Advent: Love's Pure Light

Sunday, November 29, begins the season of Advent with our Advent theme of "Love's Pure Light." Advent is the first season in the church year, comprising the four weeks before Christmas. The word "Advent" comes from the Latin "to come." It is often named as the season of hope as we look forward with sure hope of God's coming into the world once again in the form of the Christ child.

Each week in worship will include special music, lighting of the Advent candles, and a litany of hope: Hope for God's Presence, Hope for God's Peace, Hope for God's Joy, and Hope for God's Love. Join us for this season of preparation and hope!

A Message from Pastor Rachael

Gratitude for Today, Hope for Tomorrow

This fall marked my first anniversary as Calvary's Lead Pastor. Anniversaries invite us to reflect on where we've been and wonder about what lies ahead. Looking back, one word rises to the surface: gratitude.

Gratitude for a vibrant faith community, for the ways people share their gifts and resources, and for a congregation that continues to adapt and serve faithfully. This year has brought challenges, including navigating ministry with fewer pastors than Calvary has historically known. It has also invited us to imagine new possibilities together.

And look at what God continues to do among us! I am continually amazed by what becomes possible when we bring together what God has entrusted to us. Books reach children's hands. Food is shared with neighbors. Pennies and dimes from noisy offerings become thousands of dollars which support people in our community and around the world. Each gift becomes part of something greater than any of us could accomplish alone.
I am grateful for our staff and volunteers, and for Deacon Erin's welcomed partnership in ministry. Their faithful service is a gift to this congregation.

I am mindful too of the weariness so many carry. In conversations and visits, I hear stories of aging bodies and minds, raising children, caring for loved ones, grief, financial pressures, and worries about tomorrow. These are not small things.

We also share the weight of a world marked by division, violence, and suffering. As an election approaches, Jesus' call to love our neighbor invites us to approach civic responsibilities, including voting, with compassion and concern for others.

Some days, it feels as though darkness is winning.

But darkness does not get the final word.

We follow the risen Christ who overcame death and the grave. As Advent approaches, we remember that God's light shines even in dark places. Our hope is not found in the absence of hardship, but in the promise that God is already present in its midst, bringing life, love, and possibility.

Gratitude doesn't ask us to pretend everything is fine. It invites us to notice God's grace already at work. This November, join me in naming two things each day: one gift in your personal life and one through your connection to Calvary. I encourage you to write them down or share them with someone.

Whatever this season holds joy or sorrow, gratitude or weariness...may you know God is with you. May you find grace in unexpected places, strength for the days ahead, and hope in Christ, whose light shines in the darkness and cannot be overcome.

God's peace,
Pastor Rachael

October Church Council Highlights

Worship & Congregational Life

Council reviewed the upcoming Christmas and New Year worship schedules. Work continues to fine-tune the new Sanctuary LED wall, including brightness and slide design adjustments. Sanctuary hanging microphones have been replaced.

Children, Youth, and Faith (CYF)

Sunday and Wednesday Church School and Confirmation are underway. Fall Art Camp was a success, and third graders received their Bibles in October. Calvary welcomes Reagan and Katie to the CYF Ministry Team! Planning is also beginning for the 2027 ELCA Youth Gathering, June 28–July 2, in Minneapolis.

Mission & Community Engagement

Backpack Ministry continues its partnership with Lewis & Clark Elementary School. The All-Inclusive Committee continues meeting and discerning its goals, with Deacon Erin offering guidance and support.

Organizational Leadership & Planning

Deacon Erin is currently helping coordinate congregational communications, while Kai, a UND student is helping coordinate Sunday and Wednesday worship technology. Council continues evaluating long-term communication and staffing needs. All staffing and personnel discussions, updates, and decisions are collaborative between Council and Pastor Rachael. In keeping with confidentiality guidelines, personnel matters are not disclosed in Council minutes.

Planning is also underway for Calvary's Annual Meeting on January 31, 2027.
Next Council Meeting: Tuesday, Nov. 10, 2026

Pastoral Care & Leadership

Pastor Rachael continues to emphasize care, communication, consistency, and clarity throughout congregational life. Deacon Erin has agreed to continue serving in her ministry-assisting role into 2027, until an Associate Pastor has been called. The Associate Pastor Call Committee continues its work on the Ministry Site Profile (MSP), with Council reviewing the proposed document and providing feedback. The goal remains to complete the MSP and post the position by year-end. The committee is seeking another youth/young adult representative to fill the spot previously held by a youth/young adult.

