Notes for Dr. Karen Kay Konarski:

Karen Konarski-Hart, DC, DABCO, MSDPEM, FICC

Witnessing an emergency and being unable to respond is heartbreaking. If the lack of response is due to a doctor's lack of confidence of his or her skills, it is a tragedy. Luckily, doctors can refresh their training and update their education by attending Dr. Karen Konarski-Hart's program. She presents an energy-packed seminar on D.C. community involvement and cross training, urging doctors of chiropractic to volunteer in their communities—especially with disaster response. Doctors leave this program with straightforward tips on how to get involved and how to work seamlessly with all disciplines. This course covers the skills recommended in the American Chiropractic Association's resolution on chiropractic emergency service. It is also customized to the needs and interests of the attendees and to the probable situations in the state or region of those attendees. Information gained is applicable both to personal home emergencies and team participation in disasters.

Dr. Konarski-Hart earned diplomate status in chiropractic orthopedics from Parker College of Chiropractic, a Doctor of Chiropractic degree from the National College of Chiropractic, and a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Michigan. She holds a Master's Degree in Disaster Preparedness and Emergency Management from Arkansas State University. She has practiced since 1979 in Little Rock, Arkansas, was a governor's appointee to the Arkansas Board of Health and served as its president. She has served on the Arkansas Bioterrorism Advisory Committee, is a physician on the Arkansas Emergency Medical Service Training Committee and is a leader of the Pulaski County Medical Reserve Corps.

Dr. Konarski-Hart is a member of the AR1-Disaster Medical Assistance Team and was one of only 35 U.S. DMAT members trained at "Consequence Island 2001" at the Weapons of Mass Destruction Conference in Puerto Rico. She has participated in "Quake 97" and "Quake 99" training and is a certified trainer-emergency responder nuclear, biological, and chemical technician (U.S. National Domestic Preparedness Program). She is a national- and state-certified EMT, an American Heart Association certified instructor, and has trained in Red Cross Mass Care and Disaster Services. She holds many specialized certificates in emergency care and disaster relief such as Stop The Bleed and Critical Incident Stress Management.

Dr. Konarski-Hart is past president of the Arkansas Chiropractic Association. She was a Councilor on the Council on Chiropractic Education. She was state delegate to the American Chiropractic Association and has received their Delegate of the Year and Humanitarian of the Year awards. She currently serves on their Board of Governors as vice president of the ACA.

Notes for Wesley Neill Hart, Jr.:

Wesley Neill Hart Jr. was born July 12, 1931 in Dermott. As a Methodist "preacher's kid", he attended several schools in south Arkansas while growing up. He graduated from Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas in 1953 with a degree in the natural sciences. Since he always loved airplanes, upon graduation he applied for pilot training and joined the Air Force in October 1953. Neill trained at Lackland, Hondo and Williams Air Force Bases. He graduated from jet school as a distinguished cadet and was assigned to the 1739th Ferrying Squadron. Stationed at Amarillo Texas, his ferrying missions took him from Alaska across the Northern Hemisphere to Greenland, Iceland and the British Isles to Europe and North Africa. He also flew from Okinawa and Japan to islands in the Pacific. Many of the older aircraft flown in for repair of interesting damage presented some challenges in transport and landing.

Some of his most memorable moments are of a C-119 which had 26 feet of fuselage missing that was flown from France to Olmstead AFB with only canvas strapped on over the opening and of an SA16 landed wheels up with its torn bottom replaced by doped fabric that was transported from North Africa to the US. Another memory is of a partial panel C-47 GCA landing at Fairbanks in minimal conditions.

Neill completed his service as a 1st Lieutenant in January 1958. He moved to Little Rock, Arkansas, worked at First National Bank for 25 years and retired as Executive Vice President. As EVP he oversaw the building of the First National Bank Building (the tallest building in Arkansas at that time) and the installation of its first computer. He joined Pulaski Heights United Methodist Church and served on the Little Rock School Board and later as Regional Representative for Community Concerts. He continues his love of flight, following all new developments in air and space craft. His passion for flying is even reflected in his love of birds and birding.

Neill has 4 children (Jean Marie Ritter, Wesley Neill Hart III, Laura Lynn Mannarino and Linda Ruth Cheyne) and 14 grandchildren. He is married to and works with Karen Konarski-Hart DC in their home office in Little Rock.

Wesley "Neill" Hart Jr. passed away on March 10, 2023. He was born in Dermott, Arkansas, on July 12, 1931. Neill graduated from Hendrix College in Conway in 1953 as a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. Neill had a passion for music and all things that had wings. After graduation, he joined the United States Air Force and entered flight training. He served as a First Lieutenant until his honorable discharge in 1962. He retired from First National Bank as the EVP. He was responsible for building First National's tower now known as Region's tower, and the installation of the bank's first computer.

He served on the Little Rock School Board and was Superintendent of Pulaski Heights United Methodist Church School, where his father had served as a minister in the 1930s. He was also a member of the PHUMC Roundtable Sunday School class. He worked as a regional representative for Community Concerts, was a member of Audubon Society of Central Arkansas (ASCA), was a member of Arkansas Country Dance Society, and a charter member of Arkansas Scottish Country Dance Society. He met the love of his life at the 12th Night Ball and was married to Karen Konarski on April 19, 1986. He became the Manager of Konarski Chiropractic Clinic and participated in Chiropractic meetings nationwide.

Neill was predeceased by his father, Wesley Neill Hart Sr.; his mother Jerrine Oats Hart; and his sisters Jerrine Hilliard and Hallie Jo Hart. He is survived by his wife, Karen Konarski-Hart; his daughters, Jean Marie (Brad) Millar, Laura (John) Mannarino, Linda (Stan) Cheyne; and his son Wesley Hart III (Christina). He has 12 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

A visitation will be held Tuesday, March 14, 2023, from 5-7 p.m. at Ruebel Funeral Home. A service of remembrance will be held on Wednesday, March 15, 2023, at 12 p.m. at Pulaski Heights United Methodist Church with a reception to follow. Private burial will be at Roselawn Memorial Park, Little Rock, Arkansas. Memorials may be made to PHUMC Caring Ministries, 4823 Woodlawn Avenue, Little Rock, Arkansas 72205, or ASCA 4500 Springer Blvd., Little Rock, Arkansas 72206. Arrangements are under the direction of Ruebel Funeral Home, 6313 West Markham Street, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Notes for Betty Jane Prellwitz:

Betty "Aunt Betty" Nowicki (Nee Prellwitz) of Glendale, formerly of Franklin, Wisconsin, peacefully left us with 81 years of warmth and wonderful memories on May 1, 2016 surrounded by the comfort of her loving family. Beloved wife of the late Thomas H. Nowicki. She was also preceded in death by her parents; Martin and Lillian Prellwitz, her sister Carol McNulty and brother Gary L. Prellwitz and his wife Joan. She is survived by her sister Wyonne (Wayne) Riste of LaCrosse; brother Lowell (Geraldine) Prellwitz and little Milo of Manawa, Wisconsin.; special niece Karen (Prellwitz) Hoffmann and her favorite nephew in law Patrick Hoffmann of Fox Point as well as Charlie and Joey.

Betty is also survived by her adoring nieces and nephews; Kris, Ruth Julie, Lynne, Bryan, Carol, Mike, Tom, Tammy K, Lloyd, Tammy M., Lee, and Lisa as well as their spouses, great nieces and nephews and friends. She also leaves behind her two furry friends; Cooper and Sadie. Betty (Prellwitz) Nowicki was born in Tigerton, Wisconsin January 17, 1935.

Her family moved to Clintonville and then to Manawa, Wisconsin where she graduated from Manawa Little Wolf High School in 1952. She then moved to Milwaukee with her sisters Carol and Wyonne to experience city life and obtain employment. Betty worked as an office manager at the Milwaukee Stock Yards until the time of her marriage to Thomas Nowicki on October 19, 1957. Later, she took a position at Nordberg manufacturing company and continued her career there for 34 years until the time of her retirement in 1997. Upon her retirement, Betty was very active in the Franklin Senior Citizens Club. She was a founding member of the Franklin Walking Club and served in various capacities. She had also been a member of the Franklin Women's Club for years. She loved to volunteer in all aspects of life and enjoyed learning and trying new things. She joined the St. Stephen the Martyr Evangelical Lutheran Church bell choir when she was in her late-70's and even had a few stints on a Stand Up Paddle Board in the summer of 2015 at Bear Lake. She recently joined the Glendale Senior Citizen Club and played Sheepshead every Thursday afternoon. She loved and lived life! Betty was an avid flower gardener and was happy to share her beautiful plants with many people. The sharing of her perennials brought her great joy and she was always thrilled to see her flowers thriving in others gardens. She also enjoyed crafting and held many large craft shows in her home in Franklin. In her later years, she moved to a condo in Glendale that allowed a small area by her patio to continue her flower gardening which brought her great joy to watch her flowers bloom.

