought. He was with the girls about half an hour when Mr. Stabler came upon them. During this half an hour he did nothing at all. He took no improper liberties with the girls. When Stabler came up he (Stabler) called him (the witness) hard names and told him that he must leave town. Stabler took the girls and started towards the city. The witness followed up behind and finally he took a different route from that which Stabler took and proceeded to the Union hotel. Shortly after the witness arrived at the hotel Stabler came up and asked him if he was going to leave town. To this the witness replied that he was going to leave. Stabler then related the facts of the witness connection with the girls to the crowd in the hotel. Stabler had drawn a pistol on him in the cloakroom, and threatened him. Shortly after this Stabler went for the sheriff. When the sheriff came, this officer advised the witness to leave town as he was in imminent danger of being killed. The witness told the sheriff that he was innocent of any charge of attempting to defile the girls. When he was down on the bank with the girls alone they talked about everything in general. The girls said that they intended to run away with a traveling company. He gave them no advise whatever in regard to the matter. A few days before he went down to, the railroad bank in company with the girls, Miss Stabler wrote him a note telling him to be at the Methodist church at 7:30 in the evening and they would go buggy riding. He went down to the church as per appointment, and in company with Miss Martin and Miss Stabler he went riding for about an hour. They (the girls) furnished the rig, and he went out at their invention. During this time he undertook no improper liberties with the girls. At this point the court adjourned until 9 a.m. today.

McPherson, Kansas, July 7, 1893 - J. W. Stabler had a wheat stock struck by lightning Saturday night and burned up, Mr. Stabler estimates it contained about one hundred and fifty bushels of wheat which was not insured.

McPherson, June 1, 1894 - Mr. Wright, mayor of this city, has gone to California. This leave Mr. Stabler the president of the council, as acting mayor. Several years ago Mr. Stabler was Mayor of this city by election. Its business was well looked after. For every dollar of taxes expended the city got a dollars' worth in return. The laws were well enforced and the public morality was good. But the people wanted a change and they got it. And now we presume they are ready to welcome back Mr. Stabler as the best mayor we ever had. There is no need of a special election.

Notes for Bessie M. Stabler:

Coweta, Oklahoma - The sad news reached Coweta this morning that Mrs. Bessie Huntsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stabler, had answered the final summons of her Creator and passed to her reward on Saturday night, September 1, 1917. She suffered three of the strange nervous attacks to which she was subject, which followed in quick succession, and never regained consciousness. She was 37 years of age. Her remains were shipped to Claremore, the present home of the Stabler family, and laid to rest in the cemetery there. Many friends of the family in Coweta join the Times in expressing deep sympathy for those she leaves to mourn her sad passing.

Notes for Columbus Lehmer Kunkel:

A History of Northwest Missouri, Volume 3, edited by Walter Williams. Page 1509:

Columbus L. Kunkel was born on the old homestead farm of his father in Nodaway Township, Holt County, and the date of his nativity was February 2, 1857. He is a son of William M. and Elizabeth A. (Robinson) Kunkel, of whose eight children—four sons and four daughters—five are living. William M. Kunkel was born near Galion, Crawford County, Ohio, on the 20th of June, 1832, and about the year 1845 he accompanied his parents on their removal from the old Buckeye State to Missouri, the journey having been made with team and wagon to the Mississippi River, and from St. Louis to St. Joseph by boat, the latter place being the point from which they made their way to their destination in Holt County. Jacob Kunkel, grandfather of the subject of this sketch, purchased a relinquishment claim to land that had been entered from the Government by the original owner, and he there instituted the reclamation of a farm in the midst of a virtual wilderness. Both he and his wife passed the residue of their lives on this old homestead and there their son William M. became, with the passing of years, one of the substantial and successful farmers and stock raisers of the county. He made excellent improvements on the place and there continued to reside until 1880, when he removed to the Village of Newport, this county, where he has since followed the shoemaker's trade, though he has reached the age of more than eighty years, this trade having been learned by him under the direction of his father. He is one of the well known pioneer citizens of Holt County and his circle of friends is coincident with that of his acquaintances. He is a republican in politics and both he and his wife, who likewise is of venerable age, are zealous members of the Evangelical Church.

