Notes for Karl Ehrhardt (Charles Earhardt) Stollsteimer:

Ann Arbor - Four men were injured, three seriously, in a crash tonight Nov. 10, 1931 on the Pleasant Lake Road, nine miles southwest of Ann Arbor, when cars driven by Julius Fritz, Route 2, Saline, and Manuel Stollsteimer, of Pittsfield, collided. Fritz, 59 years old; Charles Stollsteimer, 58, a passenger in Fritz's car, and Fred Gutekunst, 55, a passenger in Manuel Stollsteimer's machine, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, while Manuel Stollsteimer was hurried to a physician in Saline. It was said at the hospital that Gutekunst and Charles Stollsteimer are suffering from possible skull fractures and the latter has a fractured knee. Mr. Fritz sustained lacerations and chest injuries. Deputies said Manuel Stollsteimer, coming toward Ann Arbor, was on the right side of the road, but were unable to account for Fritz's being on the wrong side. Manuel and Charles Stollsteimer are unrelated.

Ann Arbor, Nov. 11, 1931 - Three men were in St Joseph's hospital here today, two with possible skull fractures, as a result of the crash last night between automobiles driven by Julius Fritz, Saline, and Manuel Stollsteimer, of Pittsfield. Charles Stollsteimer, 58, and Fred Gutekunst, 55, are reported to be in a serious condition. The drivers received minor injuries.

Notes for Erhard Theodore (Aaron) Alber:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

Erhard Theodore Alber, the senior partner of the firm of Alber & Horning, proprietors of the St. James Hotel, is a native son of Washtenaw County and in his business career has displayed the enterprise which has been the dominant factor in the up building of the great Middle West. He was born in Lodi Township on the 25th of August, 1866. His father, John George Alber, became a resident of this county when eighteen years of age and settled upon a farm in Lodi Township, where for many years he was identified with general agricultural pursuits. At the time of his arrival this was largely an unsettled district in which the work of improvement and progress had scarcely been begun and he entered from the government a claim of eighty acres, to which he has since added as his financial resources have increased until he is now the owner of a valuable farm of one hundred and thirty-six acres, which under his careful supervision and cultivation has become very productive. In religious faith a Lutheran, he is an active worker in the church, doing all in his power to promote its growth and extend its influence. In his political allegiance he is a democrat. He married Miss Marguerita Metzger, who died in 1899, leaving seven children, as follows: Charles Michael, a resident farmer of Saline, Michigan; John George, who also makes his home at Saline; John August, a contractor residing in Ann Arbor; Fred Erhard, who is living in Perry, Lodi Township; William Henry, who is engaged in general farming near Saline; and Emanuel Gottlob, who is engaged in painting at Saline.

Erhard T. Alber, the other member of the family, was reared upon the old homestead farm in the usual manner of lads of the period and when about six years of age he began his education in the district schools of his native township. He pursued his studies through the winter months and in the summer seasons worked upon the home farm until about twenty years of age, when thinking that he would find other occupation more congenial he left the parental roof and began learning the carpenter's trade. Subsequently he spent five years in the employ of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, working in the line of his trade and on the expiration of that period he began contracting and building on his own account, in which he continued for five years. In 1891 he took up his abode in Ann Arbor and he is now engaged in the hotel business as a partner of Nathan Horning, under the firm style of Alber & Horning, proprietors of the St. James Hotel. They conduct a strictly modern hostelry of twenty-five rooms heated with steam and there is a barber shop and buffet in connection. Mr. Alber is popular with the patrons of the hotel and receives a liberal patronage from the traveling public. Everything possible is done for the comfort and convenience of the guests and the hotel is conducted along the most modern lines, so that it would be a credit to a city of much larger size than Ann Arbor.

In the year of his removal here Mr. Alber was married to Miss Emma K. Horning, who was born in Pittsfield Township. A Mason, he belongs to Fraternity lodge, No. 262, A. F. & A. M. and is in hearty sympathy with the principles of the craft. His political allegiance is given to the Republican Party and he is a member of the Zion Lutheran church. His entire life has been passed in the county of his nativity and his deep interest in its welfare is manifest in the public spirited support which he gives to various measures for the general good. He is recognized as a man of good business qualifications, of keen foresight and unfaltering enterprise and his success is the merited reward of his persistent labor.

The regiment remained in Memphis until in January, 1865, when it was ordered to New Orleans, where it was encamped for some time on the old battlefield eight miles below the city. It next took passage for Mobile and, shortly after its arrival there, joined General Canby's army. The regiment was now a part of the Third Brigade, Third Division of the Sixteenth Army Corps, and its brigade was under the command of its colonel, James L. Geddes, while the regiment was commanded by Lieut. Col. W. B. Bell. The maneuvers leading up to the beginning of the siege of Spanish Fort were participated in by the Eighth Iowa; and in the siege operations, lasting from March 27th until April 8, 1865, when the assault was made and the fort captured, the regiment bore a most conspicuous part and suffered heavy loss. Lieutenant Colonel Bell gives a graphic account of the terrific fighting during the assault, and the desperate resistance made by the enemy. After describing in detail the passage of his regiment through an almost impassable swamp, during which it was under a heavy fire from the enemy, he says:

As soon as the regiment gained the crest of the hill, where our skirmishers were, the fight commenced in full force, but of such a character that it is difficult to describe. The regiment moved by the right flank in rear of the enemy's rifle pits, and carried them for a distance of 500 yards, either killing, wounding, or capturing the entire force of the enemy occupying the same. One thing that was very much in our favor was, the enemy's works, from their extreme left for a considerable distance up, consisted of a series of small pits, without direct connection with each other. This enabled us to attack them in detail, and we had carried a considerably portion of their works before their main force was aware that we had turned their left. We here witnessed the spectacle of dying in the last ditch, as quite a number of the rebels refused to surrender, and were shot in their ditches, and on the other hand, quite a number of them who were taken prisoners ought, in justice to our men, to have been killed, as they would first fire at our men after being ordered to surrender, then throw up both hands and surrender. * * * Soon after this, Colonel Geddes came up and directed me to place my command outside the enemy's works, and—facing toward them, and using them for breastworks—to throw out a company as skirmishers to my right and front, which orders were promptly complied with. * * * Soon after this, Captain Kettenring, of my command, in charge of the skirmish line, reported the enemy advancing in heavy column. They advanced within thirty or forty yards of us, calling out, "We surrender," and then fired on us. When they got within twenty-five yards of us, I ordered my command to fire and fix bayonets, which was done with a will. The enemy broke and ran, but soon after rallied and returned, and when within fifty yards of us halted. I ordered two companies to give them a volley, which caused them to break, and we saw them no more. Soon after this Colonel Geddes returned, formed his brigade and marched it through the fort, and to the bay beyond, after which, by his directions, I moved my command to camp. I claim for my regiment the honor of making the attack, and of being the only regiment that engaged the enemy inside of his works, also of capturing three stands of colors, five pieces of artillery, and four hundred and fifty prisoners, seven of them commissioned officers. * * *

Where all do their duty it is a difficult and delicate matter to make any discrimination. The several companies of the regiment were commanded by the following officers: Company A, Captain Muhs; Company B, Captain Kettenring; Company E, Lieutenant Clark; Company F, Lieutenant Harper; Company G, Lieutenant Vineyard; Company H, Lieutenant Bell; Company I, Sergeant Taylor; Company K, Captain Weeks. I would respectfully present to the favorable notice of the Colonel commanding brigade, the following named officers: Capt. Henry Muhs, who was conspicuous for his coolness while in command of the skirmish line; Lieut. Henn^ Vineyard, commanding Company G, in skirmish line, who was wounded in the arm early in the engagement, but continued in command of his company, until he received a wound which broke his leg, and will probably prove fatal; Captain Weeks, who was conspicuous for his bravery throughout the engagement; Captain Kettenring, who was severely wounded while bravely leading his company; Lieutenant Gardiner, who took command of his company after Captain Kettenring was wounded, and led it through the engagement with ability, and Sergeant Betz, Company G, who took command of his company after Lieutenant Vineyard was wounded, and handled it well. I am under obligations to Adjutant Marsden for valuable assistance rendered me in communicating instructions to the command. In addition to the names above mentioned, many enlisted men deserve honorable mention, but they are so numerous that it would make this report too voluminous.

Notes for Herman Zimmerly:

Akron, Ohio Obituary January 10, 1954

Services for Herman Zimmerly, 85, one of Akron's early meat dealers and founder of the Zimmerly Bros. meat market, will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Billow Chapel. The Rev. Reuben J. Schorer will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Peace Cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel after 4:30 today.

Mr. Zimmerly, a native of Switzerland, who learned the meat business as a young man in Akron, died Saturday in Barberton Citizens Hospital after a short illness.

He came to Akron from the "land of clocks and cheese," as he used to say, in 1881 and soon went to work in a butcher shop on Sherman Street. The owner was a Swiss who made the first frankfurters sold in Akron. Working under this man Mr. Zimmerly learned the mechanics of the meat business. When he was offered a partnership, he refused, knowing he wanted to go into business with his brothers, John, Jacob and Gottlieb. Mr. Zimmerly, youngest of the brothers, used to explain: "I wanted to work with my brothers because my mother told us that if you put four match sticks together you can't break them as easily as you can break a single stick."

The year 1894 marked the opening of the Zimmerly meat market at Main and Center Streets. Herman, youngest of six brothers, actually started the business. He was the last of the brothers to die. Besides John, Jacob, Gottlieb and Herman, there were Fred and Sam. The brothers peddled frankfurters and sausages by horse and wagon at first. Herman and several of his brothers made sausages in the basement of a house at Main and Center streets.

Their business grew and they built a packing house on the outskirts of town in 1904 - the "outskirts" now being Kenmore District. John ran the office, Jacob managed the packing house, Gottlieb handled the retail side of the business and Herman bought the cattle. The brothers moved the store in 1920 out to the site of the packing house because of the rapid expansion of business in the present heart of the city. Six years ago the two remaining Zimmerly brothers, Herman and Gottlieb, sold the business that had been in existence 53 years.

Herman, who lived at 4332 Manchester Rd, Portage Lakes, was a member of the Swiss Society, Akron Liedertafel and Turner Club and was an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club. Mr. Zimmerly's wife, Emma died 10 year ago. He leaves three nieces, Ida Zimmerly and Mrs. T. B. Tomkinson of Akron and Mr. G. S. Work of Auburndale, Florida and a nephew, Dr. J. F. Planz of Akron.

Notes for Johann Carl (Charles Jetter) Yetter:

Charles Yetter enlisted for Civil War service as a private, August 21, 1862, at Medina, Ohio (Medina County), August 21, 1862, in Company K of the 103rd Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment, for a term of 3 years. Occupation: Shoemaker. He was mustered out May 18, 1865, at Camp Dennison Ohio by Order of the U.S. War Department. His brother, John H. Yetter, also served in Company K, of the 103rd Ohio Volunteer Infantry.

Charles was born in Liverpool Township, Medina County Ohio and died in what is now Brunswick Hills Township, Medina County Ohio. At the time of his death he lived with his wife and three children at what is now 1925 Marks Road in Brunswick Hills Township, Medina County Ohio. The original farmhouse was severely damaged by a fire in 2009 and by early 2011 it had been razed. The farm had originally consisted of 40 acres, on which were located the house which had been added on to, a large barn, and a smaller storage-type barn-like structure. The woman living on the property in about 1973 was named Carol Miller. The property was for sale then for $80,000.00. The property changed hands and in the 1990s was subdivided twice. The first parcel to the east now has a luxury home with a small private lake and a parcel to the north was developed into a cul-de-sac with access from Marks Road containing about 15 new homes. The property which contained the old farm house and barns was close to Marks Road and the house was even closer to the road. As of May 3, 2011, it is unknown what will become of this property.

Charles was married a first time and had two sons, John and George before his wife died. He then married Magdalena Groll. They actually had four children (William P. Yetter, Anna Yetter, and Minnie Yetter). One child died as an infant.

If is quite possible that the parents of Charles and John H. Yetter are buried in Lot 61. The cemetery records are very unclear if so. If they are neither has a grave stone.

Notes for Johann August Alber:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

John August Alber, who, as a member of the firm of Stadel & Alber, is conducting a large business as a contractor and builder in Ann Arbor, was born in Lodi Township, Washtenaw county, August 24, 1855, his parents being John George and Margarita (Metzger) Alber, both of whom were natives of Germany, born in Wurtemberg. The father was one of the oldest settlers in this county, having crossed the Atlantic to the United States and made his way westward to Michigan at an early period in the development of this part of the state. A farmer by occupation, he became the owner of eighty acres of land, and as his financial resources increased he added to, the property until he had one hundred and sixty acres. His death occurred in Town in 1893, when he was sixty-three years of age, while his wife passed away in 1898, at the age of sixty-seven years.

The member of their family were as follows: John August, of this review; Charles Michael, a resident farmer of Saline township; Erhardt Frederick, who follows farming in Perry county, Michigan; William Henry, a farmer of Lodi township; Gottlieb Emanuel, a painter of Lodi; John Christian, a farmer living in Saline, and Erhardt A., proprietor of the St. James Hotel at Ann Arbor. At the usual age John August Alber entered the district schools of Lodi Township, where he continued his studies until sixteen years old. When a young man of eighteen years he began learning the carpenter's and builder's trade, and previous to this he assisted his father in the work of the home farm, early becoming familiar with the duties of field and meadow. For two years he served as an apprentice to a contractor in Lodi. He built George Page's barn, forty by seventy feet, one of the largest in the county, and in 1888 he came to Ann Arbor, where he worked at his trade in the employ of others until the spring of 1895, when he entered into partnership with Samuel Stadel. He has since been engaged in house building in this city and in surrounding districts and has been accorded a number of important contracts, while on all sides are seen evidences of his handiwork and skill in the substantial homes of Ann Arbor. He is thoroughly conversant with the builder's art, both in principle and detail, is prompt and faithful in the execution of a contract, and his honorable methods have brought to him a liberal patronage.

On the 30th of April, 1880, Mr. Alber was united in marriage to Miss Jacobina Blumhardt, a daughter of John G. and Wilhelmina Blumhardt, natives of Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Alber now have three children: Wilhelmina, born April 9, 1884; Christian William, born April 6, 1888; and Gertrude Elsie, born September 26, 1893. The parents hold membership in Zion Lutheran church, and they occupy a magnificent new residence which Mr. Alber has recently completed at No. 552 Third Street.

He had joined the sheriff's department during the administration of the late Sheriff Jacob Andres and most of the time had served on the 12 to 8 "mid-night" shift as desk sergeant. He was born in Saline 52 years ago and attended the Saline High School. In 1917 he enlisted in the U. S. Army Signal Corps, a served overseas for about a year. He had never married.

Four children were born to this union and two of them have preceded him in death. Charles departed this life nine years ago, and George, of North Bradley, died four years ago.

Mr. Ehrhardt was janitor of the Clara schools for twenty years and his natural love for children and faithfulness to his work made him a very successful caretaker of the building. He resigned that position the spring before the old school structure burned.

Page 191:

FRANK H. KETTENRING, the subject of this sketch, is a well-known contractor and builder of DeWitt, of whose skill many noted examples are seen throughout this section of the state. He was born here, January 14, 1870, and has spent most of his life in DeWitt. His father, Frederick P. Kettenring, was a native of Pennsylvania, born in 1836, and being left an orphan when quite small, he was early thrown upon his own resources. When a child he came west and was reared in Scott County, Iowa, where he learned the carpenters and joiner's trade, working at the same in Davenport for some time. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted as a private and was in the service until hostilities ceased, when he was honorably discharged as a brevet major. Returning to Davenport, he resumed work at his trade and continued to make his home in that city for a few years. While there he was united in marriage with Miss Eleanor H. Hender, who was born in Hull, England, and when about thirteen years of age came to America and settled in Scott County, Iowa, where she grew to womanhood. In 1867 Mr. Kettenring came to DeWitt, and as a contractor and builder was prominently identified with the business interests of this place throughout the remainder of his life. He built the present high school and a great many public buildings and residences, and was considered the leading contractor of this part of the county. He was also engaged in the lumber business and built and operated a planing mill, manufacturing all kinds of wood work. He carried on business quite successfully up to the time of his death, which occurred February 21, 1901. He encouraged various public enterprises, taking stock in the opera house and Electric Light Company, and was quite an extensive real estate owner. Politically he was an ardent Republican, and served one or more terms as a member of the town council, but never was an office-seeker or cared for political preferment. Fraternally he was a Master Mason, and was one of the active and prominent members of the Grand Army Post at DeWitt, in which he served as commander. He was also past grand in the Odd Fellows' Lodge, and past chancellor in the Knights of Pythias Lodge of DeWitt, in which he held membership, and was quite popular in social as well as business circles.

Frank H. Kettenring, whose name introduces this review, is the oldest in a family of four sons, the others being: Fred M. and Walter R., both civil engineers, who are now living in Minneapolis, Minnesota; and Louis, who is at home with his mother and is attending the public schools of DeWitt.

Frank H. Kettenring grew to manhood in DeWitt and received his education in her schools, graduating from the high school in 1888. He learned the carpenter's trade with his father, and later spent one year in Chicago studying architecture. Subsequently he was engaged in contracting and building at Beatrice, Nebraska, for two years, and later followed the same occupation at Dixon, Illinois, for one year. In 1894 he returned to DeWitt and was engaged in business with his father throughout Clinton and adjoining counties. . During the busy season he now employs -from seven to fifteen skilled workmen and does an extensive business. He has taken some very large contracts, building a fifteen-thousand-dollar church in Mt. Vernon in 1900 and a large public building in Maquoketa, besides many fine residences in DeWitt and the surrounding country. Mr. Kettenring still operates the planing mill built by his father, and as a lumber dealer enjoys an excellent trade, carrying a large supply of lumber and building material. He is one of the most active and progressive young business men of DeWitt and is meeting with marked success.

At DeWitt Mr. Kettenring was married in 1893 to Miss Celia P. Graham, who was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, but was reared and educated in DeWitt. They have a very pleasant home, which was erected by Mr. Kettenring. Like his father, he is a staunch Republican in politics, and cast his first presidential ballot for Benjamin Harrison, but has never taken any active part in political affairs aside from voting, preferring to give his undivided attention to his extensive business interests. He is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of DeWitt, in which he has filled all the chairs and is now past grand. Both he and his wife are active members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and occupy an enviable position socially.

Notes for Frederick Morgan Kettenring:

Fred Kettenring House - Built about 1908

314 W. 11th Street; Vancouver, Washington

Listed on the Clark County Heritage Register in 2005

The Kettenring House is a three-story classic box residential structure with projecting porch, box windows and dormers. Original multi-paned windows, curved rafter ends and handsome porch contribute to the structure's early 20th century character. The building contains wide, open eaves with exposed curved rafter ends. One chimney is located on the west slope. A rectangular stair landing window bay on the west elevation is supported by heavy brackets. The structure is located on a corner lot within the central business district and the courthouse area. The area, which was an old upper class residential neighborhood, is now a commercial area today.

The structure is associated with Fred and Katherine Kettenring in 1908. Fred Kettenring arrived in Vancouver in July of 1901 from Duluth, Minnesota to take charge of the construction of the Great Northern Railroad. He worked on the railroad until 1904 when he then took a job as the City Engineer. In 1906 he started a sawmill on the east fork of the Lewis River and later built and operated the Battle Ground Lumber Company.

The Kettenrings had five children, John Kettenring, the youngest son, was in admiral in the US Navy and operated the Battle Ground Lumber Company until his death in 2000. The youngest daughter, Margie Kettenring, married George Propstra whose father had originated the Holland House. George and Margie Propstra were the founders of the Burgerville empire. George Propstra played an important role in the Camas community through his generous donations for the improvement of the city.

Notes for Verle Orin Kettenring:

Cameron, Missouri – Verle Oring Kettenring was born at Arickaree, Colorado, November 10, 1911, and departed this life at the Isolation Hospital, St. Joseph, Missouri, March 21, 1931. Verle lived at Arickaree until he was in his tenth year, then removed with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Kettenring, to Cameron, Missouri, where remained until his untimely death. He finished the grades in McKinley school at Cameron, and was at the time of his passing a member of the Junior Class in Cameron High School. He was also member of the Junior class Quartette. The deceased had taken the "Good Indian" work at the Y.M.C.A. and had received his badge. At the Older Boys' Conference, December 1930 he made a written pledge to live a Christ-like life. He kept this pledge until his death. All through his illness he had a loving faith in God.

Verle had a winning personality and made many friends wherever he went. He leaves to mourn at his early passing: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Kettenring, Cameron, Four sisters: Mrs. D. M. Payne Arickaree, Colorado; Mrs. A. Hazel Clark, Bancroft, Idaho; Mrs. Esther Roden, and Mrs. Olive McCann, Cameron; and one brother Donald Paul of the home. With these loved ones and relatives many friends and school mates mingle their tears of sympathetic grief at the departure of this fine young man.

Short funeral services were conducted in the chapel at Isolation Hospital St. Joseph, Missouri at 1:30 p.m., March 23, the Rev. W. C. Ferguson officiating. It was fitting that at the last sad rites the Cameron High School Male Quartette should sing. The quartette composed of Ross Kelsey, Claude Dorsey, Wayne Simmons, and Gordon Nell sang beautifully: "Rock of Ages," and "Abide with Me." The body was brought back to Cameron and tenderly laid to rest in Graceland cemetery.

Irving Fink⁷ Laucks (Louisa Martha⁶ Fink, Anna Katharina⁵ Reichart, Anna Katharina⁴ Renz, Christina Barbara³ Curfess, Johann Jakob² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 03 Jul 1882 in Akron, Summit Co, Ohio, and died 09 Mar 1981 in Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara Co, California. She was born 23 Oct 1909 in Gold Hill, Nevada, and died 03 Jun 2008 in Salt Spring Island, British Columbia, Canada.

Notes for Irving Fink Laucks:

The I.F. Laucks Company in Seattle, Washington, pioneered the use of soybean glue for the plywood industry in America, starting in 1923. This was the first important use of soy protein or soy flour in an industrial product. More important, it was the first commercially successful example on a significant scale of the new concept of making industrial products from soybeans. As such, it was a harbinger of the larger chemurgy movement that began in late 1920s and 1930s. At the same time, it served as one of the earliest markets for American-grown soybeans.

The I.F. Laucks Company also did some of America's earliest research on isolated soy proteins. The Cone and Brown patent (No. 1,935,375) for producing isolates and paper coatings, purchased by The Glidden Company in 1934, started two more new industries, those making industrial isolates and edible isolates. The latter showed steady growth into the 1980s.

The Early Years (1908-1926). Irving Fink Laucks was born in Akron, Ohio, in 1882. His father was a blacksmith. At the Case School of Applied Science (today's Case Institute of Technology) in Cleveland he studied mining engineering and chemistry. After graduating in 1904, he traveled to the Pacific Northwest to look over the mining situation.

In 1908 Laucks and Myrl J. Faulkenberg founded a laboratory (named what?) in Seattle, where they assayed and tested ores and minerals. They worked with various gold mining firms in Alaska. During World War I, with the global shipping and supply system seriously disrupted, many goods that had formerly been shipped from Europe to the East Coast began to be shipped from East Asia to Seattle. Laucks' laboratory received a government contract to serve as a customs analytical laboratory, inspecting for quality and unwanted microorganisms and insects.

During this work, Laucks first became acquainted with soybeans. Large cartwheel-shaped soybean cakes were being imported for use as hog feed, mainly in the Midwest. Laucks became very interested in the characteristics of soybean cake and he had some of it analyzed to determine its composition. In 1918 Laucks and Faulkenberg dissolved their partnership, with Laucks retaining the analytical laboratory, which he renamed I.F. Laucks, Inc.? (Cour 1955a, 1955b).

Laucks must have also analyzed some imported soy oil, for in 1919 he wrote a book titled Commercial Oils, Vegetable and Animal, with Special Reference to Oriental Oils, which contained a 5-page section on soy oil. This was his earliest known publication related to soy. In 1920 he and H.P. Banks wrote an article titled "Pressed Soya Bean Oil" in an American cottonseed oil journal. In April 1920 his company began publication of a monthly newsletter titled Laucks' Note Book, which contained some articles on soy oil?

One day in late 1921 or 1922 a man named Bill Bailey visited Laucks in his laboratory to talk with him about the possibility of developing a better plywood glue. Bailey had been sent by Ed Westman of the Olympia Veneer Co., the first worker-owned manufacturer of Douglas fir plywood, which began operation in August 1921. Bailey brought with him a sample of the casein glue that was being used by Olympia Veneer at the time.

The US plywood industry was still quite young. The world's first fir plywood was made in 1905 in Oregon. However laminated glued woods have been traced back to the pharaohs and the Greeks. They existed in Czarist Russia before 1900. The first patent involving what would now be called plywood was issued on 26 December 1865 to John K. Mayo of New York City, but it is not known if he ever commercialized the product. America's first plywood industry started on the East Coast, manned by European immigrants. It was hardwood plywood and its fancier plywood was used mostly decoratively, as in furniture. America's softwood plywood industry developed in the Pacific Northwest using Douglas fir (also then called Oregon pine). The first panels were produced in Portland, Oregon, in 1905, by the Portland Manufacturing Company, located on the Willamette River. They were made for exhibition at the Lewis and Clark Exposition Fair, which opened in Portland in June, 1905. This plywood (originally called "glued veneer stock") that came in 2-by-3-foot panels was seen by more than 500,000 people at the Fair. It started to be sold commercially in 1905 and was used initially mostly to make doors, the bottoms of drawers, trunks, valises, and wall paneling. Although fir plywood was born in Oregon, it was the growing state of Washington that quickly took hold of the new industry. The first plywood plant in Washington started in 1910 and Washington held its dominance until 1954, when Oregon regained it. In the early 1920s the East Coast and West Coast plywood industries were of approximately size. The word "plywood" was first used in 19?? (Cour 1955b).

By the 1920s plywood was made as follows: Cut big Douglas fir trees, haul them to a plywood mill, select the best trees (called "peeler logs"), and cut those into selected lengths (what length?). Put one length in a huge rotary lathe, strip off the bark (before or after putting in the lathe?), then revolve the log on its axis against the long lathe knife, which peels off a long, continuous strip of thin veneer, quite like unrolling a roll of paper toweling in a kitchen. Dry the veneers in long dryers, then run them one by one between the rolls of a glue spreader (built like the wringer on an old fashioned washing machine), which spreads glue on both sides of each veneer. Alternately layer glued and unglued veneers, so that their grains run perpendicular to each other, to form assemblies. Cold press these until the glue sets, then trim their edges, and sand their surfaces (Cour 1955b).

Prior to World War I, most of the glues used to bind the veneers together into sheets of plywood on both the East and West Coasts were animal glues, based primarily on blood and hoofs??, although some starch-based glues were used. Animal glues were best known for their horrible smell. During World War I a new type of glue made from casein, the major protein in milk, started to be used. Casein glue, invented in Switzerland and first used widely in Europe, had been developed in the US in about 1910 at the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wisconsin. Early US manufacturers of casein glue were the Monite Company and the Borden Company, both of whom started around the time of World War I, when plywood started to find industrial uses, as in airplane parts and buildings. Casein glue was more water resistant?? than its predecessors and it smelled much better. But it also had several disadvantages: (1) it was fairly expensive and subject to wide variations in price and availability; (2) although it was fairly water resistant??, it was certainly not waterproof; and (3) it was quite viscous and tacky, which made working with it somewhat slow and difficult. Since 1905 glue had been the Achilles heel of the young Pacific Northwest plywood industry, for it limited plywood largely to indoor applications.

During the early 1920s, however, many plywood manufacturers, eager to expand their sales, were boasting that casein glue was waterproof. Makers of automobile bodies, believing the plywood manufacturers, started to use plywood for floor boards, instrument boards, and finally for running boards. Cars builders soon competed with door makers as plywood's top market. But it was soon discovered that the running boards of some cars began to warp badly and even come apart (delaminate), especially in humid/rainy, warm areas. The faulty glue line caused many complaints. It was a disaster for everyone involved. Many cars had to be recalled and the running boards replaced. The plywood makers eventually lost a major market as well as confidence in their product slumped. It was because of such problems with casein glues that Olympia Veneer sent Bailey to talk with Laucks (Laucks 1944).

After some discussion, Laucks agreed to analyze Bailey's casein glue and also to institute studies to develop an improved glue. Laucks then recalled that the soy protein he had analyzed was similar in composition to that of protein. So he set to work trying to make a glue from imported soybean cake. At about this same time Laucks learned that a man named Otis Johnson was working in another laboratory on the development of a soybean glue. The two men worked on the problem independently. Johnson was issued US and British patents for a soybean glue in 1923, before Laucks even applied for his patents. His last of four patents was issued in 1928.

Laucks initial laboratory experiments with soybean glue looked promising. Then he drew up an agreement with Olympia Veneer allowing him to experiment at their plant. Laucks needed a real plant in which to work and Olympia would receive large amounts of free glue. Laucks pulverized the rectangular slabs of hydraulic-pressed soybean cake, then ground the low-fat soybean meal to a flour fine enough to pass through an 100-200-mesh screen. He mixed the flour with various chemicals, and then with water to form the glue.

By 1923 Laucks felt he had developed a satisfactory soybean glue. This was the first non-casein glue to be used on plywood and the first to be made from low-cost, protein-rich oilseed residues, which were left over after expressing the oil. In 1923 Laucks began to sell his soybean glue to Olympia Veneer; the first shipment weighed one ton. Olympia considered the quality sufficiently good to change over this entire factory in 1923 from casein to soybean glue.

Apparently? at about this time Laucks renamed his analytical laboratory Laucks Laboratories, Inc., keeping the name I.F. Laucks, Inc. for the company that developed and produced his plywood glues. The analytical work and the glue development work were housed in the same building.

Laucks' two key technical men involved in the research and development on soybean glue were Glen Davidson and Charles Cone. Davidson, who had majored in chemistry at the University of Nebraska, left school in 1918 after three years to work as an inspector and chemical analyst for the US Army. He joined I.F. Laucks Co. in the early 1920s. What year? Cone had graduated in 1920 from Fairmount College in Wichita, Kansas, with rudimentary training in chemistry. He began working with Laucks in 1923. Most of the early glue research, as Cone recalled in 1985, was "strictly empirical; very crude and unsophisticated." Davidson and Cone worked closely and happily together. Earl Brown, who arrived in the mid-1920s was also a technical man, with an engineering background. Other people who worked for Laucks were Harry P. Banks, vice president, Leo Eilertson, treasurer, and Hugh F. Rippey, who was in charge of Laucks Laboratories. Laucks had a strongly Germanic nature and ran a tight ship. As Cone recalled. "He was somewhat of a martinet, not a particularly friendly man, not the sort of man you joke with" (Cone 1985, personal communication).

The first of many patents on processing soybean cake to make a flour than using the flour to make a glue was applied for by Laucks and Davidson in October 1923 (No. 1,689,732). It was granted in October 1928. Sodium hydroxide and calcium hydroxide were added to the glue to serve as waterproofing agents. Two more glue patents were applied for in 1924 (Laucks and Davidson, No. 1,751,339 and Laucks and Cone, No. 1,757,805). Eilertson and co-workers applied for a fourth glue patent in 1926 (No. 1,903,172). In the early years, Laucks had the peculiar habit of listing numerous people (including himself) on patent applications, even though they/he may have had nothing to do with the research. None of these early soybean glue patents were issued until 1928 because of litigation on the process.

Prior to 1927, in addition to glue, the company also did research and applied for patents on carbon briquettes bound together by a soy adhesive (Rippey et al. 1929), soybean plastics?? (Laucks, Banks, et al. 1931), and soy protein paper sizing (Davidson, Rippey et al. 1927).

But a number of problems began to arise. The quality of Laucks' glue soon proved to be inconsistent. Its chemical composition could be quickly changed by oxygen, moisture, and chemical and bacterial action. He realized that he would have to develop a three-step system for standardizing the chemical composition and quality of his imported soybean cake. First, he worked with one of Manchuria's largest mills to produce soybean cake that had a specified composition within certain limits as it left their mill. Second, this meal was transported to the US by the fastest steamship, instead of the usual tramp steamers or schooners. And third, a method of chemical treatment was developed in Seattle which insured the uniformity and stability of the resultant glue (Davidson and Laucks 1932).

There were also other problems to be overcome. Soybean glue was not viscous, sticky, tacky, or syrupy like most other glues. On the contrary, it was rather soupy or mushy, with somewhat the same viscosity as water. It soon acquired the unwelcome nickname "bean soup" and became the scapegoat for any and all production problems. Most practical glue men would not believe that such a substance could ever stick plywood. This apparent handicap actually proved to be a big advantage, for it allowed automatic glue spreaders (developed by Laucks) to spread the glue on the plywood much more quickly and easily without foaming, which enabled plywood plants to speed up production. Another handicap was that no one had ever heard of a water-resistant glue derived from plants. The name "vegetable glue" connoted starch glues, which were well known to be not water resistant. One clear advantage of the soybean glue was that it smelled much better than the stinky animal glues.

In short, soybean glue's biggest advantages over casein glues were that it was much less expensive, there were no large fluctuations in its price and availability, it was at least? as water resistant, being non-tacky it was easier to work with, and it could be used to glue veneers with a higher moisture content (20-35%). Moreover, soybean glue seemed to be especially suited for gluing Douglas fir, the main wood used in the Pacific Northwest (Laucks and Davidson 1932).

The Golden Years (1926-1942). The beginning of the period of prosperity for I.F. Laucks, Inc, and soybean glues was described by Laucks and Davidson in a paper presented in 1931 at the Sixth Annual Wood-Industries Meeting (published in 1932):

The year 1926 proved to be the turning point in the life history of a soya-bean glue. Prior to this time there had been an insistent demand for plywood of greater water resistance on the part of automobile manufacturers, who were beginning to buy large amounts of plywood. Finally, the Pacific Coast plywood manufacturers announced through their association that they wished to arrange a series of competitive demonstrations of all water-resisting plywood glues. These demonstrations were made during April, 1926, with nearly all glue manufacturers participating. The results in these tests obtained with soya-bean glues were so outstanding that these glues were almost immediately adopted by all Pacific Coast plywood manufacturers and have been in continuous there.

Laucks later (1944) gave additional details on this key period. "When a number of running boards began coming apart all over the country, a committee was appointed by the plywood industry to arrange competitive tests to determine the best glue for the industry to use. . . By the latter part of 1927, about one year from the date of the competition, every [plywood] plant on the Pacific Coast [there were 12] was using soybean glue." Interestingly, Charles Cone, who was then a key technical man with Laucks, stated in 1985 that he was never aware of any such contest and he does not believe that one ever took place. Ask APA?

During the period 1926-34 extensive research on soybean glues and other related soy products was done by Laucks' researchers and at least 38 patents were applied for and issued. Only one new name, that of T.W. Dike, appeared on the patent applications (Hennefrund and Colvin 1938; Brother, Smith, and Circle 1940; Circle 1950). Several important discoveries for which patents were applied in the late 1920s included (1) the addition of caustic soda (sodium hydroxide) as such to the glue base after the soy flour had been mixed with water, (2) the addition of the flammable chemical carbon bisulfide to make the soybean glue (and casein glue) much more water resistant (3) the proper heating of the meal using both steam jacketing and steam injection, and (4) a method for using a glue made from soy flour and blood in the hotpress gluing process (Laucks, Cone and Dike 1932). I need specific references and dates for the other patents (1-3)? Cone was the key inventor in processes 1-3.?

Thus in the new, improved process, rectangular slabs of Manchurian soybean cake were ground to a flour. In a double-action, steam jacketed ribbon mixer, the flour was mixed with water and a little carefully regulated injected steam to get just the right amount of protein denaturation (which prevented the flour from lumping and improved the bond). Finally the chemicals (primarily caustic soda, lime?, silicate of soda, and carbon bisulfide) were mixed in. This was the formulation that made Laucks' soybean glue a mainstay for the cold pressed plywood industry for many years (Cone 1985, personal communication).

