He was born 16 Mar 1894 in Chelsea, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died Aft. 1920.

Notes for Alberta (Bertha) Roller:

April 1923 – "Some people say they should think I'd be glad I haven't a baby to support," murmured Mrs. Bertha Staebler, Friday afternoon, in the office of her attorney. "But, I guess those are the folks who've never had a little baby to live – and lose," she added, tears gathering in her brown eyes Mrs. Staebler was granted an order for separate maintenance by Judge Ormond R. Hunt in circuit court, Friday morning.

The little son Mrs. Staebler has "lost" is Lamont R. Staebler, whose fifth birthday will be July 22, 1923. But, his mother has not seen him since January 29, 1920, when she returned at 1 o'clock in the afternoon from a shopping trip to find that her husband, Ray, his mother, Mrs. Delight R. Staebler, and 18-months-old Lamont, had all done away from their three rooms 234 West Warren Avenue.

Just a few days before this, Mrs. Delight Staebler had moved out, taking her furniture with her. That morning Staebler had given his wife $30 with which to buy all-verware, according to her story. He had said he was sick and wouldn't go to work, but he had offered to take care of the baby while she went downtown. Returning, she found a note from him: "I have gone to mother. Will be back shortly. If you get home first, don't worry – I'll be back."

April 14, 1923 - "Some people say they should think I'd be glad I haven't a baby to support," murmured Mrs. Bertha Staebler, Friday afternoon, in the office of her attorney. "but I guess those are the folks who've never had a little baby to love and lose," she added, tears gathering in her brown eyes Mrs. Staebler was granted an order for separate maintenance by Judge Ormond F. Hunt in circuit court, Friday morning.

The little son Mrs. Staebler has "lost" is Lamont R. Staebler, whose fifth birthday will be July 22, 1923. But his mother has not seen him since January 29, 1920, when she returned at 1 o'clock in the afternoon from a shopping trip to find that her husband, Ray, his mother, Mrs. Delight R. Staebler, and 19-months-old Lamont, had all gone away from their three rooms at 234 West Warren Avenue.

Just a few days before this, Mrs. Delight Staebler had moved out, taking her furniture with her. That morning Staebler had given his wife $30 with which to buy all-ware, according to her story. He had said he was sick and wouldn't go to work, but he had offered to take care of the baby while she went downtown. Returning, she found a note from him: "I have gone to mother. Will be back shortly. If you get home first, don't worry - I'll be back."

Mrs. Staebler has had no trace of the three since then. For sometime the police have had a warrant charging Staebler with abandonment. She has also employed private detectives, without hearing any word from the trio. In the meantime, Mrs. Staebler had supported herself by sewing. According to her story she and her husband were married October 21, 1915. Mrs. Delight Staebler came to live with them at once, though Mrs. Bertha Staebler claims that her mother-in-law had money of her own and was not dependent on her son. At the time he was working in an automobile factory for $6.80 a day. Mrs. Staebler says he insisted they must look out was obliged to do the cooking on a neighbor's stove, take in sewing, and scrub the floors of their three-room apartment.

He husband began to buy unimproved property, out Jefferson Avenue and in the Fairfield sub-division. Mrs. Staebler says her mother-in-law found fault with everything, that she had never liked her son's wife. Eventually, after Lamont was born. Mrs. Staebler claims her husband became jealous of the baby's love for her, in preference to its father or grandmother. "Why wouldn't the baby love the person who cared for him all the time?" said Mrs. Staebler, Friday "I loved him to much. It was only for his sake that I stayed with Ray at all, after his mother had made trouble. Now my only hope is in finding my baby. But sometimes it seems as if I wouldn't go on living without him. In issuing the court order, Judge Hunt decreed that Mrs. Staebler should be given custody of Lamont, if he is found, and that the two pieces of property at Windmill Pointe and in the Fairfield sub-division, should be deeded to her. Staebler had previously deeded this property to his mother, it was learned after his disappearance. Mrs. Staebler is now living with her mother, Mrs. Christine Roller, 8081 Manila Avenue.

