He married Dorothea Margaretha Knoeffer 16 Nov 1881 in Williamston, Ingham Co, Michigan, daughter of Georg Knoeffer and Katharina Bross. She was born 29 Apr 1859 in Saginaw, Saginaw Co, Michigan, and died 17 Jun 1922 in Lansing, Ingham Co, Michigan.

Notes for Johann Karl Heimerdinger:

Dec. 11, 1933 - Charles Heimerdinger, veteran employee of the Consumers Power company and believed to have been one of the most successful gardeners in the city, is confined to his home, 211 North Street, with a severe illness. Mr. Heimerdinger. one of the pioneers of Ingham county and for many years a resident of Lansing, demonstrated what can be done in vegetable and food production on supposedly waste and sterile land. A number of years ago the Consumers Power company, which owns considerable land north of West Willow Street along Grand River, filled in a number of low places. The fill was accomplished with dirt excavated from basements and with other refuse from the plant. On this filled land the company dumped residue from byproducts of gas manufacture which was rich in nitrates, Mr. Heimerdinger called attention to the fact that this ground would produce much foodstuff. Company officials kidded the Lansing pioneer and classed him with the weather forecasters. But permission was given to Mr. Heimerdinger to go ahead if he cared to experiment. Several offered to eat all at one sitting anything he grew on the land. But the Lansing pioneer knew his business. He fitted the land, which was a tough job, and then planted his vegetables. Corn, beans, carrots, parsnips, in fact all the Michigan garden vegetables soon began to; sprout. Mr. Heimerdinger cultivated his crop himself. Time did the rest. And the vegetables he produced and continued to produce on his plat scandalized the scoffers. Many who have seen the Heimerdinger garden and who partook of its excellent produce, claim there was never another garden like it in the city. And so waste land was brought into bearing and Mr. Heimerdinger demonstrated what can be done with poor soil properly fertilized.

Charles J. Heimerdinger, 80, pioneer resident of Lansing, who was born in 1853 on the site of the present Hotel Downey, died Monday Feb. 26, 1934 at his home, 211 West North Street. He was believed to have been Lansing's oldest native-born resident, and would have been 81 March 22. Mr. Heimerdinger's father, John, owned and operated a general store on Turner Street in North Lansing, in the days when it was necessary to make trips to Detroit by horse and wagon for provisions. Mr.

Heimerdinger vividly remembered these early trips, when two weeks was required to go to Detroit and return. There were no railroads in Lansing at that time, and the only through highways were toll roads of corduroy construction. His father helped cut the timber and lay the first corduroy road from uptown, which was then called "Middletown," to North Lansing. Mr. Heimerdinger could recall the time when game, principally deer and black squirrels, abounded in the woods where the greater part of Lansing is now. Most of Mr. Heimerdinger's early life was spent in farming west of Lansing, and he lived at Haslett for several years. He returned to Lansing in 1914 and was in the employ of the Consumers Power company until last June when he was taken ill.

He is survived by one daughter, Miss Esther Heimerdinger of Lansing, a son, Charles of Chicago; three sisters, Mrs. Ann Everett of Haslett, Mrs. of Detroit and Miss land two grandsons, Arthur Mauk and Heimerdinger, Jr.

He was a of the Lutheran church, services will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., from the Estes-Funeral home, the Rev. Phillip Schroeder of Trinity Lutheran Church, Detroit, officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

She was born 29 Aug 1860 in Bridgewater Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan, and died 06 Oct 1934 in Saline Twp, Washtenaw Co, Michigan.

Notes for Emmanuel Friedrich (Emanuel Frederick) Layher:

Emanuel Frederick Layher, N. Ann Arbor Street, died Friday morning January 24, 1930, after a short illness. He was the eldest child of a family of thirteen children, born in southern Russia, in the province of Besserabian in the village of Gnadenthal on the last day of the year 1854. His parents lived on a farm in the lowlands of Russia not many miles distant from the city of Odessa on the Black Sea. An edict by the ruling czar, that the children of immigrants, upon attaining the age of 18, must serve in the Russian Army, caused the family to sell their property and emigrate to America. The family arrived in Michigan in 1871 and made their home in Freedom Township just northwest of Pleasant Lake, where young Frederick grew to manhood. He spent all of his life in Freedom, Bridgewater and Saline townships. He was married to Julia Fliehmman in 1878. They made their home in the village of Bridgewater, where Mr. Layher was a respected business man for many years. He entered the employ of the old Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad in 1896 and later served faithfully as section foreman for the New York Central Lines until retired at the age of 70. While serving his company in 1904 he was transferred to Saline and took up his residence on North Ann Arbor Street where he lived for 26 years.

He leaves to mourn his passing his bereaved widow and 12 children, Leonard of Battle Creek, William of Palmyra; Fred and Adolph of Saline; Rudolph of Dearborn; Arthur of Ann Arbor; Harold of Bay City; Mrs. L. J. LaCroix and Mrs. Norman C. Wolfe of Detroit; Mrs. Herman Wenger of Ann Arbor; Mrs. N. E. Wagg of Niles; Mrs. George Schmid, Jr. and Mrs. William Schmid of Saline, besides 24 grandchildren, three brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the residence and 3 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Rev. Adolf Lederer officiating. Interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

Notes for Johann Georg (John George) Schmid, Jr.:

August 29, 1940 - The barrier over the street in front of Schmid's Food Store was removed Friday and the new front was ready for the public to see. It is an attractive cream brick, laid in special design, with the entrance at the extreme north end instead of the middle as the old store front was. This leaves the window open in the large pane making it much nicer for display purposes.

The store was built approximately 50 years ago by George Lindenschmidt, who opened a meat market there with a Mr. Schwalm as his partner. Mrs. Schwalm was a Boettger. Later Mr. Lindenschmidt bought out Schwalm and continued the market as sole proprietor. When John George Schmid and his family came from Germany and located in Saline he at first did slaughtering and took the meat to Ann Arbor. He built up a fine trade and after a time bought out the Lindenschmidt market and it has, except for a few years when Layher & Wenger operated it, remained in the Schmid family. Having learned the trade in the old country. Mr. Schmid cured and seasoned meat according to the formulas for which that country was famous. His sons learned the trade from him and now the grandsons are benefiting by the same knowledge. Schmid's market makes a specialty of home cured meats and finer foods and numbers among its customers those who for three generations have purchased meat over their counter.

As he was crossing the intersection at Michigan Avenue and Ann Arbor Street on his way from the barber shop Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, 1948, George Schmid was struck by an automobile and knocked to the pavement. He suffered a scalp laceration which took several stitches to close and was otherwise bruised about the body, and will be confined to his home for a couple of weeks. His daughter, Miss Lucille Schmid, a nurse at Deaconess Hospital, Detroit, was home during the weekend to care for him. The driver of the car which struck him had applied the brakes and the machine slid nearly 30 feet before hitting him.

