Notes for Johann August Alber:

Past and Present of Washtenaw County, Michigan by Samuel W. Beakes, Chicago: The S.J. Clarke Publishing Co., 1906:

John August Alber, who, as a member of the firm of Stadel & Alber, is conducting a large business as a contractor and builder in Ann Arbor, was born in Lodi Township, Washtenaw county, August 24, 1855, his parents being John George and Margarita (Metzger) Alber, both of whom were natives of Germany, born in Wurtemberg. The father was one of the oldest settlers in this county, having crossed the Atlantic to the United States and made his way westward to Michigan at an early period in the development of this part of the state. A farmer by occupation, he became the owner of eighty acres of land, and as his financial resources increased he added to, the property until he had one hundred and sixty acres. His death occurred in Town in 1893, when he was sixty-three years of age, while his wife passed away in 1898, at the age of sixty-seven years.

The member of their family were as follows: John August, of this review; Charles Michael, a resident farmer of Saline township; Erhardt Frederick, who follows farming in Perry county, Michigan; William Henry, a farmer of Lodi township; Gottlieb Emanuel, a painter of Lodi; John Christian, a farmer living in Saline, and Erhardt A., proprietor of the St. James Hotel at Ann Arbor. At the usual age John August Alber entered the district schools of Lodi Township, where he continued his studies until sixteen years old. When a young man of eighteen years he began learning the carpenter's and builder's trade, and previous to this he assisted his father in the work of the home farm, early becoming familiar with the duties of field and meadow. For two years he served as an apprentice to a contractor in Lodi. He built George Page's barn, forty by seventy feet, one of the largest in the county, and in 1888 he came to Ann Arbor, where he worked at his trade in the employ of others until the spring of 1895, when he entered into partnership with Samuel Stadel. He has since been engaged in house building in this city and in surrounding districts and has been accorded a number of important contracts, while on all sides are seen evidences of his handiwork and skill in the substantial homes of Ann Arbor. He is thoroughly conversant with the builder's art, both in principle and detail, is prompt and faithful in the execution of a contract, and his honorable methods have brought to him a liberal patronage.

On the 30th of April, 1880, Mr. Alber was united in marriage to Miss Jacobina Blumhardt, a daughter of John G. and Wilhelmina Blumhardt, natives of Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Alber now have three children: Wilhelmina, born April 9, 1884; Christian William, born April 6, 1888; and Gertrude Elsie, born September 26, 1893. The parents hold membership in Zion Lutheran church, and they occupy a magnificent new residence which Mr. Alber has recently completed at No. 552 Third Street.

Marriage Notes for John Hartman and Florence Kleinschmidt:

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kleinschmidt was the scene of lovely wedding ceremony at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon October 16, 1937 when their daughter, Florence, was united in marriage to John Hartman of Scio Township, son of Mrs. Anna Hartman. The bridal party descended the stairs to Lohengrin's wedding march, which was played by Mrs. Erwin Eiseman, and assembled at the end of the living room. Palms and fall flowers formed the setting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. H. Wittbracht, the double ring ceremony being used. The bride chose for her wedding a gown of royal blue crepe, set in design of georgette to match a V neckline, a rhinestone buckle and bracelet sleeve, with matching accessories. Her bridal bouquet was of talisman roses and white baby mums tied with pink figured tulle. Miss Doris Kleinschmidt, sister of the bride, wore a gown of slate blue crepe, high neck line and elbow length sleeves with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses. Harold Kleinschmidt, cousin of the bride, acted as best man.

A wedding supper was served to 25 guests by Mrs. Erwin Eiseman and Mrs. Ellwyn Guenther, assisted by Mrs. William Guenther and Mrs. John Bodmer, following the ceremony. The table was very dainty in its decorations of pink and white and the color scheme was carried out in full throughout the home. A large wedding cake formed the centerpiece of the table. The happy couple left for an eastern wedding trip and upon their return will make their home, near Ann Arbor.

Oscar Joseph⁷ Haeussler, twin (Adina (Diana)⁶ Feldkamp, Margaretha⁵ Andres, Matthaeus⁴, Johann Georg³, Matthaues², Matthaues¹) was born 26 Jan 1896 in Freedom Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 09 Nov 1988 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan. He married Otilie Christine Meyer 16 Feb 1922 in Saline, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, daughter of Abraham Meyer and Rosina Roth. She was born 17 Jun 1900 in Lodi Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 27 Mar 1996 in Saline Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan.

