

OGTAG

OIL & GAS TRAFFICKING AWARENESS GROUP

The energy industry is united in combating human trafficking.

Together, we can make a real difference where we live and work.

www.ogtag.org

The Oil and Gas Trafficking Awareness Group (OGTAG) was founded in 2017 in Houston, Texas to ultimately unite the energy industry in combating human trafficking, making our workplace and local communities safer.

Today, OTAG includes over 20 operators and 25+ service companies. In 2020, OTAG will launch OTAG Denver and is looking to expand further growth throughout the year.

► Please visit ogtag.org to get involved. No dues or membership fees required.

ALARMING FACTS

- 25-40 million people impacted worldwide
- Trafficking revenue - estimated $150Bn
- Traffickers target the energy industry, like they do construction, technology, and other male-dominated industries
- Occurs in all 50 states in the USA
- Houston is considered the epicenter for human trafficking in America

Human Trafficking is a Human Rights Issue

AWARENESS

We help companies and their employees understand the dark issue of human trafficking, and how to recognize the signs

EDUCATION

We inform companies on how they can implement awareness initiatives, and institute corporate practices – tailored to all segments of the business

ENGAGEMENT

Through coalition builds and training, we help companies and their employees take actionable steps to support local anti-trafficking work

INVESTMENT

We encourage oil and gas companies to make social investments in local nonprofits providing a wide range of meaningful services

CALL TO ACTION