By 1927 Laucks' was calling his new soybean glue Laxein. Once it was being sold in bulk on the open market, he decided to straighten out the patent situation between his laboratory and Otis Johnson. He did this by purchasing Johnson's patents, when Johnson found that he could not make his soybean glue applicable to fir plywood.

At about this time George Osgood in Tacoma started making a soybean glue. Laucks sued Osgood for patent infringement. Balfour-Guthrie Co., which was also involved in the suit, later withdrew, making a settlement with Laucks. Did Laucks sue any other companies? Cone recalls that the two key points in the trial concerned the addition of caustic soda and carbon bisulfide to the glue; Laucks had applied for patents on both of these processes. The suit with Osgood was bitterly contested and dragged on for 2 years. The final verdict was in Laucks' favor. Only after this judgment was his first patent on soybean glue issued. Now Laucks had a virtual monopoly on the Pacific Coast plywood glue market. Not only was his product more water resistant?? than casein glues, it was also much cheaper. Soon he began to license other companies to make his product? Which ones? Starting when? Including any that he had sued? (Cour 1955b).

By the late 1920s Laucks was finding it very difficult to obtain enough soybean cake. It was only available as an import from East Asia or from North Carolina. So he decided to develop his own source in the Midwest. In 1927 he arranged with the Funk Brothers Seed Company, a soybean crusher in Bloomington, Illinois, to make him soy flour and ship it to his plant in Seattle (Cavanagh 1959). Glen Davidson moved to Bloomington to help Funk Bros. with production details (they used an expeller rather than a hydraulic press to produce the meal) and to take charge of sales of soybean glue in the Midwest. It was used mostly to make box-grade panels out of gum wood veneer. Back in Seattle, Charles Cone was appointed Chief Research Chemist. In 1932 Laucks and Davidson recalled:

In 1927 the manufacture of commercial veneer glue from American-grown soya beans was begun. Prior to this time, the production of domestic soya beans had been on too limited a scale to render such a venture advisable. However since 1927, the production of soya beans in the Middle Western states has been rapidly increasing. It is believed that the use of soya-bean meal as a glue base has been a notable factor in encouraging farmers to increase their soya-bean acreage.

Funk Bros. continued to ship the soy flour to Seattle for 2 years until 1929, when freight rates proved to be excessive. As a result, Laucks decided to establish his own glue plant in Illinois. He signed an agreement with Funk Bros. whereby he would establish his headquarters for producing soybean glue on the south half of the second floor of the main warehouse of the Funk Bros. seed company plant in Bloomington.

Funk Bros. continued for a few years to make the flour from their soybean meal and to deliver it to Laucks for processing into glue. Laucks later installed his own machinery to process the meal into flour. Laucks operated in Bloomington until 1934. At times he took as much as one-third of Funk Brothers' production of meal. This operation in Bloomington was one of the first in the Midwest to process domestic soybeans into flour for glue (Cavanagh 1959, based on interviews with Eugene D. Funk 1956).

We know of no figures on the amount of soybean glue that Laucks produced during the 1930s. Cone recalls that sales were several million dollars a year by 1932 and that profits were excellent.

The Great Depression, however, starting in 1929, hit the fir plywood industry hard. Plywood production, which had jumped from 175 million square feet in 1926 up to 358 million in 1929, plunged to only 200 million in 1932, the low point. Following numerous abortive attempts to organize a plywood industry trade association, the Douglas Fir Plywood Association was founded in May 1933. Its activities began to hit high gear in 1937-38, to the great benefit of the entire industry. By 1940 plywood production had climbed to 1,200 million feet (Cour 1955b).

One of the most important developments at I.F. Laucks, Inc. was largely unrelated to soybean glue. It involved the development of America's first commercial isolated soy proteins. This pioneering work, by Charles N. Cone and Earl D. Brown, was described in a patent titled "Protein Product and Process of Making," applied for in March 1930 and issued in April 1934. The process was designed to be used to make an isolated soy protein base for paper coatings or sizings to replace casein. Soybean cake or meal was immersed in a mild, hot alkali solution and agitated for 12 hours, then centrifuged to remove the insoluble residue. An acid was added to the clear liquid to precipitate the protein at pH 4.0. The curd was washed with water, filtered, pressed, disintegrated, and dried. The use of a mild alkali was found to be essential if the protein was to remain dispersible. Cone initially made the isolates on a laboratory scale then later produced enough to make a trial run at a paper-coating plant in Grand Rapids, Michigan. When the process was ready, Cone traveled to the Midwest to try to sell the patent. After the Chicago Milling Co. turned it down in 1932 (casein was very cheap at the time), Glidden bought it in 1943. This patent became the basis of Glidden's famous Alpha Protein, the world's first commercial isolated soy protein, which in turn was the basis of Central Soya's famous Promine.

In 1932 Laucks fired Cone over disputes concerning income due Cone on processes he had invented in patents assigned to I.F. Laucks, Inc. Cone was later told by a chemist at the Wilson Packing Co., a meat packer in Chicago, that he knew of various companies that had spent more than a million dollars in trying (unsuccessfully) to get around the Cone and Brown patent. Robert Boyer, head of Henry Ford's soybean research team, later noted that his group regularly studied the Cone and Brown patent because it tied up the whole patent structure in that area and started a new industry in America?? How did Ralston Purina finally get around it??

In October 1931 Laucks and Davidson presented the first summary of their work with soybean glues at the annual meeting of the wood industries in North Carolina. The excellent, detailed paper was published the next year. It noted that in plywood manufacture the tonnage of soybean glue (called generically "oil-seed-residue glue") equalled that of any other type of glue.

The present uses of soya-bean glues embrace the entire fir and pine plywood industry, together with a large share of the plywood box industry and the furniture plywood industry so far as glass backs, drawer bottoms, and similar panels are concerned, but not tops, drawer fronts, and other plywood where fancy veneers are used extensively. A considerable tonnage is also used in the lamination of insulating board to be used in refrigerators and for other purposes. . . There are 17 plants in the Pacific Northwest producing fir plywood. The smallest of these will produce about a hundred thousand square foot of plywood per day and the largest about three hundred thousand square feet.

Note that most of these were interior uses, since soybean glue was water resistant but not very water resistant, and definitely not waterproof. Note also that soybean glue was not used with fancy veneers since they were usually stained at it did not take stain well. A summary of the article was published by Horvath in 1933, together with several good photographs of glue-making at the Laucks plant in Seattle.

In 1934 Laucks shut down his operations with Funk Bros. in Bloomington, Illinois, and built a soy flour and soybean glue plant in Norfolk, Virginia, in order to be close to the source of North Carolina soybeans and to expand the company's glue operations to the East Coast of the United States. By this time other companies (which? where?) had begun making soybean glue (using a license from Laucks?) and there still weren't enough soybeans to go around (Cour 1955b; Cavanagh 1959).

The year 1934 marked the beginning of the end of the reign of soybean glue in the US plywood industry. In December of that year Dr. James Victor Nevin, a jolly, tireless, Irish immigrant researcher, who had joined Harbor Plywood Corporation in the fall of 1933 as chief of research, announced that he had developed America's first truly waterproof glue. Commercial production of Super Harbord, made with Nevin's cresylic resin (a type of phenolic resin) and the hotpress method, began in January 1935. The heat and pressure "cured" the new adhesive, producing an irreversible bond stronger than the wood itself. Nevin's glue, a synthetic material, provided one of the greatest advances in the history of the plywood industry, for now exterior plywood became a practical reality, opening up hundreds of new markets for plywood, including exterior and prefabricated housing, boat building, refrigeration, and railroad cars (Cour 1955b).

Hotpress gluing was developed in the late 1920s? when? by who? After 1934 it began to revolutionize the plywood business, in part because waterproof resin glues required use of the hotpress method to set them. Many plants changed from coldpress to the hotpress. Steam-heating the pressing plates shortened the pressing time. Soybean glues were found to be exceptionally well suited to the high-speed hotpress method. In later years (when??) Laucks eventually perfected a soybean glue suitable for a hotpress operation. He introduced it at the Wheeler-Osgood Co. in Tacoma (Cour 1955b, p. 85). However the rush to hotpress methods was slowed in the late 1940s by the higher cost of hot presses (2.5 times as expensive), the removal of some disadvantages of the coldpress method, and improvements in the quality of cold-pressed plywood. . . all of which helped soybean glues. Moreover, phenolic resin hotpress plywood glues were extended with soybean meal (Babcock and Smith 1947; Burnett 1951b). But by the 1970s practically no cold pressing was done in the USA? and production of softwood plywood was 50 to 100 times as great as that of hardwood plywood.

After the Nevin process was developed, Laucks did a lot of work developing urea resins. He made these in a plant which he purchased in Lockport, New York. When?

By 1934 most of the patents applied for by Laucks on research related to soy products had been granted. In 1938 he was granted his first and only foreign patent (British Patent 488,889) for improvements in soybean gluing, and in 1939 the company was issued two more US patents relating to soybean glues (2,150,175 and 2,178,178).

In later years, the company also developed a number of minor industrial uses for the soybean to try to stave off the losses from its sagging sales of soybean glue. They found that soybeans were a good emulsifying agent and developed formulas for emulsifying the petroleum products used in orchard sprays. They developed a number of uses for the soybean in paints, and in the adhesives used in washable wallpaper (Laucks 1944). Unrelated to soybeans, they also developed a synthetic vanilla flavoring (vanillin).

World War II proved to be a boon to the plywood industry. Production hit 1,782 million feet by 1942. Plywood was coming to be known as the jack of all trades of the building industry, and its virtues were starting to be appreciated: advantageous large panel size, reasonable price, split proof, puncture proof, strength and rigidity, ease of fabrication, lightness and workability, and durability with tremendous nail-holding power. For these reasons, plywood played a very active and important role during the war. New methods of evaluating strength and quality, developed by the US Forest Products Laboratory, became the basis of Federal and Naval Specifications for water-resistant plywood glues (Burnett 1951b, p. 1021). During World War II plywood made with soybean glue was found to come apart quite quickly when used in the South Pacific or other tropical climates. Extensive research was done to ascertain why soybean glue was not completely waterproof. At last the riddle was solved by Charles Cone. He discovered that after the plywood had been moistened (as by rain) and remained under certain conditions of moisture and warmth, certain fungi (especially molds) grew on the glue line and digested the protein in the glue, thus causing delamination. To counter this degradation by molds, preservatives began to be used in plywood glues (Kaufert 1944; Christensen 1945). Synthetic glues (such as phenol formaldehyde) replaced soybean glue in large part because they contained no protein. Later commercial standards practically eliminated protein-based glues.

The earliest production statistics seen for soybean glue date from the early 1940s. Van Arsdal (1940) reported that the largest single industrial use of soybean meal in the US was for making water-resistant plywood glue. About 16,000 tons (32 million lb) of meal a year were so used, and usage was expected to increase. Burnett (1951b) stated that in 1942, 60 million lb of soybean glue (dry basis) were used in plywood. This amount, together with a small amount of casein glue, represented 85% of the total plywood glue production. By 1945 the amount had fallen to 70%. In 1947 consumption of soybean glue was down to 25 million lb. An estimated two-thirds or more of the 1947 production of Douglas fir plywood was glued with soybean adhesive and hence intended for interior use, while one-third was glued with phenolic resins and intended for exterior use. In the plywood industry as a whole, soybean glues represented, on a dry basis, by far the largest tonnage of any type of adhesive.

Later Years (1942-82). In 1942 Laucks retired and moved to Orcas Island, in the San Juan Islands, in northwest Washington. But he kept up his interest in the plywood and soybean industries. In 1942 his company published a book titled Technique of Plywood by Charles B. Norris. In 1943 he wrote two articles summarizing his life's work with plywood and glues in Chemurgic Digest. In April 1944 these were condensed and published by Soybean Digest, which showed a nice picture of his plant in Portsmouth, Virginia. It also noted that the company had glue plants in Sweden, Vancouver, and Australia. In 1947 a government research report on soybean glues for plywood was published (Australia CSIR 1947).

In 1950 most of I.F. Laucks, Inc. was sold to the Monsanto Chemical Company, but the original laboratory in Seattle was purchased by two of its older employees. Monsanto was a major manufacturer of phenolic resins until the early 1980s. In 1985 Laucks Testing Laboratories, Inc., was still active in Seattle.

In 1953 Laucks moved to Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. That year his book titled A Speculation in Reality, about science and physical research, was published by the Philosophical Library in New York. In April 1955 Robert Cour, while researching a book on the history of the US plywood industry, visited and interviewed him there. The 4-page transcript and Cour's resulting book have been key sources of information for this chapter. The book, titled The Plywood Age: A History of the Fir Plywood Industry's First Fifty Years, chronicles the changes that took place during Laucks' period of greatest activity and concludes with a summary of the industry in 1954-55. Some 3,903 million feet of fir plywood was produced by 100 mills using 116 hot presses and 81 cold presses. Sales of plywood glue were worth $21 million. The amount of this that was soybean glue was not given, though it was noted that 75% of all plywood was interior grade and only 25% exterior (Was much or most of the interior grades were still made with coldpress? Why? With soybean glue?) Nationwide, fir was by far the most widely used wood in making plywood. Oregon's 47 mills produced 47% of all fir plywood, while Washington's 36 mills produced 34% and California's 17 mills made 13%.

I.F. Laucks passed away in about 1982. A pioneer in both the soybean and the plywood industries, he was a hard worker who was willing to take risks. His successful development of soybean glue and the use of the soybean in industrial products set the stage for the chemurgic movement (see Chapter 66) and prompted many other pioneering companies to begin research on uses of soy proteins. Perhaps the main inheritor of Laucks' legacy was The Glidden Company.

Irving Fink Laucks was an American chemist. His the I. F. Laucks Company was the first to use the soybean glue for the plywood industry in America, starting in 1923. Laucks was born on July 3, 1882 in Akron, Ohio, United States; the son of Morris B. and Louisa M. (Fink) Laucks. Laucks graduated with second honors from his high school class in Akron in January 1900. He studied at the Case School (the Case Western Reserve University) from 1900 to 1905. There Irving studied mining engineering and chemistry.

Irving began his career in 1908, when he with a chemist Myrl J. Faulkenberg founded a laboratory in Seattle. They assayed and tested ores and minerals there. During this work, Laucks became very interested in the characteristics of soybean cake and he had some of it analyzed to determine its composition. In 1918, Lauks and Faulkenberg dissolved their partnership, with Laucks retaining the analytical laboratory, which he renamed I. F. Laucks, Inc. In April 1920 his company began publication of a monthly newsletter titled Laucks' Note Book. In late 1922, he met chemist Bill Bailey, who researched plywood glue. Irving agreed to analyze Bailey's casein glue and also to institute studies to develop an improved glue. So he set to work trying to make a glue from imported soybean cake. By 1923 Laucks felt he had developed a satisfactory soybean glue. In 1923, Irving began to sell his soybean glue to Olympia Veneer. At about this time Laucks renamed his analytical laboratory Laucks Laboratories, Inc., keeping the name I. F. Laucks, Inc. for the company that developed and produced his plywood glues. Laucks' two key technical men involved in the research and development on soybean glue were Glen Davidson and Charles Cone. Prior to 1927, in addition to glue, the company also did research and applied for patents on carbon briquettes bound together by a soy adhesive, soybean plastics, and soy protein paper sizing.

During the period 1926-1934 extensive research on soybean glues and other related soy products was done by Laucks' researchers and at least 38 patents were applied for and issued. By 1927 Laucks' was calling his new soybean glue Lauxein. By the late 1920s Laucks was finding it very difficult to obtain enough soybean cake. So he decided to develop his own source in the Midwest. In 1927, he arranged with the Funk Brothers Seed Company, a soybean crusher in Bloomington, Illinois, to make him soy flour and ship it to his plant in Seattle. That company continued for a few years to make the flour from their soybean meal and to deliver it to Laucks for processing into glue. Laucks later installed his own machinery to process the meal into flour. Laucks operated in Bloomington until 1934. At times he took as much as one third of Funk Brothers' production of meal.

In October 1931, Laucks and Glen Davidson presented the first summary of their work with soybean glues at the annual meeting of the wood industries in North Carolina. It noted that in plywood manufacture the tonnage of soybean glue (called generically "oil-seed-residue glue") equaled that of any other type of glue. In 1934, Laucks shut down his operations with Funk Brothers in Bloomington, Illinois, and built a soy flour and soybean glue plant in Norfolk, Virginia, in order to be close to the source of North Carolina soybeans and to expand the company's glue operations to the East Coast of the United States.

In later years, Laucks eventually perfected a soybean glue suitable for a hot press operation. He introduced it at the Wheeler-Osgood Company in Tacoma. In 1942, Laucks retired and moved to Orcas Island, in the San Juan Islands, in northwest Washington. But he kept up his interest in the plywood and soybean industries. The same year his company published a book titled "Technique of Plywood" by Charles B. Norris. In 1943, he wrote two articles summarizing his life's work with plywood and glues in "Chemurgic Digest". In 1950 most of I. F. Laucks, Inc. was sold to the Monsanto Chemical Company, but the original laboratory in Seattle was purchased by two of its older employees. Laucks Testing Laboratories, Inc. is still operating in Seattle, Washington.

In 1953, Irving Laucks moved to Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. That year his book titled "A Speculation in Reality", about science and psychic research, was published by the Philosophical Library in New York.

Irving was the founder of I. F. Laucks, Inc. It was involved in the development of America's first commercial isolated soy proteins. In 1938 he was granted his first and only foreign patent for improvements in soybean gluing.

He discovered that after the plywood had been moistened (as by rain) and remained under certain conditions or moisture and warmth, certain fungi (especially molds) grew on the glue line and digested the protein in the glue, thus causing delamination.

Irving Laucks was born in 1882, in Akron, Ohio. In 1906, after leaving Cleveland's Case Institute of Technology with B.S. and M.S. degrees in chemistry, he traveled west to Seattle, where in 1908 he established an assay office and chemical laboratory. From this beginning research and business, he developed major patents in coal distillation, soybean adhesives for plywood, paints and primers, and various other processes and machinery used in the manufacture of plywood. He authored a book on commercial oils in 1919. In 1955, he was named a "father" of the plywood industry by the American Plywood Association for his developmental discoveries leading to the manufacture of cheap water-resistant plywood.

In 1942, he retired from an active manufacturing and laboratory business to devote himself to private chemical research having to do with the synthesis of proteins and the development of blood plasma substitutes. He published A Speculation In Reality in 1943.

The shock of the 1945 bombing of Hiroshima impelled Irving to turn all thought and effort toward endeavoring to alert people to the perils inherent in the development of nuclear weaponry. In the intervening years since that time, until a few months before his death in 1981, he worked tirelessly on behalf of world peace. As a scientist as well as a humanitarian - through widely disseminated pamphlets, speeches and letters to the editor - he unceasingly advocated world nuclear disarmament. His strong support of nonviolent peace movements led him in 1964 to Santa Barbara where he became a consultant on war and peace at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, and in 1969 he established the Laucks Foundation.

Irving and Eulah Laucks founded the Laucks Foundation in 1969 as a response to the cold war and the threat of nuclear war. After the devastation of Hiroshima Irving came to believe that the Soviet Union and the US must disarm their nuclear forces, and if there was no other way, the US must do so unilaterally. He believed that without limits to the arms race, the human race would surely cease to exist. In the later 20 years of his life he devoted all of his energy and assets to convincing people of the truth of these ideas. He founded LF as a means to help in these efforts.

After Irving's death in 1981, Eulah became president and interpreted LF's mission in a broader way. Beginning in 1979 Eulah began to edit what she called "The Reprint Mailing" of LF, bringing together articles that she felt were important and thought-provoking. She sent out the Reprint Mailing on an occasional basis, usually at least two or three a year, to a large and eclectic list of her friends and the many acquaintances she had made over the years. In the early 1980s LF sponsored lectures, classes, manuscripts in progress, dissemination of articles, workshops and conferences mostly focused on how to educate for world peace and disarmament. LF worked with The Hutchins Center at University of Santa Barbara (UCSB), the Peace and Justice Center of Southern California, the Rocky Mountain Institute, and the University of Santa Barbara to name a few.

Beginning in 1985 and continuing through 2000, LF sponsored a class at UCSB, taught by Walter Capps of the Religious Studies department, on the Vietnam War and its impact on American moral and religious values. The class was to become one of the most popular at UCSB during those years, the demand for the class continually exceeding the limit of 900 places. In the mid-1980s LF began funding the Land Institute in Salina Kansas in its work on perennial grains and the quest for solving the problem of agriculture. This support continued through 2010. From 1992 to 2000, LF also supported various other environmental organizations such as Native Seed Search of Tucson Arizona and the Community Environmental Council of Santa Barbara. In 1997 Eulah Laucks stepped down as President and Mary Laucks was elected as President, Brian Swanson as Vice President. Eulah Laucks continued as Chair of the Board until her death in 2008.

Beginning in 2000, LF began to focus on the problems of homelessness, social equity and human rights. The directors believed that with limited resources, LF should focus on organizations just starting out, where LF's limited funds could have the most impact. Among the organizations that LF funded were FareStart, a Seattle based organization that trains homeless people for jobs restaurants, First Place, a school and daycare for homeless families, and the Arab American Community Council, an organization formed to deflect the misplaced anger directed at the Arab American community after 9/11. In 2007 LF added scientific research for the public good as another purpose of incorporation and Brian Swanson moved his ice crystal growth research lab from the University of Washington to the Laucks Foundation.

From 2008 to the present LF has continued to offer seed money to small start-up organizations in the Northwest. Among the organizations it funded are SWOVA (Salt Spring Women Opposed to Violence and Abuse) of Salt Spring Island BC, Seattle Jazz Ed, Seattle Music Partners, Victoria Cool Aid REES program of Victoria BC, Green Plate Special of Seattle. In 2010 Dwight Gee was elected to the Board of Directors as Secretary and brings his invaluable experience of the non-profit world to our Board.

Notes for Eulah Croson:

Eulah Corson Laucks, "a long-time Santa Barbara, California resident, died peacefully June 3rd on Salt Spring Island, British Columbia, Canada with her daughter and son-in-law at her side. She will be remembered as a generous, charming, and graceful lady to the core by all those who had the opportunity to know her. Eulah was born in Gold Hill, Nevada and grew up in Bakersfield, California. She graduated from Bakersfield high school, and later worked at the Kern County Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Keene, California to save enough money to attend the University of Washington in Seattle, where she majored in journalism. She spent her senior year in Rome and witnessed the progression of Mussolini's Italy towards an alliance with Hitler and the beginning of WWII. When she returned to the US she took a job as a public relations writer at Laucks Laboratories in Seattle, Washington where she met and married Irving Laucks. After living on Orcas Island, Washington for ten years they moved to Healdsburg, California and had a daughter, Mary Laucks and raised a foster son, the late Lorenzo Gon. They traveled abroad for several years and then moved to Santa Barbara in 1964 to begin an association with the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, where Eulah served on the board of directors for many years. Eulah and Irving founded the Laucks Foundation (LF) in 1969 and focused its activities on raising awareness of the danger of the MAD relationship between the Soviet Union and the US. When Irving Laucks died in 1981, Eulah began to focus LF on ecological issues and social justice. At the age of 69 Eulah received a PhD from (UCSB) University California Santa Barbara with a thesis titled, The Meaning of Children in Contemporary America. For many years Eulah contributed her time and energy to the UCSB Scholarship committee, The Channel City Women's Forum, The Community Environmental Council, Santa Barbara City College, Fairview Gardens, The Walter Capps Center, The Land Institute, and to publishing the Laucks Foundation newsletter (Reprint Mailings 1979-1999). In 1996 she published a memoir, Saucer Eyes , about growing up in Nevada's hard rock mining country. Since 2000 she lived with her daughter and son-in-law, Brian Swanson."

Eulah Laucks 1909-2008 Activist and Philanthropist --- Thursday, June 26, 2008 --- By Michael Ableman:

I first met Eulah Laucks in Salina, Kansas, at a dinner organized by biologist and MacArthur fellow Wes Jackson. While we both had been living in the Santa Barbara area for many years, we had never met, and when introduced it was like two lost friends rediscovering each other. That friendship continued through my years developing and managing Fairview Gardens and beyond, as each of us moved away from the area, coincidentally to the same island in British Columbia.

Well past her seventies, into her eighties, and even into her early nineties, Eulah was a living testimony to the idea that age is only a number. It wasn't that her body did not register the years, it's just that she never carried herself as if she was "old." There was never any sense of resignation or decline, only an energy and bounce that lifted everyone she connected with. She came to see me often at the Saturday Santa Barbara Farmers Market. In the midst of the flurry of transactions, I would see this beautiful woman approaching our stand, the difference in our respective ages gone as she displayed a spark and inner beauty which always caught my eye and belied her years.

In 1996, after 15 years of developing and managing Fairview Gardens, I convinced the owner of the land to give me the chance to raise the funds to buy the farm and place it under what became one of the first agricultural conservation easements in the country, permanently protecting the farm and formalizing its role as an international model of small-scale urban sustainable agriculture. As a farmer, the only thing I had ever raised were fruits and vegetables, so raising the funds for the purchase seemed like an awesome task. The first person I called for help was my friend Eulah Laucks. She spared me the humiliation of even having to ask by immediately offering what became our first substantial donation, and she gave me the confidence to move our effort forward. Eulah also gave me some advice about nonprofits and nonprofit boards at that time that became eerily prophetic.

Eulah Laucks knew the nonprofit world well. She and her husband started the Laucks Foundation-which is still managed by her daughter and son-in-law-that not only provided funding to social and ecological efforts, but also published a newsletter that featured the ideas and writing of some of the greatest thinkers and visionaries of the time. She worked with a number of organizations both as a board member and as an advisor and supporter: UCSB, SBCC, the Land Institute, the Community Environmental Council, the Channel City Women's Forum, and the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions. Eulah's lifetime commitment to peace, social justice, and the environment, through her publications and through her personal philanthropy, was unyielding. She did this work quietly, drawing attention only to the cause, never to herself.

Eulah came from humble beginnings, raised in mining country in Nevada, a story that she tells in her 1996 memoir, Saucer Eyes. She eventually met and married Irving Laucks, who developed a waterproof soybean glue that made the production of water-resistant plywood possible. She received a PhD from UCSB at the age of 69 with a dissertation titled "The Meaning of Children in Contemporary America," and later worked with Walter Capps to fund several courses, including one on the Vietnam war which became so popular it was replicated by a number of universities across the country.

I have been fortunate to have had a stellar group of mentors in my life, many of whom have now passed on. I have seen that in our worship of youth our society no longer honors the wisdom and experience of our elders, no longer seeks them out or allows the torch to be respectfully and honorably passed down. As a young man, I considered myself somewhat immortal; now I realize the only immortality is in the ideas, inspiration, and good work we share and leave behind. In that sense, Eulah Laucks lives on, in the individuals and projects she so humbly and gracefully helped along.

Notes for Arthur Leon Kebler:

As told by Roger Kebler:

Arthur Kebler's first love was his wife and family, but his pride and joy was his team of horses. He had a team of purebred Belgium mares, sorrel with silver mane and tail. The dictionary says sorrel is a reddish brown which sounds like a dark color. These were a light color which made them a sort of golden color and silver is what most people would call a light blonde. They were attractive animals with the spirit to match. In the spring after a long winters rest and they were first put in harness and led out of the bam they would prance on their toes, would run at the least provocation. A neighbor, who was a blacksmith fashioned special bits patterned after a Mexican mule bit, but not as harsh so that Arthur would be able to keep them under control. He always "gentle broke" his horse's but that's another story.

At the beginning of the draft before World War II, Clyde Glumm was drafted into the army and at that time it was to be for "a year and a day". Clyde had a tractor he had bought a couple of years earlier and he came to see Arthur and wanted to trade his almost new tractor for this team of horses. Arthur made the trade. I thought this great I didn't much like horses and a tractor was a lot easier to manage than those horses. I now wonder if he didn't make the trade hoping I might be more interested in farming. He hated machines. Both his sons left the farm, Richard went into the trucking business and I went into the Navy. When Clyde was killed overseas, in Europe I think, Dad bought his horses back from the Glumm family

From his World War I draft registration card he is described as medium height and weight with brown eyes and brown hair, a farmer, with a wife and 3 children.

Notes for Mahlon (Driesbaugh) Dreisbach:

July 1, 1952 - Newspaper Article - Mahlon Dreisbach is retiring after more than 50 years with the Babcock Y Wilcox Company:

To follow Dreisbach's career is to trace the development of industrial progress since 1900. His first job in Barberton was in the front shop where he chipped and fitted boiler doors. He remained there until 1907 when he helped to install boilers on the battleship, USS Georgia, in Bath, ME. For the next several years he traveled about the Midwest installing boilers. Later in the Barberton works, Dreisbach set up the draw benches for shells during World War I. He helped to reconvert the drum and forge shops to boiler production at the close of the war. For the last several years he has been a foreman in the forge shop.

Dreisbach and his wife live at 2395 East Ave, a home they built in 1908. They have a son, Herman, living in Akron. Although Dreisbach's principal hobby might be considered his flower gardens, fishing occupies a close second place with him and his wife. Every summer for years they have traveled to Guelph, Ontario, Canada.

Handwritten on the back of this photo: On March 17, 1951 Mahlon Dreisbach, Assistant Foreman in the Forge Shop will celebrate 50 years of continuous service with B&W. Mr. Dreisbach, who started work before B&W purchased the Stirling Consolidated Boiler Co Barberton Works remembers when only two persons drove their cars to work and the Barberton shops had only two to three ton cranes in the whole shop. He has been attached to the Barberton operation for his entire period of service with the company. He worked for a short time in the Front Shop, than was sent to Machines Shop to learn the trade. One of his first interesting assignments took him to Bath, Maine where he was sent to help with the overhauling of the battleship Georgia. Later, he was on the road 4 years erecting Stirling boilers. During WWI, Mr. D was moved from Machine Shop to the Barberton Works Powerhouse. Later during the war, he made the first and last of the 9.2 shells manufactured by the company.

Notes for Henry George Reitz:

A History of Cuyahoga County and the City of Cleveland; By: William R. Coates. Publishers: The American Historical Society Chicago and New York, 1924:

HON. HENRY GEORGE REITZ, well known citizen and civil engineer of Cleveland, was born on the family homestead farm in Rockport Township, Cuyahoga County, on the 14th of January, 1883, the place of his birth being now within the city limits of Cleveland, in the district known as West Park. His grandparents on the paternal side were Peter G. and Barbara (Lehr) Reitz, who came from Germany to the United States on a sailing vessel in 1842, and who landed in the Port of New York City, whence they came to Cuyahoga County. The grandfather purchased land in Rockport Township, developed a productive farm and continued farming during the remainder of his life, both he and his wife having died on the old homestead.

On the farm above mentioned the birth of John G. Reitz, father of Henry G., occurred in the year 1855, and there he was reared to manhood, his educational advantages having been those of the schools of the locality and period. He continued his activities as a farmer in his native township until about the year 1912, when he retired from active farming. He served two terms as township trustee and two terms as a member of the village council of West Park. He and his wife were members of the Protestant Evangelical Church in their community, and he served forty years as its treasurer. He died in June, 1922. He married Mary S. Barthelman, who was born on Puritas Road, Rockport Township, in 1858, and she survives her husband. Of the children, Henry G., of this review, is the eldest; Frederick William owns and operates a greenhouse at North Olmsted, this county; Anna K. remains with her widowed mother; and the youngest of the number is John C., who is now associated with his eldest brother, Henry G., as a member of the Henry G. Reitz Engineering Company.

John C. Reitz was graduated from the Case School of Applied Sciences, as a member of the class of 1913, with the degree of Civil Engineer. He served with the United States military forces on the Mexican border, and in the World war he was for ten months in service with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, he having received commission as captain. He was for some time engineer for the City of West Park.

Henry G. Reitz was born in the same house as was his father and was reared on the old home farm. He was a member of the first class to be graduated in the West Park High School, in 1901. In 1906 he received from Case School of Applied Sciences the degree of Bachelor of Science, and in 1913 that institution conferred upon him also the degree of Civil Engineer. The first engineering service given by Mr. Reitz was with the engineering department of the City of Cleveland, with which he continued his connection twelve years. In 1917 he became village engineer of West Park, and in 1919 he was elected mayor of that village, which obtained a city charter in 1921, and, of which he became the first mayor under the charter. He was the incumbent of this office at the time when West Park became a part of the City of Cleveland, and thus he has the distinction of having been the first and the last mayor of the little City of West Park.

Mr. Reitz was one of the organizers and is secretary and treasurer of the Riverside Greenhouse Company; he was one of the organizers and is a director of the Cleveland Motor Car Sales Company; he is treasurer of the Thrift Savings & Loan Company, in the organization of which he assisted; and was one of the organizers of the United Greenhouse Company, and treasurer of the company.

Mr. Reitz is a member of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, the Cleveland Chamber of Industry, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Association of Engineers, the Cleveland Engineering Society, the Cleveland Yacht Club, the Lakewood Country Club, the Western Reserve Club, the League of Republican Clubs, and the Protestant Emmanuel Evangelical Church. He is a member of North Star Lodge No. 638, Free and Accepted Masons; West Park Chapter No. 214, Royal Arch Masons (of which he was high priest in 1920); Forest City Council No. 111, Royal and Select Masters; Forest City Commandery No. 40, Knights Templar; Lake Erie Consistory, Scottish Rite (thirty second degree); Al Koran Temple, Mystic Shrine; Al Sirat Grotto; the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, and the Order of Rameses.

On June 7, 1911, Mr. Reitz married Miss Clara Herthneck, daughter of John and Christina (Baumgardner) Herthneck, of Brooklyn Township, Cuyahoga County, and to them two daughters have been born, Edna Jayne and Jeanne Clare.

Notes for Ralph Friedrich Herthneck:

Ralph F. Herthneck, one of the best known and most highly esteemed farmers of Liverpool Township, was suddenly called by death on Tuesday morning November 4, 1921. He had been in Cleveland all day Monday and had spent Monday evening at Brunswick, returning home in apparently his usual good health. He was, however, attacked with heart trouble toward morning and lived but a short time. He was three days over 31 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children, the youngest of whom is but two weeks old.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at the home and interment made in Hardscrabble Cemetery. Mr. Herthneck was township clerk and a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket without any opposition on the Republican.

Tuesday morning Nov. 1, 1921 about 6 o'clock, Ralph Herthneck, prominent citizen and farmer of Liverpool Township, died suddenly at his home two and one-half miles west of Brunswick center, from heart disease. Mr. Herthneck was apparently in good health up to the moment of his death. The previous day he took a load of potatoes to Cleveland, and transacted business at Brunswick the, same night, there being no indication of illness or indisposition at. that time.

The deceased was 31 years old and is survived by a widow and three children, one only two weeks old; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herthneck, also of Liverpool Township, a sister, Mrs. George Thompson of Atlanta, Georgia, and a brother residing in Cleveland. Mr. Herthneck was township clerk and local registrar of vital statistics at the time of his death.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the home, and interment made in Hardscrabble cemetery.

Notes for Wilhelmina Wild:

Next Saturday, Oct. 17, 1970, will be the 83rd birthday of Mrs. Minnie Guenther, formerly of this area, now living at a Hamburg convalescent home. The youngster's grandmother stands at far left, Mrs. Skip Lewis. The great-grandmother, Mrs. Otto Matt, is next. And all four flank the bedside of a very proud Mrs. Guenther, Mrs. Luella Rhoades, of Saline, is also a daughter of the birthday girl.