Columbus L. Kunkel was reared to adult age on the old homestead farm which was the place of his birth and his early educational advantages were those afforded in the public schools of the locality and period. As a boy he began to assist in the work of the farm, and during the long intervening years he has found both satisfaction and profit in his continued identification with the basic industries of agriculture and stock growing. His present homestead, which comprises 178y2 acres, is under excellent cultivation and he has here maintained his residence since January 2, 1879. The land was obtained from the Government by his great-uncle, Henry Kunkel, a brother of the grandfather of the present owner, and by him was sold to Joseph Anselman, who was the father of Mrs. Kunkel, wife of him to whom this review is dedicated. Mr. Anselman became the owner of the property in the autumn of 1865, and of the buildings now on the place the only one that was not erected by the present proprietor is the old house that was built by Mr. Anselman and which stands to the rear of the newer and essentially modern residence. On this old homestead Mr. Anselman continued to reside until his death, in December, 1882, and here also his devoted wife passed the closing years of her life. In the winter of 1866 ~&[r. Anselman was associated with others in the founding of the Evangelical Church near republican in politics but has had no ambition for the honors or emoluments of public office. In a fraternal way he is affiliated with the Woodmen of the World.

In the year 1878 was solemnized the marriage of Mr. Kunkel to Miss Eliza Anselman, who was born and reared in Holt County, her father, Joseph Anselman, having been a native of Germany, whence he emigrated to the United States when he was twenty years old. In about 1866 he came to Missouri and settled on the farm now owned by his son-in-law, Mr. Kunkel, as previously noted in this sketch. He became the father of three sons and seven daughters, and of the number four are deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel became the parents of ten children, all of whom are living except one, Norman, who died at the age of fourteen months. The names of the surviving children are here entered in the respective order of birth: Adolph E., Beryl S., Mabel A., Julia, Jesta M., Harrison, Dale D., Ruby and Charlene. Mabel A. is the wife of Roy Hardman and Charlene is the wife of Wesley Mart.

Notes for Jesta Maude Kunkel:

King City, Missouri - Mystery Surrounds Attempt on Life of Miss Justie Kunkel of Near New Point, Missouri. - Last Saturday afternoon Sept. 25, 1909 while in the back yard at the home of her brother for whom the young lady, about 20 years of age, was keeping house, Miss Jesta Kunkel was shot in the back with a bullet fired from a cornfield nearby. The young woman, who was alone at the home at the time, fell, and so far revived that she was able to crawl to the house and phone for help. When neighbors came she was unconscious, but later revived. The ball passed through the body from the back and lodged against a rib in front.

Bloodhounds were put on the trail and a man was arrested, but he soon clearly established an alibi and was released. There seemed to be no clue to who the assailant was. There is a rumor that it was a mistaken identity in the person for whom the shot was intended. It is reported that during the hours of consciousness the young lady declared her belief that the shooting must have been accidental. The young lady is a cousin of our Mr. Kunkel, the King City photographer.

He married Mary Ann Quinn 31 Dec 1888. She was born 22 Oct 1856 in Galesburg, Knox Co, Illinois, and died Bet. 18 Nov 1952 - 1956 in Seattle, King Co, Washington.

Notes for Solomon Washington Kunkel:

Oregon, Missouri - At the time of the receipt of the news of the death of Solomon Kunkel, we had no data at our hand from which to make an obituary notice. His death occurred last May, and as the deceased had many relatives and friends here, we copy the following from the White River, Washington Journal, of May 12th. The deceased was a brother of Columbus Kunkel, of Now Point, and of Mrs. Gouv. Morris, of Kansas City, Lum Kunkel and Mrs. Robert Cowan, of Hickory Township. He was a grandson of Uncle Jacob Kunkel, who was a brother of Uncle Daniel Kunkel, Sr., now of Kansas City.

After an illness of ten months most of which time was spent in bed, Solomon W. Kunkel passed away last Monday night July 9, 1900 at his home here. He has a son of William and Anna Kunkel. He was born near Now Point, Holt county Missouri, in October, 1856, and came to Kent in the same month of 1888. He was a member of the A.O.U.W., who had charge of the funeral, which took place from the Methodist church, where Rev. Morris conducted the services. He was also a member of the Masons, who were present at the funeral. Some beautiful wreaths were sent, the one from the band, of which he was a member, being artistically fashioned as a cornet.

