Introduction

Madrasah Abu Hurairah wishes to uphold Islamic principles of excellence, justice, fairness, equality of all human beings as God's creation and treating them with respect as God's best creation Complying with these principles as well as the British law, Madrasah Abu Hurairah aims to provide fair, equal and equitable opportunities (subject to genuine occupational requirements) as an employer and provider of services.

Scope of the policy

This policy applies to all aspects of service provision, employment and volunteering. Madrasah Abu Hurairah shall ensure that any job requirement to have a particular protected characteristic (related to age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation (as required by the Equalities Act, 2010)) is a genuine occupational requirement (crucial for the particular job) and it is a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim.

It is noted that the law allows some forms of discrimination if they're needed for the way the organisation works.

Some examples are:

- A Roman Catholic school restricting applications for admission of pupils to Catholics only

- Employing only women in a health centre for Muslim women.
- A mosque restricting the applications for the position of imam to Muslims only.

Policy statements

1. It is the policy of Madrasah Abu Hurairah to ensure that no job applicant or employee is unlawfully discriminated against, or is disadvantaged by conditions or requirements that cannot be shown to be justifiable. The organisation is committed not only to meeting its legal obligations but also to the positively promoting equality, fairness, justice, respect and tolerance in all aspects of employment and service provision.
 2. It is in our best interest and in the best interest of the employees if we together apply the Equal Opportunities Policy and other relevant employment policies and practices wholeheartedly. It is of great benefit to Madrasah Abu Hurairah if it has a diverse workforce with different backgrounds, employed on ability alone.
 3. Every applicant for a job, or every employee, shall be given equal opportunity whatever his or her personal status, except in a matter of :
 - religious belief in cases where the occupation (such as an imam) clearly requires Islamic faith;
 - offending background, in cases where the criminal record history relates to the requirements of the post (such as, a teacher, youth worker or imam).
1. Madrasah Abu Hurairah will make sure that all its employees and volunteers know and understand this policy fully.
 2. Recruitment literature will not imply a preference for one group of applicants unless there is a genuine occupational qualification that limits the post to this particular group, in which case this will be clearly stated.
 3. All descriptions and specifications for posts will include only requirements that are necessary and justifiable for the effective performance of the job.
 4. All selection will be thorough, conducted against defined criteria and will deal only with the applicants suitability for the job. Where it is necessary to ask questions relating to personal circumstances, these will be related purely to job requirements and asked to all candidates.
 5. Any disabled employees will have the same rights as other workers. Madrasah Abu Hurairah will make 'reasonable adjustments' to help disabled employees and job-applicants with:
 - application forms, e.g. providing forms in Braille, audio formats;
 - interview arrangements, e.g. wheelchair access, communicator support;
 - aptitude tests, e.g. giving extra time to complete the tests;
 - discipline and grievances;

- dismissal or redundancy;
 - terms of employment, including pay;
 - making sure the workplace has the right facilities and equipment for disabled workers;
 - promotion, transfer and training opportunities; and
 - work-related benefits like access to recreation or refreshment facilities.
1. Appropriate training will be provided to enable employees to perform their jobs effectively. Encouragement is given to all employees to take advantage of opportunities for training.
 2. Madrasah Abu Hurairah emphasises that discrimination is an unacceptable conduct that may lead to disciplinary action under its Disciplinary Procedure.
 3. Any employee/volunteer can make complaints of discrimination through the Grievance Procedure.