Mrs. Minnie Guenther, age 85, of 541 Mooreville Rd., Milan, passed away August 26, 1973 at Cleague Rest Home in Hamburg, Michigan. Notes for Gottlieb Heinrich Wild:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

Gottlieb H. Wild, who is connected with the business interests of Ann Arbor as a tailor, was born in Leinfelden County, Stuttgart, Germany, in 1865, and represents one of the old families of that country, the ancestral history, as far as is known, being interwoven with the records of Germany. His father, John George Wild, was born in Germany, and came to America in 1892, since which time he has resided in Ann Arbor, and is now employed in his son's tailoring establishment. He married Miss Wilhelmina Reick, also a native of the fatherland; and her death occurred in Ann Arbor, when she was fifty-four years of age. In their family were seven children, four sons and three daughters, namely: David and Gottlieb H., who are partners in the tailoring business here; Michael G., who is in the employ of his brothers; William, who is living in this city; Caroline; Fredericka; and Wilhelmina.

While in his native country Gottlieb H. Wild learned the tailor's trade with his father, serving a regular four years' apprenticeship after leaving school. He came to America when but seventeen years of age, and made his way to Ann Arbor, having relatives in this city, who had come to the new world in 1835.

Here Mr. Wild entered the employment of James Stafford, and later went to Toledo, Ohio, where he followed his trade as a journeyman until 1887. In that year he embarked in business on his own account in Toledo, but after a year returned to Ann Arbor, and, believing that a profitable field of labor was open in the tailoring trade, he established his present business in January, 1888, locating on East Washington street, between Main street and Fourth avenue. There he remained until 1904, when he removed to 311 South State street, where he is now located, occupying a new building, which he erected for that purpose. His business venture here has been attended with success, and he now has an excellent patronage drawn from the best class of citizens here. This is owing to his excellent work, his trade continually increasing, for the service he renders his customers is entirely satisfactory. In 1890 he admitted his brother David to a partnership, the latter having previously learned the business, and they are now associated under the firm style of G. H. Wild & Company.

Mr. Wild of this review was married in Ann Arbor in 1891 to Miss Martha Wurster, whose birth occurred in Dexter, Michigan, her father being Michael Wurster of that town. They have three children, all of whom were born in Ann Arbor, Erwin C., George A. and Helen H. In his political views Mr. Wild is a republican, and belongs to the Masonic fraternity and the Elks lodge. He possesses many of the sterling characteristics of the German race, including the substantial qualities of an honorable manhood, which contribute to the happiness as well as the success of life.

Marriage Notes for Edward Alber and Lydia Klein:

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alber, 101E. McKay St., Milan, will be observed, Saturday evening, Dec. 28 1957, with a reception from 6 to 9 o'clock in the basement of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church for the immediate family and near neighbors. Members of that church, they were married on that date in 1907 at the parsonage by the late Rev. Carl Lederer.

The bride's sister, Emma, later Mrs. Emma Smith, recently deceased, was maid of honor, and the best man, was the groom's brother, Herman Alber, Saline, who will be present at the golden anniversary. Also attending the reception will be Mrs. Alber's sister, Mrs. Minnie Bock, Ann Arbor, and Miss Lucille Myers, Detroit, who lived in the Alber home and, attended school in Saline. Besides his brother, Herman, present will be Mr. Alber's sisters, Mrs. William Kuebler, Bridgewater, and Mrs. Helen Finkbeiner, Ann Arbor, and their nieces, and nephews. Mrs. Alber is the daughter of late John Adam Klein, who owned and operated the historic Schuyler Mill for many years. She was born in the large house across the street from the mill on the present W. Michigan. Ave. Mr. Alber's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michael Albert, Who lived near Bridgewater on the present Austin Rd.

Mr. Alber had learned the miller's trade at the York Mill when S. M. Bixby owned and operated it, and after their marriage; the couple went to Eureka, Kansas, where he worked in a mill. Ten for a short time they lived in Encio, New Mexico, and Davenport, Iowa. They returned to Saline in 1911 when brothers Edward and, Herman purchased the York Mill, south of town. After a, few years Herman sold his interest to Jacob Theurer, and in 1930 Ed, as he was familiarly called became sole owner and proprietor until 1944, when he sold the mill and retired. Mr. Alber could not remain inactive, so has been custodian at the Citizens Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Alber lived in the big house, near the mill and closer to the road, with their only child, Louise Clarine, who was a traffic fatality in 1932 at the age of 12, when playing with schoolmates on N. Ann Arbor St. Mr. Alber was expert miller and products bearing the York Mills label were widely known and sold.

That section was known for its beautiful scenery. The Alber property was well kept, the mill race overhung with trees and the pond in winter was the favorite skating place. For many years the road was narrow, home drawn buggies and wagons could barely pass each other, and the hill on the south was much steeper. The pond side of the road was lined with huge willow trees, between which a view of the pond could be seen as one drove past. This was changed when the road became county maintained and was widened. The mill, which was a large three story building, was a landmark for many years and was razed only a few years ago. The property is known as the . . .

Notes for Charles Field Harper:

By Darrell Beck - Ramona Home Journal

Some of my earliest recollections were of my maternal grandparents, Charles and Janneva Harper, when they lived at "the ranch" in the hills east of Ramona. This was always the first place I wanted to be and they were always the first people I wanted to be near. There was something special about the ranch that drew me there, just as there was something special about my grandparents. Perhaps it was the lonely road winding its way through the sage and chaparral, or the welcome shade of the white oaks surrounding the board-and-batten house, or the fragrance of oak wood smoke that drifted about — the anticipation of staying with my grandparents for several days.

I liked the big shaggy dog and granddad's mules, playing in the rock piles, swinging in the tree swing, looking at old photos through the stereoscope, playing with the fox pelt, hiking into the canyon to explore the spring, hunting cottontails, and playing cowboys and Indians with my cousins and kin. It was the profound sense of freedom and adventure that was the magnet that drew me there, and it was my grandmother's enthusiastic interest in those curious rocks she found in the hills around the ranch that captured the avid attention of this 5-year-old boy who joined her to search for gems and minerals.

But all too soon times were changing. My grandfather, being of advancing age, could no longer care for those hundreds of acres of land, nor could he keep up the miles of dirt road that washed out with each heavy rain. So the ranch was sold and my special place would be no more.

My grandparents moved back into town, but this didn't dampen my grandmother's enthusiasm for rocks. In the following years, my grandmother, mother, I and others made countless trips searching out gems and minerals in the backcountry and deserts.

Time has erased my recollection of exactly how many days were spent exploring the brushy hillsides and canyons in the outback seeking great new treasure. Nor is there a tally of the numerous trips to Mesa Grande to screen the tailings for rare gems overlooked by the miners. But there will always be the vivid memory calling up the good times that we shared during each of those adventures. Once we accompanied Julian prospector John Collins who broke a trail into Lost Valley where we discovered a deposit of fine tourmaline pencils eroding from a surface pocket. Led by gemologist Bob Dye to a washed-out road from Truckhaven on old Route 99, we followed a foot trail for many miles across the Borrego Badlands, searching out the unusual optical calcite deposits that John Hilton had mined for the government at Calcite Camp during World War II.

We spent a week camped out in the high desert of Tehachapi while looking for Horse Canyon agate near Cache Peak with Herb Walters and another prospector. There we found beautiful moss, plume and banded agate that was excavated from underground seams. We also explored an ancient Indian cave that contained prehistoric rock drawings, and found many Indian camps, trails and artifacts.

On another occasion, hard rock miner Herb Hill from Mesa Grande guided the Beck, Alford and Harper families across the maze of false trails created by General George Patton's vehicles on the desert pavement as we searched for curious geodes that were clustered like turtle eggs in the volcanic ash of the Black Hills. Those geodes when cut open were often hollow inside — a magnificent marvel of nature. Some were false geodes and only filled with mud, while some were solid agate called thunder eggs. But many contained an inner-world of beautiful crystals of calcite, amethyst, velvet cinnabar and unusual crystallized minerals.

One special adventure came about after my grandmother had read a story in Desert Magazine about a new geode find somewhere north of the Chocolate Mountains and got the urge to go and see what she could find there. Because she didn't drive and could not go out alone, she enlisted her friend Martha King to accompany her, using Martha's car. They wanted me to go along to drive the car as I had just turned 16 and had a driver's license.

Early one morning we loaded Martha's old Plymouth coupe with camping gear, mining equipment and enough provisions and water for a week and struck out for that remote desert location. At that time, the desert was still very desolate country where services and roads were uncertain. But any anxiety from those elderly lady rock hounds was not noticeable and they seemed to be overcome by the sheer joy of adventure and the anticipation of a marvelous discovery of desert treasure.

I recall crossing the desert to a place called Niland where a large military camp had just been abandoned. From there we bounced over a sandy trail at the foot of a steep canyon in the central Chocolate Mountain range, which is now a restricted live gunnery area for the military. We found Beal Well and beyond by stopping on several occasions to repair the road, eventually arriving at what we believed to be our destination where we set up camp. While we never did find the special geodes, we did spend several days exploring the region for other gem materials, and I know my grandmother brought home a trunk-load of rocks.

On other occasions we roamed dim trails through a giant saguaro forest in quest of the perfect quartz crystals and unusual limonite cubes in the Arizona hills where we were joined by kit fox and kangaroo rats (but not at the same time) for dinner at camp. It was here and there that we camped together in the remote and primitive locations, exercising our free will to explore this vast land long before those public lands were closed to such types of activity, and before they were turned into modern, regulated campgrounds occupied by a winter invasion of snowbirds from the north.

My grandmother, then in her mid-60s, could still hike like a trouper. She welcomed the outback's desolation, loneliness and unknown with a rare passion. To her, the dark of night always brought the dawn, and those fierce wild animals were just a friendly shadow in one's imagination. She was not troubled by inconvenience or discomfort. She would throw her bedroll on the ground, eat out of a tin can and never complain. She could walk for miles with sweat pouring as she shouldered a huge bag of her precious rocks.

Each time the world of mineralogy made a new discovery, she would create a new adventure, rummaging through every rock in her rock garden to find an overlooked treasure. She made jewelry, bartered and sold rocks, corresponded with rock collectors all over the world and sorted stones for pennies, all in an effort to supplement my grandfather's meager Spanish American War veteran's pension.

Born Janneva Ella Sutton in 1889, daughter of merchant Moses E. Sutton in Nilesville, Iowa, she was married in 1907 in Nebraska to Charles Field Harper, son of John Harper of Medapolis, Iowa. Their children were Virginia "Jean" (Hodgson), Elizabeth "Bessie" (Beck), Warren Harper, Edna (Alford) and Janneva "Nemie" (Matthew).

My grandmother was a teacher and a friend. She was an exemplary companion. But most of all, she was a pioneer lady of highest morals. She was this and more, right up to the night death visited and took her away.

Notes for George Propstra:

Burgerville (Vancouver)

Second-generation Vancouver restaurateur George Propstra, the son of a Dutch immigrant, opened the first Burgerville USA on March 10, 1961. By 2008, the Vancouver-based fast-food chain had grown to 39 stores, from Albany, Oregon, to Centralia, Washington, and east to The Dalles, Oregon, with visions of moving into the Seattle market by 2011. In a commercial sense, the opening of the first Burgerville, on Vancouver's McLoughlin Heights underscored the line in President John F. Kennedy's inauguration speech seven weeks earlier that "the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans." The new eatery, with a simple, easy-on-the-wallet menu and little waiting time, was immediately popular with teenagers and signaled that Baby Boomers would be a substantial customer base for the fast-food industry.

That original Burgerville, where customers ordered from an outside window and all food was "to go," offered no-frills burgers for 19 cents and its "Colossal Burger" for 39 cents. It was replaced on an adjacent lot in 1975 with a larger store offering inside seating and a drive-up window. Today, the oldest, continuously operated store in the chain is the second Burgerville, which opened in 1962 across the street from Vancouver's present-day City Hall. It is today (2008) the only Burgerville without inside seating. Just three blocks from Interstate 5, its clientele ranges from attorneys and city workers to freeway travelers, kids on bikes, and panhandlers who have scored donations from motorists waiting for a green light at the bottom of the I-5 off-ramp.

Taking on the Giants

Burgerville has survived and thrived against national giants such as Burger King and McDonald's by going upscale, with Northwest ingredients such as Tillamook cheese, only Northwest natural beef (no hormones, no antibiotics), and halibut fish and chips. Seasonal specialties include Walla Walla Sweet onion rings, strawberry shortcake, and raspberry and blackberry sundaes and shakes made with real ice cream.

As the Burgerville chain expanded, with many outlets in Portland and its suburbs, George Propstra became something of a burger cult figure for his dry-humor television ads. In one, the gravel-voiced Propstra, who was in his late 60s, went to a truck stop at Biggs Junction, Oregon, "to poke fun at competitors' frozen beef patties ostensibly trucked into the Northwest. He banged a frozen patty against the back of a semitrailer and said something like, 'If it's not Burgerville, you don't know where that meat has been'" (The Columbian editorial).

Propstra retired in 1992 and died in 2004. He was succeeded by his son-in-law, Tom Mears. More than 95 percent of the stock is in Mears-family hands.

Jack Graves, who has been with the company for nearly 30 years and carries the title, "chief cultural officer," says one of the major pivot points in Burgerville's growth came in the early 1990s. Competition for the fast-food dollar was on the rise, with Jack In the Box, Carl's Jr. and taco places joining the fray along with Burger King, Wendy's, and McDonald's. In addition to this expanding array of restaurant choices, customers were the beneficiaries of hamburger price wars among the national chains. In some Burgerville stores, Graves says, year-over-year customer counts not only couldn't keep pace with earlier increases but actually slipped in raw numbers (Gregg Herrington interview with Graves).

"We couldn't compete on price with the national chains and their economies of scale," Graves says. So, "We looked at a shift in how we do business. We realized we had to play to our strength and play up the local and seasonal ingredients. Our menu shifted almost overnight, with a focus on bigger burgers, Tillamook cheese, and Northwest berries in our shakes" (Herrington interview with Graves).

Retro-Remodel

With Tom Mears' ascension to the presidency in 1992, Burgerville's transition included not only an upgrading of the menu and ingredients but also a shift in interior design to a "retro look." Reminiscent of the 1950s, the stores included jukeboxes with songs going back to the early rock 'n' roll era. The retrofitting cost the company $8 million by 2000 when all remodels were completed. Together, says Graves, the changes "turned the company around" (Herrington interview with Graves).

Although the company has not expanded its geographic footprint in years, that could change soon. "The Seattle area is a natural," Graves says. "We definitely have our sights on Seattle," with a goal of four or five outlets there by 2011 (Herrington interview with Graves).

Sustainability and Employee Benefits

In recent years, Burgerville has emphasized sustainable practices. It buys wind-power credits equal to all of the energy it uses in its stores, sells its waste grease for conversion to bio-diesel fuel, and sells its much of its food waste for composting. In 2002, Burgerville began purchasing all of its beef through a single provider, Oregon-based Country Natural Beef, which is certified by Food Alliance, a nonprofit organization that "closely monitors its various suppliers to ensure no hormones or antibiotics are used and that it tracks the beef through the entire process."

Burgerville's mission statement is, "Serve with love." That spirit was captured by Arlo Kilpatrick, who retired from the company in 1996 after 34 years and was "as responsible for Burgerville's success as I am," George Propstra said at the time. Kilpatrick said then, "This business is almost more about people and involvement in the community than it is about making a buck" (Oppegaard, The Columbian).

Graves says the national average turnover rate for hourly workers in the fast-food industry is 150 percent per year and Burgerville's was 128 percent as recently as 2005. That's when the company offered hourly employees who work at least 20 hours a week and had at least six months on the job a medical-insurance package for $15 a month, with no deductible. In 2006, that annual turnover rate fell to 54 percent. "The value is clearly there," Graves says. "We have happier workers and they give better service," including hotter food and cleaner restaurants. "The plan paid for itself," he says. "Our guest counts have improved" (Herrington interview with Graves).

The Holland

Burgerville's parent company is The Holland Inc., a name that honors the native country of George Propstra's father, Jacob. He founded the Holland Creamery in Vancouver in 1922 on Main Street, three blocks north of the Columbia River. In 1927, he moved his growing business in milk, butter, eggs, and ice cream 15 blocks north to larger quarters. Holland ice cream, in distinctive cartons with images of windmills, was distributed through local grocery stores well into the 1950s. But back in the early 1930s Jacob Propstra had begun selling sandwiches at the creamery and in 1935, his son George left college to take over -- and expand -- that side of the business.

The creamery eventually closed, but The Holland restaurant became a Vancouver institution -- a reliable, clean, well-staffed, moderately priced full-service restaurant. It attracted a cross-section of loyal patrons for more than six decades: contractors, business and civic leaders at breakfast; downtown office workers and retirees at noon, and families and couples at dinner. There was a nighttime crowd, too. After sports events, concerts or drama productions at either of the two close-in high schools, (Hudson's Bay and the old Fort Vancouver) and after movies at downtown theaters there was a "rush" at the Holland for pie and ice cream.

But Vancouver demographics changed and the county's economic center shifted to the suburbs. The Holland cut back its evening hours, then began closing at mid-afternoon and finally, in July 2001, closed for good. George Propstra, retired by then, had begun devoting his energy and money to the community as a whole. He gave generously to all manner of civic and educational projects. A plaza in Esther Short

Park in downtown Vancouver, the oldest public square in Washington State, is named for George Propstra.

George Propstra House - Built about 1923
220 W. 36th Street; Vancouver, Washington
Listed on Clark County Heritage Register in 2009

The Propstra House, located on the corner of Columbia and West 36th Street in the Lincoln neighborhood is a classic example of domestic architecture during the 1920s. The Tudor Eclectic style was very popular during this time period and the house's French Eclectic influenced roof line gives it a unique appearance. The front façade with multiple sets of ribbon windows, an asymmetrical front gable and low elliptical arch over the recessed entry combine to create a unique look.

The original owner of the house, Jacob "Jack" Propstra began a successful creamery and restaurant business in Vancouver in 1922. The creamery business evolved into the Holland Restaurant, which in turn spawned the Burgerville USA restaurants. The first Burgerville Restaurant was located in the Heights neighborhood on Mill Plain and was quickly followed by locations at 14th and C Streets and 78th Street in Hazel Dell.

George Propstra, son of Jack Propstra and Burgerville USA founder, was a noted philanthropist. He made significant donations to facilities such as Propstra Square in Esther Short Park, Propstra Aquatic Center and Hudson's Bay High School baseball stadium. Other organizations that received support include the "I have a Dream" program and the Clark County Skills Center. In 1991 George Propstra was granted the Community Foundation's First Citizen Award.

George Propstra, who made a small fortune as the founder of the Burgerville chain and spent the final 15 years of his life giving millions back to the community, died early Sunday. He was 90. Propstra died at Southwest Washington Medical Center shortly before 1 a.m. He was admitted to the hospital Friday with pneumonia. Carolyn Propstra said her husband had battled an assortment of medical problems for years. "His heart, which was a really big heart, just wouldn't carry him another foot forward," she said.

For decades, Propstra was Clark County's most recognizable restaurateur as operator of The Holland in downtown Vancouver and the Burgerville chain. Propstra, with his distinctive gravelly voice, emerged as Vancouver's leading philanthropist since retiring from business in 1992. "Without the community, we would be zilch, without the dollars they have spent with me or I've coaxed them to spend," Propstra said in a 2001 interview at his home overlooking the Columbia River.

George and Carolyn Propstra donated more than $13 million to community causes, both big and small, through the Community Foundation for Southwest Washington. After Woodland was hammered by floodwaters in February 1996, the Propstras immediately stepped forward with a $12,000 contribution for flood relief. His largest contributions were $5 million for the Jim Parsley Center, $3.2 million for the community square and bell tower in Esther Short Park, $2.2 million for the Propstra Aquatics Center at McLoughlin Middle School and $1.1 million for Propstra Stadium at Hudson's Bay High School. "He came to the conclusion he couldn't take it with him," said Ed Firstenburg, founder of First Independent Bank. "I think he phrased it a little more delicately, that he wanted to do something while he was still alive."

Propstra's family operated The Holland since before the Great Depression. After decades selling Holland pies and Colossal burgers, Propstra wanted to put his money to work in the community. "It's fun to make money, but it's nice to use it," he said in 2001. "To just put it in and hoard it away, that's not what it's all about." Paul Christensen, a Vancouver businessman who founded the Hough Foundation to boost the neighborhood where he attended elementary school in the 1940s, said Propstra set an example. "It was because of him that I was motivated to turn myself to the needs of the community," said Christensen, who has spearheaded million-dollar charitable projects. "Tremendous, tremendous guy. I loved that man. Totally unselfish. You don't get citizens better than George for any community. I get a lump in my throat saying that." When Propstra committed himself to a project there was no hesitation or second-guessing. His $3.2 million contribution to a community square in Esther Short Park helped transform the former transient haven into the heart of a revitalized downtown. "First-class guy," said Ed Lynch, a Vancouver businessman who worked with Propstra on Esther Short Park. "And when he did something, he did it right."

Propstra remained a modest man. When he learned of plans to rename downtown's Sixth Street "Propstra Boulevard" in his honor, he called Mayor Royce Pollard and quashed the plan. Propstra worried about the costs of companies having to print up new business cards and stationery and government having to install new street signs. "It really wasn't my cup of tea," he explained later. "My name ain't Martin Luther King."

Propstra dealt with tragedy in his personal life. Kenny, one of three children Propstra had with his first wife, Margaret, died of cancer at age 20. Margaret, whom Propstra married in 1938, died in 1990.

Propstra, a Chicago native, came to Clark County as a small child. His father, a Dutch immigrant, opened several creameries. Propstra, one of three boys in the family, took over his father's butter and ice cream business in 1940. During the five decades in which he built a restaurant empire, Propstra opened and operated 32 Burgerville and three Holland restaurants in Southwest Washington and Oregon. He had a reputation as a no-nonsense businessman with an eye for details who worked long hours and emphasized customer service. He could be a demanding boss, but he also would bend over backward to help his workers.

"He was a great guy," said Minnie Proctor, who met Propstra as a 15-year-old waitress at The Holland in 1945. "Got right in there and worked with the rest." "He was the first guy there in the morning and the last guy out in the evening," Lynch said. "He really tended to business." Carolyn Propstra, who ran The Holland's business office for 25 years and married Propstra in 1992, said her husband's reputation as a hard-nosed businessman wasn't deserved. "In business, people used to say he was kind of a bear," she said. "I always would say those were the people who weren't doing their jobs." Propstra seemed to have an innate sense of what his customers wanted. Christensen said he once asked Propstra why he didn't serve more healthful foods, such as fish and vegetables, at his restaurants. "He said, 'Paul, you will never separate the American eater from his fat,'" Christensen said.

At age 50, Propstra took up flying, both planes and later helicopters. Freeman Keller, a close friend of Propstra for than a half-century, said he and Propstra frequently would fly somewhere for lunch or to inspect a Burgerville under construction. "He furnished the plane and the gas, and I bought the lunch," Keller said. "With his income and mine, that was the way it should be, always 50-50."

Propstra and Keller were both members of "The Liars Club," a group of longtime Vancouver businessmen who meet at Chronis' Restaurant & Lounge to swap stories and enjoy each other's company. During the past year, Propstra purchased Vancouver Food Center, at 12th and Main streets, with the intention of building a bakery there. Firstenburg said Propstra's friends gave him a hard time about his plans. "He finally said, 'Well, I just have to have something to do. I just can't sit around and do nothing,'" Firstenburg said. Carolyn Propstra concurred.

"Even when he couldn't walk, he always had to be going," she said. "It was amazing. I would always say if his legs could go as fast as his mind was going, we probably would all be in trouble." In recent years, Propstra battled a series of strokes and other medical problems that robbed his body of some of its vigor, but his mind remained sharp and his sense of humor robust. On warm summer days, he could be seen using a scooter to maneuver through Esther Short Park. Propstra gave millions to build the park's Salmon Run Bell Tower and fountain.

Nancy Hales, executive director of the Community Foundation for Southwest Washington, said Propstra celebrated his 90th birthday in the park last June and frequently went to the Vancouver Farmers Market or other events in or near the park. "And sure enough, if the flowers weren't blooming to his satisfaction, I would hear about it on Monday," she said. Propstra always was direct and focused during their numerous conversations about his charitable work, but he was never harsh, Hales said. "And he would always end by, 'OK, what do you need to make this happen?'" she said. "He never stopped looking for things to do, he never stopped giving to the community," she said. "Just two weeks ago, he was complaining there was too much white powder on the bell tower and I better get right on that. And I'm going to." Hales' voice cracked with emotion as she talked about the man who had been one of her organization's biggest contributors, as well as a personal friend.

"I love him so much," she said. "My dad's name is George, too. I remember when he and my dad first met. He said, 'I want you to know that I'm Nancy's West Coast dad.'"

Notes for Leigh Marie Roden:

Cameron, Missouri - Memorial services for Lt. Leigh Roden will be held in the Christian Church next Sunday afternoon, December 9, 1945 at 2:30 o'clock. Lt. Roden, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roden, of this city, had been stationed in Manila as an army nurse with the 316th General Hospital Unit at the time of her death, September 30, 1945.

Funeral services were held in Manila on October 1 and Lt. Roden was given a full military service. But it is "fitting that a memorial service be held in the community and church where she had spent the most of her life. The services will be in charge of the Rev. T. Earl Starke, pastor of the church. Several very fine musical numbers are being planned. A quartet composed of J. Charles Groom, Dorothea Peterson, Mrs. Florence Wrex and T. Earl Starke, will sing "An Evening Prayer", one of the songs used so much by the Conference Club of the Cameron Church when Lt. Roden was a member. Miss Peterson and Mrs. WTex, members of the old Conference Club quartet, will also sing as a duet, the number, "Living For Jesus" which was Lt. Roden's favorite song and which was also a favorite of the conference group. Miss Delia Mae Baker, another members of the old Conference will sing, "Crossing The Bar."

During the service the pastor will also dedicate the gold star on the service flag and the memorial gift. The gift, a beautiful illuminated cross, is presented by members of the 316th General Hospital Unit in Manila and by the family. Following it the dedication of the cross a male quartet composed of J. Charles Groom, Dean Coon, Wm. Short and T. Earl Starke, will render the number, "In The Cross Of Christ I Glory." Elmer Ellis Post No. 33, American Legion, will in behalf of the United States government present to the family the flag that was used on the casket at the funeral services in Manila. Bobbie Lee Bell will blow taps. Rev. Andrew McAllen, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will lead in prayer. Miss Doris Witt will preside at the organ.

Marriage Notes for Paul Kettenring and Lillian Willys:

The Kettenrings were married Aug. 26, 1940, at Tort Benton and the wife on Dec. 28, 1943, requested a divorce on grounds of mental cruelty. Sept. 28, 1944, Holt granted Mrs. Kettenring a divorce and custody of the children for 10 months each year. Kettenring recently petitioned for modification of the decree, asserting his former wife turned the children over to him in June. 1945, and then left the state, going to Kansas City, Missouri, to live. Since that time, it was alleged, she has not returned to the state to visit the children or to assume responsibility of their care and custody. Kettenring added that he has remarried and it would be for the children's best interests if he has permanent custody.

Great Falls - Declaring that her husband on Nov. 29, 1943 struck her on the chest with the butt end of a gun, Lillian W. Kettenring Tuesday filed suit in district court for a divorce from P. Donald Kettenring. Mr. and Mrs. Kettenring were married Aug. 26, 1940, at Fort Benton, and they have two small children. The wife alleges cruelty. Nov. 29, she says, in addition to being struck with the gun, her husband struck her on the head with his fist, knocking her down and cracking her ribs against a cedar chest.

Great Falls, April 15, 1947 - Complete custody of a daughter about 6 and a son about 5 was awarded P. Donald Kettenring, defendant to a divorce action filed by Lillian M. Kettenring in 1943. The divorce decree was modified by District Judge C F. Holt.

She was stricken at her home after several years of poor health. The funeral will be Friday at St. Luke the Evangelist Church. Burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery will follow. Mrs. Kettenring was born Anna Corr, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Corr. Except for a few years in St. Louis Park, Minnesota, she had spent all her life here. 1723. Dr. Harlan Stabler⁸ Heim (Heinrich Wilhelm⁷, Maria⁶ Stabler, Johann Ulrich⁵ Staebler, Anna Katharina⁴ Heimerdinger, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 17 Sep 1897 in Dawson, Richardson Co, Nebraska, and died 09 Mar 1974 in Humboldt, Richardson Co, Nebraska. He married Golda E. Mountain 1927. She was born 31 Dec 1897, and died 1971 in Richardson Co, Nebraska.

Notes for Dr. Harlan Stabler Heim:

Dr. Harlan S. Heim was a dedicated physician and served the Humboldt, Nebraska community for over 40 years. He was an ordained minister of the United Methodist Church, and substituted for absent or vacationing pastors. He performed many marriages, conducted funerals and baptisms. His speaking ability made him a frequent choice for banquets, conferences, and commencement exercises.

He married Golda Mountain in 1927 and she was his companion for life. Golda was a housewife, mother of their three children, and during the years that they owned and operated the Humboldt Hospitals, she bought the food and hired the help for the two hospitals and was her husband's secretary and chauffeur. She often remarked that, "her occupation was to keep Doc going." And this she did!

Dr. Heim attended the Dawson Public Schools, Westmar College in LeMars, Iowa, and while there was influenced by Dr. Neibel, then secretary of the Evangelical Association, to become a medical missionary in China. A close friend, Walter Ulmer, also from Dawson, served for many years in China and encouraged Dr. Heim to follow the same path.

Receiving his B.A. from Westmar in 1920, Dr. Heim attended Cornell Medical School in New York City, which at that time was one of the few medical schools in the United States offering courses in Oriental medicine. Finishing medical school in 1924 and with two years of internship in 1926, Dr. Heim was interviewed by the Rev. J.J. DeWall, head of a new mission of the Evangelical Association at Red Bird, Kentucky. Conditions in China being unsettled, Dr. Heim went to Red Bird until the way should open up to China. It never did.

The couple spent 6 ½ years in the Cumberland Mountains. While at Red Bird Mission, Dr. Heim established a 16-bed hospital, the first to serve the Cumberland Mountain area of southeast Kentucky. Golda was quoted as saying, "On our wedding trip we rode mule back along the creeks the only roads available on the last lap of our journey in route to our home at the mission. I had never ridden a mule!" While there were many great changes at Red Bird Mission through the years, Mrs. Heim often spoke of her vivid memories of life there when she taught in the mission school. Classes were held off and on according to the weather and the condition of the creek beds. The mission dormitory housed about 100 students.

Returning to Humboldt in August of 1933, Dr. Heim started his medical practice. In addition to serving the Humboldt Community, Dr. Heim served on the board of trustees of Westmar College from 1943 to 1971, was president of the board of trustees from 1960 to 1968, and later was named the life trustee of the college.

Two daughters were born while they were in Kentucky, Betty Jean was the first baby born in the new hospital, which the Heim's were instrumental in building. She spent most of her life as a medical technician at the Espanola Hospital in Espanola, New Mexico. She passed away in 1982 and is buried in the Heim Cemetery at Dawson, beside her parents. Donna Marie was born January 3, 1930 and married Lloyd Epley, a lawyer of Coralville, Iowa, where they still make their home. A son, Robert Harlan was born January 6, 1942 and passed away August 10, 1991. He held several degrees and taught in several schools, the last being the University of Iowa at Iowa City, Iowa.

Dr. Heim was instrumental in founding a hospital in Humboldt in 1939 and he and his associate, Dr. A.P. Stappenbeck, opened the Holman Maternity Hospital in 1949. Dr. Heim was active in founding the Humboldt Community Memorial Hospital, the Colonial Acres Nursing Home and the Humboldt Clinic. He also managed a small home for older people known as the "cottage."

Dr. Heim was born on September 17, 1897, a son of Henry W. and Regina Heim, on a farm north of Dawson. Dr. Heim grew up in the Dawson Bethel Church where he held his membership all of his life. Golda passed away in 1971 while on a trip to Red Bird Mission, and Dr. Heim passed away in 1974. Both are buried in the Heim Cemetery at Dawson, Nebraska.

Humboldt, March 12, 1974 - Funeral services for Dr. Harlan S. Heim, 76, longtime physician and civic leader here, were to be held Tuesday at the United Methodist Church in Humboldt. He died Saturday, March 9, 1974. A native of Dawson, Dr. Heim came to Humboldt in 1933 after serving as a full-service missionary in Appalachia for 7-1/2 years. An ordained minister in the old Evangelical Church, Dr. Heim for many years filled area pulpits on a substitute basis, averaging about a sermon a month. He served as director of the United Methodist Church choir here for 40 years. Dr. Heim was a World War I veteran and was active in American Legion work. He was also a leader in Rotary and Masonic circles. In May of 1973 Dr. Heim was honored by his community in two days of special tribute.

Surviving are his son, Robert of Iowa City, Iowa; daughters, Betty Jean Heim of Espanola, New Mexico, and Mrs. Lloyd (Donna) Epley of Coralville, Iowa; brother, John of Fremont; sisters, Martha Klima of Kansas City, Missouri, and Mrs. James. DeWeese of Humboldt; and three grandchildren.

Mabel E. Johnson of Vestal on September 18, 2008, just two weeks before her 97th birthday, Mabel Johnson, our beloved mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother, fondly known as "Grandma J", passed away peacefully with her family at her side. She was predeceased by two brothers, Joseph Shepherd and William Johnson; and one sister, Jane Johnson.

Mabel is survived by her daughter, Sandra Stabler; special grandsons, Kurt Weber and his wife, Julia, Jon and Karl Weber; several great-grandchildren, many great-great-grandchildren; and special friends, Fred Barrett and Theresa Howell. We all loved her dearly and will greatly miss our grand lady and her beautiful smile. Mabel worked at McCrorys in Johnson City for 33 years, loved her job and made many friends there. The family wishes to thank the Vestal Nursing Center, Whispering Pines, for the very loving and compassionate care given Mabel during her 10 month stay.

At Mabel's request, there will be no services. A private Graveside Memorial will be held at a later date.

Also that year he married Joyce Daniels, who died in August 2018. The couple moved to Lafayette where John began his teaching career with the Tippecanoe School Corporation. He taught vocational agriculture for 35 years, retiring from McCutcheon High School in 1985. He was a Future Farmers of America leader and served as beef superintendent at the Tippecanoe County Fair from 1948-1987. John continued to work on the family farm after retirement and he and Joyce stayed active in the Bethany Presbyterian Church. He also was a masterful gardener, every summer tending a big, bountiful vegetable garden.

In addition to his wife Joyce, John was preceded in death by his brother Marvin Schopmeyer of Brazil, Indiana. He is survived by daughter Rita of West Lafayette, son Bill of Newburgh, Indiana and grandchildren Sara, Daisy, Sam, Eleanor, and James.

She married Dr. Max Norman Hoffman 09 Jun 1948 in Indiana. He was born 01 Nov 1925 in Center Point, Clay Co, Indiana, and died 21 Apr 2020 in Huntsville, Madison Co, Alabama.

Notes for Dr. Max Norman Hoffman:

Max Norman Hoffman, MD, died Tuesday, April 21 at his retirement home in Huntsville, Alabama. He died of congestive heart failure with complications from pneumonia. He was 94. Max was born November 1, 1925 in Clay County, Indiana, to Leonard and Dixie Hoffman. He was the youngest of three sons. They grew up on the family farm 2 miles south of Cory, Indiana. Max graduated from Cory High School as valedictorian in 1943. When Max turned 18, his older brothers were serving in World War II. As the youngest son, he had an automatic farm deferment. In today's terms, he was an "essential worker" at home. But out of a sense of duty, and against his father's wishes, Max enlisted in the Navy. He served the last 2 years of the war in the South Pacific on the USS Skagit (AKA-105). He piloted a 50-foot Higgins landing craft, an accomplishment of which he was proud his entire life. The Skagit was the first US ship to enter Tokyo Bay after the Japanese surrender and was the fifth ship down from the USS Missouri when the formal surrender document was signed by the US and Japan on September 2, 1945.