He was married to Miss May Quinn, teacher from Holt County, Missouri, on the 31st, day of December, 1888, at the Methodist parsonage in Kent. The deceased leaves his widow and two children, little girls, one ten and the other two years old. He leaves both parents, three sisters and two brothers in Missouri. Mr. Kunkel was never a strong man, but he was an industrious and careful worker, therefore he leaves his widow well provided for. He carried $2,000 insurance in the Workmen. Last year Mr. Kunkel was a member of the council, but resigned owing to ill health.

Kent Lodge, No. 59, A.O.U.W., passed the following resolutions on the death of S. W. Kunkle.

Whereas, Brother S. W. Kunkel, has been taken from our order and lodge room by the cruel hand of death, and his chair is left vacant; and Whereas, The protecting chain of our fraternity now tenderly guards his bereaved ones, whose lives have been clouded by his final farewell; therefore be it Resolved, That our charter be draped with the evidences of our brotherly sorrow, and that we give his loved ones the full measure of our sympathy and consolation, due from us to men by reason of the golden bond of our mutual obligation, and share with them the deep sadness occasioned by his death; and Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at large upon the records of our lodge, a copy be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy to the White River Journal for publication.

Notes for John C. Eckhart:

Lafayette - John C. Eckhart and C. J. Whistler, residents of Buck Creek, were injured, the former seriously. In a spectacular automobile accident Friday afternoon July 27, 1928 at Snoddy's corner, five miles south of Heath, and adjoining a farm owned by A. L. Clark, of Lafayette. Mr. Eckhart was injured about the chest and appeared to have had several ribs broken. Mr. Whistler was hurt about the legs.

Eckhart was riding with Whistler who was driving a Hupmobile car. They were on their way to Buck Creek from Indianapolis. As they reached the cross roads, going north, a Chevrolet car, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baxter, 1214 Columbia Street came from the west on Haggerty Lane, going toward Frankfort and a collision resulted. The Hupmobile struck the right hind wheel of the other car, throwing the auto to the side and causing it to turn over twice. The Whistler car turned front end upward and then fell backward, crushing Whistler and Eckhart in the wreckage.

Eckhart was found to be suffering severely, but Whistler was not so badly hurt. They were both taken to their homes in Buck Creek and a doctor was called. The Baxter car was badly damaged, but the occupants escaped with minor cuts and bruises. Inquiry at the Eckhart home Saturday elicited the information that Mr. Eckhart was resting easier after having suffered) quite severely Friday afternoon and evening. There are two ribs broken. The condition of the injured man, it was stated is improving and he is expected to recover in a week. Mr. Eckhart is president of the county council of religious education, is a director of the Farm Bureau and Tuberculosis association and has long been engaged in the telephone business and farming.

Buck Creek, March 4, 1937 - J. C. Eckhart, president of the Buck Creek bank, was seriously injured at his home here. He was attempting to adjust a roller on his barn door which had come loose on the track, using an 18-pound steel bar. After replacing the roller, he laid the bar on top of the ladder and got down to see how the door would work. The ladder slipped and the heavy bar fell, a distance of 10 feet, striking him on the head, knocking him down and cutting a gash in his scalp that took four stitches to close. He was also badly strained about neck and shoulders. He was still confined to his bed Wednesday but was improved.

Buck Creek - John C. Eckhart, 81, former president of the Buck Creek bank, and one of the county's oldest and best-known citizens, died Sunday July 23, 1944 at 10:45 p. m. at his home, 800 North Eighth street. Born in Dayton, he lived in Buck Creek most of his life, moving to Lafayette three years ago. On July 28, 1883, he married Julia E. Kunkel. He was a member of Trinity Methodist church and the K. of P.

Besides his widow, he leaves two sons, Fred L. Eckhart, West Lafayette, and Carl K. Eckhart, Lafayette; a daughter, Mrs. Nell E. Knifel, Bucyrus, Ohio, also a sister, Mrs. O. E. Crider. Buck Creek, and two brothers, R. B. Eckhart, Buck Creek, and Dr. G. G. Eckhart, Marion.

