Every Knee Will Bow

I've always wondered how "every knee will bow and every tongue confess" ... from Romans 14:11 in the new testament Bible.

One of my closest family member's who are highly spiritually "woke" said THEY don't even want this human trafficking to be true because it's SO bad. It would mean that this world is so much worse than we thought. In response I said, I totally understand that BUT it's the only way for people to change, even REALLY REALLY GOOD people. Even people who do believe in god/good [try follow me here] so so many people now days are just roses about "being saved", "Jesus saves", they're so positive "in the spirit", that they have even themselves convinced that there is no EVIL... that "god made this world so how can it be evil, look around". Good always wins. Yes, but that doesn't mean there is no battle. We accept SO MUCH and tolerate SO MUCH negativity, that the evil is taking over and we don't even know it and can't recognize it. Not only can science not exist in "gray" only, there are two poles, neither can spirituality. Nothing can exist without the two poles. Good and Evil.

The way I see it is the real issue is that spirituality is GONE... even with the majority who claim to be spiritual. I mean understand, it's more like people don't believe in ANYTHING. It's "put-off" for thinking at another time in life, later or never; just live in the moment. "Believers" don't even believe, deep down. They hope, yes that's a great virtue, but when pressured, hope can get silenced, gaslighted, and extinguished. All of this is so far past "how can god let this happen" (because that knee-jerk reaction will arise but won't hold), if all of this is true, it's like the Joan Osborn/Prince song "What if God Was One of Us?":

"Would you want to see, if seeing meant that you would have to believe?"

It will FORCE people to not only DEAL with there being a god/good but FORCE people to DEAL with there also being true evil/devil. I think thats the key. It balances and combines nature in the process as well, the good/evil, yin/yang, black/white, positive/negative, dark/light, plus/minus forces we all deal with everyday and ACCEPT. We just put it off for another time. It will force the holy scripture: "every knee will bow and every tongue confess".

Except for those cabal/elite or what ever you want to label the powers that are running this theater...which really is a small amount of people compared to the total population of the world.

Reminds me of another quote from Alan Moore who wrote V for Vendetta: "God is in the rain".

In the terror I find peace with it.

Let's continue to break this DREAM-SPELL.