When his military service ended in 1946, Max returned to Clay County. One day at a church ice cream social he met Helen Roeschlein. He asked Helen if he could take her home, and her father said yes. Max and Helen were married on June 10, 1948. Using the GI Bill, and with Helen working to support them, he graduated from Indiana Central College (now University of Indianapolis) in 1950 and Indiana University School of Medicine in 1954. He and Helen moved to Springfield, Ohio, where Max completed his internship at City Hospital. One year later in June 1955 Max moved his small family to Covington, Indiana, and began his life's work as a small-town doctor. His first office was above the Ben Franklin 5 & 10 cent store. In 1959 he built a small cement block and brick office at 416 Union Street next to the granary and down the street from the town jail. Doc Hoffman was a general practitioner. He did everything: delivered babies, performed surgeries, and made house calls - sometimes with the help of the town's snowplow - and saw thousands of patients in the little brick office on Union Street. Among his many professional affiliations, he was active in the Fountain-Warren County Medical Society and Board of Public Health, the Indiana State Medical Association and the American Medical Association. He was Chief of Staff at both Lakeview and St. Elizabeth Hospitals in nearby Danville, Illinois. Max was an avid traveler, fisherman, mushroom hunter, and gardener. He loved spending time with his family, playing golf with his friends, Covington High School sports, the Chicago White Sox, and any good outdoor project.

Max loved Covington and his contributions are too numerous to list. He was particularly committed to creating opportunities for Covington kids. He helped create the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation, the Trojan Athletic Complex and the Western Indiana Community Foundation. He and Helen established the Hoffman-Aesculapian Scholarship and Hoffman-Trojan Scholarship for graduates of Covington High School. Max served on the Fountain Trust Company Board of Directors for over 50 years. He and Helen were lifelong members of Bethel Lutheran Church in Danville. In 1985 Indiana Governor Evan Bayh named Max a Sagamore of the Wabash, an award reserved for Indiana residents who have rendered distinguished service to the state. Max retired from general practice in 1993 after 38 years. He and Helen stayed in Covington until 2013 when they left their home of 58 years and moved to Huntsville, Alabama, to live near their daughter and her family. Two years later when he turned 90, a Facebook post marking the occasion resulted in over 100 cards and 164 Facebook messages from former patients and friends. By then he had been retired for 22 years.

He was preceded in death by his parents and his brothers. Max is survived by his wife of 71 years and 316 days, Helen; his daughter Gail Hoffman Perna (Sam) and son Mark Hoffman; grandchildren Spencer Williams (Jennifer), Laura Williams Jossey and Hannah Hoffman; three great-grandchildren, Ella Jossey, Stark and Minette Lee Williams; sister-in-law Dorothy Hoffman, and 7 nieces.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, final arrangements were delayed for months. The funeral was held on July 11, 2020, at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Huntsville. Max will rest in peace in the church columbarium until it is safe for his family to take him home to Indiana. He will ultimately be laid to rest in Covington's Mount Hope Cemetery.

Following a port-of-call in Costa Rica, John settled in for an extended stay, and later met his beautiful wife of the last 20 years, Ana Lorena Gomez. They established homes in San Jose and Puntarenas, and enjoyed summers in the Roaring Fork Valley in Colorado.

John also had a deep compassion for animals, and over the years owned several beloved horses, dogs, cats, and a childhood pet crow, Blackie. 1904. Russell Fred⁸ Howe (Clara Louise⁷ Kebler, Louisa Catherine (Carrie or Eliza)⁶ Richards, Simon Friedrich (Richards)⁵ Reichardt, Anna Katharina⁴ Renz, Christina Barbara³ Curfess, Johann Jakob² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 13 Nov 1910 in Eagle Twp, Clinton Co, Michigan, and died 09 Dec 1976 in Lansing, Ingham Co, Michigan. He married Belva Hazel Robinson 24 Dec 1941 in St. Johns, Clinton Co, Michigan, daughter of Fred Robinson and E. ?. She was born 13 Oct 1915 in Clinton Co, Michigan, and died 23 May 2002 in Eagle Twp, Clinton Co, Michigan.

Notes for Russell Fred Howe:

In this period in history when easy mobility has scattered families over the entire country, there are some residents who have lived their whole lives within a short distance of where they were born, and near the homesteads of their ancestors.

When Russell Howe died in December of 1976, he had lived his entire life in Eagle Township. He was well-known throughout the area as the owner and operator of the Howe Turkey Farm. Russell had started raising a few turkeys while he was still at home with his parents, Lon and Clara Kebler Howe. After his marriage in 1941 to Belva Robinson, they continued raising turkeys. They also did general farming on their farm on State Road. Eventually, the turkey project grew to the point where they had their own dressing plant and freezer. They sold turkeys to stores and to retail customers for many miles around. At one time they marketed about twenty thousand turkeys.

Russell served for many years on the Board of Directors of the Michigan Turkey Growers Association and at one time was president of the organization. The Howes entered turkeys at the annual Turkey Festival, which was held in various localities throughout Michigan. They carried off many trophies during the 1940's and 1950's for the excellence of their product.

Many people were involved in the turkey production on the Howe Farm. In the early days Russell's father, Lon and his brother, Byron and Marvin, shared tools and labor on all four of the Howe farms. Byron and his wife, Leonore Simon Howe, owned and operated a farm on Howe Road. Byron also worked as a carpenter. Marvin and his wife, Mary Lapham Howe, had a dairy farm on Niles Road.

As the turkey business grew, it was necessary to enlist the help of many others. Vernon (Vern) and Mildred Robinson Bendt, a brother-in-law and sister of Belva, worked closely with the Howes during all of this time. Neal Kebler, Russell's cousin, worked with them for a time. Neighbors from all of the surrounding community came at holiday time to help dress turkeys.

The five Howe daughters grew up in the business; and as they became old enough to enter their own turkeys into competition they, too, won prizes, trophies, and scholarships with their turkey projects.

Russell was also known for his community involvement. He served as Eagle Township Supervisor and also held other township offices. He was active in Farm Bureau and was a 4-H leadurkey Farm. He was director of the rural Kebler School before it was annexed to the Grand Ledge District.

Two of the Howe daughters still live on the former Howe Turkey Farm. Lois and her husband, Roger Burghdoff, and their daughter Dana have purchased a large part of the parcel on the north side of State Road. They have built a home there and commute to Lansing, where Roger works at Oldsmobile and Lois is a nursing supervisor at Health Central.

Irene and her husband, Paul Herrera, and their daughter Lindsay live in the farm house and commute to Lansing where Irene works for the State Department of Education and Paul works for Hatzel and Buehler Electric. The Herrera's have purchased the farm on the south side of State Road except for a small lot where Belva lives side-by-side with Vern and Mildred Bendt. Vern commutes to his work at the Brown Corporation in Ionia.

The other Howe girls live farther away. Alice and her husband, Carl Kratochwill, and their children Erik and Hillarie live in Mason. Marguerite and her husband, Bert Levy, and their children Aaron and Shayna are in Louisville, Kentucky. Beverly and her husband, Kevin Anderson, and their daughter Lacey Marie live in Middlebury, Indiana.

Russell's father, Lon Howe, was one of the four children of Fred and Dana Howe. Pearl and Erwin Wild, longtime Bridgewater residents, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a special party given in their honor last Sunday Sept. 1986. The event, held at Travis Pointe Country Club and attended by more than 100 well-wishers, was hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rentschler and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wild, and grandchildren, Scott and Greg Rentschler, and Connie, Brian, Mary, Amy and Jean Wild. The festive affair, which included special remembrances by friends and family, was emceed by Robert Feldkamp and featured musical entertainment by Lawrence Wackenhut and David Dettling. Harold Wild, the groom's brother and best man at the wedding, delivered a toast at the celebration, which also was attended by wedding party members Esther Feldkamp, Della Sell, Barbara Behnke, and Doris Burmeister. Eleanor Linke, a musician at the wedding 50 years ago, was unable to attend Sunday's event due to illness. Pastor Dennis Falk presented the invocation at the event, which was capped off by the singing of "I Love You Truly," a poignant song also featured on the Wilds' wedding day. The newlyweds, who delayed their honeymoon a day to help "clean up" after the reception, then departed with $60 in hand for a week's honeymoon to Niagara Falls. Mrs. Wild was employed by Ypsilanti Regional Psychiatric Hospital for 12 years, while her husband previously owned a general service garage in Bridgewater before retiring from Ford Motor Co. April 25, 2002 - By Renee Lapham Collins Associate Editor In its "World Fact Book," the Central Intelligence Agency defines Cambodia as a "land of paddies and forests dominated by the Mekong River and Tonle Sap," with an estimated population of more than 12 million. The Southeast Asia country grabbed headlines in the 1960s and 1970s when U.S. involvement in Vietnam was at its peak, and in 1975 when more than a million people were killed by communist Khmer Rouge forces. After a 13-year war with its Vietnamese neighbors to the east, the United Nations intervened and helped Cambodians bring some sense of order to their chaotic government. Still, Cambodia is considered a third-world nation filled with poverty, disease, and a population with a life expectancy of less than 60 years. Many families, seeking a better life for their children, abandon them at orphanages, where they are sought for international adoption. Such an orphanage currently is the home of a 7-month-old girl that has been adopted by Diane and Richard Alber of York Township. The couple, already the parents of four grown children and grandparents as well, have been waiting since December to pick up the daughter they plan to call Malaya. "We received our approval September 12, and found out that the Embassy in Cambodia had received it," says Diane. "We thought, what a blessing, soon we'd get a referral. And on September 28, we did." But allegations of baby trafficking and reports of Cambodian women having their children stolen for sale internationally shook the INS, which already was reeling from the September 11 fallout, and delayed hundreds of foreign adoptions. "We should have had our decree and been able to go and pick her up since we had our approval long before December," says Diane. "But, things were at a standstill because of the Cambodian Embassy, and December 21, the INS called for a moratorium on U.S. families adopting children from Cambodia." The country is one of the most popular for prospective parents because adoptions reportedly are completed much more quickly than in other countries.

"Since the process isn't that long, we expected to have her soon," says Diane. The Albers are concerned for the health of their adopted daughter. In Cambodia, Diane explains, "once children are 8 years old, if they aren't adopted from the orphanages, they are turned out in the streets to try and make it on their own. "Many of the children in the orphanages are sick, malnourished, and need medical attention," she adds. Diane thought at first it was a case of the "empty nest" syndrome, but, once their four children were grown and on their own, "we had time to do other things besides raising children, but we felt like something was missing in our lives." She and Richard first considered adopting another child in 1998, but found that adopting a child from the U.S. was difficult. "We made many calls to many agencies to adopt, and finally I talked with a person that I knew had adopted a U.S. child," Diane recalls. "She told me that if she considered adoption again, she would pursue an international adoption. "Most of the children in the U.S. are bounced from foster home to foster home before they are placed into adoption. The wait was very long, and the cost overwhelming." Members of Fellowship Baptist Church, the Albers had seen a brochure tacked to the church's bulleting board about a meeting in which they could get more information on adopting a child from China. At that time, they decided the cost was "more than we could afford," but after investigating the possibilities of adopting a U.S. child, they turned again to the international scene. "We decided the Lord was leading us to reconsider China," says Diane. "We searched on the Internet and made many calls, and Finally found an agency." They attended a meeting, put in an application and continued with applying for the I-600-A orphan petition for International Adoption. The process is a long one, but it went smoothly for the Albers. "We didn't know where we would get the money to pursue this, but as time went on, the Lord started to provide income," Diane says. "My son hired me to work as a secretary for his carpet cleaning business, and we gave up our yearly vacation and a new car." As part of the adoption procedure, a social worker had to conduct a home study, and the Albers had to provide proof of income, marriage, birth certificates, and be fingerprinted and investigated by the FBI. "In July 1999, we received our approval to adopt, and our petition was sent to China in August," says Diane. "Then the wait began." Eight months later, the Albers received word that they would be able to adopt a little girl, and in May 2000, they traveled to China to pick up Shiyona, who now is 4. "She runs to every baby she sees," says Diane. "She was raised with a baby in China, and she misses her.

Richard decided that the Lord was again speaking to us to adopt another child, and we asked our social worker what she thought. "She said that if we did indeed adopt another child, we needed to choose a younger child since Shiyona is doing so well." ' Richard says he balked at adopting a child at first, because he felt they had raised their children, but soon changed his mind. Says Diane with a smile, "When we talked about adopting a second child, he was the one who wanted to do it and I was the one who was hesitating. Then, when we talked Richard woke me up one night and said that the Lord told him not to worry about his age. Richard felt it would be best for Shiyona to have a sister to grow up with." Since hearing that their decree has been held up, Diane and Richard have been "faxing, e-mailing, and calling our senators and congressmen. "Some of them are members of the adoption coalition," she says. "Senator Carl Levin is one of them. Senator Debbie Stabenow's office also has been involved in trying to help the families proceed to bring their children home to the U.S." Some families are receiving their decrees, including several who were on the waiting list behind the Albers. In particular, Diane points to actress Angelina Jolie, who with her husband, Billy Bob Thornton, picked up her adopted Cambodian child while on a location shoot for a new movie in Africa. Jolie starred in The Bone Collector and Lara Croft: Tomb Raider. According to an article published by the Associated Press, Cambodia is the ninth largest source of foreign babies adopted by Americans, with upward of 100 children each month being picked up by their new American parents. Diane, who continues to work with their son for Authentic Cleaning, was born and raised in Milan. Her father, Charles Woolcott, was a barber. Richard grew up on a farm in York Township—in fact, the Albers live on property that once belonged to Richard's parents. He graduated from Saline High School with a number of record-breaking performances in track, and now works for Russell Finch and Sons Trucking in Milan. Diane says that she and Richard have a friendly rivalry when the Big Reds and the Hornets face off in prep sports. Three of their children were in the Milan High band program, their youngest attended Saline Schools, and their granddaughters have been involved in Milan swimming. "We really have been blessed," she says. "We love each of our children and grand-children."

The Albers hope to go to Cambodia and bring their new daughter, 7-month-old Malaya, home. children dearly." The Albers have been in touch with a number of other families who are in the same boat—with children awaiting them in Cambodian orphanages. Already, some of them have marched on Washington, D.C. in hopes of expediting the process. In March, the INS announced that dozens of parents who had been waiting for their adopted children could see the paperwork finalized by April. Diane and Richard are hopeful that they will be among those who will finally get their "visa appointment" in Cambodia, the last step before they receive the INS immigration visa for their daughter. A second march is being planned for May, depending on the outcome of the latest announcement. Diane says that she would be willing to go to Washington and be part of the second march because she feels that the INS and state department have not been consistent or fair in determining which children will be allowed to leave the country with new adoptive parents and which will remain behind. "We can only pray that our government is listening to the pleas of other parents and that all the families who are involved in this situation will be allowed to proceed. "The government can change the process later if it needs to be changed, but right now, these children need to be allowed to come home." Diane says she 'and Richard could have adopted another child from China, but age requirements would not allow them to receive a child younger than Shiyona. So they continue to wait. "In our hearts, we feel that these children need families, love, and homes to call their own," says Diane of the Albers' decision to adopt Shiyona and Malaya. "We feel that if we would not have been led to adopt, Shiyona might not have had this opportunity. To hear her say that she loves family and that she has said those words so many times is just awesome. "Having Shiyona has been nothing less than a blessing—we have enjoyed every moment. "The truth is, we are the ones that have received the blessing and our lives would not have seen this kind of joy if we hadn't been led to adopt Shiyona."

August 3, 2013 - PITTSFIELD TWP — A 71-year-old Freedom Township woman who was a passenger in a two-vehicle crash where both drivers died Monday morning on Michigan Avenue in Pittsfield Township is still in critical condition. Police released an update Wednesday morning, including about her current listed condition at the hospital. Pittsfield Township police have identified the deceased as Benjamin Arthur Alden, a 28-year-old Saline man, and Neil Nelson Stierle, an 81-year-old Freedom Township man.

Police say the crash occurred at about 8:29 a.m. when Alden's vehicle, heading westbound on Michigan Avenue, crashed head on into an eastbound vehicle near Textile Road driven by Stierle. Deputy Chief Gordy Schick, Pittsfield Township Police Department, said Alden's vehicle crossed the center lane on Michigan.

Alden was previously identified by police as a resident of Ypsilanti Township. Township Fire Chief Sean Gleason said in a statement following the crash Monday that firefighters dispatched to the crash had to use Jaws of Life to access the drivers who were then pronounced dead at the scene. Michigan was closed between Platt Road and US-23 for several hours while police were on scene investigating the crash. Michigan was reopened to traffic by about 12:10 p.m.

Neil Stierle left behind a legacy, 81, died July 29 as result of a car crash at Michigan Avenue and Textile Road. His wife, Christine, suffered severe injuries but is expected to make a full recovery. Their daughter, Mary (Stierle) Rebstock of Elk Grove Village, Illinois, remembers her dad for his impact on the community, especially within his church and the agriculture community. "He was a very wise man," she said.

At a mere 8-years-old, Neil Stierle starting driving tractors on his family farm in Freedom Township and worked on the farm throughout his entire life. When Neil was 27, his father, Ernest Stierle, died of farmers' lung, a form of emphysema. Neil took over the farm, which is still in existence today and is part of the Washtenaw County German Heritage Driving Tour. The tour features farms and settlements from the 19th and 20th centuries located throughout the county

Mary Rebstock lived on the farm until age 20. Her grandmother lived in a trailer behind the farm and frequently babysat Mary and her sister, Joanne. "We woke up every Saturday morning to the smell of old-fashioned German pretzels baking," Rebstock said. Neil and Christine met at Neil's best friend, Ken Escott's, wedding. Christine was at the wedding because her cousin, Audrey, was the bride. They met, fell in love and were married six months later. A few months ago, on June 8, they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. "They were so close, they did everything together," Rebstock said.

Notes for Herbert Adolph Diuble:

Herb and Louisa Diuble began ambitiously when they married, back in 1939. They rented three farms on Waters Rd. and began the beef and dairy and crop operation that has been their living. They also built a family; four daughters and two sons. Now, looking back through the years, it must seem that they built a Diuble dynasty, based on good Washtenaw land, and good Washtenaw stock. By 1946, the couple had done well enough with their three rentals that they were able to buy the one they were living on. That spread, on Waters Rd., was the place where the young Diuble's were raised. Arlene, Ralph, Donna, and Donnie, the twins, and Nancy and Sharon. They all came up on the land, working alongside their father and mother—learning all about farming and livestock the “hands-on” way. They got their formal education in the Saline Area Schools. But they learned lots about life, and the rewards of hard work, on the farm. The Diuble's started building their beef and dairy herds at the very outset. They began with Hereford and Angus crossbred, buying calves and feeding them for market. Their dairy herd grew to 45 head of Holstein milkers. Then, in 1953, young Ralph earned Grand Champion honors with his Hereford entry in Steer Club competition at the Saline Community Fair. His animal sold at a really exciting price: 60 cents per pound! Ralph did it again in '54. Another Grand Champion Hereford, and another 60-cent bonanza for the young livestock feeder. Arlene followed in 1955. Grand Champ steer at the Fair. A few years later, in 1960, Nancy had her turn in the spotlight. Her beef entry took the winner's trophy as the best in the Steer Club Show. Donnie went the 4-H route, with the same results: A Grand Champ steer at the Washtenaw Achievement Show. A short horn Hereford cross took the trophy. Sharon followed in 1972. Another Saline Fair Grand Champ.

Donna went into sheep—and her Southdown entries were top winners or contenders on the Fair and 4-H circuits. The children's success at raising premium animals had a strong impact on the family. In 1968, the Diuble's sold off their dairy herd and moved into beef feeding all the way. Instead of going with the crossbreds, they concentrated on purebred Angus, the breed that Nancy and Sharon had scored with. They've prospered—but possibly their greatest satisfaction has come from the winning ways of their children—and now their grandchildren. This year, Ralph's son and daughter, David and Sally, mopped up top honors in beef competition at the Washtenaw 4-H Show, and then added more ribbons and trophies in the Steer Club judging at the Saline Community Fair. David had done well in 1984 with Reserve Champ at the Fair and in '85 with Reserve Champ steer and Grand Champ Market heifer at the County 4-H Show. There was one basic difference between their 1986 success story and that of their father back in the early '50s. Remember the 60-cent price that Ralph was paid? David's 4-H Grand Champ brought a cool $1.15 per pound. Sally's Saline Steer Club Grand Champion went for $3 per pound.

And the Dynasty will surely live on. Nancy, married to Steve Thelen, a businessman, in the Olivet area, has a career herself, as 4-H extension agent for Eaton County. The two of them have a two-year-old daughter, Renee. "Whenever we see her," says Herb proudly, "she tells me, 'Grandpa, I want a black cow!'" Sharon and her husband, Dan Vassen, make their home on the original Diuble spread on Waters Rd. They're expecting their first child next February, and the elder Diuble's won't be too surprised if the child grows up in the family fashion, working the farm and concentrating on beef cattle. Meanwhile, Herb and Louisa have moved to another farm home on Scio Church Rd. They continue to prosper—but occasionally they're reminded that livestock farming is a gambler's business, with a dash of danger thrown into the mix for excitement. In the midst of David's and Sally's triumph at the 4-H Fair, one of David's prize animals, the Grand Champion Market heifer, broke loose. Herb, holding the trophy for his grandson, tried to stop the animals. "It knocked me down and jumped right over me," Herb recalls. "I got a few aches and bruises, but at least I hung onto the trophy, and it didn't get a scratch." Herb and Louisa don't push themselves quite as hard as they did when they were a little younger. For almost a quarter-century, for instance, Herb has been pretty much the judge of which animals to buy in the cattle yards at Gaylord, for Saline Steer Club members' projects each year. "I may have to give it up," he says now. "It's getting awfully hard to choose good feeder stock." But he's out in his fields every day. Although he turned 70 last May, he's not about to stop farming. "good exercise," he says. "I wouldn't dare quit." He wants to be ready, when Renee and her young cousin come around for help on their first project animals!

Marriage Notes for Louisa Herter and Herbert Diuble:

Herbert A. Diuble, 22 years old, of Ann Arbor, came to the County Courthouse Tuesday morning Jan. 17, 1939 to get a marriage license and immediately was given a chance to work out its cost. Attorneys trying a case had exhausted a panel of 30 jurors, with three places still to be filled. As Deputy Sheriff Erwin Klager went in search of a fresh supply of talesmen, he saw Diuble and drafted him along with five others. Conscripted into the jury box before he even had a chance to get his license, Diuble slatted earning an unexpected $4 a day. It was the first time in a year and a half, court officials said, that the regular panel had been exhausted. Diuble got his license at the jury's noon recess. He will marry Louise B. Herter, 22, of Route Four, Ann Arbor.

Miss Louisa Herter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Herter of Scio Church Road, and Herbert Diuble, of Ellsworth Road, were united in marriage by Rev. Arthur Wacker at a double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon January 28, 1939, at the Scio Lutheran Church.

Miss Herter chose a white embroidered marquisette frock with which she wore a short tulle veil and carried Johanna Hill roses. She was attended by Miss Erma Luckhardt of Lodi Township as maid of honor, wearing pink taffeta, and by two bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Diuble, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Larmee of West Liberty Road, both wearing aquamarine net. All carried harmonizing noses. Katherine Gartman of Freedom Township as flower girl wore aqua blue taffeta and carried a basket of rose petals. Elmer Diuble assisted his brother as best man and the ushers were three cousins of the bride, Walter, Paul and Erwin Herter, and a cousin of the bridegroom, Raymond Diuble.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herter after the ceremony. The couple will live on and Waters Road.

Louisa and Herbert Diuble of Ann Arbor will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a special buffet reception this Sunday, Jan. 29, 1989 at Salem Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor. The event will be hosted by the couple's six children; Arlene and Lloyd Grau of Chelsea; Ralph Diuble of Ann Arbor; Donna and Jim Guenther of Ann Arbor; Donald Diuble of Manchester; Nancy and Steven Thelen of Olivet; and Sharon and Dan Vaassen of Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Diuble were married January 28, 1939 in Ann Arbor, where they have resided all of their lives. Mr. Diuble is a farmer and Mrs. Diuble is a homemaker. Both are members of Salem Lutheran Church and enjoy farming, livestock shows, and children. The Diubles have 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Notes for Marie Caroline Kuebler:

Marie Caroline Kuebler Herter was born January 9, 1930, in Saline Township, the daughter of Paul and Olga (Finkbeiner) Kuebler. Marie passed away on Friday, March 23, 2018, from debilitating Alzheimer's disease. Marie attended Macon's one-room school (a Henry Ford School) until eventually graduating from Saline High School in 1949. While living with three friends in their singles Ann Arbor apartment, Marie worked for a couple years as a bank teller. She then met and married Paul Herter on August 25, 1951 at Bethel United Church of Christ in Manchester, Michigan; she has remained a member of Bethel since that time. After 54 years of marriage, Paul preceded her in death in 2005.

Marie and Paul have four children: Jean (Robert) Martin, David (Kimberly) Herter, Dale (Scott Koziol) Herter, and Judy (Patrick) Laberdee. Marie's pride and joy, however, were her grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. Her grandchildren are: Jackelyn (Jason Smith) Martin, Joshua (Lauren McGaw) Herter, Jacob Herter, Amanda (Dean) Eisenmann, Jamie (Garron) Rorick, and Jason Laberdee; and her beloved "sweetie" granddaughter Holly Martin, who welcomed her at Heaven's gate. Her great-grandchildren are Zoe and Callen Rorick. Marie gladly attended several grandchildren activities – t-ball, Sunday School programs, 4-H fairs, water polo matches, band concerts, fiddler concerts, and dance recitals. She held lambs and chased steers for her grandchildren, doing so with a smile and words of encouragement. She was also the one who spent many long days, and nights, entertaining the sick or hospitalized grandchild. Marie will also be missed by her patient four-legged companion, Sassy.

Surviving Marie are her sister-in-law Felicia Kuebler, her brother-in-law Robert Mast, and several nieces and nephews, all whom she adored. In addition to her husband and parents, Marie will be joining her sister Katherine Guenther, brother Walter Kuebler, brother-in-law William Guenther, and sister-in-law Selma Mast – all waiting to play a round or two of Euchre. Kate and Marie will keep the games lively! Marie's life was not easy, nor always fair, but she persevered. At the age of 11, Marie's mother died in an automobile accident caused by a drunk driver. Marie was a passenger in the car and suffered a severe fractured leg, leaving her with a limp and daily reminder of the accident. She farmed with her husband for many years. She could often be found at the Saline or Bridgewater grain mills, hauling in truckloads of grain. She spent many hours a day tending her chickens, gathering, cleaning, and then grading the eggs, later selling them to various downriver Detroit customers. It was not unusual to find her caring for newborn lambs or baby pigs that were brought in the house to "warm-up", often warming up in the oven! She also appreciated her many canine companions throughout the years. Although she claimed she "never really liked cats", she would nurse them with eye droppers, and cuddle them in her lap. Marie drove tractor for baling, unloaded hay and straw, cooked many meals for hungry sheep shearers, and, of course, the monthly sauerkraut and knoeplfle dinner. Her homemade German pretzels were regularly shared with family and friends. Many summer nights Marie found a bit of peace and quiet on the old cultivator tractor, straw hat firmly in place, slowly and cautiously running between the rows.

Marie spent many years working at the Ann Arbor News as an "insertor" – putting in the multiple loose ads and/or comics and coupon fliers in the newspaper. She enjoyed this job, making new friends and taking pride in her work. Marie's work ethic, whether at the News or on the Farm, was strong, committed, and driven, and this was passed on through the generations.

Marie was a woman committed to her faith and to her church. She worked tirelessly at Bethel UCC Ice Cream Socials and church functions, usually baking an infamous hickory nut cake (or two). She was a quiet presence, but always present in the pews and behind the scenes. Keeping four children quiet and complacent during sermons was accomplished with pen and paper, and always gum (although the grandchildren got candy!).

Marie's passion and pride were her gardens; vegetable and flower gardens flourished under her care. She often shared the bounty of each summer's yield with family and friends, and canned a multitude of produce. Hoeing in the garden was routine for Marie, and her free laborers (her children and grandchildren!) provided weed control. Her beautiful flower gardens were admired by many as they passed by the family farm.

Marie and Paul enjoyed various social outings with several friends, especially summer Saturday evenings at German Park. Euchre games, Farm Bureau meetings, local fairs, and New Year's Eve celebrations were special for Marie. In Heaven, Marie now joins special friends Glen and Lucille Feldkamp. If four people could make something out of nothing, it was Paul, Marie, Glen and Lucille, enjoying short and long trips to anywhere and everywhere. Heaven will never be the same! As Marie advanced in years, her gardens were tended a little less immaculately, and sauerkraut dinners were a joint family affair, but her spirit (and sometimes stubbornness) was ever present. Even when Marie moved to Brecon Memory Center and then to EHM Senior Solutions, her one-liners brought smiles and laughter from caretakers. Special thanks to her caretakers at both locations – your concern and care of Marie was greatly appreciated.

Please join the family as they celebrate Marie's life. Visitation will be held Tuesday, March 27, 2018, between 4:00 P.M. and 8:00 P.M. at the Robison-Bahnmler Funeral Home in Saline, MI. The Celebration of Life Service will take place at Bethel United Church of Christ, Manchester, Michigan, on Wednesday, March 28, 2018 at 11:00 A.M., with visitation beginning at 10:00 A.M. at the Church. The Reverend David Bucholtz will officiate at the service. Memorial contributions may be made to EHM Senior Solutions for Staff Appreciation, or to Bethel United Church of Christ.

Menzel at the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church of Manchester. About one hundred and fifty guests were present at the ceremony which was held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, August 25, 1951. For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white satin, styled on princess lines and her fingertip veil fell from a sweetheart tiara of satin. She carried a white orchid atop a white prayer book. Mrs. William Guenther of Ypsilanti, the matron of honor, was attired in a gown of yellow lace and marquisette over taffeta. She wore a matching headband and her bouquet was a cascade of blue asters. After a week in northern Michigan, the couple will be at home at 6405 Ellsworth Road, Ann Arbor. For traveling the bride's costume was powder blue with white accessories. The bride is a graduate of Saline High School and is a bookkeeper in Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is engaged in farming. Notes for Robert Neil Mast:

Robert and Selma Mast, Dexter: I have lived on a farm all my life. I was born in 1921 on the 100-acre farm that my grandfather had purchased in 1904. After my father married in 1920 he took over the farm and I worked with him during high school years. After graduation in 1938 I completed a one-year agricultural course at MSU. After marriage in 1945 I was in partnership with my father. In 1959 I purchased the 120-acre farm directly across the road from my dad, where we still live. We live on Mast Road, named for our family. Since my father's death, I've owned both farms. We farmed with horses until 1946 when we bought our first tractor. We milked cows, raised sheep and chickens until 1972 when we purchased more cattle and decided not to raise sheep and chicken. I was active in 4-H clubs for 10 years and was a leader for 33. I was also active in the State and Local Milk Producers Association, the County Farm Service Agency and the Township Planning Commission. My wife, Selma, helped with the farming, the cows, lawn work and gardening. She also was a 4-H leader for 25 years, with food and clothing projects. I am now semi-retired, renting the farm to a neighbor and helping when needed. I have never had time for a hobby, but have taken over the gardening and lawn work. We have enjoyed playing cards and doing some traveling over the years.

Robert Neil Mast, age 101, of Dexter, Michigan, passed away on Saturday, November 26, 2022 at his home. Bob was born on March 9, 1921 on his family's Centennial Farm in Webster Twp., the first born child of Carl and Emma (Berner) Mast. A lifelong resident of Dexter, Bob began his education at the Peatt School on Gregory Rd. until the eighth grade, then to Dexter Schools for high school, graduating in 1938. In his youth, he showed Delaine-Merino sheep at the County Fair, State Fair, and Michigan 4-H Fair. Bob was recognized as the Outstanding County Club Member in 1938, and in 1940, he attended Michigan State College for the Ag Short Course. Beginning in 1941, Bob became a 4-H leader and continued this role for more than 30 years. Bob was active in a variety of organizations. He was a 75-year member of the Masonic Lodge, a lifetime member of St. Andrew's Church of Christ in Dexter, a Farm Bureau member since 1949, a board member of the USDA FSA, a member of the Webster Township Planning Commission, the Michigan Milk Producers, and the Washtenaw Ag Council. In 1945, Bob married Selma Herter, and they were married for 66 years until her passing in 2011.

Bob is survived by his daughters, Carol Jones and Janet (Richard) Stanfield, and son, Ronald (Marilyn) Mast; five grandchildren, Michelle (Kirk) Hedding, Kyle Jones, Courtney (Nick) Thompson, Jason (Debbie) Mast, and Dylan Stanfield; eight great-grandchildren, Emma, Isabelle, Madeline, Lilyan, Ben, Jacob, Liam, and Charlotte. Bob is also survived by two sisters, Mary Ann (Gary) Hansen, and Linda (Ron) Kociba, brother-in-law, Stanley Toney, and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Selma, his parents, and step-mother, Anne Mast, sisters, Kathryn (Wayne) Waggoner, Jean (John) Reardan, Joan Toney, and granddaughter, Lauren Stanfield. A special thanks to Danny Trinkle and Mike Koch, who kept the farm operating, and care aides, Tanya Yamnot and Cary Ketzner, who lovingly cared for and comforted Bob and the family for the last year and a half.

Alma, Michigan - The 59-year-old owner of an Alma wallpaper and paint store died Thursday Jan. 28, 1988 in a fire that destroyed the store. Earl Stollsteimer, owner of Van's Wallpaper and Paint Store, died from smoke inhalation in the blaze that was reported about 8:30 a.m., Alma Fire Chief George Blyton said. "It was simultaneously spotted by a passing police officer and a firefighter who owns a retail business in the area," Blyton said. "Heavy brown smoke was coming out of the front and back of the building. It had been burning at least 45 minutes to an hour prior to its discovery."

An autopsy on Stollsteimer, whose body was found in the store's office, will be performed today. "It is under investigation, but it was an accidental fire," Blyton said. "The actual cause has not been determined at this time, and may never be determined." Damage to the building and its contents was estimated at $150,000. The Alma Fire Department received assistance from the St. Louis, Ithaca and Breckenridge fire departments. The blaze was brought under control in an hour, but firefighters continued to extinguish smaller fires into the afternoon. No firefighters were injured, Blyton said.

He was born 02 Nov 1936 in Lincoln, Lancaster Co, Nebraska, and died 01 Jul 2020.

Notes for Joann Louise (Jo Anne) Stollsteimer:

Joann Louise Crook, 74, of Deming, went home to be with the Lord on June 29 at her summer home in Logan, New Mexico. She was born Joann Louise Stollsteimer, one of two children to Orwin and Mabel Stollsteimer of Ann Arbor, Michigan. Joann grew up in a home her parents kept for foster children, so she developed a heart for sharing and serving others at an early age. During high school, Joann was involved in sports activities and was captain of the varsity cheerleading team for the Ann Arbor High School Pioneers. Joann graduated from Western Michigan University with degrees in Physical Education and Health. She later earned her Master's degree in Guidance and Counseling from Eastern Michigan University.

Joann married high school classmate, Max Crook, in 1958 and had two children, Susan Ann and David Lee. The family moved to California in 1969. At La Reina High School in Thousand Oaks, California, Joann was a Guidance Counselor and taught P.E., Health, and coached the girls' softball, volleyball and basketball teams. Her teams won several Southern California C.I.F. Division Championships. Joann was also an award winning sales representative for Tupperware in her region while Max served as a training Captain with the Ventura County Fire Department.

Max and Joann later maintained a self-sufficient ranch in the Mojave Desert near Victorville, California. Joann ground her own wheat for baking delicious loaves of bread monthly for her family. Max and Joann raised sheep, pigs, turkeys, chickens, cattle, Nubian goats, grew vegetables, fruit trees, plus much of their food. Their ranch was a wonderful place for ministry, music, and fellowship with many church potlucks, ballgames, volleyball, and swimming.

