CURATING EXPERIENCES FOR THE MODERN TRAVELER

It's the end of the year and we have shopping to do, holiday parties to attend and all the other chores and activities the end of year brings. Right over the horizon is the New Year and opportunities to treat yourself and your friends and family. Where to go, what to do without maxing out your credit cards. Below are some ideas for those who enjoy experiencing craft food, beverages and related activities. Yes, we can always book you that island get away or that big Vegas experience, but this time you might want to go a little easy, relax and enjoy some low-key relaxation and craft experiences.

New York State Craft Brewers Festival, Albany, NY

The 2026 installment of this event is scheduled for January 24th in Albany, NY. There are over 55 brewers all under one roof at this premier beer event. We can work with you to arrange your travel to and from, hotel arrangements as well as provide additional itinerary planning depending on your time and interests. CCTA always works hard to keep things within your budget. The NYS Craft Brewers Fest is a great weekend away that won't break the bank.

Grand American Barbecue World Championship

May 1 – 3 New Paltz, NY

OK perhaps Albany in January is too cold for you especially while drinking cold beer. OK, lets try the Ribfest in May. It's warmer, there will still be beer but the focus is on the ribs. Yes, 3 days of ribs and BBQ. In addition to the world class BBQ you can enjoy there will be live music and kids activities and of course BBQ demonstrations. There are opportunities to upgrade your experience with VIP BBQ experiences. CCTA can work to make your travel arrangements as well as lodging. Need additional services such as local transportation, dining and shopping ideas? We can do it all. You just show up itinerary and tickets in hand.

Fun & Wine in the Sun

Ongoing, Los Cabos, Mexico

Curated Craft Travel Advisors gets it. You are tired of the cold and the snow; skiing isn't your thing. We can arrange for you to get out of the cold and onto the beach basking in the sun. There are many places you can go for this, but CCTA can curate an experience that lets you indulge in some local wine experiences or even a wine tasting followed by dinner prepared by a private chef. Need a break from the sand that's fine how about a round of golf? We've got you covered just stay away from the sand traps.

Our Advisory Service

We are highly experienced business and leisure travelers who know all the ins and outs of accumulating miles and points and using them to squeeze the maximum value out of them. Our real-world experiences can help you make the most of your programs to put together that dream trip using your hard-earned points for the main currency. Perhaps you just want to strategize the best ways to accumulate points, advance in status and travel more comfortably. Let us work with you to rationalize your programs and get you going in the right direction. Already there, okay great we will work with you to make the most of those points. Once you are back then we will work on getting those points back in the bank even faster than last time.