Notes for Oscar Joseph Haeussler, twin:

The tornado which howled across southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio Monday evening June 8, 1953 reached a furious hand up into the Pleasant Lake area northeast of Manchester and left one man dead in its wake. Alvin Haeussler, 30, huddled with four other members of the Oscar Haeussler household and a neighbor was the only victim as the tornado roared down and leveled the large, substantially built farm home. Apparently he was hit by some of the falling debris and killed almost instantly. His chest was crushed and neck broken. Miraculously, the others in the house escaped relatively unharmed. His father, Oscar Haeussler, was blown clear of the wreckage. Roaring northeast across Freedom and Lodi Townships, the tornado cut a swath of destruction more than five miles long and up to 200 feet wide leaving the one dead and at least two others injured. Allen Alber of 13011 Bethel Church Road said he saw the twister forming and that at first it seemed to have twin funnels which as it gained speed finally molded into one near the intersection of Bethel Church and Eiseman Roads.

According to Frank Weiss who runs a filling station at Pleasant Lake, the storm gathered headway and took off northeast toward Pleasant Lake. He said he thought maybe it would hit the lake and blow itself out as did one in that area over thirty years ago when a twister roared down from Rogers Corners leaving a path of destruction and finally spent itself as it churned for several days in Pleasant Lake. But this was not the case. It caved in barn doors at the Edgar Little farm at 6181 Ernst Road and struck the Edwin Linke home at 5870 Lima Center Road. Mrs. Linke said she stood "petrified and praying" as the two funnels—one large and one small—circled on opposite sides of the house, knocking down a chimney, a windmill television antenna and several trees. At the Oscar Renz home it blew down the garage, ruined six windows and uprooted trees.

L. Herschel Snyder, owner of a grocery store at the lake, watched a huge column of water about 150 feet picked up as the tornado snaked across the lake. Luckily the roaring funnel missed the Michigan Gas Storage's Pleasant Lake plant but, bent on destruction, it roared down on the Haeussler home. Oscar Haeussler and his sons Alvin and Glenn were outside with a neighbor, Luther Schaible. The men sounded an alarm when Oscar, seeing the twisting mass, recognized it and told the rest to go to the basement of the house. Alvin's wife, Ruth, and four months old son were in their trailer nearby and were summoned, as the storm approached. The Haeussler's said it roared like fifty freight cars and others in the area said it sounded like a magnified sound of crushed paper as trees and debris was gathered in its path. Mrs. Oscar Haeussler, her two sons, Alvin and Glenn, and Alvin's wife and baby and the neighbor, Luther Schaible, raced to the basement while Oscar remained on the ground floor.

The tornado roared down on the barn lot and smashed its way across that corner of the farm as it ripped off a corner of the barn roof, demolished a corn crib, tool shed and chicken house. Three of the family's cars were badly smashed as the roof collapsed on them. According to neighbors a large cement block was driven under a back wheel of the Haeussler truck. The family's tractor, combine, rake and many other farm implements stood silent testimony to the ravages, of the terrific storm.

As the storm hit the house which was stoutly constructed, it leveled the entire structure as though it were made of cards. Some said that a deep freeze in the basement did much to hold the heavy timbers; from falling | on others in the basement. Hop-scotching across the farm land, the tornado cut through a woods on the Weidmayer farm. It seemed miraculous that more were not killed and that the thickly populated area of the lake was left practically unharmed. Residents took to their basements .and many said they could see debris in the whirling cone. Clothing belonging to the Haeussler | household has been picked up for a mile away according to reports.

For the last time the storm struck at the Robert L. Walker farm on Ellsworth road about four miles away from the main destruction. There it blew down two barns and several out buildings. The Walkers and their daughter Janet, 14, were sitting down to supper about 7:45 when the storm struck. The first warning came when a car stopped and a woman got out. Mrs. Luella Weidmayer of Schneider road had a baby in her arms and rushed two small children ahead of her as they ran to the house. She told quickly of the approaching storm and Mr. Walker ordered everyone to the basement. They said it sounded like a freight train as in a few minutes it crashed down the two barns, silo, tool shed and trees. Luckily the house was unharmed. A bull and goat in one of the barns miraculously escaped. Some of the chickens in the brooder house were killed.

The storm went on across fields and through woods and blew itself out. It was not believed that the snaking mass of destruction crossed Waters road. Detroit Edison Company sent emergency crews to the area as power was cut off at 7:45. Telephone service was disrupted. Washtenaw County Road Commission crews worked all night clearing roads. Flood lights were brought to the scene of the Haeussler tragedy by the Saline fire department and sheriff's officers worked to maintain order—in the worst storm here in many years.

A queer bit of coincident came Monday night when ninety-year-old Mrs. H. T. Yungclas who had been visiting her sons in Iowa, called the Frank Reck home and told her granddaughter Linda that she was flying back to Michigan on Thursday where there weren't any tornadoes. She said that there had been six in that area since she arrived and that one on Sunday night leveled the large farm barn on her son's farm which Mrs. Yungclas's husband had built in 1903 what a surprise she'll have when she returns to Michigan where we don't have tornados!

Jan 1969 - Oscar Haeussler, maintenance chief and "you name it; he'll fix it" wizard at Saline Community Hospital for the past 10 years, will retire next year. "We will all be missing him," said Vince Catacuzzeno, hospital administrator. Haeussler, who has kept the hospital working smoothly and enjoys being around people, installed most of the air-conditioning units, besides his regular work. He gives his age as "a little over 20" . . . but he was born in 1896 and was a lifelong farmer and resident of Freedom Township until he and his wife moved to town in the fall of 1957. They now live on Linden Court. In 1952, their home on Pleasant Lake Rd. was completely demolished by a tornado. They rebuilt on the same site. Oscar was awarded a 10-year service pin at the Saline Hospital Christmas party. Also recipients of 10-year pins were Jeannette Strait, R. N.; Laura Albert, nurse aide; and Mary Welter, in housekeeping. Five-year pins went to Margaret Janes, who is employed in the kitchen; Nina Brogan, R. N.; Caroline Beal, dietician; Leona Faulhaber, R. N.; Violet Riemer, R. N. and Margaret Jordan, nurse aide.

Notes for Ina Katherine Feldkamp:

Mrs. Ina Haeussler - Rural Teacher

Mrs. Ina Haeussler resigned after a 28-year teaching career. She taught school for six years before her marriage and returned to the profession in 1944. She has held offices in the local, district and regional Michigan Education Association and has just finished three years as local treasurer of the MEA. She was employed at the Short School east of the village when it was consolidated with the Manchester system and she was transferred to teach the fourth grade. When enrollment reached a new high and two rural schools were put into use again she returned to the third grade in one of these.

It was no hardship for Mrs. Haeussler to teach in the country school-even though she had only one grade the second time around. She liked the variation of different classes. School enrollments ranged from 15 to 42 and she doesn't remember when she didn't have at least one child in each grade, kindergarten through eighth. There was more to being a country school teacher than met the eye. The teacher tried to be at school at 7:30 a.m. and the children came at 9 a.m. In the winter there were paths to be shoveled, not only to the road, but also to a couple of "little buildings" not too far away. Another path led to the pump. A pail of water had to be brought in. Everyone used the dipper.

Often on an icy cold Sunday, she and her husband, Erwin, would drive to school and start the fire so it wouldn't be so chilly Monday morning. With school out for the children at 4 p.m. the teacher would find herself sweeping and cleaning to prepare for another day. There was a closeness and friendliness in the country school that is lacking in the larger systems. Older children accept the responsibility of caring for the little ones. At recess they taught youngsters to play games and how to get along with one another and helped them in and out of their heavy wraps.

"Children no longer come to school barefooted," she recalled. "One early spring a family of children came barefooted. About noon it started to snow and continued all afternoon. They were worried. I suggested that the bigger boys help me by chopping kindling after school and the younger ones help put the room in order so I could leave a little early and I would take them home. They were so happy!" In those days you didn't miss school because of the weather-at least the teacher didn't. But if there was sickness or some major reason for not having school the teacher and children made it up at the end of the year.

The highlight of the year was the Christmas program. The children were given parts to learn around Thanksgiving. Parents helped and loaned furniture and other props. The night of nights came and the little country school would bulge at the seams with relatives, friends and folks in the area, with or without children. The teacher provided a gift for each child. It was expected and she did it gladly.

With the close of school was another treat. Sometimes Mrs. Haeussler chartered a bus for a field trip, maybe to Greenfield Village or the zoo. This was her party. Occasionally parents offered to drive and take a load of youngsters. She said she tried to plan something to give the rural children an opportunity to know some of the things that their city cousins took for granted.

Children are far more advanced today for their age than they were when she launched on a teaching career, said Mrs. Haeussler. But in the rush and hurry of today, she believes some important things are lost along the way. With a teacher so devoted, it was understandable that when one of her former students, not yet in high school, on hearing that Mrs. Haeussler was leaving, rushed up and grasped her hand, "You aren't leaving? You just can't."

Notes for Roger Alan Finkbeiner:

A ticket for failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead this week ended a Sheriff's Department investigation of the accident that took the life of five-year-old Roger Finkbeiner Thursday morning. A deputy today said there are no grounds for further charges against the driver of the car, which struck a wagon in which Roger was riding with his grandfather, on Jordan Rd. near Braun Rd. The impact toppled the child to the ground where the wheels of the wagon passed over his body. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Saline Community Hospital. Roger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darell Finkbeiner, of 5475 Austin Rd., and his grandfather, Jacob Marion, of 10509 Jordan, were seated at the front of a farm wagon which was being pulled by a tractor driven by the child's uncle, Marvin J. Marion, of 10605 Jordan. They were moving south on Jordan Rd. when a late-model station wagon, driven by Mrs. Judith N. Wise, 23, of 4250 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., came over the crest of a hill, apparently went out of control, and skidded a total of 189 feet before striking the left rear of the wagon. Deputies said the distance from the top of the hill to where the wagon was struck is approximately 1,000 feet. Neither of the Marions was knocked from his seat by the impact, and both were uninjured. Mrs. Wise also escaped injury. The little boy was rushed to the hospital by his grandfather but died of severe internal injuries, a deputy medical examiner said. He was born May 27, 1959, in Ann Arbor.

Surviving are his parents; a brother, Dale; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Marion of Saline; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finkbeiner of Ann Arbor; several aunts, uncles and cousins.

The Rev. H. L. Engel officiated at funeral services Sunday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran Church; burial was in Oakwood Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Trinity Lutheran Church building fund.

At the Greenhouse Birth Center in Okemos Michigan. On New Year's Day of 2007 Geradine woke up with the inspiration for this anthology. Someone whispered in her ear that it was time to write this book. She made lists of eligible midwives from across the country whose life stories she would like to collect. There were over one hundred. She sent out invitations to a few dozen people and began the meticulous work of collecting, organizing and editing the narratives written by each midwife/author. The skills she had honed in her consulting business—qualitative research, interviewing, report and grant writing, authorship and oral presentations, curriculum development—all served her well.

Geradine then gently but firmly shepherded each author into telling her life story and crafting and re-crafting each memoir to be accessible and interesting to a mainstream readership. She hired a professional editor (Max Regan) to assist her in the process of refining and editing the anthology. After 4 years of concentrated effort it all came together in an elegant and cohesive package published by Spirituality & Health. In addition to managing the entire project from conception to fruition, Geradine has written several sections for the anthology included the Opening, Introduction, her own memoir, the Afterword, and Resources. Into These Hands, Wisdom from Midwives © is Geradine's most impressive published work to date.

She was born 12 Dec 1929 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 19 Dec 2009 in Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan.