Max, Joann, and Susan moved to Deming in 1996, while David with his wife and son moved to Frisco, Texas. The Crook family purchased a summer home in Logan, New Mexico as a retreat for family and friends. Joann worked as a volunteer at the Deming Luna County Chamber of Commerce. She was a Bridge enthusiast, church greeter at the Living Word, Assembly of God, and Calvary Chapel churches in Deming. Joann produced the "Grand Ol' Opry -- Deming Style" show which was a favorite here in Deming. Known for her giving heart and hospitality, she brought friends, National Guardsmen, and even strangers into her home for meals and fellowship for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners when they had no other place to celebrate the holidays. Joann was an excellent cook with several award-winning recipes.

Joann was preceded in death by her grandparents, mother, father, several aunts and uncles, and a cousin.

She is survived by her husband, daughter, son, grandson Isaac Crook, brother Floyd Stollsteimer, many nieces and nephews in Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, California, Texas, and New Mexico.

Memorial services will be held at Calvary Chapel Church in Deming on Tuesday, July 19, 2011 at 10:30 a.m. with Pastor Marshall Boyer officiating. Those wishing to make donations may direct them to the Cancer Support of Deming and Luna County, Inc. at P.O. Box 1746, Deming, New Mexico 88031.

Notes for Maxfield Doyle (Max) Crook:

Maxfield Doyle Crook was born November 2, 1936 in Lincoln, Nebraska. He moved as a child to Ann Arbor, Michigan. He first learned to play the accordion, before taking up the piano, and by the time he was 14 he had already built his own studio. In 1957, after studying at the University of New Mexico, he enrolled at Western Michigan in Kalamazoo where he formed a rock and roll group called The White Bucks, who released a single, "Get That Fly", on Dot Records in 1959.

In the that same year he built a hybrid single-note playing synthesizer, which he called the Musitron, out of a clavioline enhanced with additional resistors, television tubes, and parts from household appliances, old amplifiers and reel-to-reel tape machines. He was unable to patent the Musitron because most of its components were already patented products. He first used it for recording at a session at Berry Gordy's studio in Detroit, on an unreleased version of "Bumble Boogie". The sound of the Musitron was influential on other musicians and producers, including Gordy, Joe Meek, Ennio Morricone, John Barry and Roy Wood.

Later in 1959, he met Charles Westover, yet to take the stage name Del Shannon, who asked him to join his band, "Charlie Johnson and the Big Little Show Band", as keyboard player. They signed a recording contract in 1960, and Crook began playing the Musitron on stage for the first time soon afterwards. During a live set one night, Crook hit an unusual chord change going from A-minor to G, and he and Del Shannon developed the lick into a song, which became "Runaway". In January 1961, Shannon and Crook recorded "runaway", which soon became an international hit. He is an American musician, a pioneer of electronic music in pop. He also recorded as Maximilian.

In the late 1960's he moved to California and worked as a burglar alarm installer and firefighter, before returning to recording with Del Shannon and Brian Hyland. Hyland's version of Curtis Mayfield's "Gypsy Woman", featuring Crook's keyboards, became a hit in 1970. He also wrote the score for James Sturgen's movie "Time and Beyond". In the 1980's he began performing gospel and spiritual music, recording an album "Good News!". He now lives in Deming, New Mexico.

On July 1, 2020, Maxfield Doyle Crook, loving husband and father, passed away at the age of 83. Maxfield (Max) was born on November 2, 1936, in Lincoln, Nebraska to Clarence and Helen (Mullikin) Crook. He was a graduate of Ann Arbor High School in Ann Arbor, Michigan and later received his degree in business from Western Michigan University. In 1958, Max married high school classmate, Joann Louise Stollsteimer and they raised a daughter, Susan Ann, and son, David Lee, in Michigan and subsequently in California. Max was an innovator and a pioneer in many facets during his life that touched millions of people. His career milestones included the co-writing of a 1961 hit called, "Runaway" which was given the BMI "Million-Air" award for over two million radio broadcast performances and later inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1999. Max's musical talents found him performing on The Midnight Special, ABC's In Concert, and the Hollywood Bowl while collaborating with many artists such as Del Shannon, Liberace, Robert Moog, Tom Petty, and more. Max's invention of the Clavioline instrument called the "Musitron", as heard in the hit song, "Runaway", has been judged by music historians as one of the early forerunners for modern synthesizers.

While in California, Max was a training captain with the Ventura County Fire Department and helped pioneer what is now known as the FIRESCOPE CA Task Force. FIRESCOPE helped shape all coordination for interdepartmental, multiagency emergency disaster, natural disaster and multiple fire alarm response that California and other states use today. Beyond his professional accomplishments, Max was known for his love of music. It was said that there was not an instrument he could not play thanks to his amazing ability to hear music. Max and his first wife, Joann, lived on a ranch in the Mojave Desert that was a delightful place for ministry, music, and fellowship. Max and his second wife, Glenda, enjoyed a Christian worship music ministry for many years. Additionally, he had a music ministry in both churches and public presentations such as retirement homes, RV parks, campgrounds, and National Day of Prayer celebrations. Max will be best remembered by all as a kind, empathetic, and wise person who would do anything for the other person without thinking about himself. From being a varsity diver in college; lifeguard and orderly soon after high school; and piano practicing teen after school for the junior high school janitors, Max was always pursuing excellence in every area of life. Max was unassumingly a gifted giver. Nothing can fill the void left behind by his departure and he will be deeply missed by family, friends, for his faith, and by millions touched by his music here on Earth. Max was preceded in death by his father, Clarence, his mother, Helen, and his beloved wife of 56 years, Joann.

He is survived by his loving wife, Glenda, of Deming, his two children, Susan Crook of Deming, David and his wife, Patricia Crook of Logan, and his grandson, Isaac Crook of Logan, New Mexico. He is also survived by his sister, Donna, and her husband, Dr. Ronald Snyder, of Petoskey, Michigan, and three nephews, five grandnephews and three grandnieces.

A special memorial tribute to the innovative musical legacy of Max Crook will be held in Deming, New Mexico, to be announced at a later date. Arrangements are with Terrazas Funeral Chapels & Crematory.

Notes for Leo Borders:

Leo Borders, Deputy Sheriff Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office 1964 to 1966. Born on September 26th 1937 in Ashland, Kentucky, Leo Borders was hired as a Deputy Sheriff with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office in 1964. Leo's strong sense of right and wrong lead him to a career in Law Enforcement. He was proud of his position as a Deputy Sheriff, as well as the uniform he wore. His boots were always polished and his pants creased. He enjoyed his position as a Deputy because he believed it made a difference in his community.

He lived by the philosophy of treating others as you would like to be treated yourself. The Ann Arbor Police Department had a shooting range near the corner of Maple Road and Huron River Drive. Sheriff's Deputies and Ann Arbor Police Officers would gather at the range for shooting competitions. It was easy to find Leo in the crowd of Law Enforcement Officers. He was the one with his infant daughter Sara sitting atop his shoulders. Sara went everywhere with her father, usually seated upon his shoulders, and at least once she accompanied him to court. When Leo and his partner would stop for coffee at the Border's home, he would speak to his daughter over the patrol car public address system to make her laugh. If you wanted to find Leo Borders when he was off duty, you only had to look in three places. He was either with his family, at his church, or under the hood of a car. Leo enjoyed working on cars and was excited when he and Erma bought a house on Elm Street in Chelsea, Michigan, because it had a garage and he could work on cars inside instead of outside in the elements.

Leo had to talk his wife Erma (Borders) O'Connor into their first date. It turned out to be a moment she never regretted. She was impressed with the tall red head and his kindness. She sensed he was a special person. Although an established fact that "cops like doughnuts", in Leo's case it was Erma's chocolate chip cookies. He assured that they would disappear as fast as she could bake them. Leo had a concern for others. He made people feel protected and cared for whether it was his partner, his family, or his friends. Once at a drive in root beer stand with his wife, a young driver began squealing the tires of his vehicle. Leo went over to him and "explained" that driving was a privilege and vehicle safety was important to everyone, and then returned to his family outing. Fun to be with and never heard to say a crossword, Leo had a good time, but not in a loud or boisterous way. He was content to be in the company of his family, whether it was going on picnics, doing yard work together, or just enjoying each other's company.

Always excited to learn something new, when his house needed remodeling he performed the carpentry work with his brother-in-law and was proud of what he had learned and accomplished. Leo Borders lost his life in the line-of-duty during a high speed chase on the evening of August 3rd 1966, on Dexter Pinckney Road. The suspect fled the scene on foot. Over one hundred law enforcement officers responded to the area of Stinch filed Woods in Dexter Township and succeeded in capturing the suspects. Leo Borders left behind his wife Erma, his three year old daughter, Sara, and his daughter Dawn, who was born one month after he died. Deputies helped the family by cashing in their vacation time and giving the money to Leo's family as well as the family of his seriously injured partner, Stanley McFadden. Those who knew him will not forget his smile, the pride he took in his work and his commitment to his community, family, and church.

Notes for Donna Faye Trolz:

Donna Moehn Ferris passed away peacefully surrounded by her loved ones on August 21st, 2013 at an undisclosed age, rumored to be just a few days past the age of 29. The daughter of Florence (Scheid) and Walter Trolz of Manchester Michigan, Donna moved to Jackson with her husband Art Moehn in 1962. They raised their three children - Deborah, Jacqueline, and Mark - in the Jackson community.

After Art's passing in 1991, Donna married Duane (Red) Ferris of New Philadelphia, Ohio in 1995. Donna was thankful to have found true love twice in her life and was happiest when supporting and loving both her Moehn and Ferris families. As the President of the Digger's Garden Club and a passionate life-long gardener, Donna brought daisies and smiles to her neighbors in Jackson, New Philadelphia, Ohio and Fort Myers, Florida. She was an avid community volunteer, played golf well into her eighties and maintained her youthful enthusiasm and beauty until her last moment. Although Donna has moved on to a place where daisies grow taller and children's laughter is louder, she will be sorely missed by her family and the friends, neighbors and children she delivered smiles to.

Donna is survived by her husband, Duane Ferris; her children, Jacque (John) Kudner, Deborah (David) Tuttle, and Mark Moehn; her grandchildren, Elizabeth Kraus, Joe Tuttle, Courtney Scott, Chris Kudner, and A.J. Notes for Cheryl Marie Eisele:

Metamora, Michigan — There's always room for dessert, right? Well, there is in downtown Metamora. Room for Dessert recently opened for business serving up not only a tempting array of confections, but espresso coffees, sandwiches and paninis, salads and gelatos. Owner Cherri Eisele will serve up the edible offerings Tuesday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. On Saturdays, Room for Dessert is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Customers can enjoy their meal, latte or gelato in the comfortable surroundings of Room for Dessert, with its giant decorative coffee cups on the tables. They can also order take-out, or sip their mocha outside at a sidewalk table.

Eisele will also be opening up an intimate open-air courtyard garden and deck at the back of the establishment. She thinks it will be the perfect spot for bridal and baby showers or birthday parties. Eisele's first love is baking. After 30 years in the automotive industry, as a parts manager at a dealership, 54-year old Eisele finally gave in to her muse. She went to school in 2007 to become a pastry chef. "I love to bake. I always did cookies, cakes, desserts," says Eisele. In the window at Room for Dessert is a sampling of Eisele's skills, with a deftly executed cake that looks like a handbag and a three-tiered confection with butterflies. A frosting bee lurks happily atop sunflower cupcake, and whimsically decorated cookies are wrapped and ready to satisfy a sweet tooth.

Custom confections for all kinds of special occasions can be ordered from Eisele through Room for Dessert. When it's lunch you're after, you may have a hard time deciding between paninis like pesto turkey, zesty ham or 'three cheese please.' Paninis are grilled sandwiches. The pesto turkey includes smoked turkey, bacon, swiss cheese, lettuce, red onion and pesto on sourdough bread. Also on the reasonably priced menu right now are several sandwiches including chicken salad croissant, 'not your mom's BLT,' and an Italian sub. Customer Helen Pinfield-Wells stopped by at lunchtime one day last week to pick up a salad to go. In addition to a garden salad and chef salad, Eisele creates one that includes dried cherries, mixed spring greens, walnuts, red onion, provolone, and raspberry vinaigrette. "I love salads," said Pinfield-Wells. She's happy to see Room for Dessert arrive in the village. "We need more regular lunchtime places." She also knowingly notes, "She does awesome cakes." Eisele has a selection of gelatos. She describes it as Italian ice cream with one third the fat. "The flavors are a lot more intense." She also serves up Zingerman coffees, including double espresso, Americano, cappuccino, latte and mocha, as well as chai. It may be hard to resist a pastry while you're ordering up your mocha. There's a changing variety of tempters like scones, muffins and pain al chocolate.

Eisele has lots of ideas cooked up for Room for Dessert. She'll be featuring an artist each month at the eatery, with displays of their work. Fiber artist Carolyn Tang's will be up first. Eisele will also be holding some kids' cookie camps about once a month. Eisele's sister, Cindy Burns, was on hand to help out with the launch last week. "I'm so happy for her," said Burns of her sister. "Now she gets to make other people happy like she's made us happy all these years with her baking." Eisele has lived in Metamora Township since 2003, the same year she married husband Aaron. He's all behind Eisele's new venture. The couple have three dogs named Licorice, Tank and Barley. Eisele's open for business right now, but look for the grand opening on July 23, 2011, when there will be doughnuts out front. Room for Dessert is located at 4024 S. Oak St., just south of Dryden Road in downtown Metamora.

2424. Raymond Edwin⁹ Alber (Herman⁸, Charles Michael⁷, Johann Georg⁶, Christina Margaretha⁵ Heimerdinger, Johannes⁴, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 14 Feb 1919 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 13 Oct 2004 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan. He married (1) Virginia Ruth Klueter 20 Jun 1942 in Washtenaw Co, Michigan, daughter of Paul Klueter. She was born 23 Aug 1923 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 08 May 1966 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan. He married (2) Sally Louise Lines 22 Nov 1966 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan. She was born 23 Jun 1933 in Albion, Calhoun Co, Michigan, and died 30 Aug 2017.

Notes for Raymond Edwin Alber:

July 4, 1984 - Lots of little boys think they want to be firemen when they grow up. Ray Alber says he wasn't y one of them. "Oh, sometimes some of us kids would hear the siren and go to the fires, but I never gave it any special thought," he said. Things certainly changed. For most of his adult life; Alber went to every fire in town and had to think about them a great deal. He was a member of the Saline Fire Department since 1949, and fire chief since 1977. But Ray Alber officially retired from the department June 30. "I have arrived at 65 years of age, and have served on the department for 35 rewarding years," was the simple explanation in his resignation. "He'll be greatly missed," said Lodi Township Supervisor Erwin Frederick, president of the Saline Area Fire Board. "Not only by the Board, but by the other firemen. He was a good faithful member of the department." We want him to stay on," said Rolie Goltz, who's been on the Saline Fire Department for 40 years. "But we couldn't talk him into it. He said when he got to be 65, it was time to retire. "He was a real good guy to work with, and a real good chief. He was easy going and stayed calm through all the emergencies. Everyone liked him." Born and raised in Saline, Alber said he was working as a mechanic at Steeb Dodge when then chief Tony Schild asked him to become a volunteer fireman. The force was short of men, and they especially needed "guys that were in town during the day to go to the daytime fires," he recalled. Alber didn't have to undergo the 66 hours of extensive training that today's volunteers must go through. "There weren't as many problems then as there are now," he explained. "Back then, there were no smoke masks. We used to go right in and stay as long as we could—it wouldn't hurt us. "Now buildings contain so many plastics, giving off toxic fumes. Even most carpets are plastic. It's much more dangerous today." In 1949, the fire hall was located where Little Caesar's Pizza is today. The Police Department was on the upper floor and the Fire Department below. So there was no need of the traditional "fire pole" to slide down. Of course there never was a need for one in Saline since the force was always comprised of volunteers. "No one ever slept up there'," Alber patiently explained. "We never had a need for a Dalmatian either!"

The Department had two trucks when Alber joined—a 1939 and a 1947 Ford. "We still have them," Alber mentioned. The '47 still can be put in service, though it's been overshadowed by the modern fleet of two pumpers, two tankers, and emergency truck, a grass fighter, and a mini pumper. The '39 is kept by the Fire Association for a parade truck. Inevitably, Alber is asked which were the worst fires he can't remember. He was ready with his answers. "When George's Tavern burned down, in the winter of . . . 1957, I think," he began. "It was at least 15 below zero, and the hoses kept freezing up." George's was located downtown where The Keg is now. The building burned completely and had to be rebuilt. "It used to be two stories—now it's just one story." The adjoining corners of the old Walker's Bakery (where Campbell's now stands) and Wood's Hardware (the site of Wight's Cleaners) also burned in that winter blaze. The cause never was discovered.

Another fierce fire was at Big Daddy's in February, 1978. The restaurant burned "up through the third story"—and it's still not fully repaired. That fire was traced to an employee handling candles near a stove vent. And of course the giant blaze at the Saline Ford plant last May was unforgettable for Alber. He had to coordinate the efforts of about 75 additional firemen who came from 15 other communities to help. "We'd called a few other local units for other fires, but nothing like this," Alber said. No cause ever has been determined for the Ford fire, which destroyed 5,000 racks of scrap plastic at the Michigan Avenue plant.

Alber doesn't know how many fires he may have fought over the 35 years. During the early years, "they didn't keep track as much as they do now," he said. For the last 10 years, the force has averaged 102 calls a year, a figure which includes grass, fires, car fires, and emergency calls. From 1957 until 1979; Alber and his wife Sally lived on E. Michigan Avenue where Tom Mac's Photography is today. He operated Ray's Auto Service from a garage he built, behind the house. The business now is DJ's Auto.

Alber also owns and operates a sawmill on Monroe Street, just across the new bridge. His hobby of restoring steam engines and old tractors and taking them to shows keeps him busy. Ray and Sally have three daughters—Lois in Ann Arbor and Ruth and Marquette out of state—and five grandchildren. "I've been very satisfied with being a fireman in Saline," Alber shrugged modestly. "I always got along well with the Fire Board and with the City before that." Assistant chief Manny Hill is acting as fire chief until the next meeting of the Fire Board. Hill probably will be appointed officially to the job at that time.

Raymond E. Alber of Saline, Michigan, age 85, died on Wednesday, October 13, 2004 at the Saline Community Hospital. He was born February 14, 1919 in Saline, Michigan, the son of Herman and Otila (Kohler) Alber. In 1942 he married Virginia Klueter and she preceded him in death in 1966. He then married Sally Lines in 1966 and she survives. He was a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ and also attended St. Andrew's. He was the owner of Ray's Auto Service in Saline; a Saline fireman for 37 years and Chief for several years before his retirement. He spent his retirement running his Port Huron Steam Engine and putting on old fashioned threshing exhibitions. He was a member of the National Threshers Association where he participated for many years in Wauseon, OH. He also had an old Saw Mill in Saline where he cut logs for anyone who brought them in. He enjoyed deer hunting in Northern Michigan and at a friend's farm near Saline. He and his wife Sally spent their winters in Mesa, Arizona for several years.

Survivors in addition to his wife, Sally, include three daughters, Ruth Wier of Wilmington, North Carolina; Lois Gannon of Ypsilanti, Michigan; Marquette Williams of Meeker, OK; grandson Christopher Shankland; six grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren; two sisters, Luella Drake and Doris Cook; and several nieces, nephews and cousins. He was born 20 Jan 1929 in Scio Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 17 Feb 2018 in Dexter, Washtenaw Co, Michigan.

Notes for Wilma Marie Alber:

Wilma Mynning, of Dexter, Michigan Age 92, died October 2, 2020 peacefully at home after a period of declining health. Daughter of Dorothy (Finkbeiner) and Julius Alber, Wilma was born July 5, 1928 at home on the family farm in Clinton, the youngest of four children. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her siblings, Florence Harvey, Paul Alber, and Ella May Smith; her husband, Russell J. Mynning; and a son, David R. Mynning. Wilma is survived by a daughter, Rosemary Downer (Thomas); grandson, Paul Roberts (Karen); and great-grandchildren, Janie, Sophie, and William Roberts. Other survivors are her sisters-in-law, Jacqueline McGinn and Dorothy Alber, as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

Following graduation from Saline High School in 1945, Wilma found employment as a bookkeeper in Ann Arbor. She was living with her sister and brother-in-law, Ella and George Smith, in their home located on Pratt Road, just down the road from a family named Mynning. Whether by design or luck, Wilma met the love of her life when Russ Mynning was hitchhiking, and she stopped to give him a ride home. Russ and Wilma were married on December 27, 1947 at St. Thomas Catholic Church, Ann Arbor, and were together for 70 years until Russ' death in 2018. Wilma was an avid gardener and cook, skilled seamstress, joyful dancer, committed organizer of family events, savvy card shark, and exceptional raconteur. She was kind and generous to her extended family, and a dedicated volunteer for the Knights of Columbus Ladies' Auxiliary and St. Joseph Catholic Church, Dexter. Wilma was a woman of faith, love, determination, and purpose. She often said, "With God, all things are possible," but also, relying on her own fortitude and pluck, "Where there is a Wilma, there is a way!"

Special thanks to: family, for their prayers, support, love, and laughter over the years; Paul and Karen Roberts; Betty Raab, for hands-on assistance, especially in times of need; the good neighbors at The Cedars of Dexter; Father Brendan and parish members from St. Joe's Church; Wilma's caregivers from Our Family Friend; and Arbor Hospice for their kind care. A private memorial service and burial are planned. Donations in Wilma's memory can be made to St. Joseph Catholic Church, 3430 Dover Street, Dexter, Michigan 48130, the Arbor Hospice Foundation, or a charity of one's choice. Arrangements by Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, Chelsea.

Notes for Russell Joseph Mynning:

Russell (Russ) Mynning passed peacefully on February 17, 2018 in Dexter, Michigan. Born on January 20, 1929 in Ann Arbor he was the son of Donald and Josephine (Mercier) Mynning, younger brother of YeVonne (Joe) Clisham, Jacqueline (Jack) McGinn, Don Jr. (Margaret) and older brother of Jim Mynning, husband to Wilma (Alber), father of Rosemary (Tom) Downer and David, grandfather to Paul (Karen) Roberts and great-grandfather to Billy, Janie, and Sophie. In addition to his wife of 70 years he is survived by his sisters, children, grandson, great-grandchildren and many nephews and nieces.

Russ's long career in construction began in 1947 when he was employed in the building supply division at Ann Arbor Construction Company. Thirteen years later he accepted a managerial job with Rohde Brick and Supply Company. He retired from The University of Michigan's construction division in 1993. As he moved through the ranks in the construction industry he never lost sight of what it was like to work in the field and never asked his crews to do something he wouldn't do himself. Construction was also a significant part of Russ's personal life starting with the building of his and Wilma's first home in Scio Township and a cottage on Half Moon Lake. A larger house built on family land off Pratt Road replaced those earlier dwellings and was the site of many spirited gatherings for family, friends and neighbors. In 2009 Russ and Wilma sold their home and moved to the Cedars of Dexter.

Russ needed to be out of doors in all seasons. He could be found gardening, mushroom hunting, watching the birds and other wildlife and in earlier years, hunting and fishing. He devoted countless hours during the growing season to mowing six acres of lawn in addition to tending a large vegetable garden. During the winter he could be found behind the wheel of his truck plowing snow in the neighborhood. Russ's involvement in community service started early. At the urging of his father, he began his affiliation with the Knights of Columbus Ann Arbor Chapter when he was 18 years old, transferring his membership to the Dexter Council several decades later. Over the years Russ served as Navigator, Grand Knight, and District Deputy. He was an honorary life member of the Third and Fourth Degree. Russ was an active parishioner at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Dexter chairing the property commission which takes care of the church buildings and grounds. Russ was involved in Christmas in Action (formerly Christmas in April), a nonprofit agency that partners with members of the community to repair the homes of low income and/or disabled homeowners. "Neighbor helping neighbor" is the organization's motto which struck a chord with all who volunteered their time, labor and material. In retirement Russ delivered Meals on Wheels.

When he wasn't working he enjoyed playing card games with friends, attending music festivals and dances at Old German Park, Frankenmuth, Tri-County Sportsmen's League and other locations, but his true passion was woodcrafting. While he sold some of his crafts, most of his creations were given as gifts to friends and family members or donated for charity auctions and fundraisers. From bluebird houses to dollhouses, rocking horses to whimsical animals, model toy trains, planes, cars, and Santa's sleigh and reindeer, he took great pleasure in making and sharing them. Throughout his life Russ demonstrated his faith and values through actions and deeds. He was a quiet Christian, committed family man, proud patriot and most of all a good friend to all.

Mass of Christian Burial will be prayed at the St. Joseph Village Church, 3430 Dover St., Dexter, with Fr. Brendan J. Walsh presiding on Friday, February 23, 2018 at 11:00 a.m. Burial will follow at the St. Joseph Catholic Cemetery in Dexter. The family will receive friends at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home on Thursday from 4-8 p.m. with a Scripture Service and Chalice Ceremony starting at 7:00 p.m. Memorial contributions may be made to Christmas In Action or the charity of one's choice.

Marriage Notes for Sylvia Finkbeiner and Glenn Weber:

A lovely wedding took place in St. Paul's Church on Friday evening, April 21, 1944, at eight o'clock when Miss Sylvia Finkbeiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Finkbeiner, of Saline Township was united in marriage with Glenn O. Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weber, also of Saline Township. The bridal party formed before the altar which was lighted by four tapers and flanked by large candelabra, bouquets of snap-dragons and calla lilies, and palms. Rev. C. H. Wittbracht performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of guests.

The bride was charming in a floor length gown of white taffeta fashioned with long sleeves and sweetheart outlined yoke of net with high neck. Her veil of lace-edged tulle was held in place by a starched coronet, and she carried sheaf of white roses and snap-dragons. Doris Finkbeiner acted as her sister's maid of honor and wore an aqua dress of marquisette and carried a sheaf of pink roses and snapdragons. Two other, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Robert Dieterle and Violet Finkbeiner, served as bridesmaids and wore identical frocks of net over taffeta. Mrs. Dieterle's in yellow and Violet's in pink. Both carried tiny muffs of matching net studded with purple iris. All three attendants wore shoulder veils of matching colors held in place by lattice work caps fashioned of twisted tulle. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Elmer Cammet. Alwin Finkbeiner, cousin of the bride, and LeRoy Feldkamp, cousin of the groom, served as ushers. Little Shirley Harvey of Detroit, cousin of the bride, took her place as flower girl. The Lohengrin Wedding March was played by Mrs. Lucile Henderson, and Mrs. Basil Smith sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" before the ceremony.

A reception at which a three course luncheon was served by several ladies of the church with friends of the bride acting as waitresses was held in the church parlors for about 125 guests. For the wedding Mrs. Finkbeiner, mother of the bride, wore a blue suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Weber, the other mother, was also dressed in blue with black accessories and likewise wore a gardenia corsage on her shoulder. Both the bride and groom are graduates of the Saline High School. Marriage Notes for Doris Finkbeiner and David Gordon:

A lovely wedding took place on Friday evening, October 6, 1945, at St. Paul's Church when at eight o'clock Miss Doris Finkbeiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Finkbeiner of West Henry Street, and David Gordon of Saline Township, exchanged marriage vows before the altar banked by palms, seven-branched candelabra with tall white tapers and large baskets of dahlias and gladioli in fall colors. The Rev. Alvin Siemsen officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Before the hour of the wedding Mrs. Lucile Henderson, church organist, played wedding music and Erwin Schmid sang "Because." To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, preceded by her attendants. After the bridal party had formed at the altar Mr. Schmid sang "I Love You Truly." For her wedding the bride chose a white jersey gown with a sheer white marquisette inset outlined by pearl beading. Her finger-tip length veil was edged in white lace and was caught to a flowered headdress, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Her sister, Violet Finkbeiner, acted as maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of yellow net and carrying a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Sylvia Feldkamp, and Virginia Luckhardt were the bridesmaids, the former wearing a gown of blue net and carrying yellow roses, and the latter a pink marquisette gown with talisman roses. All the attendants wore matching flowers in their hair.

Little David Hack carried the rings on a white satin pillow, and Sharon Burleson was the flower girl, dressed in a long pink gown and carrying a basket of rose petals. They were the nephew and niece of the groom. Duane Robison served the groom as best man and ushers were Glen Weber, brother-in-law of the bride, and Dwight Carr. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Finkbeiner wore a tan flowered dress with brown accessories, and Mrs. Gordon, mother of the groom, wore a fuschia dress with black accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for about 150 guests coming from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Tecumseh and Saline. The tables were laid in white with white candles, the bride's table centered by a four-tiered wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon are graduates of the Saline High

April 25, 2002 - By Renee Lapham Collins Associate Editor In its "World Fact Book," the Central Intelligence Agency defines Cambodia as a "land of paddies and forests dominated by the Mekong River and Tonle Sap," with an estimated population of more than 12 million. The Southeast Asia country grabbed headlines in the 1960s and 1970s when U.S. involvement in Vietnam was at its peak, and in 1975 when more than a million people were killed by communist Khmer Rouge forces. After a 13-year war with its Vietnamese neighbors to the east, the United Nations intervened and helped Cambodians bring some sense of order to their chaotic government. Still, Cambodia is considered a third-world nation filled with poverty, disease, and a population with a life expectancy of less than 60 years. Many families, seeking a better life for their children, abandon them at orphanages, where they are sought for international adoption. Such an orphanage currently is the home of a 7-month-old girl that has been adopted by Diane and Richard Alber of York Township. The couple, already the parents of four grown children and grandparents as well, have been waiting since December to pick up the daughter they plan to call Malaya. "We received our approval September 12, and found out that the Embassy in Cambodia had received it," says Diane. "We thought, what a blessing, soon we'd get a referral. And on September 28, we did." But allegations of baby trafficking and reports of Cambodian women having their children stolen for sale internationally shook the INS, which already was reeling from the September 11 fallout, and delayed hundreds of foreign adoptions. "We should have had our decree and been able to go and pick her up since we had our approval long before December," says Diane. "But, things were at a standstill because of the Cambodian Embassy, and December 21, the INS called for a moratorium on U.S. families adopting children from Cambodia." The country is one of the most popular for prospective parents because adoptions reportedly are completed much more quickly than in other countries.

"Since the process isn't that long, we expected to have her soon," says Diane. The Albers are concerned for the health of their adopted daughter. In Cambodia, Diane explains, "once children are 8 years old, if they aren't adopted from the orphanages, they are turned out in the streets to try and make it on their own. "Many of the children in the orphanages are sick, malnourished, and need medical attention," she adds. Diane thought at first it was a case of the "empty nest" syndrome, but, once their four children were grown and on their own, "we had time to do other things besides raising children, but we felt like something was missing in our lives." She and Richard first considered adopting another child in 1998, but found that adopting a child from the U.S. was difficult. "We made many calls to many agencies to adopt, and finally I talked with a person that I knew had adopted a U.S. child," Diane recalls. "She told me that if she considered adoption again, she would pursue an international adoption. "Most of the children in the U.S. are bounced from foster home to foster home before they are placed into adoption. The wait was very long, and the cost overwhelming." Members of Fellowship Baptist Church, the Albers had seen a brochure tacked to the church's bulleting board about a meeting in which they could get more information on adopting a child from China. At that time, they decided the cost was "more than we could afford," but after investigating the possibilities of adopting a U.S. child, they turned again to the international scene. "We decided the Lord was leading us to reconsider China," says Diane. "We searched on the Internet and made many calls, and Finally found an agency." They attended a meeting, put in an application and continued with applying for the I-600-A orphan petition for International Adoption. The process is a long one, but it went smoothly for the Albers. "We didn't know where we would get the money to pursue this, but as time went on, the Lord started to provide income," Diane says. "My son hired me to work as a secretary for his carpet cleaning business, and we gave up our yearly vacation and a new car." As part of the adoption procedure, a social worker had to conduct a home study, and the Albers had to provide proof of income, marriage, birth certificates, and be fingerprinted and investigated by the FBI. "In July 1999, we received our approval to adopt, and our petition was sent to China in August," says Diane. "Then the wait began." Eight months later, the Albers received word that they would be able to adopt a little girl, and in May 2000, they traveled to China to pick up Shiyona, who now is 4. "She runs to every baby she sees," says Diane. "She was raised with a baby in China, and she misses her.

Richard decided that the Lord was again speaking to us to adopt another child, and we asked our social worker what she thought. "She said that if we did indeed adopt another child, we needed to choose a younger child since Shiyona is doing so well." ' Richard says he balked at adopting a child at first, because he felt they had raised their children, but soon changed his mind. Says Diane with a smile, "When we talked about adopting a second child, he was the one who wanted to do it and I was the one who was hesitating. Then, when we talked Richard woke me up one night and said that the Lord told him not to worry about his age. Richard felt it would be best for Shiyona to have a sister to grow up with." Since hearing that their decree has been held up, Diane and Richard have been "faxing, e-mailing, and calling our senators and congressmen. "Some of them are members of the adoption coalition," she says. "Senator Carl Levin is one of them. Senator Debbie Stabenow's office also has been involved in trying to help the families proceed to bring their children home to the U.S." Some families are receiving their decrees, including several who were on the waiting list behind the Albers. In particular, Diane points to actress Angelina Jolie, who with, her husband, Billy Bob Thornton, picked up her adopted Cambodian child while on a location shoot for a new movie in Africa. Jolie starred in The Bone Collector and Lara Croft: Tomb Raider. According to an article published by the Associated Press, Cambodia is the ninth largest source of foreign babies adopted by Americans, with upward of 100 children each month being picked up by their new American parents. Diane, who continues to work with their son for Authentic Cleaning, was born and raised in Milan. Her father, Charles Woolcott, was a barber. Richard grew up on a farm in York Township—in fact, the Albers live on property that once belonged to Richard's parents. He graduated from Saline High School with a number of record-breaking performances in track, and now works for Russell Finch and Sons Trucking in Milan. Diane says that she and Richard have a friendly rivalry when the Big Reds and the Hornets face off in prep sports. Three of their children were in the Milan High band program, their youngest attended Saline Schools, and their granddaughters have been involved in Milan swimming. "We really have been blessed," she says. "We love each of our children and grand-children."

The Albers hope to go to Cambodia and bring their new daughter, 7-month-old Malaya, home. children dearly," The Albers have been in touch with a number of other families who are in the same boat—with children awaiting them in Cambodian orphanages. Already, some of them have marched on Washington, D.C. in hopes of expediting the process. In March, the INS announced that dozens of parents who had been waiting for their adopted children could see the paperwork finalized by April. Diane and Richard are hopeful that they will be among those who will finally get their "visa appointment" in Cambodia, the last step before they receive the INS immigration visa for their daughter. A second march is being planned for May, depending on the outcome of the latest announcement. Diane says that she would be willing to go to Washington and be part of the second march because she feels that the INS and state department have not been consistent or fair in determining which children will be allowed to leave the country with new adoptive parents and which will remain behind. "We can only pray that our government is listening to the pleas of other parents and that all the families who are involved in this situation will be allowed to proceed. "The government can change the process later if it needs to be changed, but right now, these children need to be allowed to come home." Diane says she 'and Richard could have adopted another child from China, but age requirements would not allow them to receive a child younger than Shiyona. So they continue to wait. "In our hearts, we feel that these children need families, love, and homes to call their own," says Diane of the Albers' decision to adopt Shiyona and Malaya. "We feel that if we would not have been led to adopt, Shiyona might not have had this opportunity. To hear her say that she loves family and that she has said those words so many times is just awesome. "Having Shiyona has been nothing less than a blessing—we have enjoyed every moment. "The truth is, we are the ones that have received the blessing and our lives would not have seen this kind of joy if we hadn't been led to adopt Shiyona."

2489. Oscar (Mike)⁹ Alber, Jr. (Oskar Michael (Miles)⁸, Michael Friedrich⁷, Michael⁶, Christina Margaretha⁵ Heimerdinger, Johannes⁴, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 05 May 1931 in Salem Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 30 Jan 2023 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan. He married Joanne (Sue) Pappas 25 Sep 1955. She was born 12 Aug 1936.

