

Run #2102, Monday 18th August 2025, The White Hart, Little Waltham

Hare:- The Count & Corpseshagger

This evening, the EHHH's gathered at The White Hart in Little Waltham, for the trail set by the Count. The GM/Hare set us off along the street, and the 20 or so hashers were soon into the countryside, across the dusty fields, with the runners setting a good pace. There were a few twists & turns, with Come's Not a Lot trying to pretend that he hadn't been on the recce, and didn't know the way! We had an ad-hoc Re-group for the walkers to catch up – and then we were off again, with Basil & Tiny Tears leading the way.

Tiny Tears seemed a bit bamboozled by the fish-hook – telling everyone it was a Checkback 3 – when in fact the first 3 runners (including TT) were supposed to run back to the pack. This meant that Fourplay & Small Prick started running across a field – looking for a non-existent trail (noted for the down-downs!).

Finally we made it to the beer stop, with Corpse set up as usual with his table. Come's not a lot had by now found the golf ball (and therefore won the bird house prize – which Mum will be getting for Xmas!). We all had Doom Bar, Hobgoblin or a bit of Mango squash, along with chocolate bars & jelly babies! Then we were on our way – the second part of the run. Along the way we encountered a stream, there was a rope-swing bridge which Small Prick had to test – but unfortunately he didn't fall in the river – and luckily everyone else managed to get past without getting wet!

We made it back to the pub, where we sat out in the garden – some small portions of food were served, and then it was time for the down-downs – some as mentioned above. Other recipients were Heapo, AGO, Sludge and Fag After (for carrying a torch – even though the sun didn't set until 20:18!).

PS. Frogman also had a torch – but only about 2 other people knew about that!!

On! On!
