FROM THE FOUNDER & AUTHOR

We live in interesting times. Never in the history of the known and accessible world has knowledge tramped everything we know, think or envision. A combination of factors – ranging from technology, the Internet, social media, Artificial Intelligence, including Intelligence Quotient (IQ), Emotional Quotient (EQ), Social Quotient (SQ), and Adversity Quotient (AQ) to glocalism – are rapidly exploding, many times, at a pace faster than time can process. As a result, self-awareness, interpersonal interactions and international synergies are expanding at astronomical speeds.

We, and for good reasons, have begun to realize that the world is smaller than the ideas imbedded divinely into our brains can spawn. We are on a conquest trajectory, in science, economics, politics, literature, mathematics, cybernetics, law, philosophy, and even our view of the metaphysical (religious) world is expanding. Africa is no longer a Dark Continent, and the West does not monopolize the cycles of knowledge and innovation any more. The world is slowly but surely morphing into a unitary geopolitical bloc. We are in to dominate everything, except death, perhaps.

But you may want to pause and ponder and ask yourself: What is my place in this dynamic trend? I believe that the continuation of knowledge and discovery shall not cease. What will cease is the tolerance for ignorance. My books are a small contribution to that knowledge quest and explosion. And I submit, that in content and research, my works do not lack. Let us explore together, and in the process, influence our generation and leave a mark that will survive time.

Best Selling Author, Charles Mwewa (LLB; BA Law; BA Ed; LLM), is a prolific researcher, poet, novelist, lawyer, law professor and Christian apologist and intercessor. Mwewa has written no less than 73 books and counting in every genre and has exhibited his works at prestigious expos like the Ottawa International Book Expo and is the winner of the Coppa Awards for his signature publication, Zambia: Struggles of My People.

ZAMBIA: *STRUGGLES OF
MY PEOPLE, 2nd Edition*

This is the everything-Zambia magnum opus, dubbed the most comprehensive book ever written on Zambia by a single author. It covers history, the economy, politics, law, culture, education, religion, the military, presidential politics, the diaspora, regional and international affairs, and the place of Zambia during and in the post-Covid-19 era.

The book is now in both paperback and hardcopy formats. The hardcopy format is divided into two volumes. Volume 1 contains chapters 1 to 20; and Volume 2 contains chapters from 21 to 40.

Praise for this tome includes: “Compelling, stimulating and provoking,” (Dr. Dickson Mwansa – Vice-Chancellor, Zambian Open University); “This book has been evaluated as the best book ever written on Zambia and it is the most inclusive of all books that have ever been written on Zambia. It covers history, economics, politics, law, religion, biographies, culture, book commentaries, and comparative analysis of other African and Western countries and so on,” (Dr. Munyonzwe Hamalengwa – Zambian Open University);

Dean, School of Law,
“This book is truly informative,” (Sibanze
Simuchoba – Prominent Zambian lawyer); and “This book will remain a national asset and treasure for Zambia, and its future generations,” (Dr. Nevers Mumba, Former Zambian Vice-president).

In its first edition, published
by Maiden Publishing House, Lusaka, Zambia in 2011, all the copies printed were sold.

The book is available for reference in universities and colleges, including in the National Assembly and government house.

LAWS OF INFLUENCE: Seven Lessons in Transformational Leadership

“Charles Mwewa has written this inspirational and motivating book which is a ‘must read’ for everyone from all walks of life. His ideas are holistic and well-rounded as he discusses the ‘Laws of Influence.’ He has captured vividly leadership and other principles which he elaborates and makes situational for his readers. This is a non-traditional approach, and one that can be attributed to the positive feedback from across three continents – North America, Europe, and Africa”

Hon. Jean Augustine, P.C.
Ontario’s Fairness Commissioner
(Former Deputy Speaker of Canada).”

THE SYSTEM: How Society Defines & Confines Us: A Worksheet

Life is organized as a System (The System). Although all human beings are born equal, they immediately discover that there are structures in society which define and confine them. In this life, there are quadrants – from the highest System-Makers to the middle System-Maintainers, to the lowest System-Grinders. This systematic evolution is embedded into every society, career, profession, politics, academia, economy, science and technology, arts, religion, law, or order. It is the same pattern everywhere; no matter the continent or region. Everyone belongs to one of these quadrants, or by default, in the Grinders. It is designed as a workbook, with 31 daily activities (one regular month) based on the content of the book as well as one’s general experience in the sphere of life.

*MY MUSLIM FRIENDS
LEARN ABOUT JESUS*

The author has helped many people successfully defend their refugee claims at the Immigration and Refugee Board (IRB) of Canada, Refugee Protection Division (RPD) based on religious grounds. This book is the publication of the materials I have used, and also the responses my clients have elicited at the RPD that have resulted in favorable outcomes. This is a practical tool; it has been tested and verified.

*ALLERGIC TO CORRUPTION:
The Legacy of President
Michael Sata of Zambia*

Michael Chilufya Sata was born in Mpika in 1937 and was brought up there, in the then Northern Province, a rural district of the British Protectorate of Northern Rhodesia. The New African magazine described him as “The son of a cook, he came from humble beginnings and his career includes being a police constable, and then porter and taxi driver in London, before returning home to go into business and politics.” This book is a story of President Michael Sata’s remarkable rise to power in Zambia, and the passion he exemplified in a slogan he coined, “Allergic to Corruption.”

*HH IS THE RIGHT MAN
FOR ZAMBIA: And Other
Acclaimed Articles on Zambia and Africa*

The purpose of compiling this book is not only the celebration of democracy and the election of Hakainde Hichilema (HH), but also to demonstrate how prescient this author's articles on Zambian politics have been during the past over 14 years. The author believed in HH from the moment the now-president of Zambia inherited UPND from Anderson Mazoka. The author reviewed UPND's platform and manifesto and listened intently to HH's vision and love for Zambia. Indeed, HH is the man for Zambia. HH means well for the poor and for the image of Zambia at home and abroad. This book showcases the prescience of HH's election and a hope for a successful presidency.

WEALTH THINKING: And the Concept of CapiSolism

In Wealth Thinking, the idea of a healthy, wealthy, and liberated mindset is set in brief and succinct quotes for everyone to master. It is not by accident that children who come from wealthy families or backgrounds end up being wealthy and rich; and most of those from poor families and backgrounds end up being poor. A wealth-mindset can be acquired, just like humans acquire mastery of other disciplines through learning. People and nations that enjoy wealth do so partly because they or their ancestors were exposed to wealth thinking at some point. Money or wealth is good – because with it one can do a great deal of good for themselves or the world around them. Poverty has never been a desirable quality in almost all known cultures because it mostly brings shame, lack, hardships, and suffering. The world is full of wealth, and all such wealth is meant for all human beings to enjoy. Learn and acquire the necessary mentality to think wealthily through the quotes contained in this book.

100+ Reasons to Read Books

Knowledge is never centralized. It comes in snippets and clips from different people. Progress means three things: Learning, believing, and acting. All of these are triggered by reading different topics and interests. You can't succeed beyond the knowledge you currently have. You can't be better than what you don't know. Those who read widely, will eventually be better prepared, better informed and will be more decisive. Invest in books and actually read. The wisdom of God and of humans is transmitted in these pages. Don't depend on anyone to read for you - it's they who will grow and make progress, and NOT you. Good readers make better leaders. Read, read, and read - all the time. In this 140 page-motivational, Charles Mwewa provokes those who desire to reach further than time and tour the minds, through books. These illustrious quotables are provocative, inspiring, and wholly revolutionizing.

TEN FINANCIAL & WEALTH ATTITUDES TO AVOID

In this book:

Don't say money is hard to come by;

Don't say, "I live in a poor economy";

When it comes to money, the grass is never greener on the other side;

Money has a very short life-span;

Don't think of wealth in cash terms;

Don't confuse assets with liabilities;

Don't beg for money;

Don't think you don't deserve to have good things;

Don't use social welfare infrastructure as permanent platform; and

Don't lower your expectations when it comes to prosperity.

