The five steps and two guiding principles of the SPF offer prevention planners a comprehensive approach to understanding and addressing the substance misuse and related behavioral health problems facing their states and communities. The SPF includes these five steps: 1. Assessment: Identify local prevention needs based on data (e.g., What is the problem?) 2. Capacity: Build local resources and readiness to address prevention needs (e.g., What do you have to work with?) 3. Planning: Find out what works to address prevention needs and how to do it well (e.g., What should you do and how should you do it?) 4. Implementation: Deliver evidence-based programs and practices as intended (e.g., How can you put your plan into action?) 5. Evaluation: Examine the process and outcomes of programs and practices (e.g., Is your plan succeeding?)
  1. The SPF is also guided by two cross-cutting principles that should be integrated into each of the steps that comprise it:
