

You never truly realize how much you can do for someone until you sit with the broken and expect absolutely nothing in return—no cameras, no social-media praise, and no pats on the back. Just me and Jesus.

Some I found randomly—broken, stuck, stranded with a broken-down car, homeless, caught in a difficult situation, or simply passing by with a broken smile. I would ask, “What can I do to help change this?”

I have no regrets. Every lesson learned was a blessing.

I have watched some of you walk away from narcotics and pills and completely change your lives. Never, ever forget: YOU did that. Keep going, and go be great!

I love you all,

BossLady ♥