Notes for Leon Ernest Niethammer:

Leon Ernest Niethammer of Ann Arbor, Michigan, age 84, passed away on Thursday, February 10th, 2011 at Arbor Hospice. Leon was born in 1926 in Ann Arbor to Ernest and Selma (Finkbeiner) Niethammer. He married Georgena Lirette in 1950 and they had 59 years of life together before her passing in December 2009. Leon was a lifelong resident of Ann Arbor, graduating from Ann Arbor High School in 1944. After a two-year stint in the Navy Air Corps, he enrolled and graduated from Cleary College. Leon worked for 7-Up Bottling Company for 38 years until his retirement in 1988. That same year he began work at Ed's Bread as the delivery person and bakery helper and worked there until his 80th birthday, at which time he felt he was "too old" to work anymore. Others thought differently, and in 2007 he was hired to work the Ed's Bread booth at Saline Farmers' Market, where he worked until December 2010. Leon was a life-long member of Zion Lutheran Church, where he gave much of his time and energy, by serving on the building and grounds committee, and money counting committee. He sat in the same pew every Sunday until his illness. Leon was well-loved by all who knew him. His gruff exterior hid the softness inside. He was there for all of his family helping them in many ways. He will be greatly missed, but the memory of his oft-repeated statements will live on in all of us.

Leon is survived by his three daughters, Leslee Niethammer (David Rhoads), Judy (Ron Schinske) and Sandie Niethammer (Thom Byrd); six granddaughters, Amanda Schinske (Bob Whitmore), Katie Schinske (Matt Sebolt), Emily Schinske, Veronica Schinske, Greta Niethammer, Hannah Niethammer; and three great grandsons, Noah Sebolt, Adam Sebolt and Isaac Whitmore. Many Finkbeiner, Stoll and Niethammer cousins, including his special friend and cousin-in-law Ron Mason, survive him. Cremation has taken place. A memorial service will be at Zion Lutheran Church, 1501 W. Liberty, in Ann Arbor on Tuesday, February 22, 2011 at 11 a.m. where the family will receive visitors at 10 a.m. Pastor Barry Ludwig will officiate. Gena worked outside the home until the birth of her daughters and then devoted her time to raising and playing with her girls. Gena was a lifelong resident of Ann Arbor and a member of Zion Lutheran Church, where she and Leon gave much of their time and energy. Family was the center of her life and many good times were enjoyed at Sugar Loaf Lake and other gatherings. Gena was quite creative and enjoyed crocheting and crafting, when she wasn't shopping. The shopping trips resulted in summer garage sales, which made for animated discussions with Leon and her cousin Ron Mason, who did all the heavy lifting.

Gena is survived by her husband Leon; her daughters, Leslee Niethammer (David Rhoads), Judy (Ron Schin-ske), and Sandie Niethammer (Thom Byrd); six grand-daughters, Amanda Schinske (Bob Whitmore), Katie Schin-ske (Matt Sebolt), Emily Schinske, Veronica Schinske, Greta Niethammer, Hannah Niethammer; and two great-grandsons, Noah Sebolt and Isaac Whitmore. Marriage: 1982

Children of Susan Feldkamp and Wilbur Whitworth are:

- 325 i. Sarah Jean¹⁰ Whitworth, born 19 Apr 1988 in Travis Co, Texas.

Notes for Sarah Jean Whitworth:

April 11, 2011 - Every time local writer Susan Feldkamp looked into her daughter Sarah Whitworth's eyes, she saw a perfect child. Whitworth was part of the school dance team, got straight A's, had a lot of friends and a good relationship with her parents. Feldkamp never anticipated the day when other people would stare at Sarah, not because she was a dancer but because she was starving, her muscles wasted away by severe malnutrition.

At 15 years old, Hays High School student Whitworth was diagnosed with anorexia nervosa and obsessive-compulsive disorder. Feldkamp said when Whitworth lost weight rapidly after a jaw reconstruction surgery in 2003, her family started to suspect she had an eating disorder. Whitworth could not eat much for a few weeks after the surgery and lost about five pounds in recovery, which was normal — the problem was that she kept losing. "There's a pattern with starting to avoid food," Feldkamp said. "You hear things like 'I don't have time to eat, I'll eat later,' or 'I'm going to go to Katie's house; she'll have food over there.'"

Whitworth remembers having her first abnormal thoughts about food one year before her surgery when she was in eighth grade and on the school dance team. Although she was never a big girl, being in a leotard around her peers made her feel extremely self-conscious. Intent on losing two pounds, Whitworth gave up chocolate for Lent, which started her self-imposed food restrictions. She said the time was particularly hard because her parents trusted her and didn't take action right away. "People would go up to them and say, 'Why are you not doing anything? You're sitting here watching your daughter starve herself,'" Whitworth said. "At the end of the day, it wasn't something they could control, and they couldn't have done a better job than what they did."