Notes for Oscar (Mike) Alber, Jr.:

Oscar Junior Alber "Mike" born May 5, 1931 in Salem Township, the son of the late Oscar and the late Louise (nee' Hertler) Alber, and the younger brother of the late Elberta (Combs) and the late Geraldine (McGarry). Died Jan . 30, 2023. Mike attended Salem Townline a one-room schoolhouse and worked on the farm with his parents, a habit he continued to a lesser degree well into his retirement. He said he "worked as an electrician to support his farming habit"! Oscar "Mike" served in Korea from January 1953 until Jan 1955, as an Artillery Survey Specialist in the 623rd Field Artillery Battalion. At 24 years of age and happy to be home from Korea he met Joanne Pappas, age 19, on a blind date and they were married September 25, 1955, the couple had just celebrated 67 years!

In April of 1957 Mike completed the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Apprenticeship. Mike was a farmer by birth, self-taught mechanic, carpenter, plumber, roofer, beekeeper, wine maker, pilot, storyteller, machinist, welder and engineer. He was an Army-taught surveyor and a Union taught Electrician. He saw what others could not see, from the sky, in the earth, in metal and in wood. Always making and doing things that others said could not be done. While most people are drawn to either ideas, people or things, Mike understood people, and restored, invented and improved things and explained his ideas usually by drawing a diagram on a napkin.

Mike and Sue threw enormous parties from lobster boils to breakfast on the woodstove in a snowstorm. Mike and Sue were members of the Washtenaw Model T club, the "Washten-Naughties" and had fun getting together and joining in parades. They were also members of the BMW Motorcycle family, and the BMW "Airheads" and had years of adventures on their bike, across the country and the continent, and even across Costa Rica (!!) on BMW's with their friends. When it came time to put the bike away they got out their little Airstream Bambi and continued their adventures. Mike had an answer for everything, there wasn't anything he couldn't do, and he always had a project going on! Mike always had a story to tell, with a beer in hand! There were always folks just dropping by, and usually there was a gang in the shop, because that is where Mike was, doing something interesting!

He is survived by his wife Joanne "Sue", his children, David, Carrie (DeJonghe) and George Albercook, 9 grandchildren, 7 great grandchildren, 2 great-great grandchildren.

Visitation for Mike will be Sunday, February 5, from 4:00 PM until 7:00 PM. A graveside service will be 2:30 PM, Monday, February 6, 2023 at Washtenong Memorial Park with Military Honors under the Auspices of the Veteran's Honor Guard of Washtenaw County.

2518. Jeanne Elizabeth⁹ Galster (Roxy M.⁸ Parrish, Karolina (Carrie)⁷ Kaercher, Katharina⁶ Graf, Christina Katharina⁵ Heimerdinger, Gottfried⁴, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 10 Sep 1917 in Michigan, and died 04 Jul 2017 in Petoskey, Emmet Co, Michigan. She married William A. (Duke) Doherty 22 Jun 1946 in Emmet Co, Michigan. He was born 12 Oct 1914 in Petoskey, Emmet Co, Michigan, and died 25 Aug 1990 in Petoskey, Emmet Co, Michigan.

Notes for Jeanne Elizabeth Galster:

Jeanne Doherty died July 4, 2017 at the Hiland Cottage. Until mid-March of this year she had been living on her own in her two-story house. She was born nearly a century earlier, on September 10, 1917. Her parents were Charles and Roxy Parrish Galster, and they preceded her in death. Her husband, William A. "Duke" Doherty preceded her as well.

She is survived by her son Patrick (Karen) Doherty and daughter, Constance Doherty, all of Petoskey. Additional survivors include her grandchildren Colin Doherty, and Lauren (Tim) Myers, and great-grandchildren Jack Campbell and Zane Myers, also all of Petoskey. Jeanne was born in Petoskey, and graduated from Petoskey High School in 1934.

Upon graduation, she embarked on a train trip with her three aunts that went to the west coast and into Mexico as far as Mexico City. This sparked her interest in travel. Later, she went to Spain, England, Ireland, and Scotland with her husband. That fall she went to the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts, now called the Center for Creative Studies and later obtained a degree in interior design. Returning to Petoskey, she worked at various jobs. These years were high-lighted by skiing down Eddie's Hills' east of town, and dance parties atop the dunes at the Petoskey Bathing Beach, now the Petoskey State Park. During the war, she returned to Detroit and worked at the United Artists' film building. She married Duke Doherty in Detroit on June 22, 1946.

Jeanne was a very generous person. Even when money was tight, she gave all she could to anyone who needed help. She loved all animals (except of course, snakes), but especially dogs and English setters were her absolute favorite. She also loved gardening, going to the beach, dinners with family or friends, and reading. She also loved Petoskey and often mentioned how lucky she was to live here.

At her request, there will be no funeral. Anyone wishing to make a charitable donation is asked to consider the Charlevoix or Cheboygan Humane Societies or the Salvation Army.

Notes for Ricardo Dean (Rick) Wells:

Ricardo "Rick" Dean Wells, 51, of Charles City, Iowa died Monday, November 27, 2017 at his home. Rick was born on June 22, 1966 in Charles City, Iowa to Roger and Janice (Staebler) Wells. He graduated from Charles City High School and resided in Charles City for most of his lifetime. On February 14, 2003, he was united in marriage to his best friend and soul mate, Deb (Shreve) Wells. Rick worked in food production at All States Quality Foods and more recently worked for Sparboe Foods in New Hampton before becoming ill. Although his pancreatic cancer diagnosis became terminal, Rick never stopped fighting up until his last breath.

He was a loving and giving person; he preached love over everything. Rick was a quiet and private person but didn't hesitate to speak up about things that were of importance to him. His passion in life was music, which got him through anything. Rick also enjoyed spending time with family camping and fishing. One of his favorite things to do was to go to different restaurants and try new kinds of food with his wife Deb. A hobby Rick loved for years and continued doing until the end of his life was making model cars. He grew up going to lots of car shows with his parents who restored cars and began replicating different models. He won many ribbons for different contests he entered. Every car he made was designed himself, nothing came from a kit. Rick will be remembered by his loved ones for his great sense of humor and kind heart. He is survived by his wife, Deb Wells of Charles City; Daughter in his heart, Natasha Mumford; brother, Ron Wells of Charles City; sister, Robin Lawrence of Floyd; many nieces and nephews and many great-nieces and great-nephews. He was preceded in death by his mother, Janice Wells.

A Memorial Service will be held at 11:00 am with a one-hour prior visitation on Saturday, December 2, 2017 at Fullerton-Hage Funeral Home, 401 Blunt Street, Charles City with Pastor Dan Larson officiating. In memory of Rick, the family requests those in attendance to please dress casual and wear your favorite comic book t-shirt or music t-shirt. In expression of sympathy, memorials may be directed to Deb Wells, 512 3rd Avenue, Charles City, Iowa 50616. Fullerton Hage Funeral Home and Cremation Services, 401 Blunt Street, Charles City, Iowa.

Notes for Jerry Stephen Groesbeck:

April 10, 1975 - A $250,000 malpractice suit has been filed in district court against two physicians in connection with the death of a Cedar Falls woman. Plaintiff in the suit is Jerry Groesbeck of 2311 Sumac Ave., Cedar Falls, administrator of the estate of Brenda Groesbeck, who died in April, 1973, at University Hospitals in Iowa City.

Named as defendants are Dr. John G. Napier of 2603 Rainbow Dr., Cedar Falls, and former Cedar Falls physician, Richard Bondi, now residing in Davenport. According to the petition, both doctors are charged with negligence in failing to properly diagnose and treat Mrs. Groesbeck while a patient at Sartori Memorial Hospital, Cedar Falls. She was admitted to the hospital April 3, 1973, complaining of pain in the lower abdominal area. She was treated and released on April 9, but continued to suffer pain and discomfort, the petition states. She was readmitted to Sartori Memorial Hospital April 15, and transferred to University Hospitals April 16. She died in Iowa City the following day, according to the petition.

Death was attributed to septicemia, a type of infection, the plaintiff alleges. Drs. Napier and Bondi are accused of negligence in failing to monitor the vital signs of the patient, failure to properly diagnose and treat the infection and failure to promptly readmit her after initial treatment.

He married Inez Edrie Craig 31 Aug 1940 in St. Francis, Kansas. She was born 30 Oct 1923, and died 06 Jan 2009 in Colorado.

Notes for Lloyd Ernest Payne:

Lloyd Earnest Payne was born January 24, 1919 at Cope, Colorado to Thomas and Dorothy (Kettenring) Payne. He grew up on his parent's farm and attended school at East Arickaree country school where he graduated from the eighth grade. As he grew older, he became part of the Payne Family Country Dance Band, playing drums and guitar. The Band traveled all over parts of Eastern Colorado playing for dances and other entertainments.

At one of the dances, he met Inez Edrie Craig and they started dating. They were married on August 31, 1940 in St. Francis, Kansas. In 1941 they rented the Riley place in the Arickaree community, and later was able to buy it. Their four children were born while they lived there. They kept up the farm, raising crops, milking cows, raising chickens, having a big vegetable garden, the usual things that keep a small farm going. They weathered dust storms, droughts, hail storms, blizzards, lightning storms, etc. At that time the small farms in that area had no running water, phone or electricity.

In 1944, Lloyd was drafted into the Army Air Corps where he was trained to be an aircraft mechanic. In 1946, he was honorably discharged, returned to Colorado and they resumed their farming. They were members of the Sunnysdale Church and when the new church (the present day one) was build, Lloyd was one of the men helping with the construction. They often worked into the night using car lights to finish up a certain area.

In the fall of 1954, Inez suffered a heart attack that seemed to baffle the doctors as to treatment (no modern day medicine or treatments at that time). Finally the doctors recommended a lower altitude with a warmer climate, so they chose Arizona. They sold most of their belongings at an auction and with their four children, moved to Tempe, Arizona.

Because of his aircraft mechanic training in the service, Lloyd was able to secure a good job with (Airesearch) Garrett Corporation in Phoenix, Arizona where he worked for 26 years. When he retired in 1981, he and Inez sold their home in Tempe and moved to Green Valley, Arizona where they lived for 6 years. Living in Arizona during the winter and Flagler during the summer became quite a hassle so they decided to sell their place in Green Valley and make Flagler their permanent home. They purchased the McBride house where they lived for twenty years.

Staying retired didn't last long for Lloyd. He worked for Norman Michal driving tractor during the summer. Then he was offered a part-time job driving truck for Colorado Birdseed Company. That turned into a full-time job for 9 ½ years. Because of failing eyesight, he had to retire once again.

Lloyd and Inez celebrated 65 years of marriage in August, 2005 with a reception that was arranged by their four children. The highlight of the day was the amateur photography session before the reception. It was a great day for remembering with family and friends. It was also the first time that the immediate family had all been together since Lloyd and Inez's 50th anniversary celebration.

Lloyd was a member of the American Legion Post 81 and the Blinded Veterans Association. In January, 2011, Lloyd's membership in the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) was approved and in February, with his four children, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren present, he was inducted into the organization.

Lloyd passed away August 31, 2014 at Colorado Springs. Lloyd is preceded in death by his wife Inez, his parents Thomas and Dorothy Payne, his brothers Lawrence, Lee, Ray, Cecil, Thomas Jr. and his sisters Mary and Baby Girl Payne. He is survived by four children: Lola Eileen Brinkmeier, Lloyd Earnest Jr. and his wife Karen, Lois Elaine and Leslie Eugene. He is also survived by one sister, Fern Welch; one brother-in-law Marvin Craig and his wife Joan; one sister-in-law Margaret Meyers; and many nieces and nephews.

Graveside services were at the Flagler Cemetery with the American Legion color guard assisting. Interment was also at the Flagler Cemetery. Memorials may be given to the Flagler Ambulance Service.

He and Fern Payne were united in marriage on Aug. 4, 1938, and six children were born to this union. They lived a wonderful life on a farm 13 miles south of Otis after Ronald served in the United States Navy during World War II. Ronald and Fern moved to Sterling in November of 1968, where Ronald continued working in the Sterling U.S. Post Office. Ronald was active in the Otis and Sterling Presbyterian Churches serving in many different offices. He was also on the board of the Council on Aging. He was a true servant, taking Meals-on-Wheels to shut-ins, and providing transportation in his motor home for anyone who wanted to go dancing.

Among the many interests Ronald had were reading, fishing, dancing, camping, woodworking, playing cards, and telling stories. Each of his family members has received a memory or gift from these interests, but mostly, they were given his gift of love. Ronald was known for his love of children and knew all his grandchildren and great-grandchildren by name, even when his health was failing.

He is survived by his dedicated and faithful wife, Fern. They would have celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary this Aug. 4. Notes for Monte Everett McCann:

Monte E. McCann, 44, 610 20th St. S., escaped serious injury late Tuesday night June 24, 1975 when his station wagon sideswiped a semi-tractor and trailer while attempting to pass the unit on Mehmke Hill about 10 miles east of Great Falls on U.S. Highway 87-89. Investigating highway patrolmen said that after the two vehicles made contact McCann lost control of his car which swerved off the highway into a ditch and flipped onto its top. McCann was taken to Deaconess Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries and released. The driver of the semi unit, Robert S. Meade, 46, 1016 7th Ave. S., was not injured. The accident remains under investigation.

Great Falls - On August the 28th, 2016, Monte Everett McCann, the greatest pilot to ever fly the skies made his final flight check, and flew peacefully into the clear skies above. That day, as Monte would say, was "good flyin' weather." A Graveside Service will be held on Saturday, September 10, 1:00 PM at Sun River Montana.

On August the 28th, 2016, the greatest pilot to ever fly the skies made his final flight check, and flew peacefully into the clear skies above. That day, as Monte would say, was "good flyin' weather." A Graveside Service will be held on Saturday, September 10, 1:00 PM at Sun River Cemetery, Montana. Monte E. McCann, son of Everett and Olive McCann, was born in Cameron, Missouri on January the 23rd, 1931. Growing up during the great depression and World War II, Monte struggled along with his family to make ends meet. In grammar school, he milked cows for 15¢ a cow every morning. With things being difficult in those days, Monte would fondly recall the day he had his first real soda pop, an Orange Crush when he was eight years old. In the summer he would pack several horses with the family hunting gear all the way from Vaughn, Montana to the Rocky Mountain Front, setting up camp for his dad and uncles in preparation for the yearly hunting trip.

Throughout high school, Monte maintained the reputation as the wild one in the family. Stories of his escapades echo to this day in the halls of Sims High, where he was class president in 1949. When he was 16, Monte began flight training, and soloed that year. This began a long career of flying the skies as a commercial pilot. In 1953, Monte, along with his best buddy and brother-in-law, John Yurko, took the airframe and power plant course through the Northrup Aeronautical Institute. Monte logged nearly 20,000 hours of flight time in many different aircraft. One of the highlights of a long flying career was his duty flying parts and personnel during the Cold War missile construction. He was a favorite of the Two Star General in charge, who chose him as his personal pilot, instead of the Air force pilots on site. He also loved signing on during the fire season, flying the fires and carrying smoke jumpers to their locations. After high school, Monte enlisted in the Air National Guard. In 1951, as the War in Korea fired up, Monte received, by registered mail, his notice of activation to the regular Air Force. For two years he served on active duty as the crew chief on a P-51 Mustang at George Air Force training base in California. Monte was humble about his service, but in late life he became a proud member of the American Legion.

In 1953, Monte met the love of his life Lorraine, and they were married on September 19th, that same year. Monte and Lorraine went through many trials. They were in it to the end, spending 63 years together in marriage. Lorraine was his one true love and best friend to the end. Together Monte and Lorraine had four children: Michael (Bonnie), Kathleen Harvey (Cody), Steven (Felicia) and Kelly (Magnolia). He was intensely proud of his children and all of their accomplishments. His grandchildren and great-grandchildren owned his whole heart. Monte passed peacefully by natural causes, surrounded by his Wife and his children. Monte is preceded in death by his son and buddy Steven "Bug" McCann, and his little brother Paul McCann and his parents.

Monte is survived by his wife Lorraine; daughter, Kathy; sons, Michael and Kelly; 13 grandchildren, 13 great- grandchildren; sisters, Sally Remy and Carolyn (Jerry) Banek; brother, Leon (Linda) McCann; sister-in-law's, Bonnie Yurko, Helen Lee, Lois Thayer, and numerous nieces and nephews.

When asked how many miles he had flown he answered " Oh probably over a million. And they were all real good miles".

Notes for Lorraine Janet Thayer:

Lorraine Janet McCann, wife, mother, sister, aunt and friend. On March the ninth, 1935, a snowstorm hit the Highwood mountains, and the doctor barely made it to the ranch in time to bring baby Lorraine into the world. Born the last of five children to Burton and Lida Thayer, Lorraine spent her early years in Kalispell Montana, where her father worked during the Great Depression. Later the family moved to Great Falls where she attended Great Falls High School, graduating in the class of 1953. That summer Lorraine met the love of her life, Monte, and after a whirlwind romance, they were married on September 19th of that year.

The early years of their marriage were a busy time for the new McCann family. Their oldest son, Michael, was born in August, 1954. The following year Monte and Lorraine, along with Lorraine's sister Bonnie and brother-in-law John Yurko packed up their young families and headed to Long Beach California, where Monte and John attended the Northrop Institute together. While in California, daughter Kathleen joined the family. Back in Great falls, Lorraine worked several jobs as Monte worked aircraft maintenance while training to be a commercial pilot. During this time, Lorraine discovered she had a talent for bookkeeping, which became her career. 1961 brought son Steven, followed by son Kelly in 1968.

After many years in Billings, Montana, Lorraine and Monte retired back to Great Falls, where Lorraine enjoyed her time spent with family and friends. The later years of Lorraine's life were some of her happiest, and she and Monte found that time only deepened their bond. On that summer day, back in 1953, they swore they were in it to the end, and they were. After just shy of 63 years of marriage, as she held his hand, Monte left Lorraine on August 28, 2016. In the early hours of April 14th, 2017, it was her time, and Monte came for her, helping her slip away peacefully in her sleep.

Lorraine is preceded in death by Monte, her son Steven, sister Margery Thompson, and her brother Gerald Thayer. She is survived by her son Michael (Bonnie) McCann, daughter Kathy (Cody) Harvey, son Kelly (Magnolia) McCann, sisters Helen Lee and Bonnie Yurko, ten grandchildren, eleven Great grandchildren, and nephews and nieces galore.

At her request, no services will be held, only a small dedication at Her and Monte's resting place attended by her children. Lorraine rests with Monte and extended McCann family in the Sun River cemetery in Sun River, Montana.

2781. Charles Carter⁹ Baker, Jr. (Ruth Mildred⁸ Boyer, Mary Ann⁷ Stabler, George⁶, Johann Ulrich⁵ Staebler, Anna Katharina⁴ Heimerdinger, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 26 Jul 1939 in Oregon. He married Carroll Ann Mincks Aft. 1962. She was born 1944.

Notes for Charles Carter Baker, Jr.:

My Dad, Charles Carter Baker (Chuck, Sonny, Papa Kahn) was born July 26, 1939 to Charlie Carter Baker and Ruth Mildred Boyer Baker. He was their third child and only son. At age six, he fell from a slide, acquiring a head injury that left him with epilepsy. From a very young age, he determined to be a Christian. He shunned wrong doing and devoted his life to church work and godly living. That didn't stop him from being fun loving and adventurous. He had several girlfriends before he met my mother, Carrol Ann Mincks. He has a terrible memory due to his epilepsy and so I don't know his first recollections very well, but I've heard lots of stories. According to my mom, he was engaged once before he met my mother and one stunt he did to impress his "other" girl was to do flips around the bar that extends off a telephone pole. He was a bit wild with his "adventures". He would take any dare. He tried to swim across the rapidly flowing Rogue River, and ended up in the middle of the river with cramps. He did death defying dives. He was party to pranks and other fun loving displays. He terrorized his younger sister, Darlene like his son, my brother David did years later to me.

My dad was named after my grandfather, Charlie Carter Baker. We didn't realize his name wasn't Charles until he passed away and grandma found his birth certificate with Charlie printed on it. Charlie was from Texas. I believe I still have cousins there.

Grandma Ruth was from Pennsylvania. I don't know how she and Gramps met up. I do know that her maiden name was Baer, but her family changed it to Boyer so they wouldn't seem so German after the atrocities were exposed in WWII. Grandma was the only grandmother I knew. She was always busy. She and Grandpa would snore in chorus, one breathing in while the other breathed out. She was brisk and not overly affectionate, but I knew I was loved. She made fudge and other Christmas candies, carrot jello, Salisbury steak and always had hard candy available. I loved searching through her drawers and finding treasures. She would give one quick hard hug whenever she greeted us or said goodbye. She would stand on the porch whenever we would leave her home in Grants Pass, Oregon and would wave until we were out of sight. My grandparents both lived to be in their 80's. My aunt Pearl passed away when she was 18 years old in a fatal car accident that took several other lives as well. She was riding with her friend's family as they headed out for a picnic. A dairy truck, causing Pearl, her friend's brother and his wife and a few of their children to die hit them. Her friend, Leta Olsen and her niece, Sharon survived, I'm not sure who else. Dad doesn't remember his sister much.

Charlie Carter Baker and Ruth Naomi Baker had four children, Neoma Joli, Pearl Baker, Charles Carter Baker, and Darlene Haberman.

Dad and mom were married just a few short years, my sisters Annie and Penny were little girls and Dad wanted healing from his epilepsy. He had prayed over the years for God to intervene and to take away his ailment. He did all he could think to, but never received healing. He was unable to drive a car and wasn't able to do certain jobs. My Dad is a poet and his experience I am going to share with you is best read in his poem, "It was the night before Christmas". I'll have to get a copy of that and type it in. But, in my words, it was the night before Christmas. Dad was tired of trying to get God to heal him. He put his medicine on the chest and just told God how he was feeling. He normally had his seizures at night. That night, he laid down in his bed and he felt that seizure coming on. He has told me that he felt God draw a line, and that seizure never came. I never knew my dad as an epileptic. He is a car hog, hardly ever letting my mom drive their new fancy wheels. His job is crane operator. For years he was the Sunday school bus superintendent, participating and over bus driving schedules.

Notes for Andrew Walter Stabler, Jr.:

Andrew W. Stabler Jr., who rose from clerk at The Grit, which billed itself as "America's Greatest Family Newspaper," to president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Association while providing generous support to his family and community, died on Tuesday. He was 86. He died of heart failure in his home in Montoursville. Stabler's strong Christian ethics defined his life and guided his business practices, extensive donations and volunteer work. He served on the board of the American Rescue Workers and for many years volunteered as a chaplain in the Susquehanna Health System. He was an active member of Community Baptist Church in Montoursville, and in the past had served as an elder there.

His business savvy enabled him to guide the Grit through years of growth, until he became President of its publishing company and Lamco Communications. Later, he served as chair of the Christian Businessmen's Committee and president of Williamsport's Industrial Management Club. While making careful management decisions, Stabler also freely gave his time and money to innumerable worthy causes. His family, friends and city remember him for endless generosity. Stabler was born on Dec. 1, 1926. After graduating from Montoursville High School, he entered the Air Force and joined the occupying troops in Italy at the end of World War II. When he returned home, he earned a business administration degree from Bucknell University.

His survivors include his wife of 62 years, Dorothy Ulmer Stabler of Montoursville; his sons, Dr. Craig Stabler in Williamsport, Kurt Stabler in Dunn, North Carolina, and Kevin Stabler in Bolivia; his daughter, Sandra Stabler Diehl in Park City, Utah; his sister, Edna Strouble in Montoursville; 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A memorial service to celebrate Andrew's life will be held on Friday, May 31 at 6 p.m. at Community Baptist Church, Rt. 87, Montoursville, with Pastor Michael E. Wright officiating. Friends will be received following the service in the church foyer. In lieu of flowers, the family request that memorials be made to Ministry to Missionaries, 145 Dohl Road, Berwick, Pennsylvania 18603, for its Bolivia School Project or the missions fund at Community Baptist Church, Route 87, Montoursville, Pennsylvania 17754. These should be made In Memory of Andrew W. Stabler. Arrangements are by Spitler Funeral Home, Montoursville.

During that time he also served one term (6 years) as Superintendent of the York District. While superintendent, the concept of the York United Methodist Home was conceived and initial steps taken to implement this dream into what is today the Normandie Ridge Retirement Home. He also oversaw the founding and organization of the Hispanic United Methodist Congregation in York. He retired in 1995 but served as an Interim Pastor at Second United Church of Christ, Harrisburg, for two years and as pastor of Stevens Memorial United Methodist Church for three years. Rev. For eight years he managed the Eastern Mission Residence in Camp Hill which serves as temporary homes for missionaries who are itinerating in eastern U.S. In various committees where he served, Rev. Springman was involved in student ministries associated with universities located nearby. He also was active in local ministerial groups and ecumenical councils of churches. In his last pastorate at Stevens Memorial, Harrisburg, he was instrumental in bringing into the building the Governor Leader's Computer Classes and the Center for Champions, (an after-school tutoring program). When the Stevens congregation disbanded he oversaw the transition of the property to the Spanish congregation, Stevens Emmanuel. Rev. Springman was an avid handyman, taking pride in caring not only for his own home but in overseeing building and improvement projects in neighbors' and friends' homes as well. While living in Cedar City, Utah, she was preceded in death by her husband in the winter of 1973. She enjoyed old friends, travel, and meeting new people. She began teaching alpine skiing at Brian Head, Utah. That work and a desire to experience city life, led her to Salt Lake City, Utah where she taught skiing at Park City. Connie was an avid reader with a great love of learning. Many charitable organizations have been grateful for her generous support. She was a good friend and kept in touch with many folks she had enjoyed throughout her life. Family was first for Connie and she always felt lucky to have spent good time with her four grandsons and seven great grandchildren. Connie often expressed gratitude for the spouses who joined the family along the way. Her great presence and beautiful smile will be missed by all who called her Connie, Mom, Grandma, Goldie, and friend.

To reflect and celebrate her life, there will be two separate gatherings of family and friends. One will be held in Salt Lake City on March 17. Summer will find her family traveling to Montoursville, Pennsylvania where she will rest in a cemetery with her husband, mother and father. In lieu of flowers, Connie wanted donations made to the hurricane relief fund for the island of Anguilla, BWI. She loved the many friends she made there and it was her favorite travel destination. A reputable charity is Anguilla Progressive Association of New York Inc.

She married Dean Alan (Moose) Moosman, son of Ernest Moosman and Belle Simmons. He was born 29 Oct 1932, and died 14 Apr 2005 in Maumee, Lucas Co, Ohio.

Notes for Dean Alan (Moose) Moosman:

The "Dean" of bowling in Northwest Ohio, Dean A. Moosman, died at 72, on Friday, April 15th, 2005, at St. Luke's Hospital, Maumee. To list Mr. Moosman's accomplishments on the bowling lanes would fill a scrapbook, or two, as evidenced by his induction into the Toledo, 1978, Bowling Green and Ohio (both 1992) Halls of Fame. In addition to his talents on the lanes, he was a respected businessman. In the summer of 1977 he purchased Varsity Lanes in Bowling Green and operated that center until August of 2004: until 1984 with his partner, Darell Ducat.

As a proprietor, "Moose" as he was known throughout the state and beyond was well respected and earned recognition nationally with an article written in "Bowling Center Management" in January of 2000. Also, the Bowling Green Bowling Association honored him with a distinguished Service Award.

As a 15 year member of the Professional Bowler's Association, Moose earned three top 20 finishes in the PBA event held in Toledo, including a ninth and 10th place finish. As a proprietor he hosted one of the highest paying PBA regional events in the nation. The regional also included the largest Special Olympics Pro-Am event in the country. Other individual accomplishments include winning the Ohio State Match Game title and two Ohio Majors championships.

More than individual honors, he liked to focus on team accomplishments. In that respect, he also excelled as captain of the Reeb Funeral Home team, he earned more than 10 traveling classic league titles. The team also recorded what at the time was the Toledo record team series as well as being second in the nation.

In 1994, Moose established the career pinfall record in the Classic league. He continued adding to that record establishing a mark that may never fall.

The "team" man was also part of two different teams that established city records in Bowling Green for team high game, and later for team high series, as he led the later with a 781 set in the Champion of champions tournament.

The Reeb team also won the Ohio Match Game championship in 1975. Mr. Moosman was also part of two national Elks tournament championships. He also earned numerous city championship titles in Toledo and Bowling Green, as well as other numerous tournaments honors.

Age did not slow him down. Just prior to his death he rolled a 652 in the singles event at the American Bowling Congress tournament being conducted at Baton Rouge, LA. That was his 39th consecutive appearance in the tournament where he earned a better than 200 average. In 1992, the Reeb team won the ABC team all events title. Though not one to brag about his accomplishments, he was rather proud of the fact that he had earned a no-hitter in baseball, a hole in one in golf and a perfect 300 game of bowling. (The legend was born). From the first time he picked up a bowling ball in 1949 until the last time he rolled a ball down the lanes, he was a success, earning at least one title in six consecutive decades. More importantly, Moose was known as a gentleman and a class act. "Whatever I did, baseball, basketball, golf or bowling, I've always wanted to be good at what I do," Mr. Moosman told a reporter in 1992 at his induction into the state hall of fame. "I wanted to be the best that I could be, so I gave it my best shot"

He certainly did. Dean was an Army Veteran of the Korean War. He was a member of the Elks. He is survived by Arlene (Kazmaier) Moosman; son, Jamison Moosman; daughter, Dana (Gordon) Andrews of Perrysburg and a grandson, Collin Andrews. He was preceded in death by his parents, Ernest C. and Belle (Simmons) Moosman and a brother, Robert Moosman.

Friends may call at the Maison-Dardenne-Walker Funeral Home, 501 Conant St., Maumee on Tuesday April 19, 2005 from 2-5 and 7-9 p.m. Memorial contributions may be made to Toledo-Northwestern Ohio Food Bank, 24 E. Notes for Richard W. (Dick) Kazmaier, Jr.:

Dick Kazmaier - As a 155-pound fifth team tailback on the 1948 Princeton University freshman football team, Dick Kazmaier was lightly regarded by the Tigers' head varsity coach, Charlie Caldwell, who felt he was "too small for varsity athletics."

At the time, Caldwell, a legendary Princeton coach, had not yet been able to discern Dick's determination, competitiveness or burgeoning talent as a football player. But Caldwell soon came to appreciate those qualities as Dick developed into one of Princeton's greatest players, who, as a senior in 1951, would lead the nation in total offense, be selected to the All-America team, named the Associated Press male athlete of the year and awarded the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player in the country.

One of the last of the outstanding triple-threat backs, skilled at running, passing and punting, he is perhaps remembered best for his elusiveness as a runner. But as a senior he also led the nation in passing efficiency while completing 123 passes for 960 yards and 13 touchdowns as he led Princeton to its second straight undefeated season and the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the best college football team in the East.

Drafted by the Chicago Bears of the National Football League, Dick bypassed professional football, electing instead to get a Master's Degree in business at Harvard. Following three years in the U.S. Navy as an officer, he began a long business career, which included the presidency of Kazmaier Associates, a marketing and financial services company based in Boston. In addition, he served as trustee at Princeton, as chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports under presidents Ronald Reagan and George Bush, as a director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, and as a member of the executive committee of the American Red Cross and the Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.

A native of Maumee, Ohio, Dick was named Princeton's Football Player of the Century and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1966. As to the Heisman Trophy, he once said, "I don't think of it as something I did. I think of it as something we did as a group. I have two requests that I make when I say my prayers, which I do daily. One is to accomplish, and one is to contribute." Dick Kazmaier has done both in extraordinary fashion.

The Untamable Tiger - Sunday October 22, 2000 8:08 PM by Molly Moore – CNN Sports Illustrated:

On Oct. 27, 1951, undefeated Cornell, one of the best teams in the country, visited Princeton's Palmer Stadium to take on the also unbeaten but underdog Tigers. Cornell coach Lefty James had spent an entire year developing strategies to defend Princeton All-America back Dick Kazmaier. "Stop Kazmaier," James theorized, "and you stop Princeton."

But Kazmaier was too much for the coach's machinations. The triple-threat tailback threw for three touchdowns and ran in two more to lead Princeton to a 53-15 victory. He completed 15 of 17 passes (88.2%, still a Princeton record) for 236 yards. His 124 yards rushing gave him 360 overall, a Tigers record that stood for 30 years.

After the game, James sorrowfully concluded it was "the greatest one-man performance" he had ever seen. A performance that went a long way toward Kazmaier winning the 1951 Heisman Trophy as the best player in the land. "My approach was fairly routine," Kazmaier says. "I tried to look at every game the same and prepare the same way." Led by "Kaz," the Tigers went undefeated in 1950 and '51, winning a major- college-record 22 straight from his sophomore year to the end of his senior season. The 1950 offense averaged 38.8 points per game, still a school record. In '51, Princeton ranked sixth nationally and won the Lambert Trophy as the best in the East.

This was a far cry from Kazmaier's humble beginnings as a third-team tailback on Princeton's freshman squad. Coach Charlie Caldwell thought the 5-11 Kazmaier, then 155 pounds, "was too small for varsity athletics." Kazmaier didn't gain Caldwell's full confidence until the third game of his sophomore season, when he completed 8 of 12 passes, averaged nine yards per carry and scored both Tiger touchdowns in a 14-13 loss to Pennsylvania.

Kazmaier was a star from then on, fooling defenses with his equally effective passing, running and punting. He was accurate throwing on the run and completed 123 passes for 960 yards and 13 touchdowns his Heisman season. He was also a skilled rusher, changing pace and direction quickly. "They may stop Kazmaier from passing, they may stop him from running, but they can't do both," Caldwell said.

Kazmaier led the nation in '51 with an Ivy League-record 1,827 yards of total offense. In addition to winning Princeton's only Heisman Trophy--and the last by an Ivy Leaguer--Kazmaier was named AP Male Athlete of the Year, Ivy League Player of the Decade and Princeton's Player of the Century.

The modest Midwesterner would rather discuss team triumphs than his individual honors. The way he saw it, he was simply doing his job. "When anyone begins thinking contrary to the best interest of the team, that's when you don't win all of your games," Kazmaier says. "Obviously, we didn't have much of that thinking."

Football was not the top priority for the psychology major, who also lettered in basketball and worked part time to help pay for college. Kazmaier played sports because he enjoyed them, and as his father told him, "Dick, you're at Princeton for an education, not to play football." His devotion to the classroom over the gridiron was evident when the 1952 Chicago Bears draftee shunned the NFL for Harvard Business School.

After Harvard and three years in the Navy, Kazmaier continued in business and eventually started Kazmaier Associates, Inc. At 69, he still manages the Boston-based family investment company with the same tenets--consistency and discipline--to which he credits his athletic success. He also has served as a director of the National Football Foundation, chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports and on the Knight Foundation Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics.

Almost 50 years after he stopped playing, Kazmaier agrees with his decision to forgo the NFL. "If you won the Heisman in those days, there wasn't much more to accomplish," he says. "After such a wonderful time and so much success as a college player, why not go out on top?"

THE ALL-AMERICAN BOY - by Jerry Price with the University of Princeton

Dick Kazmaier '52 honored as the Princeton Athletic News Player of the Century

He was a kid, and there was a war going on. The older boys from the town left, one after the other. Most came back. The ones who didn't were gone. Forever. They were brothers of kids he'd played with. Kids themselves, really. He knew them. Remembered them. Watched them grow up around the neighborhood. And then they were gone, and each time the whole town struggled to accept it. He knew, of course. They all knew. They all knew they owed something to those kids, the ones who wouldn't have a rest-of-their-life. They owed something big, on the order of the freedom to live their own lives.

One day he left Ohio, after the war had ended, but he took it all with him. It's still with him today, and that's why, when people speak of him more than 50 years later, you still hear about modesty and teamwork and hard work and effort and loyalty and how these are the things that matter most to him.