John George Schmid Jr., 97, died February 2, 1983 at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lucille Steffey, after a long illness. He was born March 11, 1885 in Saline, the son of John George and Melanie Brisson Schmid Sr. On February 18, 1908 he married Julia M. Layher in Saline. She preceded him in death June 19, 1936. Mr. Schmid was in the meat business with his father while growing up, eventually establishing Schmid's Food Market in Saline with his sons, Alfred and Erwin. A charter member of St. Paul United Church of Christ in Saline, Mr. Schmid directed the church choir for many years, and also directed and played in the Saline Band.

Survivors include: two daughters, Mrs. Lucille Steffey of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Marie Trumbull of Hamburg; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Helene Schmid of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Nona Schmid of Saline; eight grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews. Besides his wife, he was preceded in death by his sons, Lewis, Erwin, and Alfred; a granddaughter, Penny LaFata; brothers, Joseph, Fred, and Alphonse; and a sister, Mary Schleh.

Services were held Saturday at St. Paul United Church of Christ with Rev. Ronald Boldman officiating. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Choir Fund of St. Paul Church.

Notes for Mary Jane King:

Jane (King) Bollinger passed away peacefully on Tuesday, August 23, 2016 in Green Bay, Wisconsin. Jane was born in 1924 in rural Livingston County, Michigan, to Hazel (Nicholas) and Ira N. King. She graduated from Stockbridge High School in 1941. Jane and Alger Bollinger were married at the Plainfield United Methodist Church in December 1942. They were married for over 65 years, until Alger passed away in early 2008.

Jane and Alger raised their three children on the small Bollinger family dairy farm near Plainfield. As parents, they each worked double shifts to supplement the precarious farming income. Al worked days on the farm and nights as a skilled die-maker in Howell. Jane worked at home, caring over the years for twenty-three beloved foster children. Jane was a born musician; many neighbors and friends have appreciated her expressive soprano solos sung at weddings, funerals, and other occasions.

After their children left home, Jane and Alger sold the farm and moved to the Bollinger homestead at 405 Main Street in Gregory. Jane shared with Alger the love of music, gardening, and Siamese cats. They enjoyed playing duets, Jane on the piano and Al on the saxophone. They worked on projects to benefit the Plainfield Church. Jane also worked for ten years at Book Crafters Publishing in Chelsea. Jane and Alger traveled in the U.S. and toured Europe and Mexico. As a widow, and while she was able, Jane lived in the little saltbox house she and Alger had built to downsize in 1984. Jane then went to live with a daughter and son-in-law in Wisconsin. Jane was a natural writer, who chronicled local life, both past and present, including genealogies of the King and Bollinger families. Her popular newspaper column, "The View From My Window," evokes the rhythms of nature, farm, and village.

Jane was preceded in death by her parents; four siblings: Trula Jackson, Emmett King, Donna Nicholson, and Phyllis Osborne; her husband, Alger Bollinger; and her son, Carl Frederic 'Ric' Bollinger.

She is survived by two daughters, Patricia Gayle (Raymond) Cole of Fowlerville, Michigan, and Joel Ruth (Randall) Pouwels of Green Bay, Wisconsin; sister-in-law Patricia Fitzgerald of Ann Arbor; grandsons Michael (Jill) Cole of Cedar Springs, Michigan, and Craig (Jennifer) Cole of Akron, Ohio; granddaughter Elanor 'Ellie' Phillips of Bentonville, Arkansas; great-granddaughters Caitlin Cole and Chelsea (Cody) McKay, all of Muskegon; numerous nieces and nephews; and Skeeter, her last Siamese cat.

A Funeral Service will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Monday, August 29, 2016, at the Plainfield United Methodist Church, with Rev. Dave Freeland officiating. Burial will follow at Plainfield Cemetery. The family will receive friends at the Caskey-Mitchell Funeral Home, Stockbridge, on Sunday from 6-8 p.m. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be directed to Jane's favored children's charity, Smile Train (www.SmileTrain.org, or P.O. PEOPLE v. LAYHER 607 N.W.2d 91 (1999) 238 Mich. App. 573
PEOPLE of the State of Michigan, Plaintiff-Appellee, v. Neto Alan LAYHER, Defendant-Appellant.
Court of Appeals of Michigan.
Submitted September 15, 1999, at Lansing.
Decided November 19, 1999, at 9:00 a.m.

Following a jury trial, defendant was convicted of one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (CSC), M.C.L. § 750.520b(1)(b)(ii); MSA 28.788(2)(1)(b)(ii), and two counts of second-degree CSC, M.C.L. § 750.520c(1)(b)(ii); MSA 28.788(3)(1)(b)(ii). The trial court sentenced defendant to concurrent terms of twenty to forty years' imprisonment for the first-degree CSC conviction and eight to fifteen years' imprisonment for each second-degree CSC conviction. Defendant appeals as of right. We affirm.

Defendant first argues that the trial court erred in allowing the prosecutor to cross-examine a defense witness with evidence of a prior criminal charge for which he was acquitted, contrary to People v. Falkner, 389 Mich. 682, 209 N.W.2d 193 (1973). We disagree.

Complainant, who is learning disabled, testified that when she was fifteen years old, her uncle (defendant) fondled her on three separate occasions and digitally penetrated her once. Defense witness Robert Ganger, who was employed by defendant to investigate the allegations, testified that on the two occasions he spoke with complainant, she denied that defendant had either "touched [her] private parts" or "put his finger in [her] private parts." Following direct examination, the prosecutor moved to question Ganger concerning the fact that he had been charged and acquitted of first-degree CSC against his daughter, then a child under the age of thirteen. The prosecutor argued that evidence that Ganger had been through the entire criminal process and ultimately acquitted of a charge similar to that for which defendant was on trial was admissible to show that he may have colored his investigation and testimony in defendant's favor. Over defense counsel's objection, the trial court permitted the prosecutor to cross-examine Ganger regarding the prior charge. The trial court reasoned that the prior charge was not being offered to impeach Ganger's credibility or to show his predisposition to commit CSC crimes. Instead, the trial court ruled that the evidence was being offered for the limited purpose of showing Ganger's potential bias toward defendant. In addressing the issue of bias, the trial court stated:

[The prosecutor] certainly could argue on the one hand that the witness would be biased because he is employed, I would assume, by you [defense counsel] and your client [defendant]. She could also and apparently seeks to do so, argue that as a result of him being accused and acquitted of a crime which he claims he did not do of a very similar nature, that he is therefore biased in the Defendant's favor and presumably would color his testimony to help the Defendant, another person who he may believe would be also wrongly accused of the same crime. The prosecutor subsequently extracted testimony that Ganger had been charged, tried, and acquitted of first-degree CSC against his daughter and that he knew defendant had been charged with first degree CSC when he spoke to complainant and her aunt during his investigation.

