

Run #2166 Monday 19th October 2026, The Duke, Wickford

Hares:- Sir Casey & Blowdry

First off, we all thank Sir Casey & Blowdry for stepping in at the last minute and planning tonight's hash! (We don't thank them for also providing raffle prizes!).

Anyway – we gathered at The Duke in Wickford, and the GM called us all to order, he announced the new hares to the nineteen waiting hashers, and Blowdry then explained tonight's markings.

We headed off along the main road, and soon turned off to run along the river side, we met some chatty fisherman, who were posing as hashers, with their head torches and standing around in dark spaces!

Once we got to the end of the river, we crossed over – and ran back down the other side. We then ran along the railway line, across a few fields – and back to the original river crossing, which had now become a beer stop! Just before the beer stop was a wire fence which we all had to scramble through, luckily Pied Piper was on hand to help us through – in particular to Sir Lunchbox who decided to go through the fence – and risk catching body parts on the barbed wire!

After a beer and a chewy sweet, we were on our way – back through the houses this time. Sir Casey managed to get the trail to pass a terrific Halloween display in one of the houses – we even thought we saw Corpse-shagger in there somewhere!

Back at the pub, and a lack of real ale meant hashers had to drink John Smith's or Guinness! We all had a good natter, before going outside for tonight's down-downs, our stand-in RA for the night was Pulled Out. First down-down went to the wonderful two hares, then Corpse for talking about the 'canvey massive', Heapo for 'losing his wallet at the hash', and then finding it in his trousers in the wardrobe and Lunchbox & Pied Piper for the fence incident.

On! On!