Notes for Jacob S. Meyer:

Progressive men of the state of Wyoming. By A.W. Bowen & Co, Page 559:

JACOB S. MEYER. The record of a well-spent life is a glorious legacy to leave to a man's children, and among the honored pioneers and active public men of the state, long connected with its advancement and its public institutions, creating and maintaining an unblemished record, the name of the late Jacob S. Meyer will long be remembered for his grand work as a citizen, and the financial success which rewarded his honorable and diligent efforts, leaving as he did a valuable estate to his widow and children, and also the far more valuable heritage of a noble life. Mr. Meyer was born in Holt County, Missouri, on March 10, 1856, a son of George and Mary A. (Kunkel) Meyer, the father being a native of Baden, Germany, and the mother of Pennsylvania.

The parental grandparents of Mr. Meyer, Andrew and Mary Meyer, who emigrated from Germany about 1833, located eventually in Holt county, Mo., where their son George was long engaged in farming and stock raising, and with his cherished wife is still residing, being retired from business and tranquilly passing the evening of their lives in the beautiful home their industrious energies have created. In his earlier years George Meyer was much in public life and was a valiant soldier of the Union in the bitter struggle of the Civil War. His wife was a daughter of Jacob and Barbara (Acton) Kunkel, natives of Pennsylvania and descendants of German and English ancestors, her father being a farmer and stockman and a prominent man in the community. This worthy couple had thirteen children, five of whom are living. Jacob A. Meyer, after instruction in the public schools of his home district, attended a commercial college at Leavenworth, Kansas, thereafter being identified with merchandising in the employ of his father, soon becoming associated with John A. Ross as a partner in their store at Forbes, Missouri, where they were successfully engaged in trade. On account of failing health in 1878 Mr. Meyer visited Wyoming, where the invigorating climate so restored him that in 1880 he returned to Missouri and sold all of his interests in that state to become a permanent resident of this young, vigorous commonwealth. Here he at once engaged largely in the raising of sheep, subsequently changing his flocks to herds of cattle, and continuing in this profitable branch of agriculture until his lamentable death on July 30, 1898. His own business, although of scope and importance, did not occupy his time and energies, for his aid and personal influence were largely given to the support of measures and operations of public interest and utility, being long a most useful member of the board of State Farm Commissioners and its honored president. In many other ways, and in widely varying directions, were his services rendered for the public good, and at the time of his death he was very efficiently holding the superintendency of the State Experiment Farm. In the higher relation of social and religious life Mr. Meyer held a conspicuous place. He was prominently connected with the organization and up building of the Methodist Episcopal church of Lander, where he held membership and was an efficient and liberal officer of the same. In Masonic circles he was held in high regard, being affiliated with the lodge at Lander and with the Woodmen of the World in the same city. On his homestead, on which he filed in 1880, having bought the improvements already made on the place, he made valuable improvements, increasing the acreage until it now consists of 480 acres of prolific meadow land, possessing plenty of water and timber for all its needs, containing a most productive orchard of excellent varieties of select fruit. In this branch of his husbandry Mr. Meyer took great interest and was of practical benefit to the community, by the object lesson afforded by the result of his horticultural endeavors.

On December 22, 1880, Mr. Meyer and Miss Carrie B. Blum were united in marriage. She was born on October 26, 1858, at St. Joseph, Mo., a daughter of Henry and Theresa (Westerman) Blum, natives of Germany, her father, a cabinetmaker by trade, coming to the United States when a young man and, after a valiant service in the Mexican war, making his home in Missouri and becoming an active man of affairs, holding many public offices with pronounced credit, serving among the number as councilman and sheriff. Both her parents are now residing in the fullness of years in their Missouri home at St. Joseph, her paternal grandfather, Henry, and his good wife also passing their later life in the same state. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were parents of three children, Julia A., Minnie P. and Nellie P., and on the pleasant homestead, sanctified to her by so many associations of her dear departed husband,, Mrs. Meyer maintains her home, cheered in her loneliness by the thought that the entire section of the county of her residence remembered her husband as a loving husband, an affectionate father and a worthy citizen of unblemished character.

Notes for Lafayette (Lafe) Kunkel:

A History of Northwest Missouri, Volume 3, edited by Walter Williams.