Visitation will take place on Saturday, May 7 at Fox Point Lutheran Church, 7510 N. Santa Monica Blvd., from 10:30AM-12:00PM, with a service honoring Betty's life immediately following at 12:00PM. The family would like to thank the Fox Point Lutheran Church community for their prayers and support during her recent illness. A special thank you to Horizon Home Hospice including Nurse Cheryl for understanding Betty's every need and hospice aide Kim who was a blessing in so many ways. The family would especially like to thank "Nurse Laura" who was Aunt Betty's partner in shenanigans while staying at Lawliss Family Hospice in Mequon, WI. We also want to thank Linda, Kelli, Pam, Mary, Colleen, Denise, Tequina, Ami, Stephanie, Erin and all the other staff members we may have missed. A special Birthday Blessing to Audrey for her compassionate and loving care that she showed Aunt Betty in her final moments as if she was just another one of Aunt Betty's nieces.

Notes for Allyn Ronald Berryman:

Allyn R. Berryman, known affectionately to his friends as Owl, started life on Oct. 30, 1928, in Chicago with parents Harry and Julia Berryman. He grew up in Chicago. As soon as he was old enough he enlisted in the Navy in the closing days of World War II and served on the cruiser Columbia. He stayed in the Reserves and went on to school to complete his technical degree at DeForest (predecessor to DeVry) in Chicago. He was called back into the Navy in 1950, and served for two years aboard the destroyer Lyman K. Swenson as an Electronics Technician in combat duty off the coast of Korea.

He reported to the Great Lakes Training Center when called back into active duty. It was in the dead of winter and was freezing cold. Shortly thereafter he was assigned to a ship in San Diego. He and a shipmate went out water skiing, using their Navy issue long underwear for wetsuits. The contrast was not lost on Al and he decided then that he would not return to Chicago. When his service was completed in 1952, he dis-embarked from his ship at San Diego and was greeted by recruiters from China Lake. He and one of his buddies decided to try it out while looking around for other opportunities. As happened with many people who came to China Lake with this idea, he quickly became absorbed in the work and stopped looking elsewhere.

His electronics and flying skills led him into a variety of fascinating projects. He was invited to work on one of Bill McLean's special projects, the Moray submersible. This project was a proof of concept for a small fast two-man maneuverable submersible, which could be launched by a large submarine to attack an enemy sub. Al was involved with the instrumentation and controls and developed an autopilot that allowed stable high speed underwater runs.

He was a pilot and designed the system so that it could be flown like an airplane rather than controlled like a traditional submarine. Al was the only civilian pilot of Moray and was the pilot on many of the test runs, including the first, and the very memorable last one, when the battery compartment exploded and sent Moray to the bottom of the ocean. This was one of many close calls Al had during his life, including a midair collision, and a near drowning when a raft carrying a large spool of wire capsized in rough water while preparing for a test off the beach at San Clemente and Al's feet became entangled and drug him under. He survived them all primarily because of his extraordinary skill and ability to think clearly under pressure.

He piloted Moray during a two-week joint diving operation off San Clemente with Jacques Cousteau's Soucoupe, and the other two NOTS designed diving vehicles, Deep Jeep and CURV. Al also provided technical consulting to Cousteau in the exploration of the La Jolla trench off the San Diego coast line. In 1966, he was sent to the Mediterranean with Deep Jeep and made dives down to 2000 feet, while participating in the search and recovery of an H-Bomb that was lost in the sea when a B-52G collided with its tanker while refueling off the coast of Spain. For this work he received the Meritorious Civilian Service Award. He later worked on an experimental weather modification program. He designed and outfitted a turbo charged Cessna 210 with avionics and special instrumentation for this task, and flew as pilot in command on many of the cloud seeding operations all over the midwest, often flying in thunderstorms. For the last 20 years of his career, he was the Hardware Group Leader in the Simulation Laboratory, doing hardware-in-the-loop testing on many of China Lake's missile programs.

In retirement he continued electronic design projects from his home, some commercial and some just for fun. One was an elaborate data collection and monitoring system for a close friend's twin diesel powered boat. He loved projects of all kinds and was not happy unless he had several going. He took all the welding classes up at the college and did a lot of welding and metal work, primarily a lot of ornamental iron projects for friends.

Al achieved his dream of learning to fly shortly after he arrived at China Lake in 1952. Over the years, he owned many airplanes, alone and in partnership. He became a highly skilled pilot and one of the area's best instructors. Eventually he earned many pilot ratings, including airplane, instrument, glider, ATP (Airline Transport Pilot), seaplane, and helicopter. In the mid-'50s he was attracted to soaring and checked out in sailplanes at the famed soaring site of El Mirage in the California desert. He became very interested in the Sierra Wave phenomenon which had been discovered in the 1950's and explored the wave on many flights with his Cessna 170. He achieved the Soaring Society altitude gain goals of 1,000 meters (3281 feet) and 3,000 meters (9842 feet) by shutting down the engine in the airplane and soaring it like a glider. On his best flight, he soared the 170 from 6,000 feet to 33,000 feet, but the recording barograph system failed so that achievement was never recognized. On that flight the battery died from the cold at altitude, and he landed dead stick at the old Davis Airport after dark in high winds, with no radio or lights, an amazing accomplishment.

He ran the Sierra Soaring operation at Inyokern for over 20 years with three other partners, making many long cross country soaring flights, mostly on the mountains, taught many people to fly and set several State soaring records. He also enjoyed many backpacking trips in the Sierras, bicycling trips, RV adventures, and RC model airplanes. His adventures were always laced with mischievous humor, including the famous bicycle trip from "Fairbanks to Mexico City."

Al got his nickname when a friend's young child had trouble pronouncing "Al" and it came out "Owl." Everyone thought that was a great name and it stuck. Al decided that he liked the name also, and it marked the beginning of his collection of owl paraphernalia of all kinds.

He will be remembered by all his friends as a thoughtful, but mischievous, person with daring tendencies and innovative ideas — but always persevering to accomplish his goals. As he expressed during his last difficult year — "I had a great life." He left us on January 15, 2011, having accomplished what we all desire — an exciting, productive, and worthwhile time on this earth. His kindness, helpfulness, and generosity enriched the lives of all who knew him, while his legendary storytelling, most of which was true, endlessly entertained them.

He leaves his close friend and longtime companion, BJ Holden, stepsons, Mike and Joel Cash, and his many dear friends. Donations in Al's memory can be made to China Lake Museum Foundation, PO Box 217, Ridgecrest, California 93556; "In Memory of Allyn Berryman". A Memorial and Celebration of Life will be held on Saturday, Feb. 19 at the White Star from 1 to 3 p.m. Come prepared to tell your best Al story if you have one you would like to tell.

Interview with Dennis James - Author, Attorney, Traveler - Feb. 25, 2016

Dennis James is a retired attorney living and writing in Brooklyn, New York. He previously practiced employment law on behalf of employees in Detroit, Michigan. His short stories have been published in Mobius, The Summerset Review, The Griffin, The MacGuffin, and Struggle Magazine. A collection of ten of his stories and the nonfiction, "Algeria Journal," were published in 2012 in a special supplement of The Legal Studies Forum, a quarterly publication of literature by lawyers. His article, "Cuba: State of the Arts," was published in 2013 in the quarterly magazine of the North American Conference on Latin America. Dennis and his wife, Barbara Grossman, travel extensively (but not on a Harley). He is currently working on Songs of the Baka, a book based on their travels, to be released by Skyhorse Publishing next year. He can be contacted at djames11238@gmail.com

If you've ever had the urge to pack it all in and just drop out, you'll want to read Dennis's essay, "Leaving Big Sur," in Letting Go: An Anthology of Attempts.

After Retirement, this Couple Hit the Road. Their favorite place? Algeria. - Dennis James and Barbara Grossman:

Abandoning the comfort and security of a typical retirement, a couple travels through the most isolated parts of the world. Songs of the Baka is their story. After their retirement, Dennis James and Barbara Grossman decide to travel where tour buses won't and where the US government says "don't," incorporating trekking into their travels as a way to see.

Armed with a passport, an interest in non-Western and indigenous cultures, a spirit for adventure, and a sense of humor, they hike through the forests in the highlands of Papua New Guinea; visit the traditional hunter-gatherer Baka Pygmy community in Cameroon; stay with the cliff-dwelling Dogon people in Mali; explore Roman ruins in Algeria; meet a nervous mother rhino in Nepal; and witness bull-jumping, a coming-of-age ritual for young Hamar men in Ethiopia.