Defendant next contends that the trial court abused its discretion in admitting, as excited utterances, statements complainant made to her mother in 1986 concerning a prior sexual assault defendant allegedly committed against complainant. We disagree. The decision whether to admit evidence is within the trial court's discretion and will not be reversed absent an abuse of that discretion. People v. Lukity, 460 Mich. 484, 488, 596 N.W.2d 607 (1999). At trial, complainant's mother, Adeline Layher, testified that when complainant was five years old, she sent her into the house to retrieve a clothes basket. When complainant did not return, Layher went inside the house and found complainant naked and crying behind a door. Over objection, Layher testified that complainant told her immediately after the incident, both at home and at the hospital, that "her uncle had touched her in the wrong places," but without specifying where she had been touched. Approximately one week after the incident, Layher took complainant to a therapist. Layher testified, again over objection, that with the aid of anatomical dolls, complainant stated that defendant had put his "thing" on her and pointed to her mouth, buttocks, and vaginal area.

Defendant also argues that the third statement made during the therapy session could not be deemed an excited utterance because it was made one week after the alleged incident and was induced through questioning with the aid of anatomical dolls. We disagree.

The evidence established that after complainant had twice told Layher that defendant had "touched her in the wrong places," she took the child to therapy a week after the incident because the child was "emotional," "really disturbed," and nonresponsive. At the therapy session, complainant did not use technical terms to describe what defendant did, but merely stated that defendant had put his "thing" on her and pointed to her body parts. Unlike in Straight, cited by defendant, there is no record evidence to support his claim that Layher or the therapist repeatedly and emotionally asked complainant what happened until she answered. These circumstances, combined with complainant's young age, mental deficiency, and the relatively short interval between the assault and the statement, militate against the possibility of fabrication and support an inference that the statement was made out of a continuing state of emotional shock precipitated by the assault.

Defendant next argues that the trial court abused its discretion in admitting evidence of the alleged 1986 sexual assault under MRE 404(b). Defendant contends that the proffered rationales for the admission of this other-acts evidence were not in issue and that the unfair prejudice emanating from it outweighed its probative value. Again, we disagree. Pursuant to MRE 404(b), evidence of other crimes, wrongs, or acts is admissible if (1) the evidence is offered for a proper purpose rather than to prove the defendant's character or propensity to commit a crime, (2) the evidence is relevant to an issue or fact of consequence at trial, and (3) the probative value of the evidence is not substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice.

In the present case, complainant testified that the alleged instances of sexual abuse occurred while she and defendant were living with her grandmother (defendant's mother) and that two of the molestations took place while family members were present in the apartment or sleeping in the same room. The prosecutor offered evidence of the prior assault, which allegedly occurred while complainant's mother was around, to rebut defendant's theory that complainant had fabricated the instant allegations, by showing that defendant was, in both instances, willing to risk assaulting complainant while other family members were nearby. Consequently, the evidence was offered for a proper purpose and was relevant to an issue of consequence at trial.

Finally, defendant argues that he was denied a fair trial because the prosecutors involved in the case intimidated complainant with threats of jail and perjury in order to gain favorable testimony from her. However, defendant failed to preserve this issue because he did not raise it before the trial court. After a contextual review of the record, we conclude that the prosecutors did not intimidate complainant with improper threats, but merely informed her, apparently in response to her questions on the subject, that she could face perjury charges if she testified falsely. Defendant has therefore failed to demonstrate a plain error that affected the outcome of the trial.

Affirmed. MARKEY, J., concurred. FITZGERALD, J. (dissenting).

I strongly dissent from the majority's conclusion in issue I that the trial court properly allowed the prosecutor to cross-examine a defense witness with evidence of a prior criminal charge for which the witness was acquitted.

We hold that in the examination or cross-examination of any witness, no inquiry may be made regarding prior arrests or charges against such witness which did not result in conviction; neither may such witness be examined with reference to higher original charges which have not resulted in conviction whether by plea or trial. Accordingly, I would conclude that the trial court abused its discretion by allowing the prosecutor to cross-examine Ganger regarding a prior unrelated charge that did not result in conviction.

The issue, then, is whether the error was harmless. The only evidence of defendant's guilt was the testimony of the complainant. Thus, Ganger's credibility was a key issue in this case. If the jury believed Ganger's testimony that on two separate occasions complainant stated that defendant had not sexually touched her or placed his finger in her vagina, defendant would likely have been acquitted. Thus, after an examination of the entire record, it affirmatively appears that it is more probable than not that the error was outcome determinative.

Filed July 17, 2001 - PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN, Plaintiff-Appellee, v No. 116315 NETO ALAN LAYHER, Defendant-Appellant. BEFORE THE ENTIRE BENCH WEAVER, J. Defendant appeals the judgment of the Court of Appeals affirming his conviction for one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, MCL 750.520b(1)(b)(ii), and two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct, MCL 750.520c(1)(b)(ii).<sup>1</sup> We granted leave limited to whether the

The trial court sentenced defendant to twenty to forty years imprisonment for the first-degree CSC conviction and to concurrent terms of eight to fifteen years imprisonment for each second-degree CSC conviction. trial court erred so as to require reversal in allowing the prosecutor to cross-examine a defense witness concerning a prior charge for which he was acquitted. We conclude that the overly broad holding of People v Falkner, 389 Mich 682, 695; 209 NW2d 193 (1973), which states "no inquiry may be made regarding prior arrests or charges against" a witness that did not result in a conviction, is inconsistent with precedent and with the approach to the admission of evidence that we have followed since the adoption of the Michigan Rules of Evidence.<sup>2</sup> We hold, consistent with existing precedent and the Michigan Rules of Evidence, that a trial court may allow inquiry into prior arrests or charges for the purpose of establishing witness bias where, in its sound discretion, the trial court determines that the admission of evidence is consistent with the safeguards of the Michigan Rules of Evidence. We conclude that evidence of the witness' prior arrest without conviction to show the witness' bias was admissible under MRE 402 and MRE 403. The judgment of the Court of Appeals is affirmed and the defendant's conviction is upheld.

Defendant, Neto Layher, was convicted by jury over his general denial of three counts of criminal sexual conduct involving his minor niece, the complainant. During trial, all witnesses were sequestered. In the summer of 1996, complainant was fifteen and staying with her grandmother, defendant's mother. Complainant, who is mentally slow, testified at trial that three incidents occurred sometime before July 5, 1996. During the first incident, defendant rubbed complainant's breasts and genitals, first over and then under her clothes, while she was sleeping in her grandmother's bedroom. Complainant testified that she did not tell anyone because she was scared. The second incident happened when she was sleeping on the floor in her grandmother's room while her grandmother and complainant's sibling slept in the bed nearby. Defendant woke her by touching her over her clothes in the same manner as before. He left the room and then returned again, this time touching her under her clothes as before. Defendant asked her if she would tell. Again, she testified that she said she would not because she was scared. The third incident occurred when complainant was lying on her grandmother's bed. No one else was in the room. She testified that defendant gave her five dollars because she was not going to tell and then took the money back. Defendant again began rubbing complainant under her clothes. During this incident, complainant testified that defendant penetrated her vagina with his finger.

Complainant and her siblings had, throughout their lives, been moved from the home of one family member to the next. As a result, none of the witnesses were able to testify with specificity regarding when the children were at one home or another. For example, complainant's grandmother testified that the children were not with her at the beginning of the summer of 1996, but, rather, were with her at the end of the summer. The grandmother's testimony was inconsistent with that of all the other witnesses.