Lafe Kunkel was born July 28, 1867, on the family homestead in Liberty Township, Holt County, and is a son of Benjamin Franklin and Hannah (Chester) Kunkel. His father, a native of Ohio, became one of the very earliest settlers of Holt County, traveling overland to this locality as a poor man and taking up his abode in the midst of a practical wilderness. In the years that followed he experienced the hardships and discouraging experiences that are incidental to the first settlers in any new part of the country, but his untiring perseverance, steady application and good management of his affairs enabled him to overcome all obstacles which appeared in his path, and he was eventually able to retire from business activities with a handsome competence, now being a member of the retired colony at Forest City, Missouri. During his career in Holt County Mr. Kunkel established a reputation for honesty and integrity in his dealings and for public-spirited citizenship. He was married four times, and by his union with Hannah Chester was the father of four children: Lafe, Alvah, James and Willie, of whom the last named died at the age of eighteen months. Benjamin F. Kunkel was a republican in his political views, but during his residence in Holt County never sought political honors. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the faith of which his children have been reared. Mrs. Kunkel passed away on the homestead place in Holt County.

Lafe Kunkel passed his boyhood and youth in alternately assisting his father in the work of the home place and attending the district schools of Hickory Township, where he obtained a good ordinary education. When he was reared to enter upon his own career, he secured a part of the old homestead, and in association with his brother, James, started operations, they now having 240 acres, all under a good state of cultivation and devoted to stock raising and general farming operations. Some of the present buildings were started by Mr. Kunkel's father and completed by him and his brother, and they are now well arranged, in a good state of repair, furnished with good equipment, and present an attractive appearance. Nothing that goes to make up a modern twentieth-century farm has been neglected or left out of this property, and in every way it is a credit to its progressive and enterprising owners.

Lafe Kunkel married Miss Anna Jackson, who was born in Page County, Iowa, daughter of John and Catherine (Parsons) Jackson, who had three other daughters and four sons. These were: George, James, Charles, Mattie, Alma, Blanche and Frank. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, farming people, were early settlers of Page County, Iowa, subsequently moved to Kansas, and finally came to Holt County, Missouri. The father is deceased but the mother is still living. Eight children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel: Nettie, Harold, Mark, Mildred, Raymond, Carl and Hugh, twins, and one who died in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. Kunkel are members of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Kunkel, like his brother, is a republican, and is fraternally connected with the Woodmen of the World and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which latter order James is also a member.

She was born Sep 1881 in Cloud Co, Kansas, and died 09 Feb 1976 in Orange Co, California.

Notes for Marcus Wesley (Mark) Hare:

Glasco Sun, Nov. 6, 1903, page 1: SHOOTING IN TOWN

James Head, Jr. Attempts Vengeance With a Gun by Shooting Mark Hare, Junior about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday two pistol shots were heard, and Mark Hare, Jr. lay weltering in blood. James Head was in the restaurant of McCullough Bros., sitting before the lunch counter, which runs across the back end, when Mark hare entered and leaned with his left elbow against a showcase near the door. Several persons were within, talking back and forth, but it is reported that no words passed between the two principals. However, it is supposed that Head took offense at remarks which he believed were meant as reflections upon him, whereupon he drew his revolver and fired two shots. One bullet passed along Hare's left arm near the shoulder, making but a slight wound. The other went through the left forearm just back of the wrist, broke and shattered both bones, then entered the inner left shoulder immediately below the collar bone. It was the first shot that did the serious work, and Hare fell out upon the sidewalk, unconscious and bleeding profusely. After the shooting Head walked deliberately across the street, then east along the sidewalk, pausing to glance back occasionally, his revolver swinging from his hand. Not being molested he went home, and offered no opposition when Marshall Woodward and Robert Hill house went to apprehend him. He was taken to the county jail at Concordia that night. Hare was conveyed to Dr. Brierley's office where he remained under the care of doctors Newton and Brierley. Later he regained consciousness but is in a very serious condition. The shooting is supposed to be a continuance of the feud which has existed between these two men for several years.

Glasco Sun, Nov. 13, 1903, page 1: (printed above the header on page one).... been printed last night, word comes that Mark Hare, Jr. died at 4:00 this Friday morning. Funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14.