In defiance of typical tourist travel, ignoring State Department warnings, and with a curiosity and hardiness that belies their ages, Dennis and Barbara choose to travel the roads not taken so frequently—to places like Cuba, Iran, Venezuela, and Gaza—seeking the truth behind the headlines and exploring the deeper questions about the local cultures they encounter.

Why do these people cling to the art, sexual mores, economic and political hierarchies, and spiritualities that govern their lives? And how and why do they remain resistant to the pressures of globalization? A journey into the other sides of the world, Songs of the Baka and Other Discoveries put aside preconceptions and combines the wisdom of age with the stamina of youth.

Dennis James and Barbara Grossman's extravagant journeys provide inspiration that traveling should not be defined nor limited by age. The couples' stories are crafted with language that makes the reader feel as if they are experiencing life first hand with Dennis and Barbara.

Notes for Elissa Gail (Lisa) Nowak:

Detroit, March 2, 1975 - Until as recently as 10 years ago, ambitious, talented dancers with any sense left Detroit after high school to try and make it in New York with a professional company. New York was where the audience, the creativity, Martha Graham, Agnes DeMille and Juilliard were. Those who stayed here were doomed to end up teaching exercise classes to suburban housewives. For a dancer, staying in Detroit was, artistically speaking, suicide. But that's no longer true. In fact, some local artists are now saying New York is suicide, because there are just too many dancers there more than 100 companies. Some are even saying the whole future of dance is in regionalism. The only way to upgrade the cultural quality of our cities, is, as they see it, to stay home and develop. That is what Lisa Nowak believes. Ms. Nowak is head of the Dance Department at the Detroit Community Music School and director of Harbinger, the school's resident dance troupe.

The problem, according to Ms. Nowak, is not that Detroiters are unreceptive to the art form. The Dance Series at Music Hall, which during the past year has featured Martha Graham, Alvin Ailey, Merce Cunningham, the Pittsburgh and Toronto ballets and Agnes DeMille, is always a sell-out. And the problem is not that Detroit is without a dance heritage. Since the 1940's city schools have had a dance program. Today, there are dance specialists in 18 of the 22 city high schools. Programs are so extensive at Northwestern and Cass that a student can almost major in dance. The problem and Ms. Nowak may be right is communication. If that's not the problem, then you won't be surprised to know that there are, according to Ms. Nowak, as many as 25 dance companies in the Detroit metropolitan area. Most Detroiters, including Music Hall patrons have never seen any of them perform.

"The saddest thing about Detroit is the image we have of ourselves," says Ms. Nowak. "We have become so blinded by the nation's disregard for Detroit, that we miss some of the really beautiful things going on here." One of the really beautiful things going on here is Harbinger, an 11-member modern dance company formed in 1970, that for the first time this year, is making an effort to support itself. Each dancer is paid $50 a week, which isn't much, but is still significant. It's significant because by definition a professional dance company is one that earns its living dancing. This means, of course that it has an audience, the attention of the press, and, it should follow, talent. Harbingers has since 1972 consistently received grants from the Michigan Council for the Arts. Together with income from performances, donations, and the backbone support of the Detroit Community Music School, the troupe has been able to survive the crucial formative period. But hovering on the edge of professionalism has excluded Harbingers from qualifying for federal funds, the critical source of support for many professional dance troupes.

Only two of the 25 companies in the area - Harbinger and the Christopher Ballet in Rochester - consider themselves professional, or approaching professional status, although many of the others, while not economically independent, are highly talented. But it is Harbinger that is becoming one of the most talked about companies in the area. And most of the credit goes to Lisa Nowak, whose abilities as a choreographer and instructor are the real energy behind the troupe's growing success. Ms. Nowak left Detroit at 17, went to Juilliard, came home and attended Wayne. Then she took her B.A. in dance at Adepfi in New York, did some graduate work at Sarah Lawrence and danced her way across Poland before returning to Detroit. Ms. Nowak was the first person to teach modern dance at the Warsaw School of Ballet. She also choreographed three major ballets performed on Polish television during her stay there.

Harbinger's 11 dancers perform modern works, although its members are all familiar with classical ballet (it is required study for students in the dance department). The point of being in Harbinger (instead of majoring in dance at a college or university) is, as Lisa Nowak sees it "that you get a great deal of opportunity to perform." When they're not performing or on tour, Harbinger practices from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. weekdays and all-day Sunday. The dancers take five 1-1/2 hour dance classes each week. When there's a performance, they rehearse again from 8:30 p.m. until midnight. For their most recent performance in late January at the Institute of Arts, they practiced 10 hours a day, with no breaks for two weeks.

Harbinger has no staff, there's not enough money for one. So company members do the mailing, sell the tickets, take care of the entire business end of Harbinger. That kind of devotion isn't at all surprising to Lisa Nowak. "When you really love something," she says, "you'll do almost anything to make it work." For one colorful, music and motion-filled week this May 26 to 31, Detroiters will be exposed to more dance than, quite possibly, at any other time in the city's history. Ten Detroit area dance companies will perform in two ballet extravaganzas at the Music Hall. There will be open workshops, lectures and demonstrations at dance studios throughout greater Detroit. And the city's dance-conscious high schools will pool their talents for a Dance Day, (probably at the Detroit Institute of Arts), and a week of specialized workshops.

All this will happen under the aegis of the first Detroit Bi-Centennial Dance Festival, organized by the Detroit Metropolitan Dance Project. It will be the first time the Project, which brings nationally prominent dance troupes to Detroit will focus the spotlight on aspiring local dance troupes. Dance, it would seem, is coming alive in Detroit.

Nov. 4, 1981 - On the program at Harbinger's Fall Concert: C BACH PIECES: Choreography by Kathryn Posin, music by Johann Sebastian Bach. Kathryn Posin, who has her own New York-based company and is also rumored to possess a finely tuned sense of humor, choreographed this fairly straightforward piece for Harbinger this year on a National Endowment for the Arts grant. PUSSYCAT DUES: Choreography by Michael Kessler, music by Duke Ellington, Earth, Wind and Fire and Annie Ross. Choreographer Michael Kessler created this gymnastic solo for dancer Kitty Skillman in New York. It will be athletic enough to require foam rubber padding for the floor. CAVE: Choreography by Lisa Nowak. music by George Crumb. Along with "Bach Pieces" and "Pussycat Dues," a company debut. Described as "really fresh" and "hot off the griddle" by Nowak, "Cave" was inspired by her frequent travels to the western United States, where she developed a fascination for the lives of the primitive people of the early pueblo cultures and their vulnerability to the forces of nature. Photographer Brad Iverson provides the background of projected images. SOJOURN: Choreography by Sandra Masala, music by various composers from Bach to Ravi Shankar. This is a reconstruction of the modern, abstract work last performed by the company in 1979.

Last we heard from Harbinger dance company, it was announcing, with mixed feelings, a September move from its spacious Highland Park studios to the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, due to strained finances. The time before that, news was that Harbinger had been forced to cancel its 1981 May concert series at Orchestra Hall, also an economic decision. Both sounded bad, and, in a way, they were. Despite Harbinger's reputation as one of Detroit's most stable dance organizations, it was clear that Michigan's economic depression had hit even this dependable troupe and served to point out that the expression "stable dance organization" is a contradiction in terms.

In fact, company Artistic Director Lisa Nowak whoops with laughter at the suggestion that Harbinger ever had 1 a solid economic base. "I don't know why everybody has the opinion we're so stable; we have the same problems as everybody else. "If anything, I'd say we're worse off. Because we have a bigger budget, we have more at stake. I think the thing we have that other dance companies might not have is a stronger board of directors. But we don't have any of the big spenders on the board. I don't feel secure at all; I feel very vulnerable." - But a peek at Harbinger's new home a spacious, high-ceilinged room with large windows on the third floor of Building J on OCC-Orchard Ridge's small campus makes Harbinger's latest move look less an act of desperation than a sound, maybe even beneficial, decision.

True, Harbinger recently lost its Highland Park studio. It has been cut from the National Endowment for the Arts dance touring program ("And after we just got back on the touring program," laments Nowak). And the company probably can't expect any more of the kind of National Endowment money that brought in New York choreographer Kathryn Posin to set a new work for Harbinger's Fall Concert at Orchestra Hall this week. Local corporate support also is rapidly drying up. But as OCC's resident dance company, Harbinger has 100 new students enrolled in a fledgling dance program and a new space (although its floor is so hard they had to cover it with foam rubber padding.) The company maintains two new satellite teaching locations in Grosse Pointe, at Sacred Heart Academy and Brownell Middle School. And its residency is the first step in what OCC hopes will someday blossom into a total performing arts community on the campus.