Sometime after the incidents described above, complainant and her two siblings went to live with Karen Byrd, the girlfriend of another uncle. Complainant and Ms. Byrd testified that complainant told Ms. Byrd of the incidents. Ms. Byrd then contacted the authorities. Soon after the authorities became involved, complainant and her siblings were moved from Ms. Byrd's home to the home of Christine (Layher) Walton, an aunt. While the children were staying with Ms. Walton, Robert (Bob) Ganger, who was working for defense counsel, was sent by defense counsel to investigate the case. Mr. Ganger testified that he was sent in response to a call defense counsel received saying that Ms. Walton and complainant wanted to talk to an attorney. It was not specified who made that call. Mr. Ganger first visited with Ms. Walton and then with Ms. Walton and complainant on two additional visits. Mr. Ganger became the lead defense witness as a result of these conversations. As a result of the conflict in testimony between Mr. Ganger and complainant, the prosecution sought to introduce the fact that Mr. Ganger had been tried and acquitted on the charge of criminal sexual conduct involving a child under the age of thirteen. The prosecution reasoned:

My position is that is certainly relevant in this case to show bias. Bias is very important for the jury to hear. And this particular charge . . . is necessary for the jury to hear about because of this particular case and the fact that Neto Layher is charged with a criminal sexual conduct.

I certainly think that that shows bias that he's going to try to assist another person who has been charged with the same thing he's been charged with, and obviously I would believe he would think wrongly accused of. The trial court allowed the cross-examination to proceed. The Court of Appeals affirmed the trial court's ruling on this evidentiary matter. We granted leave to appeal, limited to whether the trial court abused its discretion by allowing introduction of this evidence of Mr. Ganger's prior arrest and acquittal. The prosecutor introduced evidence of Mr. Ganger's past arrest and acquittal of criminal sexual conduct involving a child less than thirteen to create an inference of bias on the part of Mr. Ganger in favor of defendant. Bias is a common law evidentiary term used "to describe the relationship between a party and a witness . . . in favor of or against a party. Bias may be induced by a witness' like, dislike, or fear of a party, or by the witness' self-interest."

Conclusion - Evidence of a witness' past arrests may be admitted to establish bias if, in its sound discretion, the trial court determines that admission is consistent with the safeguards of the Michigan Rules of Evidence. However, to ensure against abuse of this rule, I would require a finding that a particularized bias exists, and that it is reasonably probable that the past arrest caused witness bias. Here, the trial court's failure to analyze the challenged evidence's prejudicial effect and to compare that to its probative value was an abuse of discretion. Because it affirmatively appears that the error in this case resulted in a miscarriage of justice, I would reverse the Court of Appeals decision to affirm defendant's convictions. CAVANAGH, J., concurred with KELLY, J.

Marriage Notes for Erwin Schmid and Nona Milhan:

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Church last Wednesday night March 16, 1938 when Miss Nona Juanita Milhan became the bride of Erwin Walter Schmid. Rev. C. H. Wittbracht performed the ceremony in the presence of 500 relatives and friends, using the impressive double ring service. The altar was banked with palms, tall baskets of snapdragons, gladioli and stocks while on either end were lighted white tapers. Before this beautiful setting the bridal party took their places, the bride entering on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. She was charmingly gowned in white taffeta, her finger-tip veil gracefully gathered about her head by an open work cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Douglas Milhan, sister-in-law of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore aqua-marine taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas and wore pink rose buds in her hair.

Douglas Milhan, brother of the bride, was best man. Alfred Schmid, Junior Layher, Herman Heining and George W. Seeger were ushers. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Lueile Henderson played appropriate music. As the bridal party entered the church she played the familiar and well-loved strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Miss Rubena Bredernitz and Mrs. George Wood sang "O Promise Me" and Mrs. Wood sang, "Because".

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for seventy relatives and close friends of the bridal party. Spring flowers and pink and white decorations made a very attractive setting here. Mr. Schmid is the son of J. George Schmid and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Milhan. After a short trip the bride and groom will make their home with the bride's parents. Mr. Schmid graduated from Saline High School in 1930 and is associated with his father in the grocery and meat business. The bride graduated in 1936.

Notes for John William Fred Layher:

John William Fred Layher of Saline, Michigan passed away peacefully at StoryPoint Assisted Living on October 9, 2024 from pancreatic cancer and congestive heart failure. John was born in Dearborn, Michigan on January 26, 1927 to the late Thema (Schnirring) and Rudolph Layher. He graduated from Saline High School in January, 1945. He joined the Allied forces during the end of WWII when he joined the US Coast Guard right before his 18th birthday. His dad suggested the US Coast Guard so he wouldn't have to serve overseas. As per John's luck, he joined the other unlucky 20% of the Coast Guard that had to serve overseas. He was stationed in the Mid-Pacific as a Radio Technician 3rd Class. On May 12, 1956 he married Elaine Kurowicki in Milan, Michigan. They were married 66 years when Elaine passed on June 29, 2022. They met on a blind date arranged by their good friends Tom (deceased) and Noreen (Schwartz) Love.

John was a life-long member of St. Paul United Church of Christ in Saline, where he was baptized and confirmed. He served on church council multiple times, building and grounds committee, memorial committee and sang in the choir. John also volunteered with the Saline Historical Society for many years and enjoyed taking many an elementary class for a historical tour through downtown Saline, Rentschler Farm and the Saline Depot. He retired from the USDA Soil Conservation Service in 1993 after 37 years of service, where he worked as a Soil Conservation Technician. He worked with farmers, school districts, and Engineers throughout Washtenaw and surrounding counties, designing drainage systems, ponds and other earth related projects. He also farmed on his family farm on Maple Road in Saline with his brother Rudolph (Bub) Layher. John was an environmentalist long before it was a thing. Caring for the earth, growing earth sustaining plants and trees, and clean water were his priorities.

John loved the Lord and had read the Bible cover to cover four times (if not more). His Bible was highlighted throughout and he loved to argue theology with his pastors, many of whom called him a Biblical Scholar. In November 2023 at age 96, John took an honor flight, with his grandson, to Washington DC from Toledo, Ohio. He was the oldest veteran on the flight and the only Coast Guard veteran besides the pilot. He was welcomed back with a celebration for all the veterans that never received a welcome home when they returned from war.

What John loved the most, besides his family, was to visit with people. Into his late 80's, he was often seen walking around Saline, to the grocery store, hardware store and barber shop. He would stop to talk with whoever was along his route. In November 2022 he moved into Assisted Living at StoryPoint, Saline. There he made many new friends that became very important to him, including his best friend Donna Dahlenberg and her daughter Deb Gumucio, Janet Laatch, Charles, Ed, and fellow Vets living at StoryPoint. John thanks everyone who came to visit with him while in StoryPoint including Betsy Marl, Scott Rentschler, Pastor Jim Coran and many others who called and spoke with him for many hours at a time. He wanted to thank his caregivers at StoryPoint for caring for him so well. And he wanted to thank Corsocare Hospice for their wonderful work. He wanted to especially thank his grandson Jared for his many hours of companionship, shopping for and lovingly taking care of grandpa, niece Susan Yuhasz who lived down the street, and his dear neighbors Fred and Laura Girbach and Donald and Denise Hatfield.