Glasco Sun, Dec. 4, 1903, page 6: Something new in newspaper work happened in the Glasco Sun office on November 13. The SUN had been printed and was being mailed, when the editor learned that Mark Hare had died. He did not want his paper sent without the important item of news, so he set it up in type and printed it on the margin of his paper, just above the head.

Marriage Notes for Alice Kunkel and Willard Proud:

Oregon, Missouri, Nov. 13, 1896 – The second wedding was at the pretty suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Kunkel, and was that of Mr. Willard Proud and Miss Alice Kunkel. A gain the large concourse of people, and again Lohengren's beautiful wedding march played by the accomplished musician, Miss Delia Kunkel, as Albert Kunkel and Miss Ellie Proud, the attendants and the bride and groom marched down the stairs into the parlor and stopped under the monogram "P-K," formed of white chrysanthemums and arbor vitae. Soft, sweet strains of music were played as Rev. Henry Crampton performed the ceremony. Here too, the chrysanthemum formed the chief decoration, a beautiful bank of them being in the French window beneath the monogram, but besides these, palms and ferns were placed here and there adding much to the pretty view. And in the dining room one table had for a center piece yellow chrysanthemums, the other one of pink.

Mr. Proud has always lived in Oregon and is considered one of our brightest and worthiest young men. He has graduated, both in pharmacy and medicine, from the Kansas City Medical college, and has every prospect of rising in his profession. The bride and Miss Effie were both attired in beautiful costumes of silk and wool novelty material, trimmed in velvet, silk and lace. Miss Alice is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Kunkel and is a very accomplished musician, having attended the conservatory of music in Cincinnati. She is a very lovable girl and has always been very popular among her associates. An elegant supper was served to the numerous guests and was certainly appreciated by them. A large number of pretty and useful presents were given them and all join The Sentinel in wishing them a long and happy life.

Notes for Glenn Monroe (Kunkel) Tryon:

A lifelong professional, American actor Glenn Tryon appeared in tent shows and stock companies from the age of ten. When comedy producer Hal Roach was casting about for a handsome but trouble-prone young man to replace Harold Lloyd, he signed Tryon for the lead in the feature-length slapstick The Battling Orioles 1924. Tryon remained at Roach as a two-reel comedy star, where his ingratiating but unmemorable personality served as contrast for the more aggressive comic turns of supporting clowns Jimmy Finlayson and Oliver Hardy. He also starred in several moneymaking silent programmers, the best of which was 1928's Lonesome.

Tryon's first talkie was Broadway (1929), where he registered well as a selfish, synthetic hooper with aspirations for the Big Time. He continued acting in B-pictures before switching over to screenwriting with the 1934 Stu Erwin vehicle Bachelor Bait, directed by another Hal Roach Alumnus, George Stevens. In 1941 Tryon became a producer at Universal, specializing in comedies: he supervised Abbott and Costello's Hold The Ghost and Keep 'Em Flying (1941), and also presided over the lunacies of Olsen and Johnson's Hellzapoppin' (1941). For a brief time he was married to Hellzapoppin' leading lady Jane Frazee.

Notes for Tom Tryon:

Tom Tryon, an art major at Yale University; attended the Art Student's League in New York; then studied acting at the Neighborhood Playhouse. Working both on-stage and backstage with several stock companies, Tryon began picking up TV work in the 1950's. His first burst of fame was the result of his starring stint in the Texas John Slaughter episodes of TV's Walt Disney Presents. In 1962, he was signed to a contract by producer/director Otto Preminger, who cast Tryon in the lead of the 1963 big-budgeter The Cardinal. Tryon later quit acting to become a successful novelist, specializing in gothic horror. Tom Tryon's best-selling novels include The Other, Harvest Home, and Crowned Heads, all of which were adapted to film.

She married Benjamin Franklin Hollenbeck 02 Aug 1888 in Mound City, Holt Co, Missouri. He was born 08 Apr 1865 in Jasper Co, Iowa or Nebraska, and died 27 Jan 1929 in Pawnee City, Nebraska.

