Notes for Oscar Arthur Raab:

Raab Centennial Home

The farm residence of Oscar Raab, 11665 Bemis Road, Manchester, which is owned jointly by Raab and his brother, Rolland of Ypsilanti, is a centennial farm. Their great-grandfather, Jacob Raab Sr. bought the 180-acre farm, located 5.5 miles east of Manchester. It was handed down to his son, Jacob Jr., and then to Theodore Raab, father of the present owners.

For the first eight years, Jacob Raab Sr. and his wife lived in a log house until they could put up the present stone structure. Building a house of stone in those days created no problem, for as the land was cleared, the stones could be gathered for building. In 1866 a brick addition was built to the rear of the stone house. Oscar Raab believes the first log house was in that location. To the rear of the frame kitchen was a second addition, erected in 1888. Part of the farm borders Columbia Lake, a private 70-acre lake surrounded by farms. Three lakeside cottages have been built by the Raabs which can be reached through a private drive.

During World War II, when housing was at a premium, Oscar said, they rented the cottages year around. But that had drawbacks. The long private road to the lake had to be cleared of snow every day so the tenants could get to work. Although the farm is in Bridgewater Township, the family owned 32 acres of timber across the road in Freedom Township. Oscar has lived all his life on the farm. He enjoys the location, but farm work never appealed to him. He has been a plumber and rented out the farm.

They can remember hearing their grandmother tell about the Indian family which lived across the fields on a nearby farm for several years and can understand why it was an area where Indians would have settled. There would have been very good hunting and fishing. They have never found arrow heads in the area, but they do have a stone which Indians used as a tool to pound the grain.

Funeral services were held here Sunday Sept. 17, 1967 for Oscar A. Raab, 75, who died Thursday night at his home at 11665 Bemis Rd., Bridgewater Township. He was born and "lived all his life at the same address. Born October 4, 1891, he was the son of Theodore A. and Lydia Baur Raab. He was a lifelong member of Bethel United Church of Christ. He is survived by his brother, Rolland J. of Ypsilanti; a niece, and a nephew. The Rev. John M. Michael conducted the services, at Bahnmler Funeral Home, and burial was in Bethel Church Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Bethel Church Building Fund.

Born at home in Deerfield, Michigan, on April 11, 1950 to John and Donna Gainsley, Sue spent her childhood years attending parochial and public schools, enjoying many close neighborhood friendships there. Later, she moved to Saline, Michigan, where she met and married her husband, John Bersuder. Her life was about service, working many years in the restaurant business, cleaning and home care. She was also committed to tending the feral cat colonies in Tecumseh. Susie had a special fondness for children, as they did for her. She had a small frame, and a huge heart. Kids loved to measure up to see if they'd reached her height – and were so excited when they surpassed it. She had an abiding skill for having fun and developed many special friendships with children through the years. Sue was a firm believer in anything worth doing was worth doing well. She had a remarkable ability to organize, and did so in all aspects of her life – including putting you in your place from time to time. Sue enjoyed a simple life – loved nature, music, dancing or curling up with a good book. She took pride and pleasure in her home and garden, loved having a cocktail with friends and hashing out the latest. And she was extremely devoted to her canine companion, Barney – and the many cats she housed, all of whom brought her such joy. Her caring and compassionate ways were among her greatest gifts, and she shared them gladly. Susie was preceded in death by her parents.

Many nieces and nephews and close friends Kathy Belleau, Judy Rothfus and Betty Little.

The family wishes to thank the doctors and nurses in Neuro-ICU at the University of Michigan Hospital for their care and support. Cremation has taken place. Funerals were not Susie's thing. So take some time to think of her when you're walking your dog, embracing nature or just relaxing with a glass of wine at the end of a long day. The family invites you to share in a Memorial Celebration of Sue's life at 1:00 P.M. on Sunday, June 11, 2017 at The Landing, 5447 Rogers Hwy. Tecumseh, MI 49286.