Fall concerts featuring three debut pieces are coming up, the annual Christmas performance of "Ebenezer" is still on, and the company will perform at Music Hall in the spring. Two choreographers, Bill Evans of Seattle and Tom Rude of the San Francisco Ballet, will be brought in during the first few months of 1982 (at company expense) to work on two dances for the Music Hall concerts. Nowak is also at work on a new piece for spring. And, despite a few regrets, Nowak remains optimistic. "Our first real desire was to be in the city of Detroit. We'd been looking for years for space in downtown Detroit, but we couldn't find anything that didn't require thousands of dollars for renovations, which we just didn't have. "It was primarily a financial decision, but I would say that our secondary reason was that we wanted to build a broader and stronger community base. In Highland Park, we were kind of isolated from Detroit, from the suburban areas.

"OCC has been good to us, very enthusiastic, and I think we've been good for them. People walking down the corridor after lunch can watch a full Harbinger rehearsal, in the morning they can come and watch company class. "It makes us feel a part of a real community, because so many people who might not ever go to a dance concert are seeing us. It's a nice feeling; I like it."

Feb. 18, 1985 - Modern dance is second nature to Lisa Nowak, founder and artistic director of Detroit's Harbinger Dance Company, which celebrates its 15th anniversary this week with a run at the Music Hall. But Nowak, 45, who trained first in Detroit and later at New York's Juilliard School, realizes that some people don't understand her art. "The problem is that dance in general is inhibiting to some people who are afraid of it, don't know what to expect, are victimized by stereotyped conceptions." The trick to reaching those people, she believes, is to get them in the door. "Once they see the company, they begin to get intrigued and excited and interested, because the repertoire is very accessible. And there's no reason why someone would be put off by it."

Though Harbinger is in residence at Oakland Community College, Nowak considers the entire state her audience and says Harbinger's identity is "larger than Detroit." "We are definitely a Michigan company," she said. "We appear all over the state. And we're beginning to tour in the Midwest. As far as our identity with Detroit is concerned, naturally I think an important arts organization must perform in the city." But she makes it perfectly clear that her allegiance is to her art rather than to any geographic locus. "I mean dance is dance." Nowak's dedication to reaching that audience includes such efforts as the recent "Bring a Friend" promotion, which encourages concertgoers to hold small dinner parties in their homes and then bring their guests to the show. This is just one of several strategies devised by the company's support group, Bravo Harbinger, which has about 300 members.

More artist than entrepreneur, Nowak prefers to leave the business details of her company to longtime general manager Ellen Pisor and to Harbinger's new board president, Ralph Graham. Appointed just last October, Graham is an experienced fundraiser. You can sense from Nowak's voice what work she loves best: "I love making dance. I love working with dancers. I'm a dance junkie." THE MUSIC Hall program will feature two premiers, "Windborn," choreographed by Nowak, and "War Dances," a piece conceived especially for the company by Minnesota Dance Theater's David Voss. Set to old hits including "Sunny Side of the Street" and "Hold Tight," Voss' dance is a 1940s number that aspires to more than just entertainment. "David was interested in the fact that the music during the Second World War was happy-go-lucky and the war itself was horrendous," said Nowak. "He tried to play up the contrast between the American music of the time and what was really happening in the world."

"My piece is quite different," Nowak continued. "It's inspired by kites. I was interested not just in the movement and the color, but also in some of the spiritual aspects of kites. The Polynesians saw the kite as a wind sail and worshiped the wind. So kites were very significant. They saw the kites as a symbol of the soul." Rounding out the program will be two earlier works by Nowak, the company's primary choreographer: "Sundance," which Nowak calls a "lively aerobic tour de force" and a 1980 piece inspired by heat and winged creatures called "Haze." "It's an extremely ambitious program for us," she said. "The demands of the lighting and the special effects are all very difficult." For this reason, Harbinger will not be varying the program from evening to evening. "We wanted to do the works justice rather than trying to do too much."

Detroit, Jan. 17, 1997 - Lisa Nowak acknowledged she sometimes struggled against preconceived notions as she founded and directed Michigan's first professional dance company. The problem is that dance in general is inhibiting to some people who are afraid of it, don't know what to expect, are victimized by stereotyped conceptions," she told the Free Press in 1985, after 15 years of staging performances through the Harbinger Dance Company. Once audiences were exposed to the company's work, "they begin to get intrigued and excited and interested, because the repertoire is very accessible. And there's no reason why someone would be put off by it" Ms. Nowak, who was Harbinger's artistic director for 16 years, died of leukemia Jan. 8. She was 57 and lived in Southfield.

"I was always so impressed with her company's work" and her dedication to keeping the dance company in Detroit, Eva Powers, chairwoman of Wayne State University's dance department, said Thursday. "She was such a Detroiter, and such a supporter." Powers said Ms. Nowak's company "really set a standard for high-quality performance and concerts. And it gave students something to aspire to locally. They didn't have to run off to New York; they could study locally with the Harbinger Dance Company." Ms. Nowak left the company in 1986 amid budget problems that she said made it impossible to run the organization. It later folded. The company always tried to make a better life for dancers," said Gayle Eubanks, a longtime friend. "She felt very strongly about that: dancers being able to make a living at what they were good at doing. She was a real maverick, wanting to do things in a professional way before people in the community thought you could or should." She later was an artist in residence at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, and director of development for the Arts Foundation of Michigan. She also had choreographed works for other companies in recent years and taught ballet at the Detroit Skating Club in Bloomfield Hills.

Elissa G. Nowak was born in Detroit and attended the performing arts program at Cass Technical High School. She attended the Juilliard School, Wayne State and Adelphi University. She also attended the Joffrey Ballet School, the Martha Graham School and the Mary Anthony Studio. She danced professionally in New York with Martin Morginsky and Bea Sackler and performed with the Charles Weidman Company. From 1964 to 1966 she danced, taught and choreographed in Warsaw, Poland.

In 1966 she returned to Detroit and founded the Dance Department of the Detroit Community Music School. In 1970 she founded the Harbinger Dance Company, the first modern dance repertory company in Michigan. Ms. Nowak received an Arts Foundation of Michigan Award in 1987 and a resolution from the state Legislature honoring her contribution to the quality of life in Michigan in 1985.

Survivors include her husband, Dennis James; a son, Kiley James, and a daughter, Maya James. A memorial service will be at 3 p.m. Feb. 9 on Wayne State's campus at St. Andrew's Hall, near West Warren and the Lodge Freeway service drive.

Bill loved "the woods" surrounding his sister, Lissa's house. There he enjoyed four-wheeling and family gatherings around the campfire. Bill will always have a special place in the woods. A tree will be planted in his memory.

He was the type of person who would help anyone who asked him, whether it be plowing snow, making meals, or transportation. In his free time, he enjoyed making booyah, hunting, RVing with the family, and tailgating at Lambeau Field. He took pride in sponsoring and attending races for his nephew, Brian. He was a proud lifetime member at Holy Martyrs Catholic Church, he enjoyed serving at the Church Picnic and attending the Holy Name retreats. Notes for Dr. James Campion Hawley, Jr.:

Dr. James C. Hawley, Jr., 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hawley of 605 Alston Street, died Thursday night November 13, 1952 in a hospital in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, of leukemia, following a long illness. Dr. Hawley, who had served in World War II, and was engaged in the optometry profession in Milwaukee, leaves his widow and nine-pound infant daughter, who are still in a hospital, another small daughter and his parents, two brothers and two sisters.

Marysville friends of the family had not learned when the funeral services would be held. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley left Friday for Milwaukee. A complete obituary will be published after their return home.

Marriage Notes for Bernice Kaminski and James Hawley:

Of social interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Bernice Kaminski of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to Mr. James C. Hawley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hawley, Sr., of 605 Alston, Marysville. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kaminski of Milwaukee. Outstanding in loveliness among the autumn nuptials of local importance, the marriage was solemnized in an impressive and formal morning ceremony at the St. Alexander church in Milwaukee, September 14, 1946.

The vows were pledged in the presence of approximately 300 guests, at 9 o'clock, during solemn high mass, with Father Leonard Drewieck as celebrant, and officiating at the double ring wedding service. Traditional all white was the wedding costume of the attractive bride, complementing her brunette beauty. Her gown was fashioned of white slipper satin, and featured details were the sweetheart neckline outlined with inserts of net ruffling. The full net ruffles further trimmed the long tight sleeves: and the full skirt was dramatized with the net ruffles extending down the front and edging the circular skirt and lengthening to edge the long cathedral aisle wide train. Her double veil of bridal illusion, of finger-tip length, was held in place on her dark hair by a tiara of pearls and beading.

