Hi All

Chaos Prevails

Given the chaos in the US, especially GOP leadership, the glimmers of hope that I saw earlier about more disclosure are dashed.

I have previously described some of the legislative changes that contributed to more verifiable disclosure such as protection of whistleblowers. There was also legislation that has been written but not passed because it was attached to spending bills that have been sidelined by the recent debt limit and government shut down nonsense. These spending bills would, among other things, force all contractors to disclose all UAP information and physical evidence to be brought forward within 6 months. Failing that, there were plans for various facilities, where whistleblowers indicated that evidence exists, to be searched. As you can see below in the forwarded email from Steven Greer there is also intense pressure to stop the bills.

The other hope related to the testimony from David Grusch who had identified 40 first hand witnesses to the existence of crashed UFO's, alien bodies and reverse engineering activities. Kevin McCarthy, to his credit, let this testimony come out in a public hearing. He was then asked to give the committee status to subpoena witnesses and force the testimony but he declined, then he lost his job and now ... chaos everywhere including the ability to follow anything up. In reality, the 40 witnesses from David Grusch have been interviewed by the Inspector General already, testimony taken but because it is classified as top secret, there is no ability to disclose to the public without the politicians forcing the issue. So now we are stuck in the same limbo that has existed for decades. There continue to be enough players behind the scenes in government and industry to keep the lid on these secrets indefinitely.

What it All Means to Me

I have continued to read some indepth books from various researchers and I continue to see that there is more and more objective evidence going back decades about the UFO phenomenon. What is becoming more clear to me is the following:

The UFO and alien issue is not just about beings from other planets in the universe somehow travelling to earth, but it is more about other forms of intelligence interacting with us from other dimensions of time and space, including future humans that can time travel back to our time. In essence, these events can come from anywhere, anytime and from any universe. Sometimes just fleeting apparitions appear as intelligent energy moves from multi dimensions to our 4D space (3D space + time) for various periods of our time.

Other examples of the "UFO phenomenon" include alien abductions especially Whitley Streiber (author of Communion and several other abduction books), examples of alien contacts, meditations, interference in life activities, cattle mutations, crop circles (now many pictures of UFO's and light orbs in vicinity of circles - yes, some are hoaxes), shape shifting creatures, Big Foot (more and more researchers are showing how these creatures, like UFO's, can pop in and out of existence - they live in other dimensions, one reason why we never find dead bodies etc), strange electromagnetic events, Bermuda triangle type events throughout the world and many other forms.

The UFO phenomenon involves the realm of paranormal activities. I know that some of you will regard "paranormal" as just another word for "nonsense" or scientifically unproven observations that can and should be disregarded. As I have said before, our current state of science only explains 6% of our universe (ignoring the potential of the multiverse completely). So to dismiss all paranormal activities as ridiculous is absurd. Some will be invalid, but many will be ultimately proven by future scientific discoveries.

I am beginning to think that paranormal events like your basic ghost stories and even spiritual events may be part of the same broad phenomenon of intelligent forms of energy that move through multiple dimensions of time and space. We know that energy and mass (visible matter to humans) are interchangeable and can move through different dimensions of time and space. "In my Father's house, there are many rooms" - yes, different dimensions of time, space and vibrational frequencies.

New Scientific Research

In fact, there are some very interesting scientific discoveries being made now. One good example is work being done at "Skinwalker Ranch". More and more sophisticated scientific tests have been conducted over the last four years, headed up by an astrophysicist, Dr Travis Taylor. Taylor was also a scientific consultant to the US government UAP Task Force. There is a show on History TV that has been documenting these scientific tests (the final episode this season is this Sunday at 10). Here are some of the scientific paranormal observations that are being documented:

- There are many anomalous electromagnetic energy readings that cannot be explained by natural physical processes.
- There is a strong persistent radio wave signal at 1.6 GHz that relates to space communication frequencies.
- When experiments add more energy into the ranch environment via lasers, rockets, Tesla coils etc resultant UAP's and light orbs are video recorded, many times all technical equipment lose power, batteries drain instantly.
- Large underground structures have been identified but even with the best drilling equipment cannot be penetrated. Metallic scrapings from the structures indicated alloys similar to what is used in our space vehicles.
- Recent strange scanning results are indicating possible existence of portals (wormholes) where there is scientific evidence of time warping.
- The ranch is under constant scrutiny from unmarked black hawk helicopters (with no transponders) which have been followed up by the Attorney General of Utah who determined the army bases where they came from, and yet is told that he can't get any information as to why they are coming.
- There are dozens of recorded UAP's, some travel into and out of the rock mesa, some just dissolve into and out of existence, some dance around as light orbs.
- For 100's of years local Indians and previous ranch owners have described beings, large wolf creatures (Skinwalkers) that appear out of nowhere, or from a light portal and then disappear where their tracks in the ground just come to a stop.
- Cattle mutilations where cattle have organs removed by something like laser surgery, bodies drained of blood (with no blood on the ground) and in some cases UFO's seen and recorded nearby.
- Similar observations are being made at other remote locations but Skinwalker Ranch has the most phenomena that are being investigated.
- In the early 2000's the ranch was owned by Robert Bigelow, an aerospace contractor, who was funded by the government to do research on the ranch for several years (his staff observed the same phenomena that are currently being seen). The results of his multi year research project have never been released and Bigelow declines to comment on it. Bigelow has been awarded many aerospace contracts over the years and, in general, does support the possibilities UFO's and aliens.

Happy Holidays and will write again in the New Year!

Alan

Dr. Steven Greer

**URGENT****
The UAP Disclosure ACT
is in jeopardy

We need to put pressure on our elected officials to pass this bi-partisan bill as written to allow for complete transparency on the UAP/UFO issue and allow Congress subpoena power and to exercise eminent domain to extract documents and physical evidence that is being kept secret from the American people and the world.

Powerful interests in the government and government contractors in the aerospace industry are trying to pressure members of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence and the Armed Services Committee to stall, alter and prevent this bill from moving forward. The new House Speaker Mike Johnson and Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell need to hear from you as well as members of the Committees.
