

Markus Clavadetscher (Abstract Painter, Sculptor, Sketcher and writer).

Born in Chicago, Illinois, from a Swiss family, Markus is a self - taught fine artist, poet, and writer whose style and subject matter vary greatly. Asking him who his favorite painter is, is like asking him what his favorite color is. Nevertheless, he is influenced by sketches in art books while working in his studio. He has an special interest in "Art of the Twentieth Century". There is a sense of soul in his work, with brighter mixed colors, and abstract curving linear designs.

Markus is honoring his heritage (Switzerland) and why these days he comes stronger to conquer the heart of many of us around him. The recent lost of his dad, Rudolf Clavadetscher who happen to be a painter. Markus son is the creator of this new book "THE ROAD OF LIGHT". Their paintings are on his book to share with us their beautiful images. He encourages everyone to create their own original artwork - regardless of the level of their talents.

October 2025, he produced his past exhibition named "The Road of Light" at the Antioch Art Center. Showcasing a portion the vast collection of a father and son, It commemorated the lives of his father and wife with the simple message to "DO GOOD." Markus' recent work "New World Art" is ongoing at the Goodwill resale store. It may include original works done by him and/ or art purchased there, reworked and returned as a donation. James and I met him at the Antioch Foundation Gallery a long time ago. Our first impression is genuine talented artist he is a sensitive and honest transparent human being. As we all enjoyed many of his shows and showing with us at the First American Bank, Gurnee IL, and The Round Lake Civic Center other places in Antioch locations. A true believer a generous & kind man as well. Thank you, Markus!