Stewardship & Financial Oversight

September finances broke even, with a year-to-date deficit of approximately $47,000, consistent with budget projections. October typically brings higher expenses than income. Council approved continuing the current staff health insurance plan despite an 18% premium increase. Stewardship's Imagine More emphasis continues, with intention cards mailed to the congregation. Council also clarified that nonrecurring purchases over $500 must be communicated to the Lead Pastor and appropriate Council representative.

Facilities & Technology Planning

The snow removal contract has been renewed with the current provider at a cost similar to last year. Repairs to Door 4 are underway, and updated property insurance quotes are being gathered. Council also began discussing future renovations to the bathrooms near the church office, including replacing pipes, asbestos removal, and considering possible changes to the bathroom layouts.

(Full Council minutes available upon request.)

Imagine More: Our Intentions Matter

Thank you, Calvary! As of the writing of this article, 70 households have shared their stewardship intentions as part of our Imagine More stewardship focus. We celebrate these thoughtful responses and the many ways our congregation continues to live out faith through generosity, connection, and service.

Over the past four weeks, we've been invited to *Imagine More…*more connection, more generosity, and more possibilities for the mission and ministry we share.

Perhaps you've wondered: Does filling out an Intention Card really matter?

We believe it does.
Because our intentions matter.

Taking a moment to prayerfully consider our connection to this faith community is itself an act of stewardship. It invites us to pause, reflect, and consider how God is calling us to participate in the life we share together.

This year, we intentionally redesigned our cards to reflect something important: stewardship is about more than a dollar amount. We recognize that financial circumstances change, and that generosity takes many forms. Our hope is to encourage each household to consider not only what we give, but how we connect, participate, and grow in faith together. (continued on next page)

Staffing Updates

Welcome Deacon Erin!

Welcome Deacon Erin Power, who will support our shared ministry at Calvary for coming months. Deacon Erin will provide much-needed assistance to Pastor Rachael and Calvary's ministries throughout the week, including pastoral care, community ministry, and communications. Her presence will provide additional support during this season as the Call Committee continues the important work and steps involved in preparing for the eventual call of an Associate Pastor. Deacon Erin's primary days at Calvary are Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Communications Update

Deacon Erin will be the primary staff person stewarding communications at Calvary during the communications staffing transition. All questions or communication about event and ministry publicity can be shared with Deacon Erin: deaconerinpower@gmail.com. Thank you for your understanding as we prioritize the well-being of our pastor and staff.

Calvary Quilters

Each month, quilters gather to assemble quilts for Lutheran World Relief, which are collected locally twice a year. The LWF truck was back in Grand Forks October 22 & 23 and Calvary's contribution was 19 quilts and 24 baby care kits! Let us continue to hold these quilts and baby care kits in our prayers as they head off to touch the lives of people around the world. This month, a quilt was also donated to Valley Senior Living.

Join us November 24 from 9:30 a.m.- 2:30 p.m. for our next quilting day. A potluck is served at noon and new folks are always welcome!

Funeral Hospitality

One of the ways we care for our congregation and community is offering hospitality and care when a funeral takes place at Calvary. Additional helping hands are needed to help host, serve, and clean up for a funeral luncheon. Contact Mary Ann for more information and to join this hospitality team.

Calvary Angel Tree

Help make Christmas merry for a community member in need through Calvary's 2026 Angel Tree! We're partnering with several community agencies to provide gifts for Lewis and Clark families, as well as other families, people with disabilities, older adults, and veterans who might otherwise go without Christmas gifts this year.

Beginning Sunday, November 15, choose a tag with gift ideas and instructions from a tree outside each worship space. Or select a gift through our Target and Amazon registries. The trees and shopping links will be available just in time to shop on Black Friday!

Volunteers will be needed also. Once gifts are returned to Calvary, we'll need volunteers to shop for any unpurchased gifts, sort donations, and wrap gifts. Thank you for sharing God's love with our community! Please contact Julie in the church office with questions or to volunteer.

Thanksgiving Together

Mashed Potatoes Needed!
Calvary has a special opportunity to help provide an American Thanksgiving meal for our newest neighbors through Global Friends on Monday evening, November 16. Area churches are contributing a part of the meal. Calvary's contribution is potatoes, along with hosting this event.

How you can help:

- Sign up to bring a batch of mashed potatoes (20 needed)
- Volunteer to help set-up, serve, or clean up; talk to Julie or Nichole for more information.
