

CALVARY CALLING

News that serves and ignites people for Christ

September 2022

August can sometimes be a month full of goodbyes. You might be saying goodbye to the summer months before you head back to school. You might even have to say goodbye to your friends who are heading back home in another state or city. You might be saying goodbye to a colleague who is continuing to chase their dream. You might be someone who has to say goodbye to a loved one. Through it all you will always have a loving and caring community in Calvary.

Goodbyes are always hard but they are never forever. There are so many things you can do to help heal those goodbyes. The pastors are great at communicating with grieving individuals who have lost a loved one. There are so many opportunities to Count Me In as we head into September. Reading Religiously allows people to come together and create a bond/friendship while discussing a new book. Confirmation class allows students to find new friends while they go through the process of being confirmed. The choir allows all generations to sing together and share a faithful bond. Wednesday coffee allows you to remember that there are others who are looking for company. Kickoff Sunday is a day of celebration as we look back at our goodbyes and welcome in our new beginnings.

A NOTE FROM PASTOR KIRK

Throughout September this year, the gospel lessons appointed for our worship services are stories Jesus tells his followers to challenge their “common sense” assumptions about what it means to be a religious community.

Here are the last lines of the four gospel lessons:

1. So therefore, none of you can become my disciple if you do not give up all your possessions. (Luke 14:35)
2. Just so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents. (Luke 15:10)
3. You cannot serve God and wealth. (Luke 16:13)
4. He (Jesus) said to him, ‘If they do not listen to Moses and the prophets, neither will they be convinced even if someone rises from the dead. (Luke 16:31)

As many of us now (re)gather for worship after three glorious summer months, I invite us all to listen, and discuss together, how Jesus’ challenges move us as a congregation. What are our treasured assumptions that Jesus plows into?

Here’s just one example of the kind of assumption I believe Jesus is inviting us to reconsider in light of the ways of the world: How is God calling us to treat those in the minority, those with hardly a voice, those who simply cannot win?

Next month, Calvary, along with several other area congregations, anticipate joining up with two important organizations—one that has been serving the GF area for quite a while, and the other just now entering our community—in order to receive our newest minority population.

A little history—since at least 2011, the Global Friends Coalition (GFC) has successfully escorted hundreds of refugees through the labyrinth of the Grand Forks culture—a place we call home that is literally “all Greek” to them! And about two months ago, Church World Service (CWS) began partnering with GFC in order to relocate fifty refugees to our town. You can go on the GFC website for more info on their success story and you can ask me for a copy of the lengthy agreement both organizations signed (it’s nineteen pages long).

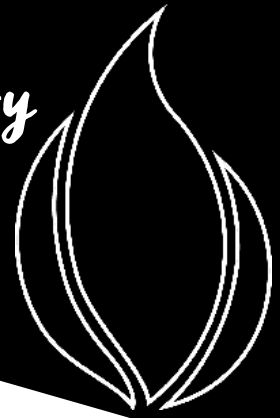

Here’s my challenge to Calvary: think about, pray about and talk about, how Jesus’ four ending statements from this month’s gospel readings relate to our newest neighbors who will be living among us starting in October. How is God calling us to see the month of September to prepare our hearts and minds to be disciples who care about the orphan, widow, stranger and alien resident.

I’m astounded at what faith communities can accomplish even in these days of post-pandemic lethargy. God’s Holy Spirit breathes hope into our collective lungs as we are called out of our “not knowing what tomorrow brings” in order to trust God is indeed doing a new thing, and we are truly blessed to be a small part of “repairer of the breach, the restorer of streets to live in,” (Isaiah 58:12).

Highlights of the CHURCH COUNCIL

FINANCE

July's income was received at a slightly higher level than the prior year. There was one additional Sunday in the current year which made the difference in income for the month.

Activities in July were much less than prior months, but still provided opportunities for congregation members and friends to engage with each other and the community. Children were invited to attend a two-week Lego League camp and a book club. High school youth travelled to Albuquerque, New Mexico, for a week of service and learning in the community. The second Sunday of each month, Calvary's congregation has the opportunity to serve a meal at LaGrave on First. The staff provided a meal in July, and the council is volunteering their time in August. Noisy offering in July was collected for St. Joseph's Food Pantry in the amount of $426.

Income through July was 6% ($27,700) lower than the five-year average and expenses were 17% ($115,600) higher than the five-year average. As Calvary enjoys the last month of the summer schedule, we also look to the fall and the excitement of all the opportunities for Calvary to "be the Church," both within our walls and in our community and everyone is invited!

CALL TO ORDER DEVOTION OLD BUSINESS

Cynthia Shaab from the Global Friends Coalition and CWS will give us a presentation at our September Council meeting regarding 50 refugees entering Grand Forks in October.

The roof is being repaired by C.L. Linfoot either this fall or early next year. Brian Harris is on top of this!