Generation No. 8

Notes for Harry Eugene Estes:

Hardworking, determined and committed are certainly words to describe Harry Estes. What people will really remember him for was his love of family, his warmth and his contagious laughter. Born on July 20, 1944, he became a part of the Babyboomer Generation. Harry was the third of four boys born to Henry "Hank" and Lera Mae (King) Estes. Harry was delivered at the Oakland County Hospital and he grew up with his family in Dearborn Heights. As a schoolboy, he attended Wallaceville School and Riverside High School before joining his father and older brothers working for Local 1102 as a millwright.

In 1968, Harry was drafted into the Army where he served in Vietnam and suffered extensive injuries. He was awarded the Purple Heart Medal by General Westmorland; he also received the National Defense Service Medal. Shortly after Harry's return, he was at Little Park one afternoon when he ran into a charming young lady named Linda Power. Linda took notice of his muscular stature, and struck up a friendly conversation with him over her driving competition trophy. Her friend, Aurora, set the two of them up on a date and as they got to know each other they fell deeply in love. Harry and Linda married on October 25, 1969 in Detroit, and settled in Dearborn across the street from Harry's parents. Three years later they welcomed their only child, Aaron into their lives on April 4, 1972.

To be closer to Linda's parents, the family relocated to rural Irons a few years after Aaron was born. Harry purchased some land (even though he wasn't sure why anyone would want to live in the middle of nowhere). In the beginning, neither he or Linda could tell the difference between an oak or maple tree; however it didn't take long before they fell in love with the area. Eventually, they bought more than 200 acres and started a horse farm. Their nieces, Amy and Jill looked forward to spending their summers at the farm. They would help with the chores, the horses, and the horse shows. The girls practically grew up on the farm and developed a close relationship with Harry and Linda. With all that land, there was always something to do, and Harry became quite a workaholic. He loved seeing things improve and watch the farm progress with everything they did. They had a nice pond on the land planted with blue gills and trout that Harry took great pride in. Many times while Linda was busy feeding the horses, Harry would sit on the bench made by his brother Kenny, and feed his fish. He and Linda loved having family and friends over to visit. During the great blizzard of 1978, Harry and Linda had family stay with them. Harry looked out for everyone and they would all take turns making food runs on the snowmobile. Harry was a real peacemaker and he always wanted to be sure there weren't any relational problems going on. He looked for opportunities to provide, help, and care for his family in every way possible. He was a problem solver in every state of the word.

One of Harry's greatest hobbies was to work on cars, and over the years he had collected a 1970 Monte Carlo, 1962 Chevy, and a number of other cars. Although he enjoyed all makes, he was most partial to Fords. He also loved to tinker around on tractors. Above all, his greatest time was spent with his son, puttering around on the farm, working on the cars, or being Aaron's gopher. He adored his son, and when Aaron married Nicole, she became a special blessing to their family. He also helped Aaron build a log home, but not before they practiced by making a log chicken coop. Aaron and Harry spent hours going over the floor plan, clearing the land and the many other tasks required to accomplish the building of Aaron's home. Harry had his stroke before the house was completed. He was looking forward to becoming a grandpa later this year, and was very excited when Aaron and Nicole purchased their own business. Of all the holidays, Harry's favorite was his birthday. His and Nicole's birthdays were five days apart and they would celebrate together with family, friends, and lots of great food like lobster and steak. Harry was a great family man, and always enjoyed the wonderful times spent vacationing with his brothers Kenny, Larry, and Donald, in Florida. His love for his family, and his determination to live life to the fullest will be remembered and truly missed.

Harry Eugene Estes died on Friday, July 13, 2006 at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor from complication from open heart surgery. He was preceded in death by his parents. He will be lovingly remembered by his wife Linda, their son Aaron and his wife Nicole, his brothers Kenny (Marie) Estes of Fife Lake, Donald Estes of Livonia, and Larry (Janice) Estes of Northville, his mother-in-law Dorean Power of Florida, his sister-in-law Vicki (Terry) Jensen of Irons, and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held for Harry at 1:00p.m. on Monday, July 18 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Manistee with Rev. Dennis Rahn officiating. Burial will follow with honor guard rites at the Dublin Cemetery. Friends may meet with his family for a time of visitation on Sunday from 2:00 - 4:00p.m. and 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. at the Stephens Life Story Funeral Home in Scottville. Those who wish may make memorial contributions to the National Stroke Association, c/o Munson Medical Center, Traverse City.