END GAME LAW: Financial Mindset in Quotables

The End Game Law dictates that we enjoy the process of earning an income and celebrating it even before we see or experience the results. The process of thinking about money must be as the enjoyment we get from having and using it. Ultimately, the process must be more profitable than the result. Enjoy the quotables.

CHAMPIONS: Application of Common Sense and Biblical Motifs to Succeed in Both Worlds

The Bible, and Jesus in particular, dealt with everyday social realities in a manner that confounded even the best and brilliant minds of the time. Common-sense is very much at play in most of the biblical themes, stories, and encounters. The unified consensus of the Scriptures points to the same conclusion: That God wants us to win in both worlds, in this, and in the one to come. This book captures some of the following themes:

Attracting promotion; balance; investing in talent; position and possession; preparation; ranking and profitability; and etc.

All those who desire to be champions, to win, to excel, in this present world and to be welcomed with admiration in the next, will have found their match through the contents of this book.

*A CASE FOR AFRICA?S
LIBERTY: The Synergistic
Transformation of Africa and the West into First-World Partnerships*
[Written exclusively in poetry]

The past of Africa is known. The present is developing. But the future is anybody's guess. Admittedly, Europe and America combined attempted to cut Africa's throat with a blunt sword. The pain is excruciating. The wound unhealing. And the remedy is anyone's guess. Resources – both natural and human – left Africa for Europe and America. The scale of trade has always tilted against Africa. The shambles thereby bequeathed to Africa are anyone's guess. But until historical injustices levelled against Africa are addressed, its pain soothed, and its wound bandaged, it will remain anybody's guess how the 21st Century will look like for Africa. The conversation begins here – truth, nothing but truth, shall liberate Africa. Meanderings, diplomacy or calling the elephant in the room by another name, only serve to limit Africa, and continuously pour scone on its potential, peoples and practices. The facts are set, evidence is complete, and all that now remains – is to make A Case for Africa.

Couples & Lovers*

Indeed, the Covid-19 pandemic has not been about the saddest period of modern human history, but also the loneliest for couples and lovers. Each day, all they read, hear, and listen to, are sad stories and bad news of rising infections and death. And in such times, love may be thrown out of the window. But it shouldn't. Lovers and couples can live these moments in bliss. They can love more, feel for each other more, and give more to their relationships. This little book is for all lovers and couples in the Covid-pandemic times. It will stimulate them towards increased desire for one another, and it will give them the encouragement to continue to live and love. There is no balm as healing as love, and no antidote most effective against death as love.

QUOT-EBOS:

Essential. Barbs.

Opinions. Sayings

The quotes presented in this book have changed lives, livened dreams and recharged potentials. Most, if not all, of them speak for themselves. They invigorate thoughts readers have already entertained; they rekindle mental forces readers have shunted; and they introduce new options of viewing life, endeavors, dreams and visions, experiences and skills and knowledge. At times, they challenge status quo and propose alternative approaches to life.

QUOTABLE QUOTES EXCELLENCE: Vol 1 of 20 Knowledge &
Secrets

Wisdom is the ultimate excellence. If you want to get anything, get wisdom. The best way to be wise and to gain wisdom is to observe, and a lot of it. Life has a pattern; words have the power to change anything. But only words which alliterate sound and meaning and natural reality, have that power – the power to see clearly, to understand complex ideas and to apply them to real life situations, and be better.

RESURRECTION: (A Spy in Hell, novel)

Kirl was a quintessential spy master destined to marry two sisters separated by the vagaries of a marriage of convenience, themselves two daughters of a recanted priest and her adorable nanny. He was a Casanova – a lady’s man, then he went comatose, and he, literally, died. In Hell, he has a make-over – misses his initiation and survives every attempt to roast his soul and turn him into food for worms.

Amazingly, he weathers all the storms of purgatoria, he resurrects – into a totally new man. But his living nightmare just begins – he has to decide which of the two blood-sisters will be his legal wife. In a historic trial that pits him against his hoodwinked nemesis, Satan himself, he survives yet another onslaught. There is so much of Hell, and every bit of grace.

POETRY: The Best of Charles Mwewa

This book of poems is unique and comprehensive. It covers a period of 30 years of selected poems. All the published and unpublished works of Charles Mwewa are compiled into this one collection, earning the title, The Best of Charles Mwewa. Mwewa's style is Charsian – styled in a mixture of rhythmic verse and iambs, where desired, creating a mixture of sound and sense that captivates the mind/reason, engages the soul and records, or reshapes history.

PANDEMIC POETRY (COVID-19)

Indeed, Covid-19 pandemic has devastated the people of the world. Within a span of one year (between March 2020 and March 2021) about 112 million people contracted the virus, with approximately 2.5 million deaths from the virus.

In these poems, Charles Mwewa brings the vagaries of the time to note and provides the hope for tomorrow.

*I DREAM OF AFRICA:
Poetry of Post-
Independence
Africa, the Case of Zambia*

In these moving poems on Zambia and Africa as a whole, we are presented with a vivid, compelling, and masterful account of the realities of post-independence African life. The picture that emerges from this poetic drama is a people destined to remove themselves from the clutches of colonial domination and in simple terms come to grips with their way of life. What ingredients could have sailed the ship of Africa and Zambia in the right direction? Sit down and take a flight.

LAW & GRACE: An Expository Study in the Rudiments of Sin and Truth

The Law was given through a human agent, Moses. But God brought us Grace by Himself. And we see the glory of His Grace in operation: Forgiving sins unconditionally, healing the sick, raising the dead, comforting the weak, cheering the weary, calling the feeble and the nonentities, speaking to and dining with sinners, washing His own servants' feet, loving the unloved, breaking bread with His disciples, praying for His enemies, rebuking the hypocrites, sharing food with the hungry, paying taxes, breaking tribal lines, and even dying for those who did not deserve it – all of us. That is the beauty, the power, and the glory of Grace. In this 381 page-treatise, Charles Mwewa uses scripture to prove scripture that Grace ended the Law Dispensation and has bequeathed to New Testament believers pleasant and awesome benefits incomparable to anything in life or in nature.

*THE GRACE
DEVOTIONAL:
Fifty-Two Happy
Weeks with God*

This book is to be used primarily for the purposes of devotion by any Church or individual who believes in the power of prayer. It is compiled as a litany for conducting group or personal worship services or exercises for prayers and invocations. Its secret is in the reading of the confessions deliberately selected to equip the soul and inspire the spirit.

People have wondered why they pray and don't see results. The answer is partly due to negligence in confessing the portions of the Bible relevant to their situation.

SERMONS: Application of Legal Principles and Procedures in the Life and Ministry of Christ

Indeed, ethics or moral judgment is at the center of Biblical interpretation. Jesus Christ is said to be the lawyer of lawyers, in the sense that, no-one had ever propounded the legal efficacy and representation of Scriptures more than Him – and no-one has, ever since. Jesus Christ is the quintessential jurist. In these sermons, Charles Mwewa expostulates on both the legal efficacy and representation central in the Gospels, in particular, and the Bible, in general. Written from a rare legal dynamic, these sermons evoke a sense of responsibility for those who are impacted by its truths. The content can be used by ordained Ministers, the lay people, and for reference. The authority comes from the Scriptures, highlighted throughout the book in footnotes. Those who seek judicial justice and those who cleave for spiritual ascendancy, are united in the topics selected for this purpose.

FAIRER THAN

*GRACE My Deepest
for His Highest*

Belief in God is not enough. But loving and praising Him everyday and throughout our mortal lives should be our goal. Praise rings eternal. It's the only thing not even God can take away from us. Don't praise to live; live to praise. Even sceptics admit that JESUS CHRIST is the most beautiful person who ever lived, in terms of character, deeds, actions, attitude and grace. He defines the standards for everything because He is simply above and beyond everything.

THE PATCH

THEOREM: A

Philosophy of Death, Life and Time

In the Patch Theorem: A Philosophy of Death, Life and Time, the author introduces a third dimension (trimention) of explaining birth, death, life (and even life after death) and time. The elements of the Creationist Theory are recognized, and the postulations of science are affirmed. However, both religion and science cannot explain life and death from the realist point of view.

The creation or experience called humanity is trimentional; it exists at the subconscious, subcortical and subphemeral layers.

PRAYER: All Prayer Makes All Things Possible

This magnum opus, a tome on prayer, is the most encyclopedic grace-focused book ever written by a single author. It is 800-plus pages large, 60 chapters in total, close to 2,000 biblically-based footnotes, covers all relevant topics on prayer, and is a resource fit for prayer reference and mentorship. It deals with theory, philosophy, applied and practice of prayer. It is a one-stop shop, a general umbrella under which every prayer theme is constructed. It is excellent for personal and church growth, for church planting and for national prayer proclamation. Its greatest strength is a 100% reliance on Scripture for its authority, substance and theory. This book should be with every prayer leader, every church library and everywhere people love to pray. Prayer: All Prayer Makes All Things Possible, is a must-possess, must-reclaim, and must-have treasure of all times.

PRAYERS OF OUR CHILDREN

Children must pray. They must learn to pray earlier on in life. Prayer is not just a spiritual attitude; prayer is a faithful companion across the years. If there is anything we should all wish to bequeath to our children, it must be prayer, among other things. This author believes that if children can pray, they can make all things happen favorably for them. Prayer is the only means through which children can converse and communicate with their loving heavenly Father. The prayers contained in this little book are simple, practical and they suit all denominations, doctrines and the culture.

BY THE MEADOWS OF THE RIDEAU RIVER

By the Meadows of the Rideau River captures the effulgence of one of the most beautiful cities in the world, which also happens to be the Capital City of Canada, Ottawa. The beauty and magnificence of Ottawa is not love at first sight, and that is where its refulgence lies. In explicating the various layers that make Ottawa a dynamically attractive epi-center of power, knowledge, creativity, news leadership and a synergy of peoples of all races, colors and backgrounds, you begin to peel off, slowly but surely, its facade of being a governance center, and in the process, you come to discover a gem of a City. Read these poems slowly, thoughtfully and fondly, and you are guaranteed to fall in love with a legend, the love of a City.

GOVERNMENT: Principles & Predilections*

Governments, whether secular or divine, are founded upon the ideas of rightness and justice. The motivating goal for government is national well-being which is characterized by three outcomes, the happiness or prosperity of the people, peace and order. A successful government must be predisposed to do two things: To care for the people and to be truthful. To enable, empower and execute; these are the three essentials of government, and, effectively, the general summary of what government exists to do. In principle, no experience or elevated skill is required to drive a government forward; all that are necessary are a desirable interest to do good on people's behalf and to be available to do so. Any government that adheres to the above is bound to succeed in the management of national affairs and resources.

*AFRICA MUST BE DEVELOPED:
Agenda for the 22nd Century
Domination*

No matter where Africa is discussed, it's always an elephant in the room. Because each time there is a discussion on Africa, two facts are implied without necessarily being expressed: Africa is mostly Black and developing. The author avouches that what are regarded as Africa's liabilities are, in fact, Africa's assets. "Black and developing" that's a badge of honor and no other peoples on earth share that designation. Whether by divine design or by pure chance, the significance of black is just being rediscovered (even those who used it with negative racial connotations are slowly discovering the power imbedded in color black) and what is developing can only go up; and the 22nd Century is setting an agenda for the unmatched domination of Africa in global affairs. The same way the world flocked to Africa for its raw materials in the 19th Century, as a repeat, it will show up for its brains and prowess in the new century, only this time Africa will be ready and prepared, and nothing would hoodwink its brainocrats.