Despite the food restrictions, Feldkamp and her husband didn't take Whitworth's behaviors seriously until that summer when, in addition to her restrictions, Whitworth began to run for extensive periods every day in 100-degree weather. Feldkamp tried everything she could to get Whitworth to come inside, including following her in the car and talking to her on the phone while she ran, but nothing worked. Her mother soon learned Whitworth's route and began to leave cups of ice water along her trail so she would not get dehydrated. "I was terrified that I was going to wake up one morning, go into her room and find she was dead," Feldkamp said. "I hated the disease, and I loved her, and I wanted the daughter back that I knew and loved."

At home, Feldkamp said the family was always cautious and constantly worried about Whitworth. Whitworth would eat only one Popsicle after her runs, and the rest of her diet consisted of beef jerky, peanuts, salads, grapes and apples. After visits to a dietician and a therapist produced no improvement, Feldkamp and her husband, Gene Whitworth, took a resistant Sarah Whitworth to see local eating disorders specialist Edward Tyson in 2004. After an electrocardiograph exam, Tyson found that Whitworth's heart was damaged and had shrunk, a sign of severe malnutrition. People with small hearts have abnormal heart rhythms and are at risk for sudden death if the heart stops working.

Feldkamp and Gene Whitworth immediately began to work with Tyson to try to get Sarah Whitworth to accept her disorder and begin eating again to build up her heart muscles. "They were very scared at that point," Tyson said, who has spoken publicly with the family about eating disorders many times. "Their daughter was restricting tremendously and exercising voluminously, [but] they weren't just worried about her losing weight. They were worried about her dying." In the middle of Whitworth's treatment, the family's insurance company told Feldkamp they would no longer cover visits to Tyson because he was out of their Health Maintenance Organization network, a nationwide employer insurance system that sets up and provides a variety of doctors at a reduced price. The company also said it would not cover treatment because in Texas, eating disorders are not listed as a serious mental illness such as depression or OCD. The insurance company instead said it would cover costs for treating Whitworth's OCD, as long as she saw a psychiatrist within the company's network. After failed treatment with the psychiatrist, the family switched back to Tyson and paid for treatment out of pocket. Fueled by her uncontrolled running and restrictions, Whitworth's condition worsened, and in 2004, Whitworth passed out because of low blood sugar levels while driving her father's pick-up truck. She crashed the vehicle with her 11-year-old sister inside.

Gene Whitworth and Feldkamp took out $32,000 from their retirement fund and sent Sarah Whitworth to the Center for Hope, a specialized treatment center in Nevada not covered by their health insurance. Although the car accident convinced Whitworth she needed to get help, she fought the family at their hotel room in Nevada and forced her parents to physically remove her. "Once I got to the center, I told myself, 'Sarah, you're here and your parents are spending $900 a day to have you be here,'" Whitworth said. "'Don't waste their money if you're not going to do it.'" Whitworth said she remembers her mother calling countless politicians, such as former Rep. Patrick Rose, D-Dripping Springs, and insurance companies to try and get coverage for her treatment. She said she felt inspired to recover when she saw her parents' determination.

Whitworth was at the center for 10 weeks and rejoined her family in November 2004. She has since recovered, graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and found a job in Florida. The family fought a long battle to get reimbursed by the insurance company and in the end, got back 15 percent of the $70,000 dollars they spent on Whitworth's treatment. After the reimbursement, Feldkamp went on to the Texas Legislature to fight for insurance coverage for eating disorders. She became an active member of the Austin Foundation for Eating Disorders, talking publicly about her struggles as a parent in hopes of inspiring parents to recognize the symptoms and get help early. "There are so many parents out there who are going down this road, and it's a very lonely road," Feldkamp said. "I want people to know that there is help available and that they should pursue it and not give up, even if the first doctor they go to doesn't know about eating disorders."

