Monex

Foreign exchange and global payments for funds and institutions

A specialist provider on the Bymark platform. Monex brings FX execution, currency risk management and international payments to Bymark's global network of private markets firms, asset managers and asset servicers. Bymark provides the introduction and coordinates the relationship; Monex delivers the specialist services.

What Monex does

Monex combines dedicated FX specialists with digital trading and payment platforms. Its capabilities include spot and forward transactions, market orders, currency options, multi-currency accounts and bulk payments, alongside market intelligence and integration tools.

PAY AND COLLECT GLOBALLY

- Spot transactions
- Forward contracts
- Market orders
- Mass and bulk payments
- Multi-currency accounts
- Beneficiary tool

MANAGE CURRENCY RISK

- Forwards
- NDFs (non-deliverable forwards)
- Currency options
- Hedging solutions
- Risk management

OPTIMISE TREASURY AND YIELD

- Structured notes
- TARFs (target accrual redemption forwards)
- Margin credit facilities
- FX forecasts

CONNECT AND SCALE OPERATIONS

- APIs (REST, FIX, SOAP)
- Embedded solutions
- White-label solutions
- Virtual IBAN

How it supports your operations

Fund flows and cross-border payments Discuss currency conversion and payment arrangements for capital calls, subscriptions, distributions and overseas investments, with execution aligned to funding and settlement requirements.

Currency risk management Review exposures and suitable hedging tools around expected cash flows and investment transactions. Forward contracts, NDFs and options offer different ways to address currency uncertainty.

Asset servicing and operational integration Explore APIs, embedded FX and white-label payment solutions for client workflows. Multi-currency accounts and virtual IBANs can support collections and reconciliation.

Treasury oversight and market insight Dedicated specialists and FX research help teams assess execution timing and currency requirements. Digital platforms support trading, payment management and approval workflows.