*CHRISTIAN
CONTROVERSIES:
Smoking & Drinking*

Grey areas exist in the Bible. Grey areas are encountered and experienced by good Christians on a daily basis. There is no escaping. In this little discourse, the author attempts to set a Bible-based test that can easily be utilized when in doubt. This two-prong test involves both the inner conscience and the external testimony before fellow members of the Body of Christ. In each case, one is adequately guided to pursue more acceptable courses of action than if they were merely left to chance or guesswork. Two of those common grey areas briefly discussed in this little book are smoking and drinking.

CONTROVERSIES: The
A-Sanctity of New Testament Tithing*

Christianity is a faith or a belief system. Hiding or redefining a wrong does not make it a right. That is true in religion as it is in law. Tithing is liturgy, not a sanctity. However, the modern church has made it almost like a sanctity and has penalized or erroneously labeled those who may not tithe as rebels or thieves. That's patently wrong. This discourse shows how.

Loving Homosexuals*

A common cliché, “What would Jesus do” would be in order in our times. Quick review may show that Jesus would sit down and dine with homosexuals as He did with a tax-collector and a prostitute. But would He proscribe their behavior or attempt to convert them, contrary to their rights under the law?

TWO LANDS UNDER ONE GOD: A Treatise on the Constitutionalization of Prayer in National Emblems, Cases of Canada and Zambia

Although both Canada and Zambia are not theocracies, the enshrining of God in the national anthems is a statement of faith and belief that the lands owe everything to God, the Creator. It remains in the best interest of the two nations to do so – because as their ancestors and national fathers saw fit,

God does and can bless and protect the lands.

Tricky Trilemma*

Trust. Truth. Time.

These three may be at jeopardy when a marriage starts with sex before the vows. In law, in advocacy, the judge may not admit into evidence any statements made before an oath to tell the truth. In marriage, society is repeatedly “admitting” into marriage couples who have already had sex before their wedding vows, is there a danger?

LOVE & FRIENDSHIP TIPS FOR GEN Z

Generation Z (Gen Z) were born between the late 1990s and the early to mid-2010s. They are the Internet and social media generation. To them, love may be more online than in person, but they understand it just fine – they are probably the hope of our tomorrow. How they love and will parent concerns us all – the Millennials, Generation Alpha, Generation X, and the younger Baby Boomers.

WHY MARRIED COUPLES LIE TO EACH OTHER: A Treatise

Is it love or lies that sustain a marriage?

Both, some would say. For some marriages and relationships, love is the cornerstone, for others, it is lies. In nominal parlance, both seem to fare just fine.

However, a critical review of these schools of thought may reveal that it is better to sustain a marriage on love and trust than on lies and half-truths. We are all victims of these two paradigms. In this little treatise, we attempt to provide an outline of some reasons why married and other couples often lie to each other.

ETHICAL

MENTORSHIP:

Missing Link in Transformational Leadership

This book moves beyond the major mentoring models and theories which emphasize mentors (coaches)' goal-setting criteria towards the success of the mentees (clients)'s overall support through motivation, training, direction, and advising. The book assumes that the mentor has succeeded, and that the client has been coached. The book goes a step further and focuses on the ethical leadership approach in the mentoring process and avouches that the major reason why theories and models on mentoring have not borne sustainable results is because of the absence of an ethical component on the part, mostly, of the coaches or mentors.

*TOWARDS TRUE ACHIEVEMENT:
Reconstructing the Mundane & the Authentic*

Let us call a spade a spade. Everyone's goal is to achieve something – that's humanity's primary goal. This is as well supported by how humans enter or are introduced into this world, naked. Since they bring nothing but their undeveloped self into the world, it can be construed that anything a human being ends up having is an achievement. This little book provides a compelling argument that everyone on earth can and has achieved something. That may sound under stated, but even in death, many people return to the dust with at least something on them. Achievement is, therefore, more of an attitude than of material accumulation. This book shows you how.