Marriage Notes for Andrea Haeussler and Anthony Lauderdale:

When planning their big day, Andrea Haeussler (27 and a physical therapist) and Anthony Lauderdale (33 and an analyst) made sure to include the bride's favorite colors, pink and purple, while keeping a traditional feel. Bright blooms and rich purple bridesmaid dresses lent a romantic and modern touch to the classic church wedding. "I wanted my flowers to tie in the bright pinks for our color palette. I was less concerned with what type of bloom and more interested in the quality of color and variety of textures to really pop against the ladies' purple dresses. Grey Fox Floral did a great job of bringing my vision to life," says Andrea. When looking for a ceremony location, the Chicago residents browsed in the Ann Arbor, Michigan, area in order to be closer to the bride's family.

After viewing many options, Andrea and Anthony chose to be married at Trinity Lutheran Church, the same church the bride's parents married in, 32 years before. In the company of 120 of their closest friends and family members, Andrea and Anthony exchanged Christian vows. Andrea wore a lace coverup during the traditional ceremony, as a modest addition to her strapless dress. Andrea's mother gifted the bride with a hand-beaded belt, which added a glamorous touch to the bride's lace gown. The bride and groom invited guests to celebrate their nuptials at the Holiday Inn in Ann Arbor. "It was a surprising location in my book, but we chose this for a number of reasons. The ballroom had the perfect clean, contemporary look I was hoping for. They had recent renovations throughout their facilities, which showed beautifully. Finally, they had the perfect location for travel and downtown access, and onsite accommodations for our many out-of-town guests, really bringing everything together for us," says Andrea.

Julian Patrick Moore, born June 10, 1957 passed away early morning of Tuesday August 14, 2018 from a heart attack. We all knew Pat in our own special way; Father, Brother, Uncle, and Friend. He loved the outdoors; was an avid motorcyclist; had the best sense of humor; strong work ethic and was the best storyteller. Pat would do anything for anyone in need. He was a kind and patient man. However, if you ever got "the look", you knew patience was running thin.

She was a frequent volunteer for the Saline Historical Society, 212 Art Center, and other community activities. Marriage Notes for Julie Niethammer and Mark Choate:

Hurricane Harvey tried to put a damper on the wedding of Julie Niethammer and Mark Choate, but the show went on anyway. The couple are now happily hitched and honeymooning in Iceland, far north of the current storm action in the Atlantic Ocean. "We still got married on Sept. 3 in Magnolia, Texas, just outside of Houston," said Julie, a 2012 Dexter High School graduate, via e-mail on Tuesday. "We had to plan everything again. Thankfully, our families stepped in and helped." Niethammer shared her story of trying to spontaneously make arrangements for a Sept. 3 wedding after her original plans were destroyed by Hurricane Harvey.

Five days before the wedding Julie and Mark, a Houston native, had so meticulously planned, they found themselves pulling together with their families to make sure they could still say 'I do,' even though it wouldn't be at their planned venue, which was by then flooded. With the Houston airport closed, Mark flew to Dallas from Chicago, where the couple lives. Julie's parents also rerouted to Dallas while the bride confirmed that her other planned vendors — including a bartender and photographer, were safe and could still provide services. They were out of luck on finding a hotel or church to serve as a wedding location since they were needed for disaster relief, but were able to use as a last option the vacation rental home at which Julie's parents were staying.

On Sept. 3, with all new plans in place, Julie and Mark stood together on the front steps of the spacious two-story home, ready at last to be married. "I was filled with excitement, I couldn't stop smiling," said Julie. "I kept thinking to myself how much I love him and that I was looking forward to our future adventures. I love absolutely everything about him, especially how at ease he makes me." Mark, a man of few words, said while the hurricane had placed stressed on the family, when he finally said his vows to the woman he loves, he felt "happy."

The couple, who met and fell in love at Michigan State University, continued the celebration with a party on the back porch that included gumbo and shrimp boil made by Mark's uncle, and side dishes provided by Julie's family. While not all their guests from out of state could make it due to flight cancellations, the new husband and wife will have another celebration in Michigan in November.

"It turned out lovely," said Julie of her Houston post-hurricane wedding. "It actually went really well for being put together in five days. This struggle actually bodes well for our marriage because it shows how much we can support each other through the ups and downs and very stressful times." The wedding will make a good story to tell their future children and Julie knows just what she will say: "I will tell them you don't have to have an extravagant event to know how much people love and care about you."