John is survived by his children Patricia (Craig) Richter of Saline, Paul (Rikilynn) Layher of Frankenmuth, and John (Jan Mata) Layher of Tecumseh. Spending time with his grandchildren was his "Happy Place".

He is survived by those beloved grandchildren, Joshua Richter of Canton, Jared Richter of Saline, Sarah Richter (Rachel Krawchuk) of Grand Rapids, Sadie Layher (Conner Applebee) of Boston, MA, Samuel Layher of Oak Park, Bryan and Daniel Layher of Ypsilanti. He is survived by many nieces and nephews, grand nieces and nephews, great-grand nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his sister-in-law and brother-in-law Janet and Donald Hann of Holland, brother-in-law James Weber of Grand Rapids, sisters-in-law June Fowler of Morenci and Jean Kurowicki of Evansville, Indiana.

John was preceded in death by his beloved wife Elaine, his parents, his sisters and brothers-in-law Lucille (Walter) Hinderer, Elizabeth (Donald) Dechert, brother and sister-in-law Rudolph (Marjorie) Layher, his sisters-in-law Stella Weber and Linda DeVee, and brothers-in-law David Kurowicki and Paul Kurowicki. He is also preceded in death by his favorite dogs, Mandy and Cindy.

Visitation will be held from 10:00 A.M. until the time of service at 11:00 A.M. on Friday, October 18, 2024 at St. Paul United Church of Christ, 122 W. Michigan Ave, Saline, MI 48176. Residence: 2888 Ticknor Court; Ann Arbor, Washtenaw Co, Michigan

Notes for Mary Elizabeth Birdsall:

Mary Layher passed away peacefully in her home in Dexter, Michigan, on Thursday, February 25, 2021, following a long and courageous battle with ovarian cancer. She was 79 years old. Born August 31, 1941 and raised in Westfield, New Jersey, the middle daughter of C. Houghton and Elizabeth (Harvey) Birdsall, Mary Elizabeth attended Westfield High School. She then attended Simmons College in Boston, Massachusetts, graduating in 1963 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nutrition. It was in Boston that she met her future husband, Thomas Layher, on a blind date in 1960 (actually, Mary was a last-minute stand in for another girl who had to cancel) – a small, serendipitous occurrence that led to a lifetime of happiness. The couple were married in 1964, settled in Michigan, and were long-time residents of Ann Arbor, where they raised three children. They relocated to Dexter in 2017. Mary began her work career as a lab technician in the Clinical Research Unit of the University of Michigan Hospital (Old Main). Once her youngest child was of school-age, Mary reentered the workforce, serving many years as church secretary and preschool treasurer at Divine Shepherd Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor, and later as office administrator for Church Consultants Group, also in Ann Arbor.

In addition to her professional work, Mary volunteered frequently for many organizations. She delivered Meals on Wheels to the elderly and homebound in and around Ann Arbor for over a decade, and especially enjoyed bringing one of her grandchildren along for company. Since 2001, Mary served in a leadership capacity as the Executive Secretary of Measure for Measure -- A Men's Choral Society, in Ann Arbor, where she handled everything from ticket sales to international travel logistics. Mary's many interests included playing bridge monthly with the same group of ladies for approximately 50 years; reading and participating in book clubs for decades; gardening and taking tours of botanical gardens; sewing and making dress-up and Halloween costumes for her grandkids; and travel. She and Tom took numerous trips in their retirement, particularly enjoying European river cruises. Known as Mary-Beth in her childhood, then as Mary to friends and family, she became "May-May" to her grandchildren, and the name just stuck. Friends, family and co-workers remember her bright smile, her warm and welcoming manner, and her cheerful can-do approach to things both large and small. Mary loved adventures and found many ways to have fun. She would organize hikes with her grandchildren through the woods of Marquette Island; be the first in line to jump off a schooner in the Atlantic for a swim in the ocean; and she loved fireworks (especially the homemade kind). An excellent hostess, Mary always opened her home to friends to stay for a visit or share a meal, and on many holidays she and Tom welcomed "orphans" to their table who didn't have family nearby. Mary loved to be involved, to be helping, to build up the success of things that are worthwhile – arts organizations, support groups, and above all, her community of friends and family. She always made the effort to watch and cheer for her husband, kids, and grandkids in choral concerts, plays, band concerts, soccer games, circus performances, and dance recitals.

Mary is survived by her devoted husband of 56 years, Thomas; by her three children: Theodore of Ann Arbor, Michigan; William (Kate Hannan) of St. Louis, Missouri; and Amanda (Anthony) Ryan of Ann Arbor, Michigan; by her five grandchildren Oliver, Anna, and Elsa Layher; Joseph and Lila Ryan; by sisters Lila (Walter) Dietz of Ocean, New Jersey; and Penelope (Peter) Hofmann of Dobbs Ferry, New York; by William (Bonnie) Layher of Greenbelt, Maryland; by Karin Layher of St. Louis, Missouri; and by many nieces and nephews.

We all loved her deeply and will miss her calm and cheerful presence in our lives. She brought harmony to us all. To quote one of Mary's favorite songs (to the tune of Edelweiss) that she often requested the family sing prior to big family meals and celebrations: "Bless our friends, bless our food, bless our family forever." She was our blessing. A memorial service will be planned for the future. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to: Measure for Measure -- Men's Choral Society, Arbor Hospice, Michigan Ovarian Cancer Alliance (MIOCA).

Notes for Christopher Frank Heimerdinger:

Chris Heimerdinger, President at Heimerdinger Entertainment. Heimerdinger first started publishing books in 1989 with Tennis Shoes Among the Nephites, based on events in the Book of Mormon. This and the nine books which followed in the Tennis Shoes Adventure Series are among Heimerdinger's most popular books.

Heimerdinger also wrote several books which are not part of the Tennis Shoes Adventure Series. These include Eddie Fantastic, a science fiction tale set in modern Salt Lake City; Daniel and Nephi, an adventure novel set in 600 B.C. Israel that speculates that the prophets Daniel and Nephi may have known one another as children; Ben Franklin and the Chamber of Time, a time-travel adventure; A Return to Christmas, a story about the reunion of twins separated as young boys; and A Light in the Storm, about a man stranded in a blizzard in the mountains of Montana.

In 2005, Heimerdinger also embarked upon his lifelong dream of directing movies and began production of Passage to Zarahemla. The project was born of an original screenplay written in 1999 called "Summer of the Nephite" and was published as a novel, Passage to Zarahemla in 2003. The film was completed and released in theatres on October 12, 2007. This movie, with 185 special effects shots, "features the most special effects of any LDS-themed film to date". It was recently released on DVD in June 2008.

Heimerdinger also composed nine songs for his motion picture, and released the album, Whispered Visions: Songs from the Motion Picture Passage to Zarahemla in 2008. On this album, Heimerdinger sings most of the songs. His back-up vocalists include renowned talents such as Jessie Clark Funk and Katherine Nelson. Other back-up vocalists include Kenneth Cope, Alex Boye, Barry Givens, Jim Funk, Felicia Wolfe, Tanya Barkdall, Jarrod Haddock, and Daniel Beck. The first three cuts on the album were co-produced with Tommy Hopkins, while the remainder were co-produced with Jim Funk.

Chris Heimerdinger (born August 26, 1963) is an American author who has written twenty novels for adults and young adults, most famously the Tennis Shoes Adventure Series. He is a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS Church), and most of his stories center on religious themes familiar to Latter-day Saints. Heimerdinger was born in Bloomington, Indiana. His father was a professor in theatre at Indiana University. His parents divorced when he was four years old and his mother remarried. Heimerdinger has one older brother and two younger sisters. Heimerdinger excelled in Wyoming High School competitions for three years in the categories of Humor, Oratory, and Drama. He began to write books at the age of 7, and continued through high school. He also began making super-8 films beginning in junior high, and showed these films to the scholarship committee of Brigham Young University in 1981, earning a full scholarship in 'Theatre and Cinematic Arts' after receiving a Sundance Institute 'Most Promising Filmmaker' award for his film Night Meeting. Heimerdinger read the Book of Mormon at age 18, during his first semester at college, and was converted to the Mormon faith on Oct 10, 1981.

Heimerdinger is the author of the Tennis Shoes Adventure Series. His first published work was Tennis Shoes Among the Nephites (1989), based on events in the Book of Mormon. Thus far twelve books have followed in the series, the first of which features three children who discover a secret cave capable of transporting its visitors back in time. The following books continue with the original characters as they go to college, get married, and have kids. The characters also have to deal with death, parenting troubles and time travel. The first books in the series were intended to be a fictional account of the Book of Mormon, while later ones explore other historical eras, including Ancient Rome, Israel during the Roman destruction in A.D. 73, and the time period of the Tower of Babel. The last four novels in this series include research notes at the end of each chapter.

In 2005, Heimerdinger began production of Passage to Zarahemla. Originally written in 1999 as a screenplay entitled "Summer of the Nephite" it was published as a novel, Passage to Zarahemla in 2003. The film was released to cinemas in October 2007 and as of 2011 ranks in the top 100 for both Christian and Fantasy Live-Action films. It was released on DVD in June 2008. In August 2011, a book sequel to Passage to Zarahemla, entitled Escape From Zarahemla was released by Covenant Communications, Inc. A self-published novel, Muckwhip's Guide to Capturing the Latter-day Soul, was released as an ebook in November 2012 and as a paperback in December 2012.

In 2008 Heimerdinger was among the top 10 list of LDS authors as chosen by Mormon Times readers. Heimerdinger utilizes the title of his Tennis Shoes Adventure Series in helping around the world. In August 2005 Heimerdinger joined with Hearts and Hands for Humanity in American Fork, Utah to help collect tennis shoes for children 5 to 12 years old. In 2007 Heimerdinger again joined with Hearts and Hands for Humanity to collect tennis shoes. This time it was in honor of a dead soldier, Nathan Barnes, of American Fork, Utah. The goal this time was to collect and send thousands of tennis shoes to Iraq.

Oct 14, 2007 - LDS author takes flying leap into filmmaking with "Passage to Zarahemla". Chris Heimerdinger, the best-selling author of the "Tennis Shoes Among the Nephites" books, likes every "Mormon" movie he sees -- except for the ones that are, not to put too fine a point on it, bad. So which ones are the bad ones? "I think the last really strong LDS film we had was 'Saints and Soldiers,'" Heimerdinger said. Theatrical release date: Aug. 6, 2004. Heimerdinger temporarily traded in his keyboard for a clapboard as co-writer and director of "Passage to Zarahemla," which opened Friday at theaters along the Wasatch Front. The author-turned-auteur isn't down on every film targeted to moviegoing members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints that's been released since mid-2004. He's just connecting the dots.

"The reason Latter-day Saints are not going to LDS movies is not because they don't want to go to LDS movies," Heimerdinger said. "They don't want to go to bad LDS movies." Some LDS films, like "The Book of Mormon Movie," are more or less instantly forgettable. Yet audiences have mostly spurned "Beauty and the Beast: A Latter-day Tale," "Return with Honor," "The Dance," "Picadilly Cowboy" aka "Anxiously Engaged," "Believe" and "Turn Around" already this year. Were all of them badfi. And, more to the point, is "Passage to Zarahemla" any goodfi Without even seeing it, Salt Lake Tribune Culture Vulture columnist Brandon Griggs dismissed that possibility out-of-hand in a recent column. In an opinion piece printed in the Daily Herald in April, Heimerdinger chided LDS filmmakers for watering down the LDS-specific content of their films: "If you're gonna make a Mormon movie, make a Mormon movie! Don't apologize for it!" Recalling that sentiment, Griggs wrote, "No, Chris, apologize instead for making a bad movie."

Heimerdinger called Griggs's diss "incredible," but said that he understands that moviegoers have low expectations. "We have to recognize," he said, "that that truly is the way that people have come to perceive LDS films." "Passage to Zarahemla" was made for "around $1 million" -- most Mormon movies are in that ballpark, though some are made at considerably lesser cost, whereas Hollywood films can gobble up anywhere from $10 million to $100 million or more (much, much more in some cases) -- but Heimerdinger is confident that people will like what they see. "I don't believe I could have delivered a better project for the budget that we spent on this film," he said. "I think probably it will go down as being the most entertaining celebration of the Book of Mormon that's ever been put on film. Period."

Long road to "Passage". If "Passage to Zarahemla" doesn't deliver on that level, then it won't be for lack of effort, and not just on Heimerdinger's part. The star of the movie is Summer Naomi Smart, a Brigham Young University graduate who made her entrance into LDS film in March as the star of "Beauty and the Beast: A Latter-day Tale." Smart, 25, who's currently in the Chicago cast of the Broadway play "Wicked," said she started out filming "Passage to Zarahemla" while simultaneously acting in two plays at St. George's Tuacahn Amphitheatre. "It probably wasn't the sanest thing," she said. "I had never done film before; I didn't realize what the hours would be." The strain of being at Tuacahn until midnight and then starting in on "Passage to Zarahemla" every morning before 6 a.m. was so great that Smart initially backed out of the film.

"We went to Hollywood and did auditions," Heimerdinger said. After personally seeing several dozen of about 600 auditions, he knew his first instinct had been right. "None of them could hold a candle to Summer," he said. "I called her from California and begged her. I said, 'We'll make any sacrifice necessary.'" That's been the attitude of Heimerdinger, who lives in Draper, for a while, actually. The 44-year-old storyteller, who has five kids, has wanted to make a movie ever since studying film at BYU for three years before dropping out short of graduation. "I left school because I was basically broke and needed money," he said. "My intention was always to go back to BYU and finish my degree."

Instead, Heimerdinger ended up spending a few years in the nine-to-five workplace and was working as a telemarketer when he wrote "Tennis Shoes Among the Nephites," about Wyoming kids who discover a time-space portal to Book of Mormon lands ... and discovered an entirely different career. It's been 18 years (and nine more "Tennis Shoes" titles, plus several other novels) since his publication breakthrough, but the accidental novelist has never lost his desire to jump into filmmaking. There's also a "Passage to Zarahemla" novel that was published in 2003, but the book only exists because Heimerdinger wasn't, at the time, having any luck getting backers for his "Passage" screenplay, originally titled "Summer of the Nephite." When he published "Passage to Zarahemla," he put the words "Soon to be a major motion picture" on the cover. "We hadn't raised a single dime" at that point, Heimerdinger said. "But I was determined enough that I put that on the cover of the book." The fires (literally) of adversity

Heimerdinger eventually partnered with Orem-based Candlelight Media Group. Candlelight's Brian Brough, a producer on "Passage to Zarahemla," said that the author's notoriety helped convince the company to work with him. "Chris Heimerdinger has a name," Brough said, "and it's nice to work on a project that you know will have a following." Brough said that he was also won over by "Passage to Zarahemla's" uniqueness. There have been lots of different LDS films, but none that you could even tangentially slot into the epic fantasy adventure genre. That explains why Brough and other backers were willing to make a bet on Heimerdinger.

Despite upheaval in his personal life over the period between the start of filming and theatrical release -- including the breakup of Heimerdinger's nearly 20-year marriage to his wife, Beth, and legal troubles -- Heimerdinger's own belief in himself was reinforced by events during filming that he described as being miraculous. A great deal of the film was shot on a private farm in tiny Leeds, near St. George. Heimerdinger said that a technician operating a smoker, or fog blower, inadvertently started a brush fire during filming that threatened to burn down both the farm and the woods around it where the movie was being filmed. The accident didn't occur, however, until mere hours after filming in the woods burned by the fire was completed. And the flames, Heimerdinger said, "stopped within 10 yards" of the farmhouse and surrounding buildings.

It could take a miracle for "Passage" to turn a profit. The most recent LDS film, "Return with Honor," lasted a month in theaters and didn't quite crack $100,000 in tickets sold. "Passage to Zarahemla" would probably need to gross five or six times that amount just to have a shot at breaking even with strong DVD and foreign sales. The Larry H. Miller-backed "The Work and the Glory III: A House Divided" managed, impressively, to hang around in theaters for a little more than five months. Its final box-office tallyfi A meager $1.3 million.

Worrisomefi Of course. Heimerdinger thinks that the "Passage" special effects will be the best ever seen in an LDS film, however, and said that he's expecting strong word-of-mouth: "People, over the weekend (after the film's opening), they'll be saying, 'Here's a real good one. I was shocked.' " One of the theaters that will be showing the film locally is Orem's SCERA Showhouse. SCERA CEO Adam Robertson said that LDS films have done well for the SCERA in the past and that he expects more of the same from "Passage to Zarahemla." "We're interested in it because it's a local film," Robertson said, and because it espouses "family-friendly" values. "People expect to see those types of shows here." Smart said that she thinks there's still plenty of room for LDS films to grow. But she said that "Passage to Zarahemla" shows that there's still ample reason to hope for the genre: "I think we've got a good start."

He was born 02 Apr 1938 in Britton, Lenawee Co, Michigan, and died 28 Dec 1979 in Manistee, Michigan.

Notes for Jerry Scott Losee:

Funeral services were held Monday for Jerry S. Losee, 41, 1100 Jeffrey Lane, at St. Paul United Church of Christ with the Rev. Ronald Boldman officiating. Mr. Losee died Dec. 28, 1979 in Manistee, Michigan. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery. Losee was enjoying a woodgathering outing with his family and friends when he suffered heart failure and apparently died instantly.

Mr. Losee was born April 2, 1938 in Britton, the son of Ellsworth and Inez Losee. He married Pamela Schmid of Saline August 6, 1960. He was an employee of the R & B Machine Tool Co., a veteran of the United States Air Force and a former member of the Saline Area Fire Dept. Mr. Losee was member of the St. Paul United Church of Christ. Survivors include: his wife, Pamela; three children, Patrice Lynn, Jerry S. II, and Brett; his mother and stepfather, Norman and Inez Hedger of Britton; three brothers, Jack and Jan of Saline, and Dean of Britton; one sister, Mrs. Joseph (Carol) Hargezeeb, kenneth of Ann Arbor; his maternal grandparents, Mona Gauntlett; two aunts, one uncle, and many nieces and nephews. Memorial contributions may be made to the Children's Educational Fund.

On Friday, December 28, 1979 all of us at R & B Machine Tool Company lost one of our most loved and respected coworkers. Jerry Losee, shop superintendent, died of a heart attack at the age of 41. Jerry was truly an exceptional person. He possessed technical skills that enabled him to do everything involved in the building of a machine tool. He was a problem solver, a leader, and his involvement guaranteed quality in the finished product. First of all, however, Jerry was a teacher and advisor to those who worked for him, a dear friend to those who worked with him. Criticism was not his way. Help, encouragement and a "pat on the back" were.

Every member of the R & B family feels a tremendous loss in Jerry's passing. A little of each of us has gone with him, but in far greater measure a part of Jerry will live on with each of us. Even-with his passing, Jerry has continued as a teacher and advisor to all of us. He teaches us now to show our appreciation of valued friends and associates every day of our lives. So, in Jerry's memory, we want to declare our deep belief: Jerry Losee was typical of the wonderful working associates that we have at R & B Machine Tool Company. He and they are our most treasured assets, both as friends and as the people most responsible for our firm's progress.

Notes for Joyce Arlene Davenport:

Joyce (Davenport) Parker of Ann Arbor died Tuesday, January 29, 2013 at age 79, two weeks after being diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. Joyce was born in May, 1933, and grew up an only child to her parents Cecil Oscar Davenport and Lena Augusta (Dowling) Davenport in Saline. At the age of 4 she found a sister in her lifelong dear friend Mickey Holt. As a young adult, Joyce completed two years at Eastern Michigan University, and then married Roscoe "Jerry" Gerald Parker of Clinton in June, 1954.

They had three children - Mark Parker, Sandra (Mark Warde) Parker and Ann (John) Parker Currie. Joyce and Jerry lived and raised their children in Ann Arbor. Joyce stayed home with her children when they were small, and then completed her Bachelor's degree and went on to earn a Master's degree in her early 50's. She and Jerry divorced after 33 years of marriage, and Joyce went on to form her own company, SAFE - Service Advocacy For Elderly. For 25 years, she was a legal guardian of elderly and others unable to manage their own affairs. She loved her clients, and she loved having the opportunity to improve their lives. Joyce never remarried, instead devoting herself to remaining a wonderful mother and becoming an extraordinary Grandma. Gram's house has been a joyful, loving haven for Joyce's 10 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. Joyce would look her children and grandchildren in the eye and say, "You are my life.", and it was true. She glowed with unconditional "Momma" love. In addition to her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, she is survived by her two beloved dogs, her "boys".

A service will held for Joyce on Saturday, February 2nd at 1st Presbyterian Church on Washtenaw Avenue in Ann Arbor. Visitation will be Friday at Muehlig Funeral Chapel in Ann Arbor. Donations may be made to 1st Presbyterian Church.

Notes for Raymond Joseph Foresman III:

Raymond J. Foresman, Jr passed away Saturday, June 10, 2017 peacefully at the age of 74 surrounded by his family. He is survived by his loving wife, Marsha Foresman (Bellman) children Raymond (Joe) Foresman III of Las Vegas, Sharyl Stafford (Chuck) and granddaughters Skylar and Brynlee Stafford of Denver. Also surviving include siblings John Foresman (Linda), James Foresman (Nancy) and Joanne Blenman (Foresman) as well as many nephews, nieces, grand nephews and nieces, all of whom were very close to Ray. He was preceded in death by his father and mother, Raymond J. Foresman, Sr and Connie Foresman (Diesing) of Grosse Pointe.

Ray was born in Detroit, Michigan on November 22, 1942. The family had moved to Owosso, Michigan where Ray spent much of his childhood before moving to Toledo, Ohio and then to Grosse Pointe, Michigan. In 1960, he attended the University of Michigan where his roommate Jack Restrick would become his lifelong best friend. It was in college, working as a disc jockey on the campus radio station where he met the love of his life, Marsha Bellman. Ray graduated from Michigan in 1964. Marsha graduated in 1965 and they were married shortly after on September 1, 1965, remaining together for the next 51 years until his passing. After college, Ray attended Wayne State Law School in Detroit graduating in 1967. He and Marsha moved to Lansing, Michigan where he began his legal career with the Attorney General's office. In 1969 he began working for the law firm of Willingham and Cote in East Lansing where he worked as a partner until his retirement in 2007. Throughout his career, he was recognized as one of the most highly respected litigators in the state of Michigan.

In 1970, Ray and Marsha adopted their son, Joe and in 1973 their daughter Sharyl was born. Shortly thereafter, the family moved to Okemos, Michigan where they lived in the same house for the next 22 years spending summers at a home on Crystal Lake in Beulah, Michigan. Near the turn of the century, Ray and Marsha purchased a home in Tucson, Arizona where they would spend winters returning to Crystal Lake for the summer and fall. Ray's first and most adoring passion was his children and granddaughters. His strong sense of family kept everyone close, and Ray was loved deeply by all of his nephews and nieces as well as all of his children's close friends throughout the years. Ray had a tremendous amount of pride in his Alma Mater, the University of Michigan and was a lifelong Michigan Wolverine fan. He loved playing golf and had a strong passion for sports cars and his antique boat. It was also his love of southwestern culture, and in particular all things "Wyatt Earp" that earned him the affectionate nickname of "Uncle Wyatt." A celebration of Ray's life will be held on Crystal Lake in July 2017.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations to be sent to the Alzheimer's Association.

Notes for William Thomas Layher:

William Layher is a certified Missouri educator who has been in the classroom for over 25 years — as a university professor, a German teacher, a Kindergarten assistant, and nearly everything else in between. After finishing his Ph.D. at Harvard University, he took a position at Washington University in St. Louis, where he spent 9 years as a faculty member teaching at the graduate and undergraduate level. He has authored or co-authored three books and published over 20 scholarly articles in the USA and in Europe.

In 2011 his passion for teaching led him in another direction, away from the ivory tower. He joined the faculty of the Waldorf School of St. Louis as the 4th grade teacher. Most recently he has taught Middle School and 2nd Grade at Madison Waldorf School in Madison, Wisconsin. In Fall 2018 he began a new position teaching German at Ladue Middle School.

Born 1968 in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Early love of Thor comic books, rock & roll, the saxophone. My first exposure to German came when singing out of the Lutheran Hymnal in church when I was a boy (I found it intriguing that “Heilig Geist” and “Holy Ghost” were so similar...). Spent a semester in 1986-87 in Germany, attending a Gymnasium in Hamburg before graduating High School back in Ann Arbor.

Undergraduate studies at Northwestern University. Junior Year Abroad was in Heidelberg in 1989-90 – which by any measure was an eventful year in German history. Graduated with a B.A. from Northwestern in 1991, double-majoring in Theater and German Literature. Then to Cambridge for graduate studies at Harvard.

- Ph.D. 1999 from Harvard University, Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures.
- 2002 - 2011, Assistant Professor, Washington University in St. Louis.
- 2011 - 2015 Waldorf School of St. Louis
- 2015 - 2018 Madison Waldorf School
- 2018 - German teacher in Ladue School District, Ladue MO
- Research grants awarded from the Fulbright Foundation (1997-1998 in Göteborg Sweden) and the DAAD (2007-2008 in Bamberg, Germany).

Education

- Ph.D. Harvard University (1999)
- B.A. Northwestern University (1991)

Lori Jean Strome Lee, age 57, of Edwardsburg, died in her home Friday, October 2, 2020, on the anniversary of her first born son's birth and passing. What a great moment for her waking up in heaven on his thirty-eighth birthday! Her life began March 27, 1963 in Dowagiac, Michigan, the oldest of four daughters born to Raymond and Donna Strome. She graduated from Ross Beatty High School in Cassopolis in 1982 and lived in this area all of her life. As the oldest of four girls, Lori looked out for her sisters and father, especially after her mother died. She loved her daughter and son and was devoted to her granddaughters. Lori enjoyed the weekly sleep overs and the daily telephone calls with her "luvbugs." She lovingly crocheted multiple baby blankets and hats and enjoyed cooking. Family meant everything to her and she enjoyed family gatherings and events. Lori was a good and loyal friend who was always available to anyone who needed her. She loved capturing pictures of family and friends. Lori was an active member of Union Baptist Church. She was excited about her relationship with God and sharing her faith. Lori loved her trips to Georgia and the beach with her best friend, Jennifer Parsons. She said her bucket list was complete after a visit to the ocean. Lori will be greatly missed by family and friends.

Marriage Notes for Amanda Diltz and Edward Morrison:

Ed Morrison and Amanda Diltz met at work in Chicago, Illinois March of 2017. Amanda was new to the company and Ed had recently been selected to move from the company's UK office to help grow the sales team in the US market. Amanda recalls telling her friends after her first day that she met a guy named Ed and she could tell they were going to be "best friends". The two developed a fast friendship and after some convincing Ed persuaded Amanda to go out to eat with him. Amanda made sure Ed knew this was in no way a "date" as she wasn't sure about getting involved with a co-worker. They went to a small Irish pub called Dublins on a Sunday afternoon and they have been inseparable ever since. Ed and Amanda live together in Chicago's Lincoln Park and recently welcomed a puppy named Stella into their family. The couple look forward to celebrating their love with family and friends in Ed's home country on September 18th.