Completing the all-white costume were her bridal flowers of white roses and tiny white chrysanthemums, which she carried in a large cluster bouquet, showered with white satin bows and streamers. The bride's three attendants were Miss Mary Jane Revolinski, her cousin of Milwaukee, as maid of honor, and another cousin, Miss Delores Kaminski, and Miss Dorothy Grzechowiak, both of Milwaukee, as bridesmaids. Lime green taffeta combined with net fashioned the formal gown worn by the maid of honor. From the taffeta bodice the bouffant net skirt spread to floor length. In pastel contrast was her bouquet of yellow roses and chrysanthemums with yellow shower. The two bridesmaids were identically gowned in formal yellow bouffant frocks and each carried bouquets matching that of the maid of honor, but in harmony with her gown their bouquets were showered with lime green ribbon. Each attendant wore long lace gloves, and harmonizing feathered plumes designed their head-dresses. The wedding party included the small flower girl, who was gowned in formal white slipper satin styled to exactly match the gown of the bride. She carried roses of yellow and white and matching mums. Serving the groom as best man was Mr. Harry Stone; ushering the guests was Mr. John Revolinski.

Following the ceremony, the bridal couple was complimented with a wedding breakfast, given by the bride's parents, who were also hosts at a reception at the Plaza Ballroom, Milwaukee, for about 300 guests in the afternoon. The same evening the newly married couple were honored guests at a dance in the Plaza Ballroom.

The bride received her elementary education at the St. Alexander school, and was graduated from the Milwaukee high school. She has been employed with the Perfex company in that city. Mr. Hawley, a popular student while attending Marysville high school, was graduated with the class of 1942. He entered the service of the U. S. Navy in December of that year and was in active navy duty as C. M., 3-c, for four years. Most of that time he served Overseas, based at Pearl Harbor. Following his discharge last January, he became associated with a contracting firm in Milwaukee. Shortly before his marriage he became an employee of the Dad's Root Beer company in that city.

The newly married couple left by plane for a wedding trip to Kansas City, Missouri, and before returning to Milwaukee they visited his parents and other relatives in Marysville. They have now established their home at 3180 A South 30th street, Milwaukee, and both have resumed their respective employment.

Attending the wedding from Marysville were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hawley, Sr., and his brother, Ronald. Also wedding guests were the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Harpool of Omaha, Nebraska.

Children of Terry Stollsteimer and Lynne Simowski are:

- + 556 i. Eric Daniel⁸ Stollsteimer, born 05 Jan 1976 in Southfield, Oakland Co, Michigan.
- 557 ii. Jason Elliott Stollsteimer, born 22 Apr 1978 in Southfield, Oakland Co, Michigan. He married Andrea Corrin Wehenkel 16 Aug 2003 in Detroit, Wayne Co, Michigan; born 12 Aug 1978.

Notes for Jason Elliott Stollsteimer:

1978 – Imagine the anxiety and jubilation of a new grandchild - then multiply it by three. No, it's not a set of triplets, but three grandchildren have expanded the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stollsteimer of Dearborn in the last month, each to a different son or daughter.

An eight pound eleven-ounce baby boy, Jason Elliott, was born to Terry and Lynne M. (Simowski) Stollsteimer of Plymouth. Jason arrived April 22 at 5:28 a.m. in Providence Hospital, and measured 20-1/2 inches.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Simowski of Dearborn Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McNeil, also of Dearborn Heights, are proud great-grandparents. Jason will be a new brother to Eric, age two-and-a-half years.

Lynn G. and Helene (Stollsteimer) DeFrance of Haslett, Michigan had their first child in the person of Jeffrey Lynn, born at 2:26 p.m. May 10 in Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Jeffrey weighed in at eight pounds, nine ounces, and was 21 inches from top to bottom. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George DeFrance of Battle Creek.

The third Stollsteimer descendant is Jennifer, born to Michael A. and Janis (Stollsteimer) Germani of Detroit. Jennifer made her debut on May 13 at 1:56 a.m. in the Bi-County Hospital in Warren. She weighed six pounds, five ounces, measured 19-1/2 inches and is the Germani's first child. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andre Fournier of Compiegne, France.

Jason Stollsteimer (born Jason Elliott Stollsteimer on April 22, 1978 in Southfield, Michigan) is an American musician who was the vocalist and guitarist for the indie rock band The Von Bondies, which disbanded in 2011. Stollsteimer also was the main songwriter and producer of the Von Bondies. He released three studio albums with The Von Bondies and currently is working on his first full length album with The Hounds Below.

Musical career

Lack of Communication - His debut album, Lack of Communication, was released in 2001 on Sympathy for the Record Industry. Jason toured the states with the first incarnation of The Von Bondies featuring longtime friend Carrie Smith on the bass, Don Blum on drums and Marcie Bolen (Silverghost, Slumber Party) on Guitar. Over ten U.S. tours were done in order to help promote the record. The group shared the stage with The Cramps, on their 8th US tour. Jason and The Von Bondies also played several shows in the U.K. and Europe and a live performance on the Later... with Jools Holland in London.

Raw & Rare - In 2003 the Von Bondies released a live record that consisted mostly of recording from live BBC recordings from the John Peel.

Pawn Shoppe Heart - In 2004, Stollsteimer released his second studio album, Pawn Shoppe Heart, and toured extensively in the US, UK, and Europe

"C'mon C'mon" was the first single and reached the UK Top 25 for the first time (peaking at #21), and also generated some huge buzz for Stollsteimer.

One other single was released from the album. "Tell me what you see" which reached number 43 in the UK charts. Almost every track from the album has appeared in numerous commercials, Movies and TV shows. One song in particular (c'mon c'mon) was used more than all the others combined. From uses in local radio commercials/adverts to the main theme song of the hit F/X television show Rescue Me. While touring this record Stollsteimer played the Reading and Leeds Festivals, Glastonbury Festival and Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival

Love, Hate and Then There's You - Jason Stollsteimer's last release with the Von Bondies, "Love, Hate and Then There's You," has gone through a long process of discovery and change before coming to its current polished form.

In early 2006, a handful of demos were posted on the Von Bondies Myspace page. Later the band posted more songs on the MySpace page including "Shut Your Mouth," "Pale Bride," and "Only to Haunt You." Don Blum played drums on these recordings with all other instruments played by Jason. Love, Hate and Then There's You was the first time Stollsteimer ever collaborated songwriting with anyone. The songs "This is our perfect crime" and "Accidents will Happen" were co-written with Butch Walker who also produced some songs on the album. The songs "blame game" and "Earthquake" were co-written with longtime drummer Don Blum. The album was eventually released in 2009 on Majordomo Records.

The Von Bondies is an American alternative rock band. Its current members are Jason Stollsteimer on vocals and lead guitar, Christy Hunt on rhythm guitar and Leann Banks on bass guitar.

The original line-up formed at the 1997 Cramps/Guitar Wolf show by Stollsteimer and Marcie Bolen. They went through a variety of member changes and band names, including The Baby Killers, before settling on 'The Von Bondies' in 2000. Don Blum joined the band around 1999 after attending numerous Baby Killers shows, while Leann Banks was picked via an audition. The Von Bondies got their break by playing a New Year's Eve show in Detroit, MI in 2000. In attendance at the show was Long Gone John, owner of the Sympathy for the Record Industry label. This led to Sympathy releasing the band's debut album "Lack of Communication" in 2001.

In 2003, the band released the live "Raw and Rare" through Dim Mak Records, which was followed by their 2004 breakthrough release, "Pawn Shoppe Heart", on Sire Records. Met with glowing reviews, "Pawn Shoppe" was produced by Jerry Harrison of Talking Heads and co-produced by singer Jason Stollsteimer.

The album reached a peak of #36 in the UK and #8 on Billboard's Top Heatseekers chart and stayed in the chart for eight weeks. The big single from this release was "C'mon C'mon," which reached #25 on the Billboard Singles chart and garnered national radio play for the band.

A shortened version of "C'mon C'mon" is the theme song to the TV series "Rescue Me" and is performed live by the band in Michael Winterbottom's film "9 Songs". MLB Network also uses a brief clip of the song as the opening of their new show "30 Clubs in 30 Days".

In 2008, the band signed with indie label Majordomo Records, joining label mates The Airborne Toxic Event and Earlimart. Their label debut, "Love, Hate and Then There's You", was released in February 2009 featuring the single "Pale Bride."