The Council cooked and served food at LaGrave on August 14 & 15.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

There was a call from the synod inquiring if Calvary would consider another new-grad pastor as a third pastor. Apparently a new pastor in Texas wanted to come to Calvary specifically. Since the Exec Team had already met and agreed to pause and look for the right signs, the Personnel Committee agreed to decline this opportunity. We have Rachel Puttbrese in the wings to preach once per month and we also have a desire to better define pastoral roles. All felt that the original timeline to pause was still appropriate.

COMMITTEE

Angie Gietzen reminded us of two things: first, the upcoming "Gift Sundays" which are scheduled for the last Sunday of each month. On these dates, there will be no Sunday School but rather, families and teachers will have the opportunity to worship on those special Sundays. And second, our annual Backpack Sunday will be August 21.

PROPERTY UPDATE

Ten new furnaces are in the process of being installed.

Pastor Reflection

PASTOR

Aaron

The other day, Nichole and I took our son Oliver to one of the splash parks in town. He was so excited to see his friends there he couldn't wait to run around chasing them and splashing in the water. If his friends thought it would be fun to sit on the sprayer, you could count on Oliver doing the same. If lying on the pavement letting the sun warm them was on the list, you bet Oliver would be laying right next to them. Whatever the idea, Oliver's response was always, "Let's do this!"

Which got me wondering, what would it look like if I were more like Oliver? In a world that is constantly pulling us in a bunch of different directions, what would it look like to prioritize my commitments and really go all in? How would my own faith life grow, if I trusted God more and said, "Count me in?"

Since the pandemic, we have been searching for a positive, life-giving way of connecting the various parts of the worship service (confession, hymns, prayers, sermon, Bible stories, etc.) with the offering. We will include a preface to the offering part of worship. I hope this part of worship is not received as "Calvary is always begging for money," of course.

This month we at Calvary are kicking off our fall with the theme of "Count Me In." Why? Because after the last few years, things have looked different. We have navigated pandemic protocols, limited capacity, online worship and more. As we become more comfortable working in an ever-shifting world, we are excited to encourage you all to think about where God is calling you to say "count me in."

Maybe you are excited to start attending in-person worship again, perhaps your family is registering for Christian Education at Calvary. These are great ways to make our faith life a priority. Or maybe you are looking to get more involved in other ways such as joining the choir, a service group or Bible study or finding ways to engage in the vibrant ministry Calvary has to offer.

Maybe "Count Me In" means more than just physical attendance, but also financial giving as well. Helping to support the mission and ministries of Calvary Lutheran Church and our partners. In the book of Isaiah, the prophet has a vision of God in the temple and hears God ask, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" To which Isaiah responds with, "Here I am; send me!" Not sure of what is to come, with the future uncertain, Isaiah said to God, "Count me in." He wasn't promised all sunshine and easy going, but he was promised that wherever he went, God was there also. We, too, are given this opportunity to look for ways in which God is inviting us into a life of renewed discipleship.

However you find yourself saying yes, let it be with the same enthusiasm and joy as a toddler running around the splash park. Not sure what is coming next, but sure that it will be exciting!

Roof Repair Announcement

An update on our leaky roof

Under the category of “in case you haven’t heard,” our sanctuary roof started leaking last winter and after many inspections and patching jobs, we now know it needs to be repaired at a cost of between $78,000-$88,000. C.L. Linfoot will be doing the work which will take place most likely next spring. Because we have no choice, we need to have a fund-raising strategy in place. We’re calling our strategy “Raise the Roof.” One of our “Raise the Roof” events will be a creative “Totally Tables” meal alongside a silent auction. This is something we did in the past and it was pretty well received. The timing of this is still being worked out, but it will be some time this winter. Another idea is to place an attention-getting bucket in both worship spaces (as well as all our communication platforms) as a reminder of our need to stop the leaks!! We even added a cute puppy barking, “Roof! Roof!” standing next to the buckets. Who can resist? Of course we don’t have to wait to have a fund-raiser to start giving towards a dry worship space as we will be, unfortunately, hearing the sound of indoor rain throughout the winter and spring months on the traditional side of our building.

COUNT ME IN!

Can you believe September is here?! As always, it seems, summer flew by in a flash. As we enter into the months of fall, our stewardship theme for the season is ‘Count Me In!’ With the beginning of the school season, and a busy and bustling time at the church, how can we count you in as stewards of the church?

As we talked about in the summer months, stewardship isn’t solely about monetary giving. There are so many opportunities to volunteer your time and talents here at Calvary. Teaching Sunday or Wednesday school or Milestone events, volunteering at Holy Grounds, supporting meal ministries like LaGrave on First, or helping with the “It Takes a Village” partnership with Lewis & Clark school are all great ways to be faithful stewards. You can navigate to the church website at www.calvarygf.org/volunteer to find many volunteer opportunities and links to sign up to help!

STEWARDSHIP

And as always, if you are interested in joining the stewardship committee, please join us! You can reach me by email at erica.sundby@gmail.com, or by phone/text at (701) 740-9164. You can also talk with Pastor Kirk or Pastor Aaron.
