

Look How We've Grown!

With a partner, read through the statements below and highlight any that apply to you. They might be things you have learned at school, madrasah or at home. Some of them might be things you are still learning to do, which is great! Remember, you may learn and grow at a different pace to your partner and that's okay. Allah ﷻ has made us all different and special!

I can read English fluently.

I know many duas.

I can recite the Qur'an.

I know my times tables.

I can bake cookies.

I can do a cartwheel.

I know another language.

I can run 800 metres.

I can ride a horse.

I can sew or knit.

I can tell the truth.

I can draw.

I can make a sandwich.

I can be kind.

I can swim 10 metres.

I can speak to a large group.

I can spell well.

I can be helpful.

I can do a plait.

I can listen to others.

I can write a letter.

I know stories of different prophets.

I know how to perform salah.

I can disagree with someone without arguing.

I can work and play well in a team.

I work with someone who isn't my friend.

I know the names of the Prophet's ﷺ family.

I can tell the time.

I can sing nashids.

I know how to perform wudu'.

I can ride a bicycle.

I can add fractions.

I can talk about how I am feeling.

I can ask for help.

I can tie my shoe laces.

I can play a sport.