INNOVATION: The Art of Starting Something New

Life is a creative process. It has been designed for us to perfect. A seed of greatness is all we need, and the rest takes an innovative angle to come to pass. Anyone can do something new; it is not a luxury for a few. All it takes are five things: Finding solutions to problems by creating options from needs that infuse dreams with actions and allow for time or patience to bring it to perfection.

BEMBA DYNASTY: Vol. 1

The Bemba people of Zambia had a rich and extensive kingdom that rose to the stature of an empire. Originally, from Kola (present day Angola and Congo DR), under Mukulumpe “Mierda” Mubemba and Mumbi Lyulu Mukasa, the crocodile clan forged forward, reaching their echelon and crescendo under the reign of such great rulers (called Chitimukulu or great tree) as Chileshe Chepela, Chitapankwa and others. It’s a story of love, betrayal, empire building, European invasion and the decline of African traditions.

Bemba Dynasty (historical novel) is at the very essence of everything that defines colonialism, freedom and self-determination for the people of Zambia and Africa.

ADIEU PERFECTIONS: A Satire

A great deal has been done and progress has been made in race relations. However, remnants of historical injustices, usually unintended, do show up in standards applied to groups that have, historically, been marginalized. For example, they may be required to go far and beyond their ability to show they can do a job or run a government or corporate department. The same standards may not be set or applied to the dominant group. Indeed, a lot can still be done. For the good that is being done, we should applaud those, and laugh at the past. This little book is a satire.

ACING THE IMPOSSIBLE: Faith in the Other Dimension

To be safe in life, it is better to have both reason and faith on your side. It does not do good to only major in one at the expense of the other. Reason and science are our best friends; and so is faith in God.

In this little treatise, I show you how to extend your level of faith from the reasonable realm into the “other” realm, the place where impossible becomes possible.

OPTIMIZATION:

Turning Low Moments into High Comments

Down or low moments are not signs of weakness, but of strength, for “When I am weak, then I am strong.” They forecast highest moments. Because we mostly learn from failure than from successes. ## BOOK IN FOCUS

Bemba Dynasty (a trilogy)

The trilogy reveal Zambia's history before pre-colonialism, and covers a period from 1800 to 1911. The aim is to help the reader appreciate the past in order to carve the future. The novels introduce six brilliant matriarchs, Mumbi Lyulu Mukasa, Bwalya Chabala-Chilufya Mulenga, Lady Chancellor Kasuba Mwewa (later Queen Bwalya Chabala III), Queens Matanda, and Esther "Lute" Chileshe.

It introduces the reigns of Chileshe Chepela to Chitapankwa, to Sampa and to Chimfwembe Makumba, to Mutale Chikwanda. In the novels, you will meet the barrage of heartbreaks, the dance with nature, the rise from raiders to empire builders, betrayal in their ranks, the intrigue and calamitous reception of Europeans into uLubemba, the excursions of Dr.

David Livingstone, his retinue's déjà vu, the Bishop-King "Motomoto" Dupont's extra-religious undertakings, the intrusion of the BSA Company into what became known as Northeastern Rhodesia, the brace with Arab gun traders, the massacre of African tradition and culture, the double-impact of the Christian missionaries, the illustrious "James" Chuma and how he was one of the first Africans to reach Europe and return.

You will sigh to the politics of succession from baChilolo to shiMwalule (Lord of the burials) and the frenetics of unsorted deaths, how Generals Kalyata and Mporokoso shaped uLubemba's army and the battles between “Ifita fyabasumina” (or armies of God) and imipashi (ancestral spirits), the Christo-political machinations of Julizya “David” Kaunda, political agitations from Livingstonia Mission to Lubwa Mission, and the sheer pleasure of love affairs, military incursions, and, finally, you will meet Mukonde and Elizabeth (a kidnapper and the kidnapped, the first White-Black love affair that began in the midst of bigotry and antagonism).

This trilogy has them all. Suddenly, the story of the lost history of Zambia comes to life.

PART II TO BE RELEASED IN 2024