Notes for Anabella Rostock:

Anna Bell Rostock Holenbeck was born Oct. 4, 1870, at Oregon Missouri, and died Dec. 7, 1925, 1 mile west of Axtell Kansas; age 55 years, 2 months, 3 days. Her passing was very sudden and unexpected, she having felt unusually well up to within an hour before her death. Anna Bell Rostock grew to young womanhood in the home of her parents. In her youth she united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Minnesota Valley, MO.

On August 2, 1888, she was united in marriage to Benjamin F. Holenbeck. To this union 8 children were born, two of whom passed away in infancy. The deceased is survived by her husband and six children, Namely Mrs. C.H. Moore, Lorimor, Iowa; Paul F., Dan C., Kenneth T., Francis and Ruby all of Axtell; also by her mother Mrs. Sara Rostock, Axtell, and two brothers, Jacob Rostock, La Grande Ore. and Robert Rostock, Emmett Idaho, and a sister, Mrs. J.D. McPherson, Ponca(?) City Okla. She also leaves four grandchildren. The Holenbecks moved to the Axtell community about six years ago. Mrs. Holenbeck was a neighborly and helpful woman and immediately endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her sudden death was a shock to her many friends as well as to her immediate family, and the bereaved have the sympathy of all. A good woman is gone.

Of her it may be said as the Master said of one of old, "She hath done what she could." (Mark 14: 8) The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Church here, with the pastor, the Rev, Milton M. Thorne, in charge. Appropriate music was furnished by a mixed quartet made up of Mrs. E.E. Swanson, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Gaston, and O.E. Alexis. Mrs. Roscoe Pearson presided at the piano. The pallbearers were "W.F. Doering, S.B. Funk, J.J. Glover, J.W. Parli, Jesse Rush and G. Witt. The floral offerings were profuse and the church was crowded with relatives and friends of the deceased who came to participate in the last sad rites. Interment was made in the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Notes for Benjamin Franklin Hollenbeck:

Benjamin Franklin Holenbeck was born April 8, 1865, in Jasper County, Iowa and passed away Jan. 27, 1929 at the hospital in Pawnee City, Nebraska aged 63 years, 9 months and 19 days. When a small boy, his family moved from Iowa to Missouri and on Aug. 2, 1888, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Bell Rostock at Mound City Missouri. To this union were born 8 children, two passing away in infancy.

In the fall of 1903 he and his wife with four children moved to Walters, Oklahoma, where they lived until 1913, when they came to Kansas, settling first near Centrailia, and then coming to the Axtell neighborhood where they have since resided, and where the wife died in December, 1925. Mr. Holenbeck suffered a severe attack of the flu on Jan. 12, 1928 which developed into pneumonia, and while he recovered to some extent, his health had been failing ever since. In December 24, he again entered the hospital and although it seemed at times as if medical skill would triumph, the end came quietly Jan. 17(sic), and he passed to eternal reward. For many years the deceased had been a member of the Methodist Church and about three years ago he united with the Axtell M.E Church and was a faithful member until the end, contributing of his time and substance in true christian spirit and manner.

As a friend and neighbor Mr. Holenbeck knew no superior. He was ever kind and considerate, eager to help and lend a willing hand in every good cause. His jolly disposition, native wit, and .....with whom, he came in contact. His family life was most happy as the comfort and well-being of his loved ones came first in every instance. He was a splended business man and discovered early that in order to succeed one must have a right start. Long ago he began to breed Durocs and became a power in that field of animal husbandry. The Holenbeck Durocs have been a by-word among breeders of that strain. Even when his health began to fail he kept on working and caring for his herd as only a master breeder will. Socially he will be missed among his circle of friends and those left to mourn his demise will ever remember his kindly spirit. Three stalwart sons and three beautiful daughters are left to cherish the memory of one who has ever been an affectionate father whose well spent life will be an inspiration. The children are Paul of Beattie, Daniel of Vermillion, Kenneth of Axtell, Ruth (Mrs. Charles H. Moore, Marshaltown Iowa, Eliabeth.....Butte, N.D. and Mrs. Viola Homer, Dickerson N.D. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Jan. 29 at the Axtell Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. E. Burdette and interment was made in Rose Hill Cemetery. The Standard joins the many friends of the bereaved children in extending consolation and sympathy in their great affliction.