Known as a touring act, The Von Bondies have headlined tours of the United Kingdom/Europe, Australia, and the United States, taking along supporting bands like The Kills, Kasabian, Franz Ferdinand, Modey Lemon, SSM, The Subways, The Stills, Hot Panda and The Donnas. They have also appeared on "Late Show with David Letterman", "Last Call with Carson Daly" and "CD:UK".

The Von Bondies song "C'mon C'mon" was announced to appear as a downloadable track for the music video game series "Rock Band" on March 31, 2009.

The Hounds Below - Stollsteimer is also the leader of The Hounds Below. The group's debut album is set to be recorded in early 2012.

Early life - Stollsteimer was born in Southfield, Michigan. His mother was a nurse, and his father an architect. He grew up in the Detroit suburbs of Plymouth, Michigan with his one brother, Eric. As a child, he went to school at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park. He later lived in Ann Arbor/Ypsilanti, where in 1997 he became friends with his new schoolmate at College, Marcie Bolen, who would become his band's first guitarist. A year later, while studying at Washtenaw Community College, Stollsteimer met Don Blum who would eventually become his drummer in the band The Von Bondies.

Jason Stollsteimer readies new band Ponyshow (Band made of former Von Bondies will make a Blowout debut)
By Brett Callwood

It's been a year and a half years since we put Jason Stollsteimer on the cover of MT, alongside his Hounds Below bandmates and the headline "The Von Bondies were a hit. Can Jason Stollsteimer do it again with the Hounds Below?" As the singer and guitarist prepares for his set at Blowout 17 with another band, Ponyshow (he prefers the name to be written in all-caps), the answer to that question from October '12 has to be "No."

Not that the Hounds Below (or the Von Bondies, for that matter) has necessarily broken up; Stollsteimer insists that both projects are there to be reanimated whenever he and perhaps the other members involved are feeling it. He simply became tired of a persistently shifting Hounds Below lineup, a change in sound or two, and an album that, while brilliant, he feels went to waste because the band didn't tour enough after its release.

For many musicians, the changing sound of a band is part of its evolution, part of the creative process. Not for Stollsteimer. "The first time you hear [Ponyshow], that will define us for the rest of your life," he says. "That's the way it should be. The change of sounds is where every band goes wrong. If we want to change sounds a few years from now, we'll just do a new band."

So Ponyshow is a new band, fair enough. It's interesting though, because the trio is completed by two more former Von Bondies — drummer Don Blum and later-era bassist Leann Banks. It seems entirely natural that, when forced to admit that the Hounds Below wasn't going to be making any great strides anytime soon, Stollsteimer would turn to two people that he refers to as "great friends." A Von Bondies reunion was never in the cards though, and, with Banks still a member of Amy Gore's Valentines and After Dark Amusement Park, and with Blum having removed himself from music altogether for a couple of years, this is a band that has to be content with baby steps for the time being.

We meet with Stollsteimer and Banks at the WAB in Ferndale on a quiet Wednesday afternoon. Stollsteimer is, unusually for him, sporting facial hair due to his imminent appearance in a music video for New York band the Cold Blood Club. The two of them live in Ferndale (Banks works next door at the Emory), so this is home base for them.

"Doing this band, I feel for the first time like I'm going back to the reason I started listening to music, not even just writing music," Stollsteimer says. "I grew up with the Pixies and Pavement, and I always wanted to be in a band like that. When Leann joined the Von Bondies, she was a replacement and I've always wanted to do a band with her from scratch. From Day One, it's these three people. The band will break up the first time somebody leaves. I don't want to break up, but I'm just saying. I played with Don for eight years. I missed Don and, besides music, this is a good excuse for me to see two of my best friends. Whatever comes of it comes of it.”

The fascinating thing about Stollsteimer is that he will insist Ponyshow is a “band,” it’s an equal three-way split. But the man is so talkative, it’s so in his nature to lead, that Banks struggles to get a word in. That’s no slight on either of them; it’s just the way things naturally lie. Back when we interviewed the Hounds Below in ’12, Stollsteimer insisted that he wanted it to be a real band and not just his band, but that was never going to be the case, given the ages and personalities of those involved (the other members of that band were significantly younger than the singer). With Ponyshow, he’s at least grouped himself with two people that he trusts completely, of a similar age, who have the confidence to push their thoughts forward when they need to. Stollsteimer is a big personality and he needs that. Craves it, even.

The references to Pavement and the Pixies are valid. Ponyshow has a sound that is rooted in the '90s — simple bass lines and guitar work providing the framework for dual male-female vocals and Blum's melodic drumming. “I’ve played with a few drummers and they were all amazing, but with Don it’s the weirdest thing,” says Stollsteimer. “It’s different. Every kick drum hit is on. It’s amazing. Leann has the ability to play very difficult bass lines without breaking a sweat, but with this band, it’s not what we do. It’s like the Motown thing, where they used great jazz musicians who found it easy to play the Motown songs.”

Banks was in her early 20s when she joined the Von Bondies, and, in retrospect, that band was starting to wind down. Now 30, she’s a lot more experienced and confident. “The only band I’d ever played with before I joined the Von Bondies was Ghost City (with Electric Six’s Chris Tait),” says Banks. “It only lasted a year or so — our last show was actually our CD release party. Then I joined the Von Bondies, and I was such a newbie. It took me a minute to find my thing that was me. I’m 30 and I’m still only just coming into what I feel is me. I didn’t listen to the Von Bondies before I joined. It was heavy and dark, and I was very into pop — Sloan and the Beatles. But sometimes it’s fun to play a couple of notes and really just put it out there and have fun with the whole thing.”

It’ll be interesting to see how Ponyshow evolves, and you’ll get a chance at a first glimpse when the band plays Blowout. Don’t expect any Von Bondies tunes, but do expect something interesting from three musicians who are very in tune with each other.

“I always looked at the Blowout as a way to discover bands that you’ve heard about, and see them live,” Stollsteimer says. “Leann’s first show with Amy Gore was at Blowout. So if you wanted to see what Leann or Amy or Jackson [Smith] was doing next, you had to go to that show. Now, this will be Ponyshow’s first show in Michigan.”

Notes for Kayli Nicole Konarski:

May 13, 2016 - I'm David Konarski and I'm asking for help for my daughter Kayli in her hopes of attending GO PRO in Branson, Missouri in July. GO PRO is a weeklong intensive workshop that is available by invitation only to 40-50 of the most talented dancers in the Midwest and provides the dancers valuable insight on becoming a professional dancer. It concludes with the dancers performing in 3 live production shows. The experience will be invaluable to Kayli in her pursuit of a career in dance. Her mom Chelsea and myself told her that she couldn't attend because we're scraping the barrel for her to attend the T.A.P.S. theatre and arts preparatory in Las Vegas in September at the top-rated dance studio in the country, but Kayli won't take no for an answer. This is Kayli in a nutshell, always driven and determined to give whatever extra effort is necessary to reach her goal and the email she sent asking for financial help broke my heart. She doesn't have a job because the vast majority of her time is spent either attending dance classes or helping teach the younger girls at the studio, maintaining all A's in school and just being an all-around good kid. The money has to be in by June 1, and any amount of contribution would mean the world to her! Thank you!

Notes for Dr. Sean Hemingway:

Seán Hemingway never knew his grandfather Ernest, but has gotten to know him by spending time with his original manuscripts. In 2004, after editing two collections of Ernest Hemingway's short-form writing, Seán took on the project of restoring A Moveable Feast, the great writer's memoir of his life in Paris during the 1920s, and worked on it during nights and weekends for five years while keeping his day job as curator at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. We spoke to him after he returned from an annual fieldwork trip to Crete with his family, and he explained the purpose of publishing a new edition, how his background in archaeology prepared him for the task, and why he (along with all of his cousins) chose to study anything but English literature.

Richard Ferdinand Erdmann, age 92, was born into eternal life on September 7, 2022 at AngelsGrace Hospice in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. Cherished husband of Lois (nee Dziadosz), the love of his life. Beloved father of Kenneth (Alyse) Erdmann, Robert (Jennifer) Erdmann, Peter (Renee) Erdmann, Ann (Michael) Gapinski, John (Colleen) Erdmann, Barbara (Carl) Guse, Thomas (Tammy) Erdmann, Jerome (Lori) Erdmann, Mary (Michael) Mutza and "adopted" son Robin (Celinda) Newton. Loving grandfather of Timothy Erdmann, Sarah (Eric) Will, Peter Erdmann, Gretchen (Ives) Hermans, Jacob Erdmann, Emily (Matthew) Martin, Molly (Karl) Thompson, Kevin Erdmann, James (Uma) Gapinski, Amanda (Brandon) Combs, John (Michelle) Gapinski, Rachel (Alex) del Valle, Steven Gapinski, Jennifer (Thomas) Hagie, Christine (Adam) Andrus, Elizabeth (Andrew) Steuber, Rochelle (Jason) Connor, Paul (Michelle) Coates, Victoria Erdmann, Izabel Erdmann, Markus (Melissa) Erdmann, Andrew (Jaclyn) Erdmann, Nicole (Lukas) Kostrewa, Mark (Meredith) Mutza, Morgan (Isaac) Buttke, and Max (Madeline) Mutza. Richard was also blessed with 36 great-grandchildren (and counting).

He is also survived by his brother, Bernard (Clara) Erdmann, sister-in-law, Marilyn (Richard) Czubkowski, brother-in-law, Gary Hollander, nephews, nieces, and many friends. Richard was preceded in death by his parents Ferdinand & Marie Erdmann, grandson David Gapinski, daughter-in-law Julie Erdmann, brother-in-law Dennis Dziadosz, and brother-in-law Paul Mandracchia.

Growing up in Milwaukee, Richard and his family lived close to his grandparents, aunts, uncles, and their parish church. Richard attended Boys Tech High School where he learned two of his life-long passions: woodworking and playing saxophone. While attending a dance at St. Wenceslaus Catholic Church, he saw a beautiful young woman and vowed "I'm going to marry that woman." After two years in the army stationed in Alaska, Richard and Lois were married in 1953.

In 1963, Richard started his own woodworking company, RE Woodwork. 1967 saw the family move to Oconomowoc and settle on Silver Lake where Richard felt at "peace on the water." Always an active outdoorsman, Richard shared his love of wind surfing, sailing, canoeing and in winter, speed-skating and cross-country skiing with his family. The lake was the center of many family gatherings including the annual corn roast. In 1975, Richard and Lois opened World of Wood, specializing in the design and manufacturing of high-end custom millwork and cabinetry. Over the years many of his children worked alongside him. After World of Wood closed its doors in 2011, Richard may have retired but his passion for woodworking and creating beautiful furniture continued. He was active in the WI Woodturners Club, often teaching and donating special woods. He often said, "All wood is important."

For anyone who knew Richard his deep Christian faith permeated everything. He created thousands of beautiful wooden Holy Spirit Crosses – a personal reminder to live his life the only way he knew how: one day at a time, loving God, his family and friends, and finding the joy of Jesus in his work. He gifted these to everyone. Richard also expressed his faith and love through poetry, often reciting poems at family gatherings. Richard and Lois recently celebrated their 69th anniversary and once again Richard proclaimed, "We're still on our honeymoon." The family would like to thank the staff at Oconomowoc Hospital and AngelsGrace Hospice for their compassionate care and support.

A visitation will be held starting at 9:30 AM until the time of Mass of Christian Burial at 12:30 PM on Friday, September 16th, St. Jerome Catholic Church, 995 S. Silver Lake St., Oconomowoc. Interment will be at St. Jerome Cemetery. In lieu of flowers the family would appreciate donations in his name to one of his favorite charities: St Vincent de Paul, St. Jerome's Parish or Pro Life Wisconsin. Most importantly, he loved his family and spending time with them. CJ had a close group of friends who he considered family and created many great memories with them. CJ had a smile and a laugh that was contagious, and he loved to bring out his "happy feet" on the dance floor.

CJ is survived by his parents, Chris and Lisa Joski; his sister, Amber Joski (friend, Hunter Cook); best friend, Bailey Sweitzer; paternal grandparents, Bob and Sandy Joski; aunts and uncles, Jack and Patty Koss, Gwen Baumel, Barb Koss, Terri VanLaanen, Steve and Wendy Koss, Patti DeBauche, Jim Koss, Pam (Godmother) and Dan Seidl, Bob and Rita Joski, Dennis Joski (fiancé Karen) Mary and Dan Ducat, Joe Joski, Ann and Ken Servais, Nick and Tammy Joski, Sandy and Adam Mikkelsen, Mark Logerquist (Godfather); brother at heart, Joey Corsten, friend, Morgan Stahl; Godson, Jameson; and many cousins and friends.

He was preceded in death by his maternal grandparents, John Koss and Donna Koss; Melanie Koss, Tim DeBauche, Lindsey Baumel-McFadden, and Alyssa Joski. Friends and family may call at Prince of Peace Catholic Church, 3425 Willow Rd, on Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. The Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 11:30 a.m. Saturday at the church with the Rev. Dennis Ryan officiating. Proko-Wall Funeral is assisting the family. In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund has been established. CJ always said, "You can find me on the water." Live life wide open.

- 709 i. Jenny Marie⁸ Bomber. She married Casey Hickey 20 Feb 2021 in De Pere, Brown Co, Wisconsin.

Marriage Notes for Jenny Bomber and Casey Hickey:

Casey Hickey and Jenny Marie Bomber's first date took place on March 6, 2019. Casey left the date thinking Jenny was a spoiled brat and Jenny thought Casey was a food snob and then "ran away" from Casey at the end of the date. Shockingly, a second date was planned for a few days later. Casey and Jenny's second date was memorable to say the least. They started the afternoon with a stroll through the NEW Zoo, headed to dinner at Abravo, watched a movie to follow and to end the evening Jenny kicked Casey out for her house due to food poisoning. The third date was just as eventful with Jenny accidentally meeting Madyson, due to her stopping at her father's house to pick up her swim bag.

Even though Casey and Jenny's first few dates were eventful life eventually settled into what became the norm of Casey and Jenny's relationship. They enjoyed spending time together watching movies, making dinner, and spending hours discussing shared interests and figuring out how to navigate their relationship. Slowly, Casey and Jenny introduced each other to their families and eventually Jenny met Madyson. Casey, Jenny and Madyson enjoyed spending time together during the months of June and early July up north sharing the time between Jenny's families cabin on High Falls Flowage and Casey's families cabin on White Potato Lake. On July 10th Casey realized the difficulties of dating Jenny after she suffered a severe concussion while at practice with the Waterboard Warriors. Even though Casey arrived much later to practice to bring Jenny to the emergency room than she wanted...Casey spent the next several months caring for, supporting, being a shoulder to cry on, and not giving up on Jenny. Through it all Casey was their for Jenny and July was a defining moment in their relationship. Eventually fall arrived and Casey, Jenny and Madyson enjoyed apple picking, pumpkin picking, Packer Games, swim meets and family TV shows. Casey and Jenny navigated their first holidays together and figured out to fit in 10+ Christmas events. Casey learned just how much Jenny loves Christmas by taking Madyson decoration shopping for Christmas and decorated his house for the holiday. Winter months involved Christmas tree cutting, more swim meets, family holiday events, travels up north to Jenny's families cabin for snowmobiling and planning a family vacation. Which leads us back to March. One year from their first date on March 7th, 2020 Casey proposed to Jenny at the NEW Zoo. Casey planned the day as a "redo" of their second date, minus the food poisoning. Jenny was completely surprised by Casey's proposal and of course said yes!! Spring had many other life changes including a canceled family vacation to Florida, Jenny moving in with Casey and Madyson, Jenny selling her house and Jenny (and Casey) starting wedding planning, however, the second most important family change arrived on April 11th in the form of a 4 legged, tail wagging, golden retriever monster named Mavrick.

Over the past year Casey and Jenny experienced highs and lows, injuries (Jenny), misunderstanding, up north adventures, movie nights and various other life events. Through it all Casey and Jenny's relationship grew stronger and became a working family unit with Madyson. Jenny helps ground Casey, challenges him, expands his sometimes stubborn views, gained his trust and loves him unconditionally. Casey challenges Jenny's princess attitude, however, still attends to her princess needs from time to time, is her personal chef, mechanic and handyman, best friend and confidant.

As for the next step on their journey, Casey and Jenny would love to see you to celebrate with them on their wedding day!

He married Annette Gonzalez 17 May 2014 in San Diego, San Diego Co, California, daughter of Ricardo Gonzalez and Blanca Romo. She was born 23 Jan 1976 in Mexico.

Notes for Eric Daniel Stollsteimer:

May 28, 1997 - "Look at this!" Eric Stollsteimer, the fresh-faced proprietor of Boss Guitars is beaming. "I saw this, and I just had to have it." In his hands is an unremarkable-looking Japanese electric guitar from the 1960s. Like so many of its kind, the instrument is a topographic map of chrome and plastic with enough knobs and switches to retrofit a kitchen. His attention is directed to the small print beneath one of the toggle switches. The Japanese manufacturer has misspelled the word "rhythm," offering the player a choice between the lead and "rizm" settings. Apparently, spelling wasn't Job No. 1 on the assembly line, but the liberty taken with the word "rhythm" is what gives this particular guitar its unique charm. "I play rizm guitar," Stollsteimer grins. At 21 years old, Stollsteimer is embarking on a journey that will probably last a lifetime. Like people who are wild about old cars, vintage guitar buffs are lifers. The interest in collecting these instruments has grown steadily over the years into a worldwide phenomenon that shows no sign of waning. For the people involved, it is a passion, a whirlwind romance, which gains momentum with every new discovery.

