Notes for Johannes Wilhelm Illi:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

John W. Illi - It is a notable fact in the history of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County that many of its representative citizens are of German birth or lineage and the material, intellectual and moral progress of this portion of the state is attributable in large measure to the representatives of the Teutonic race. To this class belongs Mr. Illi, who was born on the 9th of August, 1866, in Wurtemberg, his parents being George and Barbara (Stowl) Illi. In the year 1888 they bade adieu to friends in the fatherland and sailed for the new world, arriving here five years after their son John crossed the Atlantic. The father was a farmer by occupation, carrying on agricultural pursuits throughout his entire business career. His death occurred in December, 1896, while his widow is yet living, her home being in Ann Arbor. They became the parents of eight children and the family history is notable in that there has never been a death among the sons and daughters of this household. Paulina is now Mrs. Kies. Gottlob, proprietor of a saloon, Mrs. Annie Yetter, William, a baker, Mrs. Carrie Feinkbeiner, Mrs. Mary Hertler and Mrs. Matilda Kurtz are all residents of Ann Arbor.

John W. Illi secured his education in the fatherland, where he remained until seventeen years of age, when in 1883 he came to the United States. The reports which he had heard concerning business opportunities were most favorable and he determined to enjoy the superior advantages afforded in America. Making his way to Ann Arbor, he entered the bakery of Mr. Hendrickson on State street and learned the trade and when he had thoroughly mastered the business and had secured funds by savings from his earnings sufficient to enable him to embark in business on his own account he established a large bakery at No. 116 West Washington street. Three years have since passed and his trade has constantly grown until he is now conducting a big business which is most satisfactory in its extent and profits.

In 1887 John W. Illi was married to Barbara Kraut and they have two daughters: Clara Anna, who is assisting her father in the business; and Ida, yet a student in school. The parents and their children are members of the Bethlehem German Evangelical Church. Mr. Illi is independent politically, while socially he is connected with the Knights of the Maccabees and the Arbeiter Verein, a local German society. The hope that led him to seek a home in America has been more than realized. He found business conditions which have led him to success and has also gained here a large circle of friends, so that for many years he has had the deepest attachment for his adopted land, her institutions and her people.