He is Dick Kazmaier, and he is the Princeton Athletic News Princeton University Football Player of the Century. Princeton football in the 1900s featured 45 players who were named first-team All-America. The College Football Hall of Fame inducted 10 member who played at Princeton during that time.

Kazmaier's accomplishments, though, stand alone. Playing the tailback position to near-perfection in Charlie Caldwell's single wing, Kazmaier was a two-time consensus All-America who led Princeton to perfect seasons in 1950 and 1951 and victories in the last 22 games of his career. With Kazmaier as a running or passing threat in the backfield, Princeton set a school record that still stands by averaging 38.8 points per game in 1950 and followed that with 34.4 points per game in 1951. In the 18 games of 1950 and 1951--all Tiger wins--Princeton scored at least 40 points eight times, at least 50 points six times and at least 60 points three times.

As a senior in 1951 Kazmaier guided Princeton to the Lambert Trophy as the top team in the East and a No. 6 ranking in the final Associated Press and United Press International polls. He put together perhaps the greatest single game in Princeton history. He had his picture on the cover of Time magazine.

At season's end he became the only Princetonian ever honored with college football's highest honor, the Heisman Trophy.

"He was amazing, just a great ballplayer," says Frank McPhee '53, himself a two-time consensus All-America and a member of the Princeton Football Association All-Century team who was a year behind Kazmaier. "He was the most determined kid I ever saw. He could do it all. He could do everything you should be able to do on a football field."

Kazmaier certainly wasn't a big man when he arrived on campus. "I was about 155 pounds when I first came to Princeton," he says. "I'm not sure they thought I was going to make that big of a difference in my four years there. But we had 120 men at that first meeting freshman year, and only 12 of us would letter as seniors."

Kazmaier came to Princeton from Maumee, a small town just outside of Toledo. He came of age during the heart of World War II, and he was in high school when it ended. "The war hit home when one of your friends' brothers went off into the service," Kazmaier says. "One of my teammates, he had two of his brothers go off to the war. The oldest brother, he never came back. This happened in every town, in every community in the country. The war was a very, very real thing to us."

But they were still safe. There would be no invasion in Ohio, and they knew that. And while they mobilized on the home front, they still found time for other things. For the kid from Maumee, this meant one thing. Sports.

"I had always been a great football fan," he says. "I knew about football from around the country, particularly in the Midwest. Michigan was only 45 minutes away. After the war ended, we'd get in a car and drive up there and try to get tickets. We had access to a lot of good football at a time when travel wasn't easy and roads weren't that good." He grew up playing all sports, not just football.

"I had good coordination and speed," Kazmaier says. "And I practiced. I shot baskets. I threw a football through a rubber tire. I'd field ground balls. It was just a natural part of life. There were no sports camps, no special training. You wouldn't start getting ready for football until August 1st each year. The coach would send you a letter that said practice would start on such-and-such date, make sure you're in shape." Maumee High School had a total of 150 boys. There were 72 total students in the Class of 1948, there were six grades in one building.

"My father was a manager of a glass company, and his boss was a man named Henry Dodge from the Class of 1932," he says. "The head of the Toledo schools was Gilmore Flues of the Class of 1926. They decided when I was a junior in high school that I should go to Princeton. My father was a graduate of Toledo, had played football there, and he wanted me to go to the best possible school I could. Princeton sounded like a pretty good place."

He began his Princeton career as a fifth-team tailback on the 1948 freshman team. "Did I ever think we were going to have the success we would have?" he asks. "No. But I always was striving for the best. That's one of the fundamentals of athletics. I'd watched the college All-America teams, followed it for years. That's how you were raised. Jack Armstrong, the all-American boy. I thought maybe I could do those things."

Princeton started the 1949 season 2-3 before winning its final four games. Kazmaier became a consensus All-America as a junior, and he had some epic performances as a senior. He ran for 262 yards on 37 carries in a 12-0 win over Brown. It was in the 1951 game against unbeaten Cornell, however, that Kazmaier put together a game that has grown to legendary proportions.

"I was a sophomore, and he was a senior," says Dick Cliggott, Cornell Class of 1954 and the leading receiver on the 1952 and 1953 Big Red teams. "Both teams were hyped up for that game, I remember that. Kazmaier just had one of those perfect days. Every move he made was just perfect." Kazmaier completed 15 of 17 passes for 236 yards and three touchdowns, with a completion percentage of 88.2% that is still the Princeton single-game record. He also ran 18 times for 124 yards and two more touchdowns in the game, and his 360 yards of total offense was the school record for 30 years. Princeton won, 53-15.

"I thought we were ready for him that day," Cliggott says. "He had been well-scouted by us, and we thought we had a good defensive plan. He just executed everything so well. He was the best offensive player I ever played against, and he deserved all the plaudits he received."

Kazmaier finished the season with 861 rushing yards on 149 carries, and he completed 123 passes for 960 yards and 13 touchdowns. He was 172 for 289 for 2,404 yards and 35 touchdowns while rushing for 1,950 yards for his career. He still ranks third all-time at Princeton in total offense.

"I had no real consideration or thought of the Heisman Trophy," he says. "The only thing we thought about was winning every game. One day I was called to the Dean of Students Office, Dean Francisco Godolphin. He was a fearsome person, because if you were in trouble, you had to go see the dean. He and Dan Coyle, who was the sports information director at the time, they were the ones who told me I'd won. I thought it was nice. Then I went back to class."

Kazmaier, who also won the Walter Camp Award and was named AP Player of the Year, played in one postseason all-star game, and he would be drafted by the Chicago Bears. He would never play football professionally, however. "Mr. [George] Halas called me," he says of the legendary Bears owner. "I knew I could earn more money in business than I could in professional football, but there was more to it than that. I had played with a great group of people at Princeton. The players. The coaches. Everybody at Princeton was a first-class individual. I had achieved everything I could achieve as an individual and as part of a team. What more could I want? I felt there was nowhere to go but down."

Kazmaier went to Harvard Business School instead of the NFL, and he's never looked back. He spent three years as a Naval officer, and he then set out on his business career. Today he is president of Kazmaier Associates, a marketing and financial services business with investments in the sports and leisure industries.

He has also been involved in countless other endeavors, including serving as a member and chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness under President Reagan and President Bush, as a member of the executive committee of the American Red Cross and as a trustee at Princeton. He was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in 1966 and has more honors and lifetime achievement awards than he can mention. The football field at Maumee High School is now named Richard Kazmaier Stadium.

"Dick Kazmaier is a modest man, too modest, but his career is not modest" says McPhee, who played in the NFL before injuries ended his career. "He was the best player I ever played with. It was a magical time at Princeton, and he was the main reason why. Dick Kazmaier was the No. 1 player we had, and he continues to stand out. He does more for the University than anybody. He did great things again and again and again, and he still does. I know I'm proud of him."

Today he is based in both the Boston area and the Florida Keys. He and his wife, Patricia, raised six daughters, and he loves to spend time with his grandchildren.

"It was an honor to play against him," Cliggott says. "I've met him many times since, and he has always been very modest. He's a very humble guy, very friendly, very down-to-earth. He's the type of individual anyone would be happy to be associated with. He is the type of person that every Heisman Trophy winner should be."

The original Heisman sits in the Princeton football office in Jadwin Gym, and Kazmaier has a replica of his own. It doesn't come up much, but he knows what he has accomplished.

"It's been a long time since someone recognized me as a Heisman winner," he says. "I don't think of it as something I did. I think of it as something we did as a group. Football is a consummate team sport. Nobody does anything of substance unless they do it with everyone else on the team. You have to have the team. The rest? It's just hype."

"I believe in history and I believe in accomplishment. I have two requests that I make when I say my prayers, which I do daily. One is to accomplish. One is to contribute." Princeton's best football player this century has done both. How could he not? He was a kid, after all, and there was a war going on. How could he not be touched by it?

Notes for Richard E. Herthneck:

Swartz Creek, Michigan is taking another look at its blanket ban on door-to-door sales after a challenge by an attorney who says the city is violating the First Amendment. Ohio-based attorney Richard Herthneck claims Swartz Creek's rules against uninvited sellers going door-to-door violates protections for commercial speech. Herthneck represents independent distributors of Kirby home cleaning systems.

Herthneck's son and law clerk, Oliver Herthneck, said similar letters have been sent to municipalities throughout the country, including to several others in Genesee County. He declined to comment on exactly which municipalities in Genesee County have received letters.

Herthneck said Green River, Wyoming recently revised their ordinance regarding door-to-door solicitations after threats of lawsuits. "We have written to a lot of different places," Oliver Herthneck said. "We're just trying to get everything current." Swartz Creek City Manager Adam Zettel said an ordinance change will be considered during a city council meeting at 7 p.m. on Monday, March 24 at City Hall, 8083 Civic Drive. The changes, created by city attorney Mike Gildner, would ban solicitation on sites with signs saying "no commercial solicitors" and "no solicitors." It would also call for a commercial solicitation permit. Door-to-door and mobile solicitation would be set to between 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., or sunset, whichever is earlier, according to the draft.

James George Eayrs, political scientist, educator (b at London, Eng 13 Oct 1926). Educated at U of T, Columbia and London School of Economics, Eayrs was Eric Dennis Memorial Professor of Political Science and Government at Dalhousie. He taught at U of T 1952-80 and Dalhousie U 1980-92 and was editor of International Journal, 1959-84.

A superb stylist and an influential pioneer in the study of 20th-century Canadian foreign and defence policy, his major scholarly publications include The Art of the Possible (1961) and In Defence of Canada (5 vols, 1964-83). Eayrs's reputation outside the university world rests upon his controversial journalism and public commentary on Canadian and international affairs, selections of which are collected in Northern Approaches (1961), Minutes of the Sixties (1968) and Greenpeace and her Enemies (1973).

His early journalism displays a pro-NATO, Cold War liberal sympathetic to the US. The 1960s and 1970s saw him an opponent of NATO, an advocate of Canadian neutrality and a harsh critic of diplomats and diplomacy. He received the MOLSON PRIZE in 1984.

Notes for Wendy Karen Briegel:

Wendy Briegel Alt passed away December 4th at her home after an extended illness. It was exactly one year from the onset of her symptoms. Born March 24th, 1953, the fourth of five children born to Jim and Gerry Briegel, Wendy was a wonderful daughter, sister, aunt, cousin, niece and mother to Alexis. Her warm and generous spirit transcended many challenges in her life. The strength, determination and courage with which she so valiantly fought cancer and its related complications were inspirational to us all. Her career began in the banquet and catering industry, including 10 years as the banquet and catering manager at Weber's Inn. For 20 years she was with State Farm. Upon the unexpected passing of Dan Jilek, Wendy was instrumental in the operation and transition of his State Farm Agency to Matt Fahoome. Mr. Fahoome was extremely generous and supportive of Wendy and her family throughout her ordeal. Wendy and her sisters were very active in and supportive of Ann Arbor/Washtenaw County NOW, women's rights, and several political campaigns. Wendy was most proud of attending The March for Women's Lives in Washington DC with Alexis and her sisters. She treasured her travels with Alexis, especially when Alexis was studying in France. She was also a huge Red Wing and Pavel Datsyuk fan. Wendy lit up a room and had a fantastic, legendary laugh that made her joy contagious. Wendy is survived by her parents Jim and Gerry Briegel, her sister, best friend and primary caregiver Kathie Briegel, her brothers David and James "Dutch", and sister Laurie Briegel Burg. She was extremely proud of her daughter Alexis. Wendy is also survived by a large extended family of Aunts, Uncles, Nephews, Nieces, Cousins, co-workers, former co-workers, and countless friends who will cherish her memory. She was pre-deceased by Alexis' father, Peter Alt.

The family wishes to sincerely thank all the wonderful caregivers at St. Joseph Mercy, Glacier Hills, and Arbor Hospice, nurses Barb and Nicki of Interdependency Priorities Agency, and Heather Thierry. Cremation has taken place. A celebration of Wendy's life will be held on Sunday, January 16th from 1-3pm at Weber's Inn.

Their marriage was blessed with a loving companionship, three wonderful children and a commitment to the Lord. They first lived in Mound and later built their home in Delano in 1984, where they have since resided. Rick was known for his love of food/desserts, sense of humor, pragmatic attitude, and his warm smile. His children and grandchildren were the absolute delight of his life. Spending time and playing with them was always a top priority. Rick never missed an activity or sporting event and was their greatest cheerleader, supporter and advisor. He continued to be the rock of his family until the end. Hours before he passed, Rick awoke and saw his wife and children surrounding the bed. He looked at each, smiled and said repeatedly, "Wow. What a life!", "This has been real special", and "I love my family". Rick willingly gave his time in service to the church. He enjoyed positions of leadership and was honored to serve his Lord in many capacities. At Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, he served as President, Vice President among many other board positions in addition to serving as Treasurer and Chairman at West Lutheran High School. Many often sought his counsel when issues arose as he had a reputation for being fair and honest. He was truly amazing!

Rick was preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by his beloved wife Karen; children Scott (Lindsay), Julie (Micah) Martin and Krista (Andy) Giefer; grandchildren Chase, Olivia, Josiah, Nora, Mara, and Jonah; sisters Durene (Bob) Rogers and Sheri Doering Fenn and nephews Andrew, Eric, Nick and Michael.

Funeral Services were held at 11 am on Saturday, April 7, 2018 at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Delano. Visitation was Friday, 4 – 8 pm and continued Saturday, 10 – 11 am prior to the service, ALL at the church. Interment was in Mt. Olive East Cemetery in Delano. In lieu of flowers, memorials are preferred.

Children of Terry Stollsteimer and Lynne Simowski are:

- + 4622 i. Eric Daniel¹¹ Stollsteimer, born 05 Jan 1976 in Southfield, Oakland Co, Michigan.
- 4623 ii. Jason Elliott Stollsteimer, born 22 Apr 1978 in Southfield, Oakland Co, Michigan. He married Andrea Corrin Wehenkel 16 Aug 2003 in Detroit, Wayne Co, Michigan; born 12 Aug 1978.

Notes for Jason Elliott Stollsteimer:

1978 – Imagine the anxiety and jubilation of a new grandchild - then multiply it by three. No, it's not a set of triplets, but three grandchildren have expanded the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stollsteimer of Dearborn in the last month, each to a different son or daughter.

An eight pound eleven-once baby boy, Jason Elliott, was born to Terry and Lynne M. (Simowski) Stollsteimer of Plymouth. Jason arrived April 22 at 5:28 a.m. in Providence Hospital, and measured 20-1/2 inches.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Simowski of Dearborn Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McNeil, also of Dearborn Heights, are proud great-grandparents. Jason will be a new brother to Eric, age two-and-a-half years.

Lynn G. and Helene (Stollsteimer) DeFrance of Haslett, Michigan had their first child in the person of Jeffrey Lynn, born at 2:26 p.m. May 10 in Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Jeffrey weighed in at eight pounds, nine ounces, and was 21 inches from top to bottom. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George DeFrance of Battle Creek.

The third Stollsteimer descendant is Jennifer, born to Michael A. and Janis (Stollsteimer) Germani of Detroit. Jennifer made her debut on May 13 at 1:56 a.m. in the Bi-County Hospital in Warren. She weighed six pounds, five ounces, measured 19-1/2 inches and is the Germani's first child. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andre Fournier of Compiegne, France.

Jason Stollsteimer (born Jason Elliott Stollsteimer on April 22, 1978 in Southfield, Michigan) is an American musician who was the vocalist and guitarist for the indie rock band The Von Bondies, which disbanded in 2011. Stollsteimer also was the main songwriter and producer of the Von Bondies. He released three studio albums with The Von Bondies and currently is working on his first full length album with The Hounds Below.

Musical career

Lack of Communication - His debut album, Lack of Communication, was released in 2001 on Sympathy for the Record Industry. Jason toured the states with the first incarnation of The Von Bondies featuring longtime friend Carrie Smith on the bass, Don Blum on drums and Marcie Bolen (Silverghost, Slumber Party) on Guitar. Over ten U.S. tours were done in order to help promote the record. The group shared the stage with The Cramps, on their 8th US tour. Jason and The Von Bondies also played several shows in the U.K. and Europe and a live performance on the Later... with Jools Holland in London.

Raw & Rare - In 2003 the Von Bondies released a live record that consisted mostly of recording from live BBC recordings from the John Peel.

Pawn Shoppe Heart - In 2004, Stollsteimer released his second studio album, Pawn Shoppe Heart, and toured extensively in the US, UK, and Europe

"C'mon C'mon" was the first single and reached the UK Top 25 for the first time (peaking at #21), and also generated some huge buzz for Stollsteimer.

One other single was released from the album. "Tell me what you see" which reached number 43 in the UK charts. Almost every track from the album has appeared in numerous commercials, Movies and TV shows. One song in particular (c'mon c'mon) was used more than all the others combined. From uses in local radio commercials/adverts to the main theme song of the hit F/X television show Rescue Me. While touring this record Stollsteimer played the Reading and Leeds Festivals, Glastonbury Festival and Coachella Valley Music and Arts

Festival

Love, Hate and Then There's You - Jason Stollsteimer's last release with the Von Bondies, "Love, Hate and Then There's You," has gone through a long process of discovery and change before coming to its current polished form.

In early 2006, a handful of demos were posted on the Von Bondies Myspace page. Later the band posted more songs on the MySpace page including "Shut Your Mouth," "Pale Bride," and "Only to Haunt You." Don Blum played drums on these recordings with all other instruments played by Jason. Love, Hate and Then There's You was the first time Stollsteimer ever collaborated songwriting with anyone. The songs "This is our perfect crime" and "Accidents will Happen" were co-written with Butch Walker who also produced some songs on the album. The songs "blame game" and "Earthquake" were co-written with longtime drummer Don Blum. The album was eventually released in 2009 on Majordomo Records.

The Von Bondies is an American alternative rock band. Its current members are Jason Stollsteimer on vocals and lead guitar, Christy Hunt on rhythm guitar and Leann Banks on bass guitar.

The original line-up formed at the 1997 Cramps/Guitar Wolf show by Stollsteimer and Marcie Bolen. They went through a variety of member changes and band names, including The Baby Killers, before settling on 'The Von Bondies' in 2000. Don Blum joined the band around 1999 after attending numerous Baby Killers shows, while Leann Banks was picked via an audition. The Von Bondies got their break by playing a New Year's Eve show in Detroit, MI in 2000. In attendance at the show was Long Gone John, owner of the Sympathy for the Record Industry label. This led to Sympathy releasing the band's debut album "Lack of Communication" in 2001.

In 2003, the band released the live "Raw and Rare" through Dim Mak Records, which was followed by their 2004 breakthrough release, "Pawn Shoppe Heart", on Sire Records. Met with glowing reviews, "Pawn Shoppe" was produced by Jerry Harrison of Talking Heads and co-produced by singer Jason Stollsteimer.

The album reached a peak of #36 in the UK and #8 on Billboard's Top Heatseekers chart and stayed in the chart for eight weeks. The big single from this release was "C'mon C'mon," which reached #25 on the Billboard Singles chart and garnered national radio play for the band.

A shortened version of "C'mon C'mon" is the theme song to the TV series "Rescue Me" and is performed live by the band in Michael Winterbottom's film "9 Songs". MLB Network also uses a brief clip of the song as the opening of their new show "30 Clubs in 30 Days".

In 2008, the band signed with indie label Majordomo Records, joining label mates The Airborne Toxic Event and Earlimart. Their label debut, "Love, Hate and Then There's You", was released in February 2009 featuring the single "Pale Bride."

Known as a touring act, The Von Bondies have headlined tours of the United Kingdom/Europe, Australia, and the United States, taking along supporting bands like The Kills, Kasabian, Franz Ferdinand, Modey Lemon, SSM, The Subways, The Stills, Hot Panda and The Donnas. They have also appeared on "Late Show with David Letterman", "Last Call with Carson Daly" and "CD:UK".

The Von Bondies song "C'mon C'mon" was announced to appear as a downloadable track for the music video game series "Rock Band" on March 31, 2009.

The Hounds Below - Stollsteimer is also the leader of The Hounds Below. The group's debut album is set to be recorded in early 2012.

Early life - Stollsteimer was born in Southfield, Michigan. His mother was a nurse, and his father an architect. He grew up in the Detroit suburbs of Plymouth, Michigan with his one brother, Eric. As a child, he went to school at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park. He later lived in Ann Arbor/Ypsilanti, where in 1997 he became friends with his new schoolmate at College, Marcie Bolen, who would become his band's first guitarist. A year later, while studying at Washtenaw Community College, Stollsteimer met Don Blum who would eventually become his drummer in the band The Von Bondies.

Jason Stollsteimer readies new band Ponyshow (Band made of former Von Bondies will make a Blowout debut)
By Brett Callwood

It's been a year and a half years since we put Jason Stollsteimer on the cover of MT, alongside his Hounds Below bandmates and the headline "The Von Bondies were a hit. Can Jason Stollsteimer do it again with the Hounds Below?" As the singer and guitarist prepares for his set at Blowout 17 with another band, Ponyshow (he prefers the name to be written in all-caps), the answer to that question from October '12 has to be "No."

Not that the Hounds Below (or the Von Bondies, for that matter) has necessarily broken up; Stollsteimer insists that both projects are there to be reanimated whenever he and perhaps the other members involved are feeling it. He simply became tired of a persistently shifting Hounds Below lineup, a change in sound or two, and an album that, while brilliant, he feels went to waste because the band didn't tour enough after its release.

For many musicians, the changing sound of a band is part of its evolution, part of the creative process. Not for Stollsteimer. "The first time you hear [Ponyshow], that will define us for the rest of your life," he says. "That's the way it should be. The change of sounds is where every band goes wrong. If we want to change sounds a few years from now, we'll just do a new band."

So Ponyshow is a new band, fair enough. It's interesting though, because the trio is completed by two more former Von Bondies — drummer Don Blum and later-era bassist Leann Banks. It seems entirely natural that, when forced to admit that the Hounds Below wasn't going to be making any great strides anytime soon, Stollsteimer would turn to two people that he refers to as "great friends." A Von Bondies reunion was never in the cards though, and, with Banks still a member of Amy Gore's Valentines and After Dark Amusement Park, and with Blum having removed himself from music altogether for a couple of years, this is a band that has to be content with baby steps for the time being.

We meet with Stollsteimer and Banks at the WAB in Ferndale on a quiet Wednesday afternoon. Stollsteimer is, unusually for him, sporting facial hair due to his imminent appearance in a music video for New York band the Cold Blood Club. The two of them live in Ferndale (Banks works next door at the Emory), so this is home base for them.

"Doing this band, I feel for the first time like I'm going back to the reason I started listening to music, not even just writing music," Stollsteimer says. "I grew up with the Pixies and Pavement, and I always wanted to be in a band like that. When Leann joined the Von Bondies, she was a replacement and I've always wanted to do a band with her from scratch. From Day One, it's these three people. The band will break up the first time somebody leaves. I don't want to break up, but I'm just saying. I played with Don for eight years. I missed Don and, besides music, this is a good excuse for me to see two of my best friends. Whatever comes of it comes of it."

The fascinating thing about Stollsteimer is that he will insist Ponyshow is a "band," it's an equal three-way split. But the man is so talkative, it's so in his nature to lead, that Banks struggles to get a word in. That's no slight on either of them; it's just the way things naturally lie. Back when we interviewed the Hounds Below in '12, Stollsteimer insisted that he wanted it to be a real band and not just his band, but that was never going to be the case, given the ages and personalities of those involved (the other members of that band were significantly younger than the singer). With Ponyshow, he's at least grouped himself with two people that he trusts completely, of a similar age, who have the confidence to push their thoughts forward when they need to. Stollsteimer is a big personality and he needs that. Craves it, even.

The references to Pavement and the Pixies are valid. Ponyshow has a sound that is rooted in the '90s — simple bass lines and guitar work providing the framework for dual male-female vocals and Blum's melodic drumming. "I've played with a few drummers and they were all amazing, but with Don it's the weirdest thing," says Stollsteimer. "It's different. Every kick drum hit is on. It's amazing. Leann has the ability to play very difficult bass lines without breaking a sweat, but with this band, it's not what we do. It's like the Motown thing, where they used great jazz musicians who found it easy to play the Motown songs."

Banks was in her early 20s when she joined the Von Bondies, and, in retrospect, that band was starting to wind down. Now 30, she's a lot more experienced and confident. "The only band I'd ever played with before I joined the Von Bondies was Ghost City (with Electric Six's Chris Tait)," says Banks. "It only lasted a year or so — our last show was actually our CD release party. Then I joined the Von Bondies, and I was such a newbie. It took me a minute to find my thing that was me. I'm 30 and I'm still only just coming into what I feel is me. I didn't listen to the Von Bondies before I joined. It was heavy and dark, and I was very into pop — Sloan and the Beatles. But sometimes it's fun to play a couple of notes and really just put it out there and have fun with the whole thing."

It'll be interesting to see how Ponyshow evolves, and you'll get a chance at a first glimpse when the band plays Blowout. Don't expect any Von Bondies tunes, but do expect something interesting from three musicians who are very in tune with each other.

"I always looked at the Blowout as a way to discover bands that you've heard about, and see them live," Stollsteimer says. "Leann's first show with Amy Gore was at Blowout. So if you wanted to see what Leann or Amy or Jackson [Smith] was doing next, you had to go to that show. Now, this will be Ponyshow's first show in Michigan."

Notes for Gary Alvin Weidmayer:

Farming a family tradition Weidmayers worry about future of small farms

By Alana West, Special Writer - PUBLISHED: August 2, 2007

Gary Weidmayer of Bridgewater Township is a farmer, born and bred, and almost always has been. He plants corn, winter wheat and soybeans, raises cattle, and sells hay to stable owners for their horses on a farm that his father bought in 1940. But his family ties to the Manchester area go back further than that. His relatives have lived there since at least 1840, when they helped establish and build Bethel United Church of Christ.

"My great-great-grandfather worked on that," said Weidmayer, who said the ancestors of his wife, Karen, also worked on the project. "They were the Kueblers. It was the Kueblers and Weidmayers who built the church," said Karen Weidmayer, who is a secretary at Manchester High School. Both Gary and Karen have attended Bethel church all of their life.

The family owns 380 acres and rents 750 acres more. Their large, white farmhouse sits on a slight hill amid numerous outbuildings and barns, with two silos tucked behind. He only has two exceptions to his life's work in the farming industry – a three-month stint at a factory and three weeks in the National Guard during the 1967 riots. "I know where I was 40 years ago," he said last week. "I was down there two weeks setting up communications with the 156 signal corps. There was mass confusion. ... After that, everybody needed riot control training."

Something he finds satisfying about farming is taking a tour of his fields on his tractor, especially with his loyal companion, Sparky, the couple's Border Collie, at his side. "That dog will ride the combine, a tractor, the pickup. When the pickup goes down the road, it had better have the dog in it. She will sit and wait for him, or go look for him at the neighbor's," Karen Weidmayer said. Baling hay was on the agenda last Monday, and Gary Weidmayer was a bit discouraged at lunchtime about the decreased amount of hay because of a lack of rainfall. "The last six weeks have been really dry. We don't have irrigation. "We don't have enough acres (of hay), so we can't justify digging a well," Weidmayer said, adding that irrigation would not solve the problem, since that would make the ground too wet in some circumstances to grow hay. "We were hoping for rain, but we get just enough," said Karen Weidmayer. Her husband agreed, remembering the drought of 1988, which ended in mid-July with downpours the rest of the growing year.

Their corn is growing and looks green in the field; however, if there is no rain, the ears may not develop. "The soybeans look good, but if they don't get rain when they're podding up, the pods don't grow," Karen Weidmayer said. She expected the roots of the corn would grow deeper to find water. "Corn is probably our biggest crop here," she said. "It's expensive to grow because of the cost of the fertilizer." The Weidmayers sell the corn to Global Ethanol, a new company in Riga that converts corn to diesel fuel. Weidmayer bought stock in the company because he believes in the future of it as a fuel source, and to help boost the price and demand for corn. Weidmayer said the company uses 50,000 bushels of corn a day, and was getting more efficient at making the product. It sells the by-products as livestock feed, so there is little waste, he said.

Weidmayer is concerned about the future of farming. He foresees a continual decline in the small farm because of the cost of equipment, and the money invested in livestock and crops. "What I look at is, there will be more big farms, not as many small farms," he said. "You plant corn in April or May, and you don't get your money until October or November, and maybe you don't sell it all at once. All of that money is invested. You need to borrow when you need it, and pay it back when you can."

Weidmayer tries to buy and sell cattle every month. He gets double what he pays for them, but he feeds and cares for them for a year before he sells them. It is a big investment, so it helps to have some money coming in every month. Weidmayer served for 14 years on the Farm Credit Board, a board that lends money to farmers, so he knows the bind farmers get into with credit. He knows they need a good banker who knows what they need. During his term on the board, he saw a number of farm foreclosures.

Weidmayer said he used to run a dairy farm, but he and his son, Greg, who had been helping him on the farm, needed to expand and update to make it feasible. They decided to discontinue the dairy side of the business, so Greg got a full-time job with Manchester Village. He helps his father after work, maintaining the farming equipment. The Weidmayer's said they both hope that someday, their son will take over the farm.

The Weidmayer's enjoy the close bond of both of their children living nearby. Their daughter, Amy, and her family live diagonally across the field, from them, with Gary's mother, Irma, on the same road. Greg and his wife, Melanie, are a few houses down. Melanie owns the Manchester Bakery, and Amy was recently elected to the Bridgewater Township Board.

Marriage Notes for Sara Borders and Thomas Cartwright:

Mr. and Mrs. Norman O'Connor of North Lake have announced July 1, 1987 the engagement of their daughter, Sara Borders, to Thomas Cartwright of Muskegon, son of Helen Cartwright of Stone Mountain, Georgia. Sara is a 1981 graduate of Chelsea High School and graduated in 1986 from Central Michigan University. She is a substitute teacher in Orchard View School System of Muskegon. Thomas Cartwright graduated from Orchard View High School in 1978 and Central Michigan University in 1983. He is a recreational therapist at Child and Family Services in Muskegon. An Oct. 24 wedding is being planned.

Sara Lynn Borders of Muskegon, formerly of Chelsea, and Thomas Leonard Cartwright of Muskegon were married Oct. 24, 1987 at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea. The bride is the daughter of Erma and Norm O'Connor of North Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Helen Cartwright of Stone Mountain, Georgia, and the late Thomas Cartwright. The Rev. Erwin R Koch performed the ceremony before 225 guests. Best man Terry Ireland sang, "The First Time Ever Saw Your Face," and "The Wedding Song."

The bride wore a dress of satin with a modified scoop neck, long sleeves which came to a point, and a chapel train which ended in tiers of ruffles. The bodice and sleeves were accented with lace and seed pearls. Her headpiece was designed of seed pearls with a fingertip-length veil attached. She completed her costume with an antique strand of pearls. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white roses, white carnations, and pale yellow freesias. Dawn Borders, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a tea-length, peacock blue, baroque satin dress and carried a bouquet of pale yellow miniature carnations and baby's breath. Barb Davis and Patti Sweeny, both of Chelsea, and Vikki Kirk of Muskegon were bridesmaids. Their dresses and bouquets were the same as those of the maid of honor. Flower girl Andrea Hulett of Byron, wore a dress similar to that of the bridesmaids and carried a miniature bouquet to match the bridesmaids. She wore a halo of baby's breath. Nicholas Hulett, brother of the flower girl, carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin pillow. Best man was Terry Ireland, friend of the bridegroom from Muskegon. Friends of the bridegroom, David Farrell and Jay Allen of Muskegon, and Greg Aerts of Ann Arbor served as ushers. The mother of the bride wore a raspberry tea-length dress. The bridegroom's mother chose a periwinkle blue tea-length dress. Both mothers wore white rose corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Grass Lake Lions Club. Julie Sundling attended the guest book. Michelle Clark and Nancy Heller cut the wedding cake. Hope Sieradski and Jo Thompson poured punch. After a one-week honeymoon trip to Chicago, the couple are making their home in Muskegon. The bride is a 1986 graduate of Central Michigan University and is at present a swim coach and a substitute teacher for Muskegon schools. The bridegroom graduated from Central Michigan University in 1983 and is a recreational therapist with Child and Family Services in Muskegon.

Mark Alan (Chow)¹⁰ Moehn (Arthur Frederick⁹, Tema Louise⁸ Eisele, Emma Katharina⁷ Stollsteimer, Regina (Rachel)⁶ Stierle, Anna Katharina⁵ Heimerdinger, Johannes⁴, Anna Barbara³ Auch, Agnes² Kurfess, Jakob¹ Curfess) was born 11 Mar 1960 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 28 Jan 2014. He married Dawn Marie Willard 15 Sep 1990 in Jackson, Michigan, daughter of Ronald Willard and Joyce Conlon. She was born 24 Jul 1968 in Jackson, Michigan.

Notes for Mark Alan (Chow) Moehn:

South Bend - Mark Alan "Chow" Moehn, born on March 11, 1960, to Donna and Arthur Moehn, passed away suddenly from a cardiac event on January 28th, 2014. He lived in Jackson, Michigan, most of his life and for the last fourteen years lived in South Bend, Indiana. Mark was past President of Art Moehn Chevrolet. He began working there when he was old enough to carry a broom and worked every position from scrubbing cars at 14 years old to CEO at 30 years old. He married the love of his life (Dawn Marie Willard) on September 15, 1991, and had an amazing son on March 5, 1992 (Arthur James Moehn). He was a beloved son, brother, father, uncle, and great-uncle to many members of all of his extended family. Mark attended Frost Junior High and Parkside High School in Jackson, Michigan, where he played on the tennis team. He received his B. A. from Northwood Institute in Midland, Michigan. During the years he was in school he was an avid snow skiing and water-skiing competitor. He spent most of the winter weekends at Schuss Mountain and the summers at Wampers Lake and Clark Lake in Michigan, and Diamond Lake in Michigan outside of South Bend. As CEO of Art Moehn Chevrolet, he was very involved in community activities including the Soap Box Derby, Junior Achievement and Rotary. In 1994, he was stricken with non-Hodgkin's lymphoma which he courageously defeated after 2 years at the University of Michigan Hospital. After many setbacks and downfalls caused by the brain damage, he sustained from his cancer treatments, he moved to South Bend, Indiana, to be closer to his sister and her family. He surprisingly succeeded to a new life in South Bend, Indiana; he volunteered extensively with Granger Community Church and at Walt Disney School. He worked out at Knollwood Country Club and was a frequent (and I mean frequent) visitor at Putt-Putt Golf & Games. His family will be eternally grateful for the love and support of his Putt-Putt family. He served as an inspiration to everyone that he met by being outgoing, loving, and never worrying about himself. He had a smile that could light up an entire room, possibly even a building. He was always independent and was always too proud to ask for help, even after multiple medical issues disabling him from doing what he loved to do.

Mark is survived by his ex-wife, Dawn Willard Moehn; his son, Arthur James Moehn of Traverse City, Michigan; his sisters, Deborah (David) Tuttle of Granger, Indiana, Jacqueline (John) Kudner of Clark Lake, Michigan; nieces and nephews, Elizabeth (Derek) Kruas of Boulder, Colorado, Chris (Latisse Kudner), Courtney (Joel Bennett) Scott of South Bend, Indiana, Joe (Allison Hauflaire) Tuttle of Granger, Indiana; and great-nieces, Olivia Tuttle of Granger, Indiana, and Navi Kudner of Clark Lake, Michigan.

Mark's family will be receiving visitors on Tuesday, February 4th, in the evening from 7 to 9 at the Knollwood Country Club in Granger, Indiana. The Funeral Services will be held in Jackson, Michigan. The family is especially grateful to the staff at Tanglewood Trace Assisted Living for their support and care, and to Mark's special friends, Stacey Wickham, Sharon Kaseman-Munoz, Debbie Walton, Sue Miller, Gary Sisk, John and Sue Rice, and his many friends at his favorite place, Putt Putt Golf. Welsheimer Family Funeral Home assisted the family with arrangements.