"This isn't New York, and it's not California," says Stollsteimer, who opened his shop in Ann Arbor, Michigan, last year. "The prices on vintage gear in those places is outrageous. There's plenty of stuff here, and you can still get it for a reasonable price." Stollsteimer keeps both "budget" and "premium" guitars in stock with price tags ranging from $70 to $2,000. "There are a lot of really nice guitars in circulation in Michigan compared to other parts of the country," says Gordy Lupo, co-owner with wife Marcia of Gordy's Music in Ferndale, Michigan. Lupo credits the many musicians from Detroit's Motown era, the Gibson guitar factory and the popularity of blues and roots music for the abundance of quality instruments in Michigan. "The '50s and '60s were a great time for music in Detroit and a lot of those guitars are still around," he says. "These pieces tend to circulate within the state. I'll sell the same guitar seven or eight times in 10 years. They just keep coming back around." George Gruhn, a Nashville dealer, published a series of newsletters in the early '70s legitimizing vintage guitars as a viable commodity.

Gruhn's name has since become synonymous with collecting. Through his newsletter, he assigned a price and value to the instruments, which set off a boom in collecting. This reached a peak in the early '80s when Japanese investors realized the potential for appreciation in American art and artifact. For the first time, people were buying guitars as an "investment." Japanese collectors have continued their interest in vintage guitars. In March, Paul McCartney's custom bass guitar sold for 25 million yen (approximately $200,000) at a Tokyo auction.

Elderly Instruments, in business since 1973 in Lansing, Michigan, publishes a monthly newsletter listing the prices of its extensive collection of used instruments. Anthony Marsala, an appraiser with Elderly for 17 years, cites the late 1930s Martin D-28s as the most collectible acoustic guitars. In mint condition, they can sell for $50,000 and up. Old Fender Telecasters and Gibson Les Pauls from the '50s remain the most sought-after electrics, with mint-condition guitars fetching up to $150,000. This is a far cry from the $200 price tag that swung from their tuners 40-plus years ago. "The stories and mystique behind guitars is part of what drives the vintage market," says longtime collector Brian Delaney. "It's what a personality brings to a specific instrument that makes one guitar more valuable than another. I mean, a Strat (the Fender "Stratocaster") wouldn't be a Strat if it wasn't for Jimi Hendrix. You couldn't give those things away in '66, but after '68 everybody had to have a Strat." (The 1969 Strat that Hendrix played at Woodstock fetched $320,000 at an auction seven years ago. New, the guitar would have cost $200 to $300.) Delaney owns and operates Specialized Guitar Services in Ann Arbor, and has been collecting vintage amps and guitars (as well as repairing them) for more than 20 years. "Guys like Eric (Stollsteimer), have their work, cut out for them," he says. "The days of finding a great guitar in somebody's attic are over." Stollsteimer might indeed have a long road ahead, but that suits him fine. He's worked hard on Boss Guitars and, though just starting out, he is clearly a hopeless guitar nut.

- 787 ii. Sara Czubkowski, born 05 Jul 1992. She married Clayton Mills 05 May 2022 in Surfside Beach, South Carolina.

Marriage Notes for Sara Czubkowski and Clayton Mills:

Clayton Mills and Sara Czubkowski's love story started a bit unconventional. In the age of social media, Sara and Clayton met on a dating app. They started talking a bit through text and then lost touch for a few months. One night, Clayton messaged Sara randomly on Snapchat asking to hangout. Sara had a little bit of reservation and after talking for a few weeks, decided to take the plunge. Sara and Clayton had their first date June 2017 at Dockside in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. They spent the night talking about their jobs, friends, hobbies, music/movie interests, and favorite foods. Sara explained how coleslaw was one of her favorite foods and then proceeded to spill it all over her pants on the first date. Even to this day, Clayton never forgets to remind her of that. Sara and Clayton's relationship moved rather quickly. They hung out pretty much everyday, and grew their relationship. Sara moved to Oshkosh with Clayton only 7 months into their relationship and the rest is history. Over the last few years, they shared multiple vacations together, plenty of laughs (and hardships), and made a positive presence into each other's families.

Sara was patiently waiting for Clayton to pop the question and it finally happened on Dec. 12, 2020. The big event happened at The Fox and Hounds in Hubertus, Wisconsin. Clayton made a reservation for 3pm that day. It snowed the night before and made the roads a little scary and Sara was trying to tell Clayton to cancel the reservations and make them for a different restaurant. Little did Sara know, Clayton told the staff at the restaurant that he was going to propose! The dinner started a bit strange and Sara thought something was up and even texted a few friends to explain what was going on (She was anticipating the proposal, and was told to not get her hopes up!). Throughout the dinner, Clayton was acting a bit nervous. They ordered dessert and with the dessert the waiter brought out a wrapped present.

YOU GUESSED IT!! In the present, was a RING! It was unexpected, but expected at the same time. Sara couldn't have said yes fast enough. Ever since the proposal, the couple has been diligently working towards planning their dream wedding with the people they love the most.

born 26 Nov 1982 in Denmark, Brown Co, Wisconsin, and died 11 Jul 2014 in Denmark, Brown Co, Wisconsin.

Notes for Alyssa Rae Kaminski:

Alyssa Rae (Kaminski) Joski, 31, Denmark, took the hand of an angel following the joyous birth of her long-awaited beautiful baby boy, Jace Robert, on July 11, 2014. She was born November 26, 1982, to Robert "Bob" and Denise (Melotte) Kaminski. Alyssa graduated from Denmark High School with the Class of 2001 and from UW-Oshkosh with a Bachelor of Arts Degree with an emphasis in Psychology. She has been employed at Humana since her graduation, and made many wonderful friends there.

In June of 2006, Alyssa met the love of her life, Mark Joski, on the docks of the Holiday Inn while attending Bayfest. The couple was married October 13, 2012. She was the #1 fan and most avid supporter of the #68 race car and will be missed by the entire IMCA community at the local tracks. In September 2013, Alyssa and Mark purchased a house in the Denmark area. Their new home was their pride and joy. Alyssa and her mom spent the last nine months painting and decorating her beautiful home. She particularly enjoyed preparing the nursery as she eagerly awaited the new baby's arrival. Alyssa shared her bubbly personality, her mischievous wit, her beautiful smile and the cutest giggle with everyone she met. She enjoyed family gatherings, boating, playing volleyball, and attending her cousins' sporting events. She was very organized and her ducks were always in a row. Alyssa is deeply loved and will always be remembered.

Alyssa is survived by her beloved husband, Mark Joski; her newborn son, Jace Robert Joski; the family dog, Ernest Fergler; her mother and best friend, Denise (Lee Kornaus) Melotte; one brother, Chad (Stacie) Kaminski; her niece and godchild, Payton; nieces, Rylan and Lakyn; her "sisters", Kelsey and Tiffany (Carlos) Kornaus; paternal grandparents, Dick and Dee Kaminski, maternal grandmother, Judy Melotte; her father-in-law, Dennis (Karen Pfluger); and mother-in-law, Lori Strombach; a brother-in-law, Mike (Stephanie) Joski; nieces Kielan and Mikaela Joski; Mark's grandparents, Robert and Sandy Joski, Richard and Donna Strombach; a goddaughter, McKenna Larsen; uncles and aunts, Jeff Melotte who is also Alyssa's godfather, Mark Melotte, Dawn (Todd) Larsen, Joy (Jeff) Bielinski, Barb (Keith Rhodes) Reedy who is also Alyssa's godmother, Cindy (Jeff) Olsen, Tom (Tina) Kaminski; uncles and aunts on the Joski side, Bob and Rita Joski, Mary and Dan Ducat, Joe Joski, Anne and Ken Servais, Chris and Lisa Joski, Nick and Tammy Joski, Sandy and Adam Mikkelsen; and many special cousins and good friends. She was welcomed into heaven by her father, Bob Kaminski; a niece, Braelyn Rae Kaminski; her maternal grandfather, Roger Melotte; and a cousin, Landon Bielinski.

In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund has been established to benefit Alyssa and Mark's blessing, Jace Robert. Words can't express the way I feel today. I loved my wife Alyssa Rae Joski to the end of the world and back. It is just amazing how all our family and friends are here to support me at this time. I cannot express enough to everyone how much all the posts, text messages, and private messages mean to me and our families. I am truly blessed to know such terrific people. Mark