Notes for Fred William Eisele:

COURT OF APPEALS –DECISION - DATED AND FILED

October 1, 1998

Marilyn L. Graves; Clerk, Court of Appeals of

Wisconsin

No.98-0967 STATE OF WISCONSIN COURT OF APPEALS

DISTRICT IV

Fred Eisele and Martha Eisele, Plaintiffs-Appellants, v. Allstate Insurance Company, Defendant-Respondent.

APPEAL from an order of the circuit court for Rock County: Richard T. Werner, Judge. Affirmed. Before Eich, Vergeront and Deininger, JJ.

PER CURIAM. Fred and Martha Eisele appeal a summary judgment order which dismissed their declaratory judgment action for favorable construction of a comprehensive auto insurance policy issued by Allstate Insurance Company. We conclude that the trial court properly determined that the policy at issue did not cover the Eiseles' loss, and we therefore affirm.

Allstate insured the Eiseles' 1981 Corvette under a standard comprehensive coverage policy. In 1996, the Eiseles placed the Corvette with Capitol Corvette for consignment sale. On May 17, 1996, Capitol Corvette sold the vehicle and issued the Eiseles a check in the amount of $10,194.05. Shortly thereafter, however, Capitol Corvette was placed in bankruptcy by its creditors. The bankruptcy trustee eventually obtained a judgment against the Eiseles for the amount of the payment, which was determined to have been a preference. The Eiseles then submitted a claim to Allstate for the loss of the proceeds of the sale of their vehicle. Allstate denied the claim, and the Eiseles sought a judicial determination that the loss was covered by their policy. The trial court granted summary judgment in Allstate's favor.

We are now asked to determine whether the Eiseles' loss was covered. Where, as here, there are no disputed issues of fact, the interpretation of an insurance policy presents a question of law appropriate for summary judgment and de novo review. See Smith v. Atlantic Mut. Ins. Co., 155 Wis.2d 808, 810, 456 N.W.2d 597, 598 (1990). [1] The relevant clause of the insurance policy guaranteed that: Allstate will pay for loss to your insured auto or a non-owned auto not caused by collision. Loss caused by missiles, falling objects, fire, theft or larceny, explosion, earthquake, windstorm, hail, water, flood, malicious mischief or vandalism, and riot or civil commotion is covered. Glass breakage and collision with a bird or animal is covered.

We agree with the trial court that the unambiguous language of the policy limits loss coverage to the automobile itself. We further agree that the undisputed facts show that the Eiseles suffered a loss of money, not a loss to their vehicle. The vehicle had been sold, with the Eiseles' consent, a year before the bankruptcy court ordered the Eiseles to repay the Corvette dealer's estate. Contrary to the Eiseles' contention, we do not believe that a reasonable person in the position of the insured would understand the Corvette to have been an insured automobile under the policy after it was sold to a third party.

Nor are we persuaded by the Eiseles' argument that the term loss should be broadly interpreted to include the loss of proceeds from the sale of a vehicle merely because the list of included losses may have been non-exhaustive. The doctrine of ejusdem generis limits non-enumerated losses to those of the “same kind, class, character or nature” as the given examples. See State v. Ambrose, 196 Wis.2d 768, 777, 540 N.W.2d 208, 212 (Ct. App. 1995); 73 Am. Jur.2d Statutes § 214 (1974). Each of the enumerated types of loss in the Allstate policy deals with some variety of damage to the actual vehicle. The loss of proceeds from the vehicle’s sale do not fall within the same category. The trial court properly granted summary judgment in Allstate’s favor.

By the Court.—Order affirmed.

Local mother, Deidra Stierle, finds support with cancer battle

Jazzercise instructor says students, staff in her corner

By Alison Marable, Special Writer

PUBLISHED: August 14, 2008

Deidra Stierle's life was the envy of many. She was a healthy, 35-year-old Jazzercise instructor with a good job at a local firm and she had recently returned from a family trip to Disney World. The day Stierle got the call from the hospital, she was a parent helper at her son's preschool. James was a leader at Pooh Corner in Saline because the next day he would be turning 4 years old. Stierle has never forgotten that day in May when the voice over the telephone confirmed that her cells were indeed cancerous. As any mother would, she had to contain herself in front of her son and the other children, finish out the day and then call her husband.

Following her diagnosis of Stage 1 breast cancer, Stierle began a series of four rounds of chemotherapy, to be followed by seven weeks of radiation treatment. As a woman in her 30s, Stierle describes the experience as a "horrible emotional rollercoaster." One doctor told her that she was too young for cancer and that she was simply a "victim of technology." "She was upset by the misleading comments about being a victim of technology," said golfing partner and friend Shelly Butler.

During her first chemotherapy session at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, she looked around the room and noticed that most of the other women were seniors. She noted that some of the hospital staff seemed surprised to be treating someone of her age and were compassionate when they discovered she has such a young child. "I couldn't believe that this could happen to someone as young, active and healthy as Deidra," said close friend Tammy Miller. "It seems like more women in their 30s are being diagnosed and I think it's scary; however, it may be a reflection of better technology and doctors being trained to find it earlier," Stierle said.

Stierle has a master plan in place to keep herself motivated and positive. One step she took to be in control of her situation was to look for information on breast cancer and treatment. "She spent hours on the Internet reading legitimate sites and staying away from the blogs with the horror stories," her husband said. Miller said, "She has extensively researched information about breast cancer and her particular situation so that she is knowledgeable of all the facts, and she is managing her recovery with great fortitude." Stierle is known for her strength and can-do attitude. "She has a fire inside that she channels to help deal with the situation," said her husband. "Her personality is strong, positive and determined," said Miller.

Longtime friend Stephanie McCarthy said Stierle has handled the diagnosis with grace and strength, accepting the side effects that she likely will have from the treatment without one note of self pity. McCarthy will run the Susan G. Komen race for the Cure in Toledo in September and will place the name "Deidra Stierle" on her runner number. "The race will have a more special meaning for me this year," she said.

Stierle credits a large support system for her upbeat attitude. She considers her co-workers at the Saline Jazzercise Center to be family members. "It's more than a place to work out -- we're a sisterhood of sorts," she said. She continues to work and teach Jazzercise, altering her routine to compensate for any fatigue or having other instructors help with classes. "I want her to concentrate on her treatment, work and Jazzercise. The last two are important because it helps her to keep as normal a routine as possible," said Brian Stierle. Her friends at Jazzercise have provided gift cards for iTunes so that she will have new exercise music, items to pamper her during the tough times, comfortable clothes, nutrition cookbooks, and toys for her son. "They are a fantastic bunch and I couldn't ask for more sincere, genuine, caring people than my Jazzercise ladies," Diedra Stierle said.

Stierle has been employed at McNaughton & Gunn for nine years and finds the support at work priceless. Co-worker and friend Terri Conway said, "Here at work she doesn't let this get her down. Her professionalism is still what it has always been and she is on the ball." Stierle offers words of advice to women newly diagnosed with the disease. "Don't panic if you are faced with the word 'cancer' and listen to the doctors and experts rather than well-meaning family and friends," she said. Stierle advises friends and family not to offer unsolicited opinions on what a cancer patient should do or what kind of treatment they should receive. "I think the best thing they can do is offer support, but not advice," she said. Many friends sent cards to her home just letting her know she was in their thoughts. "It's a very simple act, but it means a lot to know people care," she said.

Stierle's parents, Denny and LeeAnne Roberts of Blissfield, her mother-in-law, Barb Stierle of Saline, as well as her 38-year-old sister, Renee Dashner of Blissfield, have been on hand to help with watching and caring for James. Stierle recalls that she and her son have always cuddled while he touched her hair. "To help ease her son into the certainty of losing her hair, she went out and had it cut real short to make the loss a bit less dramatic for James," Butler said. She and her mother also have been making scarves and pins for hats in anticipation of possible hair loss.

In 2006, Stierle's husband underwent surgery for chronic Crohn's disease so he not only had a great role model for being a supportive spouse, but he can now see what it is like to be on the other side. "I understand the worry she went through and I have a greater appreciation for all she did," he said. Their son is too young to know more than the fact that his mother is sick and sometimes won't feel well. Despite his age, he offers his own kind of support. "He is so full of energy that even if she is feeling down, he gets her laughing in an instant and takes her mind off the situation for a while," Brian Stierle said. Diedra Stierle's future plans include taking a cruise with her husband once the holidays are over and her treatment has come to an end. "I love her with all my heart and plan on growing old with her," said her husband.

Notes for Gary Alvin Weidmayer:

Farming a family tradition Weidmayers worry about future of small farms

By Alana West, Special Writer - PUBLISHED: August 2, 2007

Gary Weidmayer of Bridgewater Township is a farmer, born and bred, and almost always has been.

He plants corn, winter wheat and soybeans, raises cattle, and sells hay to stable owners for their horses on a farm that his father bought in 1940. But his family ties to the Manchester area go back further than that. His relatives have lived there since at least 1840, when they helped establish and build Bethel United Church of Christ.

"My great-great-grandfather worked on that," said Weidmayer, who said the ancestors of his wife, Karen, also worked on the project. "They were the Kueblers. It was the Kueblers and Weidmayers who built the church," said Karen Weidmayer, who is a secretary at Manchester High School. Both Gary and Karen have attended Bethel church all of their lives.

The family owns 380 acres and rents 750 acres more. Their large, white farmhouse sits on a slight hill amid numerous outbuildings and barns, with two silos tucked behind. He only has two exceptions to his life's work in the farming industry – a three-month stint at a factory and three weeks in the National Guard during the 1967 riots. "I know where I was 40 years ago," he said last week. "I was down there two weeks setting up communications with the 156 signal corps. There was mass confusion. ... After that, everybody needed riot control training."

Something he finds satisfying about farming is taking a tour of his fields on his tractor, especially with his loyal companion, Sparky, the couple's Border Collie, at his side. "That dog will ride the combine, a tractor, the pickup. When the pickup goes down the road, it had better have the dog in it. She will sit and wait for him, or go look for him at the neighbor's," Karen Weidmayer said. Baling hay was on the agenda last Monday, and Gary Weidmayer was a bit discouraged at lunchtime about the decreased amount of hay because of a lack of rainfall. "The last six weeks have been really dry. We don't have irrigation. "We don't have enough acres (of hay), so we can't justify digging a well," Weidmayer said, adding that irrigation would not solve the problem, since that would make the ground too wet in some circumstances to grow hay. "We were hoping for rain, but we get just enough," said Karen Weidmayer. Her husband agreed, remembering the drought of 1988, which ended in mid-July with downpours the rest of the growing year.

Their corn is growing and looks green in the field; however, if there is no rain, the ears may not develop. "The soybeans look good, but if they don't get rain when they're podding up, the pods don't grow," Karen Weidmayer said. She expected the roots of the corn would grow deeper to find water. "Corn is probably our biggest crop here," she said. "It's expensive to grow because of the cost of the fertilizer." The Weidmayers sell the corn to Global Ethanol, a new company in Riga that converts corn to diesel fuel. Weidmayer bought stock in the company because he believes in the future of it as a fuel source, and to help boost the price and demand for corn. Weidmayer said the company uses 50,000 bushels of corn a day, and was getting more efficient at making the product. It sells the by-products as livestock feed, so there is little waste, he said.

Weidmayer is concerned about the future of farming. He foresees a continual decline in the small farm because of the cost of equipment, and the money invested in livestock and crops. "What I look at is, there will be more big farms, not as many small farms," he said. "You plant corn in April or May, and you don't get your money until October or November, and maybe you don't sell it all at once. All of that money is invested. You need to borrow when you need it, and pay it back when you can."

Weidmayer tries to buy and sell cattle every month. He gets double what he pays for them, but he feeds and cares for them for a year before he sells them. It is a big investment, so it helps to have some money coming in every month. Weidmayer served for 14 years on the Farm Credit Board, a board that lends money to farmers, so he knows the bind farmers get into with credit. He knows they need a good banker who knows what they need. During his term on the board, he saw a number of farm foreclosures.

Weidmayer said he used to run a dairy farm, but he and his son, Greg, who had been helping him on the farm, needed to expand and update to make it feasible. They decided to discontinue the dairy side of the business, so Greg got a full-time job with Manchester Village. He helps his father after work, maintaining the farming equipment. The Weidmayers said they both hope that someday, their son will take over the farm.

The Weidmayers enjoy the close bond of both of their children living nearby. Their daughter, Amy, and her family live diagonally across the field, from them, with Gary's mother, Irma, on the same road. Greg and his wife, Melanie, are a few houses down. Melanie owns the Manchester Bakery, and Amy was recently elected to the Bridgewater Township Board.

Notes for Ronald Ernest Mann:

The Manchester Enterprise - Thursday, May 14, 2009 - By Daniel Lai, Staff Writer

After 14 years serving as special assessment coordinator for the Washtenaw County Water Resources Commission, local resident Ron Mann is stepping down. "I have a lot of things I would like to do and this affords me the ability to take some time for myself," he said. Mann, who was also recently elected to another four-year term as supervisor for Manchester Township, said his retirement from the county will allow him more time to spend in the township.

"I have worked two jobs for the last 20 years and the supervisor position has been a lot more demanding recently," he said. "I wouldn't say I will have more time, but by working one job, I can spend less nights and Saturday mornings in the township office." Mann said over the years he has come to enjoy his responsibilities as a special assessment coordinator. "I enjoy working with the county and local units of government," he said. "I also enjoy working with people."

Mann said his interest in politics and a knack for crunching numbers led him to apply for the position over a decade ago. "With my assessment training in the township, this job fit right in," he said. "I've always been a numbers person and with my background, this jump seemed a logical step for me." However, he said he didn't expect to remain with the county as long as he has.

"I didn't figure I would be here for 14 years," he said. "The average person goes through seven different careers in their life; maybe I have a few more left." As an assessment coordinator, Mann is responsible for determining how to allocate the cost of sewer repairs to the county's 500 drain districts. "Anytime we do work on a drain -- from dredging to clearing out trees -- the costs are appropriated to the district that the sewer is located in. It's my responsibility to come up with a fair and equitable system that can work with the township governments," he said.

Each year the Water Resources Commission handles $1.5 to $2 million in sewer work which is spread over 60 to 85,000 parcels of land and 100 districts. "I have enjoyed working at the county and I will miss the people, but I will be around," Mann said. One accomplishment Mann is proud of is the number of interns that have gone on to find jobs across the country. "I've had 54 interns that have worked with me and almost everyone of them said they were able to get a job because of their experience in Washtenaw County," he said. "Real world experience gave them the insight they needed to succeed."

Mann's last official day will be May 21. A special retirement party will be held at noon at the Washtenaw Western Service Center, 705 N. Zeeb Road; Ann Arbor. With more free time, Mann said he looks forward to spending time with his six grandkids and traveling with his wife. He also plans to continue volunteering at the Manchester Chicken Broil and Manchester Fair. "I will definitely be hanging around the community," he said. Editor Daniel Lai can be reached at 428-8173 or dlai@heritage.com.

Notes for Kurt Andrew Stabler:

June 30, 2016 - When Kurt Stabler and his family moved to North Carolina nine years ago, they were unsure as to whether they would continue to farm. Previously, Kurt and his family had lived in Pennsylvania, where they ran a successful, small-scale farm. They moved to Dunn, North Carolina so that they could attend Foundations Bible Collegiate Church and so that their children could attend the academy and college sponsored by the church. Crownview Farm is one of the premier vendors at the WakeMed Farmers Market. They are also unique in that the farm is operated for the benefit of the students it employs from nearby Foundations Bible College. The students who work at Crownview Farm use the money from the sale of their crops to help pay for their college education(s). Owner of Crownview Farm, Kurt Stabler, explains: We're not a nonprofit, but we kind of run [the farm] that way. My wife and I don't make anything off of the farm; it's just for the kids.

History of Crownview Farm -We moved from Pennsylvania about nine years ago, and we were doing some farming (which was small scale) up there; and when we came here, we didn't really know if we were going to continue. We bought Crownview Farm in 2010; and I work at Foundations Bible College, which is right next door to our farm. We have five children that are here in this area. My son, Timothy, actually runs the operations in the field and oversees the other kids who work here. We really embarked on this farm for them [the students]. Originally, we started out with one young man who needed help going to school, and last year, we had about twelve different kids involved.

My mother grew up on a dairy farm in Pennsylvania, so I kind of had something in the background. Also, when I was young, my grandparents had gardens, and we did a little bit. When we were living in Pennsylvania, we bought a small farm. We just started with a garden, and we read and learned. At that point, I was actually working in town, in printing. I'd come home in the afternoon and work with the kids. I had an older son who thought he wanted to farm, and he did it for a couple of years before he changed career paths. So, when he got out, the rest of the family just took it over. We had several children in the early teens back then, and rather than go into town and get a job, we decided – "Well, let's just try to do this and make it work here on the farm." From there, it just kept growing, and it went so well that I finally quit my town job, and we started doing it on a larger scale.

We've been farming now for about 15 – 16 years, and we don't do anything original. We've read and talked to other farmers. For example, we had some really good Amish friends that taught us a lot – and you just read, read, read, and you try things and get better. My kids would tell you that one of my favorite sayings is, "Well, next year..." because you start, and you plant, and you see what happens about 60 days later, and then it's too late for this season. We're not certified organic, but we do an all-natural, chemical-free approach, so we need things that are disease resistant.

We try things all of the time. We buy our seeds from catalogs and online, and it's pretty much commercial seed. Most of what we grow, you wouldn't find the seed packets at Lowes or Walmart. We're also taking things fresh to the local markets, so we want stuff that's tender, that's tasty – and oftentimes, what's at the big stores does well at the store...but you put it in the field, and it may not taste the best. For example, we've tried a dozen different broccoli types to get it to the ones that work best for us, and we've tried a bunch of different lettuce. All of our lettuce is selected to take the heat as well as be flavorful. I know there's a big debate out there whether a natural, chemical-free approach is any safer. All of the chemical industry came out of what they learned in WWII- so for thousands of years, people were farming without chemicals, and they made it work. We're just a throwback to the way it was when my mom was a kid on the farm; we use manures and rock powders, and compost.

My property is about 5.25 acres, and we'll have about 2.5 acres in production. We use every bit of space that's available to us. The timing of the weather is the biggest challenge. We've got to do things when we have a window of opportunity. When we get behind, we get in trouble. Many of our crops are transplanted every week, so you have a continuous batch of stuff. Something like the squash gets planted every three weeks, and it will be harvested over a long period of time – but lettuce? You cut it, and it's gone. So, next week, you've got to have the next batch in there. If we get behind, we could dip at the market and not have something that everyone's looking for...or if the weather is extra warm and things grow quickly, two batches could get ready at the same time, and we might not be able to sell it all.

Most of the kids who come to work at the farm don't know anything about agriculture or farming. However, most of the things that we do are not hard to learn at all. We try to teach the kids not only what we're doing but why we're doing it. We want them to learn the principles behind things so that they understand what they're doing (versus feeling like they're just doing a task). For a lot of kids, this is their first outside-of-the-home job that they've had, so they have to learn how to work, how fast to work, how well to work, etc...and that's a good process. This is a great environment for them to learn in.

This is a biological, living system. Today, farming has gone more towards a business model. Now, you've got to be a businessman to make a living in farming – but you can't treat crops like machines! I worked in printing. It's a lot different to work around printing presses and folding machines than it is crops. Crops are living, and you've got to treat it as such and respond to its needs. The soil for us is everything. We try to take care of that and be in harmony with the way God created it, and it will grow us crops.

This is for these kids. In order for us to make money for them, we've got to produce a really good product that's in demand out there. People are wanting chemical-free stuff, and that's what we do. Crownview Farm is based out of Dunn, NC. You can visit Crownview Farm at the WakeMed Farmers Market, Tuesdays, at the Raleigh Campus from 10am – 2pm throughout the summer.

Notes for Michael Robert Metherell:

Michael Robert Metherell passed away at his home in Cornville, Arizona on Saturday, August 15, 2020 surrounded by his family. Michael was a 'park brat' growing up in Acadia, Yosemite, Yellowstone and Zion National Parks where his father was a biologist. As a young man, Michael traveled to both Canada and South America to work as a fishing guide before permanently settling in Jackson Wyoming. In Jackson, he worked for Barker Ewing as a whitewater river guide for over 25 years running the biggest water ever recorded on the Snake River. In the fall he worked for several different outfitters in Wyoming guiding hunters into the mountains surrounding Jackson. Michael's biggest passion, besides his family, was fly fishing.

Michael relocated to Arizona in 2006 and worked as a carpenter and a ranch hand. He retired in 2013 after moving to Cornville where he enjoyed helping neighbors and visiting with friends new and old. Michael was often seen driving the back roads with his four dogs piled around him barking all the way. He was the President of Rippling Waters Irrigation Association for three years until he resigned due to health issues.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Connie and Robert Metherell. He is survived by his sons, Jakob (Molly) Metherell of Apple Valley Minnesota, Luke (Becki) Metherell of Anchorage, Alaska; grandchildren, Quinn and Griffin Metherell; sister, Kathy (Dayle) Flanigan of Beaver, Utah; brother, Ken (Kay) of Salt Lake City Utah; nephews, Jake (Sarah) Flanigan of Salt Lake City, Seth (Jennie) Flanigan of Boise, Idaho and grand nephews, Liam, Westley and Lochlan and grand nieces, Sloan and Aster, as well as his partner, MaryAnn Canning; her children, Cody Canning, Emma Canning; son-in-law, Jorge Tejada and grandchildren, Iris Marie, Nico and Penelope and dog, Thomas.

In lieu of flowers, Michael asked that donations be made in his name to Ivy Brain Tumor Center of Phoenix

Longtime Jackson Hole resident, outfitter and guide Michael Metherell died Aug. 15 at his home in Cornville, Arizona, at age 66. He passed away peacefully after a valiant 15-month battle against glioblastoma. His family provided the following. Michael was born Feb. 22, 1954, in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. His father worked for the National Park Service as a ranger, and Michael was afforded a youth surrounded by the best scenery this country has to offer. They lived in Blue Ridge Parkway, Acadia, Yosemite, Yellowstone and Zion national parks. That upbringing instilled in him a love for wild places that he carried with him throughout his life.

Michael settled in the Jackson area in 1973, living with family friends in Grand Teton National Park. He began a career as a guide on the Snake River for Barker-Ewing that would span 25 years and would lead to guiding opportunities from Manitoba to Argentina and Peru. Michael was at his best behind the oars and left an indelible impression on all who encountered him in the riparian realm. The fall months found Michael high in the backcountry of the Wyoming and Wind River ranges chasing big game as a guide for various outfits. Experience gained there led to the purchase of Swift Creek Outfitters, which Michael owned and operated with his family for a number of years. The remainder of the year Michael found employment where he could, including Jackson Hole Mountain Resort. After realizing that the path of the seasonal journeyman made it difficult to feed his growing boys Michael transitioned into a full-time career as a carpenter, where his methodical perfectionism served him well.

In his twilight years Michael moved to the Verde Valley in Arizona. He found residence and employment on the Rockin' River Ranch, where he could work with his beloved horses and dogs. That led to a life of quiet retirement on a small and beautifully irrigated parcel in the community of Cornville. It was just big enough for his two horses, dogs, cats and chickens. There he could pursue his passion for gardening, and a short walk away was a spring-fed creek for fly-fishing. Michael was passionate about fly-fishing and could cast to a timeless rhythm that many seek but few actually find. To watch him with a fly rod was nothing short of mythic. Watching him cast was emblematic of how he lived his life as a whole: slow, calm, quiet, present and in tune with the natural world around him. Michael's impact on this world will continue to reverberate here with us and beyond just like the ripple from a perfectly placed dry fly.

Of all of Michael's accomplishments he was foremost an incredible father and grandfather. His love survives with his partner Maryann Canning, brother Ken (Kay), sister Kathy (Dayle) Flanigan, children Jakob (Molly) and Luke (Beki), Maryann's children Cody and Emma (Jorge), grandchildren Quinn and Griffin, Maryann's grandchildren Niko, Iris and Penny, nephews Seth (Jenny) Flanigan, and Jake (Sarah) Flanigan, their children Liam, Sloan, Westly, Lochlan and Aster, and most importantly his beloved dog Thomas.

A memorial for Michael will be held at a future date. In lieu of flowers please send donations to the Barrow

Notes for David Frank Moegle:

Aug 31, 2011 - In any sport or hobby, rising to the top almost three decades after starting may seem to be an impossible feat for some. However, for 45-year-old Armada native David Moegle it was a year-long journey that brought him back to the top of the motocross world. Moegle won his first national motocross title in 1984 at the age of 18 after he began riding around his family's farm, next to Blake's Cider Mill on Armada Center Road, as a child. "Me and my friends would just get together and ride around all over the property," Moegle said. "My brother Jim and I would just ride for fun."

Moegle admitted that even after winning at an early age he was never consumed by the dangerous sport, especially because of the physical dangers. After Moegle broke his jaw in 1987 he stopped riding, for what he thought might be forever. Throughout his career he also endured injuries such as a broken femur, broken ribs, internal lacerations and innumerable trips to the hospital. "It was just time to stop after that," he said of the broken jaw. It would only be 12 years though before he would climb back on the bike and compete again. In 1999 he began riding again, but eleven months ago Moegle got serious about competing and placed his eye on the annual Red Bull AMA Amateur Motocross Championships in Hurricane Mills, Tennessee.

He knew that even though he would be competing in what may be construed as the tame Over 40 unlimited class, he would have to be in top physical condition to compete at the highest level.

"You have to be in incredible shape to go out there and compete with guys like that," Moegle explained. "It may sound like a weekend warrior type of division, but there are former pros out there that still have a huge desire to win." Moegle lost 62 pounds and got himself prepared through area and regional qualifying races along with over 20,000 other riders. As he advanced, his family - which is comprised of his wife Gina, sons Ryan and Riley and mother Jerry - was with him every step of the way. "My family and friends are the reason I still do this," Moegle said. "My kids are getting into it and I still love doing it." Moegle won several state championships throughout his career, but he was looking for a national championship when he headed south in the first week of August.

"The Amateur Nationals is the event every motocross racer in the country wants to compete in," said Event Director Tim Cotter in a statement. "A win at the Amateur Nationals gives a rider national notoriety and can serve as a springboard to a lucrative professional motocross career." Moegle admitted that he was not looking for a springboard of any kind when the week began. "Really all I wanted was to finish in the top three," he said. "There is some pretty stiff competition out there these days, so I would have been extremely happy with a top three finish." All the weekend traveling he had done while working as a technical service manager paid off with a first-place trophy and a feeling of pride. "It is really rewarding to pull off something like this," Moegle said of the win. "It is great for all the people who helped you along the way and your family for supporting you." "It is never worth all the work you put in because you can never get that back, but it feels pretty darn good."

He takes more satisfaction in holding bragging rights over rival biker groups in California than hoisting the trophy, but it has not galvanized his desire to pursue a "lucrative professional motocross career." "I never thought I would be able to do this when I got back into this 12 years ago," said Moegle. "Right now I have no plans for the future, but I am looking at some offers and we will see what happens, but nothing is set right now." He said he has been in some "serious wrecks" lately and knows the kind of condition he must be in to compete, but added he knows there is always fun to be had in the sport. "I have always been the guy out there joking and having fun and it has been great no matter where I was or what happened to me," Moegle said.

He succumbed after a courageous fight against glioblastoma. An Ann Arbor native and proud Townie, David loved spending time with family and friends. He had a fantastic sense of humor, enjoyed spirited political debates, sunsets, all that nature has to offer, and observing phases of the moon. He enjoyed water sports and was a diehard Michigan sports fan especially football, basketball, baseball, and women's softball. He loved traveling with loved ones to Sleeping Bear Dunes, the UP, out west, Chesapeake Bay, Jamaica, Hawaii, Germany and Austria. An Ann Arbor High School graduate, David married his high school sweetheart, Teresa, and served his country in the Army, where they were stationed at Ft. Greeley, Alaska, 1963-66. David served as Director of Housekeeping at Grace Hospital in Detroit (1979-89), and Asst. Director of Housekeeping at St. Joseph's Hospital (1969-79). He was also President of the Michigan Hospital Association of Executive Housekeepers. For his second act, David was dedicated to providing clean water for those throughout his community and was a top Culligan Sales Associate, where he won numerous awards for his service. Music was a huge part of David's life. He loved the local music scene, including such artists as Jackson Spire, The Jim Tate Band, and many others, as well as renowned favorites like Jackson Browne, Bob Dylan, Joan Baez, Joni Mitchell and many, many more. David was preceded in death by his mother (Gerry Briegel) and sister (Wendy Alt).

Notes for Eric Daniel Stollsteimer:

May 28, 1997 - "Look at this!" Eric Stollsteimer, the fresh-faced proprietor of Boss Guitars is beaming. "I saw this, and I just had to have it." In his hands is an unremarkable-looking Japanese electric guitar from the 1960s. Like so many of its kind, the instrument is a topographic map of chrome and plastic with enough knobs and switches to retrofit a kitchen. His attention is directed to the small print beneath one of the toggle switches. The Japanese manufacturer has misspelled the word "rhythm," offering the player a choice between the lead and "rizm" settings. Apparently, spelling wasn't Job No. 1 on the assembly line, but the liberty taken with the word "rhythm" is what gives this particular guitar its unique charm. "I play rizm guitar," Stollsteimer grins. At 21 years old, Stollsteimer is embarking on a journey that will probably last a lifetime. Like people who are wild about old cars, vintage guitar buffs are lifers. The interest in collecting these instruments has grown steadily over the years into a worldwide phenomenon that shows no sign of waning. For the people involved, it is a passion, a whirlwind romance, which gains momentum with every new discovery.

"This isn't New York, and it's not California," says Stollsteimer, who opened his shop in Ann Arbor, Michigan, last year. "The prices on vintage gear in those places is outrageous. There's plenty of stuff here, and you can still get it for a reasonable price." Stollsteimer keeps both "budget" and "premium" guitars in stock with price tags ranging from $70 to $2,000. "There are a lot of really nice guitars in circulation in Michigan compared to other parts of the country," says Gordy Lupo, co-owner with wife Marcia of Gordy's Music in Ferndale, Michigan. Lupo credits the many musicians from Detroit's Motown era, the Gibson guitar factory and the popularity of blues and roots music for the abundance of quality instruments in Michigan. "The '50s and '60s were a great time for music in Detroit and a lot of those guitars are still around," he says. "These pieces tend to circulate within the state. I'll sell the same guitar seven or eight times in 10 years. They just keep coming back around." George Gruhn, a Nashville dealer, published a series of newsletters in the early '70s legitimizing vintage guitars as a viable commodity. Gruhn's name has since become synonymous with collecting. Through his newsletter, he assigned a price and value to the instruments, which set off a boom in collecting. This reached a peak in the early '80s when Japanese investors realized the potential for appreciation in American art and artifact. For the first time, people were buying guitars as an "investment." Japanese collectors have continued their interest in vintage guitars. In March, Paul McCartney's custom bass guitar sold for 25 million yen (approximately $200,000) at a Tokyo auction.

Elderly Instruments, in business since 1973 in Lansing, Michigan, publishes a monthly newsletter listing the prices of its extensive collection of used instruments. Anthony Marsala, an appraiser with Elderly for 17 years, cites the late 1930s Martin D-28s as the most collectible acoustic guitars. In mint condition, they can sell for $50,000 and up. Old Fender Telecasters and Gibson Les Pauls from the '50s remain the most sought-after electrics, with mint-condition guitars fetching up to $150,000. This is a far cry from the $200 price tag that swung from their tuners 40-plus years ago. "The stories and mystique behind guitars is part of what drives the vintage market," says longtime collector Brian Delaney. "It's what a personality brings to a specific instrument that makes one guitar more valuable than another. I mean, a Strat (the Fender "Stratocaster") wouldn't be a Strat if it wasn't for Jimi Hendrix. You couldn't give those things away in '66, but after '68 everybody had to have a Strat." (The 1969 Strat that Hendrix played at Woodstock fetched $320,000 at an auction seven years ago. New, the guitar would have cost $200 to $300.) Delaney owns and operates Specialized Guitar Services in Ann Arbor, and has been collecting vintage amps and guitars (as well as repairing them) for more than 20 years. "Guys like Eric (Stollsteimer), have their work, cut out for them," he says. "The days of finding a great guitar in somebody's attic are over." Stollsteimer might indeed have a long road ahead, but that suits him fine. He's worked hard on Boss Guitars and, though just starting out, he is clearly a hopeless guitar nut.

Notes for Denise Strain:

Denise Atwell, 48, of Clear Lake City, Texas passed away January 6, 2009, at Triumph Hospital in Webster, Texas. She was a wonderful wife, mom, step mom, grandmother, daughter, and a friend to everyone she met. For nearly four years she valiantly fought the post-effects of chemo and radiation that she had to endure for the cancer, that eventually took her life. In the end, her organs and immune system were so weak that she did not have the energy or strength to fight the fight anymore. Denise was born and raised in Texas City. Being the independent person, she was she went into business for herself as a political consultant at Mainland Marketing and Research, and eventually formed XXcel Corp. where she performed IT consulting services. She and her husband Bill married in 1995, and formally adopted daughter Mallory Rose in 2003.

She is survived by her husband Bill, mother Dot Wilbanks, daughters Mallory Rose and Michelle Roberts, son Joseph Roberts, stepsons Jamie Atwell (Rancho Santa Fe, California) and Jason Atwell (League City, Texas) and their wives and children, granddaughter Bonnie Jean Pillow, and grandchildren

Monica, Kendra and Lil. Joe, stepbrother Maxie Wilbanks, Jr. and step sister, Marcia Andrews, lots of cousins and relatives too numerous to mention.

Denise loved the outdoors and always shared her infectious laughter and gift of love for her family and friends. We will miss her beautiful smile, deep devotional love for her God and her family and friends, and radiant attitude that one day she would conquer her disease; her loving God has now relieved her of the mortal pain and suffering.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, January 10, at 2:30 p.m. in honor of her wonderful life at Crowder Funeral Home, 111 E. Medical Center Blvd., Webster, Texas, (281) 280-9000. In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations be made in Denise's name to the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, Texas.

He was baptized as an infant and became a member of the First Presbyterian Church while in Junior High. Gary attended elementary and high school in Akron and graduated with the class of 1975. Gary was a Cub Scout and a Boy Scout, earning the Life Scout Badge. He also was elected into the Order of the Arrow. He went to Boy Scout Camp at Ben-Delatur for several summer camps.

On August 23, 1975 he was united in marriage to Kathy Lee Dickson at the Methodist Church in Akron. Two sons were born to this union, Joshua Eugene and Jeremy Allen.

As a child, many fun times were spent at his Krause grandparent's farm. Sometimes his brothers joined him in the fun. During one of those times, he and his older brothers, Tony and Mark, put their younger brother, Kirk, in a bucket with a rope tied to the handle and put him out of a window in the hay loft of the barn. Part way down, the rope broke and dropped the bucket with Kirk inside, scaring Grandpa to the point of knocking heads. Gary enjoyed hunting and fishing, camping at the lake with Kathy and being outdoors. His prize hunt was in getting a moose on one of his fall hunts. His greatest passion was rock and arrowhead hunting. He had a large collection of arrows he found, and made pictures out of arrows and pieces. Gary and Angela Sherman were married on December 22, 2009 in Akron and made their home there. At the time of death, Gary was employed by the Colorado Department of Transportation and had recently received his 15-year pin.

Gary was preceded in death by his wife Kathy, grandparents Glen and Mary Krause, and OB and Maude Wells. He is survived by his wife Angela, sons Josh and wife Beth, and Jeremy and wife Kim, grandsons Josh, Isaac, Peyton, and Carter, granddaughter Julie, parents William and Sidney, brothers Tony and wife Marta, Mark and wife Natalie, Kirk and wife Diane, step-children Stevie, Derek, and Alec, and many uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces, and cousins.

A memorial service was held Saturday, February 26, 2011 at the Akron Foursquare Church. Memorial donations may be made in his name to the charity of the donor's choice. Brenner